1924 ECLIPSES

In 1924 there will be five eclipses three of the sun and two of the moon. None of them will be visible to observers in Canada. Where visible, the two of the moon will be total, and the three of the sun partial. On January 25th, 1925, however, there will be a total eclipse of the sun that will be visible to observers here for the first time in many years. As the phenomenon will occur in the morning, at a time when the sun is well above the horizon, conditions for observation will be unusually favorable, if the sky is clear. A phenomenon in the nature of an eclipse that will be visible here next year is a transit of the planet Mercury across the sun's disc, on May 7. The last contact will be at 4.42 p.m., mean solar time, and the sun will set with Mercury on its disc. In a century there are about a dozen transits of this character.

Berry, D. A. Overland. The interment took place at Erin Cemetery.

ANN ELIZA BERRY

The death of Miss Ann Eliza Berry, a former resident of Orangeville, took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Walker, Islington, on Sunday, Deceased, who was in her 87th year, was a daughter of the late Nicholas and France: Odlum Berry and a sister of James Berry, a former well-known Orangeville man. Miss Berry was a member and an active supporter of the Methodist Church. The remains were brought to Orangeville for burial, the funeral taking place from the C. P. R. station to the Forest Lawn Cemetery yesterday morning.

ROBERT M'PHERSON

An old and well-known resident of Chinguacousy passed away on Tuesday, February 12th, in the person of Robert McPherson. The deceased had been ill for two years from the effects of a stroke, and confined to bed for two months. He was 83 years old, the son of the late Matthew McPherson, who settled on lot 23, 5th line, west, Chinguacousy, in the dense bush, where deceased was born, and cleared what is now one of the finest farms in the township. Mr. McPherson was a Presbyterian and a staunch Conservative. He was unmarried, and his only survivors are two aged brothers, Matthew, Orangeville, and John, Amaranth. The funeral service was conducted by Revs. Dodds and Waddell. —Conservator.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH

At the conclusion of the inquest on the death of George Henderson, the C. P. R. brakeman, who was killed in Brampton a week ago Saturday, the jury brought in a verdict of accidental death. No person witnessed the death of the unfortunate man and the evidence merely showed the condition and place in which the body was found. A careful examination had been made of the car, and this showed that his death had not been caused by any defect in the construction of the steel car from which he fell. In returning the verdict, the jury added that no blame could be attached to any person. Henderson met his death while in the act of making what is known as a flying shunt.

Mr. E. Hersee, of The Hersee Chemical Co., Toronto, called at The Banner Office today in the interests of the C. M. Petrie Cream Separator Co., and was extremely pleased to know that the citizens and public around Orangeville are favorably impressed with this Company, and establishing their plant in Orangeville, and says he thinks and believes that their product is the best ever introduced into Canada, and feels that this district is to be congratulated in securing this industry, which will be one of the best assets to this town and community.

The annual financial statement of St. Andrew's Church has been issued and reveals another prosperous year. Receipts from all sources amount to $2359.49. For church purposes proper the congregation raised $1398.56 and showed a balance of $93.61 after meeting all expenses. Sunday School receipts were $95.28 and the credit balance $15.81. The Ladies' Aid raised $475.56 and was able to show a balance of $407.80 available for the furtherance of the work of the Society. W. M. S. receipts amounted to $88.88 and the Y. P. S. revenue to $109.89. The receipts on building fund account totalled $191.32. The congregation has a membership of 138 and the satisfactory financial showing speaks well for the work of the pastor, Rev. William Coutts, and the energy and interest of the church officials and organizations.

Officers of St. Andrew's Ladies' Aid Society have been elected for 1924 as follows:—Hon. President, Mrs. Lemon; President, Mrs. E. Woolner; Vice-President, Mrs. J. A. Marshall; 2nd Vice-President, Mrs. Robert Little; Secretary, Miss Myrtle Marshall; Treasurer, Miss Lena Gallaugher.

The officers of the W. M. S. are: Hon. President, Mrs. Scott; President, Mrs. Coutts; Vice-President Mrs. Robt. Marshall; Secretary-Treasurer, Miss Olive Parks; Organist, Miss Myrtle Marshall; Messenger Secretary, Miss Lena Gallaugher.

The two Societies have arranged an interesting programme for their joint meetings during the year and the members are looking forward to a series of helpful meetings.

Owing to the storm and drifted roads the organ recital on Tuesday night, Feb. 19th, was not as largely attended as had been hoped for. Those who had the courage to brave the inclemency of the weather were well rewarded by hearing a program of a high order The organ numbers by Mr. C. E. Tait, organist of Beech Ave. Methodist Church, Toronto, were a source of delight to everyone. The programme was happily varied by excellent vocal solos by Rev. S. C. Jarrett, of Cardwell, and Mr. J. H. Sloan, of Orangeville. The audience was greatly pleased with the tone and musical qualities of the new Estey organ now in use in the church.

SUCCESSFUL PUPILS

Intermediate Vocal, Mr. C. Cox, Miss Duffield, Toronto, honors.

SPITTING

A business man in Arthur village has offered 25c reward to the party who can squirt tobacco juice to the highest point on his plate glass window. We have not heard how many entered the contest but if there were any we hope the following item will reach them:

During the war a Canadian overseas was twitted with the remark that a spittoon would make a more suitable emblem for Canada than the maple leaf for it would probably be found that there were more spittoons in Canada than maple trees and more spits in a year than maple leaves. Taunts of this kind, of course, always arouse resentment. And a Canadian abroad will always hotly repudiate the slur. But any one whose duties take him much into public places in Canada will be forced to admit that the taunt has a regrettable basis in fact. A single week in public offices, committee rooms, hotels, smoking rooms or on the trains, and one is forced to confess that one of the most prevalent, and at the same time most disgusting, habits that Canadians are addicted to is the habit of spitting. And some of the things to be seen almost any day in public places are too much revoltingly disgusting to put into print.

It is not only that street corners are fouled by the group of street loafers commmonly to be found there, or that it is the rough and uncultured who persist in ejecting their spittle wherever they go. It is frequently possible to see well dressed and apparently educated people indulging in the same objectionable practice. Practically all places of public resort are furnished with spittoons, even the rotundas of high-class hotels. Sitting in the rotunda of one of these hotells in Toronto recently was a well dressed man, having the appearance of a well-to-do captain of industry. He was in a thoughtful mood and was smoking. Between almost every puff he ejected some of the saliva at a spittoon not far from him. Some of the dribble from one of these expectorations settled on his coat sleeve. Without even looking apologetic, he removed it with his finger and wiped it on his chair. The spectator who saw this was in a broker's office in Toronto the same day when he saw a man of some standing in the business world, take a "shot" at a spitton a little distance from him. He missed it and the results were—well, too disgusting to put into print. Some of our readers may be of the opinion that what has been written above is too disgusting to put into print. But they are only mild cases of what may be seen almost every day if one is around very much in public places, and the publishing of them is necessary to the object of this article, namely, to create a revulsion of feeling against the practice.

Not only is the practice revolting to one's sense of decency, but the danger to public health resulting therefrom is very great indeed. Tuberculosis has been called the great white plague of Canada. And it is now generally known that this disease is disseminated through the spittle. Patients at sanatorium for consumptives and persons in other places who are known to have the disease are especially warned against spitting on the ground or on other places. They are provided with bits of paper in which to spit and are instructed to see that these bits of paper are then burned. But how many people have the disease without knowing it, or other diseases that are disseminated in the same way, who are daily spreading infection by ejecting saliva wherever they go? It may be safely said that the appalling spread of tuberculosis in Canada is due in a large measure to the habit of spitting. And it appals one to think how the germs of many diseases are daily broadcasted by the spittle so freely ejected on the streets or down the heat registers or in the corners of public offices, or in spittoons, or in other places.

And one of the most useful things that could be done to-day is to bring about a revulsion of feeling and create an indignant public sentiment against the habit. "But is there not a law against it now?" some one may ask. To this question we are unable to reply, for we have not taken the trouble to inform ourselves as to whether such a law exists or not. In our opinion it is not the way to accomplish the end in view. The idea that the best way to reform abuses and objectionable habits is to have a section added to the penal code making them penal offences, is a very prevalent one. It seems such an easy thing. But like all easy things it is never a really successful way. The one way to correct this habit of spitting is to create a good sentiment against it that will make one who spits feel how really objectionable the habit makes him both from the standpoint of decency and of public health. A man may fear the law, and even take pleasure in doing so, but he cannot fear an overwhelming public sentiment.

LAUREL

An added interest was taken by the worshippers on Sunday last in the afternoon service in the Presbyterian Church, when the congregation, which filled the edifice to capacity, listened to the service of praise led by a choir of seventeen young men, with Mr. Lorne Woulfe as organist. Their selections of hymns, as well as the anthem, "Trust and Obey," were exceptionally well rendered, as well as being in perfect harmony with the subject chosen by the minister, Rev. Mr Webster, who took his text from Daniel 3:18, "We will not serve other Gods." Mr. Webster spoke specially to the young men, urging them to be fearless in their decision, for courage and confidence were essentials of faith in the true God. The congregation contemplate adding a new school room and kitchen, improvements which will be greatly appreciated by the ladies in their work.

DO YOU EVER THINK OF JESUS?

Do you ever think of Jesus,
How He died upon the tree,
How He suffered there to save you
From unending misery?

Do you ever think of Jesus,
As the sinners' only friend,
How He died to save the worldly
From the most untimely end?

Do you ever think of Jesus,
As the One who intercedes
Between you and God the Father
For your most unblushing deeds?

O, dear sinner, think of Jesus,
Who will pardon all your past;
If you'll only come unto Him
And on Him your sorrows cast.

He will save and sanctify you,
If you'll only give up all for Him,
He will give the peace and comfort
Which you'll never find in sin.

And at last to Heaven He'll take you
When you've run your earthly race,
To sing praises to His glory,
And behold His shining face.

LORD BYNG MEETS SIX HUNDRED OLD COMRADES

The Point St. Charles (Montreal) shops of the Canadian National Railways hold the honor of having sent more men overseas than any one industrial firm in Canada. Six hundred of these veterans were inspected recently by Lord Byng during a visit to the shops, the Governor-General shaking hands with and talking to each man individually. The men were drawn up in four ranks the length of the erecting shop. The photograph shows Lord Byng shaking hands with one of the veterans. In the central group from left to right are: Major P. K. Hodgson, Private Secretary to the Governor-General; Mr. F. C. Wilson, Superintendent of Motive Power, Canadian National Railways; Mr. T. M. Hyman, D.C.M., Superintendent of Shops, Canadian National Railways, and His Excellency Lord Byng of Vimy.

MONTREAL GIRLS ARE EXPERTS ON SNOWSHOES

GOING DOWN! SPEEDY TRAVELING BY TOBOGGANS ON QUEBEC'S SLIDE

WINTER in Canada is synonymous with winter sports. With the advent of ice and snow these sports begin: skis, sleds, toboggans, skates, snowshoes and hockey sticks, together with warm, gay sport costumes, make their appearance. A psychological change takes place in the social atmosphere, merriment radiates its contagion, briskness characterizes all outdoor movement.

For many years Quebec and Montreal have been Mecca for a large number of winter sport lovers, who flock to these two cities on the St. Lawrence during carnival seasons. There are, however, many other Canadian points where organized sport is a winter feature. St. John has its skating tournament in which many professionals participate. Sherbrooke, Quebec, has planned an elaborate skiing contest and is providing some splendid trophies as awards.

Montreal, offers aeroplane-ski-joring in addition to many other winter sports. Winnipeg will set aside the week of February 4-11, for carnival festivities which are projected on a vast scale, in addition the great annual bonspiel, lasting several weeks, will be staged as usual. Banff in the Canadian Rockies, which is fast becoming as popular in winter as it has long been in summer, is planning to outdo former efforts. Winter sports are enjoyed there all through the white season and will culminate in a gay carnival lasting from Feb. 9 to 16, the last two days being devoted to a bonspiel. Dog races are a feature of Banff's winter season and famous teams from Le Pas will run at Banff. Le Pas will celebrate in carnival style from March 8 to 15, during which period the famous 200-mile non-stop dog-team race will be run. Revelstoke, a stronghold of ski-jumping, will stage contests Feb. 5th and 6th.

Both Montreal and Quebec are Royal, in the former, provides an unexcelled playground where skiing, snowshoeing, bob-sledding and tobogganing may be enjoyed at their best. Skating contests, torchlight festivities on the Mountain and the presence of professional entertainers, provide amusement for Montrealers and visitors.

Quebec is really the Capital of Winter Sports in Canada, its Dufferin Terrace and Chateau Frontenac are names to conjure with among winter sport devotees all over Canada and the United States.

The three-track toboggan slide on the Terrace is generally the centre of attraction and crowds line its sides to watch the swift flying toboggans. A fine ski-jump, a skating rink, indoor and outdoor curling, contests and parades by the many ski and snowshoe clubs fill every waking hour. A team of husky dogs with sleigh and driver is maintained by the Chateau management for the use of the public.

Quebec's carnival will end in a riot of excitement when the third Eastern International Dog-Team Derby is run there on Feb. 21, 22 and 23. Both Canadian and American teams to the number of about eighteen, will strive to win the Gold Cup, Silver Cup and $2,000 in prize

CANADIAN HOCKEY

IS ONLY FIFTY YEARS OLD

Although you may have seen many a hockey game doubtless you have never learned the origin of the great winter sport, which is an evolution of the old game of shinny, which was played on a vacant lot with a battered tomato can, or on the ice with a block of wood, depending on the season of the year.

The organized game of hockey had its origin in Montreal and has now grown into the biggest sport in Canada, not even lacrosse or baseball approaching it in the number of teams which are playing the game in the artificial and natural ice rinks.

"In 1884 a meeting was held in Montreal to decide what was the best method to further the game of shinny," said Muldoon. "Many of the ice skaters had become adept at handling the block of wood, and the possibilities of arranging shinny games with other cities close to the French centre was thoroughly discussed.

Used Piles of Snow.

"Drafting of rules to start a new game was a difficult problem. Goals had been scored in the shinny game by shooting the block of wood, tin can or anything available between two piles of snow placed about ten feet apart. It was decided to eliminate the snow piles and have two posts of wood set six feet apart as the goal. Any time the propelled block passed between these posts a goal was scored and the block would be replaced in the centre of the ice. How to face the puck was the next issue. It was finally decided that the referee should set the block on the ice and the two players would hit each other's stick as the referee counted up to three. When he said 'one,' the players facing off were required to hit the opponent's stick lightly about the block and when the referee said 'three' they both took a healthy swing at the block.

First Stick Crude

"The sticks then came under discussion. A student of the game of shinny had made a drawing of a stick which would eliminate a lot of cracked shins caused by being walloped with the curved limb of a hickory stick. This stick was similar to the stick used at the present day. It was crude in design, but it was a great improvement on the old war club.

"It was also decided to have ten men on a side and a rubber manufacturer submitted a model of the present day puck to take the place of the block, which was oak, on account of the weight. This was also adopted. Also shinny on your own side became in vogue. Games were to be of an hour's duration.

"During the winter months several games were played in the French settlement of Three Rivers and the Irish settlement of Point St. Charles, of Montreal. These affairs created so much excitement that it was necessary for each to take along a large following of supporters to afford protection when travelling to an outside point. Excitement ran high and the town would declare a regular holiday, so that all could see the great skaters perform."

Long Distance Super Salesman

"All my sales are made by Long Distance," says an Ontario merchant.

"My brother, who travels for the firm, strikes the large towns and sells to all small towns in the vicinity by Long Distance. Even letters enquiring for prices are answered by Long Distance. I could quote you hundreds of instances."

Another merchant says if a customer is out when a traveller calls, he makes note of his stock, and a special toll salesman calls him by Long Distance and sells him.

WINNIPEG OLD BOYS

Former sons and daughters of Dufferin County will foregather in the New Marlborough Hotel, Winnipeg, on Thursday, March 13th, when they will celebrate the coming of age of the Association, with an evening of frolic and fun such as used to delight them on the old concession lines in by-gone years.

Chester McLelland and a live committee are planning for music and dancing. J. C. McNabb and a bevy of pretty girls are arranging the tables in groups according to townships. Jack Braden and his committee of oldtimers are now busily engaged on searching all available records, both legendary and historic in order that the annals of the Association may be brought up to date. It is hinted that they may find when and where President Watson and former Presidents Rooney, Neely and Newton were borne. Vice-President Essen Graham will have all trading in the famous wheat pit of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange cease, stop or otherwise desist during the entire period that the banquet is in progress, or at least while Jim Braden is "calling off" the lancers and quadrilles.

Secretary D. A. McCarten has issud strict ordrs that none of the banqueters are permitted to squirt grape fruit juice in their neighbor's eyes while they partake of the first course. So barring other accidents the banquet should be a big success. The big feature of the evening's program is the special story telling hour arranged for all who were born before 1870, including Jim House. All the ladies who have assumed the responsibility of looking after a man of their own are to put their maiden name on the special embossed identification tags that will be attached to each guest. It will probably take Jessie Wilder, Martha Braden, Maggie Cobean, Belle Noble and Bertha O'Flynn a minute or two to recognize themselves, but it will recall old time serenades under their windows.

All Dufferin Old Boys and their friends will be cordially welcomed. There is a prize for the one who comes the longest distance. There is a chance for some one from Rocktown, Hall's Corners or Horning's Mills to win this prize. We will tell you all about the banquet in three or four weeks.

A MINISTER'S MOTOR SLEIGH

Rev. H. H. Eaton, Formerly of Honeywood, Also Has Motor Sleigh Idea.

The Toronto Star recently sent a representative up to Flesherton to investigate G. F. Brackenbury's new motor sleigh invention, and the following despatch is the result:

Flesherton, Ont., Feb. 11—The other day a farm dog was sitting peacefully beside a gate post. Heat and summer and such troubles as flies and motor cars were farthest from his thoughts—all around him was snow and silence, broken only by the tinkle of sleigh bells.

Suddenly he heard the roar of an engine. His dog instinct told him it could not be a motor car in the middle of winter. With impulsive haste he dashed forward to repel the intruder in his winter peace, the queer thing that was gliding over the snow without any horses in front of it.

The dog was right and wrong. He was right in that it was not a motor car—it was a new motor sleigh driven by George F. Brackenbury, of Flesherton But the dog was wrong, very wrong, in rushing forward so fast to repel the strange contraption. The motor sleigh was coming much too fast for him, and now the dog is where neither heat or cold, neither motor cars nor motor sleighs, will bother him.

Brackenbury is not the only person in Flesherton who is seeking a satisfactory motor sleigh. He has a friend and rival in the Rev. H. H. Eaton, minister in the Flesherton Methodist Church. Last winter Rev. Mr. Eaton had a motor sleigh which he drove for some seven hundred miles on his pastoral business. This year he is trying out a new model, and while it is being completed his friend Brackenbury sometimes takes him to church services out in the country districts.

A number of his own ideas are embodied in the motor seigh constructed by Brackenbury. He has remodeled and built over a small four cylinder automobile until practically nothing is left of its original form except the engine and the headlights.

The axles have been cut down to fit the narrower track of the winter roads. The front wheels have been replaced by runners, with an adjustable toboggan attachment to be used when going out into the deep snow to pass other vehicles.. On each rear wheel are two tires, equipped with chains, and a flange arrangement for securing traction in deep snow. The rear spring arrangement has been radically changed, and on top of a home constructed frame Braebenbury has built a coupe body of his own.

The motor sleigh's record for speed is twelve miles in twenty-five minutes along a country road with deep snow, so it justifies its builder's statement, "I can drive just as fast along an ordinary country road in winter time as I would drive an auto in the summer. It is a little harder on gasoline, for I get only about fifteen miles to a gallon, while in summer with the same engine I get between twenty and twenty-five. As far as steering goes the motor sleigh is just as easy to drive as a motor car."

Brackenbury is applying for patents for three of the features on his motor sleigh. One is the toboggan attachment to the front runners, which can be adjusted by a lever from the seat. Another is a spring arrangement which allows the two rear wheels to move up and down practically independent of each other. The third is the system of double tires and flanges on the rear driving wheels, which allow about nine inches traction where the roads are good—just enough to hold the motor sleigh in the tracks—and still gives forty-two inches traction in deep snow.

Rev. Mr. Eaton pins his trust to a different principle of motor sleigh entirely. The one he is constructing has four wheels in the rear, in a tandem arrangement so that a belt passes over the two wheels on each side. The belt, with cleats on it, runs on the snow, and the driving wheels act from inside and on the belt. The tandem wheels are designed to help keep the motor sleigh on the roadway. In the springtime when the snow is no longer deep, the belt can be removed and the front runners replaced with wheels. This would then give a six-wheeled motor car.

"I think that in a few years everybody in the country districts will be using motor sleighs," declared Rev. Mr. Eaton. "I know that I found my former model very valuable last winter when I had twenty-seven miles to drive every Sunday in a charge I had near Chatsworth. Here at Flesherton I have only a twelve mile drive each Sunday, but I hope soon to be using my own motor sleigh.

Plant 80 Million Trees.

Since the reforesting movement commenced in the state of New York a comparatively few years ago, 9,871 plantations of forest trees have been made on waste land aggregating 80,000,000 trees. New York State law permits the conservation commission to sell trees at the cost of production to private owners for planting land in the state and with the development of its nursery system the Commission has been able to cut the cost of $2.00 per thousand for two-year old trees, $3.00 per thousand for three-year olds, and $4.00 for four-year olds. The output of the Commission's nurseries is close to 7,500,000 trees per year and the indications are that before the end of 1928 10,000,000 trees will be planted.

BACK ACHED TERRIBLY

Mrs. McMahon Tells How She Found Relief by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Chatham, Ont.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a run-down condition after the birth of my baby boy. I had terrible pains and backache, and was tired and weak, not fit to do my work and care for my three little children. One day I received your little book and read it, and gave up taking the medicine I had and began taking the Vegetable Compound. I feel much better now and am not ashamed to tell what it has done for me. I recommend it to any woman I think feels as I do."—Mrs. J. R. McMahon, 153 Harvey St., Chatham, Ont.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has for nearly fifty years been restoring sick, ailing women to health and strength. It relieves the troubles which cause such symptoms as backache, painful periods, irregularities, tired, worn-out feelings and nervousness. This is shown again and again by such letters as Mrs. McMahon writes, as well as by one woman telling another. These women know, and are willing to tell others, what it did for them; therefore, it is surely worth your trial.

Women who suffer should write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Cobourg, Ontario, for a free copy of Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women." C

Grey Hair.

Greyness of the hair is most commonly a consequence of advancing years, although it also occurs prematurely in young and middle-aged adults.

In some instances the change is a gradual one, involving all the hairs, or practically so, in a slow and scarcely perceptible progress towards general greying.

But more usually scattered hairs first show the change, new ones being added to these, and so on until all are involved in the process.

In other cases certain parts of the scalp, especially the temples, show the depigmentation first, while the others remain but little changed from the original color.

Conditions varying from slight blanching to complete greyness or whiteness are observed.

In ordinary greying, when the loss of pigment takes place slowly, a close examination of the hairs of ten shows them to be speckled with grey, producing various shades from this to the original color.

Sometimes after a certain degree of greyness or grey sprinkling has ensued, nature holds her hand for a time, but the rule is for the change to be progressive.

The question of the possibility of sudden greying of the hair is one that has been considerably discussed, and still has many doubters.

Here and There

Although the Canadian Pacific Railway has yet issued no forecast of construction contemplated for 1924, the fact that it has ordered 50,000 tons of steel from the Algoma Steel Company, of Sault Ste. Marie, seems to indicate that its program will be extensive.

According to a statement recently made by the Hon. Charles McCrea, Minister of Mines for the Province of Ontario, 85 per cent of the world's nickel supply is being taken out in the vicinity of Sudbury, where there is an inexhaustible supply of this metal.

Alberta's butter production last year was 18,500,000 pounds, or 2,000,000 pounds more than in 1922, according to reports presented at the annual meeting of the Alberta Dairymen's Association. It was not so long ago that Alberta was using butter imported from New Zealand.

The year 1923 was a favorable one in the building and construction activities of Canada, and returns show an advance of about 10 per cent. In 1922 the total expenditures in this regard were $315,000,000, and in 1923 $345,000,000, an increase of $30,000,000.

Exports of pulpwood from Canada for the year 1923 amounted to 1,384,230 cords, compared with 1,011,332 for 1922, an increase of 372,898 cords or 35 per cent. The 1923 figures are equivalent to about 900,000 tons of newsprint, the amount which can be manufactured from that amount of wood.

C. E. E. Ussher, General Passenger Traffic Manager, and E. J. Hebert, First Assistant General Passenger Agent, of the Canadian Pacific Railway, have been presented with medals by the French Government, in recognition of their services to the French Exhibition train in Canada in 1921. The medals take the form of tablets on small stands.

Attention has been drawn once more by airship experts in London, England, to the fact that the only known supply of helium gas in the British Empire exists in the Province of Alberta, that 10,000,000 feet of this gas is going to waste annually in this province and that the possibility of establishing an airship base at some future date in Alberta is being discussed.

Canada's fisheries production during 1923 is estimated to be worth $40,000,000. At the beginning of the year it was not thought that anything like this mark would be reached, for the Fordney tariff had cut deeply into exports to the United States. But as the year wore on the demand and prices generally improved, thus giving fishermen along the Atlantic coast especially a much better price.

Official figures recently issued show that the Dominion of Canada is the greatest single contributor to the wheat supply of the world. She stands second only to the United States in automobile exports. Her flour exports are far ahead of the palmiest war years and are rapidly gaining in the foreign markets. Canada's mineral, forest, agricultural and fisheries industries are now valued at $2,420,000,000, or $252,000,000 higher than a year ago.

British immigration during the nine months ended December, totalled 64,127, compared with 28,525 in the corresponding period of the previous year an increase of 125 per cent. Immigration from the United States was 17,282, compared with 18,982, a decrease of nine per cent. Total immigration for the nine-month period of 1923 was 124,680, compared with 60,247 in the same period in the previous year, an increase of 107 per cent.

The Canadian Pacific Railway has received from Boorings, Willis, Faber, & Company, 2,152.10 pounds sterling for distribution to the officers and crew of the steamship "Empress of Australia" for saving their ship and for salvaging during the Japanese earthquake. For the purpose of purchasing a memento to be presented to Captain Samuel Robinson, C.B.E., R.N.R., then commander of the "Empress of Australia" and now commander of the "Empress of Canada" on her world cruise, 210 pounds sterling have been retained from the above amount. Plans are being made to honor the captain when the "Empress of Canada" reaches Yokohama next May, the Japanese government participating in the ceremonies.

In an Irish court recently an old man was called into the witness box, and being infirm and just a little blind he went too far in more than one sense. Instead of going up the stairs that led to the box he mounted those that led to the Bench. Said the Judge, good-naturedly:

"Is it a Judge you want to be, my good man?"

"Ah, sure, Your Honor," was the reply, "I'm an ould man now, and mebbe it's all I'm fit for."

The Judge had no ready retort.

UNIFICATION OF RULES

O. M. L. Official Points Out That It Is Neither Practical Nor Desirable That Minor Regulations Be Standardized.

While continental unification and standardization of basic traffic regulatons is one of the most laudable endeavors of the Ontario Motor League an official of the League points out that standardization of minor regulations is neither practical nor desirable.

"Uniformity of courteous treatment accorded strangers when visiting cities and towns, provinces and states and the standardization of methods whereby rules peculiar to a community are made known to the tourist is deserving of much more attention than has been given it generally as yet," he declared.

"When we advocate uniformity," he went on, "we do not propose having all traffic rules identical in all towns. Such a process is not only impractical but undesirable, for the reason that only through experimentation in traffic regulations can anything approximating a progressive system be devised. Any motorist who tours and considers the subject openmindedly will admit that traffic regulation is evolutionary, and that to standardize it is to lower its standard.

"The sort of uniformity needed is not similarity of all rules, which is rarely possible, but unification of the basic ones and and a standardized form of acquainting the tourist with the peculiarities of the local rules. At the main highway entrances to all cities and towns there should be posted on signs of uniform size and character, brief but accurate instructions as to the details of the community's rules. Parking regulation signs should be placed where motorists are accustomed to looking for them, and fire hydrants should bear the local instructions for clearance.

"Unless every city and town on the continent has streets of the same width, intersections of the same form, and conditions identically the same, uniformity of traffic rules will never be possible.

"In certain places it is obvious that it is more logical to pass around an officer in turning; in other places turns are better made in front of him. One-way streets and prohibited left turns vary with local conditions and cannot be made identical throughout a city, let alone the continent, no matter how ideal such an arrangement might superficially seem. Some of the most ideal arrangements in New York or Los Angeles might be grossly impractical here and elsewhere.

"There is a healthy rivalry among more practical means of speeding up traffic with safety, and of simplifying parking; and this should be encouraged. But not at the expense of the motorist, or his embarrassment.

"The O. M. L. and affiliated clubs take the position that no tourist should be obliged to worry as to what he should do in driving through a strange town. The instructions should be given him where and when he is accustomed to look for them. In other words, he should be given every opportunity to cooperate with the city in following out its traffic plans.

"Uniformity of conditions is utterly impossible unless we are to redesign all cities alike. Therefore, uniformity of local rules is equally impossible. When or where cars shall park will ever remain the privileges of the local authorities just as laws differ among provinces and states and ordinances among cities. Time limitations or methods of parking should be shown by proper signs.

"But uniformity of tourist education is essential to safety, and furthermore is practical. It is spreading among those cities which appreciate the fact that safety and simplification result from helping the stranger. But the situation demands more than courtesy on the part of the traffic officers. There should be a uniform system of enlightening the tourist.

"We are working toward this goal in the belief that it will enable each city to adopt the regulations best suited to its needs without in any way inconveniencing the tourist."

NERVES RESTORED HEADACHE GONE

A Grateful Letter From a Well Known Vancouver Nurse.

"In the summer of 1922," says Mrs. Mary Hill, of 31st Avenue W., Vancouver, B. C., "I became very anxious about my young daughter's health. She was attending a commercial school, and between her close study and exceptionally hot weather she became very much run down. I noticed that she looked white and seemed constantly tired, was depressed over her studies, and irritable and peevish about the house. I got several tonics I had heard well spoken of, but they did not seem to help her. At this stage an advertisement of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, telling of a similar case, was brought to my attention, and I decided to give this medicine a trial. You may judge of my surprise and delight when I noticed an improvement in her condition, almost before the first box was finished. She continued taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for some time, gaining in health and strength. Her headaches, backaches and depression disappeared, and she again looked well and happy. She has since, I am glad to say, kept perfectly well and passed her examinations with credit.

"I must have worried more than I knew over my daughter's health, for though I have earned my living as a maternity nurse for the past 12 years, even the most trying cases did not seem to exhaust me until last fall, when I seemed to give out suddenly. I became so nervous that I had to decline work, and I suffered from headaches and a constant feeling of depression. I attributed my condition to the fact that I was entering a critical time of life. It was my daughter who suggested that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills might do me as much good as they had done her, and after a faithful use of them for a time this proved to be the case. My nerves regained their steadiness, and my general health improved so much that I felt able to undertake my nursing duties again. I have taken the pills occasionally since and thanks to them have been able to stand the strain of my work splendidly and still feel as well as ever. I am very grateful to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and am thankful to have found such a reliable medicine for use in my home, and I can conscientiously recommend it to any suffering woman or girl coming under my care or influence."

You can get these pills from any medicine dealer, or by mail, at 50c a box, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

WINTER WEATHER HARD ON LITTLE ONES

Our Canadian winters are exceedingly hard on the health of little ones. The weather is often so severe that the mother cannot take the little one out for an airing. The consequence is that baby is confined to overheated, badly ventilated rooms; takes cold and becomes cross and peevish. Baby's Own Tablets should be given to keep the little one healthy. They are a mild laxative which regulate the stomach and bowels and thus prevent colds. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers, or by mail, at 25 cents a box, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

THE REASON FOR ALUMINUM

Because tea deteriorates very rapidly if exposed to air many tests and experiments have been made to find an efficient means of packing it so as to preserve the flavour. The "SALADA" Tea Company first used lead packages but some years ago adopted aluminum foil, aluminum being more durable and lighter than lead, besides, of course, being absolutely sanitary and air-tight. This method of packing is admitted to be the most effective known to preserve the flavour of tea. All "SALADA" is sold in air-tight aluminum packages.

FROM WIRE TO ETHER WAVE

An electric phenomenon is reported from Mansfield. Last Saturday evening, Rev. R. K. Burnside was walking along the road almost directly under a line of telephone wires. A voice was heard to exclaim "Britannia Rule the Waves." While it was quite distinct the voice scarcely had the strength of one coming from a person close to him. Mr Burnside was more surprised than startled and looked at a couple of houses to see if the doors were open thinking that the voice may have come from a gramophone. There were no open doors in sight, so Mr. Burnside, who had become very curious, commenced to investigate. In one of the nearby houses he entered he found the ear piece of a radio set attached to the mouthpiece of a telephone, neighbors hearing the radio over the telephone. This seemed to be a solution of the mystery of the voice heard, but it offered a new mystery in solving how sound can drop from a bare telephone wire However, when discussing it with some young radio fans at Mansfield Mr. Burnside got some light. The phenomenon did not appear to be any puzzle to the boys familiar with the radio receiver. "That's nothing," they said, "we often hear telephone conversations of people in the village when we are tuning in." But it is something; it is a profound mystery, as this appears to be the first instance where sound being transmitted over wire has left the wire and been wafted through space on ether waves.—Alliston Herald.

H. Hartley. The bride and groom took their places in the drawing room, where they received the good wishes and congratulations of the guests. IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear wife and mother, Mrs. John Smith, who passed away Feb. 24th, 1923.

Beside her grave we often stand,
With hearts both crushed and sore.
But in the gloom the sweet voice comes,
"Not dead, but gone before."

Thy will be done, is hard to say,
When those we love have passed away;
Some day, perhaps, we'll understand
When we meet again in a better land.

THE NATIONALITY OF THE MARRIED WOMAN

A curious anacoronism in the Canadian laws governing the nationality of married women was recently discussed at a convention of the Social Service Council of Canada. According to the present system a Canadian woman who marries an alien herself becomes an alien and remains one even after her husband's death. A young woman may be an active member of the League of Women Voters, a United Farm Women's Organization, a Local Council of Women, or the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire, may devote a large proportion of her time to the study of Canadian public affairs, may contribute to the solution of national problems in a number of ways, may use the franchise with intelligence and discretion, and may be conscious of a deep attachment for Canadian traditions, Canadian customs and Canadian environment, but if she should marry a man who is an American citizen, a French citizen, or a Norwegian citizen, she is forthwith deprived of her British nationality. Moreover it is impossible for her to resume British nationality during the lifetime of her husband except in the extreme case of the outbreak of war between His Majesty and the state of which her husband is a subject. In such event it is provided that if the wife declares her desire to resume British nationality she may be granted a certificate of naturalization provided the Secretary of State of Canada approves. But ordinarily it is impossible for her to regain her British nationality during her husband's lifetime, no matter how earnestly she may desire it. The unsatisfactory character of this law is all the more apparent when the family continues to reside in Canada, the husband refusing to become naturalized, and the wife prevented by an outdated law from exercising the rights of citizenship which were formerly hers.

The present law is patently unjust. As international communication grows easier and as travel increases there will naturally occur an increasing number of international marriages. It is therefore important that the matter of revising the law touching nationality of married women be given careful attention in Canada in the very near future. Marriage with an alien is not an offence against the state and should not continue to be penalized as at present. To deprive a woman of her British nationality under these circumstances is to class her deliberately with "infants, idiots and imbeciles," to whom are applied the same disabilities.

It has been argued that it would be absurd to allow a husband and wife to retain distinct nationality—that the difficulties arising from such an anomalous condition would be so great that it would be impossible to adopt any other policy than the one which is now in vogue. But it must be realized that British women have not always been deprived of their citizenship upon marriage with an alien. Until the year 1870 a British national remained a British national unless he or she voluntarily abandoned their nationality. The system had prevailed for centuries in Great Britain, and prevailed also for many years in some of the British colonies, as well as in the United States. What was possible before 1780 in this regard is possible now also.

Canada made an attempt in 1919 to remedy the situation, but failed to achieve success. In that year a bill was passed which, among other things, provided that ordinarily upon marriage with an alien a woman was to assume his nationality, but that she was not bound inevitably to retain it. She was to be permitted to take out naturalization papers on her own account as if she were unmarried. This Act was later repealed because it conflicted with the Imperial Act.

The British Parliament has recently been considering a revision of its laws in this regard, however, and the time is now apparently ripe for concerted action on the part of Great Britian and the overseas Dominions.

A suggestion has been made that this question be placed upon the agenda of the next Imperial Conference. It is a matter upon which the various parts of the Empire should take action simultaneously, and this can be done if there is sufficient expression of the public opinion in Canada and other Dominions to warrant the alteration of the present inadequate laws.

Origin of "Two Bits."

Many have wondered why 25c should be referred to as "two bits," and may be interested to learn how it originated. A bit is the American equivalent to the old Spanish real, which was used in California back in '49. When it disappeared finally, it had become part of the language. When American silver replaced the real it was reckoned in terms of bits, which were worth 12½ cents. Two of them made two bits, which equalled the American quarter. It was also used in company with Cinnook the western made language of early days. Difficulty arose when anything smaller than a quarter was produced in payment. The bit was the universal standard. Hence, a dime was known as a short bit and 15 cents as a long bit. Copper was tabboo. If a customer bought a per's worth of tobacco and gave the storekeeper a quarter he'd get a dime change. If he had a dime it would be accepted, but if he didn't he was penalized 2½ cents.

Here and There

The gold mines of Northern Ontario broke all previous records in the month of January, when they produced approximately $2,100,000, based on preliminary reports received from the mines.

It is reported that arrangements have been made for the financing of a $500,000 plant in Edmonton, A.Ta., for the manufacture of paving blocks from the tar sands of Fort McMurray.

The first of the private fur auction sales which the Hudson Bay Company has decided to hold in future at their head office in Montreal took place recently, when a collection of various furs, estimated roughly at $25,000 to $30,000 value, was put up for sale by sealed bids.

Grain handled at the port of Montreal in 1923 totalled 120,013,-000 bushels, the largest amount shipped through any port in North America during the year. Montreal thus maintains for the third consecutive year her position as the leading grain exporting port of the continent.

Dr. Geo. H. Locke, chief librarian, Toronto, at the request of the Canadian Authors' Association, has undertaken to supervise the selection of volumes for the Canadian literature exhibit at the British Empire Exhibition. The task involves the gathering together of 500 representative books and it is anticipated will take about a fortnight.

From all indications, the potato shipments to Havana this season from the port of St. John, New Brunswick, will greatly exceed those of last year. To date there have been 750,307 bushels sent forward in twenty steamers, while from September 1, 1922, until January 31, 1923, a total of 505,668 bushels were shipped in seventeen steamers.

With heavy enquiries from South American sources for Canadian flour, millers expect to see their export volume substantially increased during the month of February, as compared with January. This movement, together with offerings of a premium for wheat at Vancouver, has been the most encouraging trade feature of the past month in Winnipeg Man.

Colonel Geo. H. Ham, of the Canadian Pacific Railway, who recently returned from Florida, reports that Canada was prominently featured at the South Florida fair, held at Tampa some time ago. A very striking exhibit of Canadian products and natural resources was displayed and a "Canada Day" was celebrated, all of which is said to have been a revelation to those who attended.

Buffalo meat from the park at Wainwright has recently been on sale throughout Canada and has been extremely well received. It is described as resembling beef but of a more gamey flavor. Government officials expect that this meat, with hides and other buffalo products, will become a regular source of income to the people of Canada in the future.

Work on the Kenogami dam, in the Province of Quebec, is reported as progressing very well, and the $2,000,000 works located at the upper part of the Saguenay River are expected to be completed within 15 months. As a result of these works, the mills operated by the Price interests will be kept in full activity during the whole year, instead of partly closing down in the winter months, as they have had to do in the past.

More than $12,000,000 worth of equipment was added to the Canadian Pacific Railway's service during 1923. Included were 16 Pacific and 20 Mikado type locomotives, all very powerful and equipped with the most modern devices for power, speed and economical operation. Other items were 15 steel baggage cars, 12 mail and express, 15 first class coaches, 6 cafe-parlor and buffet-parlor cars, 1,000 box cars, 250 freight refrigerator cars, 300 coal cars, 50 oil tank cars, 300 automobile cars, 36 vans for freight conductors and 14 snow-ploughs.

The seventh of Canada's direction-finding stations was recently completed for service by the radio branch of the Department of Marine and Fisheries, to assist the boats and ships navigating the Bay of Fundy and the coastal waters extending to Boston. This station tends to make the route favored by the Canadian Pacific steamships in winter, already splendidly equipped with safety devices, still safer. By means of the apparatus, the wireless operator of any ship in distress within 400 miles of the Canadian shore can find his location simply by requesting a sporting. These stations have been described as "the friend 15 of mariners."

Rapid progress is being made in preparing the Canadian section of the British Empire Exhibition. The giant pavilion was roofed in and ready for exhibits in sixty days from its commencement and will be ready for opening on March 1st. Two million feet of Canadian lumber, 7 miles of roofing and 200 tons of nails, nuts and bolts have already been used in the building.

It is reported that the Rothermere interests of England, which recently acquired a large block of timber land in the Manicouagan River Basin, have headed a syndicate which will spend $16,000,000 in erecting pulp and newsprint manufacturing plants near Quebec city. With this news comes the announcement that the St. Regis Paper Company will build a $4,000,000 plant near the parish of St. Augustin, a suburb of Quebec.

"Health Is After All Your Biggest Asset"

EXCESSIVE mental strain—worries and anxieties consequent on the ups and downs of business—

The difficulties in estimating what the future holds in store—

These are some of the causes which have hastened the end for many prominent men during recent years:

Employer and employee alike have been subjected to greater strain of brain and nerves than ever before.

Too often the value of guarding the health has been overlooked and the results are a warning to the survivors to remember that health after all is our biggest asset.

It is comparatively easy to restore the exhausted nerves by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food provided treatment is begun in reasonable time.

When digestion breaks down—when you cannot rest or sleep—when you find yourself nervous and irritable you may be sure it is time to ease up and begin the use of this restorative treatment.

The brain and nerve cells are not getting proper nutrition. Nor will they so long as too much nervous energy is wasted in worry and anxiety and too little left to control the organs of digestion.

There is no magical way in which the depleted nerve cells can be restored.

They must be patiently nourished back to health and strength.

This restorative process is best brought about by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. This has been proven in so many thousands of cases that evidence is to be found in almost every community. Ask your friends and be master of your health by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

You will notice that while the price of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has been increased to 60c. the box now contains 60 pills instead of 50 as formerly.

Likewise Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are 35c. for 35 pills, instead of 25c. for 25 pills.

SUDDEN DEATH IN ERIN

Mrs. W. J. Freethy Dropped Dead at Her Home After Spending Evening at Neighbors.

A sad fatality occurred at the home of Mr. W. J. Freethy, lot 9, 4th line, Erin, opposite the homestead of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Smith, on Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Freethy had been out spending the evening at the home of their neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Fisher. After an enjoyable social hour or so they returned home. Mrs. Freethy walked from the cutter to the house, and then suddenly dropped to the floor. When her husband reached her she was unconscious, and in a moment her spirit took its flight. Mrs. Freethy was thirty-nine years of age.

Dr. Gear, of Erin, was called, but he found Mrs. Freethy dead. Heart failure was the cause of death.

The funeral was arranged to be held in Stayner, the early home of Mrs. Freethy to-day, but the heavy fall of snow has blocked both the roads and trains, and the time for burial has necessarily been postponed.

Mr. and Mrs. Freethy moved to the farm, which has been their home for the past three years, from Toronto. They previously resided at Stayner. They have been highly esteemed by the community. Beside the sadly bereft husband, two children are left to mourn the loss of a devoted mother's love and care, Gordon, who is ten or eleven, and Norma, who is eight. Much sympathy is felt for the bereft family. —Acton Free Press.

CALEDON EAST

The Methodist Church here was well filled to hear Rev. Dr. Caldwell, of Alton, deliver his lecture on Volcanoes and Earthquakes. Their Cause and Effect, given last Tuesday evening under the auspices of the Young People's League. Before the Dr. had been speaking very many minutes the whole audience was satisfied that he was master of his subject. The lecturer was both scientific and scholarly and made a profound impression on the people of Caledon East, many expressing the sincere hope that the Alton preacher will soon favor them with another of his interesting and educational discourses. The Methodist choir sang, "Soldiers of Christ Arise." Mr. Lawrence Kee, the President, thanked the eminent preacher for the splendid service he had rendered the local Y. P. Society. Mr. Roy McCarthey fittingly occupied the chair for the evening.

Wind blew in a large plate glass window in Harding's store, Durham.

PURSE FOR MODERATOR

A week ago Friday evening the members of the Laurel Presbyterian Church held a social evening for Rev. S. Lundie, of Grand Valley, who acted as interim moderator during the recent vacancy in the charge. During the evening the congregation expressed in practical fashion their appreciation of the acceptable manner in which Mr. Lundie had discharged the duties of Moderator by presenting him with a purse of $50 and an appreciative and complimentary address. The present pastor of the church, Rev. A. F. Webster, occupied the chair, Mr. W. B. Grosskurth read the address and Mr. Wolfe made the presentation. Mr. Lundie replied in appropriate and grateful terms. A delightful social time was spent by all present.

RIVERVIEW

Our mail couriers, who deliver the mail to and from Riverview, both east and west, have had their own time battling with the deep, heavy snow drifts. In some places roads have to be opened up through the fields, the snow being deeper this winter than usual.

Auction sales are numerous in this section this winter. Mr. James Prior is holding an extensive one on February 27th.

We regret to report that our popular merchant, Mr. William Campbell, is suffering from a very painful carbuncle on his neck.

The ice fields on the Grand afford good facilities for skating this winter.

We, up in this northern burg, Mr. Editor, do not have to depend on imported coal in order to keep warm, as you do in Orangeville, for we have the hardwood bush on which to fall back.

MRS. J. F. BRYAN

Mrs. J. F. Bryan, of Boston Mills, died in the Brampton Hospital a week ago Saturday. Deceased had been in poor health for the past three years and was taken to the hospital a week before her demise. She was 23 years old and is survived by her husband, one daughter, 3½ years of age, and her father and four brothers. The remains were taken to Grand Valley for interment, the funeral taking place Tuesday of last week.

V. Chisholm, Registrar for Halton, has given his annual report to the County Treasurer. The receipts last year were $5900, within about $200 of those for 1920, which were the largest recorded, and the amount of cheque for the county's share is $820.

FOURTEEN ENGINEERS

Where There Were Formerly Sixty on Provincial Highways of Province.

Where formerly sixty engineers were required to administer Ontario's highways, only fourteen are to be needed, as the result of reorganization in the system. Sometime ago Hon. Geo. S. Henry, Minister of Highways, called for the resignation of the whole staff and by a new scheme it is declared that equal efficiency will be maintained with the fourteen engaged. Under the new scheme the Province is divided into three districts, with a resident engineer in each. These districts are again to be sub-divided so that throughout the Province there will be a total of nine residencies, each under the supervision of an engineer. The number of residence under the old Government was twenty-five. The saving to the Province will be over $100,000 per annum. The engineers who have been engaged have all been in the service of the Department. The appointments which the Minister has made are as follows.—

Geo. Hogarth, Chief Engineer.

R. M. Smith, Location and Purchasing Engineer.

A. A. Smith, Division Engineer, Eastern Division.

G. F. Hanning, Division Engineer, Central Division.

J. Sears, Division Engineer, Western Division.

C. H. Nelson, Resident Engineer, Residency No. 1, Ottawa.

C. A. Robbins, Resident Engineer, Residency No. 2, Brockville.

J. M. Empey, Resident Engineer, Residency No. 3, Port Hope.

CONVICTION QUASHED

Case Heard Before Court of Appeal —Order Issued For Liberation of Prisoner.

Albert Peacock, the Tossorontio young man sentenced in November last by the county judge of the county of Simcoe to eighteen months' imprisonment on a provincial prison farm for alleged cattle stealing, is now at his home in Tossorontio. He is a free man and the conviction registered against him is as good as expunged, the conviction having been quashed by the court of appeal at Osgoode Hall Thursday last and an order issued for the immediate release of the young man.

The case is the outcome of a case of cattle stealing tried at a county court session at Barrie on the 23rd of last November. Manuel Gollinger and his son, Marshall, had each lost some cattle from their common pasture. These cattle were subsequently found on the premises of Mrs. Peacock, mother of Albert Peacock and a charge of cattle rustling was laid by the crown against the young man. The preliminary hearing took place in the police court here before Magistrate Jeffs who sent the defendant up for trial. The case before the county court resulted in Albert Peacock being found guilty and sentenced to eighteen months in prison. For landing Constable Alfred Beardsley a little corporal punishment Peacock was given an extra six months, making his sentance two years.

On consulting some friends, Mrs. Peacock determined to appeal the case and engaged Mr. W. A. Boys, K. C., to carry it to the court of appeal. It took some time for Mr. Boys to get a hearing and not till last Thursday was he able to argue the case.

Mr. Boys' appeal for leave to appeal in addition to the law came up before the full court composed of Chief Justice Latchford and Justices Middleton, Masten, Orde and Smith. Mr. F. P. Braman, assistant deputy general, appeared for the crown. The ground Mr. Boys took was that there was no direct evidence whatever proving the guilt of the accused. The evidence showed that the cattle were stolen and the Crown's case rested on the inability of Mrs. Peacock and her son and daughter to properly account for the cattle on the premises. The trial judge considered this sufficient to convict Peacock.

Mr. Boys contended that if the owner of the premises is found in possesion of stolen goods, he or she may be convicted of theft, but that presumption of law can only apply to the owner and the owner in this case was Mrs. Peacock and as she assumed the authority over the cattle in question, sold them and got the purchase money, counsel submitted that if her story was not believed, she and she alone could be found guilty of the presumption mentioned. Mr. Boys illustrated the case by using an example and contended that if stolen goods were found in his office and he and his partner could not properly account for them it might be in order to hold either Mr. Murchison or Mr. Boys responsible, but it would not be in order to hold any clerk in the office or even Mr. Boys' son responsible.

The court agreed with this contention and after Mr. Boys had been arguing for about fifteen minutes he was told the court would like to hear what Mr. Braman had to say and he could reserve further argument for reply if necessary. Mr. Braman had to admit the absence of direct evidence and was unable to disturb the opinion the members had formed from Mr. Boys' presentation of the facts, and in consequence the conviction was quashed.

Mr. Boys afterwards made reference to Peacock's assault on the constable, which, he admitted, was highly improper, but contended it was done under a certain amount of pressure. Peacock was surprised that his evidence and that of his mother and sister had been disbelieved and a conviction registered. He was in the act of saying goodbye to his mother when Constable Beardsley dragged at his hand, which was in a hand-cuff. With undue precipitation and occasioning some pain the constable tried to interfere with the farewell when Peacock lied with his left and caught Beardsley one on the eye. Mr. Boys contended that Peacock's incarceration since November 23, amounting to about two months and a half, had sufficiently purged the contempt and with this the court agreed.

The order for release was despatched in due course and while there may be some assumption in the statement in the opening paragraph to the effect that Peacock is home, he will be home after spending a few days with friends in Toronto. His status is now the same as if he had been acquitted of the charge of cattle stealing. The quashing of the conviction acquits him of the charge.—Alliston Herald.

Flesherton High School Board made a grant of $25 to Principal Carroll for the installation of gymnasium equipment for the boys in the basement. A horizontal ladder has been purchased and installed.

As a result of an influential deputation from the Bruce Peninsula waiting on the Minister of Public Highways, Hon. G. S. Henry, and on the Minister of Forests and Mines, Hon. James Lyons, Bruce Peninsula townships are to benefit very materially during this year. Albemarle and Lindsay townships are each to receive $2,600 for bridges, while all the townships of Albermarle, Amabel, Lindsay, Eastnor and St. Edmunds are most likely to receive fairly liberal grants for roads in those districts.

INSTALLED LIGHTING PLANT

Mr. Joseph A. Halbert, of Harkaway, has always been one of the most up to date farmers in this locality and he continues to advance. He has recently installed an electric lighting plant to provide light for the house, barn, stables, etc. The plant is one of 1800 watt capacity and he has 40 lights installed throughout his house, barn, cattle shed, pig pens, driving house and garage and he will also use the electric energy for separating, churning, washing, cleaning grain, etc. He has also lighted up the yard about the house and barn.

Mr. Halbert has been 43 years on the farm which now consists of three hundred acres, and the buildings are evidences of his success and progressiveness. He has a splendid brick house 39 feet square with kitchen 18 feet, equipped with furnace, bath and all other conveniences. His barn is 60 by 106 feet with completed stabling and sheds underneath, besides modern driving house, pig pens and cement block garage. He has also an up to date waterworks system. As a matter of fact very few farms are as well equipped as the Halbert homestead.

Mr. Halbert has made a success of the business of farming and is enjoying the fruits of his labors as he goes along by making use of all possible labor saving devices and comfort giving equipment. We congratulate Mr. Halbert on his progressiveness and prosperity—Markdale Standard.

Sends a message of cheer to the thousands of Canadian women who carry a load of pain and weariness through their daily work

St. Andre de Kamouraska, P. Q., March 3rd (Special)—"I have suffered terribly for several years from so weak that I was not able to do bad kidneys and indigestion. I was my housework. After taking some of Dodd's Kidney Pills I felt better and the pains in my kidneys have disappeared. I recommend them to all weak women."

Mrs. E. Ouellet, who lives here make the above statement. She feels that she owes it to other sufferers to tell them how she found relief.

Of the many persons paying their tribute of praise to Dodd's Kidney Pills, it is noticeable that the great majority are women. The reason given for this is that the great majority of women's ills come from the kidneys. Dodd's Kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys. Healing and strengthening them, they enable the kidneys to strain all the impurities out of the blood.

THE TRIBULATIONS OF JOURNALISM

There is a very general desire to criticize newspapers and newspapermen, sometimes for their own errors and again for the errors of others with which they are unjustly saddled but I think, says Sawyer Cumming, in the Owen Sound Sun-Times, if those possessed with a tendency to blame the press knew the facts or were honest they would not do more than at least utter a gentle reproof. Unquestionably occasional errors creep into the newspapers, for which those concerned have more regret than anyone else. Errors, however, are inseparable from every one's life and it would be a remarkable thing for the press handling hundreds of topics and problems a day if it did not occasionally make a mistake. The press has never yet claimed to be infallible, but it does take every pains to be accurate in what it says and reports and considering the many subjects which are dealt with every day, and frequently in a rush in order to get the papers "out on time," it is really wonderful how very few mistakes are made. "When in doubt—"don't" is a newspaper axiom which is never forgotten. If anyone wants to read all about the work, the trials, the difficulties and the lure of journalism they should read "Adventures in Journalism," by Sir Philip Gibb, which should be, if it is not, in the Public Library. We would refer them, and especially people who "blame the reports", to the following remarks concerning the status of a newspaperman: "He may be (and probably is) of more importance to the world than people of luxury and exalted rank and that indeed it is only by his words that many of them live at all. Unless he writes about them they do not exist. He is their critic, their judge, to some extent their creator. He it is who—as a man of letters—makes them famous or infamous, who gives the laurels of history to the man of action—for there is no Ulysses without Homer—and who moves through the pageant of life as a modern Froissart, painting the word pictures of courts and camps, revealing what happens behind the scenes, giving the immortality of his words to little people he meets upon the way, or to kings and heroes." That is the power, the work and the lure of the press, which makes newspapermen unwilling to change for any other, even though as Sir Philip says he "has never seen a retired reporter living on the proceeds of his past toil like business men in other adventures of life." But he says that this statement as to newspaper work is a "noble thought," and it is.

Caledon Man Haled to Brampton on Serious Charge.

Samuel A. Brown was taken to Brampton jail last week, faced with a charge of attempting to murder William J. Gibson, a neighboring farmer on the second line, Caledon township, near Belfountain.

Brown is a returned soldier single, and farms 200 acres of land in Caledon. Lately he has been brooding over an illness he believes he is afflicted with, and has become obsessed with the notion that Gibson is an imaginary enemy.

A week ago Sunday morning he went over to Gibson's with a loaded shotgun, and when within a short distance of the latter, who was at work in the barn, the gun was discharged. Fortunately the shot missed Gibson. Mr. Brown was in the barn when Constable Tate McCannell, of Inglewood, arrived upon the scene. He appeared quite rational in his conversation with the officer and offered no opposition to arrest.

A. V. GALBRAITH

With the sudden passing of A. V. Galbraith at his home on Main St., on Sunday afternoon last, death has again robbed Shelburne of one of its public-spirited citizens and prominent business men. The unexpected visitation of Providence in this case has the effect of reminding mortals of the frail tie that binds the soul on this earth. The late Mr. Galbraith had been enjoying good health and was remarkably active up to the day of his demise. On Sunday morning the deceased and Mrs. Galbraith attended divine service in St. Paul's Church, as was their usual custom. After partaking of a hearty dinner about three o'clock Mr. Galbraith retired to his bedroom to read and sleep, while Mrs. Galbraith left the house to call on her son. Returning home about 4.30 o'clock the wife went about her household duties, and preparatory to getting supper at 5.15 she went to awaken Mr. Galbraith. Getting no response her worst fears were realized, and she called in the neighbors. Dr. White was immediately summoned, and he pronounced life extinct. The deceased had passed peacefully away, without a struggle, some minutes previously.

The late Mr. Galbraith was born in Georgetown, Halton County, on Dec. 28th, 1859. He came to Shelburne in November, 1878, and engaged in the jewellery and optical business. As a jeweller he gained the reputation of having a thorough knowledge of the trade, and by his efforts built up a thriving business in Shelburne and surrounding district. He was genial and pleasant in his business transactions. In January, 1921, he disposed of the jewellery business to his son, Harry but retained the optical practice up to the time of his death.

In September, 1883, he was married to Johanna Chisholm, of Shelburne, who survives him, as well as two sons, Wm. B. Galbraith, Calgary, Alta., and A. H. Galbraith, Shelburne; and two daughters, Mrs. Horace Ledger, Toronto, and Miss Jessie Galbraith, of Acton.

The late Mr. Galbraith was a man of large, erect stature and a prominent figure on the streets of Shelburne, where he has resided for so many years. He was a member of St. Paul's Church, and in politics a Conservative. He was prominently identified with fraternal societies, a member of Lorne Lodge No. 377, A. F. & A. M., a member of the local lodge of the Knights of the Maccabees, as well as Recording-Secretary of the latter organization. He was an enthusiastic curler and for some years has filled the office of Treasurer of the local club. He was also an enthusiastic lacrosse follower and supporter, and in the early days when that game was first played in Shelburne, he was always officially connected with it.

Besides the bereaved relatives above mentioned the deceased leaves two brothers, R. H. Galbraith, Shelburne, and Richard Galbraith, Toronto; as well as two half-brothers, Messrs. Thos. and Chas. Wheeler, of Toronto.

The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon of this week, from his late residence to Shelburne Cemetery. The services were in charge of Rev. W. H. Hartley, rector of St. Paul's Church, and the funeral was held under the auspices of Lorne Lodge, No. 377, A. F. & A. M, about seventy-five members attending in a body. Many beautiful wreaths and flowers bore testimony to the esteem in which deceased was held by all who knew him, and were as follows: Pillow, the family; wreath, Mrs. A. V. Galbraith; wreath, Shelburne Curling Club; compass and square, Lorne Lodge, No. 377, A. F. & A. M.; sprays, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Berwick & Son, Bobbie, Mr and Mrs. J. R. Wake, Mrs. Ed. Ellis and Mrs Fred Hatcher, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. McCutcheon, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Skelton, Dorothy and Billy Ledger, Mrs. H. A. McCutcheon, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Ledger, Mr. and Mrs. A. McGrath, Toronto Chapter 25 Order of Eastern Star, a Friend, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Conover.

JOHN JACKSON

With the passing away of John Jackson at his home on Andrew St., Shelburne, on Friday afternoon last another of the early pioneers of Mono township has joined the silent majority. The late Mr. Jackson had been in failing health for some months, but had been able to be up and about the house until the evening previous to his demise. He took a sudden turn for the worse in the early hours of that morning and passed away at three o'clock in the afternoon. The deceased was born in Vaughan township, York county, and came to Mono when quite young. He farmed at various points in that township—east and west of Elba, on the Prince of Wales Road and on the Blind Line. He took a deep interest in municipal affairs of that township and we believe served as school trustee and councillor. In addition to farming he was a competent builder and framed many barns in this neighborhood. In his early youth he walked through this whole district, Shelburne at that time being in its infancy. Twelve years ago the deceased moved into town and two years later built the house on Andrew street in which he has since resided. The deceased was twice married, his first wife predeceasing him in 1905. His widow, a brother, Robert, of Ballycroy, and a sister, Mrs. Sloane, near Chesley, and a stepdaughter, Mrs. Lorne E. Tansley, survive. The funeral service was conducted at the home on Monday afternoon by Rev. A. E. Owen, of the Methodist Church, after which the remains were conveyed to Shelburne Cemetery. The pallbearers were Messrs. Wm. Johnston, John Snell, James Taggart, D. E. Dean, Wm. Ewing and Wm. Bailey. Friends from a distance who attended the funeral were Robert Waller, Flesherton; John Waller, Lyman Waller, Heber Waller, Mrs. W. J. Halbert, Jos. Kindrew and John Manning, Orangeville; Mrs. Fenwick and Robt. Sloane, Chesley; Mrs. Robt. McFadden, Mono Centre; Thos. Rowley and Herman Jackson, Bolton; Morden Kaiser, Erin; Mr. Hunter, Ballycroy.—Free Press.

JAMES D. CROMBIE

Death Came to Young Mono Farmer With Startling Suddenness.

Neighbors in the Mono East district and the many friends of the family elsewhere were inexpressibly shocked and grieved by the tragically sudden death of James D. Crombie on Monday night. About six o'clock in the evening the young man left the home of his parents Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Crombie, east half lot 4, 5th line, east, Mono, to feed his horses and do other choring on his own farm, the west half of the same lot. Alarmed at his prolonged absence his father instituted a search about three hours later and was horrified to discover the lifeless form of his son in the cow stable. Doctors, after an examination of the remains, stated that death was due to angina pectoris, a dangerous form of heart seizure.

Father and son had spent Monday hauling hay. In the evening the son left the homestead for his own farm, riding a horse that he was accustomed to use for making the trip back and forth. Later in the evening the father saw the horse enter the yard alone, but thought nothing of the matter, concluding that his son had either returned home by another way or gone to visit one of the neighbors. Mrs. Crombie, the wife of the son, had been away for the afternoon and when she returned home about nine o'clock without any word of her husband the household became alarmed. Hastily mounting one of his horses Mr Crombie hurried to his son's barn where he found his body, as already related. The young man had unharnessed and partly fed and bedded his horses for the night when he was overcome by the fatal seizure. Whether he had lived any length of time after the attack is of course a matter of conjecture. The body was still quite warm when found.

James David Crombie, the younger son of the family, was 29 years and 6 months of age. What makes the tragedy doubly sad is the fact that he was married only a few months ago, the date of the marriage being November 20th last. His young wife, formerly Miss Olga Island daughter of Mrs. Jos. Island, Church St., is overcome with grief at the terrible loss that has visited her in such unexpected manner. The young couple were preparing to build a house during the coming summer and were living with Mr. and Mrs Crombie Sr. until their own home was ready for occupancy. Deceased was a strong, vigorous young man and very active. Members of his family thought him in perfect health, although it is now recalled that he had spoken occasionally of pain in the region of the heart. He was well thought of in his home community and his sad passing has cast a gloom over the whole neighborhood. Besides his parents and young wife he is survived by an older brother, Hugh, now in British Columbia, and two sisters, Viola, a teacher in the Jesse Ketchum school Toronto, and Mrs. W. G. Warne, of Aurora. Profound sympathy is everywhere felt for the sorrow-stricken parents, the young wife and the other members of the family. Deceased was an enthusiastic Orangeman, being a member of the Mona Britons Lodge.

The funeral, which will be held from the home of his parents to Greenwood Cemetery this (Thursday) afternoon, will be under the auspices of the Orange Order. Service will be held at the stricken home at one o'clock and the funeral half an hour later.

MRS. W. J. M'ELROY

She then went West and some time later married Mr. McElroy and they have since lived in Winnipeg. Besides her husband and five-year-old daughter, Bernice, deceased is survived by three brothers, Wm. Creary, of Shelburne; Archy Creary, Rosemont; Jas. Creary, Orangeville, and three sisters, Mrs. Richard Bradley, Stanton; Mrs. Andy Phoenix, Shelburne, and Mrs. Wm. Reburn, Toronto, formerly of Shelburne. Interment took place at Morden, Man., on Thursday of last week.

MRS. ESTHER J. REID

Mrs. Esther J. Reid, relict of the late William Reid, of the Prince of Wales Road, Mono, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Parson, Singhampton, on Tuesday February 26th, at the ripe age of 87 years. Deceased had been ill only a few days with pneumonia. Although well beyond the allotted span of life the late Mrs. Reid was very active and vigorous and retained possession of all her faculties until the last. At the time of her last illness she was busy writing her biography to be turned over to Rev. Dr. John Neil, who is now compiling a history of the older settlers of the township of Mono. She was one of the early residents of that township where she resided until the death of her husband some twenty years ago. The late Mrs. Reid was a member of the Methodist Church and took a keen interest in any movement for the welfare or advancement of the community. She leaves to mourn her loss three sons and one daughter, namely, Jos. Reid, Orangeville Geo. Reid, Ladysmith, B. C.; W. J. Reid, Macleod, Alta., and Mrs. Parson, of Singhampton. She is also survived by 18 grandchildren and 19 great-grandchildren. The remains were brought to Orangeville for burial on Friday morning and were met at the depot by a number of relatives and oldtime friends. The funeral was held from the station to the family plot in the Forest Lawn Cemetery, Rev. H. L. Partridge, pastor of the Orangeville Methodist Church, conducting the services at the grave. The pallbearers were Messrs. J. E. Arthur, D. B. Brown J. E. McMaster, R. Reid and J. and T. Thompson.

FAREWELL PRESENTATION

Thursday night last neighbors and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Noah King and family, 12th line, East Garafraxa, to the number of one hundred and fifty, gathered at their residence and made them a farewell presentation on the eve of their removal to the 6th line, West Garafraxa. During the evening Mr. and Mrs. King were presented with a fine reading lamp, their son, Robert, with a shaving brush and mirror, and their son, William, with a pair of military brushes. The presentations were preceded by the reading of an appreciative address by Mr. Leslie Woods. James P. Boggs presented the lamp and Harry and Earl McGowan the other articles. Mr. W. H. Donaghy occupied the chair and short addresses were made by a number of the men present. The remainder of the night was then spent in dancing, cards and other amusements. During the evening Mrs King was also presented with a member's pin on behalf of the Marsville Women's Institute of which she has been a useful member for several years.

LAUREL

The Farmington Dramatic Club presented their Play, "The Trials of Mary," in the Town Hall here on Monday night. The Hall was crowded to capacity and a number were turned away from the doors. This production was a great success and at the close the players were heartily congratulated upon the skill with which they had portrayed the different characters. "The Trials of Mary" is a bright and wholesome Play with a good moral and plenty of comedy. We wish the Farmington amateurs every success and shall hope to see the Play repeated in the not distant future.

The Public School concert on the nights of March 6th and 7th will give Orangeville parents an excellent opportunity to judge of the value of the musical training their children are receiving in the school.

A PRESENTATION

Upwards of one hundred members of the Ladies' Aid Society and neighbors of Mrs. James Ewing gathered at the Methodist Church on Wednesday evening of last week and presented her with a handsome floor lamp and the following address:—

Mrs. Jas. Ewing,
Orangeville, Ont.

Dear Friend,—

We, your fellow workers in the Master's vineyard, together with your neighbors and friends, learn with deepest regret of your departure from among us in the near future.

We have felt that we could not allow you to leave us without first expressing to you in some way our value of your presence among us, and our appreciation of your sterling character. You have ever been a neighborly neighbor and a friendly friend, always ready and willing to assist in all our undertakings that have been planned for the improvement of our church, the betterment of our town, or the help of any of our people.

Your courage, your cheerfulness and your kindness will not soon be forgotten by us. We sincerely trust that in your new home, and among your new surroundings, you may find many true and warm friends. We pray that Heaven's richest blessing may rest, in the days to come, upon you and yours.

We beg you to accept this lamp, and trust that in the future it may sometimes remind you of your many sincere friends in Orangeville.

Mrs. D. A. Hogg, Pres. Ladies' Aid. Mrs. Jas. Irwin, Sec. Ladies' Aid.

Mrs. Thos. Henderson read the address and Mrs. E. H. Sproule made the presentation. Miss Gladys Ewing on behalf of her mother, thanked the ladies for their kindness and assured them that their thoughtfulness was very much appreciated. A number of the ladies spoke in appreciation of the valuable service rendered by Mrs. and Miss Ewing in all departments of the church. The remainder of the programme consisted of music and games. Refreshments were served and a social hour spent.

HERE'S WHAT PEOPLE SAY ABOUT TANLAC

"If it had not been for Tanlac I would still be a sick, discouraged woman, for nothing else seemed to do me any good," says Mrs. Edward Gibbs.

All the advertising in the world and all the sales efforts combined could not have made the great success for TANLAC that has been attained, unless this reconstructive tonic possessed merit of the greatest degree. Over 40 Million Bottles of Tanlac have been sold and the demand to-day is greater than ever before.

That TANLAC possesses merit and has brought relief to hundreds of thousands of persons is attested by the great number of testimonials that have been received by the company from people in every state of the Union and every province of Canada. There are over 100,000 such statements on file with the company, all ringing with sincere praise for TANLAC and what it has accomplished.

Here are excerpts from a few of the 100,000 statements on file:

Mrs. Edward Gibbs, Lancaster Pa.—"For 2 years indigestion deprived me of nearly all the pleasure of living. If it had not been for TANLAC I would still be a sick and discouraged woman, for nothing else seemed to do me any good."

Mrs. Mary A. Benson, Seattle, Wash.—"Following an operation my stomach and nerves seemed to give way and I became almost helpless. As a last resort I tried TANLAC. I began to improve from the very first, gained 29 lbs. and to-day am feeling fine."

O. E. Moore, Kansas City, Mo. "My stomach seemed to pain me constantly, food seemed to do me no good, I would bloat up with gas, lost my strength, and could not sleep or rest. I was on the downgrade all the time. Tanlac corrected my troubles and put me in excellent shape."

Thomas Lucas, Petersboro, Ontario: "Well, sir, buying TANLAC was the best investment I ever made, for it built up my health and strength to where I haven't a complaint in the world."

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Kaake, Detroit, Mich.: "For more than a year our three children, age 2, 4 and 6, had been so peaked and lifeless that we were worried about them. Their stomachs were upset, appetites poor, the color had left their cheeks, their nights were restless and during the day they would just mope around, taking no interest in play or anything else. They began to improve with the first dose of TANLAC, and to-day there are no children more healthy in Detroit."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Over 40 million bottles sold. Accept no substitute.

Take Tanlac Vegetable Pills.

FIRE IN KITCHEN

On Friday morning about 5 o'clock William Rayfield, who lives on the W. A. Wansbrough farm, near Bowling Green, was awakened by a choking smoke. Running downstairs he found the kitchen blazing merrily, the fire apparently having started from some fire wood getting too close to the stove. Barefooted and scantily clad, Mr. Rayfield beat out some flames, dashed water on others and succeeded in putting out the blaze. Considerable damage was done to the building and contents the heat being severe enough to blister the piano in an adjoining room. Among the property burned were a suit of clothes, in the pockets of which were $56.00. The loss, which will be around $300, is covered by the Dufferin Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Company.—Star & Vidette

WON COAL SUIT

Town of Weston Recovers Over Four Thousand From S. S. Co. For Shortage in Coal.

On Monday, Feb. 11th, a telegram was received from Montreal, announcing a decision by Mr. Justice Maclennan, re the action brought by the town of Weston against the S.S. Riverton, condemning the steamship company to pay to the town of Weston, the sum of $4,451.01 as the value of 447 tons of coal on which the Riverton, condemning the steamship in Montreal from Cardiff, Wales, according to a bill of lading, consigning a full cargo of coal, to the defendant, the town of Weston.

The action arose out of the fact that during the shortage in the supply of American anthracite coal during the early part of 1923, the town of Weston, with a view of relieving the situation, placed an order for the delivery of 5,000 tons of Welsh coal. On the arrival of the S. S. Riverton in Montreal and in Weston, there was an alleged shortage of 447 tons, approximating in value to about $5,000. Acting on the advice of C. Howard Grey, town solicitor, of Weston, Mayor Flynn and the members of the Council promptly brought action to recover the alleged shortage, and this in opposition to the advice of a number of citizens who were not very hopeful of the outcome.

The text of the judgment comprises some ten pages of closely typewritten matter, and the outcome is regarded locally as a great win for the Mayor, Solicitor and members of the Council.

The most convincing proof of the true worth of "Fruit-a-tives" as a medicine for women is found in the letters written by them to "Fruit-a-tives". For instance:

"I suffered with all the symptoms of female trouble, pains low down in the back and sides, constipation and constant headache. A doctor advised an operation. I started taking "Fruit-a-tives" and this fruit medicine completely relieved me of all my misery".

WHEN IS A DEFICIT NOT A DEFICIT?

Every year, the people of Ontario are supposed to get excited over one or two question. This year, the question is: "When is a deficit not a deficit?" This is nearly always the one that the electors hear after there has been a change of party in power, although such changes have been few in this Province. It is supposed to be good politics to prove that your predecessors in office spent more than they took in. The second year, this deficit is probably smaller and the third should show a slight balance on the other side, while the year before the election, there should be a good substantial surplus. Then the Opposition can raise the other question, "When is a surplus not a surplus?"

All this, as we said, is considered good politics. It shows the workings of the wily political mind. It is becoming a tradition. The public are supposed to get all "het up" about it; as a matter of fact, they don't which is fortunate, for the whole thing is bosh, nothing else.

When millions are handled every year, it is quite easy to manipulate them to prove almost anything. You will remember the answer of the old negro, when told that "figures don't lie." These deficits and surpluses are largely a matter of bookkeeping and different systems are used from time to time, judging what are called capital and ordinary expenditures so that any desired result can be obtained. Besides, the financial year closes in the fall and the accounts are not presented to the Legislature until the spring or late winter. That gives a chance to hold the books open for receipts after they are closed for expenditures, or vice versa, making quite a difference. The excuse can always be given that these receipts really belonged in that time, and should be so credited.

A change of government offers another opportunity, which seems to have been fully taken advantage of by Hon. Col. Price, that is, to spend as much as possible after the election and before the end of the financial year, in the hope that it will all be blamed on the late Treasurer This is perhaps the worst fault of all. Juggling with the bookkeeping systems may be bad enough, but entering on an orgy of spending is much worse.

If methods like this were carried on by private individuals and firms, they would not last very long. We have heard officials of the Treasury Department admit that the bookkeeping system is not quite on the level, but they claimed that the Drury Government at least improved it and made an attempt to improve it. We believe there is still room for improvement and it remains to be seen whether Provincial Treasurer Price, after he quits playing politics, will continue to improve it, or will slip back again to the older method.—Fergus News-Record.

PERFECTED WINDSCREEN.

A New Device to Keep a Good Lookout.

No motorist would care to proceed far on his journey, especially during the cold weather, unprotected by a windscreen, which, however, he often regards as being a very great nuisance indeed, for when it becomes spattered with rain, sleet, or snow he has either to stop his car and clear it, or else be content to travel at an agonizing pace on roads which may be almost entirely free of traffic.

Cute conception of the motorist's requirements has been responsible for the invention of a device which enables him to keep a good look out and retain an unobstructed view of his route, no matter how inclement the weather may be. It consists of a revolving piece of thick glass which, operated by a small motor or otherwise geared to the engine, whirls round at such a dizzy speed that no moisture, even when a deluge is falling, can adhere to it.

The disc is always available for the purpose of keeping a good outlook, and those travellers who are concerned both with the safety of themselves and pedestrains will appreciate its invaluable aid as a means of avoiding accidents.

The same invention has also been applied to marine uses, and has been fitted to some of the largest liners on which keen observation is more necessary in bad weather than in fine.—Weekly Telegraph.

Lighthouse Catches Birds.

As the candle attracts the moth, so the lighthouse on St. Simonds Island, just off the coast of southern Georgia, attracts thousands of birds.

It has become necessary for the Government to erect a large steel net around the glass in the top of the tower to save the windows from further injury and to protect the light and it powerful lens from possible destruction.

The light is of 2,200 candle power and is in a tower 104 feet high It is visible on a clear night for a distance of sixteen miles, and according to C. O. Svenson, keeper of the lighthouse, offers as much fascination to the fowls of the air as the white lights to Broadway offers to the thousands of Americans who annually visit New York.

"During the migrating season thousands of birds fly into the net," Keeper Svenson said, "and on a dark and stormy night the net is worked overtime. Then the birds believe that the light offers them a haven from the wind, but instead it lures many of them to their death.

"The lighthouse does not observe any of the game laws, but gets all the birds that come toward it. Quite often I pick up birds of rare plumage. Sometimes the birds are killed outright, but some of them escape death and are either badly stunned or suffer broken wings. These I kill to end their suffering, and feel that in doing so I am showing them mercy.

"Ducks, rice birds, quail and doves often fly into the net and after daybreak I gather them up, dress them and they are soon on my dining table."

The lighthouse, located on an island about twelve miles from Brunswick, occupies a very commanding position. Since its erection many years ago it has been a mecca for birds, but for a number of years there was no net around the light.

City Without Windows.

In the holy city of Nejef, five days distant by caravan from Bagdad, there is said to be scarcely a house that has a window. The city has a population in the neighborhood of 100,000 persons, most of whom live in huge underground caves beneath the city. These strange dwellings are excavated out of limestone that underlies the desert round about. Many of these caves are built one room below the other, some of the lower apartments being 100 feet below the street level. These underground chambers are reached by winding stairways, also hewn from the rock. They were originally built to provide a refuge from the intense heat of midsummer, but in many instances they have now become a refuge for Arab criminals and robbers who dwell at Nejef and prey on the caravans of Mecca pilgrims. Nejef itself is a great pilgrim city and each year thousands of devotees from Persia and Turkestan make the journey to the holy Nejef, bringing with them the salted and dried bodies of their dead for burial in sacred soil outside the city walls. Here a vast city of tombs has grown up.

Experiments with the marking of salmon carried out under the direction of the Fisheries Board of Scotland have yielded some notable results.

From the Kyle of Tongue (Sutherland) salmon have moved to places as far apart as Loch Broom and Cromarty, Lochinvar and the River Spey.

ALMOST KILLED TWO

Dundalk Man Had Real Luck While Fox Hunting.

Foxes are not as plentiful as snowdrifts in Dundalk district at present, but fox hunters bag one frequently.

One morning recently Harry Palmer went out on a hunting expedition and his hounds took up a trail on the Henry Lonsway farm in Melanethon. There were two foxes and they ran together. The chase started at nine o'clock and the foxes led the hounds into Artemesia Township to within a short distance of Flesherton, then circled and came back to Portlaw vicinity. Palmer stuck to the trail all the time and imagine his surprise when he came to Luther Love's place to find that he (Love) had shot both the foxes.

The hounds had brought the foxes close to Love's house about 3 o'clock and on seeing them Love rushed into the house and got his shotgun. The gunman hid behind a snowbank at the edge of one of his fields and when the foxes came within range, running one directly behind the other, they received a charge of lead from Love's shotgun. One fox was killed, the other wounded and another shot was fired to bring down the second victim.

The men came to a satisfactory settlement over the foxes and Palmer came home to Dundalk with two very fine pelts slung over his shoulder.—Hanover Post.

Large Percentage of Accidents Preventable

Windsor Station, Montreal, headquarters of the Canadian Pacific Railway. Inset, Mr. E. A. Cunningham, who says that the study of safety is not a matter for large corporations, but is as broad as the nation is wide.

MR. E. A. CUNNINGHAM, efficiency engineer, Canadian Pacific Railway, who is also chairman of the Traffic Section, Province of Quebec Safety League, referring to the terrible toll of deaths from street accidents during late years, said that the study of safety is not a matter only for large corporations, or industrial firms, but is as broad as the nation itself. "The practice of 'Safety First' on the railways," said Mr. Cunningham, "has necessarily developed into a complex study in which each individual must play his part." Observance of rules for safety, everywhere, and under all conditions, concerns not only employers, employees, and their families, but everybody with humane principles, and every consumer of the products of industry. "Safety First" might with advantage be in the thoughts of everybody in this city and province. The heavier the casualties, in mines, factories, shops, department stores and office buildings, the larger the insurance and damage bills.

This is reflected in taxation and in the price of every manufactured article. Those who have inaugurated, with such outstandingly meritorious success, the various Provincial Safety Leagues rightly summon every industrial, civic, educational and social organization to co-operate towards the prevention of the great human waste that now occurs. We are told on high authority that there is a very large percentage of accidents preventable. Precautions are being very rigidly observed by the Canadian Pacific people, which is best exemplified by the record of "crossing" accidents for the last three years in the Quebec district,—an analysis which proves that while there have been many regrettable accidents, those that could be attributed to neglect or carelessness of railway employees have been negligible. Campaigns of safety are being as well as practical hints on industrial hygiene; the prevention of accidents; publicity advertising, and motion pictures that impress the lesson of prevention and avoidance. There is no reason why this good work might not be successfully carried out, in the schools, by the Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions, and other clubs; in the church itself, as well as in the shop, factory, railway employ, or elsewhere.

Visits to plants where safety appliances have been installed convey a striking testimony. A careful worker is the best safety device, after an employer has done his duty to his employees to the best of his ability. The dissemination of knowledge by the traffic section of the Safety League will eventually pay dividends and pay in health by escape from hazards. Organization against accidents can save life and limb, and expresses itself in warning signs, appeals to be careful and in safety committees. The motto nowadays should be not so much "Safety First," but "Safety at All Times." The good work being done by those who have saddled themselves with the labor of love of conserving the life and limb of the community should set the populace thinking, with the net result of declining casualty lists, and more contented citizens.

The "Stop—Look—Listen" campaign now under way is a most commendable one, and if it could be carried into effect, at all times and under all circumstances, by all classes of the community, what a happy, healthy place this metropolitan city of Montreal would be, and what a harvest of indirectly beneficial results would be garnered in by the obviation of accidents, deaths—and their consequential unhappiness and loss. The railway men's motto is an excellent one, which says:—"When in doubt, make sure." Those with any degree of responsibility might with advantage take

REPETITION OF BIBLE TACTICS

Major Vivian Gilbert, a young English actor, who was with Lord Allenby through the war in Palestine, has written a racy book called "The Romance of the Last Crusade." Among some very fine stories in the volume is one peculiarly proving the historical accuracy of the Holy Scriptures. The author says it was the London division that was ordered to capture a place called Mickmash by a frontal attack which would be costly to life. That night in his tent by the light of a candle the brigade major was reading the Bible, and some dim memory of the name Mickmash stirred in his mind. He found it again in Samuel. It was the place that Jonathan was ordered to capture from the Philistines and he discovered a pass between two rocks—Bozes and Seneh—"The forefront of one was situate northward over against Mickmash, and the other southward against Gibeah."

The brigade major of the London troops read how Jonathan and his men went through the pass and fell upon the Philistines, who thought they were surrounded by armies of Saul, and fled in disorder. The brigade major was excited, and awakened the brigadier. They sent out scouts, who came back and reported the pass between the rocks thinly held by the Turks. The plan of attack was altered and one battalion of infantry advanced at dead of night along the narrow way which was exactly described in Samuel with a flat piece of ground beyond "which a yoke of oxen might plough." The Turks thought that they were surrounded, and "melted away." So, after thousands of years, the tactics of Saul and Jonathan led British troops to victory!

Mr. H. M. Aitken, of Beeton, has completed arrangements with the Alberta Department of Game for the importing of twelve Hungarian partridge, which is is his intention to liberate in the water-works reserve. THE CIRCUS.

Successful Manager Must Be Many-Sided Man.

While one may talk of a farmer or the manager of a toy store as being a many-sided man, his task is nothing to the many-sidedness of the circus-manager. Problems are cropping up all the time, and though his people are competent enough, yet in the long run they depend upon him.

Wild animals need a rare lot of handling and doctoring and no two are the same in their likes and dislikes, their appetites or their tempers.

What would you do if your elephant got rheumatism or your big African lion suffered from toothache? How would you feed a baboon? Are you aware that all carnivorous animals must fast one day in seven? If you had to buy horses for a circus would you know enough to avoid pretty-pretty animals with arching necks and long tails, which would go to bits after one night in a train?

The circus man has to know all these things and a great many more besides. He must be above the average as a veterinary doctor, and must also have a rough-and-ready knowledge of medicine and surgery. Particularly the latter, for accidents often happen. A man gets bitten by a monkey or kicked by a horse, and a doctor is not always handy.

The proprietor has to make a living out of his circus, which means that he must know the towns he visits and their people. Audiences differ greatly in different parts of the country, and he mst thoroughly understand their likes and dislikes.

There are no end of points to be considered before he can map out his rout for the season. For instance, it is no use travelling through an industrial district where a big strike is, or has lately been, in progress, for in such country the takings will not equal the expenses.

There is also the matter of feed for his animals. In one part of the country hay may be cheap, in another dear; in one part the grazing is good, in another there is little or no grass.

Ring Superstitions.

The origin of the ring, or the use of it seems to go back a long time in the world's history. It was perhaps worn first around the neck as a badge of servitude. Then later on arm and ankle for ornament, and eventually on the hand. It is worn in the case of weddings or engagements usually on the third finger of the left hand, on account of a belief that the nerves of the heart concentrated upon that particular finger. A ring worn by a woman on her little finger, denotes that she intends to remain single. A man wearing a ring on his first finger means to imply that he wants a wife. He wears a ring on the second finger if he is engaged, and on the third finger if he is married. If the ring appears on the little finger, he is determined to remain a bachelor. Rings carved with the heads of deities were used by superstitious ancient Greeks to ward off evil. Ancient Britons used the figure of St .Christopher to protect them from sickness and flood, and that of St. Barbara to ward off sudden death. In the eleventh century rings made of horn and worn on the fourth finger were said to afford protection against epilepsy; while a pure gold ring was said to cure pains in the side.

Sheep That Was Lost.

On the Aletusch Glacier in Switzerland, says a correspondent, I saw a strange, beautiful sight—the parable of the "Ninety and Nine" repeated to the letter.

One day we were making our way with ice-axe and alpenstock down the glacier, when we saw a flock of sheep following their shepherd over the intricate windings between crevasses, and so passing from the pastures on the one side of the glacier to the pastures on the other.

The flock had numbered two hundred all told. But on the way one sheep got lost.

One of the shepherds appealed to us if we had seen it. Fortunately one of the party had a field-glass. With its aid we discovered it amid a tangle of brushwood, up on the rocky mountain side.

It was beautiful to see how the shepherd, without a word, left his hundred and ninety-nine sheep out in the glacier waste, knowing they would stand there perfectly still and safe, and went clambering back after the lost sheep until he found it. And he actually put it on his shoulders and "returned rejoicing."

Here was our Lord's parable enacted before our eyes, though the shepherd was all unconscious of it. And it brought our Lord's teaching home to us with a vividness which none can realize but those who saw the incident.

World's Laziest People.

The laziest people in the world are said to be the Svantians, a race of mountain folks living in the almost inaccessible mountain ranges lying between the Black and Caspian Seas. Their living conditions are approximately what they were 2,000 years ago, save that they have invented new reasons for their laziness, having four holidays each week with a movable list of special holidays that can be declared any time they want another day off, while they live in squalor and filth, in huts and caves with none of the conveniences easily within reach.

Organize Native Workers.

The mine workers of Benoni branch caused a sensation throughout labor circles in South Africa when they recommended that a proposal to admit natives to trade unionism and organise them for that purpose should be placed on the agenda of the annual general council. The union declares that it needs money, and that many natives are willing to pay the fees. The bulk of the trade unionists are opposed to the idea, which is regarded with some anxiety in official circles.

Here and There

That the average weight of Alberta's 1923 wheat was 64 pounds to the bushel, or four pounds more than the standard, is the statement of George Hill, Dominion Grain Inspector at Calgary.

The season of navigation for the year 1923 is the longest since the year 1814, or 109 years ago, according to a statement made at Quebec by Captain J. E. Bernier, Arctic explorer.

Two-thirds of Canada's exhibits for the British Empire Exhibition are now in England, most of these being already at Wembley. Among them is a monster silver nugget, weighing nearly three tons, the biggest ever unearthed, which was dug up in Canada.

Twenty-nine million pounds of halibut were landed at Prince Rupert, B.C., during the past year, with figures for the month of December incomplete. This total is considerably in excess of the previous year. Several large shipments were made to Chicago and other middle Western States' points.

E. W. Beatty, President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, has accepted the honorary presidency of the Province of Quebec Safety League, succeeding the late Lord Shaughnessy, who was its first honorary president. The object of the League is to institute safeguards for the protection of life, especially children, providing protected playgrounds and streets.

It is estimated by the provincial tourist bureau of the Province of Quebec that 122,000 American automobiles visited the province in 1922. Of this number 40,000 travelled over the King Edward Highway, the principal route of automobilists from across the border motoring to Montreal and a record in the annals of that thoroughfare as regards American cars.

The Canadian Independent Oil Company, of St. John, New Brunswick, has closed a contract to supply lubricating oils of all kinds to all Canadian Pacific steamships plying to Atlantic ports. This is said to be the biggest contract for lubricating oils ever closed in Canada. This company means a new industry for St. John, for its compounding plant will be located in East St. John.

The Klondyke is in the throes of another gold and silver rush. At the head of the Beaver River, 50 miles west of Keno Hill, a silver and gold discovery of unusual proportions has started a stampede from Mayo, the major mining settlement of the Yukon, to the new country, where it is said assays reveal pay dirt running 1,100 ounces of silver to the ton.

Records compiled by the Bureau of Railway Statistics in Chicago show how greatly the cost of railroad equipment in North America has increased in the past sixteen years. Since 1907, these figures show, the cost of heavy freight locomotives has risen from $16,243 to $53,550 each; passenger locomotives from $16,057 to $66,200 each; passenger coaches from $7,330 to $28,900 each; freight cars from $700 to $2,301 each; and steel rails from $28 to $43 per ton.

The Indians of the three prairie provinces in the 1923 season harvested the greatest crop in their history, according to the annual report of the Department of Indian Affairs. In the three provinces, the Indians harvested 638,561 bushels of wheat, 574,282 bushels of oats and 62,304 bushels of barley. The report shows they raised 58,264 bushels of potatoes and 10,000 bushels of other vegetables. They summerfallowed 20,000 acres of land, broke 6,808 acres, put up 57,000 tons of hay and 9,516 of green feed.

WILL ATTACK BY-LAWS

Alliston Poolroom Proprietor Contends That Statute Has Not Been Followed.

Particulars of the appeal against the conviction of Mr. John Robinson for operating a pool room in Alliston have been filed by Mr. R. G. Agnew, who has the case in hand. The conviction was made by Police Magistrate Jeffs after hearing a case brought to court by Constable Anderson in which Mr. Robinson was charged with operating a poolroom contrary to the by-laws of the town.

The appeal is being made on the ground that the civic by-laws are bad. All by-laws of municipalities are based on authority given municipal councils to pass them by the Provincial Legislature and any matter not covered by the Municipal Act does not come under the purview of municipal councils. Councils cannot exceed powers granted them by the Municipal Act and it is on this point that the appeal in the Anderson-Robinson case is to be based. The opinion of counsel is that by-laws have been passed by the town of Alliston which are not authorized by the Municipal Act. This involves an interpretation of the statutory clause governing pool and billiard rooms in organized municipalities throughout the province. This section is No. 420 of the Municipal Act. Subsection 1 of that section gives authority to councils of towns, villages, etc., to pass by-laws "for licensing, regulating and governing persons who for hire or gain, etc., keep or have billiard, pool or other tables." "Hire or gain" are the words which it will likely be contended constitute the crux of the sentence and are consequently the controlling words of the statute. Not one of the town by-laws governing pool and billiard rooms contains the words "hire or gain" and consequently are ultra vires of the council and useless as civic ordinances. The particulars of appeal also cover the point of operating a pool room for hire or gain, of which there was no evidence at the trial, any evidence upon the point being to the contrary.

There are eight distinct objections raised against the conviction in the particulars of appeal. They are as follows:—

1. The conviction is against the evidence and the weight of evidence.

2. The information does not disclose any offence at law, nor is it contrary to the provisions of the statute.

3. That the conviction does not disclose any offence at law.

4. The appellant did not operate for hire or gain any billiard or pool room in Alliston.

5. That the only powers which any municipal corporation have to pass by-laws for licensing, regulating and governing persons who, for hire or gain, have in possession or keep any billiard or pool tables are derived from 12 and 13 George V., 1922, section 420, sub-section 1.

6. That certain by-laws were passed by the council of the town of Alliston which purported to deal with the licensing, regulating and governing of persons who have in their possession billiard or pool tables, and the learned magistrate has found the appellant has infringed provisions of said by-laws.

7. That appellant did not infringe the provisions of such by-laws.

8. That if appellant did infringe the provisions of such by-laws such by-laws were ultra vires of the powers of the council of the town of Alliston to enact and were not authorized by the provisions of the Municipal Act and are therefore null and void.—Alliston Herald.

HOW'S THIS ONE

An Irish lawyer, noted for his wit, was engaged by a lady to defend an action her husband was bringing for judicial separation. While cross-examining the plaintiff he asked:

"You wish to leave this woman because she drinks?"

"Yes, sir."

"Do you drink yourself?"

"That's my business!"—angrily.

Whereupon the unmoved lawyer quietly asked him:

'Have you any other business?"

RHEUMATIC PEOPLE CAN FIND RELIEF

By Enriching Their Blood With Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Rheumatism attacks people when the blood is clogged with impurities thus setting up an inflammation of the muscles and joints. Cold or wet weather may start the tortures of rheumatism, but it is not the cause, as was once supposed. The cause is thin or impure blood. Rubbing with liniments or applying hot applications may give relief, but that is all, the pains are soon back again. You must treat the trouble through the blood to get rid of it. The value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in cases of this kind is proved by the following statement. Miss Margaret M. Cullen, writing on behalf of her grandmother, Mrs. A. McEwen Ormstown, Que., says:—"My grandmother, now 85 years of age, was some years ago, a great sufferer from rheumatism. She tried many remedies but found none that did her any good until she began using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These she used for some months until every trace of rheumatism disappeared. Since then she has taken the pills at intervals, and they have kept her in the best of health. It is marvellous how well and active my grandmother is. She cooked the dinner for the threshers last fall and she gives the credit for her good health to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She is anxious that her experience with this splendid medicine be given for the benefit of others."

If you are suffering from any trouble due to poor or watery blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will help you. Sold by medicine dealers everywhere, or sent by mail, at 50c per box, by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

MONEY FOUND

Recently an old man in New Jersey found $5000.00 scattered in bills of large denominations through the Family Bible. In 1874 this man's aunt died, and a paragraph of her will read as follows: "To my beloved nephew I will and bequeath my 'Family Bible' and all it contains with the residue of my estate after my funeral expenses and just and lawful debts are paid." The estate amounted to only a few hundred dollars which was soon spent and her nephew, neglecting to read the Bible, did not find the treasure put there for him. He lived in poverty all that time and it was while packing up his things to remove to his son's home for the remainder of his days that he discovered the money. How many people miss the precious treasures that are placed in the Bible for them, by a failure to read its pages? How many rejoice in having found Christ in the blessed "Book," worth more than all the money of all the banks—the pearl of great price, worth more than all the costly jewels of the earth. Christ thus bids us all to secure this wealth. "Search the Scriptures."

PASTMASTERS' NIGHT

Pastmaster of Harris Lodge held their annual night on Tuesday night when they took charge of the chairs and conferred the first degree on a candidate. The meeting was largely attended, the hall being crowded to capacity. Under the skilled direction of R. W. Bro. R. Irvine, P. D. D. G. M., who occupied the Master's chair, the Pastmasters gave quite a creditable exemplification of the work. The musical part of the ritual by orchestra and choir was particularly impressive. Following the business of the evening the brethren adjourned to the banquetting room where the fourth degree was worked in wholehearted and satisfying manner.

A BLENDED TEA IS BETTER

Tea from one garden, no matter how fine it is, possesses certain desirable qualities but may lack others, because all characteristics are not developed under the same conditions. If the tea has a perfect flavour it may lack body; if it has body it is perhaps without the same perfection of flavour. To combine all desirable characteristics in one blend has been the work of the "SALADA" experts for over a quarter of a century and "SALADA" is the fruit of their labours. The flavour is more delicious than any unblended tea grown.

MEMBER PROTESTS ON BEHALF OF SON

C. R. McKeown Says Boy Refused Permission to Repeat Varsity Year.

Prompt inquiry and, if necessary, decisive action were promised by Premier Ferguson in the Legislature on Friday in answer to a complaint by C.R. McKeown (Conservatie, Dufferin) that his son, having matriculated and attended the University of Toronto for one year, but having failed in his examinations, was refused permission by the University authorities to repeat his year.

The Premier said it was "almost inconceivable" that such a thing could have occurred, and asked Mr. McKeown to put his case in a letter to the Prime Minister, and he would investigate.

Mr. McKeown brought up his grievance during the discussion of the bill to permit graduates representation on the Board of Governors of the University of Toronto. He asked the Premier if the Board of Governors had any right, apart from the matter of qualification, to say who shall and who shall not attend the University. He cited the case of a student who had complied in every way with the regulations, but who had failed in his first-year examinations, and this student was told he could not repeat the year. He said he himself had applied personally in appeal, and was told that the student could go back to high school. The student had full matriculation standing, he said, in answer to a question from the Premier.

Mr. Ferguson said he was glad his attention had been called to this case, and that he would look into it carefully. It was almost inconceivable, he added, that such a thing could occur, but if it was so, and such an act so arbitrary had occurred, he certainly would see that no University authorities would carry on activities in that form.

"I know the case so well that the student in question is my own son," said Mr. McKeown, warmly. The boy was being deprived of his expected course at the University, he added.

Melancholy-Gloom-Despondency Tell Of Exhausted Nerves

It is unfortunate that one of the most common symptoms of nervous exhaustion is the tendency to melancholy, gloom and despondency.

You get looking on the dark side of things.

You begin to worry and cannot see that the future holds anything better for you.

The supply of nerve force is running low and you lack the energy necessary to throw off these blighting, depressing feelings.

The depleted nerve cells must have nourishment.

They must be fed back to health and strength.

In Dr. Chase's Nerve Food you find in condensed and easily assimilated form the ideal treatment for an exhausted condition of the nervous system.

You will not be using this treatment long before you find yourself sleeping and resting better.

It will take a little time to build up the system, but you will soon find yourself more cheerful, more confident and more energetic and will be encouraged to keep up the treatment until fully restored.

Such symptoms as headaches, irritability and indigestion disappear as the nerves are strengthened and resume their functions in controlling the activities of the vital organs of the body.

No treatment for the nerves has ever met with such unqualified success as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. This is proven in many hundreds of thousands of cases, many of which are reported in the newspapers from day to day.

You will notice that while the price of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has been increased to 60c. the box now contains 60 pills instead of 50 as formerly.

Likewise Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are 35c. a box of 35 pills, instead of 25c. for 25 pills. Edmanson, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto.

A tragic accident under unusual and distressing circumstances cast a gloom over Sacred Heart College, in Sudbury, when Armand Senecal, a teacher at the College, was killed when he fell on the ice of the open-air rink. Death was caused by concussion of the brain.

SALEM MILL BURNED

A Wellington County Landmark Falls Prey to Flames.

The Salem Mill, with all its contents, was burned on the forenoon of Friday, February 22. Owing to the recent very severe weather some pipes connected with the engine became frozen. About 11 o'clock while thawing these, the flame spread to the surrounding dust and oil. In a few minutes the mill was full of smoke and those working there had no time to save anything in the mill, although the books and papers were removed from the office, which, however, was not burned as it was outside of the main building and separated from it by a stone wall and a metal covered door. Some 23 bags of grain had just been brought in to be chopped, but it was impossible to save these although they were just inside the door.

Salem is an unincorporated village in the township of Nichol, adjoining Elora. It has absolutely no fire protection, although even if it had nothing could have saved the mill. A strong northwest wind was blowing down the Irvine River towards Elora which was away from any danger to the surrounding buildings; although the nearest one, not more than forty feet away, which is used and owned by Mr. William Wissler as a garage and automobile tire repair shop, was saved by the efforts of the neighbors.

This mill was built in 1858—seventy years ago—by Mr Levi Erb, the partner and brother-in-law of Sam Wissler, the founder of Salem. It was a very substantial stone building and stood all those years without having had a fire before. Even now the walls remain standing as the heavy rock-elm timbers were not completely burned and hold the walls in place. For twelve years the mill was run by Mr. Erb and during the years following the Russian War, and especially in the years 1857 and 1858, it did a great business when flour was selling for ten dollars a barrel. In 1866, it was sold to Mr. Jacob Eby, from Waterloo. Later it was owned by Mr. Robert Shortreed and Son; and about thirty years ago it was bought by Mr. Titus Copeland and Mr. Louis Ziegler, under the firm name of Copeland & Ziegler. A few years ago, Mr. Ziegler died, since when it has been conducted by Mr. Copeland in the interest of the late firm. Much sympathy is felt for Mr. Copeland and Mr. Ziegler, who, in one hour, lose the earnings of thirty years. Both owners were experienced millers, who learned their trade at St. Jacobs, in Waterloo County. They worked early and late; were highly esteemed by all the farmers in the district, and now, all is gone.—Fergus News-Record.

Initial steps have been taken to organize a Kiwanis Club in Orillia. A dozen members of the Kiwanis went up from Barrie and conducted a specimen meeting.

Rev. Mr. Pickering, of Singhampton, met with an unfortunate accident while splitting some wood. The axe, glancing off an icy stick, struck Mr. Pickering on the foot, cutting its way through to the bone.

Harriston's oldest citizen died at his home in that town on February 24th, in the person of Daniel Nicholson. He was in his 90th year, and fell ten days previously, breaking his leg. The shock of the accident resulted in his death. He leaves a wife and grown-up family. Last summer Mr. and Mrs. Nicholson celebrated the 60th anniversary of their wedding.

A government engineer was in Midland recently looking over the proposition to give increased dockage at the Aberdeen and Tiffin elevators. The object is to increase the dockage and erect sheds so that package freighters can discharge and clear without delay. The new dock would be in the neighborhood of two thirds of a mile long and its cost is estimated as in the neighborhood of $500,000.

A sad case occurred at Eugenia recently. Mr. Herbert Morley Utley, who had been employed on the pipe line, took ill on Tuesday. The doctor was called but the man continued to grow worse and Dr. Middleton, of Owen Sound, was called to perform an operation. He came down Saturday morning, but arrived too late to operate and the sufferer died during the afternoon. Death was due to peritonitis.

ORIGINAL RED CAP IN SEIGE OF PARIS

First of force on Continent is still at work in Canadian Pacific Windsor Station

Remains Patriotic Frenchman

BEHIND all great transportation companies must always exist the human factor. Many of these human factors are visible, but there are many thousand individuals who are not seen at all, and others who are seldom seen, yet all of them vitally necessary in maintaining the smooth running of the system.

M. Louis Dupart.

Of the visible aids are the baggagemen, but it is probable that the travelling public seldom give them a second thought after receiving a check, unless it is to protest against being charged excessively. The baggagemen form an important link in the chain and the searcher in the hunt for interesting individuals who is permitted to explore that almost unknown land behind the counter, is certain to be rewarded in his efforts

It was on such a voyage of discovery at Windsor street (Montreal) station of the Canadian Pacific Railway, that Monsieur Louis Dupart entered the horizon of the explorer, and added to the general knowledge of one individual.

Louis Dupart has several claims to fame. One is that he is the only man of that name in Canada—that is his own statement—another is that he is the original "Red Cap," having been the actual Number One on the American Continent, and witness what an army has developed from the original private in the ranks.

It might be thought from this that Mr. Dupart is a colored man, but make no mistake on that score; he is not, and, further, is a native of one of the most delightful cities of the world, Paris. In his birthplace Mr. Dupart touches history. While yet a lad he witnessed some of the scenes of the siege in 1871 and remembers the hunger that was one sad feature of those stirring times. Mr. Dupart remains the patriotic Frenchman, and by virtue of his service is always allowed to absent himself on July 14th, the French national festival.

"Paris was terrible then," commented Mr. Dupart, "and not like the gay city it was to afterwards become, so that in 1873 the 'Canada Agent' there had but little difficulty in persuading my parents to make their way across the Atlantic. The 'Agent' promised wages of three to four dollars a day, but when we came we found them only eighty cents, and it was great satisfaction afterwards to learn that he had been sent to jail. We sailed on the Scandinavian of the old Allan line."

Started at Fifteen

Dupart, senior, set up a forge in Duke street, Montreal, and it was in that sturdy neighborhood that Louis grew up until at the age of fifteen, a Mr. Cook, then superintendent of the Y.M.C.A., used his influence to have him placed at work in Bonaventure station. There was some difficulty in finding work for Louis, but eventually he was given a badge, and told to help the passengers with their hand baggage, and thus became the original Red Cap.

In 1887, Mr. Dupart joined the service of the Canadian Pacific and at Dalhousie station—the old structure is yet standing—became a baggageman and a relief for the police and the ticket man, and when Windsor street station was opened years afterwards he was transferred to the new building. In the thirty-five years of service with the Canadian Pacific Mr. Dupart witnessed many changes in the railway itself and in the city, remembering when cows were pastured in St. Catherine street, now the uptown shopping district of Montreal. In himself he has changed only to the extent of becoming more philosophical, which has enabled him to appreciate that even a baggageroom may prove a world of boundless interest.

Several flocks of English starlings, a rather rare bird, have made their appearance in the Oakville district, where, no doubt, they are able to find plenty of food. These birds are something like the common blackbird in appearance, but are said to be of much more benefit to farmers in destroying insects.

Pearl Parkin, wife of H. Rott, of Toronto, and eldest daughter of Thos. Parkin, of Toronto, formerly of Shelburne, died in the Western Hospital, Toronto, on Friday, Feb. 19th, following an operation. Deceased was in her 30th year. Besides her husband and father she leaves a little son.

Andrew Davison, a well-known citizen, passed away at his home on West Broadway on Monday morning after a long and trying illness due to leakage of the heart. Deceased who was in his 56th year, was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Davison, of Orangeville and Mono. He was born and spent his boyhood in Mono, but after his marriage had farmer in Caledon and the west until failing health obliged him to retire and move to Orangeville three years ago last December. ALEXANDER HILLOCK

Alexander Hillock, a well-known resident of the Alton neighborhood, passed peacefully away at the Toronto General Hospital on Monday, March 3rd, at the age of 49 years. The news of his demise came quite unexpectedly, spread rapidly and was a great shock to all who had known him. Deceased was not only widely known, but was held in general esteem for his kindly nature and his many good qualities as a neighbor and citizen. The late Mr. Hillock was born and had spent his lifetime in Caledon. He had always followed farming and was very successful in this occupation. His was a nature that was pleasingly free from malice and envy and he always took pleasure in the happiness and prosperity of the people amongst whom he lived. In politics he was a staunch Liberal and always gave his party an unswerving and active support. He was unmarried and leaves to mourn his loss a brother and two sisters, Thomas and Miss Emily, at home, and Mrs. W. H. Bowes, of Caledon. The funeral, which was quite largely attended, was held from his late residence, lot 18, 3rd line, west, Caledon, to Caledon Cemetery, on Wednesday afternoon, March 5th. Rev. W. N. Carr, of Alton, the family pastor, conducted the services at the house and grave. The pallbearers were six of his neighbors, namely, Messrs. G. A. Cameron, Geo. McClellan, Fred Madill, James Alexander, T. J. Ireland and

The flowers were beautiful and included a pillow from the brother and sister and sprays from Miss Olive Hillock, Toronto; Clifford Bowes, Mr. and Mrs. Preater, Mr. Roy Thompson, Toronto, and the U. F. O. Club, Alton. The sympathy of the community is extended to those so sadly bereaved.

M'KEOWN ON O. T. A.

Discussing the Ontario Temperance Act in a debate in the Legislature, Mr. C. R. McKeown, Dufferin's representative, took his stand in favor of the declaration of the Premier that just as soon as there is a sufficient demand from the people of Ontario to cast a vote on the O. T. A. the people would be given the privilege of voting. Was there a man in the House, he asked, who would say that that was not a fair, honest and British way of dealing with the question?

If he were to speak the sentiments of his constituents, Mr. McKeown continued, he would say directly opposite to what had been said in the House by the member from Southwest Toronto and by the member for North Waterloo. But he thought there should be some compromise as between the different views of the members. He declared the record of the Conservative party on temperance matters showed progress in temperance legislation unequalled anywhere. He told of the petitions of the Committee of One Hundred, and declared the Government of the day was told that they were not politicians, but when the Government put the matter to a vote "they went to the ballot and voted prohibition, and on the very same day and by the same ballot, they cast us down."

He made criticism of Justices and Judges who censured juries for verdicts brought in, and said that the juryman in his position as a juryman was just as supreme and just as important as the man who sits on the Bench. He also hoped that the Government would do something for the betterment of the prices of the products of the farms in Ontario, and suggested in that respect the establishment of Government owned elevators, which would guarantee the farmer a minimum price on his product. Government-owned elevators would be far more popular, he said, than Government-controlled liquor.

ORATORICAL CONTEST

The Orangeville High School Literary Society intends holding an Oratorical Contest in the Opera House on Friday evening, March 21st. There will also be a debate between representatives of the school and the Erin school. Alan G. Van Every, the Boy Premier of Ontario, will be present and will deliver an address. No admission charge. Everyone invited.

CALEDON EAST

Caledon East donned gala attire to welcome home Albert McCaffrey, member of the local lacrosse team and also a member of the famous world champion Olympic hockey team. Mr. and Mrs. McCaffrey were entertained at Memorial Hall in enthusiastic manner, some two hundred of their fellow-townsmen assembling to join in doing honor to the Olympic star and his wife. W. J. McKinley, vice-president of the Caledon East Athletic Association, occupied the chair. An appreciative address was read by James Proctor, after which G. W. Berney President of the Association, presented Mr. McCaffrey with a gold signet ring suitably engraved, and Mrs. Harold Berney gave Mrs. McCaffrey a handsome bouquet of roses. Suitable addresses were afterwards delivered by Rev. H. Lockhart, Messrs. G. W. Berney, Harold Berney, H. A. Sanderson and C. J. McCaffrey. The ladies of the community provided a sumptuous supper. Caledon East orchestra provided music and also played for a pleasant dance following the supper.

PUBLIC SCHOOL CONCERT

Large and keenly appreciative audiences attended the Public School concert in the Opera House on Thursday and Friday nights. Thursday night the hall was crowded to the doors and all except a few seats at the very back were filled again on Friday night. The programme which was given under the direction of W. E. Capps, A. R. A. M., Musical Director of the School, was interesting and at the same time furnished convincing evidence of the value of musical training in the school. The numbers were excellently given with that innocent charm and lack of self consciousness that are characteristic of childhood. The opening number, "O Canada" by the whole school was given with a vigor and earnestness that carried an appeal to the heart of every hearer. After this came a capital action song, entitled the "Train Song" by Miss Lalor's class. Miss Nichol's class was next heard in "Come Let Us Learn to Sing," a very pleasing number. Two songs, "Brightly, Brightly" and "Call to the Birds," made up the contribution of Miss C Shain's class. Misses Edna Snell Jean Hayward, Lily Clowes and Phyllis Kearns executed a Highland Fling with such excellence that the audience insisted upon an encore. Miss Hanna's class gave a demonstration in scale work from hand signs and sang "Merrily Over the Snow" and "Happiness," and Miss Lang's class was heard in "Mountain Boy" and "Day is Closing." The Cadet drill by a number of boys in cadet uniform made a strong appeal to the audience. This was followed by a brief address by Inspector Liddy who spoke of the growing enrolment of the school, the excellent work of last year's Entrance Class and the importance of character training as part of the eduction of every boy and girl. Miss F. Shain's class was heard in two pleasing two-part songs "Catch the Sunshine" and "Day is Closing." Miss Perfect's class gave a demonstraiton in modulator drill followed by the two-part songs "The Bugle Horn" and "Hear the Silver Evening Bells." Four members of the class also contributed a quartette in happy manner. Miss Milliken's class sang the two-part songs, "Drummer Boy" and "Welcome the Springtime," and also gave a delightful sextette, "In the Summer Morning Fair." Particularly good was the song, "Canada, Dear Canada," by the boys of the Fourth classes, the two-part song "Lo 'Tis Night" and the octette, "Hush a Bye" by the members of Miss Hunter's and Principal Hartmier's classes. "Lo 'Tis Night" is the song that the Class will sing at the Ontario Musical Competition Festival in Toronto during the last week in April

The programme also included a number of well rendered piano solos and duets by girls of the school, a delightful duet, "Home to Our Mountains" from "Il Trevatore" by Miss Lang, of the teaching staff, and Mr. Capps, and a solo, "For You Alone," by Mr. Capps, who sang "Mandalay" in response to insistent demands for an encore. Despite the exacting nature of his duties as conductor, Mr. Capps was in excellent voice and his numbers were greatly enjoyed. Mrs. W. R. Liddy acted as accompanist.

Friday night's programme was mostly a repetition of that given on Thursday night. The speaker, however, was Dr. Karr, Director of Education in Rural Schools, who gave an interesting address.

A POPULAR SILVER WEDDING

One of those pleasing events which only come once in a lifetime took place last Friday evening in the Presbyterian Church, Morningside, when a large number of friends and neighbors gathered to celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Sutherland's wedding day. The first couple of hours were spent in progressive crokinole and visiting. About 11.30 a very dainty supper was served. One long table, very nicely decorated with plants, flowers and silver tinsel, on which covers for twenty guests were laid, among whom were the bride and groom their children, and also several who had attended the wedding at Embro Ontario, 25 years ago, and other friends, while others sat at small tables. Tea was poured by the groom's sister, Mrs. Bowie.

After the ices had been cut, the wedding cake, which had been made by Mrs. (Rev.) C. H. McClellan, was set in front of the bride, who inserted the knife and passed it on to her bridesmaid on the day of marriage Mrs. Patterson, to cut.

Rev. Mr. McClellan then made a very kindly address, and called upon Mrs. Grant to say a few words, after which all joined in singing "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows." Mr and Mrs. Sutherland were asked to stand, and Mrs. Clemens presented them with a well-filled envelope of the coinage of the realm. Mr. Sutherland, who was completely taken by surprise, made a short reply; thanking the people for the great kindness shown to himself and Mrs Sutherland. The worthy couple were also presented with a silver cream and sugar from their two sons and daughter.—Ponoka, Alta., Herald, March 6th.

Mr. and Mrs. Sutherland will be remembered by Banner readers as former citizens of Orangeville. Mr Sutherland is a sister of Mrs. Henry Watt.

THE TOWN COUNCIL

Councillor South Introduces His Building By-Law.

Measure Contains Some Novel Provisions For Encouraging the Construction of Dwelling Houses.

Last regular meeting of the Town Council was held in the Council Chamber on Wednesday night, March 5th.

Accounts were submitted and passed as follows:—D. A. Hogg $17.95 and $14.30; E. C. Clark $8.90; C. E. Hanley, $9.60; Commercial Oil Co., $1.45; Orangeville Hydro Commission, street lighting, $322.00, power, $28.50, town property $3.69 and water account $3.80; Geo. King, $10.00 and $1 Alex. Lawrence, $3.00; Sam Street, $3.00; David Nicholson, $3.75; Fred Doherty, $15.30; Calvin Dean, $17.95 Garnet Sanderson, $9.25; R. S French, $2.00; Mrs. N. Sinclair $2.50; Municipal World, Ltd., 98c Bell Telephone Co., $5.64.

Referred accounts—D. A. Hogg $8.72 to T. P. Committee; J. E Smith, $1.15 to F. & W. Committee.

Upon motion of Councillor South the Council decided to purchase coal for immediate requirements and to invite sealed tenders for a supply sufficient to last until next May.

The Town Property Committee was empowered to purchase four Town of Orangeville road signs and have the same erected on the leading roads entering the municipality.

Mr. Hersee, of the C. M. Petrie Cream Separator Co., addressed the Council relative to the proposed agreement between his Company and the municipality. Mr. Hersee proved quite a voluble talker as long as he dealt in generalities about his Company and its plans, but when he attempted to show why the Company was unable to accept the proposed agreement his arguments were inconclusive and unconvincing. On behalf of the Council The Banner has been asked to make it plain that negotiations are at an end between the Company and the Council.

Councillor South introduced the building by-law of which he gave notice at a former meeting. The measure was given its first and second readings, although Mr. Church, the Town Clerk, told Mr. South pointedly that the Town Counril had no power to enact such a by-law. The measure will be debated seriously when it comes up for its third reading. Judging by what members of the Council are saying it stands a slender chance of getting through.

Briefly the measure provides that all dwelling houses, erected in the town of Orangeville after the 1st day of January, 1920, shall be exempt from taxation, other than school taxes and local improvement rates, for a period of ten years, and that the assessment of such houses shall be fixed at ten times the assessment of the lots upon which they are built. School rates shall become collectable after the expiration of one year from the time of the commencement of building operations. The by-law also provides that where a person improves enlarges or beautifies the exterior of a dwelling house the property shall not be liable to increased assessment for five years from January 1st, 1920.

ORANGEVILLE PRESBYTERY

At the regular meeting of Orangeville Presbytery held in St. Andrew's Church, Orangeville, on Tuesday March 4th, Rev. Dr. Clarence McKinnon, Principal of the Presbyterian College, Halifax, N. S., was nominated to the Moderatorship of the General Assembly, which is to meet in Owen Sound next June. Rev. Dr. Alexander McGillivrary, of Bedford Park, Toronto, was nominated to the Moderatorship of the Synod of Toronto and Kingston, which is to meet in Knox College, Toronto, next October. In the early days Mr. McGillivray labored as a student missionary in the northern part of the Presbytery and did much for the uniting of the Old Kirk and Free churches that existed then.

A strongly worded resolution was passed on the subject of temperance legislation and has been forwarded to the Hon. G. H. Ferguson, Premier of Ontario. In the opinion of the members of the Orangeville Presbytery there is no occasion for a referendum at this stage.

The following were appointed Commmissioners to the General Assembly:—Rev. E. H. Lockhart, Caledon East; Rev. G. Kendall, Dundalk Rev. W. N. Carr, Alton; Rev. A. E Thornley, Shelburne, and an elder from each of the following congregations:—Orangeville, McIntyre Hillsburg and Grand Valley.

'TANLAC SAVED LIFE'

Says Ottawa Lady

Mrs. Varalo Tells of Recovery From Complication of Troubles — Gives Tanlac Full Credit.

"That I am alive and in good health to-day I can attribute to nothing but Tanlac," is the remarkable statement recently made by Mrs. Eva Varalo, 233 Cumberland St., Ottawa, Ontario, Canada.

"For two long years I suffered terribly from indigestion constipation, extreme nervousness, sleeplessness, palpitation of the heart, almost continuous headaches and shortness of breath, until life seemed a burden to me and I had given up hopes of ever regaining my health.

"But Tanlac helped me the very first day I took it, and now after using seven bottles my health and strength are as fine as can be, and everyone remarks how well I look. I eat heartily, my food digests just perfectly, my nerves are steady, I sleep sound, my heart never troubles me and work is like play. Really, the way the treatment restored me to perfect health seems almost miraculous. Tanlac is simply grand."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.

GOVERNMENT CONTROL

The following communication, which appeared in a recent issue of the Globe, is sane and timely:—

To the Editor of the Globe:—We would like to call the attention of the temperance forces of our Province to a little phrase, which, we fear, is calculated to mislead some. When we talk of and vote for what is called "Government control" some good, honest souls will believe that the word "control" has in it the element of safety. They, in their honest hearts, believe that our Government will control liquor, bootleggers and almost has satanic majesty, and hence it will be just lovely. Our friends in the Government will almost control us into a little paradise, in the opinion of some. We have seen hints that one of our politicians was promising something so sane and lovely that it would please "wets" and "drys," sinners and saints, whisky drinkers and Ben Spence. But when we simmer down Government control to plain, honest truth, is it not four quarters Government sale, with nothing left for control?

Let us call things by their right names. Let us not allow the liquor forces to deceive us by this catchy phrase, "control," when in reality it is the old sale of whisky back again. In the opinion of many good people it is the sale of whisky back again in a worse form than the old bar. If I had to vote for the old bar or Government control, I am fully of the opinion I would vote for the bar of such horrible memory. By having the Government act as bartender and liquor-seller, you put a glamor of respectability around this deplorable business that makes it, I fear, more ruinous and destructive than ever. Then tell the people, as they are doing in Quebec and British Columbia and Manitoba, that they are getting so many millions out of it, that will help to reduce their taxes, and you give this ruinous business a grip on our Province it never had before. It aims to bring us all into it, and make us all partners in this awful business. Thus we would handle blood money; money red with the blood of murdered wives and innocent children. If we, as a people, go into this business of selling liquor, what will we do with the "woe" of the Almighty pronounced on him or them that "giveth his neighbor drink?"

PROHIBITION.

NO DUTIES ATTACHED

When Phillips Brooks sailed from America on his last trip to Europe a friend jokingly remarked that while abroad he might discover some new religion to bring home with him.

"But be careful of it, Bishop Brooks," remarked a listening friend. "It may be difficult to get your new religion through the custom house."

"I guess not," replied the bishop laughingly, "for we may take it for granted that any new religion popular enough to import will have no duties attached to it."

BARN FIRE A MYSTERY

G. F. Lewis, Deputy Fire Marshall, Held Investigation at Brampton on Norval Conflagration Last Week.

J. L. Clarke Carried $47,000 Insurance in Commercial Union Company.

G. F. Lewis, Deputy Fire Marshall for Ontario, presided at an investigation held at the Court House Brampton, this week, into the fire of Dec. 12th last, which destroyed the large bank barn and considerable stock, crop and implements the property of Mr. J. L. Clarke, at Norval. Mr. Clarke's interests were represented by C. A. Thompson, of Toronto. The fire, it will be remembered, occurred the day previous to the advertised date of a big stock sale which Mr. Clarke was closing on. The particular property in question was at the time of the fire insured for $47,000. This policy covered everything, house large barn, small barn, other outbuildings, as well as stock, crop and implements. The large bank barn and the contents of it were practically all destroyed. The amount of insurance on those particular items was in the neighborhood of $28,000 and on which, we understand, Mr Clarke claims practically a total loss.

A large number of witnesses were called, but no light on the actual cause of the fire was revealed. The suggestion that the fire was the result of spontaneous combustion or that a short circuit in the car stored in the barn the night of the fire might have been the cause did not gain much credence, though it is quite possible that either of these could have been to blame for the ignition.

Harry McCandless, tenant on the adjoining farm to the Clarke farm, was asked to give evidence as to the fire in the barn on the farm which he works, and which occurred about a month ago, being discovered in time for himself, with the assistance of neighbors, to put it out with small loss.

Gordon McClure, owner of the latter farm, was asked to give evidence as to business transactions between himself and J. L. Clarke, concerning cattle purchased from the latter, and for which he still owes.

Reference was made by the Deputy Fire Marshall, G. L. Lewis, to the mysterious Logan fires of 1921 and were said to have been destroyed afterwards being found.

W. T. Evans, of Georgetown agent for the Commercial Union Co., in which Mr. Clarke was insured for $47,000 at the time of the fire, underwent a gruelling examination as to the extent of the stock insured and its detailed value. Asked by the Deputy Marshall as to whether the head office had been informed that Mr. Clarke had paid by note for the premium, Mr. Evans stated that he thought a note discharged Mr. Clark's obligations, in view of the confidence he had in Mr. Clarke as a business man.

Mr. Lewis: "A note is only a promise to pay."

John H. Watson, agent for the Peel Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Company, told of taking a risk of $12,625 on Mr. Clarke's place in 1922, and waiting some months for the payment of the premium.

Mr. Lewis: "Why did you wait so long?"

"Because of the confidence that I had in Mr. Clarke. He was so well known that I thought it would be all right, and it turned out all right."

J. J. Stewart, secretary-treasurer of the company, said that it is a common thing to wait some time for the payment of the premiums. Ben. Petch, well known auctioneer, gave evidence as to the values likely to be received for cattle at a sale such as Mr. Clarke intended holding on Dec. 13th, the day after the barns were burned.

Thomas Larsen, a Dane, employed by Mr. Clarke for some months, testified as to an intruder on the premises three nights previous to the fire, and another employee, Wm. Maybanks, gave similar evidence. They also both testified as to the impossibility of saving any of the stock after the fire was discovered.

Mr. Clarke said that it might have been caused by drawing green grain into the barn during the harvest, something made necessary last summer by weather conditions. He disclaimed any belief in spontaneous combustion or that a short circuit in the car stored in the barn the night of the fire might have been responsible.—Conservator.

PAYING FOR JUDGMENT

A lot of businesses are run by men who have forgotten how to work. The proprietors are indulging in self-retirement. Their function consists chiefly in saying "no" to all suggestions for change.

Often these businesses have been built up from nothing to something by these same proprietors. They have behind them a record of honest service and intelligent enterprise. The owners have prospered to the point where their wants are satisfied. They have no appetite for more dollars and more troubles. They are now engaged in sitting on the lid.

Two men were discussing this situation at lunch.

They agreed that thousands of men are well paid for doing not more than two hours' work a day.

"What are they paid for?" said one.

"For judgment, based on experience," said the other. "They don't increase the profits, but they do keep down losses."

FIND BROTHER

Relatives of Missing Owen Sound Girl Hopeful This Will Assist to Solve Mystery of her Disappearance.

Will the location of Herbert Boyd, brother of Miss Margaret Boyd, help to solve the mystery concerning the disappearance of Miss Boyd, former Owen Sound girl, who has been missing from Rodendo Beach, Cal., since November 16th? For over a year relatives in this district have had no word from Herbert Boyd, and none of them is able to give any information as to his whereabouts. He was last heard of at Niagara Falls, N.Y., where he conducted a baking business. Whether he had anything to do with the disappearance of his sister is not known.

About a year ago, Mr. William Boyd, of North Keppel, received a letter from Niagara Falls, from Frances Boyd, the little daughter of Herbert Boyd. Unfortunately this letter had been either mislaid or destroyed. This was the last news which had been received of his whereabouts. He may be still in Niagara Falls, or may have moved to some other American city.

Relatives here are of the opinion that the location of Herbert Boyd will at least assist in solving the mystery of the former Owen Sound girl's complete disappearance. Herbert Boyd learned his trade as baker at the firm of McLachlan & Sons Owen Sound. He farmed at North Keppel for a time, and then went to Niagara Falls, New York State, to conduct a bakery business. Some twelve years ago he was in difficulties regarding the misappropriation of certain Oddfellows Lodge funds, of which he was treasurer. His arrest took place in North Keppel. At that time Miss Margaret Boyd was in Vancouver. She at once came to Niagara Falls, and assisted in every way in helping her brother out of his difficulty. Whether the finding of Herbert will assist in finding his sister is not known, but relaitves here are of the opinion that it light go a long way.

As far as Owen Sound relatives can learn, the search is no nearer a conclusion than when it started. Clothes found on the beach shortly after her disappearance were proved to be those of some one else.

That the affairs of the company with which Miss Boyd was working should be thoroughly probed is the wish of those interested in her case. As secretary to the manager, Charles H. Cheney, she was in possession of valuable information, and often of valuable documents.

It is stated that a short time before her disappearance she changed the beneficiary of her insurance to her sister, Mrs. Bain Smith, of Bird's Hill, Manitoba.

Miss Boyd was well known in Owen Sound as well as in Toronto, and her case has aroused widespread interest. Friends here have not given up hope that she may yet be found.—Owen Sound Sun-Times.

SPONTANEOUS COMBUSTION CAUSES MANY BARN FIRES

Ontario Fire Marshall Claims Damp or Poorly Cured Hay Greatest Agent of Mysterious Outbreaks

"There is no question in my mind that the chief cause of the unusually large number of barn fires in Ontario this year is spontaneous combustion of the crop stored in the barns," said Fire Marshall E. P. Heaton in an interview recently. "The shortness of the harvest season and the scarcity of labor have led to the use of mechanical devices in haying and harvesting—and mechanical devices have no intelligence. The heavier grade of hay now grown is too often rushed into the mow before it is properly cured, and often spontaneous combustion results. If all hay went into the barn in thoroughly cured and dry condition, barn fire losses would be very greatly reduced."

A Prophecy

Mr. Heaton produced his bulletin for the second quarter of 1923, published in July last. "This was written on July 20th, before the heavy fire losses commenced," he remarked. "While I am not a prophet or the son of a prophet I felt I should send out a note of warning. Here it is:—'Reports coming to our office indicate that crops of alfalfa and the clovers are particularly heavy, and that there is an evidence of much immature drawing into the barns. I am very reluctant to express the opinion, yet I am compelled to do so, that 1923 will afford a very clear and distinct evidence of an unusually large number of fires arising from the causes natural to the storing of improperly housed crops. We are just on the threshold of the season when we must look for very many fires characterized as mysterious.'"

Skepticism

"Most farmers do not believe spontaneous combustion possible," continued the Fire Marshall. "If you show them charred hay or straw they dismiss it with, 'Oh, that's fire-fanging,' and let it go at that. But fire-fanging is really only slow burning or combustion where there is not enough air to feed a flame. We are still working on the question of the relation of ventilation to spontaneous combustion. More and more are coming to believe in its possibility, however, as the evidence becomes more indisputable. And we have indisputable evidence. We classify as spontaneous combustion cases only those in which the probability is very strong. Last year out of 1000 barn fires we classed 87 as spontaneous combustion cases and 311 as unknown. I am certain that many of that 311 should be in the other column, but the proof was not sufficiently definte. The 87 cases which were definite, however, accounted for a loss of over $470,000.

A Clear Case

"Here are the facts in a fire which occurred in Grey County. The farmer owned two farms. No one lived on farm No. 2, and there was no stock in the barn. Consequently the barn was very seldom visited and had not been entered for at least nine days before the fire. There were no tramps or suspicious characters in the neighborhood, and yet that barn burned. On investigation we found every other evidence pointing to spontaneous combustion as the cause.

"There is nothing new about this cause of barn fires. Law cases in the English courts dating back to the reign of George III. refer to it, and an English insurance company as far back as 1835 would insure farm property only upon condition that it was not to be held responsible for losses arising from the natural heating of the crop. In fact, if we care to delve into ancient history, we find the Roman writer Pliny describing the cause and occurrence of such fires.

"There are two other pronounced causes," went on Mr. Heaton, "Gasoline and lantern explosions, etc., which we may classify as resulting from petroleum and its products; and threshing accidents. There has been a particularly large number of fires this year from flames shooting from the separator blower during threshing. In one case the burst was so sudden that the man in the mow was burned to death. We are investigating this cause and expect soon to have a conclusion from which to make recommendations."

"Is there any connection between the hard times and the number of fires?" Mr. Heaton was asked. "Very little, if any," was the reply. "These fires are taking place when the barns are crammed with crop. If a man wished to raise money he could raise more of it by selling the crop than by burning it. The average insurance carried on barns covers about 60 per cent. of the value."

Weather Has Influence

"Has the weather any influence upon fires?" was the last question. "Considerable influence," replied the Fire Marshall. "There is a decided connection between the temperature of the day and spontaneous combustion fires on that day. This year with a fairly cool August we had less fires than are usual for August. With an unusually hot November we had an unusually large number of fires for that month. As time goes on we are securing convincing data, which shows a decided connection between weather and 'mysterious' fires."

Mrs. Slow—"Mary, tell Mr. Slow I'm ready now! I thought he was dressed and waiting!"

Mary (returning)—"Please, ma'am, he was; but he says now you'll have to wait until he shaves again.'

"What's all this noise about, you young rascal?"

"Well, Mary said if I kept on crying, a great big mouse with big green eyes would come and sit on the end of my bed, and I've kept on, but it hasn't come yet!"

The total nummber of documents registered at the County Registry Office at Brampton in 1923 was 2866, with fees amounting to $4,640.95. The amount of fees returned to the county was $622.66 as against $295.14 the preceding year. The number of deeds registered was 982, and mortgages 806. The total amount involved in mortgages was $1,979,251.51.

LOST SIGHT OF EYE

A most unfortunate and regrettable accident that cost the victim the loss of his right eye occurred to Clifford Shields, 20 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Shields, town line, Melancthon and Mulmur, on Wednesday evening of last week. The injured lad was engaged in removing a broken handle he had securely fastened in a vice. With the assistance of a hammer he attempted to remove the head, when a small section of the steel flew off and penetrated the eyeball just below the sight. It caused him little anxiety that night but on Thursday morning the injury became more painful and he consulted Dr. S. T. White of Shelburne, who advised him to go to Toronto immediately. On Thursday evening he took the train for the city and entered the Western Hospital, where, despite the efforts of the best medical authority to save the injured optic, he was obliged to consent to an operation for the removal of the entire eyeball. This was performed on Saturday evening by Dr. Trebilcock and the patient has since been resting comfortably, with the promise of his early return to his home. His father went down on Saturday morning and returned to town Monday morning. The lad is strong and wiry, but nevertheless suffered untold agony and pain. His many friends sincerely sympathize with him in his misfortune.—Free Press.

SHORT COURSE CLOSES

Large Attendance at Final Night Exercises in Caledon Township Hall.

Dr. Geo. Creelman, Chief Speaker of Evening, Discussed Immigration Question.

Snow filled roads were no deterrent to a very large crowd of Caledon people who made their way to the township hall on Thursday evening, February 28th, for the dual purpose of listening to one so well worth hearing as Dr. G. C. Creelman, and of seeing the presentation of well-earned prizes to the young people just concluding the three months' short course.

James R. Hillyard, of the Agricultural Council of the county, occupied the chair and fulfilled a very pleasant task to everyon'es satisfaction. The young people who responded to his summons to the platform, did themselves great credit and delighted the audience, who in many cases had a special interest in their performances.

Speeches by J. A. Carroll, who voiced his regret at leaving the post he has occupied for the past five years consecutively, Rev. T. W. Mills, who has been one of the instructors, John Buchanan, another instructor, Miss McIntosh and J. E. Whitelock, in charge of the short course, all gave brief addresses, and were spontaneous and genuine in their expressions of satisfaction in the work done by the young people, and the careful and studious habits of the latter.

Some funny stunts formed part of the program, of which one of the outstanding features was the fine singing of the young folks, especially that of an octette of girls, quite sweet enough without their disguise as flowers, to charm the audience. Two boys, Elgin Laughlin and Douglas Pattullo, gave a skit on the instructors that was amusing without the hits it contained.

Dr. Creelman, formerly Principal of the O. A. C., Guelph, who was the chief speaker of the evening, took two subjects, treating both in his own inimitable manner, and causing regret when the time allotted him was done. He spoke on immigration, a subject with which he is particularly able to deal on account of his recent work as Agent General, and on agriculture, with which he has a lifelong acquaintance, both in actual practice and also in connection with the O. A. C. where he ruled so long as principal.

Nothing finer will ever be heard from a public platform than Dr. Creelman's description of the manner in which his mother turned him out on the world, and the advice given to him on that occasion will not be lost on many of the youths who heard it.

The speaker told his audience that Canada needs immigrants because she needs help to pay the great national debt piled up by the Great War. Britain has too many people within her borders, and she would be glad to have them go to the colonies. She is willing to give $15,000,000 annually to help her men and women find new homes and a chance to better themselves in her far-away colonies.

Canada needs apprentices. She wants youths who will give themselves for a few years to learning how to do one thing well. Canadian boys want office work with office hours and hate to think of business interfering with hockey. "We could get 10,000 boys a year from the Old Country," said Dr. Creelman. "Boys just past school age, so that we should not have to worry over the school laws, and we should apprentice them to farmers. We should put them in places where they would have good homes; be taught the principles of the occupation and then when the years of their apprenticeship were passed they would have a good business."

Canada needs immigrants because she is losing her own people. The Government have gone the limit in extravagance and our people are moving out. We need British capital but British capital is frightened by the way the land is being sold here. We must do more for the people we bring to the country than ever before, call them colonists cease to dump them down in a cheerless place in the cold and dark, and cease to regard them as something with which we could never have any dealings.

Canada needs the immigrants to help her develop her natural resources—timber, minerals, fish—resources whose wealth we have not as yet realized. We must have new faces new religions, if need be, and we must realize that each one of us has a part to play in making these people feel at home, and in making them realize that they are yoke-fellows with us in making Canada the great nation she was designed to be.

Speaking to the agriculturists, Dr. Creelman outlined the possibilities that would unfold before the farmers of the country when they got the idea of asking government help to lighten their burdens. They have today a ceaseless fight with insect pests, diseases of plants, with the vagaries of Nature herself; endless hours and boundless worries. When the farmer realizes what he has coming to him, he will insist on government controlled laboratories where these drawbacks to agriculture will be taken in hand and controlled.

There must be no more haphazard farming and marketing. Local cold storage plants and local, or at least central packing houses, Dr. Creelman thinks, will give the farmers of a community a chance that they cannot have under the present individual style of marketing. While the specialist in farming is making good money to-day, the time must come when all farmers will have facilities for making money.

Better understanding between town and country would help a lot and that would be a wise farmer who went to the city in the winter time and studied conditions there, markets and the desires of the townspeople.

Mrs. A. B. Smith was called on to present the prizes to the young ladies, Miss Violetta Akitt winning the general proficiency prize, a two weeks' course at Guelph Summer School. Other prizes given were Foods and cooking, Mary Flaherty Irene McArthur, Islay Brown, Annie Morris; Home Nursing and First Aid, Florence Rayburn, Irene McArthur, Mrs. A. B. Smith, Olive Freebury; Sewing, Mary Flaherty Mrs. N. McLaughlin, equal, Helen Akitt, Irene McArthur, Violetta Akitt.

Mr. Mills presented the W. B. Roadhouse prize, which will be divided between Meredith McKim and Elgin Laughlin, Bert Akitt and Currie Pinkney coming second and third. Stock judging, R. J. McKinley, Elgin Laughlin, Currie Pinkney, Douglas Pattullo; Public speaking, Elgin Laughlin, Meredith McKim, Bert Akitt, Currie Pinkney. Specials, identification of weed seeds, Bert Akitt; well kept milk books, Currie Pinkney, R. J. McKinley.

A pleasant feature of the evening was the presentation to Miss McIntosh by Misses Florence Rayburn and Marjorie VanWyck of a fountain pen, and to Messrs. Whitelock Mills and Buchanan of a fountain pen, a gold pencil and a safety razor respectively, the latter presentation being made by Bert Akitt and Lamont Laughlin.

An outcome of the short course was the formation of a branch of the J. F. I. A. and one of the J. W. I., the officers of the former being: President, Meredith McKim; vice-president, Clifford Bowes; sec-treas., Douglas Pattullo; committee Homer Hilliard, Bert Akitt, Elgin Laughlin; and of the latter, president, Miss Mary Flaherty; vice.-presidents, Irene McArthur, Florence Rayburn; sec.-treas., Pearl Watson; committee, Marjorie VanWyck, Islay Brown, Gertrude Torrance, Mabel McKim.

OR POTTED

A shipwrecked mariner had just arrived on the cannibal island of Oompah, and was making some rather nervous inquiries.

"Was the last missionary you had here a good man?" he asked.

"Pretty good," replied the chief picking his teeth reflectively, "but the last time I saw him, he was stewed."

EXPENSIVELY GOOD

A matter-of-fact father of an embryo poet handed some of the lad's efforts to a distinguished author of verse, and asked for his opinion.

"Well, what's the answer?" queried the successful stockman.

"Alas," sighed the real poet "those things are so good, I'm afraid you'll have to support Henry the rest of his life."

PUTS HEALTH AND VIM INTO WOMEN

So Says Mrs. MacPherson of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Brantford, Ontario.—"I was always tired and the least exertion would put me out for a day or two. I had a pressing pain on the top of my head, pain in the nape of my neck, and when I stooped over I could not get up without help, because of pain in my back. I did not sleep well and was nervous at the least noise. I keep house, but I was such a wreck that I could not sweep the floor nor wash the dishes without lying down afterwards. A friend living near me told me what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for her so I began to take it. With the first bottle I felt brighter and got so I could wash dishes and sweep without having to lie down. Later I became regular again in my monthly terms. I have taken ten bottles all told and am now all better. I can truly say that your wonderful medicine cannot be beaten for putting health and vim into a woman."—Mrs. JAMES H. MACPHERSON, 309 Greenwich St., Brantford, Ont.

Here and There

A dispatch from London, England, states that the Soudan Government, through Capt. E. C. Midwinter, general manager of railways and steamers, Soudan, Africa, has accepted a tender from a British Columbia firm for 150,000 railway ties of Douglas fir. The contract expressly stipulates that the railway ties shall be of Canadian origin.

British Columbia's shipment of water-borne lumber to overseas markets totalled 521,707,132 board feet last year, against 273,146,800 in 1922, an increase of 91 per cent. This announcement was recently made by the provincial minister of lands and it is a remarkable index of the rapid expansion of the lumber industry in British Columbia.

Under a scheme inaugurated by the Provincial Government it is announced that British Columbia will advance loans up to $300 a family to settlers from the Hebrides, on condition that the British Government advance a like amount. In view of the present depression in the islands, it is expected that the British Government will co-operate.

Keen interest in all Canadian manufacturies and especially in mineral products, wood pulp, textiles, leather and rubber goods, heavy machinery and farm machinery is now manifested by France and Belgium, according to H. E. Tessier of Montreal, who recently accompanied an exhibit of these manufacturies on a tour through every important city in these countries. Mr. Tessier believes that the tour will bring great practical benefit to Canada as soon as French currency becomes more stable.

The exterior of the great Canadian pavilion at Wembley has now been completed, and the interior decorators are busily finishing the building, according to H. E. Tessier, who has just returned to Canada abroad the Canadian Pacific liner Montclare. The exhibits are being rapidly assembled and everything points to Canada's display being ready in time for the opening of the British Empire Exhibition.

That Canada's culture has nothing to fear from the promised flow of immigration from continental Europe was the message recently delivered by J. Murray Gibbon, Canadian author and litterateur, in an address on "Canadian Literature and the Foreign-born" given in Montreal recently. Of all the Scandinavian races contributing to the Canadian population, Mr. Gibbon considers the Icelanders to have the highest literary mentality.

More than 17,000,000 bushels of grain have been received at the Government elevator at Vancouver, B.C., from Canadian Pacific Railway cars since the opening of the crop year, according to a report issued by railway officials. Exported from Vancouver in the same period there have been 20 [illegible] bushels to the United Kingdom, [illegible] to the Orient and [illegible] bushels to South America.

The aggregate value of all field crops in Canada in 1923 was $931,750,200, according to a report of the Bureau of Statistics, a decrease of $76,538,000 from 1922, caused mainly by the lower prices obtained practically to every crop. This sum was made up of the following items: wheat, $316,606,700; oats, $177,701,400; barley, $32,055,700; rye, $11,248,900; hay and clover $162,882,000; mixed grains, $17,654,800; potatoes, $57,076,800 turnips, etc., $22,650,100; corn, husking, $12,465,000.

A golden wedding, celebrated by Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Williams, of Regina, Saskatchewan, was one of the novelties enjoyed by the passengers on board the Canadian Pacific "Empress of Britain" when the ship was at Barbados during the West Indies cruise. "Here Comes the Bride" was played by the ship's orchestra, and a huge wedding cake was baked, adorned with 50 candles and presented to the happy couple at a surprise party, in which even the crew joined.

Earl Bridges, 17-year-old musher, from Le Pas, Manitoba, won the Eastern International Dog Sled Derby at Quebec, receiving the gold cup and $1000 awarded for the team first past the winning post. The race was run on three successive days, February 21, 22 and 23, in daily laps of 40 miles, under extremely trying conditions due to the heavy snowfall on February 20, which was the worst Quebec has known for half a century. Bridges, who won the Le Pas Dog Sled Derby, also captured a silver cup awarded for the best-matched team of dogs in the Quebec race. There were 15 starters.

To be stranded in a strange city with no worldly assets but a suit of dress-clothes and yet to come out of the adventure victorious is to achieve something. Joe and Bill arrived in Montreal a few nights ago, their baggage consisting of the clothes they wore, two dress suits, an adequate quantity of the needful and an enthusiastic determination to see Life with a capital L. When they woke on the morning after, they found that someone had relieved them of everything they possessed except the dress suits they had slept in, and which they had worn for the previous night's affray.

In this predicament they appealed to the authorities at the Canadian Pacific Windsor Station, for work whereby to earn enough to take them out of the wicked city. Sympathetic officials put them on the snow-shovelling gang. And here these two stout fellows, in their dress suits, Joe with his feet wrapped in sacking to keep them warm, labored heartily for four days, earning the price of their tickets back to the little old home town. So once more fiction and the movies are beaten.

The Assets of the Mutual Life Have Grown to $59,727,388

THE fifty-fourth annual report of the Mutual Life of Canada, just issued, shows an increase of $6,121,757 in assets for the year 1923.

In 1901 the total assets of the Company, founded in 1869, amounted to $5,749,156.

Thus we see that in this last one year alone the strength of the Company, as shown by its assets, has greatly increased, and that it is enlarging very rapidly year by year its "sphere of influence".

The longer the Mutual Life continues to serve, the greater becomes its ability to serve.

Let our agent explain the strength of Mutual Life insurance. Write to us for literature.

Navigation of the St. Lawrence river is expected to open early in the month of April. According to preliminary schedules issued by the various steamship companies operating between Canadian Atlantic ports and Europe, 192 ships will visit the port of Quebec in 1924.

The Canadian Pacific Railway has inaugurated as a special feature the serving of afternoon tea regularly on all dining, cafe and buffet cars throughout the system. The tasteful little menu which the company provides includes tea, coffee, chocolate, toast, muffins, cake, ice cream and preserves at reasonable prices.

The Spiller Company, a great British concern with $150,000,000 capital, has completed arrangements for the establishment of facilities in Canada which will entail an outlay of $6,000,000 to finish the plant of the Alberta Flour Mills in Calgary, with another $2,000,000 to build an elevator at Vancouver.

The second of the two large paper machines recently installed by the Belge-Canadian Paper Company at Shawinigan Falls, Que., has commenced operations. The machine, which is the product of the Dominion Engineering Company, is now producing newsprint. It will be tuned up and is expected to produce a commercial grade of newsprint at or above its daily capacity of 75 tons in the near future.

Captain S. Robinson, C.B.E., R.N.R., commanding the Canadian Pacific liner "Empress of Canada," was invested with the C.B.E. by Sir Harry Armstrong, British Consul-General at New York, when his ship arrived there on January 25th, prior to setting out on her great world cruise. Captain Robinson also received the freedom of the city of New York. These honors were in recognition of his gallant work when commanding the Canadian Pacific liner "Empress of Australia" at Yokohama, at the time of the Japanese disaster.

According to Canadian Pacific officials, immigrants from Europe who spend a few hours in Montreal on their way west are re-discovering America—or rather Canada—at a great rate. Some days ago there were eighty Scandinavians drumming their heels in the big waiting-rooms at Windsor Station, bored to tears. Then one of them suddenly discovered that the Province of Quebec, unlike Sweden, is not "dry." The rush of the Danes on Alfred's England was as nothing compared to that with which the delighted Scandinavian gentlemen emptied that waiting-room. So excellent did they find the beer that they did not show up again till train-time, when they announced unanimously, though with slight difficulty, that "Canada bane one fine country."

SATURDAY MORNING FIRE

Fred Crisp's Frame Stable in East Ward Destroyed in Mysterious Blaze.

A frame stable, 24 by 40, directly east of Mr. J. R. Lathwell's residence in the East Ward, was completely destroyed by fire between 3 and 4 o'clock on Saturday morning. The fire, which had evidently started inside the building, was not discovered until it broke through the roof. By that time the stable was a raging furnace and when the fire brigade reached the scene there was little left except the foundation and the galvanized sheeting, with which the roof was covered. The stable was owned by Mr. Fred T. Crisp, who lost a driving horse, a buggy, cutter, harness, robes, blankets, a ton of hay, some straw, oats and bran, 1500 feet of lumber stored in the loft, as well as the building. The loss is only partly covered by insurance.

The fire was first noticed by Mr. Crisp's brother, Robert S. Crisp, and Walter Crumplin, who were on duty at the C. P. R. roundhouse a couple of blocks west. Going outside the roundhouse about three o'clock the two men were assailed with the heavy odour of smoke, but were unable to discover any sign of fire in any direction. They returned to their work and when they next emerged from the roundhouse, perhaps fifteen minutes later, discovered that the stable was on fire. One of them ran to the C. P. R. station to phone in an alarm and the other, accompanied by their foreman, Mr. Littlewood, hastened to the doomed building, arriving just in time to get out a Ford car belonging to Crumplin, which the owner had stored in a garage in the south end of the building. The top of the car was damaged somewhat by flames, but otherwise it was not much worse. The men made an attempt to reach the imprisoned horse but were driven back by the flames. The stable was securely locked for the night and it is therefore hard to understand what caused the fire, unless it originated through some defect in the electric wiring.

Mr. Jos. R. Lathwell built the stable forty years ago, the cost at that time being about $600. Four years ago he sold it to Crisp, who lined part of the interior and made other improvements. It is doubtful if it could be replaced under existing conditions for less than $1500.

ALTON

The people of Alton and vicinity were delightfully entertained on Friday evening, March 7th, when the Alton Dramatic Club presented their Play, "All on Account of Polly," in the Town Hall. The story of the Play was well brought out by the actors. The Play is full of the spirit of gladness and optimism and shows that money is not always the means of bringing real happiness, unless it is used to bring happiness to others. The characters were all exceptionally well portrayed. Mrs. Herbert Storey, who was responsible for the selecting and presenting of this delightful little Play, is to be complimented upon her good work. The hall was filled to the doors and the audience will not forget "All on Account of Polly" for many moons.

Miss Nellie Meek spent the week-end at her home here.

On Monday evening, March 10th the programme at the Methodist Church Epworth League meeting took the form of a debate, "Resolved that a Woman is more Extravagant than a Man." A most enjoyable time was spent.

Miss Grace McKinley spent the week-end at her home near Owen Sound.

Mrs. Thompson, a former Alton resident, spent a day or so in town last week.

Misses Agnes and Nell Meek spent the week-end at their home here.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Sibbald are in the village and it is understood that they intend making their home in the community.

A Leap Year Social will be held at the home of Mr. J. C. Limebeer on Friday, March 14th, under the auspices of the Presbyterian Ladies Aid Society. A good programme and games will be provided. Lunch served and silver collection. Everybody welcome.

The debate at the Epworth League meeting on Monday night on the subject, "Resolved that Men are More Extravagant than Women," resulted in a victory for the negative, which was championed by Miss Ruth Duckwith and Miss Bertha Lowe. The affirmative was ably upheld by Messrs. Cecil Lowe and Geo. Presley. Mrs. Thos. Meek and Messrs. E. D. Barber and D. Lindsay were the judges. Mr. Wm. Shaw, Jr. took the chair in a very able manner.

Alton U. F. O. and U. F. W. O. held a joint meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Houston, 4th line west, Caledon, on Thursday evening, March 6th, when a very profitable evening was spent. Each organization held its own business meeting. The men listened with much interest to addresses by Messrs. Elgin Laughlin and Bert Akitt on agricultural work. The remainder of the evening was spent in progressive euchre, after which the ladies served refreshments to about eighty guests. The organizations are very grateful to Mr. and Mrs. Houston for their kind hospitality.

BLACKSMITH ROBBED

Early last Friday morning two unknown men forced their way into the dwelling house of Mr. Waters, a blacksmith at Riverview, knocked him unconscious by hitting him over the head with a heavy bootjack and robbed him of $50, all the money he had in the house. Waters, who is about 60 years of age, lives alone. The only clue to the perpetrators of the crime is furnished by a neighbor woman, who says she saw two young men standing on the roadway in front of Waters' house about midnight, apparently watching the house closely. She saw them leave the place before she retired for the night. Provincial Constable Mennie is working on the affair.

ONE PAPER TOWN

Wingham, a thriving Huron county town of 2500 people, is now a one newspaper town. Some weeks ago Mr. W. G. Colgate, who purchased the Wingham Times three or four years ago, sold the paper back to the former owner, Mr. H. B. Elliott. Mr. Elliott promptly disposed of the publication to John Joynt, M. P., who resold to Mr. A. G. Smith, of the Wingham Advance. Last week the two papers appeared in amalgamated form under the title of The Advance-Times. The Advance-Times will now follow strictly independent lines in politics and will devote itself to the task of serving the whole community. The Wingham amalgamation is in line with the general trend in the newspaper field in Ontario and elsewhere. Publishers everywhere are finding expenses so heavy that they are either forced to get out of business or lesson competition and increase their business field by means of amalgamations such as the one just referred to. Not many years hence the majority of the smaller Ontario centers will be one newspaper towns.

MARSVILLE

The Marsville Branch of the Women's Institute held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Geo Simpson on Wednesday afternoon of last week. There was an unusually large number of the ladies present and the meeting proved one of the most interesting of the year. A well prepared Paper on "Household Management" was given by Mrs. H Simpson. A debate added considerable interest to the afternoon's programme. The subject was, "Resolved that the Home has more Influence on the Child's Character than the School." Mrs. T. Smith upheld the affirmative in a very able manner and Mrs. Jas. McKitrick presented a number of weighty arguments in favor of the negative. The judges decided to declare the debate a draw. Another interesting feature of the afternoon was a button hole contest. Very creditable work was done by the many competitors, who proved themselves apt workers with the needle. Mrs. Jas. McKitrick was the winner of the first prize. The second prize went to Mrs. W. Donaldson and the third to Mrs. T Smith. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Herb Simpson on Wednesday, April 2nd.

A SECOND RESERVOIR

WOULD GIVE TOWN OF ORANGEVILLE A CONSIDERABLE ADDITIONAL SUPPLY OF GOOD, PURE WATER

Representative of Provincial Board of Health Reports on His Recent Inspection of System.

On February 15th last at the invitation of the Town Council, Mr. A. E. Berry, a representative of the Provincial Board of Health, visited Orangeville and made an inspection of the collecting reservoir and springs, which furnish Orangeville with its water supply for domestic and fire purposes. The object of the visit was to obtain the Board's opinion on the best means of increasing the available water reserve which has become perilously low in dry seasons for several years past. After going over the ground carefully, Mr. Berry suggested that the difficulty could be met by the construction of a second storage reservoir some distance east of the existing reservoir. His findings were embodied in a report, which has been submitted to the Town Council and is now receiving the attention of that body. The full text of the report is as follows:—

"Upon request of the Council of Orangeville the proposed extension to the municipal waterworks system was investigated on the 15th in the presence of the local officials. For some time past there has apparently been an insufficient quantity of water available from the springs, and it is now proposed to erect a second collecting reservoir, at a point about 400 feet below the existing structure, and which would feed into the same supply line to the town.

"The present supply is derived from springs about two miles out of town. The water is collected and stored in a reservoir 25 by 50 by 18 feet deep, located at the foot of a hill. The reservoir is of stone mortar construction with an open bottom through which the water enters. The maximum depth of water in the reservoir is about seven feet but at the present it is less than one foot. From here the water flows by gravity through a ten inch main to a pump well at the fire station. It is then pumped directly to the pressure mains. The old elevated water tank near the present collecting reservoir has now been abandoned in favor of direct pumping.

"The sites of both the existing and proposed reservoirs are in a natural waterway fed by springs rising in the adjoining high land. The town has acquired the land on both sides for some distance and planted a number of evergreen trees. Unfortunately the town property does not extend as far back as might be desired and it is possible that some agricultural drainage may obtain entrance to the proposed reservoir site. This can be eliminated by the purchase of the adjacent strip of land as far back as the ridge dividing the watersheds. On the other side of the site there is at some distance back a cemetery, but no burials have been made near this point. As the town owns the cemetery it would not be difficult to fence off a further area, and thus ensure that there will be no burials on this watershed.

"There do not appear to be any further sources of pollution, which might affect the quality of the supply, and a new reservoir would apparently yield a considerable volume of good, clear water.

"There is undoubtedly a very great need for a sewerage system in Orangeville. A number of septic tanks are in operation, and it is reported that the effluents from many of these discharge onto the street. It is advisable to make a beginning at a municipal system, before these septic tanks become too widespread, or the parties, who have spent money for such purpose, will not be inclined to favor a public system.

"It is therefore recommended that:—

"(1) An additional collecting reservoir be constructed at a point not greater than 400 feet below the existing reservoir.

"(2) Pollution from agricultural lands and the cemetery be excluded by acquiring the adjacent land, as far back as the ridge dividing the watersheds.

"(3) A municipal sewerage system be undertaken as early as possible, laying section by section as required."

A. E. BERRY,
Director Sanitary Engineering Division.

BROKEN IN HEALTH

After an Attack of Influenza—Health Now Restored.

"I am writing to tell you what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for me," says Mrs. J. H. Oulton, Firdale, Man. "A few years ago I was in a badly rundown condition, so much so that I was subject to fainting spells which would leave me in such a condition that I could hardly go about. Then I was stricken with influenza, which was epidemic at that time, and throughout the whole winter I remained in this condition. I was constantly taking doctor's medicine, but as it did not seem to help me, my mother advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I got a couple of boxes to start on. When these were done I seemed to feel an improvement, and I got a further supply to continue the treatment. I took in all about a dozen boxes, and by that time I was in the best of health and had gained in weight. My faith in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is now unbounded, and I keep a supply on hand and take them occasionally if I am not feeling quite well. I often recommend them to others, and cannot praise them enough for restoring my health."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are useful in all cases where the blood is thin and watery as their mission is to build up and purify the blood. That is why they give new strength and vigor after an attack of influenza, and it is also the reason why they are beneficial in nervous disorders, neuralgia, rheumatism and that condition generally described as all run down.

You can get the pills from your druggist, or by mail, at 50 cents a box, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

THE MAPLES

The Farmington Dramatic Club have been invited to present their Play, "The Trials of Mary," in the Methodist Church here on Friday night, March 21st. The Play will be given under the auspices of The Maples Women's Institute. Admission has been fixed at 35c for adults and 20c for the kiddies.

WEDDED SIXTY YEARS

Parents of Mr. Robert Fairbairn Celebrate Their Diamond Wedding.

A recent issue of the Toronto Globe contained an excellent photo of Mr. and Mrs. John Fairbairn, respected residents of Mount Forest, who celebrated their diamond wedding on February 26th. The venerable couple, whose respective ages are 83 and 82 years, are the parents of Mr. Robt. Fairbairn, the well-known Orangeville druggist. Last issue of the Mount Forest Representative contained the following interesting account of their marriage and the anniversary celebration:—

John Fairbairn, of the 12th concession, and Margaret Morrison, of the 6th concession, both of Egremont township, County of Grey, were united in marriage on the 26th day of February, 1864. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's father, the late John Morrison, by the Rev. John Hay, pastor of the old Presbyterian Church, Mount Forest. About thirty guests were present and after dinner the young couple set out for their home on the 12th concession, followed not only by the good wishes, but by the entire company. A merry chase was led, for Mr. Fairbairn always drove a good horse, and the party was ready for a good supper, which was in readiness. Only one of that happy company besides the bridal couple, has lived to see the 60th anniversary of the day namely, Rev. Robt. Fairbairn, now of Miniota, Man., brother of the groom. The bridesmaid, the late Mrs. McAlpin, died only a few months ago.

Relatives, friends and neighbors gathered at their home, Feb. 26th, 1924, to celebrate the 60th anniversary of their wedding. In the afternoon short speeches were made by Rev. G. S. Scott, Chas. McInnes and John McArthur and a social time was enjoyed by all present. A dainty buffet lunch was served, including the bride's cake. A family reunion and supper followed, to which over thirty sat down. Those from a distance were: Mrs. Eby, of Guelph, and Robt. Fairbairn and family, of Orangeville.

Professor Kyle and some of his pupils, besides others, added to the entertainment of the evening, and when the day closed all joined in singing Auld Lang Syne.

Mr. and Mrs. Fairbairn have lived their entire wedded life on the same farm, and the first church services of the Fairbairn Presbyterian congregation were held in their house.

FROM X. TO O.

A colored mammy came into the office of the estate for which she worked to receive her monthly wages. As she could not write, she always made her mark on the receipt—the usual cross. But on this occasion she made a circle.

"What's the matter, Linda?" the man in charge asked. "Why don't you make a cross as usual?"

"Why," Linda explained earnestly "Ah done got married yesterday an changed mah name."

BAPTIST ANNIVERSARY

The thirty-sixth anniversary of the Orangeville Baptist Church (founded 1888) was celebrated on Sunday March 9th, 1924. The preacher of the day was Rev. H. S. Curr, M. A. B. D., B. L., professor of Old Testament in McMaster University. To a fair congregation in the morning and to an exceptionally good one in the evening, he delivered two thoughtful and helpful sermons. Madam L. H. Jones rendered special music for the day. The church is very hopeful as it begins another year of service in the Master's vineyard.

CLARA B. MARTIN'S WILL

The estate, valued at $23,590, is made up of $400 in clothing and jewellery, $350 in household goods, $500 in the bank, and $21,340 in real estate. The latter includes Miss Martin's home at 41 Roxboro east, inventoried at $10,000, and numbers 12 and 14 Napier St., inclusive, $11,340.

In the will, executed Feb. 22nd, 1916, Miss Martin left all her property to her sister Miss Fanny Martin, and named her sole executrix. Miss Martin was a relative of the Martin family in Orangeville.

YOU CANNOT JUDGE BY APPEARANCE

It is impossible to tell the quality of tea by the appearance of the leaf. A rough, coarse, unevenly rolled tea may taste much better in the cup than a closely rolled, well tipped tea that LOOKS much finer. The only way to be sure of getting tea of reliable quality is to buy a tea like "SALADA," whose goodness and purity are guaranteed.

"What Is The Meaning Of Neuralgic Pains ?"

PERSISTENT attacks of Neuralgic or Sciatic pains point to an impoverished nervous system and a weak, watery condition of the blood.

Darting, stabbing pains with intervals of pain or aching are common to neuralgia, sciatica and lumbago.

The pain follows the nerve trunks or spreads to other nerves and there are tender spots.

In the head—neuralgia. In the back—lumbago. In the hip—sciatica.

Temporary relief is not sufficient for the attacks become frequent and more severe as age advances and it is more and more difficult to obtain relief.

Sleep, relaxation, nutrition are necessary to restore the nervous force exhausted by the activities and worries of life.

And in this connection Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is the most satisfactory treatment available as a means of enriching the blood, strengthening the nerves and building up the system, so that it is able to throw off ailments of this nature.

Why suffer these repeated attacks of pain and torture when by a few weeks' patient treatment with this well-known and proven restorative you can bring your system up to a condition that throws off such ailments.

With vitality running low you are an easy prey to colds and all sorts of dangerous diseases.

Neuralgic and sciatic pains are a warning to you to fortify the system by the use of such reconstructive and invigorating treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Miss Margaret Conolly, Brantford, Ontario, writes:—"For three or four years my health had not been very good, and especially in the Spring I used to become quite run down. For some months before I started using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, I had a tired feeling continually, with pains up the back of my neck and head, and at times felt I would have to give up work. I could not think clearly and often had neuralgia, followed by dizzy spells. I was nearly 'all in' when I began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, but after I had completed a treatment of six boxes, I felt better than I had ever felt before."

You will notice that while the price of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has been increased to 60c. the box now contains 60 pills instead of 50 as formerly.

Eminent Railway Builders

A unique record of Canadian railway pioneer engineers isembodied in a photograph taken in Vancouver recently of three prominent members of the profession whose record for continued service in the survey and construction of railways is possibly without parallel. They are—reading from left to right, H. J. Cambie, M.E.I.C., eighty-seven years of age; T. H. White, M.E.I.C., seventy-six years of age; and J. H. Kennedy, M.E.I.C., seventy-two years of age. They are all resident in Vancouver.

Each has been identified with one of the three great transcontinental railroads now operating in British Columbia, as chief engineer on the location and construction of the original main lines within the Province, pioneered through the wilderness of mountains, canyons, forests and plains by feats of engineering skill and perseverance not surpassed and scarcely equalled in any other part of the world. Each one is enjoying excellent health, and occupies the very highest place in the respect and esteem of the members of the engineering profession together with the general public. Another very interesting coincidence lies in the fact that each one possesses the apparently magic name "Henry".

Henry John Cambie, M.E.I.C., was born on October 25th, 1836, in County Tipperary, Ireland. He had charge of the location of the present main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway from the Coast to Griffin Lake, and was chief engineer of the world-famous construction through the Fraser Canyon from Yale to Lytton, and also the construction of the section from Savona Ferry to Shuswap Lake.

Mr. Cambie has been continuously associated with the Canadian Pacific Railway and its predecessor, the Government Railway, for sixty-eight years. His name is perpetuated by the station on the Canadian Pacific, Cambie, on the giant loop below Glacier. Mr. Cambie explored, surveyed and planned the whole course of the Canadian Pacific through a large section of the province of British Columbia, and under his direct supervision the part that runs through the canyons of the Fraser was built. At the age of eighty-seven he is still hale and hearty, enjoying the love and esteem of his fellow men.

Thomas Henry White, M.E.I.C., was born on January 27th, 1848, at St. Thomas, Ontario. He was chief engineer of the location and construction of the present main line from the Yellowhead Pass, down the North Thompson and Fraser Canyons to New Westminster. It is interesting to note that he was Mr. Cambie's right-hand assistant during the work in the Fraser Canyon.

Mr. White has always been popular with his fellow engineers, being noted for abundant good nature, keen sense of humour, and an absolute fairness in all his associations.

James Henry Kennedy, M.E.I.C., was born on March 3rd, 1848, in Carleton County, Ontario. He had charge of the location of the main line in British Columbia, under the Vancouver, Victoria and Eastern Railway charter, from Laurier to the Coast. As chief engineer, he built the first section in the Province, from Laurier to Grand Forks, through the Kettle Valley country and afterwards constructed the longer section from Chopaka to Brookmere, through the difficult Similkameen and Tulameen Valleys.

The complete record of the lifework of each of these pioneer railroaders is full of interesting reminiscence, and the monuments of their handiwork are to be seen in practically every province of the Dominion. Although British Columbians take great pride in the achievements of these men, they nevertheless feel that they belong to Canada, from coast to coast.

THE NUMBER SEVEN

Some Curious Observations on it.

A subscriber sends us the following interesting clipping with the request to publish it:

It appears that the figure seven is the most remarkable figure of the ten. Even from the commencement of the world and up to the present time during the period of 7's the greatest events have occurred. Great statesmen and men of notoriety have been born and passed away, nations have risen, emperors have fallen, states have fallen, states have run their whole existence during this period. After the world was created, God rested on the seventh day. According to the ancient teachings of Hypocrates a child receives its first set of teeth in the seventh month and changes them in the seventh year. Noah, when he had the ark built, waited 7 days on the flood and he took with him seven persons, and of all clean animals 7 pair; the second dove flew from the ark on the 7th day, and in 7 more days Noah opened the ark; on the twentieth and 7th day the ark rested on Mount Ararat and in the second month on the 20th and 7th day the earth was dry. Of the ten commandments that Moses received, seven were to God's humanity; Laban nursed Jacob 7 days; Jacob served 7 years for Rachel, his wife; Joseph mourned 7 days for Jacob; Pharoah, in his dreams, saw 7 years of abundance and 7 years of starvation. We see further that the Israelites were ordered to hold a feast in the 7th month for 7 days; the 7 times 7th jubilee, which is as yet a law among the Romans; in the 7th year the laws of Israel were read to the people; God threatened to punish them 7 times, and according to their laws a man must forgive his brother 7 times, but Christ says 70 times 7. At the destruction of Jericho 7 priests carried 7 trumpets for 7 days, and went 7 days around the wall and the 7th day 7 times. Job's friends were 7 days and 7 nights consoling him. It is written in the old laws that 7 men were strangled in one night. Tobias held a wedding feast for 7 days and on the 7th day he sent for the queen, and she came in the 7th year of her reign. Naaman washed 7 times in the waters of Jordan. Solomon was seven years building the temple, burnt seven lights upon the altar, and held a feast for seven days. Elisha sent his servant 7 times to look for the cloud. Nebuchadnezzar ate grass for 7 years. We are taught that Christ was seven hours on the cross, and appeared 7 times after His resurrection, and in 7 times 7 days after His resurrection He ascended into Heaven and sent the Holy Ghost with His 7 holy gifts.

VISITING IN KAMLOOPS

M. H. Denton Writes The Banner a Bright and Interesting Letter From British Columbia.

The Banner has received the following welcome and interesting letter from our onetime townsman, Mr. M. H. Denton:—

Kamloops, B. C., Feb. 25, 1924

Editor of The Banner.

Dear Sir,—

Mrs. Denton and I came out here in December to spend Christmas with our daughter, Helen (Mrs. Owens), and being so well cared for accounts for our prolonged visit.

Kamloops is a very pretty little city, situated in a valley on the banks of the Thompson River, which empties into the Fraser further down. It is surrounded by hills or mountains, soaring up into the clouds. I think the Psalmist must have lived here when he wrote, "Unto the hills around do I lift up my longing eyes." It is practically a railway city, being a divisional point on the C. N. R. and the C. P. R. The population is between 5000 and 6000 happy and contented citizens. There are no millionaires and no paupers—just like one big family. They are without doubt the most hospitable people I have ever had the privilege of meeting. There are a few people here from Orangville and vicinity, a fact that no doubt helps considerably along the line of hospitality.

The first lady I met from your vicinity was Mrs. McMillan from Erin, who is a sister of Geo. McAlister and is now living with her daughter, Mrs. Tyrrell. She is as smart as many persons twenty years younger and as happy as the day is long. She loves to talk about the good old times she spent back in Ontario. I have spent some very pleasant hours with the old lady. She is a great reader and the Toronto Globe is her favorite paper. No doubt, she, like many others, has found it easier to lead a righteous life by reading The Globe. She also loves to read The Banner, which I give to her weekly. When she reads it she passes it on to Mrs. Snowden, a former resident of Orangeville and Laurel. Mr. John Caesar, formerly of Orangeville and Markdale, is here visiting his daughter, Gertrude, now Mrs. Marlatt. He is in his 73rd year, but is apparently as smart as when he left Ontario.

Then the next gentleman I met was Mr. Lynn Gordon, who is in business here with his father. They have a large furniture and undertaking business. He is a man of broad vision and bound to succeed. He is a grandson of your esteemed citizen, Mr. Marshall Green. There is a very little land just around here that can be cultivated, but a few miles out there are some large ranches. I drove out to one of them, owned by Mr. Jos. Bulmer with Mr. Hays, Government Farm Instructor, and spent a very pleasant day. After we had dinner with Mr. Bulmer we went out to look at the stock—in all about three thousand head—fifteen hundred cattle, six to seven hundred horses and about the same number of hogs, besides some very fine poultry. For the hogs he grows wheat which he claims is the most profitable as his average yield is 40 bus. to the acre. For the horses and cattle he grows alfalfa and oats. He gets three crops of alfalfa each season. The stock lives out all winter and they haul the hay from the stacks and scatter it over the fields, which are most in need of fertilizing. It is a great sight to see hundreds of horses and cattle following the waggons for the fodder. A few days before we were there Mr. Bulmer sold three carloads of cattle, averaging 1150 lbs. each, for 5c per lb., and two cars of hogs, the price of which he did not state.

Last week I spent a couple of days in Vancouver, which is about 275 miles from here. I was not there long enough to describe the city fully, but what I saw impressed me favorably. They certainly have a magnificent harbor. There were about forty vessels at anchor, nearly every country under the sun being represented. Vancouver may have been asleep for a few years, but she is assuredly wide-awake now. I believe it is going to be one of the largest cities in the Dominion.

The first two weeks we were in Kamloops the weather was rather cold—much colder than usual. Then in January they had an unusually heavy snowfall, but it ran down into the river at the end of the month and the weather has been delightful since—just like your April weather minus the rains. Yesterday and the day before we were playing golf. To my mind this is an ideal climate. I met one pessimist and only one since I came here and he told me it was hotter than hades here in June and July, but of course I only have his word for it, not having visited the latter place in person. I purpose going to Vancouver shortly for a time and may write you from there.

Yours truly,

M. H. DENTON

J. A. CARROLL PROMOTED

Peel County is losing its District Representative, J. A. Carroll, who has been promoted to the position of assistant supervisor of district representatives in Ontario. The farmers of Peel will regret his removal from the position so ably filled by him, but will rejoice in his promotion.

Mr. Carroll entered on his duties in Peel in the year 1914. In 1915 he enlisted with the University of Toronto contingent, was attached to the Imperial forces and was with the army of occupation in Germany, resuming his duties in Peel in 1919.

Mr. Carroll has been an untiring worker in the interests of the farmers and every section of the county has been benefitted immeasurably by his wonderful initiative and organizing abilities. Possessing high ideals, he has inspired enthusiasm in both old and young, with the result that Peel stands to-day perhaps the most progressive county in the Province as far as rural organization and achievement is concerned.

RURAL MAIL DELIVERY

Couriers' Duties as to Roads.

(3a)—"Roads on which rural mail delivery is about to be established must be in good condition. It is to be understood that for the effective performance of the service they must be kept passable for vehicles at all seasons of the year, either by the municipality or by the residents who are being served. Rural box holders should understand that it is not the duty of couriers to break the roads after storms. Streams, gullies and ditches must be bridged when necessary. Failure to maintain in a passable condition at all times the highways travelled by a rural mail courier will be considered sufficient for the Department withdrawing the service pending the completion of the necessary improvements."

(3b)—"During the winter season the roads must be kept open and the approach to the box sufficiently clear of snow to enable the courier to cover his route without being unnecessarily delayed or inconvenienced."

It is quite a common practice, we are informed, for boxholders to leave change in the boxes, for postage stamps, the courier being expected to lift the change and leave its equivalent in postage. This practice is contrary to the regulations and likely to get the boxholder and courier into trouble with the Department.

HERE IS WHAT A MOTHER SAYS

"I Have Found in Dodd's Kidney Pills a Veritable Friend."

Mrs. G. B. Albert tells how Dodd's Kidney Pills relieved her daughter

Le Bouthellier, N. B., March 17 (Special)—Claiming that her daughter has been completely relieved of headache and heart trouble, Mrs. G B. Albert, a well-known resident here, is enthusiastic about Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I have found in Dodd's Kidney Pills a veritable friend. My daughter, Magdalan, aged 17 years, suffered from severe headache and could only get broken sleep at nights and would wake up more tired than when she went to bed. She also suffered with heart trouble. Two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills have relieved her and she is now quite well."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are a kidney remedy. They strengthen the kidneys so they can do their full work of straining the impurities out of the blood. Dodd's Kidney Pills are intended for the treatment of backache, diabetes, rheumatism, dropsy, urinary troubles, heart disease and all ills of the kidneys.

Mr. Will Meads, of the Durham Road, has a flock of sheep which for fecundity, can scarcely be beaten in their class, the Oxford Down Three of these animals have given birth to ten lambs. All the little wiggle-tails were strong and healthy when born, but through accidents three of them went over the river and only seven continue to browse at their mothers' bottle. It was a goodly record and Will ought to feel proud of his trio of nannies.—Flesherton Advance.

A young son of Mr and Mrs. Sam Giganic thought he could make it in three steps and as he made the third effort he slipped and fell, shot across the hall way and hit a post, rupturing one of his kidneys. Medical aid was speedily summoned but the poor boy was too seriously injured for doctors to be of any use and he died the same night.

In a letter to citizens of Grey County, Hon. Dr. David Jamieson M. P. P. for South Grey, and a member of the Fish and Game Committee, urges that people of the county send in suggestions in regard to conserving the trout in Grey County streams. He also suggests as an alternative that certain streams be closed for three years, this to alternate or that an alternate closed season be enforced in different counties.

TORONTO STAR'S VIEWPOINT

The Toronto Telegram is publishing a series of articles which are supposed to explain the reasons for the defeat of the Drury government: In one of these the Telegram says

"The electors of Dufferin County are in the main strongly Orange in their sentiments. It therefore went very much against the grain with them when they found that the Drury government was catering very much to the Roman Catholic Church when it paid into court the sum of $95,000 under the stated case for the Separate Schools. That was the reason why Thomas Kerr Slack was shown the back door.

"Furthermore, Dufferin is an extremely strong temperance riding. The electors came to the conclusion that the record of the Conservative party on the question was such that they might be relied upon to uphold the Ontario Temperance Act much better."

The case of Dufferin is typical of many. The Orange and temperance electors allowed themselves to be persuaded that the Ferguson party was trustworthy, one reason being that the party had an unusually fine lot of candidates in the field. But is the party, now high on the throne of power, going to prove itself worthy of the confidence it inspired? Does its past warrant the faith that was shown in it?

Dufferin County should have known that the grand master of the Orange Order who led the attack on the Drury government for paying into court "unearned" grants, so that judges might decide what should become of them, was one of the leading members of the government that paid such "unearned" grants without question to the sparate schools. His attack on the Drury government therefore, was a piece of hypocrisy by which the Orange farmers of Dufferin County were hoodwinked

The deception of the riding on the question of school grants is only matched by the way it was humbugged on the temperance question Mr. Ferguson intends to give the "wets" every chance to destroy the Temperance Act. The "wets" in the government ranks are too strong for the Premier to resist, even if he had the inclination. So on both counts, that of education and that of temperance, the voters of Dufferin County and other ridings had the wool pulled over their eyes.—Toronto Star.

This Beauty
Every Woman Can Have

Radiant, Youthful Complexion

Nature gave you a skin of beauty, charm. And that is beauty you can keep.

Millions of women do—by following this simple, correct rule. By following it you, too, can keep the loveliness of a schoolgirl complexion.

Just do this regularly

Cleanse the skin regularly, authorities say, to keep your complexion lovely, radiant, youthful. But beware of harsh cleansing methods—they injure skin.

Wash thoroughly with Palmolive Soap—each night before retiring. Rub the creamy, foamy lather well into the tiny pores. Rinse—and repeat the washing. Then rinse again.

Then—if skin is dry—apply a little cold cream. That is all. Skin so cared for is not injured by cosmetics, by wind and sun, or by dirt.

The simple, correct way

You cannot find a more effective beauty treatment. Because Palmolive Soap is blended of rare palm and olive oils—famous for mild but thorough cleansing qualities since the days of Cleopatra. And it is inexpensive.

Get Palmolive Soap of any dealer—but note the name and the wrapper. For Palmolive is never sold unwrapped! Then try this method. The improvement will amaze and delight you.

And because Palmolive is so economical, let it do for your whole body what it does for your face.

J. J. DONAGHY

Tragic Ending in Toronto of Former Deputy Registrar of County of Peel.

Peel County friends and acquaintances were shocked and deeply grieved when they learned last week that the remains of the unknown man found under the floor of the old Fruit Market building in Toronto had been identified as those of John Donaghy, formerly Deputy Registrar of the County of Peel. Mr. Donaghy was a well-known resident of Brampton, where he had lived until August 1st last, when he went to Toronto where he was employed with the Macoomb Press and worked in the circulation department of one of the papers published by that concern. He was last seen on Sunday night February 24th, when he left his rooming house to go for a walk. Owing to the deep snow and an infirmity in one leg, it is thought that he may have fallen and found himself unable to regain his footing. In the cold he may have crawled to the old fruit market for shelter hoping against hope that help would come from some chance passer-by and finally succumbing from the effects of the cold and exposure.

The late John J. Donaghy was born at Mono Road, County of Peel 49 years ago. He was a son of the late Joseph Donaghy and was educated at Mono Road Public School and the Brampton High School. Later he took a course in theology in Trinity College and was reputed one of the most brilliant scholars of his class. For some time he laboured in the ministry, having charge of different parishes of the Anglican church. His last charge was Cobourg. This he finally resigned on account of the difficulty of getting around with his incapacitated limb. He returned to his home and assisted with the work of St. James Parish, Caledon East, for a time. During the incumbency of the late Robert Johnston as registrar of the County of Peel, he was made deputy registrar, a position that he continued to hold for 13 years. Last June, following an accident he spent some time in a Toronto hospital, afterwards giving up the registry office and taking a position in Toronto on August 1st.

Mr. Donaghy was a Conservative and a staunch Orangeman. He was also a member of Brampton Royal Black Preceptory. He was a member of Ionic Lodge, A. F. & A. M., and was a Mystic Shriner. He was a man of scholarly attainments and was exceedingly well liked in his home community and in the town of Brampton, where he was known to nearly every person.

The surviving members of the family are four sisters and two brothers—Mrs. W. J. Speirs, Brampton; Mrs. Edith Hayes, Beeton; Mrs. Richard Taylor, Manor, Sask.; Miss Martha Donaghy, Winnipeg; James Donaghy, Teeswater, and Wilfred Donaghy, Manor, Sask.

MRS. ELIZABETH HAYWARD

The death of Mrs. Elizabeth Hayward, widow of the late Oliver Hayward, who died at his home in Orangeville in 1916, took place at her residence in Brampton on Friday last. Previous to her marriage deceased, who was in her 69th year at the time of her death, was Mary Elizabeth Stevenson, a daughter of the late Robert Stevenson, of Arthur township, County of Wellington. She was born in Pickering township, but moved to Arthur with her parents when quite young. She married Oliver Hayward, of Kenilworth where her four children were born. Three of these still survive, namely Herman Hayward, of Orangeville; Mrs. Bert Gier, of Waldemar, and Miss Cora, of Brampton. Mr. and Mrs. Hayward and family moved to Orangeville in 1906. The subject of our sketch continued to reside here until the autumn of 1921, when she removed to Brampton, where her death took place after a lengthy illness and much suffering. Mrs. Hayward was a member of the Baptist Church and a woman of exemplary Christian character. She was an excellent neighbor and her old neighbors here and at Kenilworth were grieved indeed to learn of her demise. Friends of the family unite in extending sympathy to the bereaved son and daughters, who were devotedly attached to their mother.

A short service was held at the home in Brampton on Friday night. The remains were brought to Orangeville by C. P. R. train on Saturday morning, the funeral taking place from the C. P. R. depot to the family plot in the Forest Lawn Cemetery. Some of the friends who attended the funeral from a distance were:—Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Stevenson and Mrs. Jas. Nichol, Toronto; Mr Jacob Stevenson, Mrs. (Rev.) Geo T. Webb, and Miss Violet Webb Newfane, N. Y.; Dr. Geo. Stevenson and Miss Kate Stevenson, Buffalo, N. Y.; Mr. Ernest Stevenson Mr. and Mrs. James Wright and Mr. Wesley Wright, Arthur; Mr Oscar Wright, Kenilworth; Mr. Walter Hayward, Hamilton; Mrs. (Rev.) J. P. McLennan, Norwood, and Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Batho, Fergus.

The Tablets are a sure relief for all the minor ailments of childhood, such as constipation, colic, indigestion colds and simple fevers. They always do good—never harm. The old gentleman farmed for many years in Ontario, but gave up active work some years ago and as most of his family drifted West to make new homes he latterly decided to follow. He has been in Ranching for the past seven years and despite his advanced age was bright and active to the last, although usually finding the winter seasons very trying. He had attained the ripe age of 87 years. The funeral took place to Gadsby cemetery on Saturday last the remains being followed to their last resting place by a large party of neighbors and relatives. RE SMALLPOX

An epidemic of Malignant Smallpox broke out in Windsor about the middle of February. Up to March 3rd there were over 40 cases with 12 deaths. The total number of cases in Windsor, Amherstburg Maidstone and the surrounding districts from February 14th to March 3rd was 60, with 16 deaths. This is a very virulent form of Smallpox with a high death rate. It is quite different to the form of Smallpox that swept through our township during the fall and winter of 1919 and 1920. Of the cases in the border cities some mild cases occurred in individuals with successful vaccination scars made 12 years or more ago. The severe semi-confluent and confluent cases all occurred in "unvaccinated" persons. These cases lived 6 to 8 days after contracting the disease. Haemorhagic cases all occurred in persons who were unvaccinated. These were all fatal. According to the Medical Officer of Health for the Border Cities, "this is the most severe epidemic of Smallpox since the 1885 Montreal outbreak, in which 3164 persons died of Smallpox in nine months." In this outbreak the death rate will be high among unvaccinated persons reaching probably 50 p.c." (M. O. H Border Cities.) During the last week in February over 50,000 people were vaccinated in the Border Cities The public are urged to consider seriously the immediate need of vaccination against this dread disease in order to prevent any deaths from Smallpox in the Township of Caledon.

HOME TREATMENT SAFE AND EFFICIENT

Ailing People Made Strong by Dr Williams' Pink Pills.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do one thing and do it well. They build up the blood, increasing the number of red corpuscles. As this is done the blood becomes a richer red and is able to carry more oxygen, the great supporter of human life. As the blood improves in quality the tissues of the body are better nourished and the functions of the body are better performed. This is the reason Dr Williams' Pink Pills have been so successful in the treatment of diseases due to poor, thin blood, and it is also the reason why they are so successful in building up strength after fevers and acute diseases. Among those who have used Dr. Williams Pink Pills with great advantage is Mrs. Helena B. Taylor, Hanover Ont., who says: "Not long ago I was critically ill. The trouble started with anaemia and a run-down system, and ended with pleurisy. I was confined to my bed for three months and three doctors were in attendance at different times. My life was despaired of, and I was practically living on doctors' medicine, because I could not eat. My friends did not expect me to recover. During my girlhood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had brought me through a severe attack of anaemia, and my mother urged that I should try them again. The doctor could not understand why we wanted to try these pills, but we decided to do so. After taking six boxes a decided change was taking place. I was actually getting hungry and anxious to live. After using twelve boxes a miracle was worked I could walk and felt my strength coming back, and people on all sides were asking what was helping me and we were not slow in telling them it was Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. With my health fully restored through the use of these pills I am a striking example of what this wonderful medicine can do, and now I never see a pale or sickly-looking girl or woman that I do not feel like going up to her and asking why she does not take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box, from The Dr Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville Ont.

SERVING PROTESTANTISM

Aims of Orange Order Set Forth at Provincial Grand Lodge Meeting in Brantford.

Invaluable Work Done in Nullifying Insidious Activities of Advocates of Separate Schools.

The services of the Orange Association to the cause of Protestantism in Canada formed the theme of addresses by M. W. Bro. W. D. McPherson, K. C., Grand Master of British America, and M. W. Bro. H .C. Hocken, M. P., Past Grand Master, and Editor of The Sentinel, at a mass meeting held in the Brant Theatre in Brantford, Tuesday night March 11th.

Delegates to the Provincial Grand Lodge of Ontario West and to the Grand Orange Ladies' Lodge, in session, and their friends, to the number of over 1200, were in attendance, and the Provincial Grand Master, A. A. Gray, of Toronto, presided. W. Bro. Mayor Hiltz, of Toronto, and Mayor Billo, of Brantford, made short addresses.

Mr. Hocken Controverts Bishop.

Mr. Hocken took sharp issue with statements made in Brantford some weeks previous by Bishop O'Brien, of Peterboro', who alleged that the present school laws bore unjustly upon Roman Catholics. He reviewed the history of school legislation beginning with the Act of 1863, creating separate schools, and stated that since that time 20 different amendments, all in favor of separate schools, had been added, although the Act of 1863 was declared a final settlement. The latest demand now being made on behalf of sectarian schools was to secure a portion of the taxes paid by incorporated companies. He pointed out that the Assessment Act already provides that any separate school supporter holding stock in an incorporated company may direct that the taxes on his holdings be paid to separate schools.

To go further than that was now being attempted, and this was another imposition to be resisted. The greater the encroachments made upon public school revenues the less efficient would the public schools become. "If our Roman Catholic friends are not satisfied to get every dollar of their own in taxes for separate schools, then let them send their children to the public school,' he said, in pointing out that a legal obligation rested upon every school board to provide accommodation for all children, regardless of their creed or race. Under the frank of Senator, he had received a pamphlet containing separate school propaganda. He expressed curiosity as to what would be said if he franked propaganda pamphlets as did the Senator.

Grand Master Reviews Issue.

Grand Master McPherson reviewed briefly the history of separate school legislation since 1863. Notwithstanding that the statute was declared to be a final settlement and dealt with primary schools only separate secondary schools were now being agitated for. From time to time legislative attacks, such as the Mageau Bill, were brought forward.

Representations on behalf of the Orange Association to the Legal Committee of the Legislature decided that committee not to report the bill to the House. The members concluded that a property assessed as that of a separate school supporter at a time when debentures were issued for separate school purposes should not remain so assessed for the lifetime of such debentures if the property in the meantime passed to an owner supporting public schools.

Another insidious proposal was that brought forward in one Province after another for a wording of the statute providing that every Roman Catholic shall be deemed a separate school supporter, whether making any personal declaration to that effect or not. The Protestant public generally benefited by the activities of the association, and should support it accordingly.

Grand Master's Address.

R. W. Bro. A. A. Gray, in his address as Grand Master, recalled that since the last annual meeting there had been a Provincial election, "with the result that the father of Regulation 17" was now Premier and Minister of Education, "with a majority that will enable him to maintain the policy of the late Sir James Whitney on the school question.

"Regulation 17 remains. One result is that the stated case as to the disposition of the unearned Legislative grants to the separate schools which was promised by Mr. Drury's Administration, has been definitely refused. There will be no stated case prepared on this question. If the Roman Catholic Bishops think they have a grievance, they will have to go to the court and plead their case under the ordinary process of law. In this connection it will be interesting for you to know that the sum of approximately $100,000 representing the unearned Legislative grants to separate schools for the past year, has been paid into the consolidated fund, as the law provides. The Government of Ontario in this way is carrying out the statutes of the Province."

Extended reference was made to the claims made by Separate School Boards for a share of the taxes of incorporated companies. Dealing with this, the Grand Master said "While the Roman Bishops are not obtrusively carrying on their agitation for changes in the Assessment Act by which they would get larger revenues for their sectarian schools they have not abandoned their efforts in that direction."

Prepare to Meet Drive.

"If we are to meet the next drive against our public schools, as nearly as possible every Orangeman and Protestant in the Province should be thoroughly informed. Of all the duties that lie before the members of the Orange Order, none is of greater importance than the preservation of the integrity of our public non-sectarian school system. It is an opportunity to bring the association before the general public in a way that will increase the respect in which the Order is and ought to be held."

Unalterable Attachment to Empire.

Unalterable attachment to the British Empire was another of the Provincial Grand Master's declarations. Any move to abolish the right to appeal to the Privy Council should meet with continued opposition. While Canada, as a signatory of the peace treaty, was given national status, such a thing meant no weakening of the ties which bind to the Motherland. Britain and her Dominions overseas formed in themselves a league of nations for the peace of the world. Steps should be taken to ensure British emigration to Canada.

In commending the Centennial Fund to raise $1,000,000 to commemorate the centennial of the founding of the association in Canada it was also recommended that the Grand Lodge support, among other things, the fund being established in Ulster to erect a statue of Sir Edward Carson in Belfast.

The Grand Master and the other Grand Officers paid tribute in their addresses to the services of the late R. W. Bros. T. R. Ferguson and Rev. H. A. Fish. These officials also emphasized the progress made in the insurance branch, under M. W Bro. T. H. Bell.

R. W. Bro. W.M. Fitzgerald, Grand Secretary, in his report, pointed out that twelve new lodges had been established, and the total jurisdiction was an increase over last year R W. Bro. Fitzgerald advised that the notice of motion given last session that the Credential Committee meet prior to Grand Lodge had been declared by the executive to be unworkable.

At the Orange and True Blue Home at Richmond Hill were 108 children, and special tribute was paid to the Matron, Mrs. Crockett and her staff.

The Grand Auditors, R. W. Bros W. H. Taylor, of Aurora and J. B Moon, of Mount Forest, confirmed the report of the Grand Treasurer R. W. Bro. James F. Harper, of Hamilton. Receipts totalled $91,598.81 and expenditures $55,056.48 The auditors recommend that the books be closed not later than Feb 25 each year.

The County Honor Roll.

R. W. Bro. Harper announced that Welland County was first on the honor roll, with Halton second Bruce Centre third and Wentworth fourth. Haldimand, Norfolk and York East missed because in each case one primary lodge failed in its returns inside the allotted time. But for the tardiness of two lodges in each case, the counties of Grey North, Kent North, Ontario North Oxford, Parry Sound, Peel, Simcoe West and Timiskaming North would have attained the honor roll. In returning thanks to the County Masters and their officials for assistance R. W. Bro. Harper made special mention of the outstanding work of W. Bro. Charles E. King, of Mimico recently retired as County Master of West York. The retirement of Rev S. T. Simpson as one of the Field Secretaries was announced.

MRS. JAS. MATTHEWS

Wife of Acton's Postmaster Passes Away at Age of 88 Years.

One of Acton's oldest ladies, and one of our longest continuous residents, passed away on Monday evening. Mrs. Matthews, the beloved life partner of our venerable postmaster James Matthews, after weary months of illness and weakness, entered into rest.

This elect lady has been an esteemed resident of Acton for nearly seventy years. A devoted wife, a humble Christian mother, the very best of neighbors, Mrs. Matthews has always enjoyed the esteem of the community. To her, home was ever foremost in her thoughts, and rarely indeed did she leave it, excepting when she went to worship in the church she loved, or on a very occasional visit to relatives out of town. Her husband will ever cherish her memory; her children and grandchildren rise up and call her blessed; her friends and neighbors will hold the memory of her cordial friendship and good deeds in sacred remembrance.

Maria Graham was a daughter of the late James Graham, and had Streetsville for her birthplace nearly eighty-nine years ago. When a maiden in her teens, her parents having died, she came to Acton to reside with her sister, Mrs. Charles T. Hill. On the twenty-fourth of March 1858, she was joined in wedlock to her now sorrowing husband, the Rev William Philp, the minister of the Methodist Church here, officiating at the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Matthews established their home here sixty-six years ago, and never left the town. Since the erection of their present home on Mill Street fifty-six years ago, they have resided there, and to them and their family it has been a home indeed.

Their home was blessed with four sons and three daughters: Albert who is a prominent officer of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company at Denver, Col.; Charles, of Toronto; Lewis, who died twenty-five years ago; Mrs. Anna Maddock, who has been a widow for twenty-three years, and has resided with her parents; Mrs. Jennie Morton, of Galt and Chester, who for many years has been Deputy Postmaster, and his venerable father's right hand man in all his activities. The grandchildren have always been fond of their grandmother and have spent much of their time with her. A number of these long since assumed the activities and responsibilities of life and established homes of their own. The late Mr. Lewis Matthews' children, Charles A. G. Matthews, is managing-director of Sampson-Matthews, Limited, a successful advertising and calendar business in Toronto; Mrs. (Dr.) John MacMurchy Dresden, and Mrs. Ernest G. AN IMPORTANT DECISION

Hydro Electric Commission Loses Appeal Against County of Grey

The question of the right of the Hydro Electric Power Commission to use the public highways of Ontario for the erection of its poles and wires for the purpose of distributing electricity to the municipalities has never been doubted or questioned until the Power Commission entered suit against the County of Grey claiming about $3,000.00 from the County for the cost of removing a number of its poles and wires on the highways of the County of Grey, at the request of the county and in order to enable the county to carry out its policy of highway improvements. The county through its solicitor, Mr. W. S. Middlebro', K.C. disputed the Hydro's claim and contended first: That even though the county had ordered the removal of the poles they had no right to pay for such removal; second, that the Hydro had no legal right to place its poles and wires upon the public highways without the consent of the municipality; third that if it had such right, when such right was subject to the paramount right of the county to the unobstructed use of the highways for highway improvement and other purposes.

At the last Spring Assizes here Mr. Justice Rose upheld the contention of the county and dismissed the action on the ground that the Hydro Electric Commission, under its act of incorporation, had not been given the right to place its poles and wires upon the highway without the consent of the municipalities. The decision was no doubt a great shock to the Hydro, which had millions of dollars of its property on the highway throughout Ontario, so the Hydro appealed the decision and the appeal was heard a couple of weeks ago before the Appellate Court, consisting of Justices Orde, Middleton, Latchford and Masten, with the result that the appeal was dismissed with costs, the county's contention was sustained and the only recourse now for the Hydro is to seek legislation from the Ontario Legislature giving them the right to maintain and keep their poles and wires on the highways and making these provisions retroactive.

Hon I. B. Lucas, K. C., appeared on behalf of the Hydro Electric Power Commission and Mr W. S. Middlebro', K. C., appeared on behalf of the County of Grey—Owen Sound Sun-Times.

WHO KILLED THE CAT?

We have heard of a boy who used to attend day school clad in God's armour from head to foot. He did look peculiar in the eyes of his school fellows, but he did not mind that, nor did he put off any of his armour to please them. The part of the armour which most attracted their attention was the golden girdle. One day, during the play hour, he was chopping some sticks for the school master, an occupation he greatly delighted in, when the schoolmaster's cat came where he was and was rubbing herself against the block unnoticed by the boy. She rubbed her head forward on the block and before he could divert the blow, the cat was killed. The boys soon gathered round him. One boy said to a schoolfellow, "we shall see now whether Duncan can tell a lie like the rest of us." His companion said: "Duncan tell a lie? He is as true as steel." Some sympathised and some said: "Oh, he'll catch it from the schoolmaster." One boy, who did not like Duncan said, "I'll tell you what to do Duncan. Toss the cat over the wall and if the schoolmaster asks you, tell him the butcher's dog worried her." Duncan turned like a flash and said, "Do you mean to suggest that I should tell a lie? I would rather take a thousand thrashings than be guilty of one lie." Just then the school bell rang. As soon as all the boys were seated the master said, "Duncan, come here!" Duncan obeyed. "Do you know anything about my cat, Duncan?" "Yes, sir, she is dead." "Who killed her?" "I did." "Tell me how it happened." "I was cutting some thick branches when the cat came along and was rubbing her head against the block unnoticed by me and before I knew it I had killed it." Tears stood in the schoolmaster's eyes. After a moment's silence he said. "Duncan, Duncan, you are a brave boy. I was standing by the window and saw you kill the cat just the way you have described. I heard that mean sneak (as he pointed to the boy) suggest a lie to you. I saw it all. My dear boy, how can you be so brave among your companions?" Did Duncan boast? Ah, no. He said, "Once I had a disobedient heart like the rest, but Jesus, my Saviour, took it away and He has given me a true one. I could die for Him, sir." One boy shouted, "Three cheers for True Duncan," and there went up three ringing cheers for the boy who had put on Christ, who was clad in the whole Armour of God.

A farmer's mule had just balked in the road when the country doctor came by. The farmer asked him if he could give him something to start the mule. The physician said he could, and reaching into his medicine case, he gave the mule some powder. The mule switched his tail rolled his head, and started on a mad gallop up the road. The farmer looked first at the flying mule and then at the doctor.

"How much did that medicine cost?" he asked the doctor.

"Oh, about fifteen cents," said the physician.

"Well, give me a quarter's worth quick—I got to catch that mule."

CHRISTIE DOWLING

The death of Christie Dowling, of Winnipeg, a native of Bolton, and formerly well-known in Orangeville was announced on Wednesday of last week. Mr. Dowling had been very ill since last September but was making fair headway towards recovery when death unexpectedly ensued. The late Christie Dowling was a son of Mr. S. Dowling and the late Mrs. Dowling, and was born in Bolton. He received his education at the public school there and the Technical School, Toronto. Joining the audit staff of the Dominion Express Company at Toronto, he was later promoted to the position of general agent of the company at Winnipeg. Leaving there he was appointed traffic manager at Edmonton of the E. D. & B. C. Railway into Peace River, leaving there to become general purchasing agent for the United Grain Growers' Association. In 1921 he was appointed western sales manager of the Brantford Cordage Company, also Western Canada manager of J. D. Adams & Co., of Indianapolis, manufacturers of road making machinery. Possessing ability above the average while it brought honor and success in the business world, hard work and close application undermined a system which was unable to withstand the strain, and he was cut off at a comparatively early age. He leaves a widow, Edyth Hill, of Winnipeg. He is also survived by his father, his sister, Jennie, and brothers, George and Paul, 125 Kendal Avenue, Toronto; a sister, Mrs. Skidmore, of Detroit; brothers, Thomas, of the Canadian National Railways, Saskatchewan; Rev. Fred S., of St. Andrew's Church, Sydney, N. S.; Chas., of Montreal, and John S., of Brantford. Interment took place at Winnipeg on Friday.

Tale of the Totem.

The western and northern Indians have no monopoly on the ornamental totem according to those who have made a study of the subject. Totemism appears in kindred forms all over the world. Savage tribes all apparently possess a set of beliefs and practices, mythological, religious, artistic, ceremonial and economic, that grow from their attitude towards animals, plants and inanimate objects. These beliefs and practices govern their mode of life and give rise to their forms of worship. This idea still lingers with the Alaskan Indians in the significance the totem has in regard to their family and the family myths and superstitions. These Indians believe they are descended from some bird, fish, beast or other object, and take this as their symbol. The emblem chosen is carved or painted on all belongings, and is regarded as the visible being who has to do with certain obligations. Those with the same crest, for instance, cannot intermarry. Christianity is in some places leading to abolition of the totem.

"Una and the Lion."

Una and the lion, probably the finest piece of Chelsea ware ever made, which is valued at $25,000, was bought for $1,125 by an antiquary at a sale in Mayfair, the other day. The lucky buyer's deal was the result of a chance discovery. There nothing in the catalogue to indicate the importance of the piece. It was entered simply as: Lot 629. A Dresden china group of a female figure with a lion, with pink and gilt decoration, on scroll shaped base, flowers in relief, and the apple green and gilt stand for same thirty-one inches high. "Una and the Lion" has been reviewed by Chaffers and Litenfield in their works on china, yet it escaped the notice of all the experts at the sale.

Clergy Famine.

There is a grave shortage of clergy in the Church of England today—a shortage of 3,000, half the number required to carry on the work of the Church. The theological colleges, moreover, are nearly empty.

"One of the causes of this shortage is the financial position of the professional classes from whose ranks the priesthood is usually recruited. They cannot now afford to give their sons the long and expensive training required. Another cause is the unattractiveness of the clerical profession as a career. Stipends are rarely more than $1,500 a year."

PEEL BEEKEEPERS

Beekeeping has become quite an important industry in the neighboring County of Peel. Altogether there are 69 beekeepers in the county, with 3700 colonies of bees. During the past few years the product of these colonies has averaged from 300,000 to 350,000 lbs per annum. The largest beeowner in the county has 400 colonies, six others run from 100 to 150 colonies and several others run about 50 or 60 colonies. A great deal depends on the keeper and the time spent on the bees as to whether the crop will be a large one or not. Farming and bee-keeping do not go well together, unless there is plenty of help on the farm to look after the needs of both industries. If short of this help the farmer will usually find that his farmwork is making heavy demands upon his time and energy just at the season when his bees are most in need of his care and attention.

William Barrett, of Claude, bee inspector for the county of Peel, and his associate, E. Oldfield, are alive to the importance of making every effort to combat foul brood the great enemy of the honey industry in Ontario. Both men declare that the Government should give the beekeepers all possible assistance to fight this disease. Foul breed is caused by a germ so small that 1000 may lie on the point of a needle. It may infect a hive and become virulent before it is recognized. One experienced Peel County beeman found that out of 120 colonies 70 were infected, when Mr. Barrett and his visit of inspection and it took four days of very hard work to get the infection in hand. The inspectors spend as much time as is necessary helping the bee men to clean up after foul brood and also give instructions for the future care of the hives. Mr. Barrett holds that there cannot be any letup in the expenditure for this class of work and the vigilance now being exercised without incurring a very grave risk of a serious falling off in the honey production of the province.

Most of the Peel honey men have gone into the Ontario Honey Producers' Co-operative Association. Formerly, as soon as a man had his honey ready, he rushed off to Toronto and took the best price he could get. A man following him had to take what the buyers were willing to give after that. The Association has worked up a good trade in Great Britain, where honey will be bottled next year. Honey will also be bottled in Ontario in preparation for the foreign trade.

Not Sovereigns, But Halfpennies.

Piles of glistening new coins at banks, railway booking offices, and other places in England, have caused a little misapprehension lately among short-sighted people and those who have almost forgotten the size of a sovereign.

"Gold at last," they have exclaimed, only to be assured by the bank cashier and the booking clerk that "all that glistens is not gold," but, in this case, bright new halfpennies.

"The issue of new halfpennies followed a period during which there was apparently a surplus of halfpennies, and, therefore, no need to produce more," an official of the Royal Mint states.

"There is at present a very big surplus in pennies, caused possibly by the large number that were issued during and just after the war and by the state of trade as well."

Argentina Products.

Keen competition of Argentina in her exportation of beef to the United Kingdom has resulted in the New Zealand farmer taking to the fattening of lambs, or to the production of butter and cheese rather than beef raising, according to Premier Massey. Mr. Massey cited figures showing that in 1922 South America furnished the United Kingdom with 5,127,535 quarters of beef, while New Zealand's exports fell to 267,730 quarters, as against 629,852 the year before.

WHO IS RICHEST MAN?

Rockefeller, Ford and Mellon Compete for First Place.

"Who is the richest man in the world?"

A contest between Henry Ford, multi-millionaire motor car manufacturer, Andrew Mellon and John D. Rockefeller, sr., of Standard Oil fame, has developed and is being discussed in Wall Street.

The Wall Street Journal recently cited Henry Ford as the richest man in the United States; James A. Davis, financial expert retorted with John D. Rockefeller; Roger W. Babson, another expert, came forward with Andrew Mellon, declaring he could probably match dollar for dollar the joint incomes of Ford and Rockefeller.

Judging from income tax figures Ford has the biggest income and the most profitable business, but while it may return Ford the profits of a 2-billion dollar business, it certainly could not be sold at that figure, and if he attempted to liquidate it he could not get much more than half that amount for it, experts say.

In that case Ford's business wealth, while greater than Rockefeller's, would not be worth as much to one who wanted to cash in and get out of it as Rockefeller's, which is much more negotiable.

Mellon's fortune is of a third stripe; his is a potential wealth, power over money, opportunity, if not inclination to hold possession of more money than any other living man. He is interested in corporations with resources of more than 800 million dollars. Ordinary well-to-do financiers would prefer Rockefeller's wealth first Ford's second and Mellon's third. The only probable change might be that Ford's would supersede Rockefeller's.

It is difficult and even impossible to state exactly what these multi-millionaires are worth because of fluctuating investments and their many gifts. The only conclusion is the inevitable general feeling among financiers. Without doubt, therefore, Rockefeller, Ford and Mellon are the richest in the world. Which is the richest is the problem.

Light on Early Man.

Eminent anthropologists state that 15,000 years has made little or no change in the human skull or human form. They base their argument on a careful examination of fossilized bones dating back to the Pleistocene period, which were recently found in Egypt. The bones were found by a representative of the British School of Archaeology in Egypt, at a point in the desert thirty miles south of Assiout, on the east bank of the Nile, near a village called Qau. They were discovered in a pit close to a cave which had probably been occupied by an ancient craftsman, who used both fresh and fossilized bones for ornamentation, for carved bones and ivory were found which belonged to the 19th dynasty, about 1200 B.C. Some of the skull bones found were very small, but were those of adults, and indicated that a smaller race of people had inhabited the area, most probably during the Pluvial period, when human life was possible in such a district. All the evidence went to prove that the skull of the Pleistocene man did not bear the ape-like characteristics which are usually attributed to it, and that the mental development was closely akin to that of the present day. It was agreed that there was proof that fossil bones had been used for carving and ornamentation during the 19th dynasty.

Porcelain In Arabia.

Porcelain factories and stores are mentioned in Arabia in writing of the period of 800 A.D. The Arabian geographer, Mohammed-el-Efridi, who lived in Sicily at the court of Roger II, published, about 1154, a geographic work in which he told of the town of Djankow, where "Chinese glass" was made. He added that there was "no finer and more esteemed profession in Djankow than that of a potmaker or a pot designer." Toward, the middle of the fourteenth century, Ibn Batuta, the Arabian traveller, described Chinese ceramic as the most beautiful in the world. The Chinese manufactured dishes and porcelain ware for a very long time. In the history of the great Chinese Empire, one reads that only certain towns and villages went in for porcelain industry. The finest chinaware was made in the province of Saxij. It was so beautiful and so much like the finest crystal that it never was exported, but was exclusively reserved for the use of the Chinese emperors.

Turkey's Charm Snakes.

According to an eminent naturalist, snakes have a most peculiar effect on wild turkeys and when a snake is encountered by a flock, they behave in a most extraordinary manner. At the sight of the snake, the birds will begin to dance slowly round it. As the turkey dance they lower their wings, raise and spread their tails and utter a continuous querulous call. Single birds will sometimes break from the revolving circle to make frantic dashes at the snake. If the snake is not too formidable the flock will probably kill it. Otherwise they will leave it dazed and deafened by their conduct and noise.

A Family Matter.

A man of considerable position and importance confesses, with a merry twinkle in his eye, to a serious blow to his reputation from an unexpected quarter.

His small son returned from school and confronted his father with the question, "Father, what are you?"

"What am I, my boy? Why do you ask?"

"Well, father," was the reply, "Jenkins came up to me in the dinner house and said, 'What's your father?'"

"And what did you say?" asked his father.

"I didn't say anything," answered the boy. "I just hit him."—Tit-Bits.

I had suffered from pains and other troubles since I was fifteen years old, and during the 'Great War' period I worked on munitions for two years, and, in the heavy lifting which my work called for, I strained myself, causing pelvic inflammation from which I have suffered untold agony, and I often had to give up and go to bed. THE NEW LEGISLATION

Hon. Mr. Nickle, the Attorney General, has introduced a Bill to amend the Ontario Temperance Act by repealing Section 147, which provided for the taking of a vote in 1919, substituting other provisions therefor. The kernel of this amending Bill is contained in Sub-section One and Two, which read as follows:

(1) "The Lieutenant-Governor in Council may from time to time direct that there shall be submitted to the electors of Onario qualified to vote at elections to the Assembly any question or questions as to the enactment of legislation repealing or amending this Act, or as to prohibiting, regulating, controlling or otherwise dealing with the sale keeping for sale, having in possession or transporting liquor in Ontario.

(2) "The Lieutenant-Governor in Council, by his proclamation, may fix the terms in which any such question or questions shall be submitted and the time and manner in which the votes of the electors shall be taken, and may, in and by the same proclamation, provide for voting on different questions at different times."

The other provisions of the bill provide in detail for the manner in which the vote is to be taken, and make provision that the various election acts shall apply, how officers are to be appointed, returns made forms issued, fees paid, etc.

As it stands, the Bill is open to severe criticism.

The very first phrase runs counter to the hitherto recognized policy regarding all such legislation, which is that there should be stability in the law.

This was one of the points upon which the late Sir Jas. Whitney was particularly emphatic. After local option by-laws were carried by 3-4 of the electors voting thereon, a repeal contest could not be brought on unless a petition was presented signed by 25 p.c. of the total number of electors of the municipality, and no by-law could be repealed unless 3-5 of the electors voting voted for repeal.

In 1919 the Ontario Temperance Act was put permanently upon the statute books of this Province by a vote of more than two to one. Of the 1,162,376 of electors voting 68.2 p.c. voted against repeal and for the establishing of the law.

It is now proposed to give the Government of this Province power "from time to time," upon any request or petition that it may deem sufficient, to bring on a vote upon the repeal or amendment of the "Ontario Temperance Act" or the substituting of any other system therefor. This throws the door wide open and leaves the province of Ontario absolutely without any stability for this important legislation No measure upon the statute book so requires for its enforcement that element of stability which this proposed measure directly takes away

The Bill actually goes on to provide that the "Governor-in-Council may in and by the same proclamation, provide for voting on different questions at different times." Under this provision it would be possible by one proclomation to take a vote a week or a vote a month for a year, each time on something different, and thus keep the Province in a perpetual ferment.

It may, of course, be argued that no Government would act so ridiculously, and certainly nothing Hon Howard Ferguson has said or done since he has become Prime Minister would give color to the supposition that he would act otherwise than honorably and straightforwardly in connection with the whole matter but surely it is absurd for a Legislature to give the Government power to do an absurd thing. Certainly it introduces a condition of perpetual uncertainty, fatal to effective administration.

Moreover it is subversive of the fundamental principles of democracy that the Legislature should not abdicate its powers and relegate them to the Cabinet. Why should the Legislature efface itself in regard to a question upon which the people of Ontario are so vitally concerned? Why should not the elected representatives of the people accept and be true to the trust reposed in them by the people and retain full responsibility for dealing with this matter. In its present form this legislation is tantamount to a return to that exceedingly undesirable system of "Government by Order-in Council." It is a radical departure from true democratic goernment.

Nor is there any crying demand at the present time for the resubmission of this question to the electors. The petition of the so-called Moderation League is being mentioned. That petition was a joke After working upon it assiduously for years, and by the use of most unscrupulous methods and representations, only 150,000 people in Ontario (and no one knows how many of these are electors) could be cajoled into signing it, or only about 10 p.c. of the electors of the Province. That petition is now nearly three years old. It was not thought worthy of consideration then; why disinter its corpse now.

Talking of petitions, it must be remembered that in 1916 the temperance people of Ontario presented to the Legislature a petition signed by 825,562 residents of Ontario, all over 18 years of age.

If the Legislature were to provide means by which, when a substantial and stated percentage of the people of the Province wanted another vote taken, such a vote could be taken the same objection could be raised as to the present proposal, but, in its present form, this Bill is bad. The Government and Legislature would be well advised to quietly give it the "twelve months' hoist."—The Pioneer.

WESTERN PIONEER TELLS INTERESTING EXPERIENCE

Frank Rikert, Who Left Illinois for California in Covered Wagon in 1864 Wouldn't Take $100 for Bottle of Tanlac.

Frank Rikert, well-known resident of North Sacramento, Cal. who came to the state from Illinois in a covered wagon in 1864, along with other hardy pioneers, recently exhibited a bottle of Tanlac, which he had just purchased, to a friend at his home and remarked: "If I thought this was the last bottle of Tanlac I would ever be able to buy I wouldn't take on hundred dollars for it," thus proving the high valuation he places on the famous treatment.

"I believe Tanlac really saved my life when I took it after the Flu about a year ago," continued Mr Rikert, "for the attack left me 20 pounds off in weight, and unable to turn over in my bed without assistance. I tell you, I thought my time had surely come.

"But, thanks to my wife's insistence, I kept on taking Tanlac till I was able to do all my work again had back all my lost weight, and I've been feeling years younger ever since. I'm always telling my friends about Tanlac, and can't say too much for it."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute Over 40 million bottles sold.

CELEBRATE FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Nixon Rutledge on Wellington street was last Saturday invaded by the family of Mr. and Mrs. Rutledge to help them celebrate the golden anniversary of their marriage. The festivities took place in the evening when a sumptuous repast was provided by the friends, after which some hours were spent in social pursuits. Congratulations were extended to Mr and Mrs. Rutledge, and some remarks appropriate to the occasion were made by Messrs. G. E. Rutledge, W. H. Ireland and A. A. Wall And music was furnished by Mrs Thos. Rutledge and Mrs. Rollet Wake. The relatives present were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rutledge and family of Tecumseth; Mr. and Mrs G. E. Rutledge and family, of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Rutledge and family, of Cookstown; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Ireland, of Mulmur; Mr and Mrs. John Robinson, of Mono Mrs. Geo. McNabb, Rosemont; Miss Sarah Rutledge, town; Mr. and Mrs Rollett Wake and family, of Mono and Rev. and Mrs. A. A. Wall Among these people were all the family of the bride and groom of half a century ago excepting one son Oscar, who lives in the West. Mr and Mrs. Rutledge were married on March 8th, 1874, in the Mulmur Methodist Church, by the late Rev John Campbell. The church was the original log one and their marriage was the last occasion on which it was used, the old building having been torn down immediately after the wedding and replaced by the present one. Mrs. Rutledge was the eldest daughter of the late Thomas Hand who died in town only a few years ago, having piled up the years well into the nineties. For forty years Mr. and Mrs. Rutledge lived on their farm in Mulmur and after retiring went to Shelburne, where they spent seven years before coming to Alliston some two or three years ago They are both hale and hearty and very reasonably anticipate to pass numerous milestones on the way to another half century span.—Alliston Herald.

Dr. Caldwell's sermons for Sunday, March 23rd, will be on "The Rich Mantle of Love, the Greatest Thing in the Universe."

Last Sunday night a male choir delighted the large audience in the Methodist Church. Come again.

"St. Patrick's Day in the Morning" was duly honored and the wearers of the green shamrock honored Ireland's patron saint.

Some people are lamenting and others are rejoicing that Canada and the United States have decided to exterminate the black crow. Our black friend is a wily, daring bird He eats hen eggs and insects galore and digs up the corn that the farmers planted. We shall miss the hoarse "caw, caw." Shall the crow like the extinct "Great Auk." become a bird of the past.

The regular monthly meeting of the Senior Women's Institute will be held at the home of Mrs. Jos. Palmer on Thursday evening, at 8.15.

Miss Flora Morris, of Toronto spent the week-end with her father Mr. Norman Morris, who has been ill but we understand he is now on the road to recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnston are visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Harris.

Mr. Beverley Morris spent the week-end in town.

Miss Galbraith, Peel County School Nurse, visited our Public School on Tuesday last.

The Junior Women's Institute held a euchre on St. Patrick's Day and also sold shamrock tags. The proceeds reached a gratifying amount

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

To Editor of The Banner.

Sir,—

Just a few words in your valuable paper, relative to a movement that should be under way at all times, to encourage and to place new settlers, new industries, and to give publicity to all, whether for homes, tourists, and those selecting an ideal place in which to live, or to do business

Suppose that each citizen in your town would secure only one home or one manufacturing plant, what would this mean to you, personally as a reduction in your assessment or increasing your land values? These are wise solutions to the problems of any municipality, and should be encouraged.

I believe the citizens of this town are with me generally, and ready to co-operate along this line, and beg to state in conclusion, and to make it clearly understood, in addressing your honorable body, the town council, last week, on behalf of the Cream Separator Company, that I did show why the company could not accept that proposed agreement made out by your council, and my arguments were conclusive and convincing, and that negotiations were at an end with the council, so far as the company was concerned.

Thanking you for above space,

Yours truly,

B. HERSEE.

CAPACITY AUDIENCE

Halbert and Woods Addressed Large Gathering at Camilla on Friday Night.

A full house greeted R. H. Halbert, M. P. for North Ontario, and R. J. Woods, M. P. for Dufferin, at the public meeting in Camilla last Friday night. The meeting, which was under the auspices of the Camilla U. F. O. Club, was held in Shepherd's hall, which was crowded to the doors. John F. McNaughton, President of the Camilla Club, occupied the chair. The two speakers were given a rousing reception and it was evident as their addresses progressed that they had the sympathy and support of their audience in their attitude on the Federal issues of the day. Mr. Halbert spoke first, his address lasting about ninety minutes. Mr. Woods spoke for practically the same length of time. The tariff, railway freight rates, reduction in the estimates for militia purposes and the Crow's Nest Pass agreement were some of the subjects discussed. The speakers compared the Canadian tariff with the United States tariff, quoting a number of cases in which the former was higher and therefore bore more heavily on the Canadian consumers Lower duties on agricultural implements, they argued, would undoubtedly bring a badly needed measure of relief to the farmers of Canada without working any injury to the manufacturers. The speakers also discussed the present depressed condition of the agricultural industry throughout Canada and emphasized the need of better returns from farm labor and investments. If agriculture did not revive shortly the cities and manufacturing industries of Canada could not much longer escape a period of severe depression.

Following their addresses Messrs. Halbert and Woods were tendered the hearty thanks of their audience. At the close of the meeting twelve new members wre enrolled in the Camilla U. F. O. Club.

"IS MARRIAGE A FAILURE?"

Regardless of your opinion as to the merits or demerits of marriage an unusual evening's entertainment is promised you in the I. O. D. E production of "Is Marriage a Failure?" at the Opera House on Wednesday and Thursday evenings next March 26th and 27th. Rehearsals are now practically completed and a presentation of the comedy, snappy and brilliant, is now a certainty Among the song numbers which will lend pleasing variety to the production are, "What's the Use?" "Forever is a Long, Long Time," "Life's a Funny Proposition After All," and "Morning Will Come." The popular Orangeville orchestra will render the overtures.

Another feature of the Show will be the debut of Miss Nora Savage the world's youngest Thespian, who will make her initial bow before the footlights in the I. O. D. E. play This young lady has already proven at rehearsals that she can "hold the mirror up to Nature" as to the manner born.

The ladies report a big sale of tickets and the Plan opens at The Banner Office to-morrow morning when seats may be reserved for either evening.

This is a new departure in local amateur productions and patrons will be well advised to make their seat reservations early for "Is Marriage a Failure?" Recently this Play attracted twelve hundred people in Tillsonburg and capacity audiences will assuredly be the rule here.

ST PATRICK'S TEA

The St. Patrick's Tea given by the Young Women's Missionary Society of St. Andrew's Church on Monday night was a decided success, both from a financial and social point of view. The programme, which was very well given indeed, consisted of solos by Misses Nichol, Lang and Gardiner and Mr. Connop, vocal duets by Misses Webb and Marshall and Messrs. Will Hanley and E. C Connop, an instrumental duet by Misses Fleming and Torrance, and a comic reading by Miss Leila Hamilton. Mr. E. Hackett, Principal of the High School, gave a greatly appreciated St. Patrick's Day address and a number of the young people gave a clever presentation of a bright Play, entitled, "How a Woman Keeps a Secret." In this case the secret, an engagement, was passed from one to another as a secret until it became the property of all the prospective bride's girl friends It was still a secret until the groom panned that everything was alright adding "You may tell anyone now girls! "It's no longer a secret." The members of the cast were Misses Leila Hamilton, Mildred Hanna, Lily Walker, Mrs. Carl Hanley, Misses Jessie Campbell, Ethel Legate, Mary Hanley, Irene Oliver, Myrtle Gardiner and Louise McGuire. After the programme lunch was served to about 180 people. The green and white decorations made an attractive color scheme and contributed to the St. Patrick's night appearance of the schoolroom. Proceeds were somewhat over $60.

H. S. GIRLS DEFEATED

On Saturday the Orangeville High School girls' hockey team journeyed to Grand Valley, where they played a friendly game with the home team The smallness of the Grand Valley rink greatly handicapped the Orangeville girls and they were defeated by the score of 4 to 9. The Grand Valley girls have a fast and well balanced team. Play, however, was more even than the score would indicate. The teams were:—

Grand Valley—Goal, J. McIntyre defence, L. Bennett, I. Martin; centre, M. Forgrave; wings, N. Wansbrough and H. McIntyre; subs., I Craine and C. Hastilow.

Orangeville—Goal, G. Torrance defence, B. Anderson and M. McAuiay; centre, G. Island; wings, K Island and A. McGuire; subs., G Wheelock, F. Watt and M. Rohmer.

Mr. Russell McGillivray acted a referee. After the game lunch was served at the school, where a very pleasant social time was spent. The Grand Valley girls are to play a return game on the Arena ice in the near future.

Oddfellows and their wives also tendered Mr. and Mrs. Smith a farewell gathering, at which they presented the former with a Past Grand's collar and case and the latter with Rebekah ring. Mrs. Smith, who will be remembered by many Banner readers as Miss Crissie Marshall youngest daughter of Mrs. and the late Mr. F. Marshall, was also given a Tea and presentation by the Ladies Aid of their church.

TUXIS BOYS

Hold Annual Father and Son Banquet in St. Andrew's Church on Friday Night.

The Tuxis Boys of St. Andrew's Church held their annual Father and Son banquet in the schoolroom of the church on Friday night. Quite a number of the "dads" were present at the affair and entered into the spirit of the occasion just as wholeheartedly as the boys. Altogether some seventy Tuxis Boys, Trail Rangers and Fathers sat down at the tables, which were arranged to form three sides of a square, with a smaller table for the toastmaster and guests of honour occupying the centre of the fourth side. The mothers of the boys contributed in a large measure to the success of the evening by providing and assisting to serve a bountiful spread of good things. After full justice had been done to this part of the entertainment, a happy time was spent in discussing a list of toasts which were honored in short speeches and appropriate songs. Mr. Douglas Adamson performed the duties of toastmaster in apt and pleasing manner.

"Our King," the opening toast was honored by the hearty singing of a verse of "God Save the King.' Mr. Arthur Macpherson proposed "Our Dads" in a happy speech, referring in humorous vein to inspiring recollections of woodshed interviews with his paternal progenitor. Mr. J. B. Adamson, Superintendent of St. Andrew's S. S., replied to the toast in a thoughtful speech, interlarded with a number of excellent suggestions for the training of boy life. Mr. W. L. Craig, of Grand Valley, whose name was also coupled with the toast, spoke briefly of the intimate relationships that should exist between the boys and their fathers and stressed the value of the Tuxis and Trail Ranger movements as factors in boy training and development. Proposing "Our Mentor" Marvin Craig paid a warm tribute to the interest and zeal of Mr R. Fairbairn, who has been actively identified with boys' work in St. Andrew's for a number of years Mr. Fairbairn, who was given a rousing greeting by the boys, made a brief and modest response. Percy Byers proposed "The Trail Rangers," Gordon Adamson, Boy Member for Dufferin, and Christie McAulay making the replies. "C. S. E. T. Present" was proposed by Mr. D Macpherson in an earnest and eloquent address. Wallace Cunningham made a happy response. Dr. Kyles was felicitous in his remarks when proposing "C. S. E. T. Future" and had the pleasant duty of coupling name of his elder son, John, with the toast. The latter responded briefly but in happy terms. Clayton Connell spoke in appreciative terms of the place of the "Mothers," their influence over the boys, and lastly of the big part they had in the success of the present banquet. Mrs. Mahaffy responded in a brief speech. A. D. McKitrick proposed "St. Andrew's Church," to which excellent responses were made by the pastor Rev. F. W. Mahaffy, and Rev. J. A Matheson, of Mono Mills. The programme was happily varied by a song by Mr. Arthur Macpherson, an instrumental novelty on spoons with Clayton Connell at the piano and a number of choruses by the boys. Altogether a most enjoyable evening was spent by every person and the "dads" are grateful to the boys for their kindly hospitality.

ARNOTT-SINCLAIR

All Saints' Anglican Church, Dundas and Sherbourne streets, was the scene of a very pretty wedding last night, when Gladys, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Sinclair was united in marriage to Harold Lester Arnott, son of Mrs. Margaret Arnott, Toronto, and the late Thos. Arnott, of Orangeville. Rev. T. W Murphy performed the ceremony.

The bride, who was given away by her father, looked charming in a beautiful gown of ivory brocaded crepe with tulle veil and orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses and lily of the valley and was attended by Miss Ola Williamson as bridesmaid, while little Gladys Carroll, niece of the bride acted as flower girl. The former wore a striking gown of tangerine beaded georgette and carried a bouquet of orchid sweet peas. The flower girl was attractively attired in orchid canton with silver bandeau and carried a large basket of daffodils.

Mr. Lloyd Patterson acted as best man, while Mr. Wilfred Sinclair brother of the bride, was chief usher.

Health—A Live Subject At Afternoon Teas

It is under such circumstances that experiences are exchanged and women tell one another what treatments have been of most benefit to them.

It is a pretty safe guess that in these tete-a-tetes no medicine is so frequently mentioned as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and there is a very good reason why.

Any physician will tell you that most of the ailments which most bother women are are due to lowered vitality.

In these days of surgical specialists the operation is too frequently the first thing recommended whereas in many cases restored vitality would enable nature to restore the natural functions to the deranged organs.

Lowered vitality may come from the strain of irregular hours, loss of rest and sleep, too much excitement or worry.

It may also result from lack of proper nourishment, from over-eating or from sedentary habits.

When vitality runs low there is no end to the troubles that may arise and you are an easy prey to colds, pneumonia and all sorts of germ diseases.

Restorative treatment is demanded and because Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has proven to be the greatest of restoratives of the blood and nerve force is why it is so greatly appreciated by women everywhere.

At this season of the year particularly, almost everybody is in need of such assistance as is found in Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Put this popular restorative to the test when you find yourself nervous, irritable and sleepless or suffer from indigestion, headaches or tired, depressed feelings.

You will soon be convinced of its merits and will realize then why so many thousands of women find a joy in telling their friends of benefits received.

You will notice that while the price of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has been increased to 60c. the box now contains 60 pills instead of 50 as formerly.

Collingwood is planning to erect a $20,000 wing to their hospital which would increase its capacity 66 per cent.

A Great Railway Exhibit at London's Great Empire Show

(1) The entry to the imposing building of the Canadian Pacific Railway at the Empire Exhibition is imposing. (2) The Exhibition Hall is filled with displays of Canadian products and scenic glories. (3) A complete theatre is also part of the Company's exhibit.

Canada's exhibit at the British Empire Exhibition, which opens at Wembly next month, will be one of the most interesting and attractive features of the whole. No phase of Canadian life or activities has been overlooked and every resource of the country will be displayed to good advantage. The Canadian Pacific Pavilion, which has been designed to harmonize with the Government building, directly faces the main bridge leading into this portion of the grounds and at once catches the eye of all visitors. This pavilion is a massive building, approached by a broad flight of steps flanked on either side by bronze models of buffalo and moose. A strong color scheme will be strikingly emphasized at night by a Neon lighting effect similar to that at the Coliseum in London, wonderfully penetrating and effective under all atmospheric conditions, and another attractive feature of the exterior will be the encircling series of illuminating panels in relief depicting the manifold activities of the Canadian Pacific.

Equally alluring will be the decorations and exhibits in the interior of the pavilion. The floor space on the ground floor comprises 7,700 square feet. Along the main floor there runs a 400-foot frieze illustrating the Canadian Pacific route from the United Kingdom to Japan. In this diorama there will be moving models of Canadian Pacific liners crossing the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans, mechanically driven and electrically illuminated, and the train journey across the Dominion will be depicted by two Trans-Canada trains, each consisting of locomotive and eight coaches. These also will be electrically illuminated and mechanically driven with head and rear lights etc., and the realistic effect will be supplemented by an illuminated signal system, auto- [illegible] the other appurtenances of a complete railway track.

In an adjoining section of the interior exhibits there will be shown six mechanically and electrically illuminated vitascope models of Liverpool, Quebec, the prairie region, Banff Springs Hotel in the Canadian Rockies, Vancouver and Yokohama.

A fruit orchard scene in British Columbia and a scene depicting Japan and Japanese life are next presented for the entertainment and edification of the visitors. The model of Japan gives a general view of the country around Fuji Yama, with the world-famed mount itself rising high in the heavens. There will also be models of Japanese houses, bridges, streets and other typical sights of the Flowery Kingdom.

Prospective settlers in the Dominion will be attracted by the model of a 160-acre irrigation farm in the west with all the buildings and equipment, running water and moving train running across the holding. The adventure-lover will be charmed by the spacious scene depicting the big game life of Canada. Grizzly bears, black bears, wolves, muskox and other representative specimens of the denizens of the wilds will confront the spectators in defiant attitude. All over the building, too, the heads of big game will snarl or grin, according to the respective temperaments of their erstwhile owners.

The lecture hall, which will accommodate 300 people, is very artistically arranged and decorated. Numerous cases, containing grain, fish, birds, maple sugar and honey exhibits will be on view. There will be a continuous cinema performance in this hall between the hours of one and five-thirty, and between seven and ten, with a lecturer in attendance to explain and entertain.

PRESIDENT WAS COOLIE

HEAD OF INFLUENTIAL POLITICAL ORGANIZATION.

Man Who Once Hawked Dry Goods Became a Soldier and Gradually Worked Upwards—Now the Ruler of Republic of China and 400 Million People.

Tsao Kun, marshal of the national army of China, high inspector-general of the three provinces of Chihli, Shantung and Honan, and now president of the republic by grace of a corrupt and largely illegal Parliament, is the figure head of the most influential political organization in China. He is the nominal head of the Chihli party, a group of politicians and militarists whose activities and headquarters centre in the metropolitan province of Chihli, in which the capital city of Pekin is located. More important still, he is the nominal head of the Tsao brothers clique in the party, a smaller group of men that have been able to shove General Wu Pei-fu and his adherents into the background and wrest control from Wu.

Forty years ago or so a pedlar of dry goods might have been seen going about the dusty streets of Pekin hawking his wares. A long pole was across one shoulder, from either end of which depended a swaying bale of cloth. As he went from door to door sounding the call peculiar to the vendor of dry goods in North China, a housewife would step out and for several minutes would arise the harsh sounds of bargaining accompanied by laughter. The pedlar was none other than Tsao Kun, the future president of China and its 400 million people.

Abandoning his dry goods route the pedlar, in due course, became a foot soldier in the armies of the Emperor of China. His good conduct on the drill field and off, and a personality far above that of the common soldier, attracted the attention of his commander, and the young private was detailed by his military chief to attend a military school. In 1890 he graduated with honors and his record in the school had been so excellent that he was appointed a teacher in the institution. Five years later he was made director of a soldiers' training school at the place where Yuan Shih-kai, then a trusted lieutenant of the old empress dowager and later to be selected by fate as the first president of the republic, was training an army on the same lines that are used in the United States. China was at war with Japan, and Yuan Shih-kai, realizing that the bow and javelin methods, so to speak, must be discarded, took the young Tsao Kun as his assistant in the reconstruction of the army of the empire.

After the quelling of the Boxer rising in 1900 by the allied forces of Great Britain, Germany, Russia, France, the United States and other nations who went to the relief of the beseiged legations at Pekin, a Manchu general invited Tsao Kun to Chihli province to reorganize his troops on the western model. That was an important move for Tsao Kun, who was located in the little village of Paotingfu. To-day from his palace in the latter place he directs the Government at neighboring Pekin. In 1900 Tsao Kun was made a regimental commander with 1,500 troops under him. His rise was rapid, and by 1903 he had become a full general in command of 10,000 soldiers.

When Yuan Shih-kai compromised with the revolutionists, who had dethroned China's royal family, and became first president of the new republic, Tsao Kun sided with his old commander. In 1915, when Yuan sought to found a new dynasty with himself as emperor, Tsao was loyal, and as reward got the very important military governorship of the metropolitan province of Chihli, a post Yuan himself had once held.

Not a tall man, almost completely bald and wearing a fiercely bristling mustache, Tsao Kun has a firm hold upon General Wu Pei-fu, whom he supported at a critical time, who defeated Marshal Chang and got control of Pekin. But Tsao Kun only sided with Wu at the last minute. With Wu's victory the president of China was forced out of office, and the former president, Li Yuan-hung, recalled. Then Tsao with the help of his far-cleverer younger brother, Tsao Jui, pryed Li Yuan-hung from the presidential chair, which he now occupies himself. At the gates of Pekin sits his friend and ally, General Wu, with a well-trained army of 30,000 men, making Tsao Kun secure in office.

Wiley Tsao Kun has, however, a line out to leeward, for his son is married to a daughter of the still-powerful Marshal Chang, whom General Wu defeated, but whose titles and estates have been restored to him. Frank Hedges, writing in the Washington Star, assures us that the disunion of Cinha which looms so large in the foreign press, is much misunderstood in Europe and America. There is no sharp line of demarcation between north and south or between any other two sections. It is a disruption among military rulers and politicians with frequent and rather bloodless fights. Fundamentally China is sound economically and morally, and the mass of the Chinese people are going about their business paying scant attention to the squabbles of the politicians.—Toronto Telegram.

His Lucky (?) Number.

When a boy appeared on remand at Shoreditch Children's Court on a charge of being found on enclosed premises, it was mentioned that he was originally charged on Oct. 10, was the tenth child of his parents, and was born on the tenth of the tenth month of 1910.

Mr. Clarke Hall, adjourning the case indefinitely, remarked: "Ten is evidently your number, and I hope it will be a good number."

A MESSAGE TO WOMEN VOTERS

How Many Voters Are There in Ontario?

According to Allen M. Dymond Chief Prov. Election Officer, the lists for 1923 Legislative Assembly Election, contained one million six hundred and seventy thousand names; and this number did not include the electoral districts of Muskoka, Peel and Peterboro East, in which 22,304 citizens voted. Undoubtedly there would be over 30,000 men and women in these three constituencies. Therefore, Ontario has a voting population of one million seven hundred thousand.

HOW MANY OF THESE ARE WOMEN?

The lowest estimate is one half. Think of it! At least 850,000 women who have the right to use the ballot. Yet the total number of electors who actually voted in last year's election was only 957,000. How many of the 743,000 delinquents were women? Every woman who is a British citizen and twenty-one years of age has a right to be on the Prov. Poll Book.

A WOMAN'S FEDERATION

The women of this country and the United States are beginning to realize the power they possess in the ballot. And since prohibition is a burning issue across the line, as it is here, the U. S. women are uniting to protect it. Nine women's organizations, containing over eleven million members, have formed "The Woman's National Federation for Law Enforcement." They say—"Women want prohibition. The 18th Amendment to our Constitution has given it to us. We demand its retention and enforcement." These U. S. federating bodies are: The General Federation of Women's Clubs; Young Women's Christian Association; Federation of Women's Boards of Foreign Missions; Council of Women for Home Missions; International Order of King's Daughters; National Council of Women; Women's Christian Temperance Union.

KEEP YOUR EYES OPEN

Now watch this column and you will see what Ontario Women are doing. Just as a starter there are now four Women's Societies whose aggregate membership is about 200,000, and who have said—"You can count on us. We believe in prohibition. We will stand back of the O. T. A." Never in the history of Canadian temperance work has there been any such interest and enthusiasm amongst its women supporters as we find to-day.

ACROSS THE SEA

And, the world around, this question of the supression—not of drunkenness but of the legalized sale of beverage intoxicants—is seizing upon the hearts and consciences of legislators and educators and business men. Why, over in Bulgaria the National Minister of Education has ordered the schools to observe with appropriate exercises, the day on which the United States went under prohibition! Bulgarian legislators realize two things—that prohibition is a financial asset to any country; and that the place to begin a propaganda in behalf of a "dry" law, is amongst the children.

ONE LIE NAILED

Despite an enormous increase in the sale of liquor in the two wet provinces—British Columbia and Quebec—the consumption of spirits in Canada has dropped, since 1913 from an average of 9 pints for every man, woman and child in the country, to only 3 pints. The fermented drink statistics have fallen almost as much. These figures are taken from "The Dominion Bureau of Statistics." And yet irresponsible, or ill-informed people, go about declaring—"We drink as much as we ever did."

RAMSAY MacDONALD

England's drink bill, notwithstanding her unemployment, is 7 pounds 9 shillings per head of the population! No wonder Ramsay MacDonald said, when appealed to to oppose a Local Option Bill, on the ground that the rich man can have his wine-cellar:—"If the rich want to keep the road open to their own loss, that is their affair. No: democracy ought not to say 'Because one class has such and such a right, all classes ought to claim the same right.' It is not worth it. Let us see to it that the rights the Democracy claims, that the rights the working classes claim, are rights worth having, and not rights that come with disease and canker and vice in their train. —The right to go wrong, to go down, to go astray—well we will make a present of these rights to anyone who wants them."

GRADING DUFFERIN COUNTY HOGS

The following table gives a summary of the numbers and grades of hogs shipped from Dufferin County shipping points for the period indicated. The number of hogs shipped shows a very decided increase, and, at the same time, there is a decrease in th percentage of select hogs marketed. It would appear that those, who are producing hogs, if they are at all interested in the future of the industry, should exercise a little more care in marketing their product.

The number of heavy hogs may be accounted, to some extent, by the interrupted shipping conditions, but it is rather difficult to account for the very large number of "shop" and "light" hogs.

The total number of hogs marketed shows the very great importance of hog raising to this county, and it would appear that those engaged in the business should consider very carefully anything that will tend to increase the grade of hog sent out.

An observation of the situation shows that the majority of farmers have the right type of hog, but the difficulty seems to be in feeding and handling the hogs.

The sanitarium authorities brought two actions against the village of Flesherton and the township of Normanby claiming an aggregate of about $1900 for keep of this patient in the Muskoka Sanatarium for a number of years back Both municipalities disputed their liability. This simple method for youthful loveliness

Millions have learned this easy, natural way to keep that schoolgirl complexion

The beauty and charm that is priceless to every woman and girl may be had by this simple method.

Millions have found the secret of having and keeping complexions radiant and lovely as a schoolgirl's. A method that you, too, may employ.

Regularly do this

Cleanse the skin regularly, authorities say, to keep your complexion lovely, radiant, youthful. But beware of harsh cleansing methods. They injure skin.

Wash thoroughly with Palmolive Soap—each night before retiring. Rub the creamy, foamy lather well into the tiny pores. Rinse — and repeat the washing. Then rinse again.

Then—if skin is dry—apply a little cold cream. That is all. Skin so cared for is not injured by cosmetics, by wind and sun, or by dirt.

The simple, correct way

You cannot find a more effective beauty treatment. Because Palmolive Soap is blended of rare palm and olive oils—famous for mild but thorough cleansing qualities since the days of Cleopatra. And it is inexpensive

Just make sure you get Palmolive — which is never sold unwrapped. All dealers have it. Get some and follow this simple method for a week. Results will surprise and encourage you.

Remember that arms, shoulders, throat need this treatment, too. Let Palmolive do for your whole body what it does for the face.

ORATORY AND DEBATE

Large Audience Listen to Budding Orators in the Opera House on Friday Night.

High School Students Compete in Oratorical Contest—Wilson McConnell and Miss Aileen Preston Adjudged the Winners.

A large audience gathered in the Opera House on Friday night to hear the Oratorical Contest between students of the Orangeville High School and the debate between representatives of the Orangeville and Erin schools. The Oratorical Contest was the first affair of the kind held by the school in recent years and the outcome of the competition was awaited with the keenest interest by the students and their friends. There were twelve competitors—six boys and an equal number of girls. Each speaker was allowed the privilege of selecting his or her subject. There was no time limit, but notwithstanding the latitude allowed in this respect, the orations were on the whole commendably brief and concise. Few of the speakers took more than ten or fifteen minutes. Besides being concise, the addresses were noteworthy for the excellence of the subject matter, the good English used and the clarity with which the speakers developed and advanced the ideas they sought to convey to the audience. In the strict sense of the term the addresses were not all orations, but this was not the fault of the speakers, but rather of certain of the subjects, which did not lend themselves any too readily to the arts and appeal of oratory. It is, however, not too much to say that there was not a poor address in the twelve. While the judges were unanimous in deciding that the first prize should go to Wilson McConnell and second place to Miss Aileen Preston, Inspector Liddy, their spokesman, stated that there were at least five orations that were considered carefully before they made their awards. Mr. Liddy also stated that had subjects been interchanged it was quite possible that some of the other competitors would have been awarded the prizes, so equally were several of the speakers matched in other respects. Mr. Wilson McConnell, the winner of the first prize, gave a really eloquent address on Canada. The winner is an Orangeville boy, being the elder son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. McConnell Church. St. He is a Fourth Form Student. Miss Aileen Preston, winner of the second prize, is the daughter of Col. and Mrs. J. A. V. Preston, and a Fifth Form student. In "The Union Jack" Miss Preston had an admirable subject, which she handled with skill and ability. We hope to publish the two winning orations in the next and following issues of The Banner. The names of the competitors and the subjects on which they spoke were:—

Elgin Hall—Absolute Prohibition

Fred Wansbrough—The Immigration Problem.

Bessie Richardson—Pauline Johnson.

Jack Marshall—The Present British Government.

Marvin Craig — Development of the St. Lawrence.

Wilson McConnell—Canada.

Lily Tate—Ontario Fuel Problem

Marion Mahaffy—Strangers within Our Gates.

Gordon Adamson—India.

Alice McGuire—Printing.

Aileen Preston—The Union Jack

Mr. W. R. Liddy, I. P. S., Rev. H. L. Partridge and Rev. J. W. McDonald were the judges

After listening to six of the orations the audience were given a change in the form of the program The variation consisted of an exceedingly well conducted debate between representatives of the Erin Continuation School and the Orangeville High School. The Erin debaters, Misses Coreta Gibson and Marjorie Strowger, took the affirmative side of the subject, "Resolved that Life to-day offers more Opportunities than it did Fifty Years Ago." The negative speakers were Gordon Lewis and Miss Florence Partridge, of the Orangeville school. Miss Gibson, who led off for the affirmative, argued that opportunities for national development were undoubtedly greater to-day than they were fifty years ago. In support of her position she gave a number of instances of the improvements in transportation facilities cited recent inventions which had made communication easier and speedier and referred to the development of our educational system and the present day opportunities within reach of nearly every young person for securing a good education. The speaker also maintained that because of international conferences and the widespread influence of Christian teaching and belief the nations of to-day had a much better opportunity of setting up and maintaining peace than the nations of fifty years ago.

Gordon Lewis, leader for the negative, referred to the general peace and contentment that existed fifty years ago, when the nations of the world were nearly all at the height of their prosperity, and contrasted this happy condition with the present unrest, unemployment and financial depression. Turning to Canada he argued that fifty years ago the Dominion possessed practically unlimited supplies of natural wealth in her virgin forests, minerals, fisheries and fur-bearing animals. Plenty of good land was then available for everybody at low prices, taxes were low, industries were prospering and there was plenty of employment for everybody. Mr. Lewis also contended that people were really happier in the past when pleasures were largely the simple pastimes and amusements of the home as contrasted with the feverish excitements, the movies theatres, pleasure resorts, both winter and summer, etc., of the present generation.

Miss Strowger, the second speaker for the affirmative, discussed the individual opportunities of the two periods. She contended that under present day conditions the individual citizen had more opportunities to preserve physical well-being, to educate the mind, to develope the social side of his or her nature, to prosper financially and to develope the taste for and the knowledge of the aesthetic.

In reply to Miss Strowger's argument regarding physical well-being Miss Florence Partridge, the supporting speaker for the negative, pointed out that the death rate had increased in the last fifty years and stated that there had also been an increase in the number of contagious diseases. She also pointed out that education was compulsory fifty years ago and not a matter of voltion as the affirmative speakers had contended. Fifty years ago more value was placed on an education than today. There was an assurance of employment for the educated person whereas the world is now unable to use the large over-supply of highly educated men and women. Miss Partridge made an effective comparison of taxes now and fifty years ago, adding that the income tax was then unheard of.

Miss Gibson devoted three minutes allowed her for reply to refuting some of the more telling arguments advanced by her opponents.

The debate was very close and the judges, Rev. F. W. Mahaffy, Inspector Liddy and Mr. T. S. Parkinson, were at the point of disagreement. They finally gave the decision to the negative, but Mr. Mahaffy who announced their finding, was careful to explain that "it was very close."

After the decisions had been announced the audience joined in singing the National Anthem before dispersing. Mr. Hackett, Principal of the High School, officiated as chairman throughout the evening.

Just before the audience dispersed the judges were voted the hearty thanks of all present on motion of Gordon Adamson and Wilson McConnell, two of the competitors in the oratory contest.

Afterwards the debaters and other speakers, members of the H S staff, the judges and a number of the parents were entertained to lunch in the schoolroom of the Methodist Church, where a very pleasant social half hour was spent.

DEATH OF J. J. DONAGHY

Chief Coroner Graham and Toronto Jury Conclude Their Investigation.

That J. J. Donaghy came to his death from self-inflicted wounds was the verdict returned to Chief Coroner George Graham on Monday at the Toronto Morgue by a jury after it had reviewed the evidence of a number of witnesses, who had been summoned to the inquiry by Detective Cronin and Plainclothesmen Sullivan and Waterhouse.

Donaghy's body, it will be remembered, was found under the Fruit Market, Esplanade and Yonge streets, some days ago, bearing several wounds about the throat and one upon the chest, although the clothing above the latter injury had not been torn. It had been found in a spot under the market, which Detective Sullivan described in his evidence as a "tight squeeze."

While he had left his rooming house during February, Donaghy was last seen by Rev. Thornton Summerhayes, a college friend, near the city hall on March 3rd, but he was unable to talk to him because he was in a hurry. Another friend Albert Johnston, who had not seen him for a number of years, met him in the same locality on February 29th. Johnston's observation was that Donaghy appeared to desire company.

County Crown Attorney Eric Armour questioned a number of witnesses regarding Donaghy's habits to learn if he was a heavy drinker. Mrs. McLeod, 95 Strachan Ave. with whom he roomed, had found Donaghy to be very courteous and of excellent habits. Other witnesses gave similar testimony.

MARSVILLE

(Intended for last week.)

It is our sad duty this week to report the death of a well-known citizen of the community in the person of Mr. Robert Simpson. The deceased, who was a lifelong resident of this district, had enjoyed good health until about two years ago when he suffered a slight stroke. From this he partially recovered and was able to do considerable work at times. During the last week in January he was stricken with an attack of pleurisy. His friends and physician were hopeful of a speedy recovery from this illness and he was in fact doing splendidly, when the heart finally gave out and the end came quite unexpectedly on Saturday evening last about nine o'clock.

The late Mr. Simpson was born on April 2nd, 1853, on lot 5, con. 14 East Garafraxa, the farm on which he died. He was therefore in his 69th year at the time of his death. Deceased was the second son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Simpson pioneer settlers in this township. On February 3rd, 1880, he married Miss Margaret Scott. The young couple settled on the east half lot 10, con. 15, East Garafraxa, where they bravely and faithfully faced and endured many of the hardships that fell to the lot of the pioneer settlers in these parts. It was a source of comfort and satisfaction that after years of patient and persevering toil they were successful in making themselves a comfortable and beautiful home. In 1906 they sold this property to their son, Hubert, and moved to the old homestead, which Mr. Simpson bought from his brother, Albert. Here Mrs. Simpson passed away on January 23rd, 1911. Seven years ago Mr. Simpson gave over the responsibilities of his farm to his youngest son, George. Deceased was a man of good sound principle, honest and upright in all his dealings and ready to give a neighbor a helping hand whenever needed. Although not an aspirant after office, he took a keen interest in municipal and general politics. He leaned strongly to the Conservative party, of which he was a consistent and active supporter. He was a member and a faithful supporter of the Disciple Church.

The funeral, which was held to Price's Corners Cemetery on Tuesday afternoon, March 18th, was largely attended. The service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Waterworth of Hillsburg. The members of Court Marsville, C. O. F., of which the late Mr. Simpson was a member were present in a body to pay a last mark of respect to the mortal remains of their departed brother. The burial ritual of the order was read over the open grave by Bros. L. Boggs and D. Jestin. The pallbearers were four brothers, James H., Thos. E., John and George Simpson, and two brothers-in-law, Isaac Scott and Geo. Nodwell. Deceased is survived by a family of three sons and two daughters, Henry, of Erin township; Hubert and George, of East Garafraxa; Mrs. R. Bryan, of Erin township, and Ethel, at home. The surviving brothers are Jas. H. Treasurer of East Garafraxa; John of Grand Valley; George, of Waldemar; Thos. E., M. P., of Sault Ste Marie, and Wm. A., also of Sault Ste. Marie. Mrs. Geo. Nodwell, of Grand Valley, is the only sister. The sympathy of the community is extended to the bereaved family and relatives.

ALTON

Mr. Everton Erskine and Mr. W. Erskine, of London, spent the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Erskine.

Miss S. Clark was out of town over the week-end.

The Ladies' Aid of the Presbyterian Church held a Leap Year Social at the home of Mr. J. C. Limebeer. The affair was enjoyable and also successful. Mrs. Stewart Corbett the Secretary of the Society, was in the chair. A short programme was provided and was enjoyed by all. Those taking part were Mrs. W. Dorrington, Mrs. Sangster, Miss Sangster, the Misses Akitt, Miss Aileen McLachlan and Mr. Rutledge Wallace. Games were also enjoyed by many of those present. After lunch had been served all went home reporting a good time.

Mrs. L. H. Lemon is spending week in Toronto with her daughters Mrs. Butler and Mrs. Randall.

Mrs. Tom Bush and daughter, of Erin, were the guests of Mrs. Robt. Dodds last week.

The Amusement Club have presented the Public School with a piano. The gift is much appreciated by the Board and will likely prove helpful to both teachers and pupils.

Mrs. J. Lovell spent a few days of last week in Toronto.

Among the week-end visitors were Miss Ina McLachlan, Toronto Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Hill and baby Hamilton, and Messrs. Everton and Will Erskine, London.

Mrs. E. D. Barber and Miss Hope Barber spent the week-end in Toronto.

Friends of the school children are reminded that Friday afternoon March 28th, is visiting day at the school. The usual trend of affairs will be changed in that the ladies are to give the program and also serve lunch.

Members of the Alton Amusement Club, an organization that has served a useful purpose in the social life of the village, found themselves in the unfortunate position of being obliged to give up their rooms, which were needed by Mrs. Palmer, the owner. Under the circumstances the Club has discontinued its meetings for the present, but will continue to function as the Alton Dramatic Club. When giving up their rooms the members of the Club decided to present their piano to the Alton Public School. This is a gift that will be appreciated by trustees parents and teachers and it should prove of real service in its new home. The Club has also donated $30.00 or upwards to the Public Library. The thanks of our citizens are due the members for this gift and also for the spirit that prompted it.

RE SMALLPOX

An epidemic of Malignant Smallpox broke out in Windsor about the middle of February. Up to March 3rd there were over 40 cases with 12 deaths. The total number of cases in Windsor, Amherstburg, Sandstone and the surrounding districts from February 14th to March 3rd was 60, with 16 deaths. This is a very virulent form of Smallpox with a high death rate. It is quite true that our township has never had an epidemic of this dread disease. However it is well to be ready as we do not know when we may be visited with the disease. Of the cases in the border cities some mild cases occurred in individuals with successful vaccination scars made 12 years or more ago. The severe semi-confluent and confluent cases all occurred in "unvaccinated" persons. These cases lived 6 to 8 days after contracting the disease. Haemorhagic cases all occurred in persons who were unvaccinated. These were all fatal. According to the Medical Officer of Health for the Border Cities, "this is the most severe epidemic of Smallpox since the 1885 Montreal outbreak, in which 3164 persons died of Smallpox in nine months." In this outbreak the death rate will be high among unvaccinated persons reaching probably 50 p.c." (M. O. H. Border Cities.) During the last week in February over 50,000 people were vaccinated in the Border Cities. The public are hereby urged to consider seriously the immediate need of vaccination against this dread disease in order to prevent any deaths from Smallpox in the Township of Amaranth.

Ordered by the Board of Health and very strongly urged by the M. O. H.

Amaranth Twp. Board of Health,

YOU CAN'T BEAT TANLAC SAYS ALBERTA CITIZEN

"The Tanlac Treatment Made Me Look and Feel Like a Different Man," Says Petro.

"The Tanlac treatment has made me look and feel like a different man," is the positive statement of H. G. Petro, well-known citizen of Okotoks, Alberta, Canada.

"Before taking Tanlac I was sorely troubled with indigestion, gas bloating and a tightness in my chest that made me short of breath. My appetite was gone, my circulation poor, and headaches and dizzy spells would strike me most every day. I also had a bad swelling in my leg.

"Three bottles of Tanlac put me in A1 condition in every way. I have a rousing appetite, sleep like a log and am rid of all my troubles, even the swelling in my leg. Incidentally I have gained so much weight that I am too big for the clothes I wore before taking Tanlac and am feeling fine. You can't beat Tanlac."

"Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 Million bottles sold.

Take Tanlac Vegetable Pills.

"Ah, Pat, I see you are out again. We thought you were gone sure, and you had a very serious time of it."

"Yes yer reverence, indade I had."

"When you were so near death's door were you not afraid to meet God your Maker?"

"No indade, yer reverence," replied Pat, "it was the other gintleman."

LUNCH COUNTER CARS ON NATIONAL

Lunch counter cars which will care for the needs of passengers in the colonist, first class and tourist cars of the main line trains, who do not desire to use the regular dining cars, are being operated by the Canadian National Railways for the convenience of the travelling public, and particularly of immigrants arriving in Canada. As an experiment, lunch counter cars have been placed in service between Winnipeg and Toronto. While these trains carry dining cars and while the Canadian National Railways also have lunch counters and restaurants at all divisional points, it is considered that the lunch counter car will be a great benefit to women travelling with children and to others who may be physically unfit or unable to leave the train at stations because of severe weather, or for other reasons. The lunch counter has been fitted up at one end of a steel colonist car, where the best grade of tea and coffee freshly made will be served. Light meals comprising cereals, sandwiches, pies, preserved fruits and other canned goods will be available at Canadian National standard lunch counter prices. A competent and courteous attendant will be in charge of each lunch counter and service may be secured at any time during the day.

The suggestion of the lunch counter cars was made by Mr. Walter Pratt, General Manager of Dining, Sleeping and Parlor Cars and of Hotels, who has been anxious to provide this facility to further improve travelling conditions and add to the comforts of passengers on the Canadian National Railways.

EXECUTORS MUST PAY

Failed to Maintain Insurance on Buildings Belonging to Trust.

Executors who fail to keep insurance policies renewed render themselves personally liable to the extent of the expired policy for the loss in case of fire, according to a judgment delivered by His Honor Judge Vance Barrie. The point was raised in connection with the passing of accounts of the estate of Samuel Gamble, farmer, of the township of Adjala. The judgment will prove of widespread interest, as it is the first time this point of law has been raised in Canada.

Samuel Gamble, who died in 1917 owned a farm of 230 acres, well equipped, the total value of the property being estimated at approximately $14,000. John May and Hance A. Lyons were appointed executors. On September 28, 1922 the barns were destroyed by fire with no insurance. The estate had been left with a life interest to the wife of deceased, and the remainder to three infant children.

When the accounts were submitted in the Surrogate Court those representing the infants took exception to an item of $4,000 which the executors had paid for rebuilding the barn on the ground that there had been gross negligence in allowing the insurance to lapse. It was shown in evidence that when a mortgage on the farm was paid off early in 1919, the executors saw that the insurance policy was still in force but that it would require to be renewed on July 15th, 1919. The executors admitted that they kept their own buildings insured, also that they should have renewed the Gamble policy, and had sufficient funds to do so. The barns were burned on Sept. 28th, 1922, more than three years after the insurance had expired.

Commenting on this, the judgment says:—"It seems incredible that some person at some time did not think of the insurance that should have been on those barns." Judge Vance finds that the executors should account for the loss of the insurance to the estate. The expired policy was for $2,100, but as one small building was not burned His Honor places the loss under the policy in force at Gamble's death at $1,800, which the executors are required to pay for their neglect in allowing the policy to lapse.

BUY FERTILIZERS WITH JUDGMENT

"Plant Food" Units Give Basis For Determining Value of Fertilizer Mixture.

"Wastful ways bring woful want" but even in the face of this truth says a circular from the Fertilizer Division at Ottawa, the wasteful buying of commercial fertilizers is still with us. Many farmers fail to realize that the terms "fertilizer" and "plant food" are not synonymous; that in the trade "fertilizer" is te material which at so much money per ton the farmer is asked to buy, while "plant food" is the nitrogen, phosphoric acid and potash content of the fertilizer, and the basic factor in determining its relative value both in crop production and on the market.

Buyer is Protected

One of the provisions of the Fertilizers Act requires fertilizers to be sold with a statement of guaranteed analysis or content of nitrogen, phosphoric acid and potash. The object of this is to provide farmers and other buyers with information as to the number of units of each of the plant foods which the fertilizer contains, so that economics in buying may be effected, which will ensure maximum crop results and minimum expenditures for the plant food used.

Wasteful buying will cease only when the haphazard manner of buying tons of fertilizer is replaced by the method of comparing the relative costs per unit of plant food. The latter is based on scientific research and sound economics, and may be used by all who understand fertilizer formulae.

RUINS OF HUGE VOLCANOES

Although the hills of Auvergne in France do not rise to the altitude of the Alps or the Pyrenees, they have peculiar characteristics of their own.

They were born and moulded amidst great volcanic upheavals. The ice king may govern the glaciers, but here the fire king has reigned.

The Monts-Dome are one long chain of linked volcanoes, now as dead as the mountains in the moon. Nearly sixty gaping craters may still be counted. Even the Monts-Dore and the Cantal Hills, whose cone-shaped summits, the highest in Auvergne, stand out so impressively in the distance, are but the time-worn ruins of huge volcanoes.

All the country round about bears lasting traces of its dramatic past: beds of lava hidden by the fresh green turf; dark pillars like the famous "Orgues de Bort;" giants causeways; odd dykes that might be dusky Druid stones; "sues" and "puys" that might be the pustules of a fever-stricken earth—such are the features which give this central region a strange individuality that has been further intensified by the hand of man.

Here and There

The Canadian Pacific coastwise steamer "Ena" has carried from the seven plants operating on Barclay Sound over 12,000 tons of salt herring since the present season opened in November. This represents almost half the season's output, which will approximate 26,000 tons.

The heaviest immigration to Canada experienced during the last ten years is looked for this year. Already the arrivals are running ahead of those for the same months in 1923, those from European countries being especially large. The enquiries from prospective settlers in the United States are numerous.

Canada exported 6,532 pairs of leather footwear during January, 1924, according to a report of the Bureau of Statistics. Of these 2,179 went to the United States, 2,038 to New Zealand and 2,031 to China and Japan. Bermuda, the Straits Settlements and Newfoundland took the rest. The value was $21,301.

Canadians imported 5,326,567 pounds of tea last month, or about three-fifths of a pound per head of population. The value of last month's tea imports was $1,661,176, and for the twelve months ending January 31, the value of the 43,993,119 pounds imported into Canada was $13,253,642. The bulk of it came from India.

Special trains of immigrants have recently carried lunch counter cars similar to those used on the harvesters' trains last summer. It is understood that the Canadian Pacific have inaugurated this as a feature of all long distance immigrant trains, thus doing away with the necessity of the newcomers providing their own food or using station lunch counters en route.

The completion of plans for the development of hydro-electric power during the current year will add 900,000 h.p., to the present total of 3,228,000 h.p., already installed in Canada. This additional power will be used in British Columbia to assist mining and pulp industries in Manitoba to supply rural needs, and in Ontario for gold-mining and other industries. In Quebec the chief developments are in connection with the pulp and paper industries, and farther east, in the Maritime Provinces, for public utility purposes.

There is every indication that the dearth of the domestic servant in Canada will be greatly relieved in the course of the ensuing few months. Miss Esther Mackie, head of the Women's branch, Colonization department, Canadian Pacific Railway, London, announces that "Specially conducted parties of domestic servants are being organized under the Empire Settlement Act in conjunction with the Canadian Government for the conveyance to Montreal and to Western Canada."

One of the most attractive features of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company's pavilion at the British Empire Exhibition, Wembly, will be the illuminated exterior panels, and the Neon lighting effect, similar to that used at the Coliseum, London, which is wonderfully penetrating and effective under all atmospheric conditions. The interior of the building displays, through working models and magnificent oil and water color paintings, the many ramifications of the great transportation system as well as the natural resources of this country.

According to E. N. Todd, freight traffic manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway the year 1924 will be a banner one as regards foreign capital coming into the country. "During the year 1923 a number of silk manufacturers from England and the United States decided to locate in Canada, and from present indications this particular movement is only in its infancy. At the present time our industrial department is in correspondence with a very large number of manufacturers who are seriously considering locating in Canada."

INGLEWOOD MAN FINED

In the Brampton police court last week two charges against Harold Whetham, of Inglewood, were ventilated. One was for assault on Fred Kidd and the other was for being drunk. He was found guilty on both charges, after acknowledging that he was drunk on February 27 when the assault occurred. While in the witness box Whetham gave the name of the person who supplied the liquor and Inspector Reevely has since lodged a charge of violating the O. T. A. against the offender. Magistrate Crawford imposed a fine of $10.00 and costs on Whetham for being drunk and assessed costs on the assault charge.

How to Wash and Preserve Woolens

Woolen garments or articles cleansed with SURPRISE soap feel soft, fluffy, and well washed. Dry woolen articles in a moderate temperature—not in the sun—and do not allow them to freeze. Sun is injurious to wool; freezing causes shrinkage.

Shrieks and yells of the most appalling type were issuing from the little cottage and quite a crowd had collected. Presently, clothed in the full majesty and dignity of the law a policeman came striding onto the scene.

"Now, then," he cried gruffly "what is all this about?"

"Please, sir," spoke up a small boy, "that's only my brother. He's crying because mamma's eyesight ain't very good and she's deaf, too."

A ghastly series of shrieks interrupted the explanation.

"He must be a very feeling little fellow," remarked the officer, wiping away a furtive tear.

"Yes, sir, he is. You see, ma' mending his trousers, and he's got them on."

MEMBERS OF ALBERTA POOL DUE FOR ANOTHER DIVIDEND

Alberta farmers who marketed their grain through the Provincial wheat pool of that Province will receive an additional ten cents per bushel shortly, according to D. L. Smith, selling agent for the pool on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, who announced that cheques had been mailed from there on March 18th. The payment represents approximately $2,500,000 and follows an initial payment of 75 cents, less deduction of freight to Fort William which is around 20 cents per bushel. To date, the pool has sold 35,000,000 bushels of wheat, of which about 9,000,000 bushels went through Vancouver.

WORMS HAVE A MEMORY

The brains of earthworms are not in their heads, but in their abdomen They have a memory, however, and may be trained.

Professor L. Heck, of the University of Prague, has announced this as the outcome of experiments with a collection of five hundred curious little worms

The worms introduced into a passage shaped like a capital T and mounted on a block of wood which was covered with a glass plate so that movements of the small creatures might be observed. When they came to the junction, about half of them turned one way and half the other.

The passage was arranged so that those that took the left-hand passage received a mild, but presumably disagreeable, electric shock. The worms at first did not know just what to make of this, but after they had been through the experience about two hundred times, nearly all were converted to "safety-first" and took the right hand turn.

The worms, when the electrodes were moved to the right hand passage, learned to shift to the other after only sixty-five mistakes, evidently showing more aptitude.

The professor states that earthworms, in the human sense, have no brains; their nervous systems consist of a series of little ganglions or nerve centres, on the under side of the worms and connected with each other by nerve fibres.

The fragments, if the worms were cut in two, still showed the ability to distinguish between the safe and the unpleasant road to travel, showing that the earthworm remembers in every one of his ganglions, and is able to learn and profit by experience.

MRS. SAMUEL EWING

At the ripe old age of eighty-four years, Mrs. Samuel Ewing died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Jas. A. Kerr, on Wednesday of last week. She had been in failing health for some time, but her final illness was of only a few days' duration. Heart trouble due to advancing years was the cause of death. Mrs. Ewing, who was a most estimable lady, whose life was crowded full of good works and whose beneficent influence will long survive her, was born in the county of Sligo, Ireland, on the 19th of January, 1840. When eight years of age, she came to Canada with her parents, Thomas and Margaret Allen, who made their home on lot 28 concession 8, Mono. December 27 1860, was the date of her marriage to the late Samuel Ewing, when she went to live but a short distance from the home of her parents. On the south half of lot 27, in the 8th concession of Mono, she spent many years, and on retiring in 1906 came to Alliston to live. Hers was a life of activity in her home and neighborhood. She was a lifelong member of the Methodist Church and for many years was an active worker in women's societies. Also, she had numerous duties to perform as the wife of one of the foremost men of the municipality and county in which she lived, Mr. Ewing having held positions in the township and county councils for years and having been one of the fathers of the county of Dufferin, and Mrs. Ewing did her part with graceful efficiency. She is survived by one son and five daughters—S. J. Ewing, of Irricana Sask.; Mrs. W. J. Faulkner, Saskatoon, Sask.; Mrs. R. W. Morrison Alliston; Mrs. Wm. Parker, Alliston Mrs. Robert Reid, Alliston, and Mrs. James A. Kerr, Alliston. There are also eleven grandchildren and five great grandchildren upon whom Mrs. Ewing lived to smile. She is the last member of the family to which she belonged, she being the only sister of four sons of Mono pioneers. With the family on the voyage out from Ireland was their Grandfather Allen, who survived some years after settling in Mono The funeral of Mrs. Ewing took place last Friday afternoon from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Kerr Service was conducted by Rev. A. A Wall, after which interment was made in the Ewing plot in the Union Cemetery.—Alliston Herald.

"A SAILOR'S FAITH"

Some time ago, on board of one of our ships of war, there was one sailor who was a Christian, and who was not ashamed to let it be known that he was so. Every evening he used to go by himself, behind one of the big guns, and read the Bible and then kneel down and pray. The other sailors laughed at him, and made fun of him. But still he went on. One evening, just as he was beginning to read his Bible, another sailor came quietly up to him, and asked if he might pray with him This made the Christian sailor very glad. Then there were two instead of one to read and pray every night The other sailors continued to laugh at them, but they went steadily on At last the captain of the ship heard of these two men. He sent for them to come to his cabin. He told them how glad he was to hear of the way in which they were serving God, and encouraged them to go on. "I'll have a place curtained off for you, my lads, on the deck where you can be entirely private and I'll give strict orders that none of the men shall disturb you while you are reading or praying." He did so. And after this nobody disturbed those praying men; but one after another joined their company, till finally as many as fifteen and twenty met every evening, to hear God's Word read, and to join in the prayer that followed. Any captain who did this was a wise and brave man. I wish I knew what his name was that it might be told to his honor as I think such a man deserves to be honored, and the noble sailor who led on in this good work was a Christian of "faith and works," who deserves honor, too.

Arthur's vital statistics for 1923 are as follows: Births 23, marriages 9, deaths 16. During 1923 only one person died at an age under 40 years and one other at an age under 60 The remaining deaths were all of people over the three score years period.

WORLD WHEAT POOL IMPOSSIBLE?

"When you talk of controlling a world commodity," he said, recently "remember that the thing can't be done.

"If, through the arbitrary control of prices which a world pool would contemplate, the price of wheat to the consumer should be raised 10 per cent., the consumption would drop 30 per cent. That is a stable law. What we want is a broader not a controlled market, and efficient marketing may get it."

The statement will impress a lot of people as a reasonable one, but it is questionable if it is entirely in line with the facts. Bread is a staple article of diet over the greater part of the world and, despite the profit-taking of miller and baker one of the cheapest foods. Experience during the past few years suggests that it would take more than a ten per cent. increase in wheat flour or bread prices to appreciably reduce consumption.

An attempt to use world-wide organization of wheat growers as a medium for unfair price raising might provoke a more or less general diminution of consumption, but no result would attend an increase in prices sufficient to give moderate margin above production costs for the grower. The chief obstacle to world regulation of prices is the difficulty of controlling output rather than the likelihood of a consumers' strike, for without the preservation of a proper balance between supply and demand plans to raise prices would have little success. Efficient marketing methods and not market control is, with good reason, the immediate goal of co-operative energy.—Farmers' Sun.

17,000 MILES FOR BRIDE

A Canadian recently crossed two continents and an ocean to marry a Greek girl and take her back with him to Skagway in the remote North West. The journey to Greece and back extended over 17,000 miles and cost nearly 1,000 pounds.

An even more trying journey was undertaken by a Russian who had emigrated to the United States. He heard that his sweetheart in Russia was in danger from the Bolsheviks Immediately he set sail for China Thence he travelled overland, mostly on foot, across Siberia, to his sweetheart's home in European Russia, where he was able to rescue her. The journey occupied eight months.

Long journeys to get married sometimes have unexpected endings A girl who sailed several thousands of miles to marry her lover, changed her mind on the way. The unlucky man was one of 150 bachelors exiled in a settlement with but few white women. On learning of her refusal, the other 149 bachelors petitioned the girl not to return to England, but to choose a husband from among them. She did so, and the former fiance acted as "best man" at the wedding.

CAMILLA

A very happy farewell gathering took place in the Camilla hall on Tuesday night, March 11th, when a large number of their neighbors and friends assembled for the purpose of saying good-bye to Mr. and Mrs Alex. Lundy and family prior to their removal to their new home at Downsview, Ont. During the evening Mr. John W. Ledlow read an appreciative address. At the proper time Mr. Lundy was presented with a club bag, Mrs. Lundy with a wrist watch, Miss Chrona and Freeland with a fountain pen apiece and Bert with an eversharp pencil. Mr. Lundy made a feeling reply on behalf of his family and himself. The presentation was followed by a program, supper and dance, a very enjoyable time being spent by everybody. The address read as follows

Camilla, Ont., March 11, 1924.

Mr. and Mrs. Lundy, Chrona, Freeland and Bert,—

We, your friends and neighbors have come together this evening to spend a pleasant hour with you and to bid you farewell before your departure to your new home in Downsview.

It has been with feelings of sadness that we have watched your preparations for your moving from Camilla, your home for many years and we realize that on your going we lose those, who, at all times, were ready to enter into all our joys and sorrows. We feel sure that wherever you go to your new home your kindly disposition will draw many friends to you. We remember with gratitude your constant willingness to help all your neighbors in every possible way.

And now as we recall the many associations of the past we feel we would be unkind to let you depart without first expressing our feelings in a more tangible manner. We ask you, Mr. Lundy, to accept this club bag, Mrs. Lundy this wrist watch, Chrona and Freeland these fountain pens, and Bert this Eversharp pencil, not for their value but as a remembrance and as a slight token of the very high esteem in which you are held.

We hope and pray that you may have success and be blessed with good health to enjoy your new home for many years.

Signed on behalf of the community,

HAROLD GEMMELL
FRED THOMPSON,
JACKSON WOODS.

On March 7th the Camilla Women's Institute held a special meeting at the home of Mrs. T. Madill and presented Mrs. Lundy, their Secretary-Treasurer for several years, with a half dozen Community silver spoons in the Grosvenor pattern, and the following address:—

Camilla, March 7th, 1924

Mrs. A. Lundy,
Camilla, Ont.

Dear Friend,—

We, your fellow-members of the Camilla Women's Institute, learn with the deepest regret of your departure from amongst us.

We feel that, in your leaving, we are losing one of the best members of the Institute. You have always been ready and willing to assist in all our undertakings. You have been ever faithful in the duties of Secretary-Treasurer for many years.

We felt that we could not allow you to leave us without first expressing to you in some way our estimation of the value of your presence and our appreciation of your sterling character. We would ask you to accept these silver spoons as a remembrance of your friends in the Institute.

Signed on behalf of the members of the Institute—Mrs. McKay, President; Marguerite Madill, Secretary-Treasurer.

Miss Helen Irvine was home from Toronto University for the week-end.

Mr. Harry E. Dedrick, of the Northern Electric Company, Toronto, visited with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Dedrick, of Grand Valley over the week-end.

Miss Edna Coulson, who has been teaching school near Bowmanville arrived home on Monday night. Miss Coulson has been forced to take several weeks' rest on account of ill-health.

Mr. J. E. Jenkins, who has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jenkins, of Mono, and other friends here for the last two months left for his home in Saskatchewan on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Watson, of Alton, announce the engagement of their daughter, Alice Melville, to Mr. A. E. Pettibone, of Lakeport Ont. The marriage will take place early next month.

Mrs. L. E. Blezard and three children, who have been visiting with the former's mother, Mrs. Margaret Speers, since last November, left for their home at Sceptre, Sask., last Thursday.

Messrs. Robert and George Reid of Mono, Mr. and Mrs. William Phillips, of Laurel, and Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Potter, of Mono Mills, were in Toronto this week attending the funeral of their sister, Mrs. Carrie Reid Dunkley.

Mrs. W. J. Bailey, her son, Clarence, and little daughter, Jean, left for their home at Argo, Sask., recently after spending the winter months with Mrs. Bailey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McEwan. Mrs. Bailey was accompanied by her sister, Miss Victoria McEwan, as far as Toronto.

Mrs. G. H. Campbell, Miss Bennett, Miss Alda Tuck, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Clark and daughters, Mary and Ruth, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Adamson, Mrs. W. E. Irvine, Mr. J. A. McMillan and Misses R and I. Allen were among the Orangeville people who attended the Toronto Skating Club's fancy skating meet last Friday night.

Mr. T. E. Simpson, M. P. of Sault Ste. Marie, came up from Ottawa on Tuesday of last week to attend the funeral of his brother, the late Robert Simpson, of Marsville. His old friends hereabouts will be pleased to learn that Mr. Simpson's health has improved greatly since last year and that the improvement is likely to prove permanent.

We regret to learn that Mrs (Rev.) J. W. McDonald, who is dangerously ill in Lord Dufferin Hospital, had a very serious turn for the worse on Tuesday night. She was somewhat better yesterday and it is hoped that the improvement will now be permanent. Rev. Mr. McDonald has the sympathy of our citizens in the trying ordeal of the last few weeks.

—Mr. John Cameron, who has been ill in Lord Dufferin Hospital for some weeks, is now improving and his friends hope that he will soon be able to be about again.

—The snow has melted slowly but surely during the last week and the banks of the beautiful are dwindling rapidly. It is the kind of spring thaw that the farmers like to see. There is little frost in the ground and consequently much of the surplus moisture is being absorbed and stored in reserve by mother earth.

THE QUALITY OF BULK TEA

The Quality of Bulk Tea is always unreliable for several reasons. In the first place, being unlabelled its origin is unknown and there is no one who has any particular responsibility for its goodness. In the second place, it is exposed to the air and therefore very quickly loses its flavour and freshness. Even if it were as good as "SALADA" in the first place, it would rapidly deteriorate and in any case it would be impossible for any dealer to follow consistently the same quality throughout the year. "SALADA" always maintains an unvarying high standard, possible through skilful blending.

THE I. O. D. E. SHOW

Packed House Witnesses First Night of Popular Play.

The famous comedy "Is Marriage a Failure?" presented under the auspices of the I. O. D. E., was thoroughly enjoyed by an audience that taxed the capacity of the Opera House last night. Each member of the cast of local players enacted his role with a professional spirit and all gave evidence of careful study. The Orangeville orchestra contributed much to the evening's delight and the stage settings are exceedingly pretty.

A full review of the show will appear next week. "Is Marriage a Failure?" will be presented this evening again and prospects indicate another big audience.

MRS. CARRIE R. DUNKLEY

One of the best-known women in educational circles in Toronto passed away on Sunday in the person of Mrs. Carrie Reid Dunkley, who died at her home, 169 Oakwood Avenue after an illness of only a week from basal meningitis. Mrs. Dunkley was known to thousands of young people who have passed through Toronto schools in the past twenty years, and was also well known in musical and dramatic circles in Toronto and among educationists throughout Ontario as the Assistant-Supervisor of Music in Toronto Public Schools and Collegiate Institutes. Her activities as organizer and promoter of many efforts in war time and since then for the benefit of invalided soldiers in hospital, for the Whitby Mental Hospital, and for other afflicted groups brought her in contact with a very wide circle of friends and associates

Mrs. Dunkley was appointed Assistant Supervisor of Music for Toronto Schools under the late Llewellyn Rees, and after his death conducted the "Festival of the Lillies" and Empire Day concerts, and was largely instrumental in the promotion of the Canadian National Exhibition chorus, for which she trained the juvenile groups of singers throughout the summer of 1922 Mrs. Dunkley also conducted the school children's chorus which sang at the Parliament Buildings on the occasion of the Prince of Wales visit to Toronto.

She was also well known through her organization and appearances in many amateur theatricals gotten up for wartime benefits. She was very widely known as a woman of outstanding ability and great depth of sympathy. Her home as a child was near Orangeville, where she was born. She is survived by her husband, Albert W. Dunkley, classical master, Oakwood Collegiate Institute, and some years ago a member of the staff of the Orangeville High School.

Mrs. Dunkley, who was born in Mono township, only a few miles from Orangeville, was a graduate of the Orangeville High School. She is survived by her husband, her mother Mrs. John Reid, now living in Toronto; six sisters, Dr. Hannah Reid, Toronto; Dr. Minerva Reid Toronto; Mrs. (Rev.) Archibald McNeill, Bracebridge; Mrs. Margaret Grose, Peru, South America; Mrs William Phillips, of Laurel, and Mrs. D. N. Potter, Caledon, and four brothers, Dr. John Reid, of Tillsonburg; Joseph Reid, B. A., formerly Principal of Dundas Collegiate Institute and now living at High River, Alta., and Robert and George Reid, well-known farmers in the west side of Mono.

A GOOD SPRING TONIC

One That Will Quickly Improve Your Health.

With the passing of winter many people feel weak, depressed and easily tired. No particular disease, but the system lacks tone. You find yourself tired, low-spirited, unable to get sound sleep at night. All this is the result of the closer indoor confinement of the winter months, and shows that the blood has become thin and watery. New enriched blood is what you need to put you right, and there is no other medicine can give you this new blood as surely and as speedily as Dr. Williams Pink Pills. This new blood goes to every part of the body and quickly improves the general health. The digestion is toned up, you have a better appetite, nerves are strengthened and sleep is refreshing. The value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills when the system is run down is shown by the experience of Mrs Peter Arendt, Ravenscrag, Sask. who says:—"I was in a badly run-down condition, and prostrated with nervousness. I did not sleep at night, and grew so weak that when I tried to move about I would be overcome with dizziness. I heard about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and got a supply. After I had taken a few boxes I began to feel better. Continuing the use of these pills my appetite improved, I slept better at night, and I was soon as well as ever I had been. I have also given Dr Williams' Pink Pills to my daughter aged fourteen, with the best results. I desire in this way to express my thanks for the great benefit I have found through the use of these pills and to recommend them to others in need of a blood-building medicine.'

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box, from The Dr Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville Ont.

O. H. S. WIN TWICE

The Orangeville High School girls and boys won their respective games on March 19th, when the Grand Valley Continuation School teams played them on the local ice.

The girls played the first game and won by a score of 2-0. Grand Valley girls were lost on the large sheet of ice and so did not play up to form. Misses Grace Island and Florence Watt scored the two goals of the game. The teams:

Orangeville—Goal, G. Torrance defence, M. McAuley and B. Anderson; centre, G. Island; wings, K Island and F. Watt; subs., A. McGuire, K. Wheelock, M. Rohmer.

Grand Valley—Goal, J. McIntyre defence, L. Bennett and I. Martin centre, M. Forgrave; wings, N Wansbrough and H. McIntyre; subs G. Craine and C. Hastilow.

The boys' game was very fast and close, the teams being exceptionally well matched, but Orangeville had a slight edge and so won 3-1. Hastilow and Moss were fast and accurate for the visitors, while the O. H. S team all played to form. The O. H S. line-up was:

Orangeville—Goal, R. Robertson defence, A. Henry and L. Sanderson centre, E. McKim; wings, C. Connell and C. Price; subs, E. Clarridge, F Wansbrough and F. Lindsay.

James Marshall handled both games. After the skating the O. H S. entertained the Grand Valley teams and friends in the High School gymnasium. Lunch was served and a very sociable time spent.

—Hear and see "It Pays to Advertise," in the Opera House on April 10th and 11th.

During the past week the Farmington Dramatic Club presented their Play, "The Trials of Mary," at Camilla and The Maples. They were greeted with full houses in each instance. They gave a very satisfying performance and the members of the caste were heartily congratulated upon the excellence of their work.

Worry is only Fear

Fear of Self—Fear of Others—Fear of the Future

AND what is the cause of worry? Lack of nerve force, energy, vigor. The man or woman who has good health and is living a full, successful life does not worry.

It is when the nervous system gets run down that worry comes to sap vitality from your body and to torment your mind.

There is not much use in advising one not to worry unless you can also offer some means of restoring the depleted nervous system.

The most rational and most successful treatment available to all is Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

It is popular because it does not merely afford temporary relief but gradually and certainly restores vitality to the run-down nervous system.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food can make a better human being of you, mentally, physically—everyway.

The benefits felt will be in the way of new energy, new vigor and confidence.

The futility of worry will dawn on you and you will be able to see the bright and hopeful side of the future.

You will realize that you have the reserve force necessary to withstand the strain of life's work and ward off disease and discouragement.

But do not expect this change in a day. Some perseverance is necessary on your part.

The reconstructive process is slow but certain. The depleted nerve cells must be nourished back to health.

You will soon notice signs of improvement which will encourage you to keep up this treatment until the desired results are obtained. The important part is to get the building-up process started now—to-day.

You will notice that while the price of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has been increased to 60c. the box now contains 60 pills instead of 50 as formerly.

Likewise Dr. Chase's Kindey-Liver Pills are 35c. for 35 pills, instead of 25c. for 25 pills.

"I'M THANKFUL I SETTLED IT"

At a mission service in the North of England a miner was touched by the address. At its close he rose to go, but sat down again. A friend said to him, "Come awa' hame, John." The miner replied, "No, I came here to get good, and I havena taken it a in yet." He remained for prayer and conversation, and at last was able to say, "I have wondered if this might be true; I now believe it. The Gospel has brought peace to my soul." The very next day, while working at the face of the coal pit a mass of rock fell on him, causing fatal injuries. As death was nigh a fellow-workman was called to him Stooping down, the dying miner said "Oh, Andrew, I'm thankful I settled it last night."

A Colborne merchant appeared in police court on a charge of raffling fowls in his store, contrary to Section 236 of the Criminal Code. He was found guilty and fined $18 and costs.

CHILDREN COME TO CANADA ON MAGIC CARPET

DESPITE the fact that the Canadian Pacific is the greatest transportation system in the world, it finds it wise and profitable to give individual attention to any little children who may be consigned to its care.

The war broke up families and left orphans in all European countries. Many of these are now being transported to friends and relatives in the United States and Canada. In most cases there is little money, the actual passage being all that can be raised, so there is no question of a companion for the child.

Here is where the great Canadian Pacific becomes nurse, companion, chaperon or guardian for the youthful travellers, transporting them from their homes to the port of embarkation, looking after their comfort and welfare on board ship and, finally, delivering them safe and sound to their destinations in Canada or America. These children, as a rule, are cheerful kiddies who soon work their way into the hearts of their fellow travellers who are generally eager to smooth the paths before the childish feet.

Above are shown some of the little folks who have recently crossed the Atlantic alone. Keeth Herz, an 11-year-old boy, travelled from his home in Usclug on the Russian-Austrian border, to Milwaukee. The company's agent at Warsaw accompanied him to Antwerp, whence he sailed on the S.S. Metagama. A very interesting passenger came over on an August run of the S.S. "Melita," a little 6½-year-old Armenian refugee, who is to become the adopted son of western Canadian farmers, a marvellous change from poverty to plenty. Dick Anderson, the boy being shown the working of the compass by Captain Landy of the S.S. "Melita," was the youngest member of a party of boys sent from England to the Dr. Barnado's Home in North Toronto, Ontario, where waifs from London are given education, a comfortable living and become worthy Canadian citizens.

A Scotch lassie, Rita Tiffey of Dundee, Scotland, boasts of many trophies won by her nimble 9-year-old heels. She owns 4 silver cups and 21 medals won at dancing, and gave much pleasure to all passengers on a recent voyage of the S.S. "Montclare," by executing 16 different dances on her way out to Canada.

DUFFERIN COUNTY OLD BOYS HOLD RE-UNION

Splendid Function Marks Twenty-First Birthday of Winnipeg Association—Four Hundred Present.

Dufferin County Old Boys' Association, of Winnipeg, which has been in continuous operation for twenty-one years, celebrated the anniversary with the biggest reunion of its history in the Marlborough Hotel in the Manitoba capital on Thursday night, March 13th, over four hundred persons being present.

President H. W. Watson was in good form and with the moral support of his charming young wife, who was seated at his right hand, conducted the meeting in a manner that was pleasing to everyone present. While the banquet was being served oldtime favorites were sung with spirit under the direction of Song Leader Chester McClellan. Instrumental music and after dinner speech as engaged the attention of those present for a short time. Numbers included a soprano solo by Mrs. Jas Dowler, violin solo by Albert Lay, piano solo by Miss Jean Barber and a saxophone solo by N. White. The Rev. John Maxwell, with his usual wit and humour, proposed the toast to the sister organizations, recalled the days when he was sent from Dufferin to North Bruce as a missionary and later moved to South Bruce where there was plenty of "Scotch.' A. E. Bowles, representing Peel County, and J. Thorburn, representing Bruce County, fittingly responded to the toast to sister old boys associations.

Prof. G. A. Sproule, who came originally from Amaranth, compared the early struggles of fifty years ago when eggs sold for six cents and butter for eight cents, with the present, and sounded a fine optimistic note for the future. J. J. Rooney, in responding to the toast to the real oldtimers, was also in a most optimistic mood. He does a great deal of travelling over the province and sees evidence of progress on all sides and expressed himself as being sure that good times were coming for all the west and for Manitoba in particular.

Mr. Lennox replied to the toast to Mulmur, recalling the neighborly kindness of the people who lived there then and congratulated the association on getting back to these old habits as was shown by the way the members had responded when some member had bumped into sickness. Col. Clingan, formerly of Ebenezer, Mulmur Twp., now of Virden, Manitoba, spoke fluently of numerous incidents connected with the formation of the organization and of personal experiences in early life in Dufferin county. Among the letters and telegrams of good wishes received were those from Dr. W. J. Black, London, England; R. H. Halbert, M. P., Ottawa; W. J. Brinkman, Swan River; J. S. Cumberland, Los Angeles, Cal., and Prof. T. J. Harrison

Mrs. Emerick, who is visiting her daughters, Mrs. H. H. Gilbert and Mrs. Gardiner, was the guest to receive the coveted association bouquet, being the oldest member present.

After the banquet the older members of the Association adjourned to the "Prairie Rooms" where "card playing" and "visiting" was soon in full swing, while youth and middle age spent a most enjoyable evening in the large ballroom.

C. E. Graham, J. C. McNabb, S. T. Newton and Mrs. J. T. Fisher, who were among the founders of this rapidly growing organization, were present as usual and one could tell from "away back" that satisfaction reigned in their brow as the evening drew to a close

WHO WROTE ON THE GATE?

An errand boy was carefully printing with chalk on a gate these words: "Any Wont is a Lamp unto my Feet." So interested was he with his work that he did not notice a kind-looking old gentleman, who, after walking slowly past twice, returned and stood beside him. "My" said the boy, repeating the letters aloud as he formed them with care "F. double E-T, feet."

"Well done, my boy, well done," said the old gentleman. "Where did you hear that?" "At Sunday school," replied the boy, half frightened, thinking that the old gentleman was going to deliver him up to the police for writing on the gate. "Don't run away, I'm not going to hurt you. What is your name?" "Robert, but for short mother calls me Bob, sir." "So you learned that at Sunday School, did you, and by the way, my boy, do you know what it means?" "No, sir," said Bob.

"What is a lamp?"

"A lamp Why a lamp is a thing that gives light."

"And what is the word the text speaks of?"

"The Bible, sir."

"That's right. Now, how can the Bible be a lamp and give light?"

"I don't know, unless you get it afire," said Bob.

"There is a better way than that my lad. Suppose you were going down some lonely lane on a dark night with an unlighted lantern in your hand, and a box of matches in your pocket, what would you do?'

"Why, of course I would light the lantern, sir," replied Bob, evidently surprised that anyone should ask such a foolish question.

"What would you light it for?"

"To show me the road, sir."

"Very well, now suppose you were walking behind me some day and saw me drop a dollar, what would you do?"

"Pick it up and give it to you sir."

"Wouldn't you want to keep it for yourself?"

Bob hesitated, but he saw a smile on the old gentleman's face, and with an answering smile of his own he said, "I should want to sir, but I shouldn't do it?"

"Why not?"

"It would be taking that which wasn't my own and the Bible says we are not to steal."

"Ah," said the gentleman, "it is the Bible that makes you honest, is it?"

"Yes, sir."

"If you had not heard of the Bible you would steal, I suppose?'

"Lots of boys do," said Bob, hanging down his head.

"And the Bible shows you the right and safe path, the path of honesty?"

"Like the lamp!" said Bob, seeing now what all these question meant "Is that what the text means?"

"Yes, there is always light in the Bible to show us where to go. Now, my boy, do you think it worth while to take this good lamp and let it light you through life?"

"Yes, sir."

"Why?"

"Because if I'm honest I shall not stand any chance of going to prison.'

"And what else?"

Bob thought for a few minutes and said, "If I take the lamp or Bible as my guide, I shall go to heaven.'

"Yes, that is the best reason for taking the lamp. It will light you right into heaven. Here's a dollar for you, my boy, and don't keep the light covered up by not reaching it.'

"Yes, sir," said Bob, taking the dollar and touching his cap, "I'll mind."

"Good-bye my lad." "Good-bye.'

ALEXANDER FAWCETT

Alexander Fawcett, who passed away recently at his home at Kimberley, had reached the ripe age of 91 years. Up to September Mr. Fawcett had enjoyed good health but since that time his health had gradually declined. Mr. Fawcett has lived in the valley below Eugenia Falls for many years. His was the first brick residence built in that community. Fifty years ago or more Mr. Fawcett married the widow of the father of Mr. Thomas T. Moore for twenty-five years the Principal of Acton Public Schools, and grandmother of Mr. J. M. Moore, of the Herald, Georgetown. Several years after death, in 1896, Mr. Fawcett married Mrs. Caroline Thurston, of Acton, the mother of Mr. George F Thurston, now mechanical superintendent of the Courier, of Littleton N. H. Mrs. Fawcett predeceased her husband on August 18th last, and was buried in the family plot in Fairview Cemetery, Acton.

"When you found you hadn't your fare, did the conductor make you get off and walk?" asked the inquisitive man.

"Only get off," was the sad reply "He didn't seem to care wether I walked or sat down."

"We need more mutual understanding."

"Yes," replied Farmer Corntossel "We're workin' along that way. The bankers think they know all about farming and the farmers think they know all about banking."

"There is one thing, Bridget," the new mistress said, "that I insist upon; If you break any dishes, come and tell me at once."

"Sure, ma'am," protested Bridget earnestly, "I can't be runnin' to ye every minute of the day."

OLD LANDMARK GONE

In the early hours of Thursday morning last, the residence and contents, and a Ford car, which was stored in a garage beside the house the property of Mr. Hugh Hogg Brisbane, was burned to the ground Mr. Hogg had been at the social gathering in the town hall here, and did not get home until late, and when he arrived home, put on a fire, after which he proceeded to retire and before doing so went to the pump for a pail of water. When he went out he was shocked to see the roof around the chimney in flames and rushed to the neighbors for help. It was too late, the dry old frame building was rapidly consumed by the flames, which were fanned by a strong wind and it was impossible to save anything. Mr. Hogg was left with only the clothing which he had been about to lay aside only a few minutes before. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

In the burning of this building one of the old landmarks of Brisbane is gone; it having been for many years the post office, and in which the late Mr. Ashley resided and handed out the mail to citizens in the surrounding section. The coming of the rural mails cancelled this, like many other country post offices, but the old sign, "Brisbane Post Office," still adorned the front of the building and now it is gone. Brisbane, which in the early days was a thriving hamlet, is now about off the map, the only building left of prominence, being the school house.—Erin Advocate.

IT SOUNDED TOO GOOD

A woman, wearing an anxious expression, called at an insurance office one morning. "I understand,' she said, "that for $5 I can insure my house for $1,000. "Yes, that is right," replied the agent. "And do you make any inquiries as to the origin of the fire?" anxiously asked the woman. "Certainly," was the prompt reply. "Oh!" and she turned to leave the office. "I thought there was a catch in it somewhere."

A Guelph young man got liquor scripts from three different doctors in one day. He was fined $50.

This simple method does that for millions of women. Now you may use it—and keep that school-girl complexion.

You need only do this

Cleanse the skin regularly, authorities say, to keep your complexion lovely, radiant, youthful. But beware of harsh cleansing methods. They injure skin.

Wash thoroughly with Palmolive Soap—each night before retiring. Rub the creamy, foamy lather well into the tiny pores. Rinse—and repeat the washing. Then rinse again.

Then—if skin is dry—apply a little cold cream. That is all. Skin so cared for is not injured by cosmetics, by wind and sun, or by dirt.

The simple, correct way

You cannot find a more effective beauty treatment. Because Palmolive Soap is blended of rare palm and olive oils—famous for mild but thorough cleansing qualities since the days of Cleopatra. And it is inexpensive.

Be sure you get Palmolive—which is never sold unwrapped. All dealers have it. For just one week try this simple method and watch results. You will be astonished, delighted!

Use Palmolive for the bath, too. Thousands do — it is so economical.

LIVE STOCK TRAIN

Ontario's Better Live Stock Train for 1924 was in Orangeville on Monday, remaining here for the full day. The Train attracted widespread interest and was visited by hundreds of farmers and citizens who found much to interest and instruct them in the different cars. While the attendance of visitors was quite large enough to satisfy the officials in charge of the exhibit, it would undoubtedly have been much larger only for the wretched condition of the country roads, which in many places were well-nigh impassable.

The train consisted of some fourteen cars in addition to dining and sleeping coaches for the accomodation of the officials in charge of the exhibit. Car No. 1, placed near the rear of the train, furnished accommodation for bulls offered for sale to visiting farmers or stockmen. Last year these were carried on the grain. This year they were consigned by local breeders at the different stopping places. Car No. 2 was a feed car and Car 3 carried demonstration beef bulls representing the Shorthorn, Aberdeen Angus and Hereford breeds. In Car 4 were bulls representative of the Ayrshires Jerseys, Holsteins and other dairy breeds. Car 5 was given over to market steers, Car 6 to dairy cows and Car 7 for stock and demonstration purposes. Car 8 was devoted to swine, showing different market grades and also an exhibit of cured Wiltshire sides made from different grades. Sheep were shown in Car 9 and in Car 10 were to be seen light and farm water supply systems designed to solve two of the perplexing problems of farm life. Car 11 carried a varied exhibit of poultry of different breeds and also contained egg grading exhibits and a number of model poultry and colony houses. Car 12 is styled the Live Stock Association car. It contained models of what were considered perfect or nearly approaching perfect cattle and a number of interesting pictures of famous prizewinners and prize-winning herds. Part of the car was devoted to milk and milk products and furnished visitors with an opportunity to secure first-hand information on the care of milk, cream and butter, Babcock testers, sediment testing, etc. Nos. 13 and 14 were passenger coaches fitted up for lecture purposes. When The Banner visited the train No. 14 was crowded to capacity with farmers listening attentively to a lecture on horses and horse breeding by Dr. J A. Sinclair, of Cannington. Each car was in charge of one or more officials, prepared to answer questions or assist visitors in solving problems relating to the different branches of general farming. The whole exhibit was in charge of General Superintendent R. W. Wade, of the Parliament Buildings, Toronto.

DIED IN FLORIDA

Late R. U. McPherson, K. C. Prominent Toronto Lawyer, was Brother of Mrs. F. W. Mahaffy.

Word was received in Toronto last Wednesday of the death in Kissimee Florida, of Robert Urquhart McPherson, K. C., a prominent and honored memmber of the Toronto bar Mr. McPherson, who was a brother of Mrs. (Rev.) F. W. Mahaffy, o. Orangeville, graduated from the University of Toronto in 1883, and was a graduate of the Osgoode Hall Law School class of 1887. His early legal training was with the firm of McPherson & Blackstock, but after graduating in law he joined the firm of McPherson & Robinette, which became the firm of McPherson & Campbell, and eventually the firm of McPherson, Campbell & Jarvis. In addition to his eminence in legal circles, Mr McPherson had been quite prominent in public affairs. Years ago he was a member of the old School Board, and was Chairman for one year. He was a former President of the Young Men's Liberal Club and took an active part in politics as a Liberal. He was a member of the Ontario Club, the Rosedale Golf Club and the Canadian Club. Besides his widow, he is survived by two daughters, Misses Mildred and Rose McPherson.

MRS. JOHN GIBBS

Alton lost a well-known citizen through the death on Saturday March 22nd, of Mrs. Mary Jane Gibbs, widow of the late John Gibbs. The late Mrs. Gibbs, who was 76 years of age, had been in very poor health for the last eleven years. She had been confined to her bed for ten years from the effects of a stroke. She bore her affliction with great patience, never being heard to murmur or complain over her lot. Shortly before her death she contracted a cold. This was first noticed on Wednesday. On Thursday the doctor was summoned. He made a second visit on Friday, when he discovered that pneumonia had developed. A nurse was at once summoned and everything that loving solicitude could suggest was done for the stricken woman, but unfortunately without effect. She passed peacefully away at ten o'clock on Saturday morning. During the ten years that the departed woman was bedfast everything was done that the love of her two daughters could devise to make her happy and comfortable. The late Mrs. Gibbs had been a resident of Alton for fifty years. She was a lifelong member of the Methodist Church and for many years prior to her illness was an active worker in Women's Societies. She was a kindly and a good-hearted neighbor and as such will be greatly missed by the people amongst whom she resided. Her husband predeceased her six years ago. She was also called on to mourn the death of three sons and a daughter. She is survived by two daughters, Misses Ottie and Tone who have the heartfelt sympathy of all their friends and neighbors.

The funeral was held on Monday afternoon, March 24th, interment taking place in Alton Cemetery. Dr. Caldwell, pastor of Alton Methodist Church, conducted the services at the house and grave. During the service "Jesus Lover of My Soul" and "Abide With Me," two of the favorite hymns of the deceased, were sung. The floral tributes included a wreath from the daughters, a wreath from Mrs. F. G. Whyte and Mr. Harry Gartley, niece and nephew, Toronto; spray from Mr. S Near and family, Toronto; spray from Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McClellan Alton; bouquet from Mr. and Mrs L. Cavers, Toronto; and a bouquet from a friend. Relatives from a distanse who attended the funeral included Miss Laura Near, Mrs. Thos Nodwell, Mrs. H. Raine and Mrs. F. G. Whyte, Toronto, and Mr. Harry Gartley, Georgetown. Friends from out of town included Mr. William White and Mrs. E. H. Smith, Orangeville. The pallbearers were Messrs William White, William Rowcliffe Thos. Meek, Alex. Patterson, E. D Barber and Arthur Lovell.

JAS. SCOTT HUNTER

Friends of the family in Orangeville and district were deeply grieved to learn of the death in Toronto on Friday last of Mr. James Scott Hunter, second son of the late W. H. Hunter and Mrs. Rebecca Hunter The Maples. The young man, who was only 27 years of age, had been troubled for some years with some form of heart ailment. He had been quite poorly since the New Year and was compelled to give up work some weeks ago. A week before his death pneumonia developed and it was speedily recognized by the attending physician that his condition was very grave. He was placed in charge of a trained nurse and his mother was summoned to his bedside. He appeared to be doing very well and there were good prospects of recovery until the heart action collapsed quite unexpectedly on Friday His death took place at the home of Mr. C. Finlayson, 61 Indian Road. The late Mr. Hunter was born and spent his boyhood at The Maples and was personally known to almost every person in Orangeville and neighborhood. He was a genial, off-hand chap of pleasing manner and attractive personality, who had a host of friends and few, if any enemies. During the Great War he enlisted for overseas service and went to England, but was not allowed to go to the front on account of a defective heart. After the war he farmed for a couple of years on his farm, the old Johnston property, at the Maples. Eventually he disposed of his effects, leased the property and went to Toronto, where he held the responsible office of Secretary to the Purchasing Department at Toronto City Hall. He was an efficient official and quite popular with his fellow-employees and the heads of his department. The sadness of his death is intensified by the fact that he was engaged to a Toronto young lady, to whom he expected to be married about Easter. Mr. Hunter is survived by his mother and three brothers, W. H. and Bryson, The Maples, and Gordon, living in Toronto. To these and especially to the bereaved mother is the sympathy of the community extended.

Rev. J R Bell, of Toronto, an old and tried friend of the family, held service at the home in Toronto on Saturday afternoon. The remains were brought to Orangeville Saturday night and taken from here to the homestead at The Maples, whence the funeral was held to the family plot in Greenwood Cemetery on Monday afternoon. Despite the terrible condition of the roads there was a very large attendance at the obsequies. Rev. J. R. Bell conducted an impressive service at the home and also officiated at the grave. Deceased was a member of Harris Masonic Lodge and was buried with Masonic honors, a large number of the brethren attending in a body. The beautiful service of the fraternity was read by W. Bro. Dr. W. J. Price, W. M.; W. Bro. A. Connell I. P. M., and R. W. Bro. J. A. V. Preston, P. D. D. G. M. The pallbearers were the three brothers Messrs. W. H, Gordon and Bryson Hunter, and the Messrs. Finlayson three Toronto friends. The floral tributes were many in number and included beautiful designs from the City Hall employees and the staff and heads of the Purchasing Department.

HYDRO RATES REDUCED

The statement of the Orangeville Hydro Electric System as published in these columns a few weeks ago showed a substantial profit on the operation of the system for the year 1923. It was predicted at that time that this would of necessity result in a lowering of the rates then being charged. This promise has been fulfilled and a very substantial decrease has been made in the charges to the domestic and commercial customers which comes into effect immediately. The domestic rates which have been 5c and 2c per K. W. hour have been reduced to 4c and 2c and the commercial rate which has been 10c, 5c and 1c has been lowered to 8c, 4c and .8c. This result has been accomplished by the splendid co-operation shown by the citizens of the town during 1923. In that year the Hydro added 41 domestic customers and 20 commercial customers to its lists. There is no reason why Orangeville citizens should not enjoy even better lighting rates than these It has been pointed out frequently in the press and on the public platform that the present system and practically the same overhead expense would serve for the supply of every house, store and factory in Orangeville. If this overhead were being shared by six hundred or seven hundred customers rather than by four hundred and fifty customers it would mean a considerable lowering of the average cost.

There is a plentiful supply of electrical energy available from the five generating plants with which we are now connected, and we are assured thus that there is no possibility of any lengthy interruption. Hydro service is excellent, being of uniform strength at all times, which means full efficiency, and longer life for lamps, motors and appliances. The citizens of Orangeville own their share of the general system and all the local plant. They have the power to determine how the affairs of both shall be conducted and its interests are their interests. Every new customer added to the Hydro lists brings us a little nearer to another rate reduction. Help Orangeville and help your pocketbooks by helping Hydro.

—"It Pays to Advertise," one of the comedy successes of the day, will be presented in the Opera House on April 10th and 11th, by the Young People of the Orangeville Methodist Church.

"IS MARRIAGE A FAILURE?"

Large Audiences Enjoy Presentation of Famous Comedy Success in Opera House.

Capacity audiences witnessed the presentation of the international comedy success, "Is Marriage a Failure?" in the Orangeville Opera House on Wednesday and Thursday nights of last week. For amusing contretemps and bright, witty repartee, the Play, which is a light comedy in three acts, is hard to excel. If laughter betokens enjoyment then the two audiences who witnessed the performance must have enjoyed themselves to the limit for they were repeatedly convulsed with laughter. The scene of the play is the summer home of Timothy Tolman on the Hudson River near the city of New York. Tolman, who is aptly described as "Mrs. Tolman's worse half," is not altogether happily circumstanced from a domestic point of view. His wife, who is given to lectoring her diminutive husband, is at the same time jealous of her spouse and hotly resents his supposed attentions to Clarice Dalroy Captain Robert Racket's pretty and vivacious wife. Racket is a bright attractive young chap, quite in love with his wife, but very "economical of the truth." His economy in this important essential led to a difficult situation when his uncle, Obadiah Dawson, who had at one time fallen in love with the photo of Clarice and thought of marrying the original, but foolishly sent Racket to do his lovemaking for him, came to visit in the Tolman home. Racket sent his wife to New York in charge of Tolman to get her out of the way and by so doing paved the way for a serious misunderstanding between Clarice and himself and also increased the domestic difficulties of the unhappy Tolman. As is usual in plays of this class, everything was straightened out in the last act and the curtain was rung down on a double reconciliation scene between the two married couples of the plot.

The play was skillfully interpreted by one of the best local casts ever heard in Orangeville. In every instance the part assigned to the player was admirably taken. There is usually one or two weak spots in a cast of local amateurs, but this is assuredly a fault that cannot be charged to the players who presented "Is Marriage a Failure?" Mr. Neil Crowe made an excellent Captain Racket and Miss Mary Hughes was both pretty and vivacious in the part of Clarice. As Mrs. Tolman Miss Alda Tuck interpreted a difficult role with real ability. The same can be said of Mr. William Lovell, who essayed the part of Mr. Tolman with equal facility. As Obadiah Dawson the captain's uncle, Capt. W. J. Adams was inimitable and showed himself a natural actor. Mr. G. B. Hayes was excellent in the role of Mr. Dalroy, Captain Racket's father-in-law, and Miss Berniece Rowan was clever and artful in the part of Katy, the Tolmans' mischievous maid. Mr. Norris Hughes filled the minor part of Hobson, a waiter from the Cafe Gloriana, whose appearance indicated very plainly the character of the cafe. The youngest member of the cast was Miss Nora Savage the bright little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Savage, who was introduced to the audience in the part of "Tootsey Wootsey," the world's youngest Thespian.

The recitative interpolations by Timothy (Mr. Lovall) were particularly good and furnished food for meditation. They were entitled "What's the Use" and "Life's a Funny Proposition After All." An orchestra of seven pieces and piano led by Mr. J. H. Hulme furnished excellent music, Mrs. Russell Morrow acting as pianiste. The Play, which was given under the auspices of Lord Dufferin Chapter, I. O. D. E. was produced and staged under the personal direction and supervision of Mr. William Lovell, late of Winnipeg. Mr. Lovell is an experienced director as well as a clever actor and his work in training the cast had much to do with the finished manner in which the Play was given. He was also responsible for the stage setting, which was unusually fine. The proceeds of the two nights amounted to $305 and the Daughters will net upwards of $100 from the production.

HOSPITAL NOTES

The regular meeting of the Lord Dufferin Chapter, I. O. D. E., will take place at the home of Mrs. J. Z. Henry, Zina St., Friday, April 11th at 3 o'clock.

Miss Barclay, Superintendent of Lord Dufferin Hospital, was called to Guelph last week owing to the death of her brother. Miss Barclay's many friends sympathize with her in her sad bereavement.

The Lord Dufferin Chapter I. O. D. E. wish to express their sincere thanks to all the members in the cast of "Is Marriage a Failure?" for their unstinted efforts and the many sacrifices made by them during the weeks that were spent in practice for the successful play given by them on March 26th and 27th. The Chapter also wish to thank those who so willingly patronized this play and helped to make it the success it was. The proceeds of the concert, "Is Marriage a Failure?" were $305.00.

PARENTAL RESPONSIBILITY

Parents should be held responsible for the conduct of their children. Often boys are arrested for wrong-doing without proper enquiry being made as to the contributory negligence of careless fathers. It is a rare case that children brought up in a normal home under reasonable control develop into law-breakers. It is the neglected child that becomes the delinquent.

Mutual Service
Measured in Millions

THE steady growth and increasing usefulness of this company may be illustrated in no more striking way than by the figures showing the annual payments to policyholders. For example, this table comparing figures for every tenth year since 1873:

1873	$ 2,687
1883	62,595
1893	212,828
1903	493,721
1913	1,390,445
1923	5,369,743

The total disbursements of the Mutual Life to policyholders or their beneficiaries up to the end of 1923 amount to the immense sum of $47,108,707.62.

Policyholders of today will appreciate the present position of the Company when they understand that at the present moment we hold in reserve for future payments no less than $59,383,426.66. This means a total either paid to policyholders, or held in reserve for them exclusively, of $106,492,134.28.

The Mutual Life of Canada is one of the strongest insurance companies in the world. Let us send our literature explaining the principles of true Mutuality.

The remains of the late Mrs. J. A. Brown, who passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. J. Lamont, at Edmonton, Alta., are on their way to Tottenham for interment and are expected to reach here on Saturday morning. Her many friends in Tottenham, where she lived for so many years, and in the country around, where she was so well known, will regret to learn of her demise. Deceased was a daughter of the late William Potter and was born on the 3rd line of Tecumseth 74 years ago. After her marriage to Joseph Albert Brown, she lived in Schomberg for a few years and then came to Tottenham and lived here until five or six years ago, when Mr. Brown went to Schomberg to conduct the drug store for C. A. Weaver. After his death in Schomberg, Mrs. Brown went to Edmonton, where her family reside. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. J. J. Lamont, and three sons, Harold, Norval and Bert, of Edmonton. Two sisters, Mrs. E. Wallwin, of Beeton, and Mrs. C. W. Sydie, of Edmonton, and three brothers, John Potter, of Tecumseth, and William and Robert Potter, of Tottenham, also survive her. The many friends have the sympathy of the community. It is expected the remains will arrive by C. N. R. at 10.07 a.m. on Saturday and will be taken to the home of her nephew, Mr. Walter Potter. Service will be held in the Methodist Church at 4 p.m., followed by interment in Mc Tegart Cemetery.—Tottenham Sentinel.

CARELESS BUT GENEROUS

After a woman customer had left a downtown retail store the clerk who had served her discovered that she had left her purse on the counter and he took it to the manager. The purse was well filled with money and contained a card bearing the name and address of the owner, who was communicated with.

She arrived in due time, proved her property, left a substantial reward for the "honest clerk" and departed. After she had been gone a short time the manager was amazed to find the purse he had delivered into her hand lying on his desk, where she had laid it after extracting the reward money.

Calling the clerk that had found it in the first place the manager directed him to hasten to the address given and deliver the purse there. At the door of a fine residence in a fashionable district he was received by the butler, told to be seated, then, a moment later thanked by the butler in the name of "the lady" and begged to accept another reward from her for the additional service.—Toronto Telegram.

"CANADA"

Verbatim Report of First Prize Oration in High School Oration Contest.

In the High School Oratorical Contest in the Opera House two weeks ago Mr Wilson McConnell was awarded the first prize. "Canada" was the subject on which Mr McConnell spoke, and the following is a verbatim report of his oration

I have chosen as the subject of my oration, "Canada," the land of the forest primeval, of the towering pine and the hemlock, of the lofty mountain, the rolling prairie and the fertile plain, the land destined in time to become the centre of the whole British Empire; the land that the psalmist had in mind when, in the eighth verse of the 72nd Psalm, he wrote "He shall have dominion from sea to sea, and from the river unto the ends of the earth."

I cannot be accused of having chosen a subject that is not large enough to occupy the attention of this audience, because Canada comprises one-third of the British Empire. It is almost as large as Europe larger than the United States and Alaska combined, twice the size of British India, 18 times the size of France, 30 times as large as the British Isles, 33 times the size of Italy and has a population of almost 9 million people.

I would like to draw your attention to a few of the outstanding events connected with the early history of this country, which, on the first of July, will celebrate its 57th birthday. Canada was originally discovered in 1497 by John Cabot the first European to set foot on her soil, but her history dates from 1534, when Jacques Cartier took possession of her for France. At the beginning of the 17th century we find the first great name in Canadian history, Samuel de Champlain, who sailed up the St. Lawrence River in 1603, founded the city of Quebec in 1608, and for 3 years worked unceasingly to develop Canada. In 1642 Maisonneuve founded the city of Montreal and for more than a century after that we find France and England striving for the possession of the new land. On Sept. 13th, 1759 General Wolfe won his great victory on the Plains of Abraham which involved the fall of Quebec. A year later the French army in Canada surrendered and by the Peace of Paris in 1763 the whole of New France was ceded to Great Britain. Thus Canada became a British possession and for a time was governed under the authority of a Royal Proclamation.

In 1774 the Quebec Act was passed giving the people a constitution especially adapted to their needs. The next year brought the American Revolution, which profoundly influenced the life of Canada. During this struggle the United Empire Loyalists emigrated to Canada. In 1791 the Constitutional Act divided Canada at the Ottawa River. The land east of the Ottawa was henceforth to be known as Lower Canada while that on the west was to be known as Upper Canada. In 1837 Louis Joseph Papineau and William Lyon MacKenzie led armed revolts in Lower and Upper Canada respectively. As a result of these revolts Queen Victoria sent Lord Durham out from England to investigate and make a report on the conditions existing in this country. In his famous report, which was a masterly survey of the situation and included recommendations which vitally influenced the later history of Canada, he said: "I found two nations warring in the bosom of a single state." In 1840, on the strength of Lord Durham's recommendations the British Government passed an Act of Union joining Upper and Lower Canada, but this proved a failure because it did not give political stability. The French in Lower Canada and the English in Upper Canada were sufficiently equal in strength to make the task of government well nigh impossible. The opportunity for a change came in 1864, when New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island were considering a federal union. Canada suggested a wider plan, which included herself and in October, 1864, a conference was held at Quebec. The result was "The British North America Act," and on July 1st, 1867, the Dominion of Canada came into existence.

At that time Canada was made up of four provinces, Ontario, Quebec New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, but provision was made in the Act whereby new provinces might be added at any time. Manitoba was the first to take advantage of the provision and entered in 1870. British Columbia entered in 1871, and 1873 brought Prince Edward Island into the Dominion. In 1878, in order to remove all doubt about unoccupied territory an Imperial Order-in-Council was passed in response to a request from the Canadian Parliament, annexing to the Dominion all British possessions in North America, with the exception of Newfoundland. Thus it was that Canada as we have it today, came into existence.

Fifty years ago Canada was in its infancy, but the people of our country, with that sturdy British pluck which has distinguished them and of which we have a right to be proud stood up in the face of adversity They gathered themselves together they took advantage of every opportunity, and out of the stress of suffering and the travail of circumstance, they brought up into view of the entire world what the country is to-day.

A thousand miles of prairie,
By master warrior won;
Behold her windows open wide
To greet the rising sun.

A thousand miles of river,
A thousand miles of sea,
A thousand miles of silvered peaks
A nation rich and free.

And when I say nation I mean nation. Let me give you a word-picture of that historic session of the Peace Conference following the Great War, when the Peace Pact had been drawn up and was about to be signed. Representatives of all nations involved were present. The late Woodrow Wilson, then the President of the United States, signed the document on behalf of our American cousins; Lloyd George signed in the name of Great Britain and then Sir Robert Borden signed the historic document on Canada's behalf. Sir Robert Borden came away from the Peace Conference with a certificate of nationhood for Canada, recognized by the leading nations of the world.

Canada to-day is vastly different from what she was half a century ago. We see evidence of change on every hand and where we see evidence of change we find evidence of progress. Achievement and advancement as a result of the unswerving patriotism and incessant toil of our statesmen in carefully mapping out and profitably executing plans for the development of her boundless wealth have characterized her history. To-day we find immigration pouring in from all the other countries of the world, and, although the exodus to the United States has lately been a matter of some concern to us, immigration greatly exceeds emigration. Ours is a country of vast treasure and resources and we are only at the threshold of its greatness. We have every reason to believe that we are entering upon a period of development and growth even greater and more important than that which we have witnessed in the past. The marvellous growth of our western country will undoubtedly continue and there is no reason to suppose that similar, if not equal development will not come to Eastern Canada as well. We have natural resources of an unrivalled character. We have every known mineral of commercial value except tin. Canada leads the world in the production of asbestos and also ranks high in the production of gold and silver. We have the finest soil on the continent. We produce the best wheat in the world and occupy second place among the wheat-growing countries. Last year we had the most bountiful harvest in our history. With resources like our timber, our minerals and our fish which are mines in themselves so to speak, we find that Canada stood fourth among the 34 countries of the League of Nations in volume of exports and imports, first in volume of commerce per capita, and third in export trade. Our trade has multiplied 20 times, our exports 23-fold and our imports 20-fold since the time of Confederation. Of all the Dominions the Dominion of Canada is the most economically developed. Canada's credit standing in the United States was never better than it is to-day.

And then we have those free institutions which are the heritage of our British ancestry and which we have worked out in our own way on this continent of North America. When we compare our position with that of others it becomes evident that our country is one of the most favored in the world. With the exception of the United States there is not a single nation that is enjoying a measure of prosperity comparable with that of Canada. Surely our lines have fallen to us in pleasant places.

Our position in the world to-day is as favorable as it is, chiefly because of our resolute spirit to meet our obligations. The Great War cost us 2 billions of dollars. We entered the struggle with a debt of $42 per capita and emerged from it with a debt of over $250 per capita. We have pledged ourselves to wipe out that debt and we will wipe it out if it takes from now until the crack of Doom. The world knows to-day that above everything else Canada produces a gallant race of men. They were so gallant and such lovers of freedom that Canada was the first country under the British flag to abolish slavery. They were so gallant that to-day there are 50,000 Canadian graves in France and Great Britain. Canada is closely and inseparably united to the British Empire by ties of kinship and sentiment, by historic association, by tradition and by the free will of her people, we have the freest form of government in the world, where from day to day the people are in close touch with their rulers and can sweep them aside when they so desire. The moral standard of our people is as high as that of any other nation on earth. And we have, in addition to all this, that which we prize so highly, and that which we love most of all, namely, we have the protection of the motherland, of the Great British Empire.

FATS VS. LEANS

The snowball game, Fats vs Leans in the arena on Tuesday evening drew a crowd of about 500 people and added a tidy sum to the funds of the hockey club. It was burlesque hockey, the puck was a football and the sticks were brooms and with short straw. The players were not on skates and were more or less disguised, some with burnt cork. There was more fun than you could shake a broomstick at. Mayor Irving opened play with the first face-off, but couldn't get it going until after Referee Millson had sent the first two facers to the penalty box for too much mixing up. From start to finish the play seemed to be for blood, with burlesque rough stants, frequent penalties and numerous casualties. The first man to be laid out, Reveree Blain, was picked up by an efficient corps of stretcher bearers and carried to the advanced dressing station, where Dr Heslop, Principal Medical Officer administered first aid and gave a restorative which looked like cold tea and it is to be hoped cheered without inebriating. The P. M. O should have been at least mentioned in despatches for his distinguished services. The Leans won 3 to 0 scoring a goal in each of the three periods. The Fats had the advantage in weight, but the Leans had it in condition and, according to the Fats, took an unfair advantage in playing in spiked shoes and working a roller on them by the introduction of a white cat decorated with yellow ribbon as a mascot. Who they ask, could win against that? They talk of a protest. Chief Constable Chapman was on the job to restrain any players who let their angry passions rise. The first pair whom he yanked off and released after a severe reprimand were Tom Brown and Adam Sproat. Later he waltzed off the Reeve and T. G Ramshaw. Still later there was a free-for-all, in which Andy Fleming figured. He was dragged off the ice by one of his ears, firmly grasped by Fred Little, made up to the life as a woman—Andy's wife. There was no end of cheering and laughing throughout, except that it was stopped for awhile by a real casualty. A. L. McNabb slipped and fell against the side boards. His forehead was cut, he was stunned for a while and had to drop out of the game, but was not badly hurt. The band played selections during the evening. The line-up:

Leans—Goal, R. Akins; defence W. R. Wheeler and A. L. McNabb rover, T. J. Brown; centre, E. B Graham; wings, J. F. Little and Dr. Sutherland; subs., J. W. Blain, E Syer, A. L. Chambers, J. L. Sanderson.

Fats—Goal, T. Harris; defence C. Toletzka and M. F. Panton; rover A. Sproat; centre, T. G. Ramshaw wings, R. M. Clements and G. H Dawson; subs., A. Fleming and W Anderson.

Referee—A. E. Millson.

Harold Fay won the musical chair race. In the race, boys under 16 Sidney Childs won, with Edward Buchan second.—Milton Champion.

Oakville Town Council has voted the town band a grant of $500.

PEEL COUNTY COUNCIL

Digest of Business Transacted at the March Session.

The March session of the County Council came to a conclusion on Saturday evening and after the second day there was little more said about Brampton's separation from the county. The success of the peace conference of Tuesday and Wednesday is still unknown, but it is hoped that the rupture between the rural and urban municipalities will be amicably settled.

On Friday the equalization committee juggled with the question of pleasing all municipalities and their report was received with very little discussion. The following is the equalized assessment: For Albion $1,775,000; Caledon $2,135,000 Chinguacousy, $4,555,000; Toronto Gore, $1,025,000; Brampton, $2600,000; Bolton, $210,000; Port Credit $575,000; Steeetsville, $241,000 total, $18,196,000.

The total county rate for the year will amount to $65,000, which is an increase over the preceding year of $5,000; Brampton's rate has increased over $2,000. Last year it was $7,126,33, and this year it will be $9,436.86. The following are county rates assessed against the municipalities: Albion, $6,460.62 Caledon $7,767.26;Chinguacousy, $16,423.77 Toronto Township, $17,494.49; Toronto Gore, $3,774.74; Brampton $9,436.86; Bolton, $746.02; Port Credit, $1,996,26; Streetsville, $881..98.

The share apportioned each municipality on account of the 20-year debentures raised this week for the provincial highway debt is as follows:—Albion, $1,335.92; Caledon $1,606.11; Chinguacousy, $3,393.09 Toronto Gore, $780.54; Brampton $1,951.34; Bolton, $151.98; Port Credit, $412.78; Streetsville, $182.38; total, $18,191.00.

The decision of the county council good roads committee at their last session to practice economy by not spending any money for opening up the roads was explained by Reeve James McDonald, of Caledon, who gave his opinion that better use could be found for the money expended on shovelling snow. He gave one instance in Caledon where the township got a bill of $20 last January for shovelling after the first storm of the season, saying "This was for a short piece of road. We figure if we had kept on paying for shovelling we would have had to foot a bill of $3,000 this winter.

Deputations for and against creating Caledon a police village, invited considerable discussion at the Friday session. Before the council will take any definite stand, J. R Hillyard was appointed census taker of the village and on his report will be based Caledon's chances of becoming a police village. Opposition to the move claim that the village lacks the necessary population of 150. Citizens of the village are desirous of the change and advance a number of reasons. Farmers, living so close to the village as to be troubled with increased taxation under the change, are those opposed

On Saturday Council passed a resolution, which threatens to eliminate one of the offices of Police Magistrate Moore, of Acton. It was "Resolved that this council do recommend to the Attorney-General of the Province of Ontario, that the Police Magistrate System inaugurated by the late government be abandoned and that the Police Constables and License Inspectors under the O. T. A. and other officers of the law be instructed to lay all information before the resident magistrate in the County of Peel, and that the order issued by the late Attorney-General in respect to informations being laid before Magistrate H. P. Moore, of Acton, be rescinded, and that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Attorney-General by the clerk."

Although Toronto township representatives criticized Road Engineer N. L. Powell on Friday for not giving the southern township the service it was entitled to as regulated by the rate it pays to the county, all smoked the pipe of peace on Saturday and Mr. Powell was reappointd road superintendent at last year's salary of $2700.

Inspector Galbraith presented his annual report on Saturday, and showed that an increase of 10 per cent. in the total school attendance for the county was noted last year.

The aggregate rural attendance was 389,736, or 83.78 per cent., the aggregate urban attendance, 248,106, or 91.35 per cent., a total of $619,944, or 86.42 per cent. The per cent .of attendance for the municipalities was Albion 80; Caledon 85.43; Chinguacousy, 85.43; Toronto township, 84.26; Toronto Gore 87.53; Bolton, 93.15; Port Credit 84.30; Streetsville, 86.49; Brampton 94.52.

The Inspector said that he finds the work in the schools improving. There are 15 male and 116 female teachers on the staff, the average salary paid to males is $1400 and to Females, $1030. The highest salary paid to males is $2200, and to females $1400. During 1923, the approximate cost of the new buildings put into commission was $25,000 The total receipts for the year were $546,154.85; expenditures, $407,300.66; balance, $138,855.19. The amount paid out for salaries was $135,172.25, and for building, furniture, etc., $194,737.30.—Peel Banner

TO PRIVY COUNCIL

Highest Court in Empire to Decide on Grants to Ontario Public Schools.

In the Ontario Legislature on Friday last Premier Ferguson, as Minister of Education, secured second reading for a bill amending the Education Act. The bill bulks all the changes the Minister of Education desires at present to have made in education grants and regulations. The measure was described by Hon W. E. Raney as the most important legislation before the House in years and the main discussion on it will take place in committee when each clause will be the cause of debate. The Liberals objected to going through with such an important measure as the new insurance act on a Friday afternoon and it was left over until next week. It contains 274 clauses and covers every insurance activity within the jurisdiction of provincial legislation.

To Privy Council

Premier Ferguson announced during the debate on education that at a conferance between the government and officials representing separate schools it was agreed that the matter of grants to separate schools should be taken to the courts and ultimately to the privy council of be disposed of for all time. Both parties had agreed that this should be done so that a difficulty which had caused controversy for years should be cleared up permanently The premier reviewing briefly the history of the difficulty, explained that under the constitution, the British North America Act, the divisions of moneys in grants to separate and public schools was laid down. Regulations were later formed by the legislature whereby the grants were given on merit of schools. As a result of this the public schools earned more than their grants under the B.N.A. clauses while the separate schools did not earn as much as the orignal grants amounted to.

Statute Not Constitutional.

All the moneys of the original grants not earned under this merit system by the separate schools were put back in the conslidated funds of the province for general governmental use. In 1919 the law officers of the government gave it as their opinion that the statute giving out the money on the merit system was not constitutional. Hon. W. E. Raney then attoney general, paid the $100,000 involved into the court and the government of the day decided to have a test case

The premier explained that when he came into power he thought that the statue could not be over-ridden by any legal opinion expressed and that therefore he reverted for the time to the system of paying the grants of merit. The surplas to earned by the separate schools again went to consolidated fund and was not paid into court. "We have had friendly conferances with separate school representatives and decided to have a law action taken which will be decided by the privy council of the Empire," said the Premier. "We do not think a stated case would have the desired result. The action is being taken with the approval of both sides."

Hon. W. E. Raney agreed that an action at law would be better than a test case and stated that he had said so when the previous government had decided to have a test case.

Premium on Local Interest

The Prime Minister explained that there was a grant of $125,000 to schools which was fixed. For other grants above this sum he proposed new regulations as contained in the new bill . He said that the distribution of school grants now was not equitable. The new basis would be grants ranging in amount as the school sections themselves expended. "We will put a premium on local interest in education," he said. "We will figure the ability of the local section to pay by the assessment. There will also be a basis of the school population."

The qualification of teachers would not be overlooked. Another important amendment he spoke about was that by which high school districts shall not be assessed for the support of pupils who leave that district to attend the high school of another district near.

Investment in Education

Mr. Ferguson gave some interesting figures on Ontario's Educational costs and investment. He said $80,000,000 was invested in buildings and equipment for primary education. It costs $32,000,000 a year to operate these schools and one half of that amount is paid in teachers' salaries. The cost to the department is about $5,000,000. Invested in secondary schools and equipment is $20,000,000, and the annual expenditure is $9,500,000, of which $4,000,000 is for teachers' salaries. He intended, he said, to get similar figures on the universities, to give the House.

C. S. Representation

Second reading was also given a bill changing the superanuation act. Hereafter the superannuation affairs will be handled by a board of three instead of seven at present. One of the three will be a representative of the civil servants.

"ROD AND GUN"

A good description of a canoe trip taken in the Kiamika lake district Quebec, with a map showing the route, and full details concerning the trip, is written by J. Jenkins in the April issue of ROD AND GUN IN CANADA. This number also contains a good bear hunting story by T. C. Young, who describes his bear hunt on the Goat River, British Columbia, and a big game hunt in Alberta by E. Hang; both of which are unusually good stories. Sportsmen will be interested in the fishing story by Mark McElhinney, of Ottawa, and in the contributions of F. V. Williams, Bonnycastle Dale and Martin Hunter. H. W. Fry continues his series on shooting from the sitting point rest, while J. R. Mattern has another article, "What is in the High Velocity .30-30." Joseph Martin completes an interesting gun department with his account of the .22 Long Rifle at all Ranges. The other regular departments contain much of interest, and the April issue will be enjoyed by all those interested in Canadian sport.

A Tribute

Our ability, to explain in print why The Hoover excels, is dwarfed by the enthusiastic endorsement of a half million Hoover users, thousands of whom have been using Hoovers on their carpetings for the past ten or twelve years.

Why Ford Predominates

Many Reasons From Many Users

If you were to ask the next fifty Ford owners you meet why they prefer Fords, you would get a wide variety of answers.

Some would say, "Because they seem never to wear out;" others would answer, "Because they cost so little." Many would reply "Because I can get service anywhere;" and just as many, "Because it is the only car I can afford to own."

All would tell you, "Because they master a bad road in any weather," a woman driver would respond, "Because I can drive it so easily." From the fleet-owners you would hear, "Because I can buy two or three or four Ford Trucks for the price of one big truck.

Wherever you might inquire you would hear expressed these basic reasons why Ford predominates—why, year after year, Ford sales equal the total sales of all other cars combined.

A GOOD MEDICINE FOR SPRINGTIME

Do Not Use Harsh Purgatives—A Tonic is All You Need.

Not sick—but not feeling quite well. That is the way most people feel in the spring. Easily tired, appetite fickle, sometimes headaches and a feeling of depression. Pimples or eruptions may appear on the skin, or there may be twinges of rheumatism or neuralgia. Any of these indicate that the blood is out of order—that the indoor life of winter has left its mark upon you and may easily develop into more serious trouble.

Do not dose yourself with purgatives, as many people do, in the hope that you can put your blood right. Purgatives gallop through the system and weaken instead of giving strength. Any doctor will tell you that this is true. What you need in the spring is a tonic that will enrich the blood and build up the nerves. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do this speedily, safely and surely. Every dose of this medicine helps to enrich the blood, which clears the skin strengthens the appetite and makes tired, depressed men, women and children bright, active and strong. Mr. Henry R. Robinson, Cruickshank Sash., says: "My blood was out of order and I was nervous and run down. I got a supply of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and after taking them for a while they fully restored my health. I am now feeling fine and have no hesitation in recommending these pills to all who are feeling unwell."

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont

NOMINATE SCOTT

Popular Dufferin Defence Man in the Field for First Vice-President of O. A. L. A.

At a largely attended meeting of the Dufferin Lacrosse Club, held in the Library Auditorium on Friday night, Mr. Raspin Scott, one of the defence players on the senior team for several seasons, was unanimously nominated for First Vice-President of the O. A. L. A. Scott was Second Vice-President of the Association last season and as he is widely known and well liked in lacrosse circles it is thought that his chances for election to the higher office should be very good indeed. "Raspin," as he is called by the boys was captain of the 1923 senior team and was one of the mainstays of the defence end of the hockey team during the season just closed.

By a unanimous vote the meeting adopted a report, which recommended the appointment of a Board of Directors to manage the affairs of the Dufferin Lacrosse Club for 1924. The appointment of officers committees and delegates to the Good Friday convention of the O. A. L. A. were left in the hands of this Board. The Directors, ten in number, are Messrs. Jas. Armstrong C. V. Jeffers, Dr. T. H. Henry, E. C. Clark, Dr. Rooney, E. A. Menary Dr Campbell, A. W. Dods, E. G. Bingham and E. H. Sproule.

The meeting was almost unanimous in the decision to place senior junior, juvenile and midget teams in the field this year. One of the features of the meeting was the large number of juvenile and midget players present. The attendance and interest shown by these younger boys augurs well for the success of the juvenile and midget teams. President Jas. Armstrong occupied the chair and Bert Booth acted as Secretary.

THANK THE LADIES

At a meeting of Orangeville Royal Black Preceptory No. 621 held on Friday evening, March 28th, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:—

"That we, the members of R. B. P. No. 621, tender a hearty vote of thanks to the ladies' committee of St. Mark's Episcopal Church for their kindness in donating the sum of $10.00 towards the expenses of the Black Demonstration held here last August."

SCIENCE DEMANDS UNIFORMITY

Careful research made in recent years in the study of dietetics has shown the great importance to the human system of purity and uniform quality in foods. It is a great blessing that to-day so many delicious foods as well as tea and coffee can be procured in tins and sealed packages. "SALADA" Tea was one of the first pure food products to become widely popular in Canada. The flavour-preserving aluminum package keeps the tea fresh and delicious. Skilful blending maintains the quality absolutely uniform.

SLIDES WILL BE SHOWN

A set of beautifully colored lantern slides, made from photographs taken at the eighth annual summer school of the Toronto Conference Young People's League, held at Elgin House, Lake Joseph, Muskoka, last July, will be shown at the Methodist Church next Monday evening, April 7th, under the auspices of the Young People's League. Six delegates from the Orangeville Young People's League attended the school last summer. The slides will therefore be of local interest. There will be no charge for admission. A good musical program is being arranged.

The Spring is a time of anxiety to mothers who have little ones in the home. Conditions make it necessary to keep the baby indoors. He is often confined to overheated, badly ventilated rooms and catches colds which rack his whole system. To guard against this a box of Baby's Own Tablets should be kept in the house and an occasional dose given the baby to keep his stomach and bowels working regularly. This will prevent colds, constipation or colic and keep baby well. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers, or by mail, at 25 cents a box, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

KILLED IN DETROIT

Mr. R. J. McCollum, elder brother of Rev. A. C. McCollum, of Alliston, formerly of Mono East Parish was killeld while motoring in Detroit a few days ago. Particulars of the fatality were contained in the following despatch to the Canadian dailies:—

"Robert J. McCollum, 40 year old, 1084 Vandyke Avenue, wealthy manufacturer and real estate man and a native of Georgetown, Ont. received injuries from which he died a short time later and his eleven year old daughter sustained a fractured skull to-day, when his automobile crashed into a taxicab at the intersection of Agnes and Seminole avenues. The child's condition is critical. McCollum and his three daughters, Eleanor 11, Marie and Gertrude 7, were driving along Agnes avenue, when the accident occurred, their car being turned over with the occupants inside. The two younger girls escaped serious injury."

A Ready Help For The Girl Who Needs Blood

DURING the critical period between twelve and seventeen there is a special strain on the young girl's system which often leaves her in a weak run-down condition.

She becomes anaemic or bloodless.

The gums and eyelids as well as the complexion generally become very pale and there is weakness and lassitude.

Indigestion and constipation are usual.

There is shortness of breath, palpitation of the heart, headaches and irregularities of the vital organs.

These symptoms are also common to chlorosis in which case the complexion assumes a greenish tinge.

Since Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is the greatest of blood builders this is the treatment indicated.

The restorative qualities of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food have never been more certainly proven than in the treatment of young girls for anaemia, chlorosis and such ailments which arise from a debilitated condition of the blood.

Since young girls seldom understand themselves at this age the responsibility rests with the mother.

The whole future health and happiness of your daughter may depend on getting through this critical period in good physical condition.

There is no question of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food being the most effective means of overcoming the anaemic condition.

It is only necessary to have a little patience and keep up the use of the Nerve Food regularly until the growing body is supplied with an abundance of rich, red, life-sustaining blood.

You will notice that while the price of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has been increased to 60c. the box now contains 60 pills instead of 50 as formerly.

O'NEILL-JAMESON

The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Jameson, Inglewood, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Tuesday afternoon, March 25th, at three o'clock, when their daughter, Joy, was married to Arol John O'Neill, of Georgetown, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Harry Pawson, of Inglewood. The house was beautifully decorated with evergreens and carnations, great bowls of sweet peas being used on the buffet. Little Katherine Hunter, of Norwich, and Mary McCannell, of Inglewood, cousins of the bride, held ribbons, suspended from the bridal arch, and formed an aisle through which the bride passed on the arm of her father, who gave her away. She was gowned in white silk organdie and looked very sweet and girlish under bridal veil and orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of lily-of-the valley with long streamers of satin. The flower girls were in cream silk, with overdresses of net trimmed with lace, and they carried baskets of white sweet peas. After luncheon had been served, the bride assumed her travelling dress of navy blue poiret twill, hat of grey braid trimmed with flowers, and left for the honeymoon trip with her husband, Detroit and Lansing, Mich., being their objective points. On their return they will live in Georgetown. The bride was the recipient of a large number of very handsome and useful presents, the young ladies of the community presenting her with a handsome kitchen shower.

DROWNED IN GRENADIER POND

The sad news was received in town on Sunday evening last by his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gillespie, Main Street East, of the fatal drowning of Elmo Gillespie, the nine year old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Earl Gillespie, of 12 Annette St. Toronto, formerly of this town. Roy McGowan, aged 8, also went to his death in the same manner at the same time and place. The double drowning occurred late on Sunday afternoon while the lads were crossing the treacherous ice on Grenadier Pond in High Park. One of the boys was reaching into a hole in the ice for a tin can they had been playing with, when the ice gave way and he fell in. The other boy tried to rescue his school chum and also fell in. The bodies of the children were recovered in fourteen feet of water some minutes later, but life was extinct. The remains of the little Gillespie lad were brought to Shelburne on Tuesday evening's train and taken to the home of his grandparents, from which place the funeral takes place on Wednesday afternoon to Shelburne Cemetery.—Free Press.

W. A. Reid, who leaves Holstein shortly for Thorndale, where he has been appointed manager of the Bank of Montreal, was tendered a farewell reception in Roberts' Hall by the people of Holstein. On behalf of the community, W. J. Sharpe read a complimentary address, while Mesdames Roberts and Fenton made the presentation of a handsome clock and reading lamp.

M'KIM'S DIRECTORY

There are 1,499 newspapers and regularly published periodicals in Canada, against 1553 a year ago. Daily newspapers have decreased from 121 to 114; semi-weeklies from 34 to 30, and weeklies from 1,022 to 976. On the other hand a small increase has taken place during the year in the number of monthly and semi-monthly periodicals.

These facts are shown in McKim's Directory of Canadian Publications under which name the Seventeenth Edition of the Canadian Newspaper Directory has just been issued. It is the only complete directory of the publications of Canada and Newfoundland, giving accurate, physical and circulation details of each publication.

At the back of the book are several lists of publications arranged for convenient use of the advertiser such as the condensed list arranged by Provinces, the list of daily newspapers, the newspaper list arranged by counties, the classified list of general and special publications, and a list of publications in languages other than English or French, with statistics as to the populations they reach.

Information on the geography population and industries of each Province is given, as well as detailed facts about each city, town and village where a newspaper or other publication is issued. McKim's Directory thus is a valuable compendium of information commonly required by those whose business demands a general or specific knowledge of Canada.

A. McKim, Limited, is the publisher. In the preface it modestly states that it is only because of the service it renders to advertisers that it has become and remained the largest Advertising Agency in Canada.

The price of McKim's Directory of Canadian Publications is $3.00. Copies may be had from the McKim offices at Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, Hamilton, and London, England, 6 Norfolk St. W. C. 2.

The matter was decided at a conference held in Brampton last week when October 15th to 18th inclusive were fixed as the dates. The representatives of the Association visited Mr. Bull's farm, where they planned for the plowing courses, the spaces for the machinery exhibits, which it is estimated will extend under canvas for a distance of half a mile and attended to other details. Brampton Town Council and Board of Trade pledged a banquet to the winners and prominent guests and also promised their influence and co-operation in promoting the match

FUNERAL SERVICE

The funeral service for the late James Sawden was held in the Gravel Road Church on Sunday afternoon, March 16th, at three o'clock, conducted by the pastor, Rev. G. H. Pogson, B. A., the congregation being larger than usual considering the unfavorable condition of the roads. At the time of Mr. Sawden's death some six weeks ago it will be remembered that Mrs. Sawden was ill from nervous shock and it was therefore thought better to postpone the preaching of the funeral sermon to some future date but as an epidemic of measles has been in the neighborhood almost ever since from which the family has only just recovered, the service for our departed neighbor was held over until now. The reverend gentleman chose his text from I. John 5:11, dwelling on the eternity of life and the blessedness of living in this world a true Christian life. The late Mr. Sawden was identified with the Methodist Church at Melancthon all his lifetime and his absence will be felt both in the church and community where he has been a familiar figure for so many years. From a prima facie view his somewhat sudden and early demise would seem a cruel and crushing blow to the bereft widow and children of tender years who now suffer the loss of a devoted husband and father, but it also seems to be the unerring verdict of the divine will of Providence and we can only hope that it is for the best. The sorrowing family have the sincere sympathy of all in their affliction.—Economist.

A most enjoyable time was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Nodwell, Cedar Valley, near Hillsburg, when ninety and nine of the young people and their friends of the Christian Church, gathered to spend a social time together. The evening was spent in music and games and community singing. An impromptu program was also given and a dainty lunch was served.

American Tourists Present Canadian National Railways With Fine Map

An event, probably unique in the history of steam transportation on this continent, took place recently when Mr. and Mrs. Alvah Davison, of Brooklyn, New York, presented the Canadian National Railways with a magnificent topographical map of Jasper National Park, as a mark of appreciation for service and courteous treatment accorded them when they were passengers over the lines of the system from Montreal to Prince Rupert last summer. Mr. Davison is the president of a large publishing house in New York City.

The gift, which came as a distinct surprise to officials of the Canadian National Railways, is the finest map ever made of Jasper National Park. Mr. and Mrs. Davison were guests for several days at Jasper Park Lodge, the summer resort operated by the Canadian National Railways in the Park, and it was there that they reached the decision to have the map made and presented to the Company. It is six feet long and four feet wide and is painted in oils by Mr. Richard Rummell, one of the outstanding artists in the United States. It shows not only the main ranges of mountains and the higher peaks, but also all the lakes, rivers, motor roads, pony trails, railway lines and the location of the town of Jasper and Jasper Park Lodge.

In making the map, Mr. Rummell secured the co-operation of the Geological Department of the Canadian Government and the Engineering Department of the Canadian National Railways. As a result the map is said by experts to be the most accurate sketch of that great national playground in existence. The map has been framed in a gold moulding bearing a plate giving the names of the donors, and it will be hung in Jasper Park Lodge when the Lodge is opened on the 1st of June.

Jasper National Park is considered the most beautiful of all Canada's National Parks, and the hostel which the Canadian National Railways maintain there has become so popular that it has been necessary to make extensive additions to it to meet the demand for accommodation. It is composed of a series of rustic lodges that harmonize with the surroundings, and all who have visited it have been delighted with its ideal location, its service and its novel type of architecture. Jasper Park Lodge is situated on Lac Beauvert near the foot of Mount Edith Cavell. It is three miles from the railway station, to which it is connected by a fine motor road over which the Canadian National Railways operate a fleet of motor cars to take tourists to and from the Lodge.

Miss Eva Tate, of Grand Valley who is teaching this year at Newtonville, up Yonge St., had a rather exciting experience the other night. For the past fortnight she had been confined to her room, with some one in attendance. About three o'clock in the morning the house next door took fire, the danger being so great that Eva was carried out to a house across the road, and as a result she suffered very greatly from shock. The house was completely burned and was only a few feet away from Eva's temporary home.

KILLED BY A TREE

A sad accident occurred on Tuesday afternoon on the farm of Mr John McGuire, just south of the town Leo Trongeau, of Trango, who had been helping Mr. McGuire getting out wood, was working alone felling a tree in the bush. Mr. McGuire and Mr. John Anderson, who were returning for a load of wood, noticed him chopping, but the tree fell before they got there. Apparently Trongeau passed under it in trying to get out of the way and a limb struck him on the head. The weight of the tree did not come on him at all. He was conscious and wished to be taken to Mr. McGuire's, but died shortly after arrival. Dr. Reynolds coroner, after conferring with the County Crown Attorney, decided to hold an inquest on Wednesday evening, as best serving the interests of all concerned.

Dr. Meikle performed the autopsy yesterday morning. He found no external injuries whatever except a slight bruise on top of the head. The skull was not injured and the brain was normal throughout, so that he is of the opinion that death was simply caused by shock.

The unfortunate man has lived hereabouts for a long time and was unmarried. His father was French and died as the result of a fall from the loft of the stable of the old hotel, northeast corner of Main and Queen streets. He had made thirty trips to the West, principally on harvesters' excursions. Several members of the family survive.—Mt. Forest Confederate.

RETURNS AFTER MANY YEARS

A visitor to town whom many older residents were glad to see was Mr. Hugh Lemon, of the Canadian Soo. Having recently recovered from a severe illness, Mr. Lemon came to Tossorontio to see his brothers, Messrs. Robert Lemon, of Everett, James Lemon, of Lisle and Wm. Lemon, of town. It is thirty-five years since Mr. Lemon who is a native of Everett, left these parts. During all these years he has been a railroad engineer, running out of the Soo. In days long gone by, he was one of six young fellows who left Everett to join the volunteers and go into the wild and woolly Northwest under Middleton to fight Indians and half breeds in 1885. The other five were Moses (Mosey) Bennett, Ned Wiggins, Jos. Dunham Archie McIntyre and Arnold Fisher. They all survived the rigors of the campaign and returning home, scattered far and wide. Archie McIntyre turned out to be a soldier born and later went through the South African war and the Great War. After returning from France he called on Mr. Lemon at the Soo and possessed enough medals to cover his chest. Mr. Lemon is accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Will Nelson of the Soo. She is an accomplished vocalist and in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday evening sang a solo very creditably.—Alliston Herald.

IT CAUSED EXCITEMENT

Quite a bit of excitement was created in town last Thursday forenoon by the report that a timber wolf had been shot on the east half of lot 23, con. 5, Amaranth township, the previous afternoon, by Wilmer Ritchie, the fourteen year old son of Joseph Ritchie. The animal had been seen about three weeks previously by Victor Johnston and Thos. Ferguson, and on Wednesday, while on the way to Laurel, Joseph and John Ritchie, of Black's Corners, and Robt. Ritchie, of Shelburne, had caught sight of it. When Wilmer heard his father talking about the animal on his return home from Laurel, he took a shotgun and started out after the unwelcome visitor. When he tried to get close enough for a shot he was unsuccessful. When Wilmer made off as though he were running away, however, the animal took after him until it got out in the open where he could get a straight shot at it. Then one shot did the trick. The body was brought in to Dr. Morgan for examination Thursday, but that gentleman was of the opinion that instead of being a wolf it was a dog with a fox strain. Where the creature came from is not known, the first time it was seen in the neighborhood where it was shot being, as before stated, about three weeks ago.—Economist.

Women you envy have only this secret

You, too, may employ it to keep the radiance and bloom of youthful skin

Radiant, with the charm of youth still theirs, millions of clever women are admired—and envied!—today.

Yet they have no difficult, hidden secret—no great gift.

Only this simple method—which is for you, too. To give you, as well, the charm you envy in them.

For one week do this

Cleanse the skin regularly, authorities say, to keep your complexion lovely, radiant, youthful. But beware of harsh cleansing methods. They injure skin.

Wash thoroughly with Palmolive Soap—each night before retiring. Rub the creamy, foamy lather well into the tiny pores. Rinse — and repeat the washing. Then rinse again.

Then—if skin is dry—apply a little cold cream. That is all. Skin so cared for is not injured by cosmetics, by wind and sun, or by dirt.

The simple, correct way

You cannot find a more effective beauty treatment. Because Palmolive Soap is blended of rare palm and olive oils—famous for mild but thorough cleansing qualities since the days of Cleopatra. And it is inexpensive, so that thousands now use Palmolive for the bath.

Make sure that you get Palmolive — which is never sold unwrapped. All dealers have it. Get it, and try for one week this simplest of all treatments. See how delightfully and how quickly it benefits your skin.

A large number of old friends and relatives from a distance attended.—Barrie Advance.

WILLIAM STUBBS

Old friends and neighbors here learned with genuine regret of the death in Port Elgin on Wednesday April 2nd, of William Stubbs, formerly of Melville Cross. The end came at the home of his son-in-law, Mr. G. M. Scott, after a comparatively short illness. The late Mr. Stubbs, who was 76 years of age was born and lived in Caledon township until 1916, when he and Mrs. Stubbs moved to Port Elgin in order to be near their daughter. Mrs. Stubbs died and was buried in Port Elgin in 1920. Deceased was a member of the Methodist Church and was one of the leading supporters of the Methodist Church at Melville Cross until his removal. He was a staunch Conservative and a pronounced temperance man. He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Scott of Port Elgin. The funeral took place from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Scott on Friday, interment taking place in the family plot in Port Elgin cemetery.

MRS. ELIZABETH SOUTH

Mrs. Elizabeth South, a highly respected resident of this town, passed away at her home on Third Avenue on Sunday after a lengthy illness. Deceased, who was 59 years of age, had been bedfast since last November. During her illness, which was borne with patience and Christian fortitude, she received every care and comfort that the love of her daughters could devise. Mrs. South, whose maiden name was Elizabeth Barnett, was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barnett, of Mono, where she was born and spent the greater part of her life. After her marriage to the late Mr. Ira South, whose death in October 1922 is still fresh in the memory of most of our readers, the young couple settled on lot 12, Centre Road, Mono, where they farmed successfully until 1916, when they disposed of their interests and retired to Orangeville. Mrs. South was an exemplary Christian woman and was highly esteemed as a neighbor, in whose ready sympathy and kindliness of heart the sorrows or sickness of others always awakened a ready response. She was a supporter of and a regular attendant at Herald Angel Church, Cardwell, and St. Mark's Church, Orangeville. Her death will be deeply mourned by her aged mother, Mrs. Neil, an only son, Lionel South, living on the homestead, and her six daughters Mrs. Geo. Thompson and Mrs. Arthur Reid, Mono; Mrs. Geo. Duke and Misses Florence and Irene, Orangeville, and Mrs. William Haslam, of Toronto. Mr. Richard Barnett, Orangeville, is a brother, Mrs. Richard Babe, of Whitlaw, Alta., and Mrs. Jos. Hood, Mono, are sisters, and Mr. Albert Neil, Caledon, is a half-brother.

The funeral, which was attended by a large number of former Mono neighbors, was held to the family plot in the Forest Lawn Cemetery on Tuesday afternoon, Rev. J. W. McDonald conducting services at the house and grave. The pallbearers were three sons-in-law, Messrs. Geo. Thompson, Arthur Reid and Wm. Haslam, a brother, Albert Neil, and two brothers-in-law, Jos. Hood, of Mono, and Richard Buchanan, of Stratford. The flowers included a spray from Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barnett, a pillow from the family a "gates ajar" from Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Thompson, a spray from Mr. Rich. Buchanan, Mrs. Kerr and Miss Cline and a spray from Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Moffitt. Some of the friends here from a distance for the funeral were Mrs. Thos. Cordingley Clarkson; Mrs. Harry and Fred Danby and Mr. and Mrs. Jas. South, Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. William Haslam, Toronto, and Mr. Rich Buchanan, Stratford.

The removal of Mrs. South makes the fifth death in the South family in the last three years. Three brothers, Robert, Henry and Ira, passed away inside of eight months. Then came the death of Mrs. Robert South and now that of Mrs. Ira South.

JOHN GIFFEN DEAD

John Giffen, who made his home in Orangeville for many years, passed away in St. Michael's Hospital Toronto, on Wednesday of last week from gangrene. Deceased, who was 82 years of age, belonged to one of the oldest families in Chinguacousy township. He was born near Snelgrove, but lived in and near Orangeville for many years. He was at one time a farmer near this town, but through some misfortune lost his farm. Mr. Giffen had never married and is survived by two brothers Robert and William Giffen, Brampton, and three sisters, Agnes and Mary, of Brampton, and Margaret of Long Beach, Cal. The remains were interred at Dixon's Cemetery in Chinguacousy on Friday afternoon

BENJ. TANSLEY

Mr. Benj. Tansley, onetime C. P. R. roadmaster at Orangeville and one of the best-known railwaymen in this section of Ontario, passed away at his late residence, 457 Quebec Ave., West Toronto, on Friday evening in his 78th year. Funeral service was held at the bereaved home on Sunday at 8.30 p.m. The remains were conveyed to Shelburne on Monday morning for interment. The funeral was largely attended two special coaches being attached to the regular morning train for the accommodation of city friends who accompanied the remains to their last resting place. The late Mr Tansley was a skilled and enthusiastic Mason and was a frequent visitor to Harris Lodge here a number of years ago. The family resided in Orangeville for some years before removing to Toronto.

SPRING WEATHER HARD ON BABY

The Canadian Spring weather—one day mild and bright; the next raw and blustery, is extremely hard on the baby. Conditions are such that the mother cannot take the little one out for the fresh air so much to be desired. He is confined to the house which is often overheated and badly ventilated. He catches cold; his little stomach and bowels become disordered and the mother soon has a sick baby to look after. To prevent this an occasional dose of Baby's Own Tablets should be given. They regulate the stomach and bowels, thus preventing or relieving colds, simple fevers, colic, or any other of the many minor ills of childhood. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers, or by mail, at 25c a box, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

MRS. ALFRED BULL

Former Orangeville Girl Passes Away in Vancouver.

Following a six months illness the death occurred on Saturday of Mrs. Margaaret Elizabeth Bull, wife of Mr. Alfred Edwin Bull, former Vancouver Police Court Magistrate and a member of the firm of Harris, Bull and Mason, barristers and solicitors, practicing here during the last thirty years.

Mrs. Bull was temporarily residing at 1356 Nanton Avenue, but the family residence is at 1375 Burnaby Street.

The funeral will be held at 2.30 p.m. Tuesday from Christ Church of which Mr Bull is a former Warden to Ocean View Cemetry, Rev. W.W Craig officiating.

The pallbeaers will be Mr. Justice Morrison, Mr. W.J. Bowser, K. C. Mr R. W. Harris, K.C., Mr J. N. Ellis, K.C., Mr. H. T. Lockyer and Mr. A. H. Wallbridge.

A native of Orangeville, Ont. Margaret Elizabeth McKenney married Mr. Bull at Los Angeles in 1900. She is survived by two sons Armour, 20 yrs. old, attending the University of British Columbia and Ernest, 16 years old, in the matriculation class of the King George High School.

Mrs. Bull leaves two sisters, Mrs. E. H. Griffiths and Miss Ella May McKenney, of Victoria, and two brothers, Mr. A. G. McKenney, of Los Angeles, and Mr. T. W. McKenney, of Toronto. — Vancouver Daily Province, March 24th, 1924.

CALEDON

On Wednesday evening, April 2, the choir of Knox Presbyterian Church assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. McFetridge for the purpose of enjoying another social evening and presenting them with gifts to show that their sojourn in Caledon has been greatly appreciated. Mrs. (Rev.) T. W. Mills read the following address:

Caledon, April 2nd, 1924.

Mr. and Mrs. McFetridge,
Caledon.

Dear Friends,—

We, your fellow members and associates of Knox Presbyterian Church, Caledon, learn with feelings of deepest regret that you are to leave us, and are severing your connection with the choir.

We cannot allow you to pass from our midst without some tangible evidence of our esteem and respect for you.

We embrace this opportunity to express to you our appreciation of your valuable assistance during the past three years We have found you very capable and willing helpers.

Socially your bright and genial presence has assisted us greatly and your home has always been at our disposal when the requirements of the choir demanded it. You have always been ready and willing to assist us in all our undertakings Your going from us leaves a vacancy in our hearts, and in our village which will be indeed hard to fill..

As a slight token of our appreciation and respect we ask you to accept these small gifts, Mrs. McFetridge a silver cake dish, and Mr. McFetridge a book of poems.

We trust that you will always retain pleasant memories of your association with us in our work here And we hope that Caledon will not be to you in the future as "Yarrow Unvisited," but may we see you again in our midst.

May success crown your efforts and happiness attend you in the coming years.

Signed on behalf of the choir—
Lillian Coleman, Irene McArthur.

The presentation was made by Miss Florence Rayburn. Mr. and Mrs. McFetridge were deeply affected and made very fitting replies. Dainty refreshments were served The remainder of the evening was then pleasantly spent in games and music. The meeting was brought to a close by the singing of Auld Lang Syne.

An event of more than passing interest took place in the basement of Knox Church on Monday afternoon April 7th, when about thirty of the members of the Ladies' Aid and W. M. S. gathered to bid farewell to one who has been a great help in the church far the past three years. We refer to Mrs. McFetridge.

After tea had been served by the ladies in their usual good style, Mrs Fred Braiden read the following address:—

Caledon, April 7th, 1924

Dear Mrs. McFetridge,—

The ladies of Knox Church, Caledon, wish to express to you their sorrow at your intended departure from our midst, and also their appreciation of you during your residence in Caledon. Our appreciation is best expressed in the words of Lowell:

"Blessing she is; God made her so
And deeds of week-day holiness
Fall from her noiseless as the snow
Nor hath she ever chanced to know
That aught were easier than to bless"

In all departments of our church work you have indeed blessed us And in the social life of our village your bright and winning personality has drawn towards you many friends.

We ask you now to accept this parasol as a slight tangible token of love and esteem from those friends And as it protects you from the glare of the noon-day sun and from the mists of the evening, may it remind you "of the light of other days around you" among the "hills of Caledon."

Signed on behalf of Knox Church

At the proper moment Mrs. C. I. Glassford made the presentation.

SPRING IMPURITIES DUE TO POOR BLOOD

A Tonic Medicine a Necessity at This Season.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are an all-year-round tonic for the blood and nerves. But they are especially valuable in the spring when the system is loaded with impurities as a result of the indoor life of the winter months. There is no other season when the blood is so much in need of purifying and enriching, and every dose of these pills helps to enrich the blood. In the spring one feels weak and tired—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills give strength. In the spring the appetite is often poor—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills develope the appetite, tone the stomach and aid weak digestion. It is in the spring that poisons in the blood find an outlet in disfiguring pimples, eruptions and boils—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills clear the skin because they go to the root of the trouble in the blood. In the spring anaemia, rheumatism, indigestion, neuralgia and many other troubles are most persistent because of poor, weak blood and it is at this time when all nature takes on new life that the blood most seriously needs attention. Some people dose themselves with purgatives, but these only further weaken themselves. A purgative merely gallops through the system, emptying the bowels, but does not help the blood. On the other hand, Dr. Williams Pink Pills enrich the blood which reaches every organ in the body, bringing new strength and vigor to weak, easily tired men, women and children. Try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills this spring—they will not disappoint you.

Sold by all medicine dealers, or sent by mail, at 50 cents a box, by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co. Brockville, Ont.

Mr. Sam White has sold his planing mill and coal yard to Mr. J Whitlam, who will get possession on May 1st. We understand that Mr. White intends to retire from business, but are pleased to be able to add that he will still continue to reside in our village.

Freight traffic on the C. N. R. is the heaviest for a number of years

Farmers who have tapped their trees report a good run of sap. Maple syrup is offered quite freely at $2.60 a gallon.

Our village is now illuminated from Ward's Delco lighting plant. Citizens and business men are alike pleased with the excellent manner in which the new power lights up the streets and business places.

Fall wheat and rye are both looking well in this district, although the danger of damage from frosts and cold winds is by no means over yet.

Mr. John Phillips, one of our veteran citizens, is looking hale and hearty and is still as keenly interested as ever in all the doings of the community. Mr. Phillips is the correspondent to the Bolton Enterprise and in the regularity and accuracy with which he reports the happenings of our village furnishes an example which many younger people, who pose as newspaper correspondents could emulate with advantage and profit. Mr. Phillips celebrated his 83rd birthday early in this year. Our citizens unite in the hope that he may be spared to engage in useful activities for many years to come. We understand that it is 43 years ago last September since Mr. Phillips first became a citizen of Caledon East.

Mrs. Hebden, who has been spending the winter in Shelburne and at Melancthon, has returned to her home here.

Mr. Thos. Coulter has sold his fire and life insurance business to Mr. T. R. Evans, of Brampton. Mr. Evans and family are moving into the Hulse house. We welcome them back to the village.

The last of the Lenten sermons will be preached in the Methodist Church on Sunday next, April 13th at 7 p.m. Subject, "Seven Words from the Cross." There will be special anthems by the choir.

In the Methodist Church here on Good Friday night, the Rev. E. R Young, B. A., of Islington, will give his popular lecture on the subject "My Early Life as a Missionary's Boy among the Cree Indians." The program will begin at 8 o'clock. A Thankoffering will be taken.

A VERY SUCCESSFUL SALE

Mr. E. F. Dynes, who recently moved to Orangeville from his farm near Laurel, expresses himself as highly delighted with the results of his auction sale on the 20th of March. The weather was ideal and a large crowd was present. The implements sold exceptionally well some above cost price. Horses brought around $160 each, cows ranged from $50 to $65, young stockers, a year old, averaged $43 a head while spring calves averaged $21 apiece. The total sale proceeds were about $2500. Mr. J. R. Black conducted the sale and although it was his first he demonstrated in no uncertain fashion that he belongs to the heavyweights in the auction sale ring. After the sale Mr. Black was freely congratulated by farmers present on the efficient manner in which he had acquitted himself and also on the excellent prices he had secured.

A TON OF GRANITE

From the very day your mother and father were married they began the fight for a home. And when you "came to town" the fight grew fiercer, for they were very poor. Your mother would clean, scrub and cook all day, and patch and nurse at night. It was measles, croup, chickenpox, fever, and all the other troubles.

She would go without a decent dress, and cover her shoulders with that little old plaid shawl.

The power of the cradle, where you were sung to sleep, is a greater power than that symbolized by any throne on earth, and she made it so.

Picture, if you will, the love service of your mother as you lay at her breast—your utter unfashioned helplessness.

Now look at your present surroundings and success. You are a man with a home, a family, and you are happy. You are in the prime of life, and the whole future seems bright. Do you do one service for your mother, where she once did one hundred for you?

Now, man, wake up and pay the debt you owe. One kindness to-day, and one to-morrow, are worth more than a ton of granite at the end of life, on which you have etched "Mother."

Easter is close at hand. At Reid's Drug Store you will get a box of LAURA SECORD candy, just what she likes, and it will only cost you 60c. Do it now, and do it often, then watch her smile.

THE HOME BANK

R. J. Woods, M. P. For Dufferin Discusses the Defunct Institution in House of Commons.

In the House of Commons R. J. Woods, M. P. for Dufferin, spoke as follows, on the Home Bank affair:

The hon. member for East Calgary (Mr. Irvine) has so ably and fully covered the ground in his admirable presentation that there does not appear to be very much left to say. However, I wish to corroborate some of his statements, and, if possible to present some new thoughts in connection with the banking system of Canada. Money as it circulates through the community may be regarded as the life blood of the country. Trade and commerce, all the varied enterprises of the nation, are dependent upon an efficient and stable currency. To my mind it is beyond question that our people generally have regarded the banks as safe places in which to deposit their money, and parliament in any legislation touching banks should do its utmost to protect the interests of the public. If parliament fails to do this, then it is undoubtedly lacking in that proper regard which it ought to have for the welfare of the people. We, as members of parliament, should thoroughly realize the responsibility that devolves upon us as legislators to do our utmost to protect the public interests in this respect. Canadians have been in the habit of depositing their money in banks, not as an investment but in order that it might be safe and available when they needed it for immediate use. In that respect deposits of savings are very different from deposits of money required for investment in industrial enterprises or for purpose of speculation. The people felt when they were making these deposits that the banks were perfectly safe, and that they could get their money at any time they needed it. The failure of the Home Bank came to them as a terrible shock. We have heard this afternoon what happened, by reason of that failure, to various classes in the community who had placed their savings in the Home Bank quite confident that the money was secure beyond all question. We have heard this afternoon of many people who had deposited money in this bank for safe keeping who have lost it all. We have heard about the laboring classes, young men and young women, who deposited their money expecting to be able to withdraw it when they required it and who have been unable to do so. Alas, the failure came. Men and women, widows, hard working men, old men and old women, who desired to withdraw their money from this bank found the door closed, and a sign above it "No admittance." Some of these widows, I believe, had deposited the life insurance of their deceased husbands which was probably their sole means of sustenance, and it was all lost. Old men who had retired had deposited in the bank the little bit of money they had saved and these men were unable to obtain even a portion of their deposits. I believe many of them turned away in tears. The ones who are suffering most are not the wealthy class, or the ones who could well afford to lose a little money, but the greatest sufferers were those who depended on their deposits in the bank to sustain them in their old age when other things failed, and they were shut out. I think it is very important that the hard earned money of the working men and women, upon which they are dependent for their old age should be properly safeguarded, so that they would be assured of it when required for necessary use. In the locality where I live, very close to $400,000 was deposited by people of that class. In another town quite close to my home over $100,000 was deposited by the same class of people.

It is very important that the people should have confidence in our financial and banking institutions of the country. Last year we revised the Bank Act. I am not going to say that there were not important amendments to the Bank Act placed on the statutes at that time, or that some of the amendments were not an improvement, but it appears to me they did not go far enough.

The hon. member from East Calgary (Mr. Irvine) has referred to bank inspections. One amendment in regard to inspection was urgently pressed before the committee last year, but the Bankers Association was unfavorable to it. The bankers have their own audit system and appoint their own auditors to do the work. What for? Not primarily to safeguard the interests of the public but to safeguard the interests of the bankers and the shareholders of the bank. So far as the depositors and the general public are concerned they have not that same safeguard of their interests as the bankers have. If an inspector or auditor who was independent of the banks, not appointed by the banks but by the government, were charged with the investigation of the banking system of the country, I cannot see why it would not to a great extent safeguard the interests of the depositors and those who did business with the banks.

With reference to the amendments which were made to the Bank Act as I view it, as a member of that committee, I think the amendments were possibly as far, and no further in my opinion, than the Bankers Association was willing to concede.

MR. FOURNIER: Is it not a fact that the Home Bank suspended its operation before the revised Bank Act of last year came into operation? Is my hon. friend prepared to say that if that Bank Act had been revised many years ago as it was revised last year, it would have prevented such a failure as that of the Home Bank?

MR. WOODS: I am not prepared to state that such a revision would have saved it, but the Home Bank was in a precarious condition many years ago—long before the revision of the Bank Act last session. As I have already said, the masses of the people of this Dominion believed that the Bank Act and the banking system were and had been in years gone by of such a character that there was no possibility of a bank failure and that their deposits would be absolutely safe. After the failure of the Home Bank individuals came to me and referred to that, stating that they considered that the government was responsible to depositors for money deposited in a chartered bank. That was the general impression amongst the people; having that impression they deposited their money with confidence, and the banking system has fallen down to such an extent that depositors have lost millions of dollars which they expected they would receive.

I said that the Bank Act was under revision and that in my opinion a government inspector or auditor of banks would have in some way helped the situation. Some time ago we listened to an address by the hon. member for Vancouver South (Mr. Ladner), who, to my mind, gave us a great deal to think about. He gave us some information regarding a federal reserve bank. But whatever system it is thought wise to adopt by the men who transact the affairs of this Dominion—and we have wise, capable men, men who have no peers, I believe, in any other country—it is a fact, so we are informed, that government inspection and a federal reserve bank system have proved to be a good thing in the United States, and something should be done to lift the banking system of this country above what it is to cause the people to have confidence in our banks, and to make it impossible for men and women who deposit their money, not for speculation, but for investment and safekeeping, to lose it. The government should take hold of the situation and work out some scheme that will put the banking system of this Dominion in such a position that an occurrence like the Home Bank failure will be impossible in years to come.

The hon. member for East Calgary has referred to the action the government has taken in appointing a royal commission. Many questions have been asked about it. I hope that commission will make a thorough investigation into the whole system as it has been appointed to do, and that its report will be laid before parliament before the close of this session.

I am not going to make an definite statement in regard to my attitude on the question of reimbursing the depositors further than to say this: If it is proved satisfactorily that a minister of finance, past or present, in years gone by or whenever the occasion was, was remiss in his duty, or that the government of that day neglected to investigate thoroughly the affairs of the Home bank; if it is proven to be the case as a minister of finance of the last government, in a statement in the public press, excused himself in that regard, that the investigation did not take place at the time because the war was on and because there was a danger of upsetting the financial system of the country and breaking the confidence of the people in our banks; if the then minister of finance neglected to undertake the duty of investigating the affairs of the Home Bank in 1915 1916 or any other year, on the ground that this inaction was in the interest of the people of Canada; and if as a result of that inaction on the part of the minister, hundreds and thousands of the people of this country lost their little all, the little money they had in the banks and citizens are suffering thereby—then in my opinion, the government and the people of the Dominion of Canada are bound to reimburse the men and women who have suffered in the public interest.

The ground has already been thoroughly covered, and I believe the attitude of the great majority of hon. members is to do justice to the poor, the widows and children. If the poor people, widows and children have suffered because of the public interest in 1915 and 1916 those same people should be reimbursed for their losses in that regard.

WOMAN SUFFERED FOR MONTHS

Weak and Nervous. Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Webbwood, Ont.—"I was in a very weak and run-down nervous condition always tired from the time I rose until I went to bed. Sleep did not rest me at all. My sister recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to me and others told me about it, but it was from my sister's advice that I took it. It did not take long until I felt stronger, headaches left me and my appetite came back so that I am a farmer's wife and have many things to do outside the house, such as milking, looking after the poultry, and other chores. I heartily recommend the Vegetable Compound to all who have the same trouble I had, for it is a fine medicine for women."—Mrs LOUIS F. LISAKER, Hillcrest Farm, Webbwood, Ont.

Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it helped me so much that I soon felt fine."—Mrs. CHARLES BEELER, 501-14th St., Port Huron, Mich.

Women who suffer from any feminine ailment should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

WI'OOT A WIFEY

It's vera weel, throughout the day,
Been taken up wi' work or play,
To think a man can live alway
Wi'oot a wifey.

But it's anither thing at night
To sit alone by candle light,
Or gang till rest when sharp winds bite,
Wi'oot a wifey.

It's vera weel when claes are new,
To think they'll always be just so
And look as weel as they do noo,
Wi'oot a wifey.

But when the holes begin to show,
The stitches rip, the buttons go,
What in the world's a man to do
Wi'oot a wifey.

It's vera weel when skies are clear,
When frien's are true and lassies dear,
To think ye'll gang through life nae fear,
Wi'oot a wifey.

But clouds will come the skies athwart,
Lassies will marry, frien's maun part
What then can cheer your very heart?
A dear wee wifey.

It's vera weel when young and hale
But when you're auld, and crazed and frail
And your blithe spirits 'gin to fail
Ye'll want a wifey.

But mayhap then the lassies dear
Will treat your offers with a sneer
Because you're cranky, gray and sere;
Ye'll get nae wifey.

Then haste, haste, ye silly loon,
Rise up and seek about the toon,
And get heaven's greatest earthly boon,
A wee bit wifey.

W. C. T. U.

The W. C. T. U. held their monthly meeting in the school room of the Methodist Church on Thursday March 27th. Miss Bell, the President, was in the chair. There was a good attendance and a number of ladies joined and we hope many more will join next meeting. An excellent programme was given. Mrs. Avison gave the Bible reading. Mrs. Saul rendered a solo and Mrs. Green our delegate to the Temperance Convention, gave us an account of it. She said they emphasized the organization of all religious societies for the purpose of bringing pressure to bear on the government for a longer trial of the O. T. A. which means the safe-guarding of our homes. Our Corresponding Secretary sent the following resolution to Hon. Howard Ferguson and to our own representative, C. R. McKeown, M. P. P.:—

"Resolved, that while we express our sincere appreciation of the manner in which the O. T. A. is being enforced, and especially do we appreciate the personal support given to this Act by yourself and Hon. W. F. Nickle, who, by his indefatigable efforts in his capacity as Attorney-General, has contributed much to the success of the enforcement of this splendid piece of legislation.

"We respectfully urge that this Act as it now stands be given ample opportunity to demonstrate its growing efficiency in the curtailing and controlling of the liquor traffic.

"We believe the present law, which is real government control, to be far superior to government sale and trust that it may continue to have the active support of your Government.

"We deprecate the desire on the part of a few to put this Province to the unnecessary expense of another referendum so soon after the decisive votes of recent years, but hope that the present Act, strengthened and safeguarded, receiving the hearty support of your Government may become increasingly effective in the regulation and final suppression of the evils of the liquor traffic."

The matter of having a prayer circle was brought up and after some discussion it was decided that as we already have many meetings we would, each, in our own homes spend a few minutes at nine o'clock each morning in prayer for the success of the temperance cause and we would invite every Christian woman to join with us in prayer. God can give a ten-fold increase to our efforts if we ask Him.

Owen Sound City Council has accepted the resignation of City Engineer Fleming, to take effect on May 31st, or before if he so desires. The reason for the council's action in accepting the resignation was that no extensive public works of any kind are to be carried on during the year.

THE UNION JACK

Story of the Origin and Development of the Flag of the British Empire.

"The Union Jack" was the subject on which Miss Aileen Preston, winner of the second prize, spoke in the recent Orangeville High oratorical contest. The following is the full text of Miss Preston's oration:—

Mr. Chairman, Ladies & Gentlemen,

Many and varied have been the subjects you have heard discussed this evening, and I wish to speak to you for a few minutes on still another—a subject which should be of deepest interest to every man who calls himself a British subject, namely our dearly loved old Union Jack. In order that this flag might still fly triumphant over our Dominion the finest sons of Canada laid down their lives in Flanders Fields.

Naturally the first questions which arise when one begins to study the Union Jack are, whence did it derive its name? and how was this triple-crossed flag formed? The word "union" brings to mind the Union of England, Scotland and Ireland into one Kingdom, but what does the word "Jack" convey to us? The most commonly accepted theory takes us back to the days of chivalry and knighthood. In those olden days soldiers were encased from head to foot in heavy armour. Over their armour was worn a light surcoat or Jacque, extending from the neck to the thighs, bearing upon it the blazon or sign either of the nationality or of the feudal lord of the wearer. Soldiers were thus distinguished by the Jacques they wore, which in time came to be known as the Jacks of the various nations, and similarly a Jack was raised upon a lance or staff at the bow of a ship, to indicate its nationality and the distinguishing garment became a flag. Such was the origin of the name, and it was in the combination of the three national Jacks of England, Scotland and Ireland that the well known Union Jack of Britain had its origin.

The dominant partner and leader of the union was England and it was her flag which formed the foundation upon which the union flag was built. The English sign or blazon was the banner of St. George a white flag, having on it a plain red cross. This was adopted because St. George became the patron Saint of England, during the third crusade when the English forces, under Richard Couer de Lion won a great victory over the Saracens at the traditional place where the gallant St George slew the monstrous dragon which was about to devour the beautiful daughter of the King of the city. It was under this single red cross that the English won the great naval victory of Sluys, and on French battle fields the glories of Cressy, Poitiers and Agincourt were achieved. Under it, too, Cabot discovered America, Drake sailed around the world, Raleigh founded Virgina, and the gallant sailors of Elizabeth defeated the "Invincible Spanish Armada." Under it England won the proud title of "Mistress of the Seas."

The ancient Jack of Scotland was also a cross, being the emblem of their patron saint, St. Andrew, a diagonal white cross or saltire, on a blue field. Just why St. Andrew was associated with Scotland is not definitely known, but from very early times he has been acknowledged as the Patron Saint of that country. Although the flag may not be as well known as that of England it too holds an important place in history. This was the flag of the great Scottish hero, Robert-the-Bruce, and at Bannockburn were his followers victorious over the English.

The history of the ancient Jack of Ireland is not as well known as the other two perhaps, but from very early days St. Patrick has been recognized as the Patron Saint of the Emerald Isle, and his cross as the national flag, the latter being a red diagonal cross on a white field. St. Patrick was born in Strathclyde and educated and consecrated a Bishop in Gaul, and became the apostle of Christianity to the Irish with great success. It was from these three Jacks that our present Union Jack was formed.

When James VI. of Scotland became James I. of England he saw the necessity of having a common flag for the two countries and made the first attempt at a Union Jack but as the two kingdoms were still separate, this never really took the place of the two national Jacks. It was not until the parliaments were united 100 years later that the first real Union Jack was formed.

This new flag was simply the red cross of St. George with its white border, laid on the white diagonal cross of St. Andrew. This was the flag which was raised at Plassey when Clive won India. Under it Nelson fought and won the Battle of the Nile, and under it Wolfe climbed the Heights and died victorious on the Plains of Abraham.

Ireland had no part in the Union flag until the parliamentary union of the United Kingdom in 1801, on which the king made a proclamation that the official flag of the Union should consist of the white cross of St. Andrew and the red cross of St. Patrick, joined together quarterly and "counterchanged," both surmounted by the red cross of St George with a white border. This is the Union Jack as we know it now. There are certain rules for its construction to which I should like to direct your attention. You will notice that the red cross of St Patrick does not appear in the centre of the white cross, but that it is beside the cross of St. Andrew, and also that the white cross is uppermost in the first and third quarters of the flag, and the red cross is uppermost in the second and fourth quarters. This is what is meant by the crosses being "counter changed." Because Scotland came into the Union before Ireland she is given the priority in the first and third quarters, and Ireland is given the place of honour in the second and fourth. But England being the senior is given the first place and the red cross of St. George is placed over or surmounts the other two. The red cross of St. George should be one-fifth of the width of the flag on the staff, and its white border one-third of the red of St. George. The width of the red cross of St. Patrick is one-third of that of St. George with its white border one-sixth of the red of St. George, while the broad white of St. Andrew's is one-half the width of St. George and exactly equal to the red of St. Patrick and its white border. The each diagonal arm of the flag is equally divided between Ireland and Scotland. The Jack may be either a square or a double square. When the crosses are found in the upper left hand corner, occupying one-quarter of the flag, and the rest of the flag is red, white or blue, it is called the red ensign, white ensign or blue ensign as the case may be.

The Union Jack is the flag of our Empire and is quite as much the flag of all the British Dominions as it is of the United Kingdom. It is the flag which should be used at all public functions and should be flown over all public buildings. If the flag is at half-mast it is a sign of mourning. One flag on top of another denotes capture and a flag wrong side up signifies distress.

The red ensign is the flag of the British merchant marine, while the blue ensign is the flag of the British Naval Reserve. The white ensign which has also the red cross of St George, is the official flag of the Royal Navy and flies over every British warship.

The red ensign, with the Arms of Canada in the centre of the fly, is known as the Dominion Ensign, and is the authorized flag of the Canadian merchant marine. It is not proper to use it on land and it should never take the place of the Union Jack. Another flag is the Royal Standard, which is the personal flag of the King. In it appear the three golden lions of England, the Red Lion of Scotland and the golden harp of Ireland, and because a coat of arms must be quartered, the lions of England appear again in the fourth quarter.

The colours of our flag convey a meaning, too. Red is the badge of courage, white the emblem of purity and blue the symbol of truth and honour.

What an illustrious history our flag has! It was this flag, in the form of the white ensign, which floated over Nelson's flag ship at Trafalgar when he flew the famous signal, "England expects every man to do his duty," and he counted not his own life dear that this flag might still be raised each morning on every British ship. The same old flag floated high when Wellington won the field of Waterloo. For love of the Union Jack, the gallant charge of the Light Brigade was made, and for this old battered flag Brock laid down his life at Queenston Heights. But we need not look so far back for the glorious deeds of the Empire. Who can reckon the dauntless courage of British troops in the Great War or number the countless deeds of heroism and self-sacrifice in order that this Union Jack might still wave triumphantly, the world's surest emblem of Freedom, Truth and Righteousness?

It's only a small bit of bunting,
It's only an old coloured rag;
Yet thousands have died for its honour,
And shed their best blood for the flag.

It's charged with the cross of St Andrew,
Which, of old, Scotland's heroes has led;
It carries the cross of St. Patrick,
For which Ireland's bravest have bled
Joined with these is our old English ensign,
St. George's red cross on white field
Round which, from King Richard Wolseley,
Britons conquer or die, but ne'er yield.

It flutters triumphant o'er ocean,
As free as the wind and the waves
And bondsmen from shackles unloosened,
'Neath its shadow no longer are slaves.

You may say it's an old bit of bunting,
You may call it an old coloured rag
But freedom has made it majestic
And time has ennobled the flag.

A CREEMORE FIRE

What might have developed into a serious conflagration had it not been checked up at the right time occurred at The Creemore Planing Mill on Thursday of last week. Mr. W. S. Hopper, who lives near the factory, first noticed the fire which had gained a good headway on the roof over the dry kiln. Mr. Hopper quickly notified the engineer at the mill, who immediately shut down the engine and with the mill hands soon had the fire under control. The damage amounted to a hole about 4 by 5 feet burned through the roof and Mr. Kerr, who owns the factory is congratulating himself on the fact that the fire was noticed in the nick of time, for had it gained a few minutes' more headway, located as it was over the dry kiln, it would no doubt have been of very serious consequences. The cause is attributed to sparks from the stack falling on sparrows nests prevalent around the roof.—Creemore Star.

PERTINENT PARAGRAPHS FOR WOMEN VOTERS

In the British Parliament there are now, it is claimed, 300 members who favor the Temperance Cause. These men and women, regardless of party have recently organized to aid temperance legislation. Never before in British history was there so strong a group.

EASIEST WAY

"The bootleggers are killing their own game," said Wm. J. Bryan, recently. "More than anyone else, the bootleggers are leading the country toward real Prohibition. This is partly due to the exhorbitant prices they charge, and partly on account of the virulent poisons they sell. The trend of the times is summed up in the case of the darkey woman, who had called in a doctor to attend her husband, who was down with the flu.

"What's I gwine gib him?" asked the woman.

"Whisky," was the doctor's reply.

When the doctor had named the price per quart of good whisky the wife remarked:

"I can bury him cheaper den dat."

MOSTLY ALIENS

According to Deputy Coroner Pau of Philadelphia, garbage is frequently used in the making of bootleg liquor. He says: "The majority of illicit distillers are aliens of the lowest kind. They have been repeatedly caught, going from garbage can to garbage can along the residential streets, gathering the pieces of meat, potato peelings and other refuse, which they use in making their vile concoctions. In one still confiscated by the police recently, a dead cat was found."

THE NAMBY-PAMBY VOTER

"Hadn't we better stop these bootleggers by restoring the beverage sale of drink? Not the old saloon of course. Perhaps by government sale or granting strictly-regulated tavern licenses." Thus says some weak-kneed elector.

Now listen to how they do it in Southern Rhodesia, the newest member of the British Empire.

On October 1st, 1923, this Commonwealth inaugurated her new responsible government and started out for herself, with full woman's franchise. At once a law was enacted against selling liquor to natives or Indians.

Are the bootleggers obeying it? They are.

Why? There is lots of money to be made by ignoring it.

Yes, but the penalties are 500 pounds, or six months imprisonment for a first offence; and a year's imprisonment without a fine option for a second.

You can enforce any law, if you want to, by attaching penalties sufficiently stiff to ensure respect; and by appointing sympathetic and incorruptible officials.

"Pussyfoot" Johnston, who has just returned from Rhodesia, says "It is headed straight for prohibition. So satisfactory has the native law been, there is a vociferous demand for its extension to the white population, many of whom need it far more than the natives do."

THE CHILDREN DO NOT KNOW

The other evening a lad of eleven burst into the room where his father and the managing editor of a city paper were discussing a business matter. "Daddy, what is a bar?" he cried.

Later, the editor said to a group of friends; "Imagine a boy of that age asking such a question in pre-prohibition days!"

"Mother, what is a saloon?" enquired a girlie of ten, as she overheard her parents discussing the temperance situation.

Yes, there are "Smart Janes" as well as "Smart Alecks," who think it a great lark to break the O. T. A. "Scoff-laws" they call such folk in the United States. And there is a certain section of our foreign population, who find bootlegging a profitable business. And there are irreconcilables of our own race, who demand the satisfaction of their appetites. But all put together these are not more than 20 per cent. of the population. Shall we yield the righteous, and efficiency-producing standards of the majority, to this loud-voiced minority?

FIGURES THAT TALK

Mr. W. E. Raney, whose figures and facts are seldom challenged gives us, in the Toronto Star, some convincing O. T. A. arguments. He takes the jails in the 12 representative County towns of Barrie, Belleville, Brockville, Chatham, Fort Francis, Kingston, Kitchener, Napanee, North Bay, Peterboro, Port Arthur and Sudbury, and contrasts the commitments for drunkenness for 1913, 1914 and 1922.

1913	2,364
1914	3,042
1922	427

The city figures are not so startling, but they tell the same story. Here they are for Toronto, Hamilton, Ottawa and London:

1914	4,522
1922	2,523

THE STAND-PATTER

"Why can't you let well-enough alone? Temperance sentiment is growing. Nobody now wants the old saloon."—Thus says the Stand-Patter.

Just look him square in the face and say—"Temperance sentiment is growing? What did you ever do to make it grow? The old saloon is gone? Were you with those who beat it out? Or were you sitting on the fence looking on?"

If he tells the truth, 999 times out of 1000 he will have to admit that he didn't help with $1.00 of his money, or an hour of his time. Indeed, a goodly section of his class clung to the old saloon boat, till it turned bottom side up.

Mrs. J. Lister Praises Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Ontario Lady is Enthusiastic and Gives Her Views About Dodd's Kidney Pills and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Ravensworth, Ont., April 7th (Special)—"I strongly recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills and would not be without them in the house at any price. Both my husband and myself also the children take them.

"I have also taken your Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets with great success. I was unable to do my work or eat. After taking two boxes I feel myself again and have not been bothered since. This statement comes from Mrs. J. Lister, well-known and highly respected resident here.

Dodd's Kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys, putting them in condition to strain all the impurities out of the blood. Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets act on the stomach, giving it strength to fully digest the food.

With good digestion and pure blood the body is in condition to combat the ills that daily make their attacks on good health.

THE BOYS' COUNCIL IDEA

The purpose of a Boys' Town Council is not solely to pattern the municipal council, but to get some of the outstanding boys of the town to band themselves together and stand for those things that will result in the highest development of boy life in the community, irrespective of creed. It does not matter what church a boy goes to, or what societies or organizations he belongs to, he is a boy just the same, and so the Boys' Council is made up of boys and exists for the benefit of all boys. The aim of the Boys' Council is two-fold: First, to develop councillors, parliamentarians and good speakers and acquaint the boys with the manner in which the public bodies of our country conduct the people's affairs; second, to get the opinion and desire of the boy life of the town and make possible the expression of those opinions and desires that are for the betterment of boy life generally, in such a way that those conditions which affect boy life for the worst may be rectified and conditions made possible under which boys will find it easy to do the right things and difficult to do the things that are not right.

Municipal councils spend their time dealing with material things such as building roads and keeping them in repair, installing water and sewage systems, and looking after the welfare of the town generally. The Boys' Council deals with things pertaining to boy life in which the boys are interested. It is not an end in itself but merely a means to an end, and that end is service. The words of the Master are very true: "He who would be greatest among you, let him be the servant of all."

The constitution of the Orangeville Boys' Council says, in part "That the Boys' Council shall be composed of a Mayor, a Reeve, a Deputy-Reeve and six Councillors who shall be elected annually. That the Standing Committees of the Council shall be eight in number, as follows: Finance, Town Property Athletics, Lacrosse, Hockey, Publicity, Town Beautification and Fire Prevention.

An election for the Boys' Council will be held in Orangeville on Saturday, May 3rd. The nomination meeting will be held during the week of April 28th. See that your name is on the voters' list so that you may vote or be nominated for office.

MELANCTHON STATION

(Intended for last week)

After the very deep snow and drifted roads during the past winter spring has come and the black crow and ruddy robin can be seen flying about the fields and barn yards once more.

Mr. Katzman, our produce dealer paid a visit to Toronto the other day.

Mr Albert Sawden, of Melville Cross, visited friends here.

Another real estate deal is said to be in progress in our midst. It is high time that some of the idle farms in the neighborhood were occupied and tilled.

Some of the anti-prohibitionists are rejoicing in confident anticipation of the early return of the bar and booze. They long for the open bar like it was in the "good old days" of 30 years ago, when they lean up against the rail and drink until they couldn't stand and had to be carried home, where their wives and children often had little or nothing to eat. But such dreamers will experience a sudden awakening when they learn that the prohibition party in Ontario is so well organized that they will sweep this province from Ottawa to Windsor.

Some have tapped the maple trees in this locality and have had a good "run."

We are pleased to report that those who were taken ill with measles a short time ago are now well again.

Mr. A. Dobson, of Toronto, paid this neighborhood and Dundalk a recent visit.

Another of the early pioneers of Melancthon passed away on the 18th ult., in the person of Mrs. John Connor, who had resided for so many years near Dundalk. The late Mrs. Connor, who was 83 years of age, was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Patrick McCue, who settled in Melancthon 73 years ago on the corner farm opposite the R. C. church, lot No. 280, N. E. Melancthon, and where Mr. M. J. McCue now resides. She was a sister of Mr. James McCue, of Dundalk.

Mr. James Carson has opened a harness shop at the western limits of the village and is working up a good business. We also need a village blacksmith. We have a good shop, but we need a workman. The spring is a good time to begin.

CAPTAIN'S HEAD BALD GUNNER APOLOGISES

Captain Landy of Montrose Has Adventerous Career

Painted Funnel Green To Placate Liverpool Irish

Capt. Edwin Landy

Captain Edwin Landy's recent appointment to the bridge of the Canadian Pacific S. S. Montrose, was as popular as it was important and was well merited by the commander who has a long and varied record of service to his credit.

Captain Landy, who comes of a seafaring stock, is a native of Skerries, in the County of Dublin. He began his career as a seaman in 1889, when, at the age of 16 he embarked as deck boy on the old Wigtown schooner R.K.P. He remained with this vessel for 12 months, after which he joined the Buckley Castle as an ordinary seaman. In this ship he made a round voyage of two years and three months from Barrow to Port Stanley, thence to Panama, and from there to New Caledonia where the ship loaded for the Clyde. He made a second voyage on this vessel as able bodied seaman, after which he passed for second mate, in which capacity he made a trip to the Mediterranean. He passed for master in 1899.

When the Canadian Pacific took over the Ships of the Beaver Line in 1903, Captain Landy was appointed as a junior officer to the Montfort. Promotion came through the various grades and in three years he was appointed chief officer of the Mount Temple. In November, 1914, he went out to the Cameroons to bring home to Liverpool on behalf of the Canadian Pacific the ex-German steamer Henriette Woermann. He took with him a crew which consisted chiefly of Liverpool Irishmen. On arrival out in the Cameroons it looked as if he was going to have some trouble with the scratch crew, but Captain Landy proved equal to the emergency, and with a view to placating their troubled spirits, had the funnel of the ex-German steamer painted green. In this way he won over the Irishmen, he claims, but in any case, he brought his ship home.

In September, 1915, Captain Landy was appointed as a permanent master in the company and was given command of the Monmouth. During the war he was running in the danger zone, and passed through some very thrilling experiences. While he was in command of the Ionian, that ship was torpedoed. Captain Landy was the last to leave when the vessel was on the point of submerging. In his hurry to take to the boat the Captain, unfortunately, missed his footing and fell into the water between the ship and the lifeboat. Immediately he appeared above the surface, a naval gunner, who happened to be in the boat made a grab at his hair, but as the Captain happened to be bald, the gunner could not obtain a purchase. He, however, persevered, and succeeded in pulling the Captain on board with the help of others, little the worse for his ducking, and the gunner was most profuse in his apologies that he could not seize the Captain's hair.

Another exciting experience Captain Landy met, when he was in command of the Monmouth. This ship was mined off Cherbourg. A French patrol boat took off most of the crew, but as the ship remained afloat the commander returned with a few men and slowly made his way into port, thereby salving a very valuable ship and cargo. When the harbor was reached, the vessel drew 14 feet aft and 23 feet forward, and Captain Landy's heroic work in accomplishing the salvage was suitably acknowledged by the Admiralty.

INTERMEDIATES ORANIZE

At a largely attended and enthusiastic meeting of lacrosse fans in the Library Auditorium Tuesday night, it was decided to organize an Intermediate Lacrosse Club and to place a team in the field in the O. A. L. A. series. Jack M. Aiken presided and officers were elected as follows:—

Hon-President, Jas. Armstrong
President, Russell Morrow; Vice-President, Jack M. Aiken; Secretary Norris Hughes; Treasurer, W. H. McGuire; Coach, Dr. T. H. Henry; Manager, W. C. Hopkins; Trainer, Norman Reid; Transportation Committee, Robt. Fairbairn, Douglas Torrie, Armour Robinson and Ross Curry; Business Committee, Dode Brawley, Neil Crowe, Armour Robinson and Christie McAulay.

Those present made it clear that the organization of an intermediate team was not intended to interfere in any way with the activities of the seniors, but to provide for players who are no longer eligible as junior players and who do not expect to have an opportunity to play with the seniors. There are a large number of these in town and without an intermediate team they would simply have to drop out as far as playing in matches goes. It is thought that a good intermediate team can be placed in the field. This will serve to keep the older local players in the game and will thereby work out to the benefit of the seniors, who will have recruiting material right at home in case of need.

WANT CENTRE ROAD FINISHED

Shelburne Village Council is in accord with the Councils of Orangeville and other municipalities in this section in its desire to have the north end of the Centre Road completed in the same manner as the other sections of the Provincial Highway. At a recent meeting of the Council the following resolution was introduced and passed unanimously:—

"Whereas it is understood that the Department of Public Highways have included in the program for this season's work all the unfinished portions of the Provincial Highway between Orangeville and Port Credit with the exception of some unfinished portions in the Township of Caledon; and whereas the said portions of the Highway in the Township of Caledon include some of the most dangerous hills on the road and will be the only break in the improved Highway between Dundalk and Toronto, and that this break in the continuous road will be the cause of great inconvenience to the travelling public as well as leading to financial loss and possible loss of human lives; and whereas it was understood that this work was included in the program of work to be completed last year and can be completed at a comparatively small cost be it therefore resolved that this Council is of the opinion that in the interests of the public the unfinished portions of the Provincial Highway in the Township of Caledon should be completed without further delay that the work should be continued up to the standards for grades and grading, which were adopted on the portions of the road already finished, and that a Committee be appointed to lay this matter before the officials of the Department of Public Highways, and that a copy of this resolution be handed to Mr. C. R. McKeown, M. P. P."

ALL FOODS SHOULD BE SEALED

The medical profession very generally advocate that all food products should be sold in sealed packages. All cities rigorously inspect butcher shops to prevent meat from being infected, many prohibit milk from being sold in bulk and gradually this will come with everything. "SALADA" was the first to introduce the package idea as regards tea, over thirty-two years ago, and "SALADA" is still a little purer and a little better than other teas. It has by far the largest sale.

"THE CONNECTING FILE"

In order to keep alive something of that splendid comradeship, which distinguished the Canadian Expeditionary Force in the late war, the Royal Canadian Regiment is publishing a monthly magazine, which has been named "The Connecting File." It is a fine little magazine, the only one of its kind and is pre-eminently a magazine of comradeship.

SUFFERS NO MORE WITH HEADACHES

"Fruit-a-tives" freed her from years of pain

The Fruit Treatment seems to be the only way of completely ridding the system of the cause of Headaches.

Miss Annie Ward, of 112 Hazen St., St. John, N.B., says: "I was a great sufferer for many years from Nervous Headaches and Constipation. I tried everything, but nothing seemed to help me until I tried "Fruit-a-tives".

After taking several boxes, I was completely relieved and have been well ever since".

Practically all Headaches come from poisoned blood—that is, the blood is laden with impurities which should be carried from the body by the kidneys and bowels.

"Fruit-a-tives"—made from the juices of oranges, apples, figs and prunes—regulate the vital organs of the body—insure a pure blood supply—and completely relieve Headaches.

25c. and 50c. a box—at druggists or Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

O. H. S. WIN

Last Wednesday the Orangeville High School boys' hockey team journeyed to Grand Valley and played the last game of the season with the home team. Orangeville, though seriously handicapped by the lack of substitute players, managed to pull out a win. The game was fast and cleverly played. Combination and lone rushes were frequent, but the defences did their work well at either end of the rink. Grand Valley opened the scoring in the first period, when Hastilow bulged the net. There was no score during the second period. When the teams started to play the final period Orangeville cut loose and Connell soon evened the count. The penalties were becoming more frequent and when Broughton was taking a rest after a scrap McKim went up the ice and netted the winning goal. The players were:—

Grand Valley—Goal, C. Charters; defence, H. Broughton and Talbet centre, R. Hastilow; wings, A. Moss and A. McDonald; subs, Dennam Berwick and Richardson.

After the game a pleasant social time was spent in Carnegie Hall.

—Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Holmes, who sold their farm near Tottenham a short time ago, have moved back to town.

ALTON

The presentation of "Willowdale," a Play of country life in three acts by the members of the Young People's Bible Class of Alton Methodist Church, took place in the Town Hall here on Friday evening, April 4th and proved an excellent production that clearly demonstrated the ability of the amateurs of this place to present an entertainment of rare merit The Play as a whole and the individual parts taken by each of the actors were alike well presented The young people are to be congratulated on the success that attended their first effort at an undertaking of this kind. Since the presentation we have heard them praises sounded on every side. The Play was most amusing and kept the audience in laughter for nearly three hours. At the close Mr. Lyons presented Mrs. (Dr.) Caldwell with a large bouquet of beautiful roses as a mark of appreciation from the Class for her splendid work in training them for the performance, in which capacity she has acted in other places as well as here. "Nerves in Bad State Could Not Sleep"

Mrs. H. N. Tardell, Harrowsmith, Ont., writes:

"My nerves were in a very bad state, and for nearly six months I did not know what it was to have a good night's rest. I could not eat, and never felt well. I heard about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and thought I would try it. After taking it for a few days I began to feel better, and soon was able to sleep well at night. My appetite also returned, and I felt stronger and better, and after taking three boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I was quite well. I have also given the Nerve Food to my little girl, with good results."

Caledon Man to be Taken to Hamilton for Safekeeping.

Sam Brown, the Caledon man who was committed for trial in Brampton a few weeks ago on a charge of discharging the contents of a gun at J. H. Gibson, one of his neighbors, with intent to kill, appeared before P. M. Crawford on Tuesday morning of last week to answer to the charge of being insane. Mr. Jas. McDonald, Reeve of Caledon, testified to Brown's strange actions for the last two years. Brown entertained the idea that the food he bought was being tampered with by his neighbors with a view to poisoning him. Questioned by the Magistrate about the food supplied him at the gaol, Brown while exonerating the gaol authorities from any blame, showed an inclination to believe that the food he was receiving was still being adulterated by his supposed enemies. Two doctors' certificates were filed with the Court. In both the medical men expressed the view that Brown was undoubtedly mentally unbalanced. On the evidence the Magistrate adjudged Brown insane and ordered that he be confined to an asylum subject to the decision of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council.

The unfortunate's man's farm stock and implements were sold by public auction a short time ago realizing about $1500. The farm which is valued at $5,000, is now being offered. Mr. Bowyer, of the Brampton legal firm of Graham, Graham & Bowyer, is looking after Brown's affairs and winding up his estate. It is likely that Brown will be kept in gaol in Brampton until his business affairs are satisfactorily disposed of. Under proper treatment in one of the public institutions for the mentally afflicted, it is hoped that the unfortunate man may make a complete recovery and be enabled to resume his place as a law-abiding and useful citizen.

HOMEWORK IN THE SCHOOLS

(Intended for last week)

Now, as for many years past homework is a live topic in connection with the work of our public schools. There are teachers who maintain that there should not be any homework. There are other teachers who hold just as strongly that homework is a helpful and necessary part of the training of the child. Parents, too, are divided on the subject, some holding that for the child of tender years, the work and restraint of school hours constitute a task sufficiently heavy for the day. Others maintain that the child should have some work to occupy its time and attention for part of the long period between four o'clock and bedtime. After all homework is one of the subjects on which it is impossible to lay down any hard and fast rule. The teacher, if discerning and truly solicitous for the health as well as the progress of the child, must take health and strength into account when assigning the tasks for the schoolroom and the home. Then too, there are children who can get along very nicely without homework and there are other children slower to learn who need home tasks to enable them to keep up with the work of their classes. Generally speaking it may be said that teachers are not fond of assigning homework, although many of them feel it necessary to do so. They find it impossible, particularly in the higher forms, to get over the work properly without setting a certain amount of homework. To illustrate let us consider the subjects taken by an Entrance class. They are:—

Reading, Writing, Spelling, Geography, Grammar, British History Canadian History, Composition Literature and Arithmetic. These are the examination subjects alone. On top of these come Hygiene, Nature Study, Art, Manual Training, Sewing, Music and Cadet Instruction all obligatory in a graded school such as Orangeville.

Experienced teachers take the ground that with such a range of subjects it is impossible to properly prepare pupils for their examinations without assigning them a certain amount of homework. Consideration of the subjects assigned for Ehtrance work and the time and mental effort required to present the work on the one hand and to master it on the other leads to the conclusion that this position is well taken. This apparently is also the view of the Department of Education which has a ruling at the present time setting forth that at least one and one-half hours homework must be assigned to Senior Fourth class pupils. It may be of interest to parents and teachers to add that Hon. Dr. Cody, formerly Minister of Education for Ontario and an educationist of discernment and excellent judgment, held that homework was a good thing for children. To get the best results, however, it will be generally agreed that it should be reasonable in amount carefully selected and should be made to bear as far as possible on the subjects in which the pupil needs special training.

P. M. Crawford was at Bolton last Wednesday to hear a case laid against Albert Elliott by the Ontario Humane Society of ill-treating his live stock by not giving them sufficient feed. The case ended in a compromise.

To fall seventy-five feet from a small scaffold to the ground and not be instantly killed was the experience of Henry Gray at the C. P. R. elevator, Midland. He struck the ground feet first, but the jar rendered him unconscious and resulted in serious internal injuries. He was immediately removed to St. Andrew's hospital, where he is still in a precarious condition.

ORANGEVILLE, ONT.

WALDEMAR

(Intended for last week)

The prospects for improvement in our town are on the up-grade, judging from the reports we hear these days.

Jas. Butler is going to erect an addition to his present shop to keep pace with the extra repair work. For expert advice, ask James. He knows it all.

Mr. Jas. Talbot reports business rushing on St. David's Ave.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lovell and family are taking up housekeeping on Goose Island shortly.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Tate and family are moving to Orangeville this week. We are sorry to lose such estimable residents and join in wishing them a happy and contented life in the county town.

Two of our town's prosperous young ladies are waiting for the motor bus line to open up between Waldemar, Grand Valley and Arthur.

Pathmaster Tolton is keeping his eye on the road situation these days

The howling March winds coaxed William Boyle out of town to the tall timbers to get a supply of wood. Nothing like the fresh smell of the timbers to fix up your appetite, William.

William Lovell, our local wood king, is debating whether to buy a Ford tractor or a good horse to plow the town gardens.

Miss Sadie Park, who formerly taught the school here, but who has been living in Toronto of late, made a short visit to friends on Queen St. being the guest of Miss Reby McLeod.

Mr. Will Miller, of Amaranth Station, and his Monarch lightning sawing machine are doing a big trade sawing wood in the village and surrounding district. Will is a real hustler at the job.

Mr. John Grosskurth is doing a very nice trade in his Grand Union store. Success, John.

The Station Road knitting industry has opened up again for the summer trade.

HOCKLEY

(Intended for last week)

Wood cutting is the order of the day. Buzz, buzz from all quarters is a familiar sound these days.

Spring must be here for sure. M. J. is nearly ready for seeding.

We are glad to report that Mr Frank Solder is recovering from a rather painful accident. Frank had the misfortune to have his foot cut a few weeks ago.

Lost! Joe Irwin, last seen going north, was it?

The people of Hockley and vicinity were given a rare treat last Wednesday night, when the Farmington Dramatic Club amateurs presented their popular four act drama, "The Trials of Mary," in a very capable manner. The Play, which has a deep laid plot, was particularly well portrayed. The Farmington young people certainly deserve praise for their clever acting. Rex Huise, the hero and Clara Trimble, the heroine, acted as if they were to the profession born. Jessie Walker portrayed her part, a rather difficult one, exceptionally well. Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Gillespie showed up well and deserve credit for their good work. The mirth was cleverly brought into the Play by Irwin Bowen, who made an ideal darkey, direct from Washington, D. C. Hugh Griggs made the best of a foolish role and with Mrs Prust's assistance kept the audience in good spirits. Mr. Griggs certainly can "cut up" and was really funny. Mrs. Prust deserves praise for her clever acting, as do Irene Bowen Clara Gillespie, Susie Rennick, who is only a schoolgirl of fourteen, and Melville Walker. In fact every person took his or her part well and made the most of the play. To sum up we might say that it is very seldom that a rural community is capable of producing such fine local talent. We are very thankful to Miss Berniece Simpson and Mr. H McGill for the good music they provided. It was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Why is M. J. Varey seen coming in at 6 a.m.? Draw your own conclusions.

RIGHTS OF TENANTS

Judge Justin, of Brampton, had an unusual case before him last Thursday, when Duncan and Donald Black, lessors of a farm in the south end of Caledon, owned until last autumn by Edward Harris, asked the Court for a declaration respecting their rights as tenants. The lease was first made for a term of five years, but last autumn, through Mr. C. R. McKeown, K. C., of Orangeville, the Blacks served a written notice on Harris that they would vacate the farm on March 1st, 1924 Harris consulted W. S. Morphy, a Brampton lawyer, and following the interview served his tenants with a written notice, stating that he would hold them responsible for the rent and for damages to the place. On October 24th Harris sold the farm to Duncan McLeod and the latter started to do the fall plowing. The Blacks were still on the place on March 14th. McLeod was anxious to get full possession without further delay and hence the meeting in the Judge's Chambers. The Judge ruled that as the Blacks had not opposed McLeod's plowing nor anything else he had done on the place, they had tacitly recognized him as owner. He therefore advised them to stand by the notice they had served on Harris and give up possession. E. G. Graham appeared for Harris, who will pay $25 and costs amounting to $5 Roy Lent represented the Blacks at the hearing.

PRICE, $175

1900 CATARACT FORCES WATER THROUGH CLOTHES

The 1900 Cataract will wash the DIRTY clothes, the cuffs and neck-bands, shirts and underwear, kiddies' things, smocks and overalls.

It will wash the dirtiest things in the house in 10 to 15 minutes, or occasionally 20 minutes, without rubbing or scrubbing, soaking or boiling a single article.

It was the first oscillating electric washer. The action is patented, and there is none other like it. Most oscillators simply rock clothes and water together. The Cataract rocks up and down and at the same time swings from side to side. The clothes are held on an immense wash board in the centre of the tub and the water is forced over and under and through them with tremendous life and power. It is twice as fast as machines built to imitate it. There are many 1900 washers in town. Just ask a 1900 user what she thinks of her washer.

BEATTY WHITE CAP TAKES CLOTHES THROUGH WATER

The Beatty White Cap is just as fast and thorough as the Cataract, but more simple in construction.

This machine will outwash any electric washer, of any kind, make, description, or price. We will put it side by side with any machine on earth, do a better washing, and do it in twenty-five minutes less time. The White Cap will do the average family washing in three-quarters of an hour, from table cloths to silk stockings.

It will wash anything in the house from rag rugs to scrim curtains. There is nothing it will not wash in 15 minutes. It is heavily built, with heavy frame, extra heavy tub, heavy metal wringer, wide, heavy gears, and the best split phase motor that money will buy. It is made by the strongest largest company in the washer business in the whole British Empire. Beatty Bros., Limited, make more washers than any six Canadian companies put together.

It is a Canadian machine from the ground up, invented by, made and sold by Canadians, in Canadian factories, by Canadian working men. It is a tribute to Canadians that this is the leading machine of the British Empire.

Made by Beatty Bros., Limited, Fergus, Ont.

PRICE, $125

Now that spring house-cleaning is here, why not buy a Beatty Bros. Washer and save yourself a lot of hard work? Machines made by Beatty Bros., Limited, will wash the dainty articles of apparel, but they will also wash the dirty things, the heavy things, and wash them in quick time, too. After all, isn't that the most important thing to expect of a washing machine?

People of Orangeville and vicinity are invited to see these machines in our store.

ONE OF CANADA'S NATIONAL VICES

(Dr. J. G. Shearer.)

Gambling or betting is not exclusively a Canadian or even an Anglo-Saxon vice. The Orientals are much given to it. But in a young nation with enormous natural resources such as ours the temptation to speculate and wager is very strong and gambling pure and simple is very widespread and this gives occasion to unscrupulous men who make a business of gambling, to offer baits and despoil the foolish human fish who nibble at the bait. It looks so enticing and so promising.

Who has not seen innocent and "easy" young country lads being robbed of every dollar they had brought to the local fair or the great exhibition? Fortunately now as a result of an Act of Parliament of 1922 all these gambling devices are criminal and if fair directors and police do their duty are not allowed on any exhibition grounds anyhere in Canada, or elsewhere than at exhibitions, for that matter

Then enormous sums of money are each summer wagered and much of it wasted by betting on horse races on the 20 or more race track on Canada. About $80,000,000 in the season of 1921; $68,000,000 in 1922, and about $60,000,000 in 1923. This totals over $200,000,000 in the last three seasons in a time of great financial and industrial depression. And the number of these race tracks is steadily increasing. The Vancouver Board of Trade is alarmed over threatened continuous racing and betting at the Coast. A new track was recently established at Niagara Falls. And tremendous havoc results from this carnival of gambling. A number of men of fine ability are pining in the penitentiary because they embezzled in the hope of recovering lost money. Women's hearts are broken homes are blighted, divorces obtained, children robbed of their birthright of a happy childhood and a fair chance in life. Legitimate business is dislocated. Credit is substituted for cash. Good debts become bad debts and generally the good name of Canada is scandalized. Only in Mexico and Canada and three of the forty-eight American States is such criminal vice allowed by law When it was driven out from under the Stars and Stripes it found refuge under the good old Union Jack in Windsor. Fort Erie. Vancouver and Victoria. How long shall Canada tolerate this?

A resolution will presently be introduced in Parliament calling for the abolition of the privilege now accorded racing associations to carry on this business of fleecing the foolish which is already criminal in all places excepting race tracks. It might be wise for every man or woman who reads this article to ascertain how his or her own Member voted last year when a similar resolution was voted down in the House of Commons by 96 to 76. Fifteen Liberals out of one hundred and eighteen, sixteen Conservatives out of forty-eight, and fifty-one Progressives out of sixty-one voted for the resolution. The other Members either voted against or did not vote at all. How did your Member vote? Let him know what you think of it. Commend him if he deserves it and if he did not deserve your commendation let him know what your judgment is.

Citizens of high ideals can exert a very great influence upon Parliamentary action by use of the mails It is very little trouble to write a letter. It costs nothing but that trouble. No postage is needed on letters addressed to M. P.'s or Senators at Ottawa while the House is in session. Why not use this mighty power?

Conservative Management and Credit

CREDIT is essential to the normal conduct of business. The clothing manufacturer, for instance, designs his clothes and manufactures them many months before the retailer buys them. If his business is sound he obtains from his banker the money required to carry him over the period of heavy production and light deliveries.

The Sterling Bank enjoys today a strong and stable position due to conservative management. If your business is conducted on the same careful lines as our own, we are prepared to offer you generous financial support. 801

IN 1871 Mutual Life assurance in force amounted to $500,000. The tree was yet a tiny sapling.

In twenty years later, total Mutual assurance amounted to $14,934,807. The young tree was well rooted.

In 1911 Mutual business in force totalled $71,020,770. The years had brought maturity.

In 1921, the amount of Mutual business had grown to the enormous sum of $228,697,566!

Today Mutual insurances in force total $269,982,566. Last year, alone, $39,040,578 in new policies was issued, showing that the big protecting tree is still growing vigorously with no limit in sight.

You need not hide skin defects—now

Millions know this simple way to avoid them—to keep skin lovely, youthful

Do not make the mistake of attempting to cover or hide skin defects. It can never succeed. And there is a better way—which millions know:

This simple method to avoid them—to keep the youthful radiance and clearness of schoolgirl complexion.

For a week do this

Cleanse the skin regularly, authorities say, to keep your complexion lovely, radiant, youthful. But beware of harsh cleansing methods. They injure skin.

Wash thoroughly with Palmolive Soap—each night before retiring. Rub the creamy, foamy lather well into the tiny pores. Rinse — and repeat the washing. Then rinse again.

Then—if skin is dry—apply a little cold cream. That is all. Skin so cared for is not injured by cosmetics, by wind and sun, or by dirt.

The simple, correct way

You cannot find a more effective beauty treatment. Because Palmolive Soap is blended of rare palm and olive oils—famous for mild but thorough cleansing qualities since the days of Cleopatra. And it is inexpensive. Enjoy it for the bath also.

But be sure you get Palmolive—which is never sold unwrapped. All dealers have it. Get some and follow this simple method for one week. Results will delight you, even in that short time.

IT PAYS

Value of Advertising Conclusively Demonstrated in Mirth Provoking Three Act Comedy.

The Young People of Orangeville Methodist Church successfully staged the three act comedy entitled "It Pays to Advertise" before large and keenly appreciative audiences in the Opera House on Thursday and Friday nights. The Play was one of the best given here for some time. Some of the situations were irresistibly funny and the audience was repeatedly convulsed with laughter. The Play has to do in the main with the fortunes of The 13 Soap Company, a concern launched by Rodney Martin, a young man who sets out to show his father that he can make a success in business. Martin has two invaluable assistants in Ambrose Peale, a former press agent, who believes most convincingly in advertising, and Mary Grayson, who appeared to be the head and brains of the firm. At any rate it was to Miss Grayson that the male members of the company looked for advice and suggestions whenever they landed in difficulties, which by the way was quite frequently. Rodney is at odds with his father, Cyrus Martin, millionaire soap manufacturer, who controls the soap market so effectually that when the 13 Soap Company finally lands some business the firm finds itself unable to fill its order until it comes to an arrangement with the senior Martin. This in the end is done in very advantageous fashion through the ingenuity of Miss Grayson. The arrangement takes the form of a partnership which is followed by a happy reconciliation between father and son. The opening act takes place in the library at Cyrus Martin's, the second act in the office of the 13 Soap Company and the closing scenes of the Play in the senior Martin's library. The parts were all admirably taken and for the skill and discernment with which they essayed the roles of the different characters, some of them really difficult, the young people are deserving of a great deal of praise. Miss Ruth Coulter as Mary Grayson, Mr. Leonard McCabe as Cyrus Martin, Mr. Stuart Porter as Ambrose Peale, Mr. Graham Kearns as Rodney Martin and Mrs. T. S. Parkinson as the Comtesse de Beaurien, in search of the control of the French rights for 13 Soap, were all clever in the principal roles, simulating the parts assigned to them with a good deal of skill. Mrs. Parkinson was particularly interesting when speaking and gesticulating as a French lady to the manner born and the dialogue between the Comtesse and Miss Irene McCarthy who appeared in the part of the French maid, was one of the tid bits of the performance. Mr. Douglas Hogg made a big hit in the part of Ellery Clark, the model son, whose monocle and English affectation caught the fancy of the audiences. The minor parts were Johnson, the butler, taken by Mr. Ed. Wild, William Smith, a friend of the family well portrayed by Mr. Chas. B. Matthews, Donald McChesney, the landlord who "will have his rent," taken by Mr. Milton Stewart, George Brenson, of Marshall Field, taken by Mr. Elmer Irwin, and Miss Burke, "who watches the office" by Miss Beatrice Hopkins.

The Play was well staged, the make-up and dress of the actors and the stage setting being well suited to the character of the performance. For this and for the training of the actors much praise is due to Miss Winnifred Mason, of the Orangeville High School teaching staff, under whose direction the production was given. At the close of the performance on Friday night, Mr. W. R. Liddy, Public School Inspector, took the platform and in a neat speech complimented the amateurs on their skill and the acceptable character of their performance. Mr. Liddy also referred in appreciative words to the invaluable services of Miss Mason, who was then called forward and presented with a basket of beautiful roses, little Miss Ella Kentner making the presentation. Hulse's orchestra furnished excellent music both nights, Mrs. Russell Morrow acting as the accompanist.

BILL HELD OVER

When Brampton's separation bill came before the Private Bills Committee in the Legislature last week Col. T. L. Kennedy, member for Peel, asked that the measure be held over until next session to give the town and the County of Peel an opportunity to settle their differences. Col. Kennedy declared that the town of Brampton had been getting a raw deal from the County Council and added that if the County Council failed to get together at the June session and give Brampton a square deal in the matter of money paid in on good roads account he will get behind the bill and do everything in his power to have it passed at the next session of the Legislature.

—The Orangeville Business College is now in full swing in its new premises over J. D. Torie's store.

LOVELY IN WEST

Writing to The Banner on April 4th, Mr. Joseph Lewis, of Macklin, Sask., states, "We have had a lovely winter in this part of the West. There has been very little snow and scarcely any cold weather. The autos have run most of the winter, something quite unusual in Saskatchewan. Seeding will not commence before the middle of April or later. I see that the folk who spent the winter in Ontario and elsewhere are gradually drifting back to the prairie."

—We are reminded by one of our subscribers that Saturday will mark the centenary of the death of the famous poet, Lord Byron.

—Sunday night showers were accompanied by thunder and lightning that brought cooler weather and fresh north winds on Monday.

BROTHER AND SISTER

Two Deaths in Well-Known Mono Township Family.

John W. Cooke, a well-known farmer, passed away at his home at Relessey on Wednesday, April 2nd, after an illness of about ten days from pneumonia. Mr. Cooke, who was 69 years of age, had not been in the best of health for the last year or longer and in his weakened physical condition was not in very good shape to make a fight against the dread malady that had marked him for its victim. The late Mr. Cooke was born in England, but came to Canada with his parents when quite young. He had spent the greater part of his life in the Relessey neighborhood. Besides his wife and one son, Cleaver, he is survived by four brothers, Thomas of Macville; David, of Bolton; Isaac B., of Spokane, Wash., and Cleaver of Vanesti, Alta. Miss Mary Cooke, of Bolton, is the only sister now living. The late Mr. Cooke was a member and supporter of Relessey Methodist Church and was a good neighbor and citizen, who was respected by every person for his industrious habits and integrity of character. The sympathy of the neighborhood is extended to the bereaved wife and son. The funeral which was largely attended, was held from his late home to Relessey Cemetery on Friday afternoon, April 4, Rev. C. H. Forth, of Rosemont, conducting the services. The pallbearers were Messrs. W. J. Quigley, Robt. Anderson, Wm McKelvey, W. J. Coleman, R. J. McCutcheon and J. A. Avison.

Saddened as the community was by the death of Mr. Cooke the feeling of sorrow was intensified by the death on April 10th, after an illness of one week, of his sister, Miss Abigail L. Cooke, of Macville. When she learned of her brother's illness Miss Cooke came to Relessey to help nurse him. On the day of his death she was taken ill and pneumonia speedily developed with fatal results. Miss Cooke, who was 62 years of age and highly esteemed by young and old, had lived for many years with her brother, Thomas, of Macville. The funeral, which was also largely attended, was held from the doubly bereaved home to the C. P. R. station, Orangeville, on Saturday afternoon, April 12th. From Orangeville the remains were conveyed by C. P. R. to Macville, whence the funeral was held to Laurel Hill Cemetery, Bolton, Sunday afternoon. Services were conducted at the house and grave by Rev. P. N. Knight, of Bolton, and Rev. R. H. McCarten, of Mono Road. The floral tributes were numerous and beautiful, including a pillow from the brothers and sister, a wreath from a brother, Isaac Cooke, of Spokane, and wreaths from the Macville Woman's Auxiliary, the Bolton Telephone girls, the Mashinter family, the W. A. of Christ Church, Bolton, the Goodfellow sisters, Miss McMeekin, of Toronto, and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Maguire, of Relessey.

UNION SERVICES

Orangeville Methodist and Presbyterian churches are holding Union Services on Easter Sunday. The morning service will be held in St. Andrew's Church at 11 a.m. and the evening service in the Methodist Church at 7 p.m. Special Easter music will be provided by the choirs. This week the two congregations are holding well-attended union prayer meetings. For the first three nights of the week the meetings were held in the Methodist Church. To-night and Friday night the meetings will be in St. Andrew's Church.

—Ex-Reeve Jas. Milloy, of Erin, sold a fine, heavy mare for $185 at the Orangeville fair last Thursday. This was probably the top price for the day.

At the last regular meeting of the Women's Institute the sum of $3.00 was voted for prizes at the Caledon School Fair. The members of the Society are planning to get up a minstrel show, which they expect to present at an early date. With the talent available for the different parts we have no hesitancy in predicting that the show will be a good one. At the meeting already referred to Mrs. J.A. McLachlan read a fine paper on the subject, "The Mother. What She Owes to Herself the Home and the Community."

Alton Junion Women's Institute has raised enough money to put a new furnace in the Community Hall The Juniors have done themselves proud and have at the same time rendered a real service to the village and surrounding community.

Special Easter singing and music in the Methodist Church next Sunday Dr. Caldwell will speak on "The Resurrection of Jesus Christ."

We are delighted to see Mr. Jas. Barber and Mrs. J. M. Dods and family back in our midst again.

We are pleased to note that Mrs. Somerville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Erskine, is fairly on the way to health again. Congratulations to the young couple for the little baby girl.

Quite a large number turned out from Cataract and Erin last Saturday night to hear the debate held in the hall between the Cataract Mission Circle and the Erin Anglican Sunday School. The subject was, "Resolved that this House express itself as being in favor of organic Church Union." Violetta Akitt was the first speaker and Irene Gibson, both of Cataract, the second speaker for the affirmative. Tom Salmon led for the negative and was supported by Miss Mae Bell Austin, both speakers belonging to Erin. Everyone who attended was very much interested in the discussion, but at the close the majority of the house voted in favor of church union.

A TON OF GRANITE

From the very day your mother and father were married they began the fight for a home. And when you "came to town" the fight grew fiercer, for they were very poor. Your mother would clean, scrub and cook all day, and patch and nurse at night. It was measles, croup, chickenpox, fever, and all the other troubles.

She would go without a decent dress, and cover her shoulders with that little old plaid shawl.

The power of the cradle, where you were sung to sleep, is a greater power than that symbolized by any throne on earth, and she made it so.

Picture, if you will, the love service of your mother as you lay at her breast—your utter unfashioned helplessness.

Now look at your present surroundings and success. You are a man with a home, a family, and you are happy. You are in the prime of life, and the whole future seems bright. Do you do one service for your mother, where she once did one hundred for you?

Now, man, wake up and pay the debt you owe. One kindness to-day, and one to-morrow, are worth more than a ton of granite at the end of life, on which you have etched "Mother."

Easter is close at hand. At Reid's Drug Store you will get a box of LAURA SECORD candy, just what she likes, and it will only cost you 60c. Do it now, and do it often, then watch her smile.

MALCOLM M'ALISTER

A highly respected citizen of Erin township passed peacefully away at his late residence, lot 25, 9th line, Erin, on Sunday evening, March 30, 1924, in the person of Malcolm McAlister, in his 58th year, after a lingering illness from pernicious anaemia. The late Mr. McAlister was of a retiring nature but enjoyed the friendship of a large circle of friends and was a good neighbor, always willing to lend a helping hand. Until late years he took a very keen interest in political matters, being a staunch Liberal, and a member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Hillsburg. The deceased was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert McAlister, and spent his life-time on the old homestead. He leaves to mourn his loss, besides his bereaved wife, who, before her marriage was Miss Flora Reid, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Reid, of East Garafraxa, three brothers, Donald, Gilbert and Angus, all in Alberta, and one sister, Mrs. Thos. F. Barbour, Erin township. The funeral took place on Tuesday, April 1st when a large concourse assembled to pay their last respects to a departed friend. Rev. A. W. Hare conducted the services at the house and grave. The interment took place in Huxley's Cemetery.

"Fisherman's Luck. Good Business.",

When you see a desk-ribbon jockey casting the fly on the French River, or exhibiting the skin of a Nipigon trout, you may know him for a good business man."

SOME men are stamp collectors, some play golf, yet others go off across the world in search of big game. Some hunt hidden treasures whether of an archaealogical nature or the raw material as found in the Canadian mine. To some men these things are merely hobbies, to others a living.

Some businesses and some occupations call for a breaking down of the cast-iron partitions which we are apt to erect between what the world is pleased to call "a living" and a "hobby."

When we have worked for some time at earning a "living" we are apt to be suddenly aware that something of strength, something of alertness, some 'virtue" has gone out of us. And in order to get back, we set about recreating that lost strength. By nature man is not a "specialist." Yet we all know, to our cost, the tendency of modern business-life is to make him so. The pressure of "business" of which we boast, the system, the competition, of which we think so highly, as to be always in pursuit of it, is in reality a Juggernaut, a fierce feudal overlord of the worst type, since we are in bondage to it without knowing it. We actually take our chains lovingly to our hearts.

Sometimes the awakening comes in the form of a rude shock. A physician's dictum. But as often as not in quite another form. That subtle and yet tangible shock received when some younger, fresher mind, some "mere chit of a fellow" beats us at our own game. That is the awakening that hurts. Because we know that at the club, other men are saying "Fell down on the job." Whereas the truth is, "Stuck to his job, not wisely but too well," would be so much nearer the truth.

When civilization first began its pressure. When business first began to be so intense we felt we "could not leave it," the number of "break-downs" was terrific. But just about that time we began to see that to go down and out was not playing the game, but surrendering, surrendering not altogether to pressure from without but to weakness within—a failure to stand-up against "fearful odds"—unexpected lungea.

And so we began to cast about for a means of strength—that strength of nerve—which would stand up squarely under ordinary fire and rise like a well-trimmed ship to meet the waves of unexpected storms.

This thing has been thought out and acted upon as a positive condition of modern life and business we may say within the past twenty years, and more firmly yet within the last ten years.

Men now go away and leave their business at least once each year. And the wiser take a vacation not only in summer but in winter as well. The more intense the business, the heavier the fire, the greater need for re-inforcing that strength which is burned out. The greater need for the gathering up of new ideas.

So, when you see a business-man, a banker or railroad president, or a company official, or any other desk-ribbon jockey casting the fly on the French River, or exhibiting the skin of a Nipigon trout stretched on a board, pleased as any school boy who has carried his bat out at cricket, or kicked a goal for the school team, you know him not as much for a great sport as for a good business man. The very fact that he belongs to those who get back to Nature wins your confidence. You know him for a man who has the business situation of the day in hand. One who is abreast—ahead even—of that tide which surges in the affairs of men. "A live wire," competing youth, calls him.—Victoria Hayward.

MOTHER OF TWIN BOYS

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Relieved Her of Inflammation and Great Weakness

West St. John, N. B.—"I was in a general run-down condition following the birth of my twin boys. I had a great deal of inflammation, with pains and weakness. Finally my doctor recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. He said that your medicine would be the only thing to build me up. I am sure he is right, for I am feeling much better and am gaining in weight, having gone down to ninety-three pounds. I was in bed for over a month, but am up again now. I have recommended the Vegetable Compound to my friends and give you permission to use my letter."—Mrs. ELMER A. RITCHIE, 82 Rodney St., West St. John, N. B.

There are many women who find their household duties almost unbearable owing to some weakness or derangement. The trouble may be slight, yet cause such annoying symptoms as dragging pains, weakness and a run-down feeling.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine for such conditions. It has in many cases relieved those symptoms by removing the cause of them. Mrs. Ritchie's experience is but one of many.

OF INTEREST TO BOYS

The Orangeville Boys' Council which has been in existence for almost a year now, represents a sane and successful way of fitting boys for the responsibilities of citizenship.

The world to-day is witnessing what might be termed a revolt on the part of youth against the old order of things, particularly too much adult domination.

Youth to-day demands the privilege of thinking and acting for itself. The war and its aftermath have caused youth to stop and think. It believes that the present condition of the world, torn as it is by national and class hatred, is not what it ought to be. It wants to help. It believes it can but it wants to be rid of some of the fetters that characterized the environment and training of a generation or two ago and which made progress difficult.

The boys' work of the past has consisted largely of doing things for boys, or superimposing on them the viewpoint of adults. Now we are beginning to understand that this means doing things with boys and in permitting them to make their own choice. We are realizing today that it is a dangerous and perhaps a disastrous thing to do anything for a boy that he can do for himself.

The Orangeville Boys' Council is based on the democratic idea of permitting those who are to be governed to share in the responsibility. It illustrate a real attempt to share with boys in the realm of purposeful activity. It believes that we learn to do by doing.

All-round development of boy life is an ideal of modern education, it means an all-round character. The boy who stands foursquare to all the influences which beset him, especially during adolescence, will be a manly citizen in every sense of the word.

The Boys' Council affords a splendid training in public speaking and in civics. The next council will be elected on Saturday, May 3rd. This is your opportunity to become a member. Don't let it pass unnoticed

MICE AND RABBITS

Do Serious Damage to Many Orchards in County of Peel.

Serious damage has been done by the ravages of the mice and rabbits in the various parts of Peel county, Mr. J. A. Neilson, of the Vineland Experimental Station, who has been co-operating with the local Department of Agriculture, stated that the damage this season is the worst in his experience, not only the number of trees girdled, but in the severity of the damage. In the Price Bros. orchard at Erindale, 2000 trees have been girdled, the amount of girdling varying from two or three inches up and over 2½ feet. The orchards of Col. T. L. Kennedy Dixie, and Mr. Cox, of Clarkson are also among the number seriously damaged. Mr. Neilson is of the opinion that where the girdling is not over 18 inches in depth, the trees can be saved if bridge-grafting is properly done. Bridge-grafting may be done as late as May 15th but the scions which are to be used must be gathered at once; these may be kept in good shape by packing in moist sawdust and placing in the cellar. Good strong shoots of last year's growth are best for this purpose. While bridge-grafting is not difficult, anyone who has not had previous experience would do well to get in touch with the local Department of Agriculture before making a start.

OFFICERS SEIZED A STILL

Hidden in a recess beneathe the foundation of the barn, County Constables Falconer and Watson, of Durham, discovered and carried away a complete outfit for the manufacture of swamp whisky on the farm of George Legette, Rocky Saugeen last Saturday afternoon.

For some time they had been suspicious that the Legette farm was the source of some of the wet dope that was circulating around Durham and decided on a raid on Saturday. They passed the house and proceeded to the barn, but nothing unusual was found. Taking a fork they went around the barn, and jabbed the fork into some old hay stuffed into the foundation between two buggy shafts beside it. The hay gave way and disclosed the apparatus, bottles and a quantity of the alleged booze in process of manufacture.

On top of a coal oil stove was a boiler, connected by pipe to condenser, the latter having three taps connected to the bottom. There was a large bucket of the "Mash," its ingredients being figs, potato peelings and dear knows what else. About two gallons of the alleged "hootch" was found and confiscated, and Inspector Matt Beckett, who was in town on Monday, took a sample of it away with him for analysis. Constable Falconer took possession of the home-brew outfit, and has it stored in his home at present.

Leggette, in the meantime, is said to have disappeared and that any further action will be taken until his return is unlikely.—Durham Review.

FOR U. S. PARCELS

The Post Office Department issues notice that the United States authorities require that a customs declaration (form 91 B) must be attached to all parcels of general merchandise (parcel post) posted in Canada and addressed for delivery in the United States. They further require that commercial invoices or statements of value be enclosed with books prepaid at letter rate, posted in Canada, addressed for delivery in the United States.

MUST NOT WEAR THEM

Retired veterans, who still retain their ancient tunics, ammunition slacks or riding breeches, must beware, for, according to a recent army order, those who don them, even though it be for the "fatigues" of everyday life, are liable to arrest a fine of $300 or imprisonment up to 12 months. Enquiries at the offices of the G. O. C. military district number two elicited the information that a Dominion Order-in-Council which went into effect last week, will be henceforth rigorously enforced.

Godfrey Lamont, a C. N. R. sectionman, living at Port Elgin, awoke one morning last week to find the sight of one eye completely gone. Toronto specialists attribute the strange occurrence to an affection of the nerves, the result of an attack of neuritis in the head, with which the victim had previously suffered. Hopes are entertained for the restoration of his sight.

Here and There

The annual tobacco yield in the United States has a value of over $250,000,000.

A regular air service between Sweden and England has been decided upon and will be established shortly. The terminals will be Malmo and London with intermediate landings in Hamburg. Only six hours will be required for the flight.

The Minister of Lands has announced that a Dutch organization has offered to purchase 200,000 acres of land in the Stuart Lake district, British Columbia, for the purpose of colonization by Dutch agriculturists.

The Canadian Pacific is now perfecting plans to aid in the development of the mining industry of Ontario, by placing car ferries on Lake Temiskaming. These ferries will ply between South Lorrain and Ville Marie, and between New Liskeard, Haileybury and other Ontario points, and the Quebec port.

Major-General MacBrien, chief of staff of the Department of National Defence, Ottawa, addressing the members of the Canadian Club at London recently, announced that it is probable that the Canadian Permanent Force of Militia will be established by Order-in-Council on April 1.

Forty-nine automobile cars of Ford machines recently left Windsor, Ont., for Vancouver, B.C., via Canadian Pacific. This was an unusually heavy movement of cars to one city, and another remarkable feature was that all of the automobiles, some three hundred, were for local consumption.

The Canadian Pacific Railway, which in 1899 brought down to the head of the lakes only 26,000,000 bushels of grain, actually brought down 186,000,000 bushels last season. This is equal to the total volume of grain moved by all the railways of the United States combined during the same time to the terminals at Minneapolis, Chicago and Duluth.

The Canadian Pacific Railway within the next few weeks will have sent out to its station agents 11,000 packets of seed and from thirty to forty thousand flower bulbs, and later on to its Western station agents 100,000 trees and shrubs. It requires 200,000 bedding plants to fill the beds of the permanent gardens and parks of the company every year.

The crack train of the Canadian Pacific Railway, the Trans-Canada, run every summer, will make the trip from Montreal to Vancouver in 90 hours, instead of 92 hours, the schedule run for yast year. Previously the 92-hour run was the fastest continental run in North America, and the two hours cut off this time adds to its superiority for travel between the Atlantic and the Pacific.

Seventy-five creameries in Alberta last year produced 17,750,000 lbs. of butter, as compared with 15,417,070 lbs., representing the output of 54 creameries, in 1922, according to the Provincial Dairy Commissioners' report. In addition, the production of cheese has shown a remarkable growth. In 1922, 14 factories produced 931,922 lbs., while in 1923, 13 factories had an output of 1,850,000 lbs., an increase of almost 100 per cent.

The completion of plans for the development of hydro-electric power during the current year will add 900,000 h.p. to the present total of 3,228,000 h.p. already installed in Canada. This additional power will be used in British Columbia to assist the mining and pulp industries, in Manitoba to supply rural needs, and in Ontario for gold mining and other industries In Quebec the chief developments are in connection with the pulp and paper industries, and farther east, in the Maritime Provinces, for public utility purposes.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hillis, East Garafraxa, announce the engagement of their eldest daughter, Sara to Mr. Alfred W. Platt, the marriage to take place this month.

BRAMPTON RUNAWAY

Driverless Team Causes Great Excitement in Peel Capital.

On Monday afternoon about 4.30 a team of horses owned by W. J. McCallum caused considerable excitement on the Main Street. The driver of the team, Mr. Ernest Clarke, was bringing a parcel out of the Dale Estate, when the team which was standing just outside started to walk away. Clarke on seeing that the horses were off, dropped his parcel and made after them, but by this time their walk had increased to a trot and they had rounded the corner and were off at full speed down Main Street. In spite of the fact that the driver injured his ankle in the chase, he continued in pursuit of the runaway team. About Church St., Mr. McCallum, driving his car, overtook Clarke, who jumped on the running board while the car was travelling at a good speed. Right in the centre of the business section they caught up to the driverless team still going strong.

Mr. Clarke jumped from the car on to the wagon. The lines were on the ground, so he walked along the tongue and caught the horses by the bridles while galloping, and had them under control at the four corners. Eye witnesses said it was a regular Wild West show stunt.

It was certainly a daring piece of work on Clarke's part and he is to be highly commended for his actions. Had the horses continued on their furious rampage there is no telling what disastrous results might have followed.

Other horses on the Main St. frightened by the runaway, made attempts to follow suit, in fact one team did get away, but only a short space before being taken in hand. Excitement ran high for a short time as it is a long while since the town has witnessed a runaway.—Conservator.

THE LATE ROBERT WATTS

On Sunday, March 30th, 1924 one of the oldest residents of this district, in the person of Mr. Robert Watts, passed from time into eternity, in his 91st year, at the home of his son-in-law, James H. Bell, 1st 25, con. 6, Amaranth. He was born in Norfolk County, England, Aug. 29, 1833, and in 1854, when a young man of 21, he, with his parents and family, came to Canada, settling in Beverly township, Wentworth Co. In 1858 he married Margaret L. Moore, who died four years ago, after sharing each others joys and sorrows over 61 years. They came to North Amaranth in 1877. Deceased is survived by an aged brother, G. M. Watts Sr., Shelburne; one son, M. M. Watts, Jessopville; and one daughter, Mrs. J. H. Bell; four others having passed on before. Mr. Watts was a sincere Christian and a lover of all that went to build up the cause of his Lord and Saviour. Tuesday, April 1st, a short service was conducted at the home by Rev. A. F. Webster, Presbyterian minister, Laurel, assisted by Rev. J. B. Backus, Congregational minister Shelburne, after which the remains were followed to Shelburne cemetery. A floral pillow from the family and a spray from the grandchildren bore silent tribute of respect to the departed. The pallbearers were Wm. Gracey, Wm. BENJ. TANSLEY

Benjamin Tansley, formerly of Shelburne, died at his residence, 457 Quebec Avenue, Toronto, on Friday evening, April 4th, in his 78th year. He had not been in good health for some time, but his illness was not looked upon as serious and his death therefore came as a surprise. Deceased was born at Fishpool, Nottinghamshire, England, and was twenty-four years of age when he came to Canada, first living at Rich Hill in Amaranth township. He started to work as a sectionman on the railway when the old Toronto, Grey and Bruce was built. For many years he was section foreman at Shelburne, living at Orangeville and Owen Sound after he left here until his removal to West Toronto. He was roadmaster on this division before being superannuated by the C. P. R., and was perhaps the best known railwayman between Toronto and Owen Sound. He was also a prominent Mason, having been a member of that Order for 45 years and being a Past Master of Lorne Lodge No. 377, A. F. & A. M., Shelburne. He was the installing officer of Lorne Lodge, and when he installed the officers of that lodge in June of last year stated that it was the thirty-fourth time he had performed that duty in thirty-five years. He was also the installing officer of the Dundalk and Markdale Masonic lodges. The funeral, which was under Masonic auspices, took place to Shelburne Cemetery, Monday afternoon. The remains were conveyed to Shelburne from Toronto on the morning train and on arrival of the train were taken to the rooms of Lorne Lodge, the rooms being open to friends and acquaintances until after the public service at two o'clock. The C. P. R. had a special car attached to the train for the use of the relatives of deceased. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. A. E. Owen, pastor of Shelburne Methodist Church, assisted by Rev. W. H. Hartley, rector of St. Paul's Church. The musical part of the service was led by the Masonic choir. The Masonic service was conducted after the public service. The pallbearers were old Lorne Lodge friends of deceased. There was a great profusion of floral tributes the services of fourteen of the brethren being requisitioned as flower bearers. In addition to other friends from outside points who attended the funeral, the following Masonic brethren from other places were noticed: Geo. Shields, Jas. Galvin and Geo. Johnston, of Occident Lodge, Toronto; Jas. Dorricott, of Alpha Lodge, Toronto; T. V. Charlton, of Stanley Lodge, Toronto; J. G. Harris, of Transportation Lodge Toronto; Daniel Telford, A. H. Binn and W. H. Port, of North Star Lodge, Owen Sound; T. H. Reburn W. A. Neely and E. A. Colgan, of Hiram Lodge, Markdale; Alex. W McGillivray, Wm. Morrow and S. Lackey, of Harris Lodge, Orangeville. Deceased leaves a widow, four sons and three daughters: William Assistant Car Service Agent of the C. P. R., Toronto; Marlborough, of Owen Sount; Dolph, Chicago, Ill. Vivian, Hornepayne; Mrs. Tighe, of Capreol; Mrs. Grant, Owen Sound Mrs. S. Lackey, Orangeville; Thos Tansley, of Badjeros, is a brother. —Economist.

FREED OF RHEUMATISM BY FRUIT TREATMENT.

"Be good enough to publish for the information of Rheumatism sufferers how "Fruit-a-tives" relieved my Rheumatism which had at least five years' standing.

"The trouble was in my right hip and shoulder; the pain almost unendurable. This kept up until I started to take "Fruit-a-tives". After a continuous treatment for about six months, I am now in first-class condition. This, I attribute to my persistent use of "Fruit-a-tives".

This is the letter which Mr. James Dobson of Bronte, Ont., wrote after trying the wonderful Fruit Treatment—"Fruit-a-tives"—which consists of intensified fruit juices combined with tonics.

If you suffer with Rheumatism, "Fruit-a-tives" will make you well and keep you well.

BURCH—ERSKINE

The marriage took place at the home of the bride's mother, St. Catharines, of Elda Belle, daughter of Mrs. Erskine and the late W. E. Erskine, to Charles George Burch only son of Mr. and Mrs. George Burch. The bride, who was given away by her brother, Leston Erskine wore a wedding dress of ivory embroidered chiffon, with tule veil falling from a coronet of pearls. She also wore the groom's gift, a diamond and platinum bar pin, and she carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses and marguerites. Miss Marguerite Burch was the bridesmaid, in orchid georgette, with hat to match. Jack Bain acted as groomsman. Rev. Dr. George H. Smith conducted the ceremony. Clarence Colton played the wedding music. Mrs. Erskine wearing black canton crepe, and Mrs. Burch, in black lace and sequines, received. Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Burch left for Montreal, where they will spend their honeymoon, the bride travelling in a sand crepe dress, with hat and coat to match.

MUST BE GRADED

Under the old Act it was permissible for a farmer, provided the seed was not taken off his farm, to sell clover and timothy without first having these graded by the Seed Department. Now, all seeds of grasses and clover sold by farmers, even on their own farms, must be first graded before offering for sale, unless sold to a seed merchant to be recleaned. Grade names defined under the Act are registered Extra No. 1 No. 1, No. 2 and No. 3. The first two mentioned grades are given only for seed whose variety name, through field inspection of the growing crop is known. Seed that will not grade No. 3 is designated rejected and is prohibited from sale in Canada.

Get their orders now

Think of the farmers who will want timothy, clover, wheat, rye, oats seeds, potatoes for planting; roofing or paint for the barns; wire for the chicken runways or pig pen — a hundred things.

If prices are favourable, get their order for them now, by Long Distance, and hold the goods, if necessary.

When the roads are bad farmers doubly appreciate your telephoning them. The first merchant who does stands a mighty good chance of getting their orders. Try a dozen calls. The results should average very well.

Every Bell Telephone is a Long Distance Station.

SAVED BY HIS DAUGHTER

Rev. T. D. McCullough, Secretary of the Social Service Council of London, Ont., and formerly of Guthrie Church, Harriston, had a narrow escape from death at the C.P.R. depot on a recent Saturday morning when he stepped in front of the Chicago-Montreal express and was jerked aside by his daughter in the nick of time. As it was, the buffer of the locomotive struck him and tossed him into the ditch. Miss Margaret McCullough was leaving on a visit to Whitby, and her father and mother went with her to the station to see her off. Mr. McCullough had been in the habit of seeing the express come in on the second track, and as it approached he attempted to cross the first set of rails. But the train came in on the first track, and only the quick action of his daughter saved his life. When she saw her father hurled to one side Miss McCullough fainted, and the Whitby trip was postponed. Mr. McCullough was suffering from a dislocated shoulder and other hurts, but his condition was not regarded as serious.

"EUGENIA" NO MORE

The Eugenia system of the Hydro has ceased to exist officially, according to the latest ruling of the Hydro Commission. The Severn, Wasdell Big Chute, South Falls and Eugenia systems have been combined into one unit and will henceforth be known as the Georgian Bay District of the Hydro. Each of the oldtime districts, however, will not entirely lose their identity, but will be referred to, for instance, as the Eugenia "division" of the Georgian Bay District, and so on.

The change in the grouping of this section of the Ontario Hydro has been ratified by the Legislature, and takes effect at once. The first intention was to have the new combination known as the Muskoka System.

LOWERED VITALITY

A Condition Following Indoor Confinement of Winter.

There are very few people who do not need a tonic at this season of the year. The reason for this is that whether in the home, the office or the factory, people have been living throughout the long winter months in an atmosphere more or less vitiated, and as a result find themselves not up to their summer-time health. Through the long months of winter your blood has been growing thin and poor. Closer confinement and lack of exercise have used it up and exhausted it. You are not as energetic as you could wish. Your work tires you and perhaps your digestion is none too good. Your nerves may be shaky and your appetite poor. All these things point to poverty of the blood. It is a scientific fact that if the blood of the strongest is tested in the spring there is less of it and it is poorer than it was in September. The spring medicines of our grandmothers — sulphur and molasses, salts and the like—recognized the necessity for aid at this season, but were an unscientific attempt to cleanse the blood. Modern medical science has found a better way, new rich blood at the first dose and at every dose afterwards. Thus they strengthen every organ of the body and give new vitality to the jaded system. Here is proof. Miss Clara Cheslock, High Falls, Quebec says:—"I was in a much run-down condition and my blood was thin and poor. I took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I must thank you for the good they did me. I never enjoyed better health than I have since I took them"

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville Ont.

"I Suffered Terribly With Sore, Aching Back"

Mrs. Roland Ferguson, 194 Lake St., Peterboro, Ont., writes:

"For over two years I suffered terribly with sore back. I was almost mad with the pain, and had doctored with it until I was discouraged. Then my father, who is a firm believer in Dr. Chase's Medicines, advised me to try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I followed his advice, and am glad to say I was completely relieved of that torturing pain in my back. It is over a year since I used these pills, and I have had no return of the trouble, but always keep them in the house."

CHAPTER OF MISFORTUNES

The farm of Philip Reid, lot 8 con. 5, Erin township, has been the scene of a succession of happenings. The barn was destroyed on Sunday, Feb. 24th. Saturday forenoon as Mr. Reed was approaching the farm with a prospective purchaser, it was observed that the house was on fire A spark from the chimney had fallen on the roof and ignited the shingles. Mr. Reed, with the assistance of the neighbors who had gathered, subdued the flames. The damage was small a loss of about $35. While the fire was in progress, a gust of wind came up and unroofed the section of the horse stable. A section about 12 by 14 feet square was blown off each side. Mr. Reed has sold the farm to George Meyers, of Toronto who gets immediate possession. Mr and Mrs. Reid and family will return to Toronto, from whence they came to this farm two years ago.—Advocate.

THE COOK OR THE BOOK

Hear the truth. The early church prayed in the Upper Room, but the twentieth century church cooks in the Supper Room. To-day the Supper Room has taken the place of the Upper Room. Play has taken the place of prayer and feasting the place of fasting. There are more full stomachs in the church than there are bended knees and broken hearts. There is more fire in the kitchen range than there is in the church pulpit. When you build a fire in the church kitchen it often puts out the fire in the pulpit, and ice cream chills the fervor of the spiritual life.

The early Christians were not cooking in the supper room the day the Holy Ghost came, but they were praying in the Upper Room. They were not waiting on tables but were waiting on God. They were not waiting for the fire from the stove, but for the fire from above. They were detained by the command of God and not entertained by the cunning of men. They were all filled with the Holy Ghost and not stuffed with stew or roast.

Oh, we would like to see the cooking squad put out and the praying band put in. Less ham and sham but more heaven. Less pie and more piety. Less use for the cook and more use to the old "Book." Let us put out the fire in the church stove and build it in the church altar. More love and fewer dinners and get after sinners. Let us have a church full of servers, serving God and waiting for His dear Son from Heaven.

Quebec Man Praises Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Mr. P. Levesque Completely Relieved of Kidney Trouble After a Short Course of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Padoue Station, Que., April 14th (Special)—Mr. Pierre Levesque, a well-known resident here, is a new addition to the army of Canadians who sing the praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Like all the others, he has tried Dodd's Kidney Pills for kidney trouble, and found them good.

"After receiving advice from my friend about your kidney pills, I gave them a trial. I had bad kidneys. I have been completely relieved after a treatment of a few boxes."

Dodd's Kidney Pills strengthen the kidneys and put them in shape to do their full work of straining the impurities out of the blood. With pure blood there is good health all over the body.

There is no reason why anyone should continue to suffer when Dodd's Kidney Pills can be obtained from druggists everywhere, or The Dodd's Medicine Co. Ltd., Toronto.

STRUCK BY CROWBAR

Cookstown Young Man Meets With Terrible Accident.

A terrible accident befell Willis Corrigan, son of J. T. Corrigan formerly of these parts, but now residing near Cookstown. Last Tuesday the young man was working at a tractor and to get the stiffness out of it after making some repairs he attached a belt to the tractor engine and the other to a four or five hoursepower gasoline engine. He was able to make the stationary engine move the engine of the tractor but the belt persisted in coming off the pulley of the gasoline engine. To keep the belt in place the young fellow used a crowbar, one end of which he put on the floor and holding the other end in his hand, kept the belt in place. While doing this he stooped over the engine to increase the feed of gasoline when the flywheel caught the crowbar and hurled it against the young man's face knocking him prone on the floor. Though terribly injured, he was not unconscious, and getting onto his feet, proceeded to the house. He only got as far as the barn door when he collapsed. His younger brother was with him and with help got the injured boy into the house. Medical aid was immediately summoned and the doctor soon on the spot found the young fellow's face in a terrible condition. The cheek bones on either side of the nose were smashed, one side of his face was cut open from the mouth to the ear and the tongue was terribly lacerated. As much as could be done was done at once, but on account of the injury to the tongue it had to be fixed up first and allowed to commence to heal before anything else could be done. Eighteen stitches were required to pull the tongue into shape. The chief danger lay in what effect the shock would have on the young fellow and there was an anxious vigil in the home for the next forty eight hours He passed the crisis and the doctors have since been getting his face into very good shape and have every hope now for his ultimate complete recovery with little or no disfigurement. The doctors gave the injured man a bit of consolation when they told him he was struck in the only spot above the legs that could resist the impact without killing him. In the crowbar which dealt the blow is a bend of from five to eight degrees.—Alliston Herald.

THEY WASH DIRTY CLOTHES

Made by Beatty Bros., Limited, Fergus, Ont.

PRICE, $175

1900 CATARACT FORCES WATER THROUGH CLOTHES

The 1900 Cataract will wash the DIRTY clothes, the cuffs and neck-bands, shirts and underwear, kiddies' things, smocks and overalls.

It will wash the dirtiest things in the house in 10 to 15 minutes, or occasionally 20 minutes, without rubbing or scrubbing, soaking or boiling a single article.

It was the first oscillating electric washer. The action is patented, and there is none other like it. Most oscillators simply rock clothes and water together. The Cataract rocks up and down and at the same time swings from side to side. The clothes are held on an immense wash board in the centre of the tub and the water is forced over and under and through them with tremendous life and power. It is twice as fast as machines built to imitate it. There are many 1900 washers in town. Just ask a 1900 user what she thinks of her washer.

BEATTY WHITE CAP TAKES CLOTHES THROUGH WATER

The Beatty White Cap is just as fast and thorough as the Cataract, but more simple in construction.

This machine will outwash any electric washer, of any kind, make, description, or price. We will put it side by side with any machine on earth, do a better washing, and do it in twenty-five minutes less time. The White Cap will do the average family washing in three-quarters of an hour, from table cloths to silk stockings.

It will wash anything in the house from rag rugs to swiss curtains. There is nothing it will not wash in 15 minutes. It is heavily built, with heavy frame, extra heavy tub, heavy metal wringer, wide, heavy gears, and the best split phase motor that money will buy. It is made by the strongest largest company in the washer business in the whole British Empire. Beatty Bros., Limited, make more washers than any six Canadian companies put together.

It is a Canadian machine from the ground up, invented by, made and sold by Canadians, in Canadian factories, by Canadian working men. It is a tribute to Canadians that this is the leading machine of the British Empire.

Made by Beatty Bros., Limited, Fergus, Ont.

PRICE, $125

Now that spring house-cleaning is here, why not buy a Beatty Bros. Washer and save yourself a lot of hard work? Machines made by Beatty Bros., Limited, will wash the dainty articles of apparel, but they will also wash the dirty things, the heavy things, and wash them in quick time, too. After all, isn't that the most important thing to expect of a washing machine?

People of Orangeville and vicinity are invited to see these machines in our store.

BRAMPTON GAOLER RESIGNS

Sheriff Henderson Names William Partridge, a Former Mono Man, as Successor.

(Intended for last week)

The resignation of Loftus O'Neill for the past two years governor of Brampton jail, was recently accepted by the inspector of prisons and the Sheriff of Peel County, N. Henderson. Mr. O'Neill, who asked for a raise in salary some time ago, had his request referred to the County Council at its January session, but the council could not see its way clear to grant this request, and Mr O'Neill, who feels that the salary is inadequate to the work and the times, tendered his resignation.

Those who have had the privilege of seeing the county jail, during the past year and a half especially, have been struck with the splendid appearance which it presents at all times. The building was immaculate in every particular, and unusually free from what is known to the initiated as the "institutional odor." The inspector, on his visit in January, framed his report in language that left no doubt as to the work that Mr. O'Neill has done during his governorship of the jail.

Mr. O'Neill drew $550, and his wife received $250 as matron, a total of $800. He gets a suite of rooms rent free, free light, heat and water, the total amounting to about $1,100 for the two persons. As Mr. O'Neill had to be on the job seven days in the week, evenings as well as days, he considered that the salary was too low for the demands upon his time, and also too low for the equivalent he gave the county council during his incumbency.

News of the acceptance of Mr O'Neill's resignation spread fast, and Sheriff Henderson had many applications to fill the vacancy. The man selected for the position is Mr. William Partridge, at present in the employ of the People's Fuel Company, who some years ago served as turnkey for a couple of years. He with Mrs. Partridge as matron, will assume their duties at once. That they will fill the position creditably is the belief of all who know them —Conservator.

FREE—10 Much Finer Shaves!

Cleaner Shaves—Quicker

with no skin irritation!

If you were paid for putting into words the perfect shave, you would probably define it as . . . "the cleanest, quickest, easiest on skin."

Because that's what 1000 men told us a really good shave should be.

Now we ask you to judge how well we've put those three requisites into a shaving cream. At our expense.

We've put it up to millions of men. And, having tried it, they refuse to use any other cream or soap.

There are 5 distinct superiorities, shaving advantages, in Palmolive Shaving Cream. It cost us 18 months' work, 130 laboratory experiments, to perfect them. Now judge our work.

You'll find cream multiplying itself 250 times in luxurious lather.

You'll find that lather softens the most unruly beard in one minute—without any irritating "rubbing in."

You'll find the lather remains rich and creamy for 10 minutes on your face, if necessary.

You'll find cutting easier, cleaner, because bubbles of extra strength hold each hair erect. This is important. Finally, you'll marvel at the cool, soothed "after feel"—a result of the carefully blended palm and olive oils.

THAT ORDER ABOUT UNIFORMS

The Dominion Government recently issued an order that no military uniforms or parts of uniforms are to be worn. For the first part of the order there is probably good reason, but it seems to have been carried too far when the latter part was included. There have been protests from various quarters and we add our own.

If this order were enforced, it would mean that riding breeches, puttees, military boots and old army overcoats could not be worn. The part about the boots is not likely to be enforced, of course, and the authorities might have trouble proving that the useful puttees were originally a part of the owner's uniform, although it is likely that they would be. The old greatcoats are worn by many when they want to save their overcoats and are at rougher kinds of work. They are warm, if not stylish, and the owners would seem to have earned the right to use them if they want to. For sports, such as snowshoeing, riding breeches and puttees are most useful and comfortable and, hand the ruling been enforced this past winter, it would have been found that they were extensively worn.

Perhaps some of the military men think that the soldiers should save up their old uniforms, so as to be ready for the next war.—Fergus News-Record.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The next meeting of the Orangeville Women's Institute will be held at the home of Mrs. Maura McNaughton, York St., on Tuesday afternoon, April 29th. Miss F. Shain will give a Talk on the topic, "How Home and School Can Help Each Other." Miss Ruth Coulter will give a recitation. A good attendance of the ladies is desired.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Homework seems to be a necessary part of the school curriculum. Experienced teachers admit that they would prefer to dispense with home tasks, but state that they find it impossible to cover their work properly unless they impose a certain amount of homework. Educational authorities are pretty well agreed that as a general thing homework is a good thing for the child. It should, however, be carefully selected and suited to the needs of the pupil. Home tasks should not be made so heavy as to become irksome to the children.

It should not be a difficult matter for the Government to preserve the identity of the County of Dufferin in the pending redistribution of constituencies. The people of this County and the people of the south of Simcoe have a great deal in common. One of the Simcoe townships, Adjala, was for many years grouped with the township of Mono in the old Federal constituency of Cardwell. Dufferin people and the people of South Simcoe are largely descended from north of Ireland stock and the great majority of them are engaged in the pursuit of agriculture and are therefore affected in much the same way by economic conditions. This being the case they have common economic and political interests and their representative in the House would be in a position to give expression to the views of the whole constituency. To parcel Dufferin among adjoining constituencies would in some ways be equivalent to the disenfranchisement of the county for its people would be so placed that their votes would have comparatively little effect on the result of elections in any of the surrounding ridings. We are emphatically of the opinion that Dufferin should be preserved as a political entity and that additions sufficient to bring its population up to the constituency standard should be made to the county from surrounding counties. If the south townships of Simcoe were added to Dufferin, there would still be sufficient of Simioe left to form one if not two constituencies. If Dufferin is cut up then Dufferin disappears absolutely as a Dominion riding and with its disappearance will go any influence that the people of Dufferin may be able to exert in Dominion affairs.

MRS. JOHN WOODYARD

A well known former resident of the Mono Road district, Mary Ann Hutchinson, widow of the late John Woodyard, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mundy, Toronto, on Saturday last. Mrs. Woodyard was a daughter of the late John Hutchinson and was a native of Sheffield, England. Coming to Canada when quite young she resided in Mono Road and district until the death of her husband six years ago when she removed to Toronto to reside with her daughter. She was in her 90th year, was a member of the Anglican Church and well and favorably known. She is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Mundy, and two sons, John, of Toronto, and Samuel, of Orangeville. Interment took place at Providence Cemetery on Tuesday, service being conducted at the grave by Rev. R. J. McCarten, of Mono Road.

The programme will include a debate and several musical numbers. The High School Chorus, which is competing in the Musical Festival Competition in Toronto the end of this month, will sing. DEATH OF MR. SAMUEL LEE

For more than seventy years the late Samuel Lee was an exemplary and highly respected citizen of Rosemont. He was farming there when that burg was the hub of this district in the years before the Grand Trunk Railway went through the little hamlet that had grown up on the banks of the Boyne and had taken the name of Alliston. Mr. Lee was born in Cornwall, England, on the 1st of April, 1834, and came to Canada with his parents when five years of age, making the voyage in a sailing ship and spending more than six weeks on the trip. The family first settled at Thornhill and after some years there came to Rosemont, settling on the farm on which Mr. Lee spent the next seventy years of his life. He was one of the kindly, rugged pioneers, to whom the present generation owe an unbounded debt of gratitude for the heritage they have handed down. Not only was Mr. Lee's latch string always out, but genuine, warm hospitalty continued to be one of his outstanding traits to the day of his death. A hardy influence for good in his community, Mr. Lee was identified with every movement the object of which was moral and material improvement. He was an ardent prohibitionist for half a century and lived to see the day when liquor became outlawed in the land of his home. He was a lifelong member of the Methodist Church, and was one of the pillars of Thompson's church, Rosemont, having worshipped in the old log church which preceded the present church building. In politics, Mr. Lee was a staunch Conservative and possessing a natural gift of expression, he was able to render his party valuable service during campaigns. His greatest interest, however, was in his farm and his home. A thrifty, industrious agriculturist of domestic temperament, he was a contented and kind father, considerate husband and generous neighbor. Some forty years ago he was married to Mary Ann Harper, who, with two daughters and one son, survives. The members of the family are Mr. Samuel Lee, who resides on the homestead at Rosemont; Mrs. Grant McKnight, Alliston, and Mrs. Thomas Broadhurst Toronto. The funeral, which took place Tuesday, April 1st, was largely attended by the many friends and neighbors of the deceased and his family. Service was held in Thompson's Church, where Rev. Mr. Forth conducted service, after which the remains were brought to the Union Cemetery for interment. Mr. Lee had been a remarkably able bodied and vigorous man all his life and enjoyed good health right up to the end. His final illness was only of a week's duration and was due to declining years.—Alliston Herald.

DUNN FINES

The death of Dunn Fines, a young man of the Everett neighborhood, which occurred in the Collingwood Hospital last Sunday, was a shock to his relatives and friends. He had been poorly for some weeks and on consulting a doctor improved temporarily. Some three weeks ago he was advised to go to a hospital, and on being examined by means of the X-ray, it was discovered that a deep seated internal trouble had laid hold on him. Dunn Fines was a son of George Fines of the townline between Tossorontio and Mulmur and was 26 years of age. He was to have been married, so it is stated, a week ago. The funeral took place yesterday from the home of deceased's sister, Mrs. Rod. Graham, Mulmur. Besides his father the young man is survved by two brothers and three sisters.—Alliston Herald.

WM. J. JACKSON

William James Jackson, who moved to Orangeville from Fergus late last summer, passed away at his home on Elizabeth St. on Wednesday, April 16th, after a comparatively short illness from ulceration of the stomach. Deceased, who was 49 years of age, was born and reared in the township of Mono; being a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Jackson, residents of the Camilla neighborhood. After his marriage to Susan Middleton in 1900, he moved to Melancthon township, where he farmed for some years. He gave up farming and moved to Fergus, where the family resided for 15 years, before coming to Orangeville. Deceased was working with the C. P. R., when overtaken by his last illness. Mr. Jackson was a quiet, industrious man, who was held in general esteem as a neighbor and citizen. While in Fergus he was in the employ of Beatty Bros. and was well thought of by his employers and friends in that town. He was connected with the Methodist Church. Deceased is survived by his widow and a family of three sons, Lloyd, Harold and Henry and three daughters, Vera, Violet and Edith, all living at home. Mr. T. R. Jackson, of Woodstock, is the only brother and Mrs. Wm. Alexander, of Laurel, and Mrs. Robert Thompson, of London, are the sisters. Mrs. Chas. Cooke, Shelburne, is a half-sister and Mr. Albert French, living in Deleware State a half-brother. The funeral was held from his late residence to the Forest Fawn Cemetery on Friday afternoon, Rev. H. L. Partridge conducting services at the house and grave. The pallbearers were Messrs. W. T. Johnston, Walter Christian, E. H. Sproule, Wm. Alexander, Samuel Black and Thos. Middleton. The floral tributes included a "Gates Ajar" from the employees of the Dods Knitting Co., spray Mr. W. E. Leeson and family, a wreath A. Bradley and F. Hogben, spray Mr. and Mrs. R. Leeson, spray Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Bradley, spray Form 2, Public School, a pillow the family and a wreath from the brother and sisters.

Friends here from outside points for the funeral included Mr. and Mrs. H. Morby, Glencairn, Ont., Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Thompson, Woodstock; Messrs. E. and Wilfred Morby, Glencairn; Mr. Fred Green, of Corbetton; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. McAulay and Mr. Earl Hudd, Dundalk; Mrs. Cook and Mrs. Stephenson, Shelburne, and Mrs. Thos. R. Jackson, Woodstock.

WILLIAM HARRISON

William Harrison, a well-known resident of Brampton, passed away at his residence on John St. on Saturday afternoon in his 66th year. Deceased was a native of Cooksville, but had farmed in the Grahamsville district for a number of years. He moved to Brampton over thirty years ago. His wife predeceased him in 1918. He is survived by a family of three daughters and two sons. Deceased was a member of the Methodist Church and a Liberal in politics.

DEATH OF WM. HIRONS

William Hirons, who died in his 90th year, after two months' illness, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. A. Herron, 57 McKay ave., Toronto, on Friday, April 11th, was buried on Monday, April 14th, in the cemetery at Grenfell, Ont. A service was conducted at the house Sunday evening by Rev. Peter Bryce and Rev. Chas. Marshall, past and present pastors of Earlscourt Methodist Church, of which deceased was a member.

Born in Oxfordshire, Eng., the late Mr. Hirons came to Canada when seven years old, and ran a farm near Barrie, until 16 years ago. Since the death of his wife, he had lived with his daughter in Earlscourt.

Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. W. A. Herron; two sons, David, of Weyburn, Sask., and John C., of Orangeville; two stepsons, Thos. W. Brumby, Toronto, and James Brumby, Grenfell; 18 grandchildren, and 14 great-grandchildren.

PEEL CONSERVATIVES

Speakers at Annual Meeting in Brampton Optimistic of Success in Next Federal Election.

There was a large and representative attendance at the annual meeting of the Liberal-Conservative Association of the County of Peel in Brampton on Saturday afternoon. Optimism marked the utterances of the different speakers, who freely predicted a Conservative victory at the next Federal election. Addresses were given by S. Charters, M. P., Col. T. L. Kennedy, M. P. P., Gordon Wilson, M. P. for Wentworth, Chas. King, of Mimico, D. O. Bull, Brampton, and President David Wilson, of Albion.

Col. T. L. Kennedy declared, amid applause, that the great reason why the Conservative party is looked upon as the backbone of the country is because Conservatives go in for what they believe is good for the country, not what is good for the party. In a resume of the work done by the Government now in power in Ontario, Col. Kennedy spoke especially of the determination of the Government to put Hydro within reach of every farmer, of the businesslike system to which road-building had been reduced and also of the proposed vote on the Ontario Temperance Act. If the majority of the people were still in favor of prohibition, then the Government would see that the law was tightened up and vigorously enforced.

S. Charters, M. P., averred that a Federal election is imminent. The budget, he said, must be submitted to the people and an election is usual after the passing of a redistribution bill. He gave it as his unqualified opinion that Canada will see a return to power of the Conservative party, with majorities parallelling those of June, 1923.

Gordon Wilson, M. P., the principal speaker of the day, dealt with the tariff issue and advocated a brick for brick tariff. Under this policy Canada would be in a position to talk business to the United States. Too much Canadian money was being spent annually, he declared, for American products, and every such product brought into the country displaced a Canadian product of the same kind. The Conservative party stood behind Canada and the Canadian flag, behind a country that repudiated neither its defence nor its debts. It was the party that believed in equal protection for the market gardener, the fruit grower, the artisan and the manufacturer, and whose policy the speaker firmly believed had brought Canada to the place she occupied in the world today. Mr. Wilson paid a glowing tribute to the leader of the Conservative party, especially to his work at the London conference, and referred to the devoted and undivided manner in which Mr. Meighen's followers support him at Ottawa.

Mr. King declared that the Conservative party was the party that gave a 100 per cent. square deal to the people of Canada. It was the party that must rally to the support of Canada and Canada's flag, or Canada, already suffering from conditions at Ottawa, will suffer still more under the dictation of men imported from the United States.

Resolutions were passed expressing confidence in Hon. Arthur Meighen and Hon. G. Howard Ferguson and in the local members. The Association also placed itself on record as being opposed to a lowering of the tariff, and pledging its support and approval to the opposition to tariff reduction by the Conservative party at Ottawa.

Officers were elected as follows: President, David Wilson, Albion; Vice-Presidents, Mrs. C. Urquhart, Port Credit, A. Fletcher, Brampton; Secretary-Treasurer, A. G. Davis Brampton; Treasurer, George Bland, Toronto Gore.

PAINFUL SCIATICA AND NEURALGIA

Caused by Starved Nerves Due to Weak, Watery Blood.

People think of neuralgia as a pain in the head or face, but neuralgia may affect any nerve of the body. Different names are given to it when it affects certain nerves. Thus neuralgia of the sciatic nerve is called sciatica, but the character of the pain and the nature of the disease is the same, and the remedy to be effective, must be the same. The pain, whether it takes the form of sciatica or whether it affects the face and head is caused by starved nerves. The blood, which normally carries nourishment to the nerves, for some reason no longer does so and the excruciating pain you feel is the cry of the starved nerves for food. The reason why the blood fails to properly nourish the nerves is usually because the blood itself is weak and thin.

When you build up the impoverished blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, you are attacking sciatica, neuralgia and kindred diseases at the root. As proof of the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in cases of this kind we give the statement of Mrs. Marion Bell, Port Elgin, Ont., who says: "Some years ago I was attacked with sciatica in my leg and the pain was excruciating and finally I was forced to go to bed. Apparently all the doctor could do was to gve me drugs to dull the pain, as otherwise I found no relief. I had been in bed with the trouble for eight weeks when a lady who came to see me said that she had had a similar attack, and had only found relief through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I decided at once to try this medicine, and before I had taken more than three boxes I found relief. I continued the use of the pills and under the treatment the pain left me. I was able to walk again, and have not since had the least return of the trouble. I feel that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been of such great benefit to me that I strongly urge similar sufferers to give them a fair trial."

You can get these pills from any medicine dealer, or by mail, at 50 cents a box, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

ONLY ONE IN THIRTY SETTLERS IN AREA IS LIKELY TO FAIL

Fine Showing of War Veterans on Former Indian Reserve in Alberta.

Out of thirty settlers on the Bobtail Indian Reserve near Ponoka, Alta., but one is classified by the soldier settlement district supervisor as likely to fail.

This reserve was taken over by the Soldier Settlement Board in 1919 and divided into farm units of an average size of 214 acres. In the season of 1923 all the settlers had from one-third to one-half of their acreage under cultivation—in one case 140 acres—although none of the land was broken when the district was opened. Buildings have been erected, farms fenced and other improvements completed. The district has a school house and roadwork has been done. There is a Dominion Government Stock Association in the district and the supervisor reports a marked tendency towards mixed farming. The settlers are well equipped with producing stock and machinery.

In the present collection period 28 of the 30 settlers had payments due nineteen have made full payments and seven very substantial payments with prospects that before the end of the period not more than ten to fifteen per cent of the amount will be outstanding.

A number of the settlers have large families and were under the necessity of having to build large houses at first. This was rather a handicap to them as they needed all their resources for the development of their land. While they were not particularly favored by the weatherman, the whole district having suffered from damage by hail last year they have made a splendid showing due in large measure to their fine spirit and industry.

CALEDON ORGANIZES

Caledon Lacrosse Club has reorganized for the season of 1924. The officers are:—President, E. E. Wilson; Vice-Presidents, Dr. J. T. Thomas and W. J. Warnock; Secretary-Treasurer, Dr. W. F. R. Stubbs; Manager, Alf. Harrington; Assistant Manager, Gordon VanWyck; Captain, Jack Lundy; representative of the Club on the League Committee, Dr. Thomas. The meeting was well attended and a good deal of enthusiasm was in evidence. The Club was connected with the North Peel League last season and made quite a good showing. Those in touch with the situation say that Caledon will be able to field a strong team this year, as there is considerable new material in sight. In Alf Harrington, the manager, the Club has the good fortune to have a real enthusiast as well a lacrosse strategist of no mean ability. A few weeks ago Mr. Harrington entertained the officers of the Club to a dinner at his home, when plans for the coming season were discussed.

Ben Higgins never would be passed. He bragged his car's endurance. He passed six cars with backward glance—

THE O. A. L. A.

Annual Good Friday Convention Largely Attended and Harmonious

The delegates to the annual convention of the Ontario Amateur Lacrosse Association held at the Prince George Hotel Good Friday passed a resolution to withdraw from affiliation with the A. A. U. of C. in case the latter refused to rescind the privileges extended to professional soccer players or to extend the same privileges to all lines of sport.

The resolution on which the convention acted was introduced by Leonard Smith, and called attention to the fact that the Ontario branch of the A. A. U. of C. had passed a resolution permitting professionals to play amateur soccer with the Canadian Football Association. Mr. Smith gave figures to show that large numbers of admitted professionals are playing in soccer, which is called amateur.

After much discussion the motion was carried, and the Ontario Amateur Lacrosse Association will withdraw from affiliation with the A.A.U. of C. until such time as they rescind the legislation in question, or extend the same privileges to all branches of amateur sport.

A motion [illegible] fused to pla[illegible] in the event of a tie credited with a loss met with unanimous favor.

A motion to reinstate professional players, who served overseas, and who have not participated in professional sport since returning, was left to the incoming executive.

The amendment to keep juniors and juveniles from playing on a senior team in the same club was defeated.

Pro Coaches O. K.

Bert Booth of Orangeville explained that he did not wish to press his amendment stopping the employment of a professional coach. He suggested that he would like to have a rule passed forbidding coaches to go on the field. It was pointed out that such a rule would bar playing coaches for the team. Fred Whittemore added that Mr. Booth's changed motion would bar field captains from the juvenile and midget games. When all the complications had been outlined Mr. Booth decided to withdraw his suggestions entirely.

Close For Twelve-Man Lacrosse

The amendment to have twelve-man lacrosse in every series brought forward by St. Simons went down to defeat on account of the two-thirds majority required.

J. H. G. Wallace, St. Simons, sponsored an amendment permitting the teams to carry a substitute goalkeeper in addition to the other three substitutes. It was carried by a large majority.

A motion was carried permitting teams to put substitutes on the field whenever there is a stop in the game, instead of between the periods, as in the past.

Reports of Officers

President A. R. Smith gave his report after opening the meeting and reviewed the growth of the sport of the association since its organization. He announced the resignation of Secretary James Labbett and paid a high tribute to his former associate for his work during the past three years. In his report he briefly referred to the Orangeville-Maitland overtime game, and the action of the St. Mary's club in taking a protest before the courts. He very much regretted these incidents and was of the opinion that no similar situations would arise in the future.

As regards the final disposition of the receipts of the replayed Orangeville-Maitland game, the judicial committee investigated the matter very fully, and a distribution was arranged on the following basis: $100 was donated to the Lord Dufferin Hospital at Orangeville; $50 to the Telegram Returned Soldiers' Picnic Fund; $50 to the Star Fresh Air Fund, and the balance of $561.56 divided equally between the two clubs.

Secretary Labbett read the annual report of the association. There were 1,514 playing certificates issued last year, and the association had under its jurisdiction 133 teams in competition.

The treasurer's report, presented by W. R. Harcourt, showed a balance on hand of $133.10. The total receipts last year were $1954.39 and the disbursements $1,821.29.

Charles R. McKeown, M.P.P., was the speaker at the noon-day luncheon. He foretold a great future for lacrosse, which was now steadily climbing into the place that it should occupy in the national life. It was a splendid thing for a nation to have its own distinctive game, provided the game was one that contained admirable qualities. Canadians should be proud of the characteristics of their own game, which demanded stability, stamina, perseverance and skill. Mr. McKeown said that sport in a man's life might have a damnable influence or a beneficial one. A man who plays in clean sport gets the benefit in later years. If sportsmanship is bad, the effect on a man's character will not be good.

BRUTALLY BEATEN

Mrs. Alex. McBride, of Caledon East, Clubbed and Badly Injured by 18 Year Old Youth.

Mrs. Alex. McBride, aged 32 years, the wife of a farmer living near Caledon East, was struck over the head and beaten into insensibility with a club by Boynton St. John, a Toronto youth of 18 years, who was on parole from the Victoria Industrial School at Mimico. The affair happened in the kitchen of the McBride home on Wednesday afternoon of last week.

St. John had been employed on the farm of the McBrides as a hired man for three weeks or a month before the assault occurred. From information available it appears that he was badly dissatisfied over being sent from the home to a farm and that he had determined to get away at the first opportunity. A favorable opportunity came during the absence of Mr. McBride, who had driven to Caledon East on Wednesday afternoon with a load of potatoes. Before attempting to mak ehis getaway the lad appropriated a gold watch and some jewellery that he found about the house. He was about to decamp when he met Mrs. McBride in the kitchen and at once assaulted her with a club. A blow over the head rendered her unconscious. St. John then dragged the prostrate woman to the cellar wh[illegible] he left her. His next move was to proceed to the stable, where he hitched up a horse to a buggy and started for the city. Regaining consciousness some time later, Mrs. McBride made her way to the home of Robert McKinley, one of her neighbors, where she was attended by Dr. Allison, of Caledon East, later in the day. The authorities were informed of the occurrence and steps were at once taken to apprehend the perpetrator of the dastardly outrage. About eight o'clock on Wednesday night, St. John was arrested just outside of Woodbridge by Constable Tom Rowntree, of Woodbridge, who took his prisoner to Brampton. When searched the prisoner was found to be carrying a gold watch and chain, a gold locket and chain and a string of beads, which were later on identified as the property of the McBrides. When questioned by the authorities St. John admitted that he had a bad record and stated that his home was on Shaw Street, Toronto. Mrs. McBride, who is a slight, rather delicate woman, has been in a serious condition from her injuries and the shock of her trying experience. Her injuries included a long gash on the top of her head. After reaching the McKinley home, the injured woman relapsed into unconsciousness and was reported still unconscious on Thursday morning.

THE GIVEN LIFE

Life is not a goblet to be drained:
How true, how true, is what we hear to-day;
A measure, waiting to be filled,
To fill it, is the best, the safest way.

Some are on this earth—for what?
Pleasure untold is what they seek;
To procure that greed and lust,
The "given life" is made a slave.

If our life's measure is filled
With sin and deeds as black as night,
Mark well, we shall not in return
Receive above, that flowing robe of white.

But if our life o'erflows with noble deeds,
That look well in the eyes of the Great King,
Our souls with happiness will rejoice,
And the reward that it shall bring.

—Former O. H. S. Student.

EDUCATING THE NEW CANADIAN

The phenomenal increase in the volume of immigration now reaching our shores presents a subject of immense importance to the thinking people of Canada.

Immigration is generally recognized as one of "our social problems" but not everyone realizes that, by immigration, Canada is building up a new national life. In a normal family, each child may be regarded as a "problem" but when the family is increased also by adoption, an entirely new group of "problems" is introduced into the family circle. The immigrant is an adopted citizen, and brings with him among his "effects," a trunk full of new national responsibilities.

Social workers are perhaps a little inclined to view immigration by its failures rather than by its triumphs. The individual of British or Anglo-Saxon stock, who "makes good" is promptly and easily absorbed into the fabric of Canadian life; contributes to the taxes; casts an intelligent vote; and requires no "specialized" treatment. The social workers are hardly aware of his arrival. The immigrant who drifts into their purview is likely to be the one who has some physical or intellectual handicap. Possibly only that of a foreign language which places him at a disadvantage in competition with those who can speak and read English but more often the failure of the immigrant to "make good" is connected with some physical defect through which he becomes a public charge or a unit in the statistics of correctional or remedial institutions. Unfortunately there are no statistics of the immigrants who succeed and become "our leading citizens," so that the record of immigration, as found in the reports of social work, is apt to be somewhat pessimistic in its outlook.

It is therefore peculiarly interesting to find in the proceedings of the convention of the Social Service Council of Canada just published a suggestion for the welfare of the immigrant which involves the setting up of no new, specialized machinery for Canadianization, but simply a more profitable use of our existing system of education.

The suggestion is so simple that at first sight it may appear unimportant; merely a recommendation that the Federal Government should make provision for ascertaining, as far as possible, the educational standing of immigrants and should turn over this information to the Provincial governments, in order that it may be made available for use by the Departments of Education and Health in each province.

When the final destination happens to be a city or town with a highly organized system of education and public health, the problem of assimilation is likely to be dealt with by those more or less experi with it; but our immigration policy is aimed at peopling the remoter districts of the country where the local representation of the systems of health and education is often not so competent to deal with the reception of the foreign immigrant. In such conditions much might be done were the Provincial authorities informed of the arrival of a group of immigrants who were not likely to fit quickly and naturally into existing local circumstances. Information as to educational standing might reveal the presence, in such a group, of a teacher who might be in a very real sense, the "key man" to open the way to assimilation.

No doubt, there will be opposition to such a proposal. "Immigration is a federal matter," is a statement frequently made and partially true, but since the British North America Act explicitly defines the rights of provincial immigration, this statement should not preclude co-operation between the Federal and Provincial governments.

"There is no such information provided in the ships' manifests with regard to immigrants" is an objection which is only to be reckoned as final by those (and they are not few) who appear to think that the manifests now contain "all things necessary to the salvation" of the immigrant, and that there is something sacriligious in the suggestion that they be changed.

The possession of such information by the provincial governments would not only bring the immigrant to the notice of the departments of health and education, as represented by the public health nurse and teacher, but also within the sphere of the churches and other voluntary social agencies with which, to an increasing extent, the more alert governmental departments are co-operating.

GEORGE O. GOLDEN

(Intended for last week)

George O. (Hollie) Golden, president of the Braddock Coal Company, died at his residence at LaVale yesterday afternoon at three o'clock, following an illness of several weeks, death ensuing from organic trouble. He was forty-five years of age.

Mr. Golden was actively interested in the business life of this city, and in the business world here he claimed hosts of friends. Previously to settling here several years ago, he was associated with his brothers, J. E. Golden and John H. Golden, for seventeen years in the manufacturing business at Buffalo, New York, as vice-president of the Black Cat Polish Company, which business they sold out in 1920, following which deceased came to Cumberland and entered business here.

He married Miss Gertrude E. Wiebel, member of a well-known family of this city, who survives, also three children: John E., Gertrude Elizabeth and Jane. Surviving brothers and sisters are:—J. E. Golden Buffalo, N. Y.; John H. Golden, city R. S. Golden, Toronto, Canada; Fred Golden, Toronto; H. P. Golden, Buffalo; Mrs. C. O. McHugh, Montreal; Mrs R. W. Laird, Buffalo, and Miss Greta Golden, Montreal. His mother, Mrs. John Golden, is also living, in Orangeville, Ontario.

J. E. Golden, Mrs. McHugh and Mrs. Laird are here, having come on some time ago, when they were notified of the serious illness of their brother.

Funeral services will be held at the LaVale residence to-night at 7.30 o'clock, in charge of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, this city. The services will be private and the family request that flowers be omitted. Early to-morrow morning, accompanied by members of the family, the body will be taken by train to his former home at Buffalo, N. Y., where interment will be made Sunday afternoon at three o'clock.

"Hollie" Golden (everybody called him "Hollie") was a man's man among men. Keen in business, and of a lovable disposition, he drew people to him, radiating a sense of humor and jollity and good fellowship at all times. He was also a keen sportsman, loved hunting and made frequent trips to Canada for that purpose. In addition to holding membership in the Rotary Club, he was a member of the Country Club, the Chamber of Commerce and the A. A. A.—Cumberland, Md., Daily News, April 3rd, 1924.

The pallbearers at the funeral in Buffalo were Dr. M. H. Arbogast Dr. J. C. Arbogast, B. H. King, R. C. Archdeacon, H. F. Leckard and Eldridge Golden.

Mr. N. Dundas, of Little Current, has taken charge of the electric light plant of that town, following the resignation of Mr. Douglas, who left for Sudbury.

A CLOSE CALL

(Intended for last week)

While motoring to a Baptist missionary anniversary one day last week, Rev. R. Segsworth, of Brampton, who is well known in Dufferin County, and a party of friends had an exceedingly fortunate escape at the railway crossing on Centre Rd. A lady driver ahead paused at the foot of the incline leading up to the crossing, then went ahead, but without giving any warning stopped a second time just short of the tracks. Mr. Segsworth ran into the car ahead, smashing his lamps and injuring his radiator. Just after the mishap occurred a train passed the forward car, which fortunately had stopped just far enough short of the rails to escape. Had the impact between the two cars been harder the forward auto might have been thrust on the tracks right in front of the train.

WIDE OPEN SUFFRAGE

The Ontario Older Boys' Parliament restricts the franchise to members of an organized C. S. E. T. group or a registered organized Sunday School class. This means that only boys who belong to a Tuxis Square, a Trail Ranger Camp, or an organized Sunday School class are eligible to become members of Parliament or vote in the Boys' Parliamentary elections. Perhaps the restriction is due to the manner in which Boys' Parliaments arose and were organized. The Orangeville Boys' Council, however, holds to no such rule. A year ago when arrangements were being made for the organization of the Council, Mr. Stuart H. Porter, Warden of the Dufferin Boys' County Council, and those associated with him in the undertaking decided that there should be a wide-open male suffrage between the ages of 12 and 21 inclusive. A year has proven the wisdom of their decision. To-day the Orangeville Boys' Council stands as an organization of boys seeking to advance the interests and welfare of the boys of the town. It is obvious that the limitation adopted by the Ontario Boys' Parliament restrict the usefulness of that parliament as a training for public life; but it is also obvious that the stand taken by those who were responsible for wide-open male suffrage in connection with the Boys' Council permitted that organization to become a valuable source of instruction in civics and in public speaking. The Council being free from the influence of any group or cliqu is in a position to discuss freely all matters coming before it and the members are able to vote as they see fit and not for the benefit of any particular organization.

Probably something about the personnel of the Boys' Council ought to be said for the benefit of those who are not familiar with its organization. It is almost an exact replica of the Orangeville Town Council, except that the standing committees differ somewhat. The Mayor is the chief executive officer. He presides at all meetings of the counsil, signs the minutes of each meeting and is a member of all the standing committees. He supervises the work of all committees and the conduct of all subordinate officers. The Reeve assists the Mayor and in the Mayor's absence acts in his stead. The duties of the Deputy-Reeve are similar to those of the Reeve. The Counlillors recommend measures conductive to the welfare of the boys of the town and act on the committees to which they are appointed. They endeavor to make the Council as efficient and progressive a body as possible so that the community will derive benefit from the Council. The Reeve, Deputy-Reeve and each Councillor is chairman of one of the eight committees and at the same time a member of another standing committee. The Clerk keeps a record of the proceedings of the Council and a list of all the by-laws passed. He receives and keeps all written reports presented to the Council. The Treasurer receives and disburses all monies as ordered by the Council.

The boys of the town are reminded that there will be an election for the second Boys' Council of the town of Orangeville on Saturday, May 3rd. Nominations will be held in the Opera House on Tuesday evening April 29th.

New railway station is being built at Huntsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. F. McGuire, of Shelburne, announce the engagement of their daughter, Beula E. A., to Mr. William Bennington, the marriage to take place in April.

ALLOWANCE FOR M'LEAN

Sum of $2,000 Annually to be Paid Former Deputy Minister of Ontario Highways.

As a result of changes made in the civil service superannuation act passed at the present sitting of the Legislature, Mr. W.A. McLean, formerly deputy minister for highways, who resigned last October, will receive a yearly superannuation allowance of $2,000.

The law, as it stood, did not provide for the superannuation of a man of Mr. McLean's age who retired voluntarily. But Mr. McLean had been in the service 27 years and the Ferguson government accepted the view that it was a hardship to allow such a man to retire, after a long period of faithful service, without granting him any recognition, particularly when his retirement was largely due to a change of policy following an election.

The superannuation act provides for a yearly pension calculated upon the average yearly salary during the last three years of service but not to exceed one-fiftieth of such annual salary multiplied by the total number of years of continuous service. On that basis Mr. McLean would have been entitled to $2,700 per year, but a further provision limited the amount payable to $2,000 per year.

The law was made to apply to Mr. McLean by the insertion of the words "for who, having served at least 25 years, is retired from the public service for any other cause than misconduct or improper behavior on his part." The amendment was made retroactive to July 1st, 1923.

Mr. McLean was always prominent in the good roads movement. He was made deputy minister by the Conservatives in 1916. Under his direction a provincial good roads system of 2500 miles was nearly completed and 25,000 other miles of road improved.

A bill before the Legislature to govern horseshoers brought out the statement that only ten boys are now apprenticed to blacksmiths in all Ontario. Thus the decline of that ancient trade is emphasized. Who are going to shoes the horses of twenty years hence?

Jim Kirby, Mildmay telephone lineman, is pleased with the success of a recent experiment he made in raising a batch of pups. Mr. Kirby located a family of six young fox puppies, whose mother had been shot in the neighborhood, and taking them home, gave them into the care of his female canine, which happened to be nursing a family at the time. Neither parties made the slightest objection and the dog puppies were removed and the baby foxes are doing nicely under the care of their foster-mother.

PARABLE OF THE TOBACCO SEED

Then shall the kingdom of Satan be likened to a grain of tobacco seed, which, though exceedingly small, being cast into the ground grew and became a great plant, and spread its leaves, rank and broad, so that huge and vile worms formed a habitation thereon. And it came to pass, in the course of time, that the sons of man looked upon it and thought it beautiful to look upon and much to be desired to make lads big and manly. So they put forth their hands and did chew thereof. And some it made sick and others to vomit most filthily. And it further came to pass that those who chewed it became weak and unmanly and said, "We are enslaved and cannot cease from chewing it." And the mouths of all that were enslaved became foul; and they were seized with a violent spitting; and they did spit even in the ladies' parlors and in the house of the Lord. And the saints of the Most High were greatly plagued thereby. And in the course of time it came to pass that others snuffed it, and they were taken suddenly with fits, and they did sneeze with a great and mighty sneeze, insomuch that their eyes were filled with tears and they did look exceedingly silly. And others cunningly wrought the leaves into rolls and did set fire to the one end thereof, and did suck vehemently at the other end thereof and did look very grave and calf-like and the smoke of their torment ascended up like a fog. And the cultivation thereof became a great and mighty business in the earth; and the merchants waxed rich by the commerce thereof. And it came to pass that the professed saints of the Most High defiled themselves therewith; even the poor, who could not buy shoes, nor bread, nor books for the little ones, spent their money for it. An the Lord was greatly displeased therewith and said, "Be ye clean that bear the vessels of the Lord." "Let us cleanse ourselves from all filthiness of the flesh." "Wherefore come out from among them and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing and I will receive you." But with one accord they exclaimed, "We cannot cease from chewing, snuffing and puffing."

O ye professed followers of the Lord Jesus Christ, will ye be the slaves of a nasty, poisonous weed! One is your Master, even Christ.

IS THE O. T. A. A SUCCESS?

"SAY IT WITH CURTAINS"

Says a certain Social Service worker, whose white hairs haven't bleached her sense of humour, "I'll say the O.T.A. is a success. In fact I'll say it with curtains!"

Naturally, we didn't get that. So she took us down to let us see the saying in process of demonstrating itself. But first she described Mary H's house as it used to be.

"There wasn't any need to label it a drunkard's home," she said. No paint. Hardly a whole pane of glass; rags stuffed in; and not a curtain you could call a curtain on the whole place. Inside, it was worse. There wasn't a piece of furniture that was all there. The family of seven slept in two beds; and what they spoke of as bedding, would be despised by a well-bred dog.

"Mary went out to work, so she was never home unless I called in the evening. And then sometimes she didn't particularly want to see me, even if I was her best friend. She didn't want to have to explain her black eye, and nobody could take a thing like that for granted. Mary could have posed as a horrible example any day; thought whether the horror was that she should have married John—or that such a kind, when sober, man, could turn into such a fiend, when drunk—or that such a nice, God-fearing community as ours could permit the procedure, I don't think she quite realized herself.

"One day, worn out with life in general, she said to John, 'Oh, John when will you give up this drinking?'"

"I'll never forget the sombre hopelessness of her face, as she told me his answer.

" 'When I can't get it any more and not a minute sooner.'

"Well, I moved away from that community, and during my absence the O. T. A. was passed. Last month I went back, and it occurred to me to look up Mary."

At this point, the story of the past changed into a demonstration of the present, for the Social worker took me to the street where Mary lived—a poor street—but you should have seen the house. It couldn't ever be pretty, any more than grandmothers can be flappers. But it didn't have a cracked pane, or a rag, or a dirty window—and the whole place had fairly broken out into curtains. They weren't merely white. They flaunted themselves. They didn't merely hang straight. They frilled all over their starched edges. If the morning stars sang together once upon a time, Mary's curtains undoubtedly shouted with joy, as far as any one could see them.

What did they say?

Well! the Social worker said they said, "Praise God for blessings day by day; but most, of course, for the O. T. A."

Inside, Mary told us proudly that she only went out occasionally, now. She didn't have to work hard. Her man did that.

"And brings home his money?" the Social worker asked.

"All but two dollars," Mary said "And you know, Miss, in the old days, if he brought home anything it would have been the two dollars. He'd have spent the rest himself."

The shadow of the old years seemed to fall across her as she spoke She leaned forward, and whispered "When I think what I've lived through—if I thought they'd ever bring that awful liquor traffic back I'd lay down and die."

A sensitive-looking, delicate child her youngest boy, came over to her sensing the need of him. "My daddy won't get drunk any more, will he mother?"

There wasn't much to say, but she said it. "Please God, Sonny, he never will."

When we went out, the curtains looked whiter and lovelier and more worth keeping than ever— but will they be kept?"

If you have a vote it's up to you.

A GREAT DEBATE ON PROHIBITION

In the debate on the United States Rum-Running Treaty, in the British House of Commons, Ex-Premier Baldwin said, "There is no doubt that ratification, while it will do away with what may seem to be a small matter, will really do more good between our two peoples than almost anything you can think of."

Lloyd George said: "It is not a question of whether we believe in prohibition or not. The Unites States has definitely decided to make the experiment. I was told on all hands there, by men opposed to prohibition that if you put it to vote tomorrow you would get a vote of at least 60 per cent. in favor of renewing the experiment.

"What is rather important for us is that even those who are in favor of varying the experiment, only wish to vary it by introducing light wines and beers. If it were proposed to sell spirits, you would get 95 per cent against it, I am assured."

Lord Curzon said: "I agree the the spectacle of this rum-running, this row and strife outside the limit is a squalid and sordid spectacle, and the fact that it is strictly legal does not in the least make it more attractive, because these matters have to be regarded from the point of their effect on national sentiment."

And think, women electors, we have the right to help settle this question, that is demanding attention in every civilized country in the world We will tell you something further along that line, later.

The ballot is the right, alone, of the citizen—and it is a great responsibility.

Shelburne business men will observe the Wednesday half holiday this year.

HELP FOR YOUNG WOMEN

Mrs. Holmberg Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her

Viking, Alta.—"From the time I was 15 years old I would get such sick feelings in the lower part of my abdomen, followed by cramps and vomiting. This kept me from my work (I help my parents on the farm) as I usually had to go to bed for the rest of the day. Or at times I would have to walk the floor. I suffered in this way until a friend induced me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have had very satisfactory results so far and am recommending the Vegetable Compound to my friends. I surely am glad I tried it for I feel like a different person now that I don't have these troubles."—ODELIA HOLMBERG, Box 93, Viking, Alta.

Letters like this establish the merits of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They tell of the relief from such pains and ailments after taking it.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and today holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ills in this country, and thousands of voluntary testimonials prove this fact.

If you doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Cobourg, Ontario, for Mrs. Pinkham's private text-book and learn more about it. C

IN KANSAS

In Kansas when Old Booze went out, there was some wailing round about. "Our fathers," some folks would complain, "they fought for liberty in vain; the boon for which they shed their blood is on the blink, its name is Mud." A little while they raised their fuss and never missed a chance to cuss the tyranny that banished booze, and queered the rights men hate to lose. But soon they found that they were bores; men wearied of their useless roars. And so they talked of other themes, and in their trance dreamed saner dreams, and in a little while gadzooks, they learned to like the babbling brooks, from which they need not blow the foam, which sent them sober to their home. And no one thought or talked of booze, of gaudy jags or princely stews. And those who worried days and nights because of our denatured rights who wildly gnashed rebellious jaws now yelled for still more drastic laws. Thus will it be the country o'er, when time has healed the spirits sore of dead game sports who now complain because their only drink is rain.—Walt Mason.

William Andrews was instantly killed when his arm caught in belt of sawing machine in North Monaghan, Ontario.

TO SYSTEMATIZE ROAD CONSTRUCTION

Legislature Will Give Increased Aid to Township Roads, but Statute Labor Must First be Abolished.

The increased aid which the Government proposes to give to the construction of township roads is to be conditional on the abolition of the statute labor system and the adoption of systematized plans of road construction under a competent road superintendent, by the local municipalities desiring to qualify for the grant. The Government will contribute thirty per cent. of the cost of road construction and fifty per cent. towards the salary of the superintendent when the two conditions are met. Under legislation passed by the late Government, the amount contributed to township roads where statute labor was abolished, was 20 per cent.

Discussing the bill in Committee of the Whole, Premier Ferguson expressed the view that a systematized plan should be adopted under a competent superintendent, and to assist the townships to do this, the Province proposed to pay half the salary of the superintendent and thirty per cent. of the cost of the roads.

He observed that some municipalities had been getting the 20 per cent. now allowed, on the ground that they had abolished statute labor, when in reality, all they had done, was to commute the value of such at a certain figure and turn this in to the Department, which had no means of checking up, as the total expenditure on which the Government grant.

Hon. F. C. Biggs, former Minister of Public Works and Highways, remarked in reference to the more imperative features of the present Act that it was a different matter to bring the bill into effect to-day to what it would have been a few year ago. Since then, he said, there had been a change in sentiment regarding the statute labor system, which formerly was strongly favored by the municipalities.

Where Time is of First Importance

Chief Operator Sending With Master Clock

Operator Receiving With Comparison Clock

EVERY one who has occasion to travel and every one who thinks at all—which is, we submit, another way of saying every one in this broad Dominion of ours—has marvelled, at one time or another, over the exactitude with which the vast number of trains on our Canadian lines are handled safely and punctually. Express, local, special, freight, construction and other trains are forever plying to and fro along these lines, leaving the same stations and utilizing the same switches within a few minutes of one another, yet delays and accidents are extremely rare. This efficiency, which is primarily dependent on exact punctuality, cannot be achieved unless all clocks and watches used by those responsible for handling trains agree and are all strictly on time.

How is this accuracy maintained? Obviously, there must be an elaborate organization to deal with it, for a railroad company cannot afford to take chances in such an all-important matter. The Canadian Pacific Railway, for instance, recognizes this and has perfected an extensive department employing scores of men who devote all their energies to checking and adjusting the Company's official clocks and watches. Some details of its work are interesting.

The official title of this aggregation of experts is the Time Service, Vision, Color Sense and Hearing Department. In this department there is a Chief Inspector for Eastern lines and one for Western lines, each with a separate office. From these offices the work of setting, regulating and repairing all clocks and watches is directed and controlled.

For setting the Company clocks, the department employs a method which is illustrative of the wonderful possibilities of modern science. In certain stations, round-houses and yard offices there are clocks known as comparison clocks, so called because they have been officially designated as clocks at which conductors, engineers and others may safely set their watches. In the head telegraph office of the Canadian Pacific, in Montreal, there is an electrical master clock, connected with a similar clock kept in the observatory of McGill University, Montreal. The latter clock's accuracy is maintained by astronomical calculation and it, in turn, controls the master clock in the Canadian Pacific head telegraph office. From this office, lines radiate to every Canadian Pacific telegraph station in the Dominion.

At a certain hour daily, the McGill master clock indicates the correct time by beats on a telegraph instrument maintained specially for the purpose in the head telegraph office. The signals commence strictly on the stroke of 11.54 a.m. From that instant to ten seconds short of 11.55, one beat is sounded upon every second. A pause of ten seconds follows until, on the stroke of 11.55, two beats are sounded. This performance is once repeated, ending on the stroke of 11.56. To the Chief Operator is delegated the great responsibility of transmitting these signals to the hundreds of telegraph operators at the comparison stations throughout the system. It is his duty to sit at a key connected with the instruments of all these operators and repeat the signals as they are received.

In the meantime, the operators have been standing by, awaiting the signal. Every telegraph instrument on the immense transcontinental Canadian Pacific system, as the time draws near, is absolutely silent. At this dramatic moment, the Chief Operator literally holds the system in the hollow of his hand. The beats begin. The operators at the comparison stations watch their clocks as the signals flash westward to Vancouver and eastward to Halifax. They note the number of seconds error, slow or fast (if any), registered by the clock, the signals cease and normal work is resumed.

If the clock is more than ten seconds out, the operator at each station adjusts it to correct time. If it is less than ten seconds out, he announces the fact by placing beside the clock a card which indicates the amount of error. To prove to officials that he is not neglecting the job, he must then make an entry of the rating of the clock on a special card, which covers a period of one month. At the end of the month, the card which also contains notes as to when the clock has been wound, set or regulated, is sent in to the Time Service office concerned, thus enabling the Chief Inspector to maintain a close check upon all clocks.

Should a clock need adjustment by experts, it is at once replaced by a new clock from headquarters.

Station clocks, other than comparison clocks, upon which the public depend for catching trains, are similarly checked, as are also the clocks in offices which despatch telegrams and orders requiring timing. In the larger offices, such as the company's headquarters at Windsor St. Station, Montreal, the clocks are electrically set and wound by one master clock.

Watches carried by employees responsible for the punctuality and safety of trains are also checked regularly and, in addition, are periodically cleaned. Strict regulations govern who shall carry watches and also the makes and grades permitted—no less than 12 makes and 75 grades are approved. Forty-six watch inspectors, to whom approximately 7,000 men report with their watches at fortnightly intervals, are employed by the Company on its Eastern lines alone, all responsible to the Chief Inspector, who keeps a complete record of each watch.

All of which leads one to wish that one's lady friends would appreciate the importance of punctuality to the same extent and were also compelled to report regularly to the railway watch inspectors, even though their failure to arrive at the rendezvous on the dot is not usually a matter of life and death, as it is with the railway Companies!

BONUS FOR TREES

Hon. G. S. Henry, Provincial Minister of Public Works and Highways, has announced a change in the method of financing the planting of trees along the Provincial Highways. Instead of sending out its own employees to do the planting, he says that the Government intends to pay the farmers so much per tree for planting the trees in front of their own farms. The change may work out alright provided the Department is careful to define the kind of trees that are to be planted, the distance at which they are to be placed from the fences and also the distance between trees. Regulations in these and perhaps other respects are very necessary if there is to be uniformity in methods of planting. Trees should be placed at a uniform distance apart all along the highways to get the best effect in appearance.

MAY FIRST FOR TROUT

The trout fishing season is to function unchanged this season after all, and May 1st will be "opening day" as in the past, and no change will be made in the closing date in September. The Fish and Game Committee of the Legislature would appear to have had quite a time discussing a change. Making the opening day later might suit the convenience of city fishermen, but country fishermen are satisfied that the change that would be most beneficial from the standpoint of an increase in fish numbers would be to shorten the season at the end.

Our Aim is to Satisfy.

UNION SERVICES

The union services which the congregations of the Orangeville Presbyterian and Methodist churches held on Easter Sunday were a source of inspiration and gratification to the people of the two congregations. The morning service was held in St. Andrew's Church, which was filled to capacity. The pastor, Rev. F. W. Mahaffy, had charge of the service and Rev. H. L. Partridge, pastor of the Methodist Church, preached an excellent sermon, based on the Bible passages which narrate the incidents of the meeting between Mary and the Master on the resurrection morn. A choir of nearly thirty voices led in the service of song. The special numbers were an anthem, "King of Kings," with solo by Miss Alice Weob, a male quartette "The Joy of His Awakening," by Messrs. E. C. Connop, A. M. Ellis, C. E. and Will Hanley, an anthem "He is Risen" by the full choir and a solo, "See Now the Altar," by the choir leader, Mr. E. C. Connop. Miss Kathleen Fleming, organist of the church, presided at the organ. The evening service was held in the Methodist Church, which was thronged to the doors. Mr. Partridge was in charge of the service, Mr. Mahaffy preaching the sermon, in which he discussed the doubting of Thomas and its removal, followed by the disciple's dramatic acknowledgment of the presence of his Lord and Master. The musical programme included an anthem "Since by Man Came Death," by the full choir with solo by Dr. Price, solo "O Blessed Redeemer" by the choir leader, Mr. J. H. Sloan, anthem, "Why Seek Ye the Living" with solos by Mrs. Bowles, Mrs. Matthews and Miss Bell and a solo, "Be Ye Glad" by Miss King. The organist, Miss Alberta Kearns, presided at the organ throughout the service playing Torjusson's "Norwegian Tone Poem" during the offertory. The services created an excellent impression in both congregations and will do much to promote the friendly feeling and spirit of co-operation already existing between the membership of the two churches.

SAVED BABY'S LIFE

Mrs. Alfred Tranchemontagne, St. Michel des Saints, Que., writes:—"Baby's Own Tablets are an excellent medicine. They saved my baby's life and I can highly recommend them to all mothers." Mrs. Tranchemontagne's experience is that of thousands of other mothers who have tested the worth of Baby's Own Tablets. The Tablets are a sure and safe medicine for little ones and never fail to regulate the bowels and stomach, thus relieving all the minor ills from which children suffer. They are sold by medicine dealers, or by mail, at 25 cents a box, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A SUUCCESSFUL SALE

In spite of the very unfavorable weather a fairly large crowd attended the closing out sale of Herb. Hughes near Laurel on Tuesday. A select lot of Shorthorns formed the bulk of the sale offering and were distributed to local buyers at prices that should prove satisfactory. The cattle were offered in ordinary breeding condition and showed that they have been a satisfactory producing herd. The highest price of the sale was secured for Broadhooks Hope, the Gardhouse bred herd bull, which was knocked down to the bid of W. F. Cooney at $225. The top price for females was $202 and fourteen lots, including calves, made a total of $1917. Mr. Hughes is to be congratulated upon the successful outcome of the sale. In addition to the purebred cattle, the implements and other stock were disposed of at satisfactory prices, the total proceeds of the sale amounting to $3300. Messrs. McAlister & Son, the well-known Dufferin County auctioneers, were in charge of the sale.

AN OPPORTUNITY

William Shakespeare, the great English writer, has said, "There is a tide in the affairs of men, which, taken at the flood, leads on to fortune." And it is as true to-day as it was in Shakespeare's time. Opportunity knocks at everybody's door sometime. Perhaps only once. So it behoves one to be ready to open the door in response to Dame Fortune and receive her graciously. Just now Opportunity is knocking at the door of every Orangeville boy between the age of twelve and twenty-one inclusive. With the election for the Boys' Council a little more than a week away and the nominations in the Opera House on Tuesday evening next it is time that the boys were up and doing—preparing to contest a seat on the council or help someone else to land the honor.

Robert W. Peavoy, Clerk of the Boys' Council, will receive nominations for the offices of Mayor, Reeve, Deputy-Reeve and Councillors in the Opera House from seven-thirty to eight-thirty on Tuesday evening, April 29th. After half-past eight a public meeting will be held, at which the nominees will address the audience and solicit the support of the boys. Although the meeting will be conducted in the interests of the boys, adults will be welcomed. In fact the boys will feel slighted if the Opera House is not filled for the occasion. So the citizens of the town are urgently requested to attend the boys' nomination meeting on Tuesday night.

According to the constitution of the Boys' Council all nominees desiring to become candidates and have their names appear on the ballots are required to qualify, that is, to interview Clerk Peavoy, tell him that your name is on the voters' list and that you would like to contest the office for which you have been nominated. In order to have their names on the ballots nominees must interview the Clerk before half-past eight on Wednesday evening, April 30th. The voting will take place in the Auditorium of the Public Library between the hours of one and five o'clock on the afternoon of Saturday, May 3rd. A deputy-returning officer and a poll-clerk will be in charge to conduct the voting and the results will be announced early on Saturday evening. The newly-elected council will meet in the Council Chambers of the Public Library on Tuesday, May 13th, at 7.30 o'clock for the purpose of being sworn in and for selecting the standing committees for the year.

Boys are reminded that "all boys who have reached the age of twelve years and have not reached the age of twenty-two years on May 1st, and who reside in or attend a school or other place of learning, or are employed in the town of Orangeville shall be eligible to vote in the elections for the Byos' Council of the town of Orangeville and shall be eligible for any of the offices in the Orangeville Boys' Council."

A boys' voters' list has been posted on the bulletin board in the post office. Only boys whose names appear on this list or shall have been added on or before Saturday next, April 26th, will be eligible to be nominated on Tuesday night or to vote on Saturday afternoon. See that your name and the names of your friends appear on the list. If you know of a name that should be on the list and does not appear on it, notify Clerk Peavoy immediately.

Already many boys have signified their intention of running for the Council, but it is hoped that many more will be nominated on Tuesday night and stand for election. The opportunity is yours—take advantage of it. It is up to each and every live boy in Orangeville to get interested. The contest will be keen. Get into the race NOW and good luck to YOU.

FREE LECTURE

"All Nations Marching to Armageddon—But Millions Now Living Will Never Die."

A free lecture will be given in the Opera House on Sunday, April 27th at 3 p.m., under the auspices of the Orangeville Branch of the International Bible Students' Association.

The above subject will be discussed from a Bible standpoint by A. G. Cameron, of Toronto. All welcome.

BURNS' CHURCH OPENING

The congregation of Burns' Church Mono Centre, will open their new church edifice for public worship on Sunday next, April 27th. The opening services—three in number—will be held at 10.30 a.m., 3 p.m. and 7.30 p.m. Dr. John Neil, of Toronto, ex-Moderator of the Presbyterian General Assembly, will preach at the morning and afternoon services and Rev. J. A. Matheson, of Mono Mills, Moderator of the Synod of Toronto and Kingston, will preach at night. Dr. Neil worshipped in the Mono Centre church in his boyhood and his sermons will therefore have a very special interest for the congregation. There will be special music at each of the services.

DIED SUDDENLY

Geo. Cameron, Resident of White Cloud Island, Succumbed to Pneumonia After Short Illness.

Mr. George Cameron, well known resident of White Cloud Island, passed away very suddenly at 3 o'clock on Friday morning. He had been ill only a few days with pneumonia, and his death came quite unexpectedly. The late Mr. Cameron was very well known in North Keppel, Wiarton, as well as in Owen Sound, and his sudden death, when he was in the prime of life, will be a great shock to his friends.

He was born about 40 years ago in North Keppel, a short distance from Big Bay, the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. John Cameron, of White Cloud Island. The late Mr. Cameron has been a resident of White Cloud Island, where he had a farm, for about twenty years. He enlisted in Owen Sound with the 147th Battalion and went overseas with that unit, later being transferred to a construction battalion, where he held the rank of sergeant. During his service overseas, the family resided in Owen Sound.

About sixteen years ago he was married to Miss Sarah Stewart, who survives, with four children, Isobel, Sadie, Annie and Stewart, the latter being but four years of age. Isobel is a student at the Owen Sound Collegiate Institute.

Mr. Cameron was very widely known in this district, and his death will be a source of deep regret to many friends. In the army he was a good soldier and in civilian life he was a good citizen. In religion he was a Presbyterian.—O. S. Sun-Times.

Mrs. Cameron, the widow, who is the youngest daughter of the late Duncan Stewart and Mrs. Brown, of Corbetton, has a number of relatives and friends in Orangeville and Mono.

Mr. Cameron's funeral was held to North Keppel cemetery on Monday following his death. Three brothers, William, James and Norman Cameron, and three brothers-in-law, John F., Geo. A. and Dougal Stewart were the pallbearers.

Friends who attended the funeral from Corbetton and vicinity were Mr. and Mrs. Wm. "Worth $100 to Me Relieved Eczema and Piles"

Mrs. Peter A. Palmer, Saltburn, Sask., writes:

"Dr. Chase's Ointment has completely relieved me of eczema and piles. I also used this Ointment for my baby, who broke out in eczema. A few applications were all that was necessary in her case. Dr. Chase's Ointment has been worth a hundred dollars to me,—before using it I had spent a great deal more than that in unsuccessful treatment from doctors. We have also used Dr. Chase's other medicines, the Nerve Food having restored my health after suffering from severe nerve trouble when a girl."

THOMAS TATE

Thos. Tate, a former resident of Everett, and a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Tate, of Mansfield, departed this life while on a visit at the home of his brother, James Tate, at Churchill, Simcoe County, on Tuesday of last week. The deceased had resided at Sault Ste Marie, Ont., for about 15 years, but had spent the past few months with relatives in this part of Ontario. About one month ago he was in Shelburne on a visit to his sisters, Mrs. Robt. White and Mrs. R. J. Reburn, and was apparently in his usual health at that time. He is survived by one daughter, Maud, Winnipeg, Man., and one son, Manson, Detroit, Mich. His wife predeceased him some years ago. The deceased was 75 years of age and a prominent Orangeman, and in religion a Presbyterian. Besides the two sisters above mentioned, he leaves one brother, James, at whose home he passed away. The remains were taken to Sault Ste. Marie for interment on Friday last.—Free Press.

KNOWS WHEN HE NEEDS NEW SHOES

Frank is a black draft horse which has been pulling a wagon for fourteen years for a lumber company in Lakeland, Florida. He seems to feel his responsibility as an important part of the firm's organization, and never fails to do a full day's work, but he insists on his equipment being in the best of condition, and he sees that he gets it. And his driver has learned to rely upon his more than usual intelligence in the matter.

When Frank's shoes need tightening or new shoes are needed, he refuses to work. He shakes his head and settles down for a long wait unless his driver sends him alone to the blacksmith shop, adjoining the lumber yard. Frank's wisdom is not questioned, and when he refuses to pull, his driver unhitches him, and away the horse goes to the blacksmith shop, and the blacksmith knows why he is there. After his hoofs are properly taken care of, the animal returns alone to the wagon, and takes his place in the shafts ready to resume work again.

EDITORIAL NOTES

(Intended for last week)

The disclosures before the Public Accounts Committee have not done much to enhance the reputation of the Home Bank. Officials of that till-starred institution seemed to have practiced business methods peculiarly their own.

We have read and heard much about the excellence of the Canadian banking system and the safety of Canadian banks as compared with similar institutions elsewhere. Most Canadians have by this time awakened to the fact that the safety of the banks of Canada depends very largely upon the honesty of the men charged with their administration. Once the head officials of a Bank become crooked or incompetent the Bank is no longer safe. A third danger arises out of the temptation to use bank funds to further other enterprises in which Bank directors or officers happen to be interested. The collapse of the Home Bank furnishes a case in point.

Citizens of Orangeville have good reason to be pleased and gratified at the excellent showing made by the local Hydro system. The reduction in the rates for commercial and domestic lighting should be a source of satisfaction to all hydro customers. It carries the promise as well of further substantial reductions in the future. Important and satisfying as these reductions are, the really important thing for every citizen to do is to remember that the hydro system belongs to the people. The citizens of Orangeville own their share of the general system and all the local plant. The cost of constructing the local plant was defrayed by debentures extending over a term of thirty years. The local Commission is providing for the repayment of these debentures out of the earnings of the system. In time the debentures will be paid off and the town will then own the system outright, free of any incumbrance. When that time comes the people of Orangeville will enjoy very cheap light and power. The Hydro system will then be an asset ranking in value with that other important local utility, the waterworks system. It is to the interests of all citizens to stick to and patronize the Hydro. By doing this they are increasing the value of their own property. No matter how good it may be, a privately owned utility can never be other than privately owned. Its rates may be very reasonable so long as there is opposition in the field, but let the opposition disappear and the private concern becomes a monopoly that in nine cases out of ten charges its customers every cent that the business will stand.

The people of Ontario are not greatly concerned with the possible effect of the recent disclosures in the Legislature upon the fortunes of the different political parties in the province, but they are greatly concerned in having the whole deplorable business cleaned up. There should be no shielding of men or holding back evidence because of the effect it may have upon the reputations of public men or political parties. The political aspect of the enquiry is a matter of very secondary concern. Conservatives cannot be blamed for making political capital out of the weakness or worse of the Hon. Peter Smith. It is only natural for politicians to do this sort of thing, but the people are not so much concerned with that as they are with the fact that wrongdoing has been prevalent in high places in the public service. They want the enquiry to be thorough searching and complete, let the political consequences be what they may. They want the wrongdoing punished and punished in an adequate manner. If permanent officials high in the service have been guilty of prostituting their trust for personal gain and advantage, the fact should be brought home, the guilty parties should be dismissed from the service and prosecuted in the courts if answerable to the courts for their offences. The disclosures at Toronto are too serious for the mere playing of party politics or jockeying for party advantage. The investigation that has occupied the attention of the people of Ontario for several weeks must be thorough and complete and honest men of all shades of politics should insist that it be that. If a system of rake-offs, commissions, etc., such as the evidence taken before the Public Accounts Committee indicates, is going to be tolerated, then our whole system of responsible government is in grave danger, because much of the success of popular, responsible government depends upon the integrity of the men who are placed in positions of trust, whether they are Cabinet ministers, plain members of Parliament or permanent officials of the public service.

She Had Suffered For Three Years and Found Relief in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Grand Pabos, Que., April 2 (Special)—From all parts of Canada come the same glad tidings, telling the same glad story of sufferers that suffer no longer, of the weak being made strong and healthy, and of the good work that is being done by Dodd's Kidney Pills. People are now learning the importance of keeping the kidneys in shape, of watching for the least symptoms of Kidney Trouble, and they turn at once to Dodd's Kidney Pills, because they know they have a remedy that they can rely on, a remedy that never fails. Right here in Grand Pabos, Mrs. John McRae, a much respected resident, comes forward with a statement that adds to the long list of grateful letters. She says:

"I have suffered from my kidneys for three years. I sent for some Dodd's Kidney Pills. They have helped me so much that I intend taking them again any time my kidneys pain me. I only used two boxes, and I have not been troubled since."

A CENTENARIAN

Mrs. Mary Widdis, of Brantford, is Celebrating Centenary Year.

"Mrs. Mary Widdis, 93 Peel St., is celebrating her centenary year, with eyesight and hearing unimpaired and able to travel without even the use of a cane. She left County Derry, Ireland, 88 years ago, the voyage to Montreal taking six weeks. At first the family settled in "Muddy York," but later moved to Orangeville, where Mrs. Widdis spent the most of her life. For sixteen years she has lived in Brantford, but still looks on Orangeville as her home.

"She always insists on returning to Orangeville for a visit each summer. She is extremely fond of flowers and maintains her own flower garden in Orangeville with such meticulous care that it is considered one of the show spots of that town. Of twelve children, eight survive, with thirty-six grandchildren and thirty-five grandchildren. A civic bouquet was sent as the first greeting to a centenarian."

Mr. Robert Bennett, of Tossorontio, received a nasty scalp wound one day recently while driving his team about a mile west of Everett. The horses were feeling good and reared up on their hind feet, one of them coming down astride the tongue. Confusion resulted and both horses became badly frightened. Mr. Bennett tried to quiet them and held the lines tightly. He was pulled off the wagon down in front of it and among the heels of the horses. Something struck him, whether it was the wagon wheel or a hoof he does not know, but a severe scalp wound was inflicted. Mr. Bennett was able to right things himself and drive down to the village and call on the doctor. He was taken home and an anaesthetic administered while some eighteen or twenty stitches were put in to draw together the gash in his head.

Most Powerful Radio Broadcasting Station in Dominion

The Canadian National Railways have been writing radio history in Canada for the past year. First the System experimented with the broadcasting of news and concerts to moving trains, and when this proved a decided success radio receiving sets became a regular part of the service on transcontinental passenger trains over the System, the only railway in the world to be so equipped. For a time independent radio broadcasting stations in Eastern Canada were used entirely by the System, but late last year it was decided to build an operating station in Ottawa that would be owned and operated by the Company. This was done, and on February 27th the new station (CKCH) was opened by Sir Henry W. Thornton, K.B.E., President of the Canadian National Railways, who delivered an address of such unusual merit as to draw thousands of applaud cards from many parts of Canada and the United States.

The National Railways have now developed their programme in Western Canada and have made arrangements with five broadcasting stations between Winnipeg and Vancouver for the broadcast of entertainment, news and speeches each afternoon and each evening in the week. These stations, combined with the Ottawa station and three that are being used in Montreal, give the Canadian National Railways the greatest chain of non-commercial radio broadcasting stations in the world.

The photographs show some of the activities of the Canadian National Railways in the realm of radio. No. 1—Passengers on board a compartment observation car listening to a radio programme. No. 2—Mr. Tom Moore, representative of the Trades and Labor Congress on the Board of Directors of the Canadian National Railways, talking into a microphone in the operating room of the Canadian National Railways radio broadcasting station in Ottawa. SUFFERED FOR TEN YEARS WITH KIDNEY TROUBLE

Nova Scotia Man Took Dodd's Kidney Pills and Got Relief.

Mr. A. McMullin is Now Able to Work Again.

Upper Grand Mira, N. B., April 28th (Special)—"I have suffered for ten years with kidney trouble," says Mr. A. McMullin, who lives in this place. "I tried all kinds of medicine, but they did me no good. I was laid up for three months. I couldn't move only with crutches when I got up from my bed.

"I used seven boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and I am now able to do a considerable lot of work. I think by the time I have taken a dozen boxes I shall be in good health again."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are purely and simply a kidney remedy. They strengthen the kidneys and enable them to do their full work of straining the impurities out of the blood. Healthy kidneys make a healthy body.

Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills do not make healthy kidneys.

WHEN TO PRUNE FLOWERING SHRUBS

(Issued by the Ontario Horticultural Society.)

The main reasons for pruning shrubs are: (1) To encourage the plant to produce more or better bloom or fruit; (2) To keep the plant healthy, vigorous and shapely.

Pruning at Time of Planting

Newly planted shrubs or trees should be pruned to restore the balance between the roots and the top. The strain in transplanting is severe, as the plant has lost from one-half to two-thirds of its feeding roots. To restore the balance between the leaf area and the root system the former is correspondingly reduced. In this way, also, the shape of any bush may be determined to some extent at time of planting, and this is particularly true in the case of large shrubs and ornamental trees.

When to Prune Flowering Shrubs

Flowering shrubs may be classified as to time of pruning under two heads: (1) Those that blossom in May or June, and (2) Those that blossom later than June.

Class 1—Shrubs in this class should be pruned immediately after they have flowered, as they form during the summer months the buds for next's season's bloom. If pruning is deferred until later, next season's blossom will be removed. The most familiar shrubs in this class are lilacs and spirea, the flowering or sweet-scented currant, Golden Bell (Forsythia), Siberian pea tree (Caragana) and Snowball (Viburnum Opuls.)

Class 2—Bushes that bloom later than June should not as a class be pruned until the leaf buds show in the spring. The best exammples of shrubs in this class are the Hydrangea (Arborescens and Paniculata) and the bush roses. On shrubs of this class the flower bud is produced in the year of flowering and not carried over from the year previous. The more severely such shrubs are pruned in the spring, the larger the flowers will be, but, speaking generally, it is well not to prune too severely as a moderate number of medium sized flowers is better than a few large ones.

While the rough grouping of all shrubs into two classes for the purpose of pruning answers all practical purposes, there are some shrubs that may be placed in either class to suit convenience or local conditions. The shrubs known as Mock Orange (Philadelphus) may be pruned in summer just after flowering, or the pruning may be deferred until early spring, at which time the canes should be shortened slightly and the old wood thinned out. The Japanese rose (Rosa Rugosa), another highly attractive summer flowering shrub, might theoretically be pruned after it has finished flowering, but in practice is seldom pruned until the early spring, one reason being that its fruit is an attractive feature in autumn. Evergreens should not be pruned but should be allowed to take their natural form, except when sheared as hedges.

To Sell Farmer's Wives

If the roads are bad, many a prosperous farmer's wife postpones buying something she actually wants for herself or family, until she can get to town.

Later, the teams will be busy. She won't be able to get to town.

Experience shows she will buy now, if you give her the chance. Call her by Long Distance. She will feel complimented. Know your stock, so you can answer her questions readily.

A little experience will soon show you how it works.

Don't judge by one or two attempts. Try a dozen, intelligently. Others do it successfully. Why not you?

A secret so simple many overlook it

Yet millions of women keep youthful loveliness this way

To realize the dream that is in every woman's heart, to keep the youth that every woman wants...

Turn for a while from the elaborate treatments and methods. Try this simple but correct way by which millions of women are keeping youthful radiance and charm.

Authorities advise this

Cleanse the skin regularly, authorities say, to keep your complexion lovely, radiant, youthful. But beware of harsh cleansing methods. They injure skin.

Wash thoroughly with Palmolive Soap — each night before retiring. Rub the creamy, foamy lather well into the tiny pores. Rinse — and repeat the washing. Then rinse again.

Then—if skin is dry—apply a little cold cream. That is all. Skin so cared for is not injured by cosmetics, by wind and sun, or by dirt.

The simple, correct way

You cannot find a more effective beauty treatment. Because Palmolive Soap is blended of rare palm and olive oils—famous for mild but thorough cleansing qualities since the days of Cleopatra. And it is inexpensive.

Just be sure to get Palmolive—which is never sold unwrapped. All dealers have it. Then for one week try this simple treatment. To your delight, results will be noticeable even in that short time!

The cost is so little that you can well use Palmolive for the bath, too.

VISITED KING TUT'S TOMB

Township Clerk and Mrs. W. A. Henry, of Mono, had an interesting and charming visitor this week in the person of their niece, Miss Florence Henry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robt. A. Henry, of Calgary. The young lady, who is an undergraduate of Cornell University, is homeward bound after a four months tour of old world points of interest. Miss Henry was one of a personally conducted party of tourists, 700 in number, who sailed from New York last December. The itinerary included Madeira, Spain, Algiers, Greece, Turkey, Egypt, the Holy Land, Italy, France and England. Miss Henry had the good fortune to be at Luxor on the day of the opening of King Tut's tomb early in March. Luxor lies five hundred miles south of the Mediterranean. The greater part of the trip south was made by rail, but the last stage, some fourteen miles, was on donkeys, with the thermometer marking 110 in the shade. While in Palestine Miss Henry was privileged to visit Jerusalem, Bethlehem, the Sea of Galilee, Bethany, Jericho and many other places, whose names have been made familiar through the Bible. In Greece the party visited Athens and held service on Mars hill, the place from which Paul discoursed to the unbelieving Athenians on the resurrection and the life to come. In Western Europe the tourists visited many of the famous battlefields of France and Flanders. The last stage of the European part of the tour was a trip by airship from Paris to London, a distance of perhaps 160 miles. The aircraft in which Miss Henry travelled, a French liner, made the journey in 2 hours and 20 minutes. The day happened to be quite stormy and Miss Henry confesses that she was too sick to enjoy the air voyage as thoroughly as she might have done. However the novel experience more than compensated for any of the physical discomforts that attended the trip.

EXCEPTIONAL RIDING COMFORT

The new Dodge Brothers Touring Car is exceptionally comfortable to ride in; it is good looking; and it incorporates many important refinements of detail.

The body is lower and lower, eliminating step-away, affording more leg room, and enhancing the beauty of the lines.

Deeper seats, long underslung rear springs and longer front springs, give ample assurance that cross country touring can be enjoyed without weariness or fatigue.

Yet with these improvements, and many others, it is still fundamentally the same car built on the same chassis and powered by the same sturdy engine.

O. A. S. LITERARY

A large audience attended the Open Meeting of the High School Literary Society in the Opera House on Monday night and gave an appreciative hearing to the excellent programme provided by the students. The programme included short addresses by the President, Gordon Adamson, and Principal Hackett, choruses by the High and Public School Festival choirs, under the direction of Mr. W. E. Cappe, speeches by Miss Nan Marshall, Ford Lindsay, Kenneth Matheson and Boris Parkinson, a piano duet by the Misses Lee, a vocal solo by Miss Alice Webb and a piano duet by Misses M. Kearns and M. Saul. Keen interest was evinced in a well-conducted debate between Forms V. and III. on the subject, "Resolved that Trade Unionism is Beneficial." This was the final debate for the shield awarded the winners of the Inter-Form debates, which have been in progress at intervals throughout the present termm. Form III. was represented by Arthur Wheelock and Lola Kyles and Form V. by Florence Partridge and Fred Wansbrough. The speakers presented their arguments in able and concise manner. The judges, Dr. Price, Col. Preston and Mrs. W. H. McGuire, awarded the decision to the Form V. speakers by a narrow margin of points. The winners were subsequently presented with the much coveted Shield.

CHURCH OPENING

Large congregations attended the opening services of the new Burns' Church at Mono Centre on Sunday. The edifice was crowded at all three services and quite a number were unable to obtain admission at night. Dr. John Neil, of Toronto, an ex-Moderator of the General Assembly, gave impressive addresses morning and afternoon, and Rev. J. A. Matheson, of Mono Mills, Moderator of the Synod of Toronto and Kingston, delivered a discourse that was keenly appreciated by the evening congregation. Mono Centre and Camilla choirs led the service of song and were assisted at night by Mr. Chas. B. Matthews, of Orangeville, who was heard with pleasure in two solos. The morning service was preceded by the baptism of the infant children of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Turnbull, Rev. and Mrs. Wm. Coutts and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Coulter. To Donald Brett Turnbull fell the distinction of being the first child baptised in the new church. The distinction was significant because of the fact that the first Presbyterian services at Mono Centre were held in the home of the child's great-great-grandparents, the late Mr. and Mrs. John Turnbull.

Voting will take place in the Council Chamber of the Public Library between the hours of one o'clock p.m. and five o'clock p.m. on Saturday, May 3rd.

CAMPLIN–REYNOLDS

The home of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Reynolds, Beeton, Ontario, was the scene of a pretty wedding on April 23rd, at 2.30 p.m., when Mary Eleanor, their eldest daughter, was united in marriage to John Albert Camplin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Camplin, also of Beeton. Rev. H. S. Lovering officiated. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked charming in a gown of white satin crepe. Her veil was daintily arranged with a coronet of orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Elizabeth Reynolds, dressed in rose baronet satin, trimmed with silver, with hat to match. The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Kenneth Camplin. Miss Bea Reynolds played the wedding march. During the signing of the register, Mrs. H. E. Camplin sang "Because." After the ceremony a reception was held. Mrs. G. E. Reynolds received in a gown of blue georgette, embroidered with blue and silver beads, with corsage of American Beauty roses. A dainty buffet luncheon was then served. The happy couple left by motor for Chicago and other points, the bride travelling in a powder blue dress with hat to match, and blue coat. Upon their return they will reside in Beeton, where Mr. Camplin conducts the store formerly occupied by Mr. G. E. Reynolds. It should be mentioned that the presents from their many and numerous friends were both numerous and costly and testified to the esteem in which the young couple, both of whom went to school together, are held. The World joins with their many well-wishers in wishing the happy couple a bright and prosperous career in their new sphere of life.—Beeton World.

ROBINSON–MOFFATT

The marriage of Gertrude A. daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Moffatt, Indian Grove, Toronto, to Mr. A. Milton Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Robinson of Orangeville, took place on Saturday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, the house being beautifully decorated for the occasion with spring flowers. The ceremony was conducted by Rev. B. R. Strangways. Through an aisle formed of white ribbons, carried by little Miss Phyllis Kirkby and Master Jack Moffatt, the bride entered. Her costume was of poudre blue crepe romaine with large hat and she carried a shower of Ophelia roses and lily of the valley. She was assisted by her sister, Mrs Harold Kirkby, who wore a French frock with hat to match, and carried an armful of Columbia roses. Mr. Levell Robinson attended the groom. Mrs. Harold Robinson, of Welland, played the wedding music. After the ceremony a buffet supper was served, after which Mr. and Mrs. Robinson left by motor for their wedding trip to New York and Atlantic City.

MONO EAST PARISH

Former friends hereabouts will be interested and pleased to learn that Rev. P. C. Howard, of Matheson New Ontario, has been appointed rector of Mono East Parish and will assume charge of the work of the Parish on June 1st. Mr. Howard is still well remembered as a popular and successful rector of the Mono West Parish. From Mono West he went to Matheson, where he has since been stationed. In a letter to The Banner Mr. Howard writes:—

"It is an unexpected turn of events which has led me back to the township of Mono, to a parish immediately adjoining my old parish of West Mono, and in close touch with many of my old friends. Needless to say I am eagerly looking forward to my return to Mono and the Orangeville district."

MRS. WM. HOLLAND

On Saturday, April 5th, at half past seven there passed away one of Richlea's most esteemed and highly respected residents in the person of Mrs. Wm. Holland, in her 36th year. Deceased had been in poor health for several months past, and all efforts to effect her complete recovery were in vain. The family had just returned recently from the east, where they had been visiting the friends and relatives of Mrs. Holland, returning to their home here on the 19th of March, and it then became apparent to all that the health of Mrs. Holland was seriously impaired and that the end might not be far off. She had been confined to her bed for the past few days and began to feel that the worst was over, but on Saturday, without any warning the end came. The funeral took place on Tuesday at ten o'clock, the service being held at the home of the deceased. Rev. F. D. Finlay conducted the service and was assisted by Rev. Mr. Coop, of Eston. The floral tributes, showing the esteem in which Mrs. Holland was held in the community, were many and most beautiful, and the funeral was one of the largest ever witnessed in these parts. Mr. Kerr, of Richlea sang, "Lead, Kindly Light, Amid the Encircling Gloom." Interment took place in Penkill cemetery, as it is the intention of Mr. Holland to remain at Richlea with his family. Mrs. Holland was an active member and took an active part in the work of the Ladies' Aid and other organizations in connection with the church, and the people of Richlea and district feel very keenly the passing of one so prominent among them and whose life was full of greatest promise for the future. The people of the community wish to extend to Mr. Holland and his family their sympathy in this their sad bereavement. Those left to mourn her passing are her husband, Mr. William Holland; two daughters, Mona, aged 12 Helen, aged 9 years, and Victor, aged 13 years; her mother, Mrs. Thos. Wilson, of Alliston, Ont.; one brother, Mr. J. W. Culbert, of Alliston, Ont.; and three sisters, Mrs. Warren Summerville and Mrs. Jos. Thompson, of Mono Mills, Ont., and Mrs. Dr. McCabe, of Bolton, Ont. The pallbearers were chosen from the most intimate friends of the family—Mr. S. Irwin, Mr. S. J. McCracken, of Brock, Mr. A. M. Banting, Mr. Roy Howard, Mr. Geo. Ewing and Mr. T. S. Stewart, of Richlea. Mrs. A. M. Banting, of Richlea, played the organ throughout the service.—Eston, Sask., Press.

MRS. M'BRIDE IMPROVING

Mrs. Alex. McBride, of Caledon East, who was beaten into insensibility by Boynton St. John, a youth on parole from the Victoria Industrial School at Mimico, is now improving daily and her complete recovery appears to be only a matter of time. She has been confined to her bed since the assault and is suffering a great deal from the shock of her terrible experience. Mrs. McBride is a frail woman, weighing less than one hundred pounds. She was not in good health and her recovery was in doubt for several days. St. John, who is lodged in Brampton jail, was before P. M. Crawford on Thursday morning, but was remanded.

FOUND DEAD

John D. Durkin, of Bowling Green, Stricken While Repairing a Fence

Residents of the Bowling Green community were shocked and grieved when they learned that John D. Durkin, one of the best known farmers of the district, had been found dead by one of his neighbors. Mr. Durkin, who had lived alone on the family homestead since the death of his father, the late Francis Durkin, on November 11th, was last seen alive shortly before noon on Monday. He was in the habit of making frequent visits to his relatives and close neighbors. When these ceased some of the neighbors surmised that he might be ill and early on Thursday afternoon, William Menary, who lives across the road, visited the Durkin house to make enquiries. When he entered the house he found the fire out. Going to the stable and opening the door he was greeted with the neighing of horses and the bellowing of cattle apparently frenzied with hunger. Now thoroughly alarmed Mr. Menary returned to the house and searched the bedrooms without finding any trace of the owner of the place. Continuing the search about the barns he came across the body of Mr. Durkin lying face downward under a fence that enclosed the barnyard. Part of the fence had fallen over the preceding Friday and the unfortunate man was apparently in the act of attempting to raise it into position, when he was struck down by death. An axe and shovel, the tools he had been using, were lying nearby. Dr. Baker, of Grand Valley, who was notified over the phone, made an examination of the remains a short time after their discovery. He was of the opinion that death was due to apoplexy and had been instantaneous. Further examination revealed the fact that the heart was enlarged to twice the normal size. This the physician attributed to a chronic diseased condition of one of the heart valves.

The deceased, who was 57 years of age and unmarried, was a large full-blooded man, who had always appeared to enjoy excellent health. He was a man of industrious habits a successful farmer and a highly respected resident of the district. He was born and had spent his lifetime in the Bowling Green neighborhood. Mr. Durkin was identified with the Methodist Church at Bowling Green and was a pronounced temperance man. His death is mourned by six married sisters, namely, Mrs. Wm. Irvin and Mrs. Jas. Thompson, Orangeville; Mrs. W. J. Bradley and Mrs. Fred Olsen, Toronto; Mrs. A. C. Bramer, Princeton, Ont., and Mrs. J. Harvey, Regina.

When apprised of the circumstances Dr. M. W. Berwick, coroner of Grand Valley, decided to hold an inquest. This took place in Carnegie Hall, Grand Valley, on Friday afternoon last, County Crown Attorney Island being present. The witnesses were Constable Wm. Day, who told of the condition of the body, Deputy-Reeve W. H. Whaley, of Amaranth, who lives on a neighboring farm, Wm. Menary, who testified that he had found the remains about 15 or 20 rods from the house, William Durkin, an uncle of the departed man, and Dr. Baker. The doctor attributed death to the rupture of a blood vessel in the brain. Witnesses agreed that the last time any of them had seen the departed man alive was on Monday April 21st, and the doctor expressed the opinion that his death had taken place sometime that day. After hearing the evidence the jury returned a verdict of death from apoplexy. The jurors were Reuben West, foreman, Robert Robinson, John Whaley Wilmer Darch, Geo. Martin, Fred Wilson, Geo. Haslam, Ivan Smith Peter McArthur, Samuel Platt, Ben Allen and John McBride.

The funeral was held from the home at Bowling Green to Grand Valley cemetery on Monday afternoon, Rev. Mitchell, Methodist minister, conducting impressive services. There was an unusually large attendance of neighbors and relatives and many beautiful floral tributes testified to the esteem in which the deceased was held by those who knew him most intimately. The pallbearers were four brothers-in-law Messrs. W. J. Bradley and Fred Olsen, Toronto, Wm. Irvin and James Thompson, Orangeville, and two cousins, Oliver Durkin, Bowling Green, and Ernest Durkin, Toronto.

PROTECTING THE HOMES OF CANADA

This is not a story about firemen fighting flames, or policemen battling with a riotous mob, but is a picture in story form showing how necessary it is to protect property of all kinds with good paint against the action of the weather.

In every class of goods manufactured the inferior as well as the best quality will be found, and it has always proven itself, the best is not only the least expensive but the safest to use.

The picture "Protecting the Homes of Canada" tells in interesting manner why good paint should be used to protect your property, why you should avoid using inferior paint and how good paint is made.

The subject of property protection is of vital interest to all home owners to-day, whether in city, town or village.

THE BUDGET

Woods' Contribution to House of Commons Debate.

R. J. Woods, M. P. for Dufferin was one of the speakers during the budget debate in the House of Commons. The following is the Hansard report of his address:—

Mr. Speaker, in opening my remarks I congratulate the Acting Minister of Finance (Mr. Robb) on the concise, clear and very able manner in which he delivered his first budget speech. I also congratulate the government on steering the course which I believe the Liberal compass has been indicating for some time. Possibly they have not sailed as far in the right direction as some of us would wish, but when they steer their course by the compass there appears to be no great danger of immediate shipwreck.

Naturally in this debate we are dealing largely with the tariff question. To my mind the tariff may be considered as a wall, or rather as a network of schedules and of clauses dealing with dumping, drawbacks and so forth; in a word, its purpose is to protect a certain class of our citizens. Now, we have been told by certain hon. members and by the press that last session the representatives of the farmers indulged in a great deal of complaining and whining about the difficulties confronting agriculture in this country, that they were in fact crying blue ruin, which it was claimed was not a very wise proceeding in the national interest. But this session the cry of blue ruin has been taken up by the manufacturers. By circulars, by delegations, and by every other conceivable means our industrialists have been bringing to bear upon the government and upon individual members of this House the greatest possible pressure, pointing out that the Speech from the Throne spelt ruination to the manufacturing interests of the Dominion, and implying that the wheels of industry would stop and the workers be turned out on the streets if any reductions were made in the tariff on manufactured commodities. That has been the cry. An hon. gentleman met me in the corridor after the presentation of the budget, and said, "Ontario has got a terrible blow." I inferred that he was thinking only of the industrial interests of the province. But we must not lose sight of the fact that the manufacturers do not compose the total population of the province of Ontario; our labourers, our retail merchants and our agriculturists form a very large proportion of the population, and their interests must not be overlooked. Is it not true that every section of our people have been hard hit? We can sympathise with the manufacturers; they have had many difficulties to contend with no doubt; but other classes of the community also deserve our sympathy. Are not the retail business men in our cities, towns and villages passing through very trying times just now? Are the farmers not passing through trying times? I venture to say that they have never had greater difficulty in making ends meet and keeping things going than they are having at present. But so far as I can learn the farmers are not threatening to desert their farms, to pull up stakes and leave, to turn their boys and girls out to rustle for themselves or to send adrift the farm labour that they have engaged. I believe that the farmers, notwithstanding the strenuous times through which they are passing, are going to carry on and try to make the best of it, are going to produce as they have done in the past and work for the best interests of this country until conditions are readjusted and we get back to a better footing. And if we have to take our medicine in passing through these hard times, why should not the industrial classes take a share of the same medicine?

I am going to quote a few figures taken from the 1921 census returns which will give hon. gentlemen some idea of the relative standing of the industrial and agricultural portions of this country. In 1921 there were 711,090 occupied farms in Canada, ranging in size from one acre to upwards of 200 acres; I do not know how far in excess of 200 acres the larger ones would range. I will give the figures of the number of farms of different sizes up to 200 acres:

No. of Acres	No. of Farms
1 to 4	21,503
5 to 10	22,555
11 to 50	82,713
51 to 100	158,292
101 to 200	229,648
201 and upwards	196,379

So you see by these figures that the greater number are large farms. These farms represent a total invested capital, including the value of the land, buildings, equipment and stock, of $6,586,648,126, and that means that the average farmer in Canada is worth approximately—the value does not quite reach that figure—$10,000. The farmers, therefore, are not so exceedingly wealthy as some people try to make us believe. I have heard persons who have driven through the country say, "Look at the fine buildings, look at the surroundings; the farmers are immensely rich". Especially was this said some years ago, at the close of the war, but as I have pointed out, the census of 1921 shows that, taking into account total capital value of land, buildings, equipment and stock, the average farmer in Canada is worth only $10,000.

Now let us look for a moment at the industrial classes and see what similar figures show in regard to that. The statistics of the same census indicate that in Canada there are 41,323 manufacturing industries. These are made up of a great many different industrial activities, and in order that we may have the matter clearly in our minds and also have them on record I will give the list of industries which go to make up that total figure:

Flour and grist mill products.
Slaughtering and meat-packing.
Pulp and paper.
Saw, lath and shingle mills.
Butter and cheese.
House building and construction.
Electric light and power.
Sugar, refined.
Automobiles and motor trucks.
Cotton yarn and cloth.
Rolling mills and steel furnaces.
Printing and publishing.
Tobacco, cigars and cigarettes.
Petroleum, refined.
Bread and other bakery products.
Biscuits and confectionery.
Boots and shoes (leather).
Electrical apparatus and supplies.
Clothing, men's factory.
Foundries and machine shop products.
Steam railway cars.
Agricultural implements.
Hosiery and knit goods.
Clothing, women's factory.
Woodworking, sash and door factories.
Printing and bookbinding.
Breweries.
Plumbing and tinsmithing.
Sheet metal products.
Rubber goods.
Furniture and upholstering.
Leather tanneries.
Industrial machinery.
Shipbuilding and repairs.
Fish curing and packing.
Gas, lighting and heating.
Automobile repairs.
Paints and varnishes.
Furnishing goods, men's.
Heating and ventilating appliances.

Those are the lines of industry listed, comprising altogether 41,323 established in this Dominion. The capital invested in those industries is $3,210,709,288, according to the census report of 1921. That figures out at approximately $78,000 capital for each industry, showing the difference between the wealth of the agricultural industries of this Dominion.

Let us now take the income tax figures, which will indicate very clearly the degree of prosperity these industries enjoy and the amount of money they get from their investments, for if we have not the income we cannot pay the income tax. In the four years from 1920 and 1923 inclusive, the manufacturers paid $14,111,979 in income tax, and the farmers $2,909,724, a difference in favour of the manufacturers of $11,202,255. That to my mind is a very clear indication of the comparative prosperity of our industrial and agricultural industries.

I wish to quote a clause from a little pamphet published by the committee representing the agricultural implement industry of this Dominion:

Through the energy of their executives and their salesmen, and through the high standard of their implements, Canadian manufacturers have built up a great export trade. Canadian implements are a familiar sight on the farms of every important country in the world.

Note the sentence which follows:

The beginnings of this export trade were laid when the tariff was at 35 per cent, which gave the Canadian manufacturers the firm foundation of an assured home market from which to operate in their struggles to secure trade abroad.

Now if I understand that aright, it is capable of no other interpretation than that the farmers of this Dominion have been unduly taxed through the customs tariff in order that the manufacturers might build up large industries and to sell their goods on foreign markets in competition with the manufacturing industries of the world. That is the meaning; that the manufacturers have been enabled to raise the price of their goods to the consumers in Canada and at the expense of our agriculturists accumulate wealth and build up a large export trade selling their goods in foreign markets in competition with the large manufacturing industries of other nations.

I wish to make reference to the textile companies. We have heard a great deal about them since this session began. We have been flooded with a lot of literature. They have been trying to influence us by telling us they were in a very precarious position, that many of their mills had to close down and that unless some remedy was provided through the prefential tariff a lot of these textile companies would have to go out of business. In that connection I wish to quote from an article that appeared in the Toronto Financial Post of February 29, 1924. It is referring to the success of Penman's Textile Company and says:

The company's sales increased during the year by a moderate amount and made possible an increase in profits that more than justified the payment of a common stock bonus of 2 per cent. above the regular dividend of 8 per cent.

There is one at all events of the textile companies that has made a success. I wish now to quote the latest available figures that I could obtain from the Bureau of Statistics. They show that in the year 1922, the textile companies in their knitted and cloth departments increased their number of employees by nearly four thousand. That does not indicate that these textile companies are in such a serious condition as they would make us believe. Some of them may be going out of business, but where is there an industry in this country of which the same thing cannot be said. Take the retail merchant, the farmer, and those engaged in other occupations, number of them are being forced out of business from time to time and—let me ask it again—why should these particular industries not be willing to take their medicine along with other lines of business?

As to the fiscal policy, the government have advanced in the direction of reduced taxation in the interests of the agriculturists of Canada. But the compass is still pointing forward, and I believe that the great consuming masses of the people will not be satisfied until the ship of state pushes considerably further in the same course. There should be further relief in the customs duties on boots and shoes, on cloth-

THE TWO SHIPS

As I stand by the cross on the lone mountain's crest,
Looking over the ultimate sea,
In the gloom of the mountain a ship lies at rest,
And one sails away from the lea;
And one spreads its white wings on a far-reaching track,
With pennant and sheet flowing free;
One hides in the shadows with sails laid aback—
The ship that is waiting for me!

But lo! in the distance the clouds break away,
The Gate's glowing portals I see;
And I hear from the outgoing ship in the bay
The song of the sailors in glee.
So I think of the luminous footprints that bore
The comfort o'er dark Galilee,
And wait for the signal to go to the shore,
To the ship that is waiting for me.

PERHAPS no single feature of a house recommends it so highly as "Hardwood Floors Throughout". Hardwood Floors make a house more attractive—more sanitary—easier to maintain. Consequently hardwood floors make it easier to sell. Seaman-Kent Hardwood Flooring is so perfectly matched—so exact in grading—that it is the standard flooring of Canada. There are undoubtedly rooms in your home which would be brighter, cleaner, prettier, if they had hardwood floors. Measure them up. Give us the sizes and we will tell you how little it would cost to lay hardwood floors.

ing, and on other necessaries of life. We appreciate what we are getting and we feel confident that it is impossible to revolutionize the fiscal policy of this country at one stroke. We know that, and we are content to rest for the moment at the state which has been reached. But we are looking for more, and we want the government not to remain satisfied with the progress they have made. We want them to press on to a far greater reduction in the customs taxation and the other taxation of this country as conditions may warrant. I want to repeat that the government have diagnosed the economic condition of Canada and they are prescribing the remedy. The doses they are administering are not, perhaps, as large as the patient can stand, but the treatment,, if continued, will eventually prove a remedy for the malady from which the country is suffering.

I should like for a few minutes to try and analyse the policy of hon. gentlemen to my right. They tell us that we must have greater protection. In an editorial in the Mail and Empire, which is the favourite organ of the Conservative party, of about the 8th April, last, reference was made to the necessity of increasing the customs taxation and at the same time lowering the sales tax. So the prescription advocated by the Conservative party is higher customs duties. That is in line with the policy of that party for a great number of years past. Well, what has that policy accomplished? Seeing that is has been in force since 1878 if it is of any practical value at all it should have accomplished something.

Now, the constituency that I have the honour to represent was practically, until a few years ago, Conservative to the core, and I personally know something about the working of the Conservative party in past years in the county I now have the honour to represent. But during all these years what has the policy of protection accomplished? We live in a small country whose climate cannot be excelled, well adapted for a virile race of people, splendidly endowed with natural resources, possessing agricultural lands that are unequalled elsewhere on the face of the globe. A protective policy was in force when Conservatives occupied the treasury benches, and it was in force when Liberals administered the government. During all this time we have had what I term a high protective policy; I cannot see it in any other light than a policy that has protected the special classes of this Dominion. But that policy having been in force for over forty years, I cannot see anything it has accomplished. As many people formerly left the country as are quitting it today; there have been in the past times equally as strenuous as we are going through today; but the policy of protection has failed to build up this country in the way it should have been built up considering Canada's unexcelled natural advantages and resources. We are told that the great thing is to restore our prosperity. But why did the prosperity collapse seeing that the policy which we are now told is going to restore prosperity, was in force for so many years? If protection is needed to restore prosperity why did that policy not keep prosperity during the forty years of its operation?

It is said that we are in the midst of a readjustment period following the events of the Great War. That is true. We are told that there is difficulty in readjustment; that it will take some time to readjust everything as it ought to be readjusted. But let us leave the war period and go back prior to the war. What prosperity could we reasonably boast of prior to 1914? I refer particularly to the agriculturists of this country. I am prepared to admit frankly that, during the period of the war, the agriculturists of Canada made a little money, but it was at the sacrifice of blood. If a little money was made and if more money was in circulation, we deplore the fact that it was co-incident with the sacrifice of the young men from the farms, towns and cities of Canada who laid down their lives on the battlefield. I think those figures that I quoted to-night, taken from the census of 1921, are possibly just as high or a little higher than they would have been had the census been taken in 1914, that is, probably an average of $10,000 for the total value of every occupied farm of this Dominion. Was that great prosperity? To my mind, there was nothing to be elated over. It is true the farmers struggled; they worked from daylight until dark; they worked holidays and every day. Many of them took scarcely a holiday. While driving along the roadway, you would see nice-looking houses and fine barns; but if you investigated, how many Canadian farms would you find with city conveniences? You would find that the housewife has to take her pail and walk to a well in the barnyard or some other place in order to get a pail of water. The farmers have to contend with outdoor conditions in storm as well as sunshine, and I venture to predict, although I do not know the facts, that not two per cent of the farmers of Canada have on their farms conveniences such as the people have in the cities, and as we enjoy when we have the privilege of spending a little while in this city. We do not by any means begrudge the people in the cities or towns their conveniences, but the nice-looking houses and fine barns are no indication of prosperity on the part of the farmers who work hard, toil early and late and seldom take a holiday. I know farmers who live not a hundred miles from the city of Toronto, who have never attended the national exhibition there. Why? Because they are interested in their home, their children and in making things as comfortable, convenient and happy as they can for their families. Because of that, they fail to spend the money or to take the time to attend many of those events that they would enjoy and be glad to attend if their financial condition would warrant their doing so.

Let us go back to the war period again and refer to the attitude of the government of that day. Those are the hon. gentlemen who are telling us that this country will return to prosperity, if their policy is adopted and they are given the privilege of handling the fiscal policy of Canada. In those years, as I stated before, we had a free circulation of money, and while the farmers made a little money, every other class made money. Many manufacturers built themselves up to be millionaires while the war went on. Money was in circulation abundantly. The labouring classes had plenty of money. While our boys were fighting overseas at $1.10 a day, foreign workers manning our munition factories and so forth were making money, getting rich, receiving from ten to possibly twenty dollars a day. What were the government of that day doing? When there was an abundance of money in circulation, the government of that day fell down in failing to pay off a great portion of the war debt instead of saddling the enormous debt of the war upon the government which now occupies the treasury benches and the people of this Dominion. The government of that day fell down, and yet they are the men who are telling us that they will restore prosperity and good times and that everybody will be happy, if they are again permitted to occupy the treasury benches and to put into force the fiscal policy as they had it in the past.

I come to another reference that I saw in the Mail and Empire. Sometimes when I quote things from memory, I make a mistake. I have this extract here and I am going to read it so that there will be no mistake. This is the Mail and Empire, the official organ of the Conservative party, and it reports an address delivered by the right hon. leader of the opposition (Mr. Meighen) in the city of Windsor. I am going to read this paragraph from it. He went on to say:

> I would make a treaty with Britain on just the same basis as others. I do not believe in showing loyalty by giving industrial concessions unless you get something in return.

What does that mean? I do not know if the leader of the opposition could give any other explanation or not, but the only meaning I can get out of it is that he would abolish the preferential tariff to Great Britain; that he would deal with other nations in exactly the same way as with Britain. That would be doing away with preferential tariff and putting the British nation on exactly the same fiscal terms as other foreign nations the world over. That is the way I look at it, and I cannot arrive at any other understanding, so far as my limited knowledge goes. Now I want to compare that with the utterances of those hon. gentlemen in the campaign of 1911, where the real issue was camouflaged—at least, I am going to assert that it was camouflaged in the part of the country where I live and possibly all over Canada. In that campaign it was stated to the people "If you adopt the reciprocity treaty you are going to be swallowed up by the United States of America; the treaty spells annexation and savours of disloyalty to the British nation." They quoted Champ Clark of the United States as saying that it meant the parting of the ways. That is what was coming to us in 1911, and the same gentlemen who in 1911 waved the Union Jack, cried loyalty, and trembled at the knees for fear of annexation, now draw right back, hit out from the shoulder and say "Britain, we will deal with you the same as any other foreign nation." My attitude from youth up has been that I will take second place to no man in the Dominion of Canada for loyalty to Great Britain; but I condemn most emphatically any man or body of men, any political organization or other organization that will take the Union Jack in a campaign and make a political football out of it. I think in the first speech I made in this House I said I was not here to play politics, not here to do or to undo any political party, nor to oppose any government for the sake of making opposition. I am not here to support any government nor any party simply for the sake of supporting that political party; but I am standing here solidly on the foundation of true principle and will enact legislation in this country that will be, in my opinion, of the greatest benefit to the greatest number, and I would oppose any government or any party that legislates to build up a favoured few at the expense of the masses of the consuming public of Canada.

Under the Driver's Seat

The battery in your car makes or mars the pleasure of driving. It is usually stowed away out of sight but it is the most important unit in your car. Without a battery your car is lifeless, with a weak inefficient battery it is crippled. But with a powerful, long-lived Prest-O-Lite, the engine leaps into action at the touch of the starting pedal, live current flows through the spark plugs, the horn resounds its warning, light floods the roadway. Prest-O-Plates the final product of the "oldest service to motorists in America" developed in the greatest battery laboratory in the World—give Prest-O-Lite batteries their power and long life.

When you buy a new battery, go to a Prest-O-Lite dealer, who will prescribe the right battery for your particular car. Then wherever you go there is a Prest-O-Lite Service Station to keep your battery in perfect condition.

A little girl in Ayrshire had been punished for not being able to recite her geography lesson. her mother went to the lady teacher to reprimand her.

WHERE A MISSTEP MIGHT MEAN DEATH

The Hoodoos on the Cavell Motor Highway, Jasper National Park, curious stone figures brought into being by the erosion of the earth under the constant wearing effects of air and water, draw exclamations of wonder from thousands of tourists who visit the largest of Canada's National Parks every year.

Huge flat stones, balanced as here, stop the pinnacles of earth which have stood up firmly when the mountain side all around them crumbled or was washed away by the rushing waters, seem as though the slightest breath of wind would be sufficient to send them hurtling to the bottom of the valley hundreds of feet below. A favorite sport with the tourist is to drop large stones on the hoodoos and see them away back and forth drunkenly, yet finally regain their poise and remain balanced as firmly as before.

The tourist in the photograph who was bold enough to scramble down and use one of the flat stones for a table on which to rest his arms, had a strenuous climb before he again regained the level surface of the Cavell Highway, which winds up from the Athabasca Valley almost to the foot of the glacier of the Ghost, that peculiar age-old formation of ice and snow which hangs on the wide stretches of Mount Edith Cavell.

Visitors to Jasper Park Lodge may travel by motor or saddle horse from the Lodge to the foot of Mount Cavell or any of the other mountains surrounding the log-cabin hostelry of the Canadian National Railways.

CLEAN-UP DAY

The Town Council has requested the citizens of Orangeville to observe Wednesday, May 7th, as a Clean-Up Day. We hope that the request of the Council will be respected by a general observance of the day. Orangeville is naturally a beautiful summer town and citizens can do a great deal to add to its attractiveness by keeping their lawns and boulevards neat and trim. This is the time of the year, too, when steps should be taken to dispose of ashes, garbage and other unsightly refuse that may have accumulated in lanes or back yards during the winter months. No town can be really beautiful unless its streets, lanes, yards and vacant lots or spaces are kept neat, clean and in good order. Every citizen takes a pride in his home and property and every good citizen takes a pride in the appearance and good name of his town. Compliance with the request of the Council is not imposing any hardship on our citizens so that we are looking for a very general observance of Wednesday next, May 7th, as Clean-Up Day in Orangeville.

GEORGE D. LEDLOW

George Danby Ledlow, one of the oldest and most highly respected residents of the Camilla neighborhood, passed away at his late residence, lot 10, con. 3, west, Mono, on Saturday, April 26th. Considering the fact that he was in his 79th year, Mr. Ledlow was an active, vigorous man, mentally and physically, until a comparatively short time before his demise.

The late Mr. Ledlow was born in Toronto Gore on February 2nd 1846, and when a lad of five years removed with his parents to lot 10, Chinguacousy, where the family resided for five years, later moving to Mayfield in the same township.

In 1875 he was united in marriage to Miss Esther Wiggins, of Brampton, the newly wedded couple residing on the first line, east, Chinguacousy, until their removal to Mono township in 1880.

The deceased was a lifelong member of the Methodist Church, in whose life and activities he took a very active part. He was a Liberal in politics and always identified himself with every movement that had for its object the uplift and betterment of the community in which he lived.

Deceased leaves to mourn his loss his wife, one son, John W., of Camilla, and three daughters, Mrs. Barnford Sproule, of Adams, Sask.; Mrs. Atkinson White, of Whittington, and Mrs. R. L. Sloan, of Brampton. Four brothers survive, namely, Aaron, John and James Ledlow, of Brampton, and Rev. Thos. Lundy of Aurora. The sisters are Miss Elizabeth Ledlow, Mrs. Jos. Gray and Mrs. Peter Gray, of Mono Road, Mrs. F. Coyne, of Brampton, and Miss M. Ledlow, of Toronto.

The high esteem in which the late Mr. Ledlow was held by all who knew him was fittingly expressed by the great number of beautiful floral tributes that were sent to the home. Among these expressions of sympathy were noticed wreaths and sprays from the Ladies' Aid of Whittington Methodist Church, the Camilla Women's Institute, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Reid, Orangeville, Misses F. and C. Shain, Orangeville, Mr. and Mrs. John Coyne, Toronto, the Camilla U. F. O. Club, and Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Ledlow, as well as a wreath from the brothers and sisters and a pillow from the family.

The funeral, which was largely attended, was held from the late residence to the Forest Lawn Cemetery on Tuesday afternoon, Rev. W. Rackham, of Laurel, conducting the services. The pallbearers were the four brothers, Rev. Thos., Aaron John and James Ledlow, and Messrs. F. Coyne and F. Wrigglesworth.

MRS. ELIZABETH FUNSTON

Mrs. Elizabeth Funston, widow of the late James Funston, of Orangeville, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Fawcett Bennett, Mill St., on Saturday at the age of 69 years and 7 months. The funeral was held to the Forest Lawn Cemetery on Monday afternoon, Rev. J W. McDonald conducting the services. Mrs. Bennett, Mrs. Kinch, of Buffalo, and Mrs. Walter Bailey, of Orangeville, are daughters.

"Tired and Worried Nervous and Despondent"

Mrs. M. Chevalier, Belle River, Ont., writes:
"For eight years I suffered from despondency and nervousness. Sometimes I could not sleep at night for worrying and the next day I would be so tired that my work was a burden to me. I began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and can say I am now entirely relieved of the nervousness from which I used to suffer, and things do not worry me as they used to.

"Dr. Chase's Ointment also relieved me of eczema on my arms, which had bothered me for three years. My house is never without Dr. Chase's Medicines."

At T.F. Lockhart's silver black fox ranch in Dundalk a mother fox gave birth to five black beauties. The mother began acting so strangely in carrying them out of the den and leaving them exposed on the ground that the owner took the pups away from her and gave them to another mother—an ordinary house-cat. The mother cat is a faithful nurse and looking well after her new family.

THE MELANCTHON FIRES

Incidents Recalled in Connection With Incendiary Outrages That Stirred Dufferin in Early Nineties.

Article II. of a series now appearing in the Toronto Sunday World contains the following which recalls the outstanding incidents of the famous Melancthon fires which occurred in the early 90's:—

Eight men were sent to the penitentiary for 12 years each, and one for eight years, to court remorse for the star parts they had played in the Melancthon fires which had all Ontario agog, particularly Dufferin County, for a year or so in the early nineties. Four others were convicted and sentenced to terms of shorter duration, and two more were given their freedom in consideration of the assistance they had rendered to the Crown in putting an end to the biggest wholesale arson conspiracy in the criminal records of Canada.

About forty buildings in Melancthon Township, adjacent to the town of Shelburne, were set on fire and destroyed for the insurance inside of three years. These structures were mostly barns, but several farm houses were included. Contents supposed to be burned were removed to the place chosen for the next fire, and through this plan insurance was paid upon them over and over again. The fires invariably occurred when the owner of the premises was elsewhere, and were scattered over the township, several of them being in the neighborhood of Corbetton and Dundalk. Before the insurance adjusters woke up to what was going on a man was burned to death in one of the incendiary blazes near Shelburne. It was through the investigation of this tragedy by the provincial police that the situation was revealed.

Inspector Greer regards this as the most spectacular case he has handled during his fifty years as a police officer, and one outstanding feature associated with it was that the magistrate who presided over the court at Shelburne in the preliminary hearing of the charges against two of the principals, David and Jas. Ballard, was himself accused by them of having been implicated in the conspiracy. "The name of the magistrate was Hamilton," recalled Mr. Greer, "and the Ballards insisted that he had received some of the monies wrongfully secured from the insurance companies, but the allegation was not credited just then. There was a sequel, however, which altered the look of things. After the trial a woman had a charge of perjury laid against Hamilton in connection with some questionable money transaction. Hamilton skipped out and tried to hide himself away in the Northwest Territories. I followed, and succeeded in locating him at Oxbow on the Souris branch of the Canadian Pacific Railway in the Assiniboia district. He admitted the corn, and I brought him east to face the charge, which was sustained and he was sent to prison. This is the only case, within my recollection, of that sort of a magistrate, and I believe that what the Ballards said about him was substantially true.

"There was an element of luck with me right from the start of my investigation of those fires," Mr. Greer admitted. "Soon after I arrived in the neighborhood I saw a man with a team hauling a load of lumber, and heard him addressed as 'Jim' by a man who enquired after his wife and daughter. Approaching him with the observation that it was a nice day I was soon in conversation with him, and I asked in casual fashion wat he was going to do with the lumber. He replied that he was taking it for the construction of a new barn, and then I asked him quietly if he expected to have another fire. At that he jumped in a manner that told me better than words I had touched him on the raw. 'What do you know about fires?' he demanded, with alarm written all over his face. That was my cue to spring a bluff, and when I replied: 'Well, you had one didn't you? and I thought perhaps you might be preparing for another, either for yourself or somebody else!' he warmed up and I let him rave for a minute. Then I told him that I was interested in all the fires, and said, as nearly as I can recollect, 'Now Jim, I want to know all that you know about fires, and I am going to give you until to-morrow morning to meet me in Shelburne and come clear with the whole business. If you fail to do that you need not be surprised to find yourself, with your wife and daughter all on the way to the penitentiary before this old world is very much older.' That shaft sank right home and the man appeared to be dumbfounded as I walked away.

"After I had proceeded for a few rods he regained his power of speech for I heard him hollering lustily for me to come back and as I turned he approached to meet me. He declared that the women knew nothing about the fires, but I was able to convince him that I knew otherwise for by this time I thoroughly believed they did. Then he loosened up about the frauds on the insurance companies that when erecting a building intended for consumption by flames they would put the posts in and the boards on up and down on three sides, leaving one side not finished. When they wanted a fire they would haul along a lot of straw and the remains of old agricultural implements together with other things which had already been through fires and settled for by insurance adjusters. Soon afterwards the mysterious blaze would start from the unfinished side of the structure.

"It transpired that my informant had a threshing machine which had supposedly been burned in his fire and had been settled for by the insurance company, but he still retained the machine ready to do similar service. There was an iron truck which had been 'destroyed' in several fires, the same adjuster passing upon each claim. Insurance had been collected no less than four times on one Bell organ, which had figured in fires in that many homes.

"On the strength of what Jim had unfolded I proceeded to the home of one of the men I had been informed was deeply implicated and waited around until I saw him drive away from the house. Then I went up and asked for him, and his wife informed me that he would be away for the balance of the day. I had a little heart-to-heart talk with her, as had been my intention, corroborating some of the things Jim had told me, before I informed her as kindly as I could that unless her husband met me in Shelburne on the following morning they were both facing a prospective long stay in prison. The man kept the appointment bright and early, coming with tears in his eyes and confirming what Jim had said in regard to names and details. After that interview I got into touch with the county constables department and the round-up of arrests was speedily effected.

"Of the fifteen we gathered in, thirteen were eventually sent to prison for either perjury or arson and some for both. But only one of them really had trial by jury. That was Jim Ballard, who had been a moving spirit in the conspiracy, and we had worked up a case so convincingly that the jurymen practically just went out of court and back again, for in ten minutes after the Judge's charge a verdict of guilty was returned. The alacrity thus displayed by that jury took the wind out of the sails of the defence for the other prisoners. Their lawyers, now Judge Vance, of Barrie, and Hon. I. B. Lucas, after a brief conference with the accused, entered a plea of guilty for all. Such was the dramatic close of a case that was remarkable in many respects, but in none more so than the fact that the conspirators were able to get away with their nefarious game for such a long time, and until it had killed somebody, before anybody woke up with an idea that it would have to be stopped. My own recollection is that there were so many families implicated that everybody was afraid to say anything about it in case they might be bringing trouble about the heads of somebody belonging to them. After they got started, however, they talked freely enough, apparently being glad to get the thing off their minds."

MOTHER OF LARGE FAMILY

Recommends Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to Other Mothers

Hemford, N. S.—"I am the mother of four children and I was so weak after my last baby came that I could not do my work and suffered for months until a friend induced me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Since taking the Vegetable Compound my weakness has left me and the pain in my back has gone. I tell all my friends who are troubled with female weakness to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for I think it is the best medicine ever sold. You may advertise my letter."—Mrs. GEORGE I. CROUSE, Hemford, N. S.

My First Child

Glen Allen, Alabama.—"I have been greatly benefited by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for bearing-down feelings and pains. I was troubled in this way for nearly four years following the birth of my first child, and at times could hardly stand on my feet. A neighbor recommended the Vegetable Compound to me after I had taken doctor's medicines without much benefit. It has relieved my pains and gives me strength. I recommend it and give you permission to use my testimonial letter."—Mrs. IDA RYE, Glen Allen, Alabama.

THE GLADIOLUS

How It May Be Grown Successfully. (Ontario Horticultural Association)

SOIL—The Gladiolus is not exacting in its demand upon the soil; a light, rich sandy soil is usually considered most suitable.

The best fertilizer is well decayed stable manure, applied in the fall and well mixed with the soil, and supplemented with bone meal or acid phosphate. A dressing of wood ashes can be used to advantage.

PLANTING—Gladiolus corms or bulbs should be planted about 4 inches deep, depending on the soil. Deep planting helps to support the stem.

They may be planted in straight rows, and if exhibition flowers are wanted, six or more inches apart; but good flowers will be produced if they are planted closer. They do not do well if planted in shade of trees or buildings.

TIME FOR PLANTING — Gladioli may be planted any time after the ground is sufficiently warm and dry. From May 15 to 30 is the usual time, but planting may be continued until the 10th or 15th of June. By planting at intervals of a week or more, the flowering season will be prolonged, but this is also accomplished by planting a range of varieties of different maturities.

Flower spikes that are produced last of August or first of September are often much finer than those blooming earlier in August, when the weather is hotter.

Planted in May, they take about twenty-five to ninety days to bloom, some varieties being much earlier than others.

To produce fine flowers, effort should be made to maintain a steady growth, and in order to effect this they must not be allowed to suffer from lack of moisture. No matter how good the corm is or how fine the variety, they will not give good results, if stunted by dry weather. Some of the very finest varieties do not show to advantage in very hot weather, and will be scarcely recognized.

The size of the crom is no indication of its value; some vine varieties have a small corm, and many poor varieties have a large corm.

CUTTING THE FLOWERS—Cut the spike when the first flowers open and place in water without crowding. The end of the stem should be shortened, withered flowers removed, and water renewed daily. By doing this, all the flowers will open in succession and the spike will last a week or more. Sufficient foliage should be left on the plant to keep it in growing condition.

HARVESTING—Dig the corms before the ground freezes. Cut off the stalk close to the corm, cure for a few days in sun and air, and store in a cool cellar in shallow trays or open paper bags and the corms can be removed at a convenient time during the winter.

The Gladiolus is a fine cut flower for table decorations, and there is for this purpose nothing to surpass it in its season.

WHAT A SHAME

The boys of the village had formed a football club, and all they now needed was a ball and goalposts.

"It's like this," explained the captain, "we must all subscribe, but them as 'as most must give most."

There being no sign of dissent, the captain continued: "Now, there's Jimmy Simkins. He told me only the other day that every time 'e takes a dose of cod liver oil his mother puts a penny in his money box. 'E must be getting rich."

"No, I aint!" bawled Jimmy "Why, I've found out it's all a swiz When I gets ter 'alf a crown, ma takes it out and buys anuvver bottle."

A TERRIBLE TEST

A negro's ingenuousness is monumental. You get the perfect example of it in the police court scene where the magistrate, exasperated by trying hard to be fair in an all too obvious case, says:

"Yes, but look here, Rastus; if you were not going to steal chickens what on earth were you doing in the coop."

Of course it is an unanswerable question, except to Rastus, who without the flicker of an eyelid says:

"Judge, Ah was just a-testin' mah will-power!"

It was a very narrow escape, but one for which the driver of the car, as well as the boy, was very thankful.

While Henry Walker was moving his clover mill from the Whitfield neighborhood, where for the past week he had been threshing clover for the farmers of that vicinity, he met with a nasty mishap. He had got as far as Murphy's hill, on the Prince of Wales Road, about one mile north of Primrose, when the circle of the forward track separater, causing the machine to run forward on the horses, shoving them into a deep ditch on the side of the road and piling on top of them. With the aid of the engine they were able to free one of the animals, the other had to be dug out, and strange to say they appeared little the worse of the mishap.

Ontario Lady Recommends Dodd's Kidney Pills.

She Says They Are An Excellent Remedy For Lame Back.

Dunbar, Ont., May 5th (Special) —"I have been a user of Dodd's Kidney Pills for twenty years and find them good for lame back." Such is the tribute Mrs. A. Barkley, a well-known and respected resident here, pays to the old Canadian kidney remedy, Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I recommend them to everyone and am never without them in the house."

All that is claimed for Dodd's Kidney Pills is that they are a kidney remedy. They heal and strengthen the kidneys. They are used to treat rheumatism, dropsy, backache, urinary troubles, diabetes, and heart disease, because all these ills are either of the kidneys or caused by diseased kidneys.

Women's troubles, or nearly all of them, come from sick kidneys. Dodd's Kidney Pills will relieve kidney trouble, no matter where or in what form it is.

The Farmington Dramatic Club made a very good impression in Grand Valley with their play, "The Trials of Mary." The play was not too pretentious and very well acted. There were pretty costumes and amusing scenes and the audience reported that they had been very well entertained.

During the present year nearly $140,000 will be spent on County and County Provincial roads in the County of Grey. This amount is $38,000 less than last year, and will necessitate the curtailing of work although construction will go ahead in the four sections where the work was going on last year.

The boy, in company with a girl friend, Jean Findlay, went for a hike up the Bighead River, at Meaford. He sat down on a rock some distance up the river, and the rifle, falling off his lap, went off. With his wound bleeding profusely the boy walked a mile for help. Dr. Eberhardt, of Meaford, was called, and the boy was placed in a car and taken to Collingwood Hospital. On the way there the car broke down, with a broken axle. When within four miles of Collingwood the boy died. He was one of the brightest boys in Meaford High School, and was considered as a likely contender for the Carter Scholarship.

ORANGEVILLE CHOIRS WIN

Public School Choir First for Second Time in Ontario Musical Festival.

High School Girls' Choir Awarded Second Prize in Competition For Challenge Shield.

To have two prize winning school choirs in a musical event of such importance as the Ontario Musical Association annual Competitive Festival is a distinction of which the citizens of Orangeville have every reason to be proud. Choirs from the Orangeville High and Public Schools were successful in winning prizes in the Festival competitions in Toronto last week. On Wednesday members of the High School Girls' Choir motored to the city and took part in the competition for Girls' School choirs, age limit 18 years. They were awarded the second prize, the first going to Riverdale High School Glee Club, Toronto, conducted by Miss N. Emily Todd. The excellent work of the two winning choirs is perhaps best shown by the fact that they were in competition with the choir of St. Joseph's College, Toronto, trained under the personal direction of Maestro Carboni, admittedly one of the leading conductors of the province. The Conductor of the Orangeville choir was Mr. W. Edmund Cappe, musical instructor in the Orangeville High and Public Schools. The prize was a certificate to the school and a silver medal to the conductor. The members of the Orangeville choir were:—

On Friday the Public School choir journeyed to the city and under the leadership of Mr. Capps took part in the competition for school choirs from towns having a population of from 5,000 to 10,000. In this event the choir won first prize, as an Orangeville school choir under the leadership of the late J. E. Jessop had done a year ago, thereby retaining possession for another year of the fine challenge shield first won a year ago. Mr. Capps, the conductor, was given a gold medal in recognition of his part in the success of the choir. Indicative of the ability of Mr. Capps and his high standing as a Conductor, is the fact that Orangeville's most formidable competitor was the Brampton Public School choir, also conducted by Mr. Capps. Only two points separated the rival choirs, Orangeville scoring 88 and Brampton 86 out of a possible 100. The selection used was the two part unaccompanied song, "Lo, 'Tis Night," from Book 3 of the Ontario Educational Music Course.

The Orangeville and Brampton choirs met again in the contest for school choirs from towns of less than 5,000 population. In this competition, the Peel capital choir succeeded in turning the tables on their Dufferin County competitors, securing the decision of the adjudicator with a total of 87 points. The Orangeville choir was awarded 84 points, 3 less than their successful opponents. Mr. Capps was also in charge of the two choir in this competition. The songs used were the two part accompanied composition, "Now is the Month of Maying," and the unison song, "Come Lassies and Lads." The winners were awarded one year's possession of a challenge shield and the conductor a gold medal. The Orangeville choir was given a certificate and the conductor a silver medal. Mr. Capps had at first intended to devote the energies of the choir here entirely to the competition for choirs from towns between 5,000 and 10,000. Later on it was decided to enter both competitions, but even then choir and conductor were more anxious to retain the shield won by Orangeville a year ago than to win the second competition. Without any intention of reflecting upon the fine work of the Brampton choir, it is only fair to state that the ages of its members averaged about eighteen months more than the ages of their Orangeville competitors. The members of the Orangeville choir were:—

Sopranos — Margaret Huston, Mabel Huston, Bertha Lemon, Margaret Irvine, Ellen Sheldon, Ethel Boys, Dorothy Barber, Dorothy Marshall, Constance Deane, Mary Judge Clara McKitrick, Ruth Wise, Gwen Parsons, Jean Holmes, Etta Cameron, Bertie Smith, Margaret Owens, Ethel Doherty, Betty Sproule, Grace Simpson, Olive McNichol, Frieda Himmell, Lucilla Johnston, Bertha Liddy, George Abern, Dorothy Sargeant.

In addition to having two winning school choirs in the Festival competitions, Mr. Capps secured further honors with the choir of Grace Methodist Church, Brampton, which was awarded first prize for choirs from towns of 8,000 and under. The Brampton choir, which consists of fifty voices, had no opposition in this event, but in order to hold the challenge shield, which they won in competition a year ago, it was necessary for them to sing and to obtain at least 80 points. They demonstrated their ability and the soundness of their training by scoring 85 points. Our readers will join heartily in congratulating Mr. Capps on the outstanding successes of his three choirs in the Festival. The Orangeville and Brampton schools are fortunate indeed to have the services of an instructor of his musical standing and ability.

SUBSCRIBERS LIABLE

In the Division Court on Tuesday The Orangeville Arena, Limited, obtained judgment against E. Simons for $25.00 and costs of the action. Simons subscribed for one $25.00 share in the Arena Company, but afterwards declined to pay for his stock. The defence alleged misrepresentation as the reason for refusing to pay. Mr. J. B. Adamson, who sold the stock to Simons, was the chief witness and was able to satisfy the Court that there had not been misrepresentation. J. L. Island appeared for the Arena; Simons was not represented by counsel. We understand that there are other subscribers in the same position as Simons and that the Arena Company will take legal steps to enforce payment if necessary.

LACROSSE PROSPECTS

The lacrosse season will soon be in full swing. Banner readers will be pleased to learn that in spite of some rather serious losses the senior Dufferins intend carrying on as usual and expect to place a strong team in the field. Fred Golden has been lost to Weston, whither he was transferred by the Bank of Commerce about a month ago, Blythe Brown, the Fergus sharpshooter, has cast in his lot with the Hamilton seniors, Yank Sargent is also located in Hamilton and Burnside has signed up with one of the Toronto teams. The greenshirts still have Harry Firth, Bert Booth, Scott, Henderson, Cruikshank, Eddie Hawken, Ewing Joe Cushing, Clyde Gordon Armour Robinson and Christie McAulay of last year's team. With one more good man this looks like a pretty fair team, despite the losses just referred to. Among the new men, who are counted on to fill the vacancies and add strength to the team, are McKinstry, a Bradford man, who will likely be found at point, "Tommy" Ryan, a former Montreal man and one of the best homefielders playing the game anywhere, Hillis and Fisher, who hail from Elora, Pete Walsh, a Tottenham product, Karl and Harold Blair Arthur boys, the former said to be a 10½ sec. man, "Kid" Ingram, a former Brampton senior, who recently moved to Shelburne. In addition to these newcomers there are several local intermediates, who have a fair chance of making the senior team. There is therefore no scarcity of senior material in town and the management is confident that Orangeville will be represented by a team that will be good enough to make Weston, Brampton, or any other team in the group extend itself. The majority of the newcomers are living in town, which means that there will be more opportunity for effective team practice.

Intermediate and midget teams will also have strong aggregations in the O. A. L. A., so there should be plenty of lacrosse in Orangeville this season. Players counted on to qualify for positions on the intermediate team include Cecil Smith Leonard Sanderson, Arthur Henry, Christie McAulay, Ernest Brown Edwin Whelan, Charlie Rowan, Nel Crowe, Elmer McKim, Eddie Smith. Clayton Connell, Reggie Leeson, Harvey Brawley, Norris Hughes, Stanley Brawley, Ross Curry, Douglas Hogg and several others.

By comparison with published statements of others in the Wool Business for 1923, we find that the average prices paid by us to the farmers were nearly four cents per pound higher. That, of itself, is a very considerable gain, but in addition you have the satisfaction of seeing your Wool properly graded, knowing that it is yours until you are satisfied. CHIEF RESIGNS

Chief of Police Portland Will Cease to Function at End of May.

Thos. Portland, who was appointed Chief of Police in Orangeville last year, has tendered his resignation to the Town Council and asked to be relieved of his duties at the end of May. At the meeting of the Council on Monday night, the resignation was accepted and the Clerk was instructed to advertise for applications for the vacant position. In his advertisement, which appears elsewhere in this issue, the Clerk was instructed to make it plain that the applicants are expected to familiarize themselves with the duties of the office by referring to the town by-law in which these are set forth. We understand that Mr. Portland and members of the Council have not seen eye to eye respecting some of the multifarious duties of his office. This, however, is not the real reason for the Chief's resignation. He has felt for some time that there was not enough money in the job and as he is a married man with a family the salary was probably inadequate. The Chief was a first-rate chap and there are many in town who will be sorry to see him leave. We understand that Mrs. Portland and family are moving to Toronto the end of this week and that the Chief will follow at the end of the month.

Council passed the following accounts:—Roy Hulse, $44.55; Canadian Brass Co., Ltd., $67.29; Bell Telephone Co., $2.05 and $3.50; Orangeville Hydro Commission, $34.61 and $317.00; E. C. Clark, $15.25; Wm. Harnden, $27.20; Geo. King $34.50; Oliver Carpenter, $7.80.

The Chairmen of the R. & B. F. & W., T. P. and Cement Tile Committees were instructed to confer with the corporation workmen and report a scale of wages to be paid for the remainder of the year.

A communication was received from the Clerk of the town of Hanover asking the views of the Council as to the unequal apportionment of school grants and the resultant descrimination against urban centres having a population of upwards of 2,000. The Clerk was instructed to reply, setting forth the views of the Council.

The Clerk was authorized to write the Ontario Motor League stating that the municipality is prepared to provide camping accommodation for motor tourists. The letter is in response to an enquiry from the officials of the League.

Nightwatchman Coe, who has been doing duty in plain clothes, will be asked to wear a Constable's cap as a badge of his authority. The cap will be provided by the Council.

"BILLY" STUBBS AS ENTERTAINER

Among those who attended the minstrel show on Monday there were few who recognized the central figure in the rendering of "Uncle Ned's Birthday," one of the best parts of the program. The venerable old negro was called upon by his friends, who congratulated him on attaining his hundredth birthday. Songs were added to their congratulations, the old gentleman responding by playing an appropriate selection on a large bass viol. A little black paint had transformed William Stubbs, ex-M.P. for Cardwell, into "Uncle Ned." It might interest some of our readers to know that William Stubbs, V. S., was a prominent figure in the politics of this district thirty years ago. What was known as the Manitoba School Question had set the heather on fire. The electoral district of Cardwell (since eliminated) was thrown open in 1895 and, under the leadership of Dalton McCarthy, Stubbs was elected in one of the fiercest political contests ever waged in Canada. Stubbs was again elected in the general election of 1896, but was defeated four years later by Robert Johnston. "Billy" Stubbs, as he is familiarly known still resides in the little village of Caledon, surrounded and beloved by a large circle of friends. That he is still young, although 84 years of age, and going strong, is evidenced by the fact that he came to Bolton with his young friends and did his part in putting on a minstrel show in the interests of the local hockey club. Here's to you, "Billy."—Bolton Enterprise.

EARLY LAMBS

"Happening to notice in a recent issue of The Banner that a farmer near Cochrane had a lamb born on February 21st, which it was claimed was the earliest on record in Ontario, I wish to state that, while this is undoubtedly pretty early for the advent of spring lambs, I nevertheless know of two lambs that were born earlier than that right in our own district. Mr. W. T. Houston, of the Erin-Caledon townline, had a lamb arrive on January 25th, 1924, and Mr. J. G. Hughes, of the 5th line, west, Caledon, had one born on February 1st. Mr. Houston sold his lamb about three weeks before Easter."

THE MAPLES

The annual business meeting of The Maples Women's Institute will be held in the church at The Maples on Thursday afternoon, May 15th, at 2.30 o'clock. Officers will be elected for the coming year. A good attendance of the members is requested. Other ladies are cordially invited.

MRS. JOHN YORK

Mrs. John York, for very many years a resident of Caledon East, passed over to the great majority a short time ago at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Thos. McCabe, of Collingwood, with whom she had spent the winter. Deceased was 84 years of age and was highly respected in Caledon East. The remains were taken to Hanton's Hotel, where they remained over night. The funeral took place on Friday morning, April 25th, to the R. C. Church, Centreville, and the remains were laid to rest, after a very appropriate sermon by Rev. Father Fraser, who referred in feeling terms to the departed. The following acted as pallbearers: J. O. Proctor, E. C. Jackson, John Hanton, Dr. T. W. Allison, Michael Horan and T. Wilson, of Allandale.

MRS. J. M. YOUNG

There passed away at Fergus on Wednesday, April 16th, 1924, Adeline Maveal, beloved wife of the late John M. Young, in her 65th year. Death was due to gangrene, her last illness being of a months' duration. The late Mrs. Young was born in Prescott in 1860, her father being Joseph Maveal. Some years later the family moved to Fergus, where she spent her girlhood days. In 1879 she was married to the late John M. Young, who predeceased her 13 years ago. There was born to them a family of nine children, of whom six are living to mourn her loss. These are Mrs. Alex. Farquhar, of Elora; Mrs. Wm. Ewen, of Bethune, Sask.; Mrs. Freeman Leader, Orangeville; Norman, of Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. E. McLaughlin, of Bethune, Sask., and Wm. Ramsay, of Bethune, Sask. A son, Lloyd, was killed while serving overseas. George Maveal, of Elora, and Joseph, James, William, Julia and Nellie, all of Detroit, are the surviving brothers and sisters. The funeral was held from the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Alex. Farquhar, on Saturday afternoon, April 19th, interment taking place in Belsyde Cemetery Fergus. The service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Nichol, assisted by Rev. Mr. Craw. The pallbearers were her two brothers, George and William Maveal, her son, Norman, her son-in-law, Freeman Leader, and John Gorrie and Leslie Deans. Among those present at the funeral from a distance were her son, Norman, and her brother and sister from Detroit.

MRS. CAMILLA SMITH

The death of Mrs. Camilla C. Smith, widow of the late Alfred Smth, of Alton and Orangeville, occurred at the home of her son, Mr. J. E. Smith, First Ave., early on Thursday morning. Mrs. Smith who was in her 79th year, had been in failing health for the last six months or longer and her demise was by no means unexpected. The end came very peacefully and there was little or no physical suffering. The late Mrs. Smith, whose maiden name was Camilla C. Reddick, was born in Murray township near Brighton Ont. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Reddick, moved to these parts over sixty years ago and were residents of Orangeville in 1860 and '61. After her marriage to Alfred Smith the subject of this notice took up her residence in Alton. Thirty-six years ago, the family moved to Orangeville, where her husband died a short time afterwards. Mrs. Smith was a kindly, Christian woman, devoted to her home and family and beloved by her neighbors for her kindly nature and exemplary character. She was a faithful member of the Baptist church and had been a regular worshipper in the church here for many years. Two sons, J. E. Smith, Orangeville, and Fred B. Smith, Chicago, a daughter, Miss Ella Smith, Hamilton, a sister, Mrs. M. Baker, Grand Rapids, Mich., and a brother, George Reddick, of Toronto, now 86 years of age, survive to mourn her loss.

The funeral, which was attended by a large number of friends of the family, was held from the home of her son to the Forest Lawn Cemetery on Saturday afternoon, Rev. J. R. Wilkinson, of Unionville, a nephew, and Rev. F. W. Mahaffy, conducting the services. The pallbearers were Messrs. Jas. Reddick, Trenton; Frank Spence, Toronto; Lew Smith, Cainsville, and E. H. Sproule, J. B. Adamson and A. D. McKitrick Orangeville. The esteem in which the departed woman was held was fittingly evidenced by numerous floral tributes. These included a pillow from Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Smith and Gordon and sprays from Messrs. Lew Smith, Cainsville, and Herbert Smith Aylmer, Mr. and Mrs. J. Gordon, Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. King, Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Connell, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McMaster, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Dorrance, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. McKitrick, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McKitrick, Mr. and Mrs. D. Young, Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Mann, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Harrison, Messrs. L. R. McCabe and Henry Hanna, Lord Dufferin Chapter, I. O. D. E., the members of the Baptist Church and the Session and Managers of St. Andrew's Church.

Friends present from outside points were Mr. Jas. Reddick and Miss Ida Reddick, Trenton; Mrs. M. Baker, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Mr. Lew Smith, Cainsville; Rev. J. W. Wilkinson, Unionville; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spence, Mrs. Will Galvin, Mrs W. H. McCormack, Mrs. J. Gordon Miss Agnes Lemon, Mr. Geo. Reddick and Mr. Randall Adamson, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Will Reddick and Misses Mary and Nora Reddick Horning's Mills; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McMaster, Snelgrove; Mrs. Peter Lemon and Mrs. Lou Lemon, Alton.

"GREATER ONTARIO"

Large Audience Heard Dr. Cody, Former Minister of Education, in Opera House Thursday Night.

Fine Address on Territorial Extent Natural Resources and Potential Wealth of Northern Ontario.

A large audience assembled in the Opera House on Thursday night to hear Dr. Cody, of Toronto, formerly Minister of Education for the Province of Ontario, speak on the subject, "Greater Ontario." The ex-Cabinet Minister was in excellent form and treated his audience to a masterly speech on the extent, diversity of soil and timber and the potential wealth of the vast hinterland of this province. The address was based largely on observations made and information gathered during the trip which the speaker made to Moose Factory on the Hudson Bay last autumn in company with Hon. Howard Ferguson, Premier of Ontario Lieut.-Governor Cockshutt, and Mr. Geo. Lee, Chairman of the T. N. O. Railway Commission.

Before addressing himself to the subject matter of his speech, Dr. Cody referred briefly to the influence which Ontario has exerted on the rest of Canada and particularly on the West. He attributed the strong British sentiment of the people of this province to the settlement in the first place by the U. E. Loyalists, then to the settlement in the province of many British officers and soldiers at the close of the Napoleonic wars and lastly to the successive migrations of people from the British Isles. In some quarters there had been a disposition at times to ridicule the loyalty of the people of Ontario. It has been charged that the people of Ontario are more British than the British. If such was the case "let it be so." The trip north last autumn was conceived by Lieutenant Governor Cockshutt and one of its objects was to convey greetings to Moose Factory, which had never before been visited by the Premier and the Lieutenant Governor of Ontario. In passing Dr. Cody made the interesting statement that Moose Factory is the oldest British settlement in Ontario, antedating by a year the fort which Frontenac built at Kingston in 1671. Until the advent of the aerial navigation and the hydroplane, this out-of-the-way post was visited very infrequently from the outside world and its inhabitants received perhaps four mails in the year. Setting forth the stages of the trip north and home again, Dr. Cody told his audience that his party had travelled by practically every means of locomotion employed in Canada—automobile steam railway, on foot, by canoe, by hydroplane and also by farm wagon. At Cochrane they were transferred to a construction train, on which they journeyed 45 miles north to the second crossing of the Abitibi. Here the party were obliged to travel on foot for a mile or more over a rough bush trail, after night and in the rain, in order to reach the engineer's camp, that was to be their stopping place over night. From this place to Moose Factory they journeyed down the Abitibi river in six large canoes, the trip occupying between five and six days. From Moose Factory the return trip was made by hydroplane to West Lake, 55 miles west of Cochrane, thence by farmer's wagon to the main line of the Transcontinental and then by rail to Toronto in such good time that the travellers breakfasted in Moose Factory one morning and in Toronto the next.

Dr. Cody spoke interestingly of the different zones encountered on the way north, first the silt of old Ontario, then the rock and forest of Northern Ontario encountered where the traveller enters the Laurentian country a short distance north of Orillia. North of this came the great clay belt of some 17,000,000 acres of good, arable land, lying in a latitude south of the latitude of Winnipeg. At Englehart the party stopped to assist at the laying of the corner stone of a new town hall and here they saw strawberries ripened in the month of September, selling on the market at 30c a box. Dr. Cody also told of seeing chrysanthemums grown and matured in the north. These he described as the equal of any he had seen anywhere. Impressive indeed was the speaker's description of the family worship in the engineer's residence at the Abitibi Crossing, where the only woman in the party and in fact the only white woman in the place was the engineer's wife. Earnest tribute was paid to the singleness of purpose of the Lieutenant Governor and his services to the people of Ontario. Mr. Cockshutt, Dr. Cody stated, had insisted that the party hold famly worship wherever they camped for the night. Beyond the clay belt lay the northern Laurentian escarpment and from that to Hudson Bay extended a country of muskeg and comparatively little timber. In the north where steel had not yet penetrated, the rivers were the great arteries of the life of the country. People in old Ontario had only a vague idea of the size and grandeur of these great drainage rivers of the north. They differed from other rivers in the fact that they have comparatively few tributaries. The Indians of the north country are marvellous navigators in the canoe and seem to have an almost uncanny knowledge of the whereabouts of rocks and other danger spots in the rapids. Instances were given of the skill and courage of the redmen in rapid running. Dr. Cody also gave a graphic portrayal of the excitement of running the rapids. At the Laurentian escarpment the Abitibi makes its way through the rock barrier by means of a great canyon some three miles in length. Here within a comparatively short distance, engineers had stated that an electrical development of 500,000 horsepower was practicable. The party were given a royal greeting when they reached Moose Factory, the entire population of some 125 souls being at the dock to bid them welcome. The place was gaily decorated and two old Red River cannon were pressed into service to fire a salute in honor of the visitors. After describing the festivities and social functions that followed their arrival, Dr. Cody told his hearers something of the work of the sole missionary in the place and stated that he had the profoundest respect for the missionaries who labored and spent their lives in these outposts of civilization. At the time of their visit there was no doctor on the whole Hudson Bay shore, but he was pleased to state that Premier Ferguson had since arranged for the support of a doctor as well as a nurse and sanitary inspector, so that the physical needs and health of the people of the Hudson Bay posts would now be much better cared for. Dealing with the soil and physical characteristics of the country immediately south of Hudson Bay, Dr. Cody stated that seventy-five per cent. of the great coastal plain of the Bay is muskeg.

The speaker closed his interesting address with a brief statement of a number of broad deductions. These were:—

1. The vast extent of New Ontario—700 miles from Moose Factory to Toronto and 1000 miles from Kenora to Ottawa. Old Ontario is not much more than one-sixth of the area of the whole of Ontario.

2. New Ontario is in great part wonderfully rich in raw materials and natural resources.

3. The north country is wonderfully rich in raw materials. It has perhaps the largest forest reserve in North America, its clay belt contains great agricultural possibilities and it was impossible to predict the extent of the hidden mineral wealth of the country. Dr. Cody told his audience that no class could profit by the depression of another class. Interests of all classes of people in the Province were allied and interdependent. The north country had an industrial future and there was bound to be a tremendous mineral development in the years to come. In connection with mining, it was pointed out that 85 per cent. of the output of the mines was spent on labor, supplies and machinery. Reference was also made to the power possibilities of the north. Dr. Cody spoke with admiration of the courageous pioneer spirit of the north the boundless optimism and the boundless faith, the integrity, the intelligence and the industry of its people. Concluding with an appeal for the best in ictizenship and a strong faith in the future of this great province despite present time discouragements and drawbacks.

Following his address, which closed to the accompaniment of prolonged applause, Dr. Cody was tendered the hearty thanks of his audience upon motion of Rev. F. W Mahaffy, seconded by Principal Hackett.

The address was given under the auspices of the Orangeville Boy Scouts. In his introductory remarks Dr. Cody paid a high tribute to the Scout movement, stating that there has been no finer organization in modern times for capturing the interest and enthusiasm of the boys. Rev. J. W. McDonald, local Scoutmaster, occupied the chair, and with him on the platform was Mr. C. R. McKeown, M. P., who, in a brief speech, eulogized the ability and great services of Dr. Cody. Mr. McKeown also expressed the pride he felt at being able to number Dr. Cody as one of his former classmates. A short musical programme was provided by Hulse's orchestra.

A PRESENTATION

(Intended for last week)

On Wednesday evening, April 9 a number of the friends and neighbors of Mr. Armour Hammond, lot 29, con. 8, Amaranth, assembled at his home and presented him with an address and a club bag, prior to his departure for Indian Head, Sask. The address read as follows:—

Dear Armour,—

To-night were are assembled as before,
On the eve of your departure from our shore;
We fain would keep you, but you will not stay,
And that is why we're gathered here to-day.

This is the land of your nativity,
The far-famed North, where grows the maple tree;
Though other lands may claim you, still we know,
Your thoughts will wander back to old Ontario.

This little token we would give to you,
To show we'll miss you and that friends are true;
The gift is simple, but it will convey
The sentiments we entertain to-day.

And when the Western sun sheds its bright rays,
We hope you will think of other days;
And when some future day you may return,
You'll find us waiting for you at Shelburne.

Signed on behalf of your friends and neighbors,

JOE. ETCHEE,
GEORGE SCOTT.

Mr. Hammond replied in a few well-chosen words, thanking his friends and neighbors for remembering him so kindly, and assuring them that wherever his lot may be cast he would always remember his early associations. Lunch was then served and the remainder of the evening was spent in various amusements.

CALEDON

Our village is very quiet now as seeding is the order of the day.

We heartily welcome Mr. and Mrs. D. J. McKim and family to their old home again and wish they may long remain with us.

Knox Presbyterian Church is undergoing repairs.

The Junior Farmers' Institute intend putting on a good Play entitled "Back to the Farm" in the Caledon Town Hall on Tuesday night, May 13th.

Many of our farmers are well along toward the finish with their seeding operations. They say the land is working up fine.

Remember the 13th of May and come to Caledon to hear and see "Back to the Farm," presented by the J. F. I. A. and the J. W. I. A. The play is very true to life. It is presented in three acts and the time taken is about two hours.

The players of "Valley Farm" went to Inglewood last Friday night and gave their Play to a large crowd. They are going to Mono Mills on the 16th, and we understand they have a call from Cheltenham for the 23rd of May. "Valley Farm" is a clean Play that takes well with the people and the players are receiving congratulations on every side.

We are glad to report the improvement in the condition of Mrs. Morris and hope to see her about again shortly.

We are sorry that ex-Warden Limebeer is not gaining in the way that his friends would like to see him.

CONNOR ORGANIZES

Lacrosse seems to have taken firm root in Connor and neighborhood. The Adjala burg has had a team for a couple of seasons now, and this year the boys are going to place two teams in the field. The intermediates will probably enter the Northern Peel League, in which they figured last year, and should make a good showing as they have a number of new players and expect to line up a much stronger team this season. At a largely attended meeting in the Connor hall one night recently officers were elected as follows:—

President, Henry Sirr; Vice-President, Harry Baxter; Manager, Milton J. Leggett; Captain, Clarence Baxter; Secretary, A. Marshall; Treasurer, James Baxter; Team Committee, Ray Leggett, A. Marshall, Melville Baxter; Field Committee, Melvile Baxter; Stanley Thompson and Hugh Lee.

The Juniors, who also intend to place a team in the field, met separately and elected the following officers:—President, Milton J. Leggett; Vice-President, A. Marshall; Manager, Fred Baxter; Captain Garnet Ward; Secretary, Stanford Sirr; Treasurer, Mack Leggett; Team Committee, John Carnegie, Goldie McCulloch, Thos. H. Robbins; Field Committee, Ross McKenzie, Linden Lee and Louis Ward.

Here and There

Commencing April 15th, the Canadian Pacific Railway, having in mind the expressed wishes of the majority of its patrons, has decided to revert to the custom of permitting no smoking in observation cars of its transcontinental trains.

The production of steel ingots and castings in Canada during the month of February amounted to 70,953 tons, an advance of 72 per cent over the 41,309 tons produced in January. The increase was almost wholly accounted for by the rise in the quantity of open-hearth basic steel ingots made for the use of producers.

Canadian farm products exported to the United States during February totalled $2,440,203, an increase of $961,579 over February last year, according to a report published by the Bureau of Statistics. Wheat exports to the United States were valued at $101,714 in February, as against $25,157 in February of the previous year.

Under the agreement with the Imperial Government under the Empire Settlement Act, Canada, spent $39,657 in assisted passages for some 2,653 British immigrants in the fiscal year just closed. In the past four years the Dominion Government has spent nearly $1,500,000 in promoting immigration from Great Britain to Canada.

By arrangements made by Hon. George Headley, Minister of Agriculture, a trial shipment of cows and steers will be made in the near future to Japan for the purpose of testing out the possibilities of a market for Alberta's livestock in that country. It is also the purpose of the department to send with the shipment a qualified investigator who will look into the potentialities of a market for all Albertan farm products.

For the first time in the past two or three years the Saskatchewan Co-operative Creameries Limited is shipping butter in carload lots direct to the cities of the United States. A carload shipment was recently made from Saskatoon to Philadelphia. Two carloads were also shipped to Chicago, where they realized good prices. Each car contained between 25,000 and 30,000 pounds of Saskatchewan butter.

Speaking at Quebec recently, E. W. Beatty, President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, summarized the magnitude of the operations of the Company. It has 15,000 miles of railway in Canada and controls 5,102 miles in the United States. It owns and operates telegraph and express systems, 13 hotels, 15 bungalow camps and rest houses, and has in commission on the Atlantic and Pacific, Canadian lakes and the British Columbia coast, [illegible] aggregating approximately [illegible] gross tons. Its personnel numbers with [illegible] from 65,000 to 100,000 [illegible] all branches of the service.

What must constitute a [illegible] the rapid handling of an [illegible] consignment from the Orient was established recently by the Canadian Pacific Railway when shipping a quantity of silk from Yokohama to New York. The consignment, which was the largest forwarded from Asia since the recent slump in the silk market, left Yokohama on March 22nd on the Canadian Pacific steamer "Empress of Asia." Specially stowed for prompt discharge on arrival at Vancouver, the shipment was so rapidly transferred to the waiting train that only 13½ minutes per car lapsed between the docking of the ship and the departure of the fast freight and delivery was made at New York at midnight April 4th, the through time from Yokohama to New York being but 13 days, 8 hours and 13 minutes, calendar time.

Bidding was spirited and Mr. Jenkins disposed of everything put up for sale at satisfactory prices. A matched team of mares was knocked down to Brown Bros., of Norval, for $400 and a self-binder brought over $200. Altogether the sale realized $3000. Mr. J. A. Martin, of Inglewood, handled the sale with ability and good judgment. John Speers, of Brampton, officiated as clerk.

LORD DUFFERIN HOSPITAL

Incorporated Under Act Passed at Recent Session of Legislature.

(Intended for last week)

Among the Acts of the Legislature passed during the recent session was one of special interest to the people of this community, marking, as it did, the successful culmination of many years of unremitting effort and unselfish devotion to the public good on the part of Lord Dufferin Chapter, I. O. D. E. We refer to the Act incorporating Lord Dufferin Hospital, which was one of the measures assented to by the Acting Lieutenant Governor a few days ago.

It will be recalled that fifteen or sixteen years ago, there was much discussion of the proposal to establish a hospital in Orangeville. But while almost everyone approved, if some one else would do it, the male portion of the community generally regarded the idea as impracticable and the leading citizens of that day failed to give a lead in that direction. It remained for the women to determine that the idea should be carried out. They organized themselves into the Lord Dufferin Chapter of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, and, while not neglecting the patriotic and national aims of that splendid organization, they took the hospital project specially under their wing. Through their efforts, sufficient money was raised to purchase and equip a building, and Lord Dufferin Hospital was opened in a small way on October 2nd, 1912. The response of the public was immediate and showed that the ladies had not misjudged the needs of the locality, and almost from the first the institution had all the patients it could care for and proved itself largely self-sustaining. There was an insistent demand, however, for further and better accommodation and improved equipment, and the ladies redoubled their efforts to meet these growing requirements. Finally, with the assistance of the town, which gave $15,000, and the county, as well as some private donors, a new wing was erected and equipped last year, at a cost of over $30,000, and the Hospital became reasonably adequate for the needs of the community.

This accomplished, the ladies set themselves to devise some practical system of government which would ensure the permanence of the institution and its efficient administration. The plan adopted was, to appoint a governing body styled the Board of Directors and to convey the hospital property to them by a trust deed, setting forth in detail the purposes of the trust, the constitution and organization of the Board and their duties and powers in the government and administration of the Hospital. Application was then made by the Board, with approval of the Chapter, for a special Act of the Legislature, incorporating the Hospital and confirming the Trust Deed. This Act received the Royal assent a few days ago and became part of the statute law of the Province.

The Trust Deed and Act of Incorporation were drafted by Lt.-Col. J. A. V. Preston, revised and approved by Lord Dufferin Chapter and piloted through the Legislature by Mr. C. R. McKeown, K. C., M.P.P.

The Board of Directors is composed of nine members, of whom the Warden of the County of Dufferin and the Mayor and Reeve of the town of Orangeville are ex-officio three, and the remaining six are appointed by the Lord Dufferin Chapter, I. O. D. E., and hold office for three years each, two Directors retiring and two new Directors being appointed in their place annually, in case the Chapter should cease to function, or should fail to appoint Directors, that duty devolves on the municipal council of the town of Orangeville.

Thus, while the ladies to whom we already owe so much will continue to devote themselves to the Hospital as before, and will, very properly, control it by appointing the majority of the Directors, who will relieve them of much of the burden of administration, they have ensured the permanence of the institution as a public hospital for the benefit of the town and district, by having incorporated as a distinct and separate legal body, and by providing in effect that, in the event of their demise as a Chapter (which we all trust will never happen), the Hospital shall remain as a legacy from them to the public, and the Town Council shall be charged thereafter with the duty of appointing Directors, without, however, incurring pecuniary liability except such as they shall voluntarily assume.

The ladies have also endeavored to appoint a representative Board which will command the confidence of the public and afford the best evidence of their unselfish devotion to the general good. The present Board is composed of the following ladies and gentlemen: James Henderson, Esq., Terra Nova, Warden of the County of Dufferin; C. V. Jeffers, Esq., Mayor of Orangeville W. J. Gillespie, Esq., Reeve of Orangeville; Mrs. W. E. Irvine, Mrs. J. E. Smith, Miss Clara Hulse, James F. McDonald, Esq., Reeve of Caledon; S. H. Rutledge, Esq., and Lt.-Col. J. A. V. Preston.

Colonel Preston is the present Chairman of the Board and Miss Clara Hulse the Secretary-Treasurer, and the Board meets on the third Friday of every month, for the transaction of hospital business. Miss M. E. Barclay continues as Superintendent of the Hospital, a post which she has filled very successfully for more than eleven years.

The Hospital is now an institution of twenty beds or more, and is well equipped to serve all sorts and conditions of suffering humanity. A few of its principal features are, a well equipped operating room, an electric sterilizer, a diet kitchen nursery, elevator, modern sanitary conveniences, electric lighting and hot water heating throughout.

The scale of charges has been revised with a view of adapting it to the needs of all classes of the public, and the following outline of accommodation available and the cost of the same to patients, including board and attendance, may be of general interest:—

Five beds, besides nursery cots, at $10.50 per week; 3 beds at $12.50 per week; 3 beds at $15 per week 3 private rooms at $20 per week 5 private rooms at $25 per week for the first two weeks and $20 per week thereafter; maternity cases $50 for two weeks; use of operating room $10 for major and $5 for minor operations.

Lord Dufferin Hospital, in short, is a public institution, under government inspecton, which exists for the service of all who need it, and its sole aim is to render that service as efficiently and economically as possible, and to deserve the confidence of the public it serves. It confidently relies on the generous and whole-hearted support of the people of Orangeville and the surrounding municipalities.

"Was Freed of Gall Stones And Persistent Backache"

Mr. Alexander Bradley, R.R. No. 1, Carp, Ont., writes:

"I suffered from gall stones, and commenced taking Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I feel safe in saying that these pills completely overcame the trouble, as it is some years since I was afflicted in this way, and I have not suffered from gall stones or even backache since. I have also found Dr. Chase's Nerve Food excellent for heart trouble and shortness of breath."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills

Of the 39 cases of smallpox reported in Windsor and vicinity during the recent epidemic, a large proportion of unsuccessfully vaccinated victims died.

An exciting runaway took place in Mount Forest the other morning. The tongue dropped out of a wagon driven by Charles Pride, son of Mr. David Pride, of Proton, and the team ran away. The driver was thrown out and received such injuries to his head and arm as to be taken to the hospital, but after treatment was able to go home that evening. The horses broke loose from the wagon. One of them broke down a fence, the other injured the Baptist Church steps, but both were caught before doing more serious harm.

CLAUDE LIBRARY

After an existence of fifty years Claude Public Library is to have a new home. Started a half century ago through the efforts of Dr. Chas. Robinson, Rev. R. Douglas Fraser, William Algie and John Smith, the library has grown steadily as new volumes were added to its shelves from time to time. From the first it found a home in the dwelling of Dr. Charles Robinson at Claude and there for half a century book lovers have gone to secure their treasures. Now it has been found no longer practicable to have the library remain in a private house and the directors have decided to erect a library building. Edward Smith has donated a piece of land on the corner of 32nd sideroad, and here a $500 frame building will be erected. As a nucleus for the building fund the directors are asking for $200 in cash, so that they may commence building operations forthwith. The members of the present Library Board are: President, Dr. P. W Spence; Vice-President, Mrs. H. Caslor; Secretary-Treasurer, Wm Barrett; Directors, R. Wanless, Alex Watt, Alf. Russell, C. Clark, P. McLeod and E. Barker.

W. C. T. U.

(Intended for last week)

The W. C. T. U. held a very successful parlor meeting in the basement of St. Andrew's Church on the evening of April 30th. There was a large attendance, and every one felt benefitted in listening to the excellent program given. Miss Bell, the President, occupied the chair. The devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. Mr. Mahaffy, who also gave a short talk and welcomed the ladies to St. Andrew's.

Two exercises were conducted, one by Miss Bell on "Our Missionary and Historical Work," and one by Mrs. Partridge on "The O. T. A. as Compared with Government Control in Quebec."

The talk of the evening by Mrs. Mahaffy on "The Liquor Law in the Province of Quebec" was very illuminating. Under this law the Government controls all sales of acoholic beverages and there is unrestricted beer and wine. The liquor business is in the hands of a commission of five members, who are paid salaries and are supposed not to have any interest in the sale. All hard liquors and wines are sold by the commission in its own stores. Any person may buy there an unlimited quantity of wine, but he can buy only one bottle at a time of hard liquor and he must drink it elsewhere.

The brewers may sell beer only to retailers who hold permits from the commission and they pay 6 per cent. commission on their sales. These retailers must sell only to customers sitting down at tables. This gives the brewers and Government a chance to say that saloons and bars have been abolished, but the results of the new method are even worse than the old, for a man sitting down comfortably at a table will stay longer and drink more.

Gradually the friendly commission allowed the drinking houses to stay open later and later, until now they are open till ten o'clock and sometimes until midnight. At first the beer and wine contained only a small percentage of alcohol, but this has been gradually increased and now the beer contains from 10 to 12 per cent., while the light wine is fortified with 15 per cent. or more of alcohol.

Also there was to be no advertising, yet everywhere in Quebec there is persistent and clever advertising. Grocery windows are filled with beer, signs protrude over the sidewalks, such as "Bracing tonic for weak women; "Beer will give vigor;" "Beer is the best thing to lift up, brace up, build up." And worst of all the children of Quebec are learning to drink beer. How would we, in Ontario, like such conditions? A prominent Catholic priest says "The Government has become a saloon keeper."

The Government is anxious to make it appear that the law is a beneficial one, so the officials who make arrests for drunkenness never arrest a man as long as he is able to walk. Yet 12,048 arrests were made in Montreal in the last two years for drunkenness.

Oliver Dawson, a well-known worker among boys of the poor class and for seven years clerk of the Juvenile Court, says, "I have seen 15,000 boys pass through the Juvenile Court and drink is the cause of nine tenths of it."

Montreal has a red light district covering many blocks, with 3000 girls and women, which would cease to exist if liquor were taken away; also the sale of narcotics is increasing. In 1921 the courts handled 552 cases of violation of the narcotic drug law, but in 1922 they handled 1000, almost twice as many. Montreal has 307 places where men and women can sit and drink beer. A newspaper man says he saw 100 men drunk before midnight and a newspaper woman reported having seen 1000 women drunk in such places.

The women in Quebec have not the vote, but the women in Ontario have, and by earnest work can accomplish much.

The musical part of the program consisted of the following numbers: A solo by Mrs. Passmore, a duet by Mrs. Green and Mrs. Kearns, a solo by Miss Darraugh and a piano duet by Marion Kearns and Muriel Saul After the program a pleasant social hour was enjoyed by all. While the refreshments were being served Misses Ethel Trimble and Alice McGuire rendered very acceptable music.

PROTECTION FOR CREDITORS

Under the Bulk Sales Act it is now necessary to appoint a trustee to see that all claims against the business are settled out of the purchase money, otherwise the purchaser must assume responsibility for all unpaid accounts. The trustee advertises for accounts and arranges for their payment. The proceedings are much the same as in the case of winding up an estate and have nothing whatever to do with the bankruptcy act. The person selling the business may be perfectly solvent and prepared to meet all obligations and yet this procedure may be adopted. The Act is designed to circumvent the sort of people, who in the past have converted their stock into cash and departed, leaving creditors to whistle.

BY MOTOR AND PACK HORSE THROUGH CLOUD WONDERLAND

For the man or woman in search of healthful recreation, rest for jaded nerves, and a thoroughly enjoyable holiday, the world offers nothing more entrancing than a holiday in Jasper National Park, Canada's wonderland of scenery, where mountain, crag and torrent vie with one another in claiming the attention and where scenic nature is at her best. Towering peaks rise to the north, south, east and west; mirrored in the beauty of placid lakes whose shores provide shelter for the myriad wild life for which the largest of all Canada's National Parks is famous.

Whether the tourist goes sightseeing by motor car or by the more romantic pack pony, Jasper National Park offers him the best that can be found anywhere. Motor roads and pack trails radiate in every direction from Jasper Park Lodge, the magnificent log cabin hotel of the Canadian National Railways, and the tourist may engage either ponies and guides or an automobile, and thus see the mountains at his pleasure.

Mount Edith Cavell, named to honor the memory of Britain's heroic nurse, rises by the side of Mount Sorrow, within a short drive of the Lodge, and is one of the favorite drives of visitors to the Lodge. The Cavell highway, smooth-surfaced, winds up toward the very foot of the Ghost Glacier, presenting to the visitor a new vista of scenic wonders at every turn. As one rides toward the foot of the glacier, the Athabasca Valley far beneath presents an attractive picture of calm loveliness, while here and there a lake, reflecting blue sky and sunshine, adds its touch to the beauty of the landscape. There are other drives which may be taken in comfort—one may go in an hour, for instance, to the wonderful Maligne Canyon, one of the natural wonders of the entire Rocky Mountain region, where rushing waters go tumbling and boiling through a narrow aperture worn in the rock, two hundred feet below the feet of the tourist as he or she stands on one of the footbridges which span its narrow width. At any turn of the road the visitor may find himself face to face with a bear or a deer, walking calmly across the highway, while on the sides of the mountains he may see mountain sheep or goats grazing.

The tourist to whom riding appeals will find plenty to hold his attention. Pack trails may be followed for miles. When in the company of an efficient guide, one may set forth to explore regions which are beyond the reach of the motor tourist. The wondrous Maligne Lake and Medicine Lake, with their quota of mountains reaching down almost to the water's edge, draw more and more tourists every year.

For years the wonder of Canada's National Parks have been better known outside of Canada than they have been to Canadians, but year by year Canadians themselves are realizing that they have, in their own country, scenic attractions which are not surpassed anywhere in the world, and consequently the number of Canadians registering at Jasper Park Lodge is showing remarkable increases. Comfortable, steam-heated cabins are provided for their accommodation, an excellent cuisine is maintained at the main Lodge, where surroundings and service are of the world-famous Canadian National Railways standard, and every care is taken to see that visitors to Canada's largest and finest National Park enjoy their outing to the full. Satisfaction is the keynote of the service.

Douglas Adamson Had Narrow Majority of 6 Votes for Mayor of Orangeville Boys' Council

The 1924 election of members of the Orangeville Boys' Council was held on Saturday afternoon, polling taking place in the Public Library between the hours of one and five o'clock. There was a keen contest for all offices, except that of Reeve, which was filled by acclamation. The race for Mayor was very close, Douglas Adamson, the winner, having a scant margin of six votes over his opponent, Russell McGillivray. The candidates are popular young men and each of them had a strong following of active supporters. James Marshall, of last year's Council, won in the fight for Deputy-Reeve, largely because of his energy and ability as a canvasser. He was opposed by Percy Byers and had a majority of 24 votes. Marvin Craig, son of Mr. W. L. Craig, publisher of the Grand Valley Star & Vidette, headed the poll for Councillor and was followed by Lloyd Davison. Earl Hepton and Cecil Smith tied for the next two places, Boris Parkinson ran fifth and Jamieson Anderson captured the last seat, having a lead of one vote over Morley McLean. Details of the election follow:—

Mayor

Douglas Adamson	71
Russell McGillivray	65
Majority for Adamson	6

Reeve

Norris Hughes (accl.)

Deputy-Reeve

James Marshall	82
Percy Byers	58
Majority for Marshall	24

Councillors

Marvin Craig	90
Lloyd Davison	81
Earl Hepton	79
Cecil Smith	79
Boris Parkinson	73
Jamieson Anderson	71
Morley McLean	70
Donald Watt	65
Ross Robertson	57
Gordon Smith	28
Billie McConnell	17
Sidney Jessop	14
Teddy Mahaffy	14

The boys had the usual jubilation and serenade of the winners following the election. The night, however, passed off much more quietly than last year, when the elements were more favorable. The downpour of rain Saturday night made it difficult to create much enthusiasm out-of-doors.

ALTON

Disciples of Izaak Walton are busy angling in the Credit these days. Mr James Barber caught a fine trout, weighing 2½ lbs., in the Knitting Mill dam.

Mothers' Day will be observed in our churches on Sunday next. In the Methodist Church a male choir will sing and Dr. Calldwell will preach on "The Nobility of a Faithful Mother."

People are looking for a continuation of the grading and gravelling of the road between the Old Tannery and the Adams hill. The road from the 2nd line to Melville is also in need of work and should be widened in places.

The Church Union bill and the tariff budget at Ottawa are great topics of discussion here just now.

GEORGE ELLIS

The death of George Ellis, a one-time resident of this neighborhood occurred at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Fred Anderson, of Kinistino, Sask., on April 25th. Deceased was born on September 29th, 1829 and had therefore reached the unusual age of 95 years. The late Mr Ellis was a brother of the late Samuel and J. J. Ellis, of Orangeville and an uncle of John Ellis, Centre Road, Caledon. He was a widower and is survived by a family of married sons and daughters, residing in the West. Interment took place at Kinistino on Sunday, April 27th.

MRS. D. E. TAYLOR

After a lengthy illness, Mrs. Daniel E. Taylor passed to the great unknown at the home of her son-in-law, Mr. John Hillis, East Garafraxa, shortly before one o'clock on Monday morning. Her maiden name was Margaret Jane Embree, and she was born in West Garafraxa sixty years ago. In 1883 she married Daniel E. Taylor, the young couple settling on lot 28, con. 1, East Luther, where they prospered till 1918, when the great call of the West attracted their interests. Mr. Taylor's health failed in 1922, and he passed away after a very short illness, when Mrs. Taylor returned east. She was much beloved by her family, highly esteemed among her acquaintances, and for many years was a devoted member of the Latter Day Saints. She is survived by four children, Mrs. John Hillis, of East Garafraxa; Mrs. Thos. O. East, of Amaranth; Mrs. John Ewing, of Amaranth, and Stanley, of Battleford, Sask. The funeral took place on Tuesday to the Union Cemetery, and was largely attended, the services being conducted by Elder John H. Taylor.—Star & Vidette.

MR. CAPPS' RECITAL

Between three and four hundred people heard and keenly enjoyed the recital given in the Opera House on Tuesday night by the pupils of Mr. W. Edmund Capps, musical instructor in the Orangeville High and Public Schools. The programme was of a high order throughout and would not suffer by comparison with the programmes usually provided by professional entertainers. The assisting artists were Miss Edna Davies a gifted Toronto violiniste, and a gold medalist several times over Mrs. Richenbotham, an elocutionist of real ability, and Mrs. Broadus Farmer, whose artistic work as accompanist caused much favorable comment. Miss Davies' numbers were given a very appreciative hearing and the charming artist was heartily encored. Mrs. Rickenbotham was also warmly encored and was generous with her responses. Mr. Capps, who was given an enthusiastic reception, was in fine voice in his solos, "Roses of Picardy" and "Songs of Araby." He was also heard with real pleasure in the duets, "Battle Eve" with Mr. C. Cox and "When We're Together," with Mrs. C. E. Hanley. Mrs. Hanley's rendition of the solo, "A Rose and a Song," was very fine, the richness of her full, contralto voice being a revelation to friends in the audience who have not heard her sing for some time. Two of the popular numbers of the evening were Mr. Cox's solos, "Three Fishers" and the encore number, "Vagabond." Friends of Miss M. Francis, of Brampton formerly of Orangeville, were genuinely pleased with her rendering of the song, "A Dream," her voice revealing unsuspected power and sweetness. The other numbers were the songs, "Smile Through Your Tears," by Miss Alice Webb, "Heart o' Mine" by Miss Lang, of the Public School staff, "Shipmates O Mine" by Mr. Douglas Adamson, "It Winter Comes" by Miss Nan Marshall, and "All for You," by Mr. Waldo Dorrington, of Alton. It is no more than mere justice to these younger artists, several of whom were making practically their first public appearance, to say that they acquitted themselves in a most creditable manner. At the close of the program Mr. Capps was heartily congratulated by many of his audience upon the success of his first Orangeville Recital.

BENNINGTON–MAGUIRE

At the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. F. MaGuire, Main Street, Shelburne, on Tuesday afternoon, April 29th, the marriage took place of Mr. William Bennington and Miss Beulah Elizabeth Agnes McGuire. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. H. Hartley, under an arch of evergreens, in the presence of forty of the immediate friends and relatives of the contracting parties. The bride's dress was white crepe de chine, with overdress of radium lace and veil of orange blossoms. She was attended by two little flower girls—her sister, Muriel, and the groom's niece, Jean Bennington, dressed in pink. The wedding march was played by Miss Rhoda Little, cousin of the bride. The groom's gift to the bride was a white gold wrist watch, to the pianist a ring, and to the flower girls fancy bar pins. The bride was the recipient of many handsome and costly presents, including cheques. After the wedding breakfast the newly married couple left for Toronto, Hamilton and Guelph, the bride travelling in a suit of navy blue tricotine, with hat and platinum fox fur. Mr. and Mrs. Bennington will reside in Fergus where Mr. Bennington has purchased a butcher shop.—Economist.

Last week the Shelburne Free Press entered on its fiftieth year of its existence. Since its first appearance on May 6th, 1875, the Free Press has enjoyed a steadily growing business. Under the direction of the present editor and publisher, Mr. "Sammy" Landsborough, our cotemporary is showing enterprise and an evident determination to keep fully abreast of the times. We wish the Free Press and Mr. Landsborough every success in the future.

Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Hackett, of Rockley, left on Tuesday night for Deloraine, Man., where the Dr. has a large section of land, which has come back on his hands through the default of the purchaser. The Dr. intends to put in the seeding and unless he disposes of the property in the meantime will also take off the harvest. This means that he will probably be in the West the greater part of the summer. Dr. and Mrs. Hackett will be greatly missed by a legion of friends in the Rockley neighborhood.

—Next Sunday will be Mothers' Day and will be observed in the local churches.

—According to Assessor Hayes' returns there are 86 dogs owned in the town of Orangeville.

—Laurel Lacrosse Club Dance in the Town Hall at Laurel on Friday night of this week. Gentlemen, $1.00.

—Burns' Presbyterian Church, Mono Centre, will hold its annual Victoria Day Picnic on May 24th. Particulars later.

—The members of Dufferin Masonic Lodge, Toronto, will make their annual visit to Harris Lodge, Orangeville, on Tuesday night May 13th.

—Rev. F. W. Mahaffy goes to Alvinston on Sunday to take part in the golden jubilee services of Guthrie Church, his first charge after entering the ministry. It is expected that Rev. J. R. Bell, formerly of Laurel, will take the services in St. Andrew's.

—Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Glassford moved to their new home in Brampton on Friday last. They were excellent neighbors and citizens, and the community in which they resided loses much by their departure. The best wishes of all their friends and neighbors follow them to their new home.

—Locan fishermen had fairly good luck on May 1st, notwithstanding the chilliness of the weather. Ex-Postmaster John Park is credited with the best trout catch at Caledon Lake. He brought home 17, three of the string averaging a pound each. Detective Joe Rodgers of Toronto, caught the largest trout of the day—7¼ lbs.—and generously presented the big fellow to ex-Mayor Johnston Lindsay, one of our oldest citizens.

—Among the names appearing in the honor lists of the Faculty of Applied Science was that of Lieut. J. J. Magill, of Brampton, a brother of Mrs. A. W. Dods, West Broadway, who has been successful in passing his second year examinations in the mechanical engineering course. Lieut. Magill enlisted for overseas service after commencing his course, and served for a considerable time in the Royal Flying Corps. The three years interruption of his studies makes his success all the more creditable and he is deservedly receiving the hearty congratulations of his friends.

—An automobile owner, keen on saving gas, installed a new carburetor, which was guaranteed to save 20 per cent. on fuel. Next he put in special spark plugs, guaranteed to save another 20 per cent., also an intake super heater that was guaranteed to save 20 per cent. His next purchase was a patented rear axle to save 20 per cent. Finally he put on oversize "cords" that promised a 20 per cent. saving on gasoline. Now with a saving of 100 per cent. on fuel the owner has to stop every hundred miles and bail out the gas tank to keep it from running over.

GIRLHOOD DANGERS

Can Be Avoided by Keeping the Blood Rich and Pure.

The anaemia of young girls may be inherited, or it may be caused by bad air, unsuitable food, hasty and irregular eating, insufficient outdoor exercise and not enough rest and sleep. It comes on gradually, beginning with languor, indisposition to exertion and a feeling of fatigue. Later comes palpitation of the heart and headaches. In the majority of cases constipation is present, and the complexion takes on a greenish-yellow pallor. The treatment is quite easy and simple. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are just the tonic to remedy this wretched state of health. They act directly upon the blood, and as it becomes rich and pure, the glow of health comes to the cheeks, and soon the trouble will disappear and good health follow. Miss Pearl Parks, R. R. No. 1, Reaboro, Ont., has proved the value of this medicine, and her statement will point the way to health to all other weak girls. She says:—"I was very ill with anaemia. I could not sleep at night; my appetite was poor, my face and lips were very pale and my eyes dull. I got so weak that I could not go upstairs without resting. I took dizzy and fainting spells, had no ambition whatever, and did not care to go about. I was in this condition for nearly a year. I had treatment from two doctors; but did not regain my strength, so my mother, who was very uneasy about me, decided I should try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After using the pills for a while I felt somewhat better, and continued taking them until I had used about a dozen boxes, when I was again well and strong. I can strongly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for the treatment of any suffering from anaemia."

You can get these Pills from any medicine dealer, or by mail, at 50 cents a box, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

"BACK TO THE FARM"

A Dramatic Club, composed of Caledon Junior Farmers and the members of the Caledon Junior Institute, will present the Play, "Back to the Farm," in the Town Hall, Caledon village, on Tuesday night May 13th. A strong cast has been secured for the Play, which will be staged under the capable direction of Miss McIntosh, of Brampton. A good deal of local interest is being taken in the production, which is sure to attract a large audience. Music will be provided by the Stubbs orchestra before and between Acts. Curtain at 8.15. Admission, 25c and 35c.

W. M. S. THANK-OFFERING

The W. M. S. of St. Andrew's Church will hold their Easter Thank-Offering meeting in the schoolroom of the church on Friday afternoon May 16th, commencing at 3 o'clock. Mrs. H. Mackenzie, of Toronto, will be the special speaker. All ladies are cordially invited to be present.

PLAY AT MONO MILLS

Mono Mills Preceptory, No. 297, Royal Black Knights, has arranged to have the Knox Church, Caledon, Dramatic Club present their Play, "Valley Farm," in the Anglican Church Hall at Mono Mills on Friday night, May 16th. The Play, which has been given with great success in Caledon and elsewhere, will be staged under the direction of Rev. T. W. Mills. Caledon orchestra will provide music before and between acts. As presented by the Caledon amateurs "Valley Farm" carries a strong appeal and quickly enlists the interest and sympathies of an audience. Curtain rises at 8.30 Admission, 35c and 25c.

A SPLENDID LAXATIVE FOR THE BABY

Mothers should constantly be on guard to keep baby's bowels working freely and his stomach sweet, for nine-tenths of the ailments from which little ones suffer are caused by derangements of the stomach and bowels. Baby's Own Tablets are a splendid laxative for the baby. They are mild but thorough; contain neither opiates nor narcotics, and are absolutely guaranteed to be safe and efficient for either the newborn babe or the growing child. By their action on the bowels and stomach they drive out constipation and indigestion; break up colds and simple fevers and make the dreaded teething period easy. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers, or by mail, at 25 cents a box, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

SENIORS GROUPED

The O. A. L. A. has decided on two groups for the senior teams. Each of the groups will consist of six teams. Groupings are as follows:—

Group 1—Brampton, Orangeville, Weston, Mimico, Irish-Canadians and Ottawa.

Group 2—Niagara Falls, St. Catharines, Hamilton, Torontos, Maitlands and St. Simons.

Travelling expenses will be comparatively light in both groups, as there will be no long trips, except to Ottawa. In the case of Ottawa we understand that the erpenses of the long jaunt east have been practically guaranteed by the Capital Club.

In the Intermediate series, Orangeville has been placed in Group 4 along with Elora, Fergus, Hespeler and Melancthon. Raspin Scott is the convener. Melancthon is a new entrant in the O. A. L. A. and their is much speculation in lacrosse circles as to the probable personnel of the team.

In the Juvenile series The Dufferins are placed in Group 11 with Alton and Elora. Bert Booth is the convener. Hespeler, Fergus and Orangeville form Group 6 in Midget series, Raspin Scott being the convener.

Made for finest laundering, you can use this soap for everything

These snowy, crinkly Palmolive PRINCESS SOAP FLAKES were made for laundering the sheerest, finest fabrics: silks, satins, chiffons, laces—lovely, expensive things.

For the foamy suds contains nothing that can possibly hurt the most fragile fabric, or dim the most delicate coloring. It actually lengthens the life of pretty, dainty things.

But—best of all—it can be used for laundering everything! Because it is economical. Being pure soap—nothing else—it actually goes farther. It saves all clothing. And it cleanses efficiently.

So it is ideal for the washing machine, or for any household purpose.

If only to try, get some today — from your dealer. He has them in handy, one-pound packages.

YOUNG DAUGHTER MADE WELL

Mother Tells How Her Daughter Suffered and Was Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Vancouver, B.C.—"My daughter is a young girl who has been having severe pains and weak and dizzy feelings for some time and had lost her appetite. Through an older daughter who had heard of a woman who was taking it for the same trouble, we were told of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My daughter has been taking it for several months and is quite all right now. It has done all it was represented to do and we have told a number of friends about it. I am never without a bottle of it in the house, for I myself take it for that weak, tired, worn-out feeling which sometimes comes to us all. I find it is building me up and I strongly recommend it to women who are suffering as I and my daughter have."—Mrs. J. McDONALD, 2947 26th Ave. East, Vancouver, B. C.

From the age of twelve a girl needs all the care a thoughtful mother can give. Many a woman has suffered years of pain and misery—the victim of thoughtlessness or ignorance of the mother who should have guided her during this time.

If she complains of headaches, pains in the back and lower limbs, or if you notice a slowness of thought, nervousness or irritability on the part of your daughter, make life easier for her.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is especially adapted for such conditions. C

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY

An Appeal in Behalf of Child Welfare.

The inborn tendency of true parenthood is to rear children, and to give to them the best parental care of which we are capable. This instinctive love is sometimes strongly inherent in homes where there are no children. Though often apparently lacking, it is, in reality, only dormant, and all that is needed, is a child to awaken it.

When we take into consideration the hundreds of deserted, homeless children, cared for annually, by our institutions, and at the same time, reflect that there are so many homes in every community that need this awakening, we can not but realize that it is our patriotic duty, as well as our God-given privilege and opportunity, to help these children to become useful and resourceful citizens.

Remembering, too, that these neglected and dependent children have the same capacity, the same requirements, physically, mentally and morally, as the little ones in our own homes, we, as professing Christians, cannot but feel our responsibility for them. We must foster, rear, and rule them by the same principles: goodness, wisdom and mercy, by and through which, we, ourselves, are governed.

In the work of child-saving, we well done, but through accomplishment, shall have the further comfort and satisfaction assured us in the words of our Saviour: "In as much as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto Me."

The Children's Aid Society of the County of Dufferin has several very desirable children for adoption—boys and girls—from 1 to 6 years of age. Those who are desirous of adopting children under the new Adoption Act, 1921, will be given every possible assistance upon applying to the local Superintendent at Orangeville. 'Phone 116, or address

WALDEMAR

(Intended for last week.)

Quite a number attended the Easter service here on Sunday night, and enjoyed the special music by the choir.

Miss Catherine and Walter McDowell spent the holidays with their parents.

Mr. Tony Grosskurth, of the Imperial Bank, Toronto, visited his father over the holiday.

Mrs. J. A. Lomas and daughter, Norma, spent last week in Toronto.

On Tuesday of last week the many friends of Mrs. J. Palmer (nee Zella McLeod), of Guelph, who was visiting her parents here, took the opportunity, by meeting at the home of Mrs. J. A. McLeod Jr. and presenting her with a surprise party and miscellaneous shower. The evening was very much enjoyed by all in music and dancing.

Miss Verna McFadzean visited her aunt, Mrs. J. McFadzean, of Arthur.

Mrs. Butler and daughter, Mable, of Milton, spent a week with Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Butler.

Miss Shaw spent the Easter vacation with her parents in Mt. Forest.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnston, of Gorrie, have been visiting their daughter, Mrs. Wilfred Gamble.

Mr. Vernon McColman, of Allenford, visited here over the week-end.

Mr. Earl Gamble, of the Imperial Bank staff at Fergus, spent Easter at his home.

Mrs. Kelcher and son, Jack, are visiting friends in Toronto.

We hope now that the roads are in better condition, to see a larger attendance at the young people's meeting held every Friday night in the church.

MELANCTHON STATION

Farmers are now starting their spring seeding, but the season is a backward one thus far. Fall wheat is looking well and the snowfall of last week will be very beneficial to it, if the weather comes in warm. Newly seeded clover fields are also quite promising.

Several in this locality made considerable maple syrup this season.

Mrs. Chas. O'Neill, of the corner store, who has been ill of late, is, we are pleased to report, improving.

Our local produce dealer, Mr. Abraham Katzman, spent a few days in Toronto this and last week.

Mr. Albert Sawden, of Caledon, visited friends here.

We are pleased to learn that both David Watson and Michael Colliton who have been ailing most of the past winter, are recovering.

There has been considerable sickness among the livestock in this neighborhood this spring. Dr. McKelvie, of Shelburne, has been kept busy.

Ernest Scott, who has been working among the farmers in this neighborhood, has returned to his home in Toronto.

We understand that Mr. Knowles of Winnipeg, will return to our burg and take up his residence here this spring.

Mrs. Sawden has engaged her brother, Wilfred Hammond, to work the Sawden homestead for the summer.

Miss Margaret O'Neill, of Toronto has been visiting at her home here.

Mr. Wm. Watson, of the Back Line, had an extensive auction sale last week, conducted by Hans Stevenson, the eloquent auctioneer of Melancthon. Mr. Watson has rented his farm.

Mr. James Hammond, of Mulmur, visited in this neighborhood a few days ago.

Our school has again opened after the Easter holidays with a good attendance under the able management of our popular teacher, Miss McCutcheon.

Rev. G. H. Pogson, B. A., pastor of the Gravel Road Church, is recovering from a severe attack of the "flu," which has been epidemic in the vicinity just north of here.

Mr. McMillan and party motored up from the city last Friday to see the S. Sawden farm, which Mr. McMillan recently purchased. We hope to soon have some new neighbors from our provincial metropolis.

Roads are drying up fast and motor traffic is increasing on the Provincial Highway.

Mr. James Carson is doing a lively business at his trade of making and repairing harness.

The recent death of Rev. Charles Langford in Toronto makes the second pastor of the Gravel Road Church, Melancthon, (Corbetton Circuit) who has died since the circuit was formed in 1888, the late Rev. Thomas Scott, M. A., who passed away in the West about three years ago, being the other. Mr. Scott was pastor here during the term 1894-1897. Rev. Mr. Langford was incumbent from 1904 to 1905. Rev. R. C. Burton, the first pastor on the circuit, is now superannuated in Toronto, as is also his predecessor, Dr. W. A. Strongman, (Dundalk circuit)

NO MORE PAINS IN HIS BACK

That's Why Manitoba Man Recommends Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Mr. Stephen Kozak Found Relief and Tells Other Sufferers to Use Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Ekno, Man., May 12th (Special) —"After I had used six boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills I felt no more pain in my back, and no unpleasant taste in my mouth in the mornings. This relief is due to Dodd's Kidney Pills."

This statement is made by Mr. Stephen Kozak, who lives in this place. He sends this as a guidance to other sufferers. There are two things certain in this world: one is that everybody is liable at some time or other to an attack of Kidney Trouble, the other is that Dodd's Kidney Pills relieve all forms of Kidney disease, such as Diabetes, Dropsy, Rheumatism, Bladder Troubles, Gravel and Urinary Disorders, even when other remedies have failed.

Every sufferer who tries Dodd's Kidney Pills is delighted with the comforting relief that they so quickly create. Thousands are buying and using them solely through the recommendation of their friends who first discovered their relieving and healing properties.

The Tara Leader has been 25 years under the present management. It was founded in 1881 by W. J. Whitlock, later was owned by Theo. Hall, who sold to J. E. Hammond, from whom W. A. VanDusen purchased it in 1892. The Leader is a decidedly clean, neatly printed paper, and an honor to the village which it serves.

Mr. Geo. Ross, trouble finder on the Osprey Telephone system, had a narrow escape from serious injury in a fall from a thirty foot telephone pole, when a wire he was tightening broke and he came down to the ground. The small bones in his ankle were broken and his back was also severely injured.

While assisting Mr. Arrowsmith at timber, the axe, which Mr. Percy Hunt, of Ceylon, was using, glanced across the foot, cutting the big toe severely to the bone. The doctor had to dress the wound with seven stitches. This will lay Mr. Hunt up for a time.

Curly McIntosh, a Hydro-Electric lineman, was badly burned on both hands at Meaford, and the town was without electric light service for half an hour while he was being extricated from the wires and lowered to the ground. The system at that place is under reconstruction, and this is the first bad injury any of the men have suffered.

The latest sport among the farmers' clubs of Halton County is the sparrow hunt. During the past four weeks the members of the Ash Grove Farmers' Club have shot over one thousand English sparrows. The club chooses sides and the losers furnish the lunch. The English sparrows have increased in numbers in Halton County during the past few years and the farmers have decided to wage war on these birds which are considered a great pest.

Mr. J. Fidler, of Tara, returned soldier, has been appointed turnkey of Bruce County gaol, Walkerton.

Mr. George Tough, one of the oldest residents and business men in Grand Valley, has been confined to his house for over a week, with a rather severe illness.

Rev. George H. Luxton, of Mount Forest, is an honour graduate in theology of Trinity University, and has been prizeman of his year throughout his theological course.

Mr. Jack Guchardi, of Shelburne, is sporting a bandaged hand these days as the result of getting it jammed by the door of his automobile. The end of one finger was quite badly split.

W. K. Johnston has sold his farm, the east half lot 27, 7th line, Amaranth, to Herbert M. Davis, of Amaranth, possession to be given March 1st, 1925. The price paid was around $6,000.

Distribution of whitefish fry from the Dominion Government fish hatchery at Point Edward, has been completed for 1924, and some 56,000,000 more little fish are searching for adventure in the vast waters of Lake Huron.

Jas. A. Farrell, an Arthur business man, who died last week, was born at the old Farrell home in West Garafraxa adjoining the town on February 8th, 1878. The trouble which caused his death originated from a small pimple on his nose, which became infected by blood poisoning. The poison went through his system and septic pleurisy developed.

EDITORIAL NOTES

For some months past The Banner has been receiving communications from E. Scott, of Montreal, in opposition to Church Union. These are intended for publication free of charge and have been finding their way into the waste paper basket instead of the columns of our publication. Requests for free publicity of one kind or another are the bane of the newspaper publisher's life. Scarcely a week passes that The Banner could not fill most of its available space with these so-called news articles, that are really propaganda of some sort or other. There is only one thing to do and that is to consign them to the waste paper basket. If editors did otherwise they would have little or no space left for local news or the expression of opinion on matters of local interest, which is the real province of the local newspaper and one of the chief reasons for its existence. Departments of our Governments, Federal and Provincial, are among the most persistent offenders in these requests for publicity. Week after week letters reach the newspapers from Government officials with bulletins that the newspaper is expected to publish free of charge. The men, who prepare and send out these articles, do not give their time free of charge. Why should the newspapers be expected to give their space without remuneration? Newspaper publishers have to live the same as other people and should be paid for newspaper space that is used for propaganda purposes, let the purpose of the propaganda be what it will. All press matter of this nature is really advertising in a more or less disguised form, and as such should be paid for as the merchant pays for the advertising space he uses. If The Banner wishes to discuss church union the editor has his own opinions on the subject and is quite able to express them. He does not presume to be as well informed on the pros and cons of the question as the Rev. E. Scott, but he would have little trouble in exhibiting more of the spirit of Christian forbearance and a stronger regard for the ordinary amenities of public debate.

INSPECTION OF ELECTRICAL WIRING

Veiled innuendoes, flavoring of misrepresentation, are reported to be going the rounds in Orangeville to the effect that all parties rewiring or having new wiring installed, must use "The Hydro." This is positively not the case.

The householders, be they tenant or owner, have a perfect right to choose, at any time, which service they wish, either Hydro or Cataract, without coercion from any quarter.

The inspection department was created by law to safeguard the public, make electric wiring safe and protect the people against unscrupulous contractors. It is an independent body and absolutely impartial. The sole aim of the department is to secure standard wiring and the rules of such are enforced equally with Hydro or Cataract customers. The inspector does not suggest or recommend any service. On the other hand he asks you which service you intend to install and if the wiring is satisfactory issues a permit to the electric company chosen by you to give the service, as without such permit no electric company, Hydro or otherwise, can connect the service.

The Government, having no electrical department, naturally puts the inspection department under the power commission, which they control through its commissioners, but it was created for the good of us all and is both independent and above interference from any source. Knowing the chief inspector personally, I venture the prediction that he would deal very drastically with any case where any partial feeling was exhibted either in passing out information from the offices or favoring anyone. The inspector in this district, in my eyes, has proven himself all the department would ask for, and has always been very fair to us in every way, doing his duty as he saw it by insisting upon good wiring, which is right. We, on our part, intend to back him up in such demands in order that the public be safeguarded and protected from defective wiring; which, aside from anything else, is very dangerous. Such good wiring really reduces our operating cost by eliminating trouble calls from customers' service lines.

Unfortunately Orangeille has one or perhaps two sensational rumour carriers, or it it that they just visit here at times. Such pervaricators as mentioned are a blemish on the records of the town. They are a nuisance and really harm the cause they intend to help. The people of Oangeville should treat such beings with ridicule and make them feel that they are travelling from the sublime to the ridiculous.

TOO MANY HOME CARES

One Reason Why so Many Women Are Weak and Run-Down.

The work of the woman in the home makes greater demands on her vitality than men realize, and there is always something more to do. No wonder woman's backs ache, and their nerves are worn out. No wonder why they get depressed and irritable, suffer from headaches, and always feel out of sorts. But of course all women are not like that. What is the difference?

A woman with plenty of healthy red blood in her veins finds work in the home easy; her vitality is at par. This points the way to health in women who feel run down and depressed. Make new rich blood. You can do it with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills have the marvellous property of building up the blood and toning up the nerves. That is proved by the case of Mrs. H. Eppinger, Scott Street, Vancouver, B. C., who says:—"Dr. Williams' Pink Pills brought back my health and strength and restored my health to normal condition after other medicines had failed. It was after the birth of my second child that I became so anaemic and nervous that I thought I would lose my mind as well as my strength. I tried several medicines, but go no relief until I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After using a few boxes of these I could see a change. I felt stronger; my appetite was better, I slept better, and my nerves were stronger. I continued the use of the pills for some time, and again found myself a well woman, and I can sincerely say that my health has since been the best. I can cheerfully recommend the pills to all weak, run-down women."

You can get these pills from your druggist, or by mail, at 50 cents a box, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

ALEXANDER MACGOWAN

Alexander MacGowan, a prominent citizen of Orangeville some thirty years ago, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. R. F. King, Colborne St., Oakville, last week, in his 83rd year. The late Mr. MacGowan, who was in the hardware business here for a number of years, built and lived in the house now occupied by Col. Preston. He was highly respected as a citizen and business man and old-time friends here will regret his demise.

ANDREW JONES

Oldtime Orangeville friends were very sorry to learn of the death in Toronto last week of Andrew Jones, better known to his friends here by his nickname, "Spikey." The end came at his home at 23 Gwynne Ave. on Wednesday, May 7th. Deceased, who was a son of the late John Jones, an early blacksmith in Orangeville, would be about 60 years of age. In his younger days he was a clever lacrosse player and figured with The Dufferins in many hard fought games. He is survived by his widow, formerly Miss Sarah McKenzie, of Lucknow. Service was held at the bereaved home on Thursday evening last, the remains being taken to Lucknow for burial on Friday.

MRS. EDMUND KING

One of the saddest events which has ever happened in the community occurred on Friday evening when death called Mrs. Edmund King very suddenly at the cemetery. She, with her husband and Mr. D. A. Robertson, had gone out to the cemetery to assist the cenetery committee to clean up the grounds, and while burning some old grass she was overcome through the excitement, death resulting from heart failure. Medical attention was secured with all haste, but all efforts at resuscitation were unavailing. News of the death under such sad circumstances came as a tremendous shock to those who knew and loved her.

The funeral took place on Monday afternoon from the United Church and was conducted jointly by Revs. Stephens and Douthwaite. Favorite hymns of the deceased were sung. Rev. Douthwaite read the scripture lesson and Rev. Stephens gave a short address appropriate to the occasion.

Quite a large congregation gathered to pay a tribute of affection and sympathy. Mrs. Fairbairn, by request, gave a beautiful solo, "No Burden Yonder," very sweetly. The floral tributes were numerous and beautiful.

Interment was made in the Biggar Cemetery, where she sleeps "until the day breaks and the shadows flee away."

The Independent joins with the community in extending to the bereaved ones all sympathy.

Among those from a distance to attend the funeral were: Mr. and Mrs. Errett King, of Vulcan, Alta., brother Edmund King and Mrs. Errett who is a sister of the deceased; Mr. and Mrs. Radge Clayton and Richard Clayton, of Harris; Mr. J. Patton and son Murray, of Loverna; Mr. and Mrs. Grasley, of Driver; Mrs. W. Hills and Mrs. J. Small, of Perdue.—Biggar, Sask., Independent.

HEARING DEFERRED

Boynton St. John, the youth, who is lodged in Brampton gaol, charged with assaulting Mrs. Alexander McBride, of Caledon East, will probably receive his preliminary hearing on May 16th. He was again remanded by Magistrate Crawford last week because of the condition of Mrs. McBride, who is still too weak to appear in court. The injured woman is improving steadily, but is still in a very nervous, overwrought condition from the effects of the assault.

We concede that with fluctuating markets, such as have prevailed during the past few years, it was no easy guess to tell just what was ahead in Wool values. By comparison with published statements of others in the Wool Business for 1923, we find that the average prices paid by us to the farmers were nearly four cents per pound higher. That, of itself, is a very considerable gain, but in addition you have the satisfaction of seeing your Wool properly graded, knowing that it is yours until you are satisfied. You get full value and your money when you sell.

A CLOSE CALL

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Gibson, 1st line, west, Caledon, had a narrow escape from destruction by fire on Monday forenoon. While Mrs. Gibson was at the stable attending to her fowl, a spark from the stove lodged in the wood box and ignited, starting a blaze that speedily ran up the walls to the ceiling. Mrs. Gibson noticed the smoke pouring out of a bedroom window and, rushing to the house, opened the door and courageously made her way through the smoke and flames to the water tap. Picking up a pail, she filled and dashed four or five pails of water on the mass of flames and had the fire pretty well under control when the men arrived at the house. The plucky woman was however, on the verge of collapse from the effects of the smoke, heat and excitement. Much praise is due Mrs. Gibson for the courage and presence of mind she exhibited in the terrifying emergency, when every second meant much. The damage to the walls and contents of the dwelling are covered by insurance. When the insurance adjuster visited the place on Tuesday he declared it remarkable that the house had not been destroyed, as it would undoubtedly have been had it not been for Mrs. Gibson's brave act.

MARSVILLE

The regular monthly meeting of the Marsville Branch of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. W. B. McGowan last Wednesday afternoon. There was a good attendance of the members present. As it was the annual business meeting the reports of the different branches were presented and proved that the Society is prosperous and progressive. The officers for the ensuing year are:—President Mrs. Jas. N. Taylor; Vice-President Mrs. Stanley Turner; 2nd Vice-Pres. Mrs. Norman Reid; Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. Samuel Price.

Mothers' Day was observed in the churches on Sunday, when appropriate sermons were delivered by the pastors. The Mothers' choir rendered suitable music.

Mr. W. H. Wilson, of Vancouver has been in the vicinity for a week in connection with the sale of his farm. At the time of writing no exchange has taken place.

The unfavorable weather has interfered with seeding operations There is still considerable work to be done before seeding will be completed in this district.

Mr. and Mrs. V. Armstrong spent the week-end in Toronto.

ORANGEVILLE PRESBYTERY

At its meeting here on Tuesday the Orangeville Presbytery sustained a call from the congregations of Priceville and Swinton Park to Rev. Angus Sutherland, a minister from Western Canada, who is at present without a charge. As Mr. Sutherland had intimated his readiness to accept the call, arrangements were made for his induction at Priceville on June 3rd. Rev. G. W. Rose, of Corbetton, the interim moderator will preside, Rev. Hugh Shannon, of Maxwell, will address the new minister and Rev. Dr. Lang, of Maple Valley, will deliver a message to the people. Presbytery accepted the resignation of Rev. A. E. Thornley pastor of Knox Church, Shelburne who intimated that he wished to accept a call from Port Perry. Mr. Thornley will conclude his ministry in Shelburne next Sabbath and Rev. F. W. Mahaffy, the interim moderator, will preach the pulpit vacant on the first Sunday in June. Rev. J. A. Matheson, of Mono Mills Clerk of the Presbytery, was appointed Commissioner to the General Assembly in the stead of Mr. Thornley.

DERRY DAY IN GUELPH

Banner readers, who attended the monster Derry Day celebration in Orangeville last year, will be interested to learn that the County Black Chapter of York has decided by a unanimous vote to celebrate in Guelph this year. The decision means that the Toronto Preceptories, which occupied a large place in the celebration here last year, will visit Guelph for the 1924 celebration. Their attendance assures a mammoth celebration in the Royal City.

WHO WAS TO BLAME?

It was his duty to have remained at the factory till the night-watchman came on.

"What's the good," he said, "I've been here a year and nothing has happened." So he slipped away an hour earlier.

The watchman found the place enveloped in flames.

Whose fault was it?

The fire-bugs?

Or the unfaithful caretaker's.?

If prohibition is ever overthrown in Ontario, whose fault will it be?

The Moderation League's?

No.

The blame will lie at the door of self-centred, indifferent voters. There are loads of them. Scores of places in this Province suffered for years, before prohibition, under the licensed bar, because of them.

"O, Mrs. Thornton, WHY didn't you come out to vote? Do you know five more ballots would have carried local option? And there were treble that number right in our own church, that were not polled."

"Well, really, I couldn't. We were washing that day, and had unexpected company. I was sure the by-law would carry, anyway. So sorry."

Her questioner turned away ,oppressed by such bland, crass, selfishness.

That night as Mrs. Thornton gathered her little brood about her, and thought, with a shiver, of the mother next door, who would listen for hours for the stumbling feet of her one boy, did she hear a sub-conscious echo of the Master's words—"With what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you again."

There was a local option contest lost by a single vote. An out-of-town voter wanted to go and cast his ballot. His wife objected to the R.R. ticket expense—$2.75. In one of the hotels of that place a perfect orgie of drunkenness continued for three years longer. Who'd want to shoulder that, to save $2.75?

Here is the beautiful reverse of that sordid picture (and the writer knew both men).

A township local option committee in Muskoka—in the days when it took a three-fifths majority to carry the Act—sent an urgent appeal to a London summer resident, to come and vote. It was mid-winter, and bitterly cold. The voter was a very busy man. Yet, at the expense of $15.00; and though the trip involved a 12 mile drive over the ice, when the thermometer registered twelve below, he went.

Having cast his vote, the Londoner became the guest of a member of the committee. At 11 p.m., when he and his host were cowering over a stove, trying to keep warm, loud sounds of hilarious joy took them to the door.

Here they found the chairman of the committee, the school teacher and the Methodist minister. They had walked three miles down the river to bear the good news that the by-law was carried by two votes—one of which was subsequently thrown out—and to pour out their gratitude in words that are still a happy memory.

It is not conscious selfishness, or wilful indifference, that is responsible for most of the stay-at-home women voters. They only need to be awakened and educated. And the force that will do it is now in the field.

The Ontario Women's Prohibition Commitee, which will work in harmony with "The Ontario Prohibition Union," was organized in Toronto, April 24th. Representatives were present from 14 Provincial and 4 Dominion organizations; and from several Toronto societies—as the Toronto Home and School and the Y. W. C. A., etc.

Prominent women connected with executives that had not yet had opportunity to consider the question, attended, as, for example, Mrs. McGarragh, President Ontario Women's Labor League; Mrs. Geo. Edwards, Pres. Provincial Women's Institutes. They expressed hearty sympathy; as did also Mrs. Bundy, Pres. Toronto Women's Council, Mrs. D. McKee, of "The Canadian Countryman," Miss Louise Rorke, of "The Canadian Teacher," Dr. Margaret Patterson, Judge, of the Toronto Juvenile Court.

A long-time Prohibition worker told the writer (unavoidably prevented from attendance) that it just thrilled her to hear so many notable women—not a few of whom had never before publicly espoused the cause—promising their influence and active support, should the O.T.A. be in danger.

To the Government these women say—"The bootleggers must go; and we will back you in a crusade against them."

To the Moderation League, they say—"We want none of your wares; neither Government Sale, nor wine and beer licenses. The O. T. A. ENFORCED is good enough for us."

BLOUNT

The Blount Women's Institute held its annual business meeting in S. S. No. 1 school on May 7th. During the meeting the election of officers was held, when the following were selected as the officers for the coming year:—

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. E. R. Dodds on May 22nd. A lady speaker, Mrs. Allen, from Toronto, is to be present. Everybody welcome. Members are to provide lunch.

Mr. P. Levesque Completely Relieved of Kidney Trouble After a Short Course of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Padoue Station, Que., April 14th (Special)—Mr. Pierre Levesque, a well-known resident here, is a new addition to the army of Canadians who sing the praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Like all the others, he has tried Dodd's Kidney Pills for kidney trouble, and found them good.

"After receiving advice from my friend about your kidney pills, I gave them a trial. I had bad kidneys. I have been completely relieved after a treatment of a few boxes."

Dodd's Kidney Pills strengthen the kidneys and put them in shape to do their full work of straining the impurities out of the blood. With pure blood there is good health all over the body.

There is no reason why anyone should continue to suffer when Dodd's Kidney Pills can be obtained from druggists everywhere, or The Dodd's Medicine Co., Ltd., Toronto.

MONO CENTRE

The last Sunday in April was a memorable occasion to the people of this community. They saw the fulfilment of their work of the past year, when the new Burns' Presbyterian Church was opened with fitting ceremony. Nature, with her brightest rays, blessed the dedication of the beautiful edifice, which is simply but tastefully decorated. At the hour of ten-thirty, when the morning service commenced, the church was filled to capacity. Rev. Mr. Coutts, the pastor, assisted by Rev. Dr. Neil, of Westminster Presbyterian Church, Toronto, conducted the service. An impressive feature was the beautiful dedication service read by Rev. Mr. Coutts. Following this Rev. Dr. Neil conducted the baptism service, when the infant children of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Turnbull, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Coulter and Rev. and Mrs. Coutts, were baptized. Mono Centre choir had charge of the music and Rev. Dr. Neil preached the sermon. In the morning he took as his text, Matthew 5-17, and preached on Jesus' coming to fulfill or bring things to completion. Jesus came to destroy sin and everything hurtful to the human race, but Dr. Neil stressed the fact that He also came to bring the beautiful and the good to the highest perfection. In the afternoon the building was again filled to overflowing, when Dr. Neil addressed the congregation, taking as his text Ephesians 5-19, and preaching on the subject of church praise and worship. Both sermons were inspiring and very suitable to the occasion. The congregation appreciates very much the interest Dr. Neil has taken in their church. Although living in the city his heart turns to the home of his boyhood and he has always been most willing to assist in the services here. Camilla choir took charge of the music and Mr. Arthur Curtis sang a solo. In the evening Rev. J. A. Matheson Moderator of the Synod of Toronto and Kingston, brought the greetings of Presbytery and commended the people very highly for their work and sacrifice in building such a beautiful house for the service of Almighty God. He preached a very forceful sermon on St. John's vision of Jesus, from 1st Chapter of the Book of Revelation. Mr. C. Matthews, of Orangeville, and Mr. A. Clowes, of Camilla, assisted in the song service.

To all who in any way assisted in the erection of Mono Centre Church the congregation are very grateful; also to those who assisted so ably with the musical part of the service. They feel that to the unceasing energy and activity of Rev. Mr. Coutts they owe their new church. Without his interest and practical assistance the task would never have been accomplished. We are indeed fortunate in having as pastor one who has the work of his Master so much at heart and who is willing to work and sacrifice in His cause.

The offering amounted to $175. We are glad everyone was in a generous mood, but we think that the honour of helping to build the church will more than compensate them for their generosity.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The next meeting of the Orangeville Women's Institute will be held at the home of Mrs. W. T. Johnston, York St., on Tuesday afternoon, May 20th. Topic, "The Discipline of Experience," will be taken by Mrs. E. H. Sproule. Election of officers. Every member should be present.

A FATAL ACCIDENT

An Adjala Boy Loses Life Under Distressing Circumstances.

Fergus Hanley, the 13 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Hanley, of the 4th line of Adjala, was killed Tuesday morning under most distressing circumstances. He was found unconscious by members of the family at the entrance to the farm property. He had taken the cows to the swamp some distance from the house and as was his wont had ridden a horse to do the chore. The boy was found by his brother, who was seeding in a nearby field, and noticing the horse in a restless state at the gate, went down to see the cause of the horse's actions. He had a suspicion of what had happened and mentioned it as he hurried past the house. When picked up the boy was still breathing, but he expired shortly after being carried into the house. When found, he was lying with his head depressed four inches in the soil at the gate. There was a cut on top of the head from which blood flowed freely. From a couple of other slight wounds on the face it is surmised that after falling off the horse the animal stepped on his head. Just how the accident occurred will never be known, because it was witnessed by no one. The boy was a great rider, loved horses and was on good terms with the animal he was riding, which was evidenced by the fact that the horse did not leave the boy after he had fallen, but remained on the spot in a state of uneasiness. It is surmised that the young lad fell from the horse as he reached down to lift the latch which secured the gate. He had a habit of doing this instead of dismounting. Falling between the horse and the gate pillar he would naturally crowd the horse, which would naturally yield space, and being somewhat frightened, might easily step on the boy as he fell. A doctor was called at once, but when he arrived life was extinct. Much sympathy is being expressed in the neighborhood for the parents, the unfortunate boy being the youngest of their family of four.—Allliston Herald.

BURGLARS BUSY

Mount Forest Visited by Light Fingered Gentry — Newspaper Office Among Losers.

Last week we noted a burglar scare that had taken place in town. This week we have to record the real thing.

On Saturday morning Mr. J. W. Tanner discovered that his store had been burglarized. A window had been broken in the rear. A suitbox had been emptied of some odds and ends. A couple of empty collar boxes were also found. The inference is that at least one suit of clothes and a supply of collars were taken. Strange to say the drawer or till, which was not locked, and in which was about $8, was not meddled with.

Mr. Tanner in looking around found a box of cigarettes in the cellar way at the rear. This led to enquiries of Mr. Wm. Pfaff next door. Investigation showed that the burglar or burglars had opened a trap door into Mr. Tanner's cellar. A door into Mr. Pfaff's cellar had been forced open and through another trap door entrance made into Mr. Pfaff's tobacco store. A tobacco pouch,a cigarette case, and a quantity of cigarettes, cigars and tobacco are thought to be missing

Before this, or after, the office of The Confederate and the Representative had been entered. Front and rear doors had been locked the previous night. As neither doors nor windows had been disturbed entrance must apparently have been made by key. That anything was wrong was not suspected until nearly noon, when we went to the safe to get the pay envelopes that had been filled the day before. They contained $42.50 in cash and a cheque. The cheque was found in one of the stoves, the other empty envelopes in the ash pail into which they had been shovelled in the morning when the office boy fixed the stove ready for lighting. A small tin box in which were about 25 coppers, was found in another stove. A net purse which had been found on the street and hung up awaiting a claimant, was also gone, with about 40 cents in it.

To cap all, the best horse in Armstrong and Hunter's livery stable, with a buggy, was also missing. A party returning towards morning from a dance at Harriston met such a rig near O'Dwyer's bridge. Chief Cringle motored to Harriston, Palmerston and Moorefield in the morning, but could get no trace, and notice was sent out to the police of the district. In the evening a telephone message was received that the horse and rig had been found in a church shed in Palmerston. The guilty party or parties evidently got off on one of the morning trains there.

On Monday morning Mr. Pfaff found a screw-driver in his cellar. It was bent and evidently used in forcing open the door from Mr. Tanner's. It belonged to this office, which accordingly was the first visited.

A resident on Fergus Street to the rear of this office found a gate open on Saturday that had been hooked close on Friday night. It is thought that the thief used a stable there to wait his time.—Mt. Forest Representative.

In 1861 she married John Kidd and shortly afterwards they settled in Tossorontio Township on lot 23, con. 1. To them was born a family of twelve children, ten of whom survive. They are: W. J. Little, Everett; Mrs. Robt. Pangman, Mrs. J. C. Jones and Mrs. J. Gallaugher, all of Tossorontio Township. She is also survived by 40 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren. About 1904 Mr. and Mrs. Kidd retired from the farm and took up residence in Everett, where Mr. Kidd died seven years ago. Last fall the late Mrs. Kidd went to live with her daughter, Mrs. J. C. Jones, where she peacefully passed away on Good Friday. The funeral, which was largely attended, took place on Easter Monday, to St. David's Church Cemetery, near Rosemont, Rev. J. H. Colclough, of Creemore, and Rev. G. Gray, of Rosemont, conducting the service. The pallbearers were four of her sons and Robt. Pangman and John Gallaugher, sons-in-law.

John J. Page, son of Thomas Page, of Goderich, has been appointed acting general manager of the Western Canada Flour Mills Company, Limited, in succession to J. E. Macfarlane, who resigned after nineteen years of service. He has been in the employ of the company for the past twenty years.

A BRAMPTON ACCIDENT

Thirteen-Year-Old Boy Shot in the Abdomen—Close Call.

Harry Knight, a thirteen-year-old boy, was shot in the abdomen on Saturday afternoon by a revolver in the hands of his chum, Teddy Ching, another thirteen-year-old boy.

Both live in Queen St. East. On Saturday they went to the spring creek in Brown's Hollow, between the third and fourth lines, west, near the Queen St. crossroads.

Teddy Ching had a 22-calibre revolver with him. They had lots of fun one way and another in which the revolver played its part.

The gun missed fire or stuck while Teddy was manipulating it. He held it behind his back while he wrestled with it and must have jerked it towards his friend when it went off for he was in the line of fire.

The bullet struck Harry Knight on the left side, four or five inches from the hip and plowed through the top bowels to the right side, an inch or so below the surface.

The Ching boy ran to the sideroad and was fortunately able to stop some young fellows in an auto from Brampton. The injured boy was taken to Dr. Brydon's office and he at once ordered his removal to the Toronto General Hospital.

The four o'clock train for the city was then due and station agent Holwell held the train until a stretcher could be obtained.

While lying in the waiting room at the station he exonerated his chum, who stayed beside him until the train moved out.

At the hospital the boy was X-rayed and an operation performed by Dr. Wilson, who had much experience with abdominal wounds during the war. The boy's bowels were found to have been perforated in six places. The holes were closed by running a stitch around them with fine catgut and drawing it tight as you would close a tobacco bag. The bullet was found and removed.

The doctors think Harry has a good chance for recovery and his condition so far has been favorable to that end.—Banner & Times.

HILLSBURG HORSE SHOW

(Intended for last week)

The Forty-eighth Annual Spring Horse Show of the Township of Erin was held at Hillsburg on April 23, 1924, being postponed from Friday the 18th, on account of the wet weather. The day was fair, but rather cold for comfort, together with the roads being very muddy in the morning, prevented a great number from being present. However, the fair was a grand success after all, the gate receipts being only one dollar less than last year. The entries were much greater in number than for several years. Some very fine equine specimens were exhibited.

The prize awards were as follows: Imp. draft stallion—N. E. McKinnon, Hillsburg, "Ever Ready" Percheron stallion—Waldie Steen, Hillsburg, "Jet;" Hackney stallion—N. F. Twenty Thousand Dollar Baby Christened

THERE was a christening at the Mount Royal Hotel, Montreal, recently, and, quite apropos, it was of the Montroyal. The Canadian Pacific, having on hand a very fine model of their Atlantic steamer, the Empress of Britain, placed it in drydock in Montreal about the same time that the Empress herself went into dock in the Old Country for overhauling and renaming. Upon being overhauled, the model was sent to the Mount Royal Hotel where it will remain on exhibition and where Mr. Vernon G. Cardy, resident manager of the hotel, "cracked" a bottle of champagne over the bow, thus christening the Montroyal as she moved to her new berth.

The model of the Montroyal is complete in every particular and is indeed such an excellent replica on a small scale of the former Empress that it has been insured for $20,000. The model is fourteen feet in length and provides a deal of entertainment for the visitor whether adult or juvenile.

"Child's Eyelids Inflamed Stuck Together and Bled"

Mr. E. P. Kimball, Entwhistle, Alta., writes:

"Our little girl from birth was troubled with inflamed eyelids and in spite of several remedies, grew worse until at the age of sixteen months her eyes could not be opened after sleep without bleeding, a waxy discharge sticking the lids together and adhering with great tenacity. The child's grandmothers were consulted by mail, and both responded with a little sample box of Dr. Chase's Ointment. These were used as directed, and lasted until we could obtain a further supply from Edmonton. Improvement was very marked from the first application. The waxy discharge was easier removed and did not reappear. Inflammation subsided and has not returned."

"For three years, I was troubled with bad Headaches, Nervous Dyspepsia and Liver Troubles. Then, I began taking "Fruit-a-tives". Very soon my condition improved, and thanks to these wonderful fruit tablets I am once more entirely well".

THE BOYS' COUNCIL

The First Boys' Council of the town of Orangeville brought its term of office to a close in the Council Chamber on Tuesday night. Mayor McConnell presided.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and adopted.

The Committee on Resolutions presented its report.

During the session the Mayor delivered the following address in appreciation of the efforts and loyal support of his colleagues;—

Orangeville, May 6th, 1924.

To the First Boys' Council of the Town of Orangeville.

Gentlemen,—

Before we adjourn for the last time I would like to express my sincere appreciation of the kindness and co-operation you have shown throughout the year. Being the first Boys' Council of the town we have set the precedents for future councils.

I can give you no better parting message, than that given to boys by Rudyard Kipling, "Play for your side and play the game." Have high ideals and live up to them. Aim high because you can never rise higher than you aim.

I wish to pay my respects to the council-elect and trust that those who follow us in office will realize the responsibility that is theirs', that they will realize that life is a serious business and that a life spent in the service of our Maker and of our fellow-beings is the only kind of a life that is worth living.

R. Wilson McConnell, Mayor.

Moved by C. Connell, seconded by Jas. Marshall, that the First Boys' Council adjourn sine die.—Carried.

JAS. E. MARSHALL, Chairman Publicity Com.

Orillia band will receive a grant of $1,250 from the town.

Is next door to each customer

A clever manufacturer in a small town found he often lost repeat orders from distant customers because he had no one on the ground to get them. So he supplied each of these good customers with a card reading:—

The H. W. Marks Co. of Deepdale is authorized to telephone orders to The Blank Mfg. Co., Springville, and deduct the cost of the message from our next invoice. Call Springville 156. Our telephone service is organized to give you as good service as if we were next door to your office.

He says it works fine. Try it.

Cheap Paint? Here is the Answer!

No. 1 (From an actual photograph) A measure of so called "cheap" paint at $4.00 per gal., brushed out on wood it covered 643 sq. feet

No. 2 (From an actual photograph) An equal measure of Lowe Brothers' "High Standard" paint at $5.75 per gal., brushed out on a similar surface covered 1,050 sq. feet.

USING an equal measure of each paint, and brushing them out on the same surface, we obtained the results pictured above

Observe that Lowe Brothers "High-Standard" Paint covered approximately 50% more surface, and covered it better than the so called "cheap" paint.

From this actual test it will be seen that it would take approximately 3 gallons of "Cheap" paint to do a job that would require only 2 gallons of Lowe Brothers' "High Standard" Paint.

Practically applied to a house it would work out this way:—

These houses are both of the same type, and each has a painting area of 2,000 square feet.

To paint this house (2,000 sq. ft.) with "cheap" paint Mr. A required 6½ gals. at $4.00 per gal . . $26.00

It takes a painter 1 day to apply 1 gal. of paint, therefore to apply 6½ gals. of "cheap" paint it took 6½ days at $5.00 per day $32.50

Total cost $58.50

To paint this house (2,000 sq. ft.) with Lowe Brothers' High Standard Paint, Mr. B. required 4 gals. at $5.75 . . $23.00

A painter can usually apply in a day more Lowe Brothers' High Standard Paint than any other, but figuring on an equal basis of 1 gal. per day, it took 4 days at $5.00 per day . . $20.00

Total cost $43.00

By using Lowe Brothers' High Standard Paint Mr. B. saved $3.00 on the cost of paint and $12.50 on the cost of labor—a total saving of $15.50 on the complete job.

Never Figure the Cost of Paint by what it costs "per gallon." So-called "cheap" paint is the dearest you can buy measured by "job" cost, which is the only true measure of paint performance.

Before you paint consult us. We will be glad to show you how to paint most economically, and to give you color cards and other information for your guidance.

GAME WITH WESTON

The senior Dufferins are due to make their initial bow in Weston on Saturday afternoon, May 17, but it is by no means certain that the game will be played. On account of the bad weather neither team has had much chance to indulge in field practice and few of the players are in good shape for a game this early. The Dufferins recognize that it is a heavy proposition to tackle last year's champions right on their own grounds at the very beginning of the season. At that the greenshirts might be well advised to play the game this week. They have a number of young players, who will be in pretty fair shape to go and to go fast as long as they last. Weston on the other hand has a bunch of older men, who need warm weather and several weeks' practice before they round into real mid-season form. The champions might prove a lot easier to bump right now than they will later on.

CALEDON EAST STRONG

Caledon East lacrosse club will play in the North Peel League this season as they did last year and expect to make a good showing in the League games. The Club has signed up about twenty players, including Finnerty, Lavery and other newcomers, who give promise of rounding into real lacrosse players. This year's line-up will include Perdue, who will play goal as usual, Bright, a Brampton product and a former Excelsior player, Hartley Sanderson Grey, Ted and Jim Berney, A. Fleetham, Thorington, McCaffrey, Cannon, Atkinson, Gott, Proctor and McKinley.

The team has held a number of good practices and the players are already in good condition for the league games. The officers of the Club are:—Honorary Presidents, Rev. E. H. Lockhart, A. Laycock and A. R. Holden; President, G. W. Berney; Vice-President, George Atkinson; Secretary-Treasurer, W. B. Cannon; Committee, H. Sanderson, Roy McCartney, Jas. Canhon, Walter Hutchinson, Harry Thorington; Coach and Manager, Jim Perdue; Ladies' Committee, Mrs. Harold Berney, Miss Vera Proctor and Miss Helen Burrell; Auditors, Jim Proctor and Ted Berney.

ORANGEVILLE GOLF CLUB

At the annual meeting of the Orangeville Gold Club, held on Monday night, April 28th, officers were elected for the ensuing year as follows:—

Hon. President, Dr. R. W. Rooney; President, Mrs. Harold Campbell; Vice-President, Dr. R. N. Kyles; Secretary, Miss Winnifred Bennett; Treasurer, J. E. Sutherland; Grounds Committee, Dr. Rooney, Dr. Campbell, E. C. Clark; Committee to draft by-laws, Judge Fisher, W. C. Hopkins, J. E. Sutherland; Membership Committee, Mrs. (Dr.) Kyles, W. C. Hopkins.

A general meeting of the members of the Club will be held in the Public Library on Monday, May 19th, at 8 p.m.

MOODY BIBLE INSTITUTE.

Mr. Ralph R. Rayfield, Orangeville, Ont., Canada, is one of the sixty-four new students, thirty-three men and thirty-one women, who have recently enrolled at The Moody Bible Institute, Chicago. Mr. Rayfield was an active worker in the Young People's Society of the Baptist Church, of Orangeville. His purpose in training is to prepare for missionary work, perhaps in Africa. For practical work he had been assigned to assist with a group of students who do visitation work at the Municipal Sanitarium on Saturday afternoons, and to teach a class at the Ainslee Baptist Church on Sunday mornings.

—Attention of Banner readers is directed to the business announcement of E. G. Hawkins elsewhere in this issue. He recently purchased the Business College premises on West Broadway, which he has altered and fitted up as a dwelling upstairs and a tinsmithing and repair shop downstairs.

—Mr. D. Campbell, First Ave., left yesterday for Warren, New Ontario, where he will spend the summer on a farm of 160 acres of land that he acquired a couple of years ago while teaching school in that district. Mr. Campbell has already chopped and cleared seven acres of his holding and is planning to add materially to his improvements this summer. The farm is for the most part level, the soil arable and it is well watered by a flowing stream. Mr. Campbell speaks enthusiastically of the splendid summer climate and the extremely rapid growth of vegetation in the north. Our townsman has shown his mettle by tackling an uncleared farm at his time of life. There are hundreds of younger men in our larger centres of population who could emulate his example with profitable results if they only possessed the pluck to make the venture.

Mr. Reuben Holtorf, of Chicago, at onetime a resident of Orangeville, was in town on Sunday and looked up a number of former friends while here.

F. A. Mongeau Tells How He Recovered Strength After 8 Years of Rheumatism.

F. A. Mongeau, popular night clerk at the Prince of Wales Hotel, 17 and 19 McGill College Avenue Montreal, Canada, lends his name to further the cause of Tanlac, the treatment that has proved of such great benefit to him.

"After all Tanlac has done for me," said Mr. Mongeau, "I just feel like praising it to everybody. Eight years of muscular rheumatism had just about made a cripple of me. I got to where I simply had to limp around on a cane. My nerves became affected, my sleep unsound and I felt completely knocked out.

"Six bottles of Tanlac, taken eight months ago, made a new man of me and I have had no further trouble with rheumatism, or my health, since. My nerves are steady as a die, I sleep fine and feel the same way. Anyone wanting to know of me what Tanlac will do, just phone me here at the hotel."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 Million bottles sold.

The Banner had a pleasant call on Tuesday afternoon from a friend and subscriber of many years' standing in the person of Mr. Herbert Penelton, of Alliston, formerly of Sheldon, who was in town for the afternoon on business. Herb is looking well and shows little change with the passing years.

Mr. W. H. Maltby, of Colville, Sask., is making friends at Laurel and elsewhere in these parts a three months visit. Mr. Maltby is one of the many Dufferin boys, who have prospered in the West. He has now rented his farm and spent last winter sight-seeing in southern California, his travels taking him as far south as the Mexican border towns. This is his first visit to his old home here for five years.

Capt. W. J. Adams left town on Tuesday night for Detroit, where he had received orders to report for duty yesterday morning. The Captain is an enthusiastic Mason and one of the officers of Harris Lodge. He had been hoping until almost the last moment that he would be able to defer his departure until after Tuesday night's meeting and was greatly disappointed when he finally learned that he would have to leave here Tuesday night in order to report in time.

MASONS FOREGATHER

Members of Harris Lodge and Dufferin Lodge, Toronto, Fraternized on Tuesday Night.

Officers and members of Dufferin Masonic Lodge, Toronto, accompanied by visiting Masons from other city lodges, made their annual fraternal visit to Harris Lodge, No 216, Orangeville, on Tuesday night. The majority of the visitors, who numbered about seventy-five, made the journey here by special coach attached to the regular train and returned to the city by special train early yesterday morning. Others motored out, some arriving early in the day and remaining over with friends in town. Members of the home lodge were out in full force to welcome their visitors. Scott Lodge Grand Valley, and other neighboring lodges were also represented in the gathering, fully two hundred members of the fraternity being present for the night. On the arrival of the train from Toronto the visitors were met at the depot by the Orangeville Citizens' Band and a large delegation of local Masons in autos in which the city brethren were conveyed from the station to the lodge room. Among the distinguished visitors who honored the gathering with their presence were Rt. W. Bro. J. A. Rowland, K. C., of Toronto, Deputy Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Canada; Rt. W. Bro. Thos. Forsythe, Immediate Past Grand Junior Warden, and Rt. W. Bro. the Rev. W. G. Blackwell of Dresden, Deputy District Grand Master of Grey District No. 5.

Following the opening of the Lodge, the Worshipful Master, W. Bro. Dr. W. J. Price, announced that it had been decided to dispense with the usual degree work and give the time usually allowed for this purpose to Rt. W. Bro. Rowland, who had kindly consented to give a short address on Masonry. The Deputy Grand Master, who was given a rousing reception by the brethren who crowded the hall to capacity, proved a very pleasing and impressive speaker. His address dealt briefly with the origin and early history of Masonry, but was for the most part a definition of the nature and the purposes of the craft and a remarkably concise enunciation of the great principles for which it stands. The address was heard with close and appreciative attention and at its close the distinguished speaker was tendered the hearty thanks of the members of the two lodges on motion of W. Bro. C. R. McKeown of Harris Lodge, seconded by W. Bro Dr. T. A. Carson, of Dufferin Lodge.

After closing the Lodge the members of the fraternity adjourned to the Assembly Hall of the Arena where the fourth degree was conferred in approved fashion. Following the banquet, a really delightful time was spent in songs, music, recitations and speech-making. Dr Price, W. M. of Harris Lodge, officiated in the capacity of toastmaster. The opening toast, "The King," was honored by the hearty singing of "God Save the King" by the entire company. "The Grand Lodge of Canada" called forth witty and entertaining responses from Rt. W Bro. Rowland, Rt. W. Bro. the Rev W. G. Blackwell, R. W. Bro. Thos. Forsythe and R. W. Bro. Dr. R. B Hopkins. R. W. Bro. C. R. McKeown proposed the toast to "Dufferin Lodge" in eloquent terms. Appropriate replies were made by W. Bro. Dr. Keyes, the sitting Master of the Lodge, W. Bros. Dr. Carson and R. E. Burns, two of the Past Masters W. Bro. Wm. Ross, sitting Master of Kilwinnan Lodge, and W. Bro. A Menary, sitting Master of Scott Lodge, Grand Valley. Following this toast the brethren were treated to two entertaining addresses largely of a reminiscent nature, from R. W. Bro. R. W. Scott, an oldtime member of Scott Lodge, Grand Valley, and R. W. Bro. Robert Irvine P. D. D. G. M., the oldest member of Harris Lodge. The programme was varied in happy manner by excellent selections by the Hulse orchestra with Mrs. Russell Morrow as accompanist, a violin solo by Miss Clara Hulse, humorous recitations by Mrs. King, of Toronto, a number of recitations by Bro. Ray Darragh, of Toronto, and a couple of very fine vocal numbers by the Dufferin Lodge Male Quartette. The orchestra also provided music during the banquet. Shortly after one o'clock the Junior Warden's toast, "Happy to Meet, Sorry to Part, Happy to Meet Again" brought the festive and memorable gathering to a close. Before dispersing, the banqueters joined in singing "Auld Lang Syne" with all the heartiness and fervor usual on such occasions. Shortly before the close of the programme the orchestra and the other entertainers were tendered the hearty thanks of the assemblage.

Large as the Assembly Hall is it was taxed practically to the limit to furnish accommodation for the gathering. Orangeville is fortunate to have a hall of this size for special occasions of this nature. It is doubtful if there is another place in town that would have accommodated the gathering of Tuesday night.

BACK TO THE FARM

This week Mr. and Mrs. Allen Maxwell are moving to their fine farm property, the Maxwell homestead, midway between Alton and Orangeville. Ten days ago, Mr. Maxwell, who ran the Gem Theatre here for eighteen months or thereabouts, bought a moving picture house in Goderich. His good judgment in making the purchase at the price he was obliged to pay was conclusively proved by the fact that inside of the week he resold the property at a satisfactory profit.

HOME FROM SOUTH

Mr. Jos. J. and Miss Kelly, of Owen Sound, spent Friday with friends in town. Our visitors were on their way home after a sojourn of nine weeks at points in the United States. Their first stopping place was Chicago, where they visited with a niece, Mrs. P. W. Armstrong. Mr. Kelly remained here for a week and then went on to Hot Springs, Arkansas, remaining at this noted health resort for five weeks. Miss Kelly visited her niece for three weeks before rejoining Mr. Kelly at Hot Springs. Hot Springs has a population of about 15,000 people, but in the tourist season this is increased to 20,000 and even 25,000. Mr. and Miss Kelly also spent some time in Hollis, L. I., one of the suburbs of New York. While here they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Thompson. Mrs. Thompson will be remembered by a number of our citizens as Miss Bertha Kelly, a daughter of the late J. J. Kelly, of this town. Mr. and Miss Kelly did considerable sightseeing in New York and had the pleasure of a very interesting meeting with Mr. John Emery McLean, a former Orangeville boy, who is now a prominent citizen of Gotham. Mr. Kelly and two other friends were the guests of Mr. McLean at luncheon at the New York Canadian Club, of which he is a Past President. Mr. Kelly had the pleasure of visiting the Olympic, one of the giant liners of the White Star Line, and was shown through the big vessel by one of the officers. Mr. and Miss Kelly also visited Washington and were greatly impressed by the beautiful streets, drives, grounds and buildings of the capital city. Among the places of interest they were able to visit were the Senate Chamber and House of Representatives, where they saw both Houses in session, Mount Vernon and the home and grave of George Washington. Our former townsfolk enjoyed their trip very much indeed and return home looking benefitted in health. The only fly in the ointment was the weather, which was on the whole just about as cold and unpleasant as March and April weather in Canada. In fact March and April of this year seem to have been more pleasant here than in latitudes farther south.

—Mono Centre Picnic on May 24.

—Armstrong & Robinson have an unusually large yard of logs this spring. One would wonder where they came from in a district so well cleared of timber as this.

—Farmers are chafing under the long delay in seeding operations. Fine, drying weather is badly needed right now.

—Councillor J. A. McBride is building a brick dwelling house on the east side of Mill St. immediately north of Mrs. Wm. Emack's residence

ALTON

Dr. Caldwell's sermons in Alton and Caledon on Sunday, May 18th will be on the subject, "Is there any way to enter Heaven, other than by Conviction, Repentance and Conversion? What do these Doctrines of the Bible mean?"

A flourishing business has been going on all winter and spring in the Barber Bros.' Carriage Works, where shells were made during the war. A large number of cars, some coming from points as far distant as the city of Toronto, have been repainted, retopped and repaired in other ways. More success to the industry.

Caledon's fine mountain and river scenery is fast putting on its garment of green.

The Town Hall is lighted up almost constantly at nights with entertainments of one kind or another.

Farmers are delighted with the prospects of good crops.

People say that the bridge over the Melville branch of the Credit near the Adams hill is in a dangerous condition. Why not finish digging the new channel for the river and get rid of this danger spot?

Mothers' Day was well observed in the churches of our village. Fine congregations were out for the services and there was special music and Miss Margaret Lemon spent the week-end in Toronto with relatives and friends.

Mrs. Neely and daughter, Sophia have returned to their home after spending the winter with relatives near Tara, Ont.

The Senior Women's Institute will hold its regular monthly meeting in the Town Hall on Thursday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. A full attendance of members is requested as this is the annual meeting and election of officers. The Juniors will hold their meeting at the home of Miss Dorothea Cockerill at 8.15 p.m. All girls are invited to attend and become members for 1924-25.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Harris, of Shelburne, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Cameron over the week-end.

Don't forget "Mirandy's Minstrels" in the Town Hall, Alton, on Friday night, May 16th. This is given under the auspices of the Senior Women's Institute and promises to be the best yet.

Last Sunday a couple of families living near the Town Hall startled the people of the village by garden planting and playing ball. This surely is a bad example and bodes ill for the future of the offenders.

NEW SCHOOL AT ERIN

Dr. Waugh and Rev. W. M. Morris Spoke at Opening—Building Cost $43,000.

Dr. Waugh and Rev. W. M. Morris of the Ontario Department of Education, gave the inaugural speeches at the opening of the splendid new school at Erin on Monday, April 28. The building, which cost $43,000, is the latest word in schools. It is of red brick with white trim, very attractive from the exterior, and is situated on a rise on the east side of the main street, and when completed, will have a beautiful campus. The interior of the school is finished in white fir, with walls of pale grey in a rough finish. There has been installed a complete water system, with all sanitary conveniences, and each room has a drinking fountain of the type used in city schools. Everything about the school conforms to the latest requirement of the department.

The Women's Institute has installed the lighting system, using Cataract electric power, the cost being $175. There is a large auditorium with four fine lamps. Two of the six rooms of the school will be used for continuation classes. The beautiful rest room for the teachers was partially furnished by the Women's Institute and is most attractive.

In connection with the opening exercises, 600 people visited the school and heard a program, over which Chairman William Graham of the School Board presided. Addresses were given by Colonel Craig, inspector of Wellington County; Rev. R. Segsworth, Brampton; Reeve James McDonald, Caledon; Reeve Tarswell Erin, and John Drury, Belfountain. Four of the school children, Sylvia Tyrrell, a rising poet; Oran Grundy Mary McQuarrie and Media Bell gave orations suitable to the occasion. J. D. McDonald, Mrs. Walker and the school children gave a program of music.

The school was kept open until 10 p.m., and during the evening many people came from a distance to see the school, going on to a dance and euchre in the town hall, held to celebrate the event.—Advocate.

Owen Sound's new vocational school building is now completed with the exception of a few minor changes.

A RARE MASONIC DOCUMENT

Bro. L. H. Servos, of Milton, a member of Niagara Lodge, No. 2, Niagara-on-the-Lake, the oldest Lodge under the jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge in Ontario, has a Masonic curiosity, says the Milton Champion. It is the certificate of membership of his great-grandfather, Bro. Daniel Servos, issued by Lodge No. 156, 8th Regiment of Foot, under the Grand Lodge of England, and is dated May 7th, 1784, long before the organization of the Grand Lodge of Canada. It is peculiar in being issued by the lodge, not the Grand Lodge, but that may have been regular 140 years ago. It is written, throughout, on parchment. It is signed by Wm. Brown, W. M.; Robt. Whateley, S. W.; John Scott, J. W., and John Bailey, Sec., and has a wax seal attached by a blue ribbon. It is said that there is only one other such certificate known to be in existence.

WATERWORKS RESERVOIR

Elsewhere in this issue the firm of Wheelock & Christie, civil engineers, are asking for sealed tenders for the construction of a reinforced concrete waterworks reservoir for the town of Orangeville. The new reservoir is designed to increase the water reserve at the springs near Greenwood Cemetery. This has been perilously low during the dry summer months for a number of years and the town council has been talking for several years of taking some steps to avert the possibility of a water famine. It has been reserved to the 1924 council to take definite practical action to cope with the situation. We understand that the new reservoir will be 50 by 25 feet outside measurements and will have a depth of 14 feet over all. It will be built some 400 feet east of the old reservoir and will be lower than the latter, so that water may flow from the upper to the lower until the levels are equalized. Granted a water depth of 7 feet, which the engineers believe can be easily maintained, the new reservoir will hold a reserve of about 75,000 gallons. It is said that the reserve in the old reservoir seldom exceeds 40,000 gallons, and is quite often considerably under that quantity. Tenders will be received up to 3 o'clock on Monday afternoon, June 2nd, and must be accompanied in each instance by a certified cheque for five per cent of the estimate of bid. Plans and specifications, forms of tender and other information may be seen at the office of Wheelock & Christie after Monday, May 26th.

THE CHEERFUL WOMAN

Is One Who Has the Rich, Red Blood of Good Health.

The fact that one woman is bright-eyed, rosy-cheeked, strong and cheerful, while another is pale, weak and depressed, is due more often than otherwise to the condition of the blood. The way to remedy this depressed state is to build up the blood, and for this purpose there is no other tonic can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. A case in point is that of Mrs. Melvin Abra, Graveley street, Vancouver, B. C., who says "About two years ago I was a very sick woman. I seemed to be wasting away and getting thinner all the time. I grew so weak that the doctor sent me to the hospital, but the treatment there did not help me and I returned home. Then I tried a number of tonics with no better results. At this stage my mother came to me, and as she is a firm believer in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, she started me on this medicine. I can only say that they did wonders for me. I began to get new health and strength after I had taken a few boxes, and day by day this improvement continued until I was again well and able to do all my housework, and I have not had a sick day since. I cannot recommend your pills too highly and urge those who are looking for health and happiness to give them a trial."

You can get the pills from your druggist, or by mail, at 50 cents a box, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

CALEDON

It has been the custom for the last few years, at the conclusion of the Three Months' Short Courses of Agriculture and Home Economics to stage a rural play. These have been very successful in the past and the play entitled "Back to the Farm," which was put on by the Caledon Juniors under the direction of Miss K. F. McIntosh, of the local Department of Agriculture, last Tuesday evening at the Township Hall, Caledon, did not suffer the least bit in comparison. The crowd which filled the hall to its capacity was delighted with the efforts of the embryo actors and actresses.

The play, which has a delightful romantic and humorous vein throughout, typifies a rural farm home shows the son, not satisfied with farming along the sames lines as his grandfather, wanting more education. A quarrel with his father ensues and he is kicked out. He goes to an agricultural college and later he returns in time to save the farm from being sold under mortgage. A more modern system of farming is adopted and a prosperous farm home results. The cast in which each and everyone did themselves credit was as follows:—Charles Merill, a farmer, Meredith McKim; Merton Merill his son, Elgin Laughlin; Mrs. Merill farmer's wife, Violetta Akitt; Rose Meade, the school ma'am, Florence Rayburn; Gus Anderson the hired man, Homer Hillyard; Reuben Allen a neighbour, Lamont Laughlin; Mr Ashley, a lawyer, Clifford Bowes Robert Powell, a senior in law, Edwin Akitt; Marjorie Langdon, society debutante, Mary Flaherty; Hulda the maid, Nellie Tribble.

JAMES BRAIDEN

James Braiden, one of the oldest and most highly respected residents of the Coleridge district in the north of Amaranth, passed peacefully away at his late residence, "Maplehurst Farm," lot 27, con. 3, Amaranth, the home of his son, John J. Braiden, on Wednesday night, May 14th. The deceased had been in declining health for the last couple of months with heart trouble, but was able to be around until two weeks before his death. Despite his advanced age of 82 years, he was bright and active and fully realized that the time of his departure was at hand. He had finished his career, had borne the trials and vicissitudes of life with Christian fortitude and patiently awaited his Master's summons.

The late Mr. Braiden was born and raised at Farmington near Orangeville, spending his boyhood on the Braiden homestead, lot 5, con. 2, Amaranth. When he was quite a young man he and his brother, Andrew, started out for themselves, settling at Coleridge on lot 26, con. 3 where they set about the task of clearing the farm and making themselves a home. At that time the Coleridge district was solid bush and the Braiden brothers were among the first settlers. They experienced a full share of the trials and hardships and passed through the successive stages of pioneer life. Teaming and the marketing of grain was done in Brampton, Little York and Guelph. Aiden by the wise counsels and persevering labors of his young wife, the subject of our sketch was happy in his new home and his labors were crowned with success and a measure of prosperity beyond the average. He was for many years one of the most progressive and prosperous farmers in the County of Dufferin.

About twenty-four years ago, Mr Braiden, with his wife and family moved to lot 24, and built the beautiful home, which stands to his memory to-day. Here he spent the remainder of his life. His wife predeceased her husband 17 years ago this 24th of May. His brother, Andrew, who always resided with the family, died three years ago this month. The late Mr. Braiden was one of the oldest members of Shelburne Methodist Church, and was a man of exemplary Christian character. When he first settled at Coleridge there was no church in Shelburne. When the school was built on his farm he and his wife arranged with a minister to come and hold church services and Sunday School in the schoolhouse. Their home was always open to ministers, who were assured of a hospitable welcome. On one occasion, no less than three clerics were stormstayed at his home on the same night. In the early days a picnic was held on his farm for the purpose of raising money to carry on Christian work. Most of the people, who attended the affair came on horseback, which was then the chief mode of travelling in the district. One of the speakers was the late Dr. Barr, afterwards M. P. for Dufferin, who made the journey from Horning's Mills on horseback. In politics the late Mr. Braiden was a Conservative. He was a man of sterling character, who made many friends. Of him it has been said that he was never heard to say a hard word about any person. In the home he was a kind, loving, affectionate father, always interested in the welfare of his family and never happier than when he had his children around him. No finer tribute can be paid to a man at the close of life than that of a record of fatherly devotion, service, unselfish sacrifices and a spirit of kindly and thoughtful hospitality. Not only in material matters did Mr. Braiden become the friend and adviser of his children, but he led them unswervingly in the path of righteousness. His family will ever hold in sacred remembrance the memory of his life and good deeds and his friends and neighbors will cherish many recollections of his kindness and cordial friendship.

Mr. Braiden leaves to mourn his loss a family of nine sons and daughters, namely, John J. and Miss Minnie Braiden, on the homestead, Wm A., on the former homestead at Coleridge, Robt. J. of Weston, Mrs. (Rev.) R. N. Avison, of Salem, Oregon, Mrs. J. S. Hunter, of Weston Mrs. W. P. Matthews, of Toronto Mrs. W. K. Patterson and Mrs. H. S E. Patterson, of Shelburne The family were all with their father during his last illness with the exception of Mrs. Avison. He is also survived by twelve grandchildren, eight of whom acted as flower bearers at the funeral. He is also survived by three brothers, William Braiden, of Toronto, recently of Orangeville, C. Braiden, of Laurel, and John Braiden, of Seattle, Wash.

The funeral, which was held to Shelburne cemetery on Sunday afternoon, was largely attended. The services at the house and grave were conducted by the Rev. A. E. Owens, pastor of Shelburne Methodist Church, assisted by Rev. Dr. Caldwell, of Alton, a former pastor and a very dear friend of the family. The text was 2 Timothy 4: 6 and 7, "For I am now ready to be offered and the time of my departure is at hand. I have fought the good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith." During the service at the house one of his favorite hymns "Will the Circle be Unbroken," beautiful in its simplicity and solemnity, was sweetly rendered by a quartette from the Methodist choir, composed of Mr. and Mrs. J. Fife, Miss Doris Mason and Mr. Aubrey Wrigglesworth. The floral tributes were many and beautiful, among them being a Broken Circle from the family, showing the three vacancies in the home, Gates Ajar, Standing Crescent and numerous wreaths and sprays. The pallbearers were Messrs T. F. Brown, A. E. Rosevear, Ernest Horsley, Norman Stephenson, Wm Gracey and Wm. McCabe.

Friends from a distance who attended the funeral were Rev. Dr. Caldwell and Mr. Hilliard, of Alton Mr. Wm. Braiden, Toronto, and Mr. C. Braiden, Laurel; Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Matthews and daughter, Gertrude Miss Winnetta Hunter, Mr. Herbert Braiden and Messrs. Jos. Norwich E. Young and G. Irwin, of Toronto Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Braiden, Master Bobbie and little Miss Mary, and Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Hunter, of Weston; Messrs. Jas. and Roy Irwin, Mrs Irwin and Mrs. McQuarrie and son of Riverview; Mr. J. W. Irwin, of Mount Forest, and Mr. and Mrs. A. Moffatt and Mr. Murphy, of Rosemont.

JOHN J. M'CAUGHRIN

John James McCaughrin, a son of the late Alexander and Margaret McCaughrin, of Mono Road, passed away in Brampton on Wednesday morning, May 14th. John, as he was familiarly called by his friends went to Brampton two years ago for treatment for anaemia in Miss Sawyer's private hospital. He improved rapidly and was in the enjoyment of his usual health up to Sunday, May 4th, when he was suddenly stricken with paralysis of the throat, from which he failed to rally. His doctor was in almost constant attendance, but was able to do little more than afford a measure of relief from suffering. The late Mr. McCaughrin was a member of the Methodist Church at Mono Road and was a staunch Conservative. He is survived by one sister, Mrs. John Canham, of Sprague, Man., and a brother, Capt. Dan McCaughrin, of Mono Road. The funeral was held to Providence Cemetery at Sandhill on Thursday afternoon.

MARGARET A. SMITH

Miss Margaret Ann Smith, one of the oldest residents of the north end of Mono, passed away at her home in Primrose on Sunday morning after only three days' illness from bronchial pneumonia. Deceased who was in her 83rd year, was the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Smith, who settled on lot 32 con. 1, west, Mono, 103 years ago, being among the very first settlers in that district. Hospitable, open hearted Irish people, Mr. and Mrs. Smith kept open house for the pioneer settlers for many years and it is said that there was scarcely an incoming family in that neighborhood, who did not share in their generous hospitality. In her young days Miss Smith had the reputation of being one of the best stepdancers in the district. She was also a skilful and fearless rider, being as much at home bareback as present day equestrians are in the saddle Deceased is the last member of her family, having been predeceased by three brothers, William, Thomas and John Smith, all of whom lived to be over 80 years of age. The funeral was held from the home of Mr John Dowdall, lot 27, Prince of Wales Road, Mono, to St. Mary's R. C. Cemetery, lot 25, 2nd line, east, on Tuesday morning, Rev. Father Woods, of Orangeville, officiating. The pallbearers were Messrs. Wm. Allen, Geo. Halliday Douglas Bell, James Wilson, John Horner and James Dolan.

MRS. ROBINSON HOLLAND

On the morning of May 8th, 1924, one of the early settlers of Mono township passed away in the person of Mrs. Robinson Holland, of Sheldon. Elizabeth Westacott was born near Clinton, Hullett township, county of Huron, in October, 1853, and was married to Robinson Holland in 1871, her husband predeceasing her in 1918. Mrs. Holland had been a sufferer for a long time, but especially for the last fifteen months She always manifested much patience and fortitude during those long days and trying nights. She was beloved of her children as mother and companion. "Her children arise up and call her blessed."

The funeral service was conducted by her pastor, Rev. Charles H. Forth, in Wesley Methodist Church, of which she had long been a member. Sorrowing and lonely hearts were comforted by an exposition of John ch. 14, verses 1-3, and the singing of "The Homeland" by Mr. Forth. The remains were laid away in the family plot, but her spirit has gone to one of the mansions in glory. She leaves to mourn her passing a family of four sons and two daughters namely, William, of Richlea, Alta.; John Wesley, of Cincinatti, Ohio Ogle, of Regina, Sask., and Harry. Annie and Ina, at home. Mrs. Neil of Orangeville, and Mrs. J. B. Little, of Clinton, are the sisters, and Robert Westacott, of Grand Forks N. D., and George Westacott, of Winnipeg, are the surviving brothers. The pallbearers were Messrs. Samuel Caldwell, James and Joseph Quinn John Parker, Thos. Wilson and Wm. H. Patterson.

A programme has been drawn up and special days have been set aside for the opening of the new Memorial Hall, which has been erected from funds raised by students and ex-students of the college—the meetings of the Experimental Union, etc. Thursday and Friday of that week are Farmers' Days and big crowds of excursionists are expected from all parts of the province.

Special speakers from various parts of Canada, and the United States have been secured to give talks on problems which are of special interest to farmers at this time The different departments are preparing floats to represent the relation of the Department to the various phases of agriculture.

A programme of sports, including plowing match between dirt farmers and book farmers, tugs-of-war, etc. make up another portion of this very attractive programme.

Arrange with your neighbors to visit the O. A. C. on Friday, June 13th, and make it a day of pleasure and profit combined.

How Does Your Porch Floor Look?

There are two outstanding features about this Porch Floor Paint. One is that it is SPECIALLY made for Porch Floors—and combines a hard durable finish with a clean lustrous appearance. The other is that two pints will go as far as three pints of ordinary or so called cheap paint—assuring the consumer of Best Results and a considerable saving on the cost of material. The reason is to be found in the quality of the ingredients used and the fineness to which they are ground by powerful machinery. It is easily applied, dries quickly, and can be had in six harmonious shades.

BUT YOU OUGHT TO HEAR HIM HOLLER WHEN THE PAPER DOESN'T COME

My father says the paper he reads
ain't put up right;
He finds a lot of fault, too, he does,
perusin' it all night;
He says there ain't a single thing
in it worth to read,
And that it doesn't print the kind of stuff the people need;
He tosses it aside and says it's strictly on the bum,
But you ought to hear him holler
when the paper doesn't come!

He reads about the weddin' and he snorts like all get out;
He reads the social doin's with a most derisive shout.
He says they make the papers for the women folks alone;
He'll read about the parties and fume
and fret and groan;
He says of information it doesn't have a crumb—
But you ought to hear him holler
when the paper doesn't come!

He is always first to grab it and he reads it plumb clean through;
He doesn't miss an item, or a want
ad—that is true;
He says they don't know what we want, the darn newspaper guys;
"I'm going to take a day some time and go and put 'em wise;
"Sometimes it seems as though they must be deaf, blind and dumb."
But you ought to hear him holler
when the paper doesn't come!

BEFORE MY BABY CAME

I Was Greatly Benefited by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Sydenham, Ont.—"I took your medicine before my baby was born, and it was a great help to me as I was very poorly until I had started to take it. I just felt as though I was tired out all the time and would have weak, faint spells. My nerves would bother me until I could get little rest, night or day. I was told by a friend to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I only took a few bottles and it helped me wonderfully. I would recommend it to any woman. I am doing what I can to recommend this good medicine. I will lend that little book you sent me to any one I can help. You can with the greatest of pleasure use my name in regard to the Vegetable Compound if it will help others take it."—Mrs. HARVEY MILLIGAN, Sydenham, Ont.

It is remarkable how many cases have been reported similar to this one. Many women are poorly at such times and get into a weakened, run-down condition, when it is essential to the mother, as well as the child, that her strength be kept up.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent tonic for the mother at this time. It is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs, and does not contain any harmful drugs. It may be taken in safety by the nursing mother.

MRS. WM. SMALL

It was with deep regret that we learned of the sudden death of Mrs. William Small, of this place. The deceased had not enjoyed real good health for some time, but had only been bedfast for a week when without any warning whatever on Saturday night at 11.45 she quietly passed into the Great Beyond. Mrs. Small was born in Osprey township, county of Grey, in the year 1865, and was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Morrison, of McIntyre. After her marriage she and her husband moved to their home on 25 sideroad 3rd line, west, Mono, where they lived for twenty-one years. They then moved to lot 28, townline Mono and Amaranth, where they lived for twenty years, after which they moved to Shelburne, and have resided here but one year. The deceased was for forty years a faithful adherent and untiring worker in the Methodist Church at Primrose, where she won a great circle of warm friends by her quiet, kind and genial disposition. She was a loving wife and a faithful mother and was very deeply interested in the welfare of her family. As a neighbor she was highly respected for she was every ready to lend a helping hand in time of trouble. Besides her sorrowing husband she leaves a family of eight to mourn their loss, viz., R. Morrison, on the old farm at McIntyre; John Morrison, Kamloops, B. C.; Mrs. Ed. Haws, Cheboygan, Mich.; Mrs. Jas. Burnette Weston; Angus Morrison, Maxwell. Many beautiful floral tributes were received: Gates Ajar from the husband; pillow, from the family; wreaths—Mr. and Mrs. Jas Burnette and family, Weston; Fourth Class teacher and pupils; Mr. and Mrs. George Small, Toronto; sprays—Mr. and Mrs. Angus Morrison and family, Maxwell; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Myers and family; Women's Institute, Elba; Methodist Church, Primrose; Miss Hazel Acheson, Dundalk; Mr. and Mrs. J. Spilker. The funeral took place from the family residence on Owen Sound street on Tuesday afternoon to Shelburne Cemetery, and was largely attended. The following were the pallbearers: Messrs. Alex. McDonald, Richard Fines, William Gracey, Jas. Dolan Robert Ormsby. Those from a distance who attended the funeral were Mrs. Gideon Moore, Palmerston Robt. CURLY'S NEW SUIT

"Why, Curly, you're a pretty boy,
With eyes of deepest blue;
And hair so fair and such a curl;
We fall in love with you.

"And now arrayed in Sunday best,
You'll face the cold and snow;
But why we passed you, little man,
Is more than I can know."

Then Curly shook his pretty head,
And heaved a little sigh.
"When daddy was a drinking man,
In dirt and rags lived I."

"But, thank the Lord, that time has gone;
Your father's doing well;
You have a house and lots of food,
And happy things to tell."

"My Daddy used to slap me hard,
And say, 'Get out my way';
But now, he takes me on his knee
And sings to me all day.

"We have a house that keeps us warm
Since Daddy cut the drink;
And mother has a dandy dress,
And I this suit, just think!"

But people were not satisfied
To keep the drink away;
Of "Moderation" now they cried,
And Curly's Dad gave way.

I met a torn and battered lad,
With cruelly blackened eye,
"Why, Curly boy, what meaneth this Come, tell me now," said I.

"My Daddy's took to drink again;
He smashed my Mother's nose;
He threw the tub upon the floor,
And trampled upon the clothes.

"And when I would stand up for her
He knocked me off my feet;
And when I got right up again,
He threw me on the street.

"Ma fought him hard and hid her dress;
He kicked her with his boot;
But he got mine, and now he's off
To drink up my new suit."

DRUNKEN COWS GAVE ELORA ITS NAME

Reminiscenses in the Globe recently concerning the early days of the village of Elora have aroused the Elora district regarding the origin of Elora's euphonious name, and a remarkable explanation has been given by Elora's oldest inhabitant. Mrs. Molly Ricketts, who is now 102 years old, and who claims to have witnessed the strange episode which, she says, gave Elora its name.

The story centres about an early settler, who, with his sons and daughters, eked out an existence by horse-thieving and kindred mysterious criminalities. Among other things, the father operated a private still, whose existence was a closely guarded secret to all save himself and his favorite son. They, however, failed in their occupations, to notice a serious leak in their apparatus, with the result that the spirit, 100 per cent. proof, trickled through the thin floor of the shed where the distilling was done, seeped down through the fertile soil below the cottage, and gradually the whole reach of the river was transformed into a veritable punch bowl. And so it happened that the daughter, Lucia, descending to the river bank one moonlight evening, beheld a weird and wonderful sight.

Before her eyes were all the cows in a stage of riotous intoxication Some of them stood on their hind legs, waving their front ones, others danced friskily from side to side, and one animal was swimming out into the spirit-laden river with the evident intention of dying a riotous death. The sight was too much for the poor girl. Her eyes nearly started from her head, she fell upon her knees, and extending her hands to heaven began to pray at the top of her voice.

Mr. and Mrs. Ricketts, who were the nearest neighbors, aroused by the awful lamentations, rushed quickly to the scene, closely followed by the girl's father, who, amazed by the incongruous spectacle his daughter made as she supplicated the invisible Deity, ejaculated, "Ecce, elra," which is Italian for "Look, she prays." So forcibly did this expression strike the minds of the two onlookers that it has been preserved ever since in the name of the village of Elora. Sthere!

The first will ever filed and proved in Simcoe County was the will of George A. Darkman, a negro, according to the records kept in the Registry Office at Barrie. Darkman, who his will bequeathed his property, consisting of lot 15, concession 2, Oro to his wife and two sons, who were to hold it jointly. The will, which was written in 1841 and duly witnessed, was proved before Senator Gowan. George Love was the registrar at that time.

THE BANKRUPT WAY

I had a fine and gaudy car, quite fit for dukes and peers; "in it," I said "I'll travel far—it's good for twenty years. It is as good a bus I ween, as any guy should need; it gives me, for my gasoline, all kinds of power and speed." Thus I reasoned Monday night, but on the Tuesday morn, I was a sad and heartsick wight; I viewed my van with scorn. My next door neighbors, the O'Fakes, had bought a wagon new; it was equipped with four wheel brakes and mine had only two. I put a mortgage on my shack, and one upon my shed, and from the dealer soon brought back an auto painted red It had a brake on every wheel and cantilever springs, and it was built of costly steel—a tumbril fit for kings. "This car," I said, "I shall propel until I'm old and grey, until I hear the passing bell that summons me away." On Thursday night I reasoned thus, as I sat by my door; on Friday morn I saw a bus that made me sick and sore. It has the fat and mushy tires that people call balloon; and I went forth to seek my tires and sell my forks and spoons. "I'll have to have such tires," I said, "to train with other guys;" and on my shack and on my shed another mortgage lies. How happy is the man who tools a flivver old but true, and doesn't join the frantic fools who look for something new. —Walt Mason.

From the Registrar-General's Blue Book relating to the registration of births, marriages and deaths in the Province of Ontario for the year 1922 we take the following figures for Dufferin County:—Births, 316 marriages, 105; deaths, 201.

Less than two hours after he had started to work on a job at the Goderich elevator Norval Precious suffered three broken ribs when he fell while carrying lumber along the wharf east of the new elevator.

COURTEOUS DRIVING

Manners of Many Motorists Badly in Need of Mending—Arrogant Driving Cause of Many Accidents and Not a Few Traffic Problems—Ontario Motor League Campaigns For Safe Driving.

Why is it necessary for an automobile club to plant its road signs, bearing the phrase, "Courtesy Makes Safety," throughout a locality in which we know traffic to be very heavy?

Why do we see articles in magazines and newspapers with titles like this—"A Little More Courtesy, or a Lot More Trouble"?

What happens to a man when he gets behind his steering wheel? In many cases, some psychological change seems to take place in him, for he displays a woeful lack of courtesy toward his fellow-motorist. He does things as a motorist that he would never dare to do as a pedestrian.

For instance, it is not our custom to ram people as we pass them on the sidewalk; we do not cut a man off as he crosses the street; we do not deliberately try to steal another man's seats in the trolley car; yet we see analogous actions on the part of the motorist every day.

The other day, we saw a motorist making a parking, and this is what happened—He had pulled up alongside the car immediately in front of the space in which he wished to park preparatory to backing into this space. Another, but smaller car pulled up and tried to "sneak" into the same space before the first car could back in. An accident might have occurred, and naturally the first driver was incensed at this act of discourtesy, and he did not hesitate to tell the other man just what he thought of him.

The exceedingly human desire of wanting to "Get even" exists in all of us, and we do not doubt but that this act of discourtesy caused this man to vow that he would "Get even" with the next man who tried such tricks on him. If both men would apply the Golden Rule, many unfortunate developments might be prevented. It is noteworthy that the Ontario Motor League has campaigned for courteous driving since its inception.

The desire to make time in many cases leads to acts of discourtesy and sometimes disaster. This was brought home to us recently when we were driving with a friend.

The east and west-bound traffic had the right of way and no one slowed up to give the drivers going north and south an opportunity to go through—which made a bad situation worse—but, then, it was "Me first." We were the third car on the left of the north bound traffic; we wished to swing across the avenue and go left to the west, but it was necessary for us to wait until we could edge our way through the east and west-bound traffic.

Finally an opening occurred—the two cars in front of us dd not seize the opportunity to go through, so my friend swung around beside the car in front of him, and started across the avenue, thereby cutting off a car which was crossing the avenue from the north. This south-bound car hit the rear right fender of our car—he could do nothing else, for we had cut him off.

The man with whom we were driving not only violated a traffic rule in passing two cars abreast, but he acted discourteously to the other motorist by cutting him off, and actually endangered lives—not to speak of the traffic tie-up which resulted from his discourteous act prompted by his desire to make time. As it happened, he lost more time than if he had observed traffic rules and the courtesy of the road. We have all seen such acts of discourtesy on the part of our fellow-motorists, as cutting corners without signalling; speeding up when another motorist attempts to pass cutting in too sharply after passing a car, but not least, the indiscriminate use of the horn.

Human nature is just stubborn enough not to stand for being brushed aside by such acts, and stubbornness and irritation resulting from discourtesy make the right combination for trouble, and motoring in general suffers as a consequence.

"We have reached a point in motoring where, unless courtesy in driving receives renewed and serious attention," says Frederick C. Russell in Motor Life, "the piloting of an automobile will become a free-for-all, in which everyone will aim to make it just as inconvenient as possible for everyone else."

"The whole question apparently resolves itself into this: Every act of discourtesy encourages a more serious act of retaliation with its resulting train of annoyances and accidents. Why not, therefore, infer that every act of courtesy will bring forth a better act of reciprocation? Furthermore, why not try it? Automatically, others will follow suit."

Mr. Russell is right. With the great increase in the number of cars on our roads, and the corresponding increase in the complexities of driving, old-fashioned motor courtesy, it seems, has pretty well gone by the board. Many of our traffic tie-ups and accidents are laid to the score of too many automobiles on the streets—they will accommodate many more automobiles without any trouble if we are more considerate of the other fellow and the other fellow is more considerate of us.

Let us stop talking about horrible traffic conditions, congestion and accidents, and act on the supposition that courtesy makes safety. We feel sure that the daily application of this rule will do away with many of our traffic problems.

The most convincing proof of the true worth of "Fruit-a-tives" as a medicine for women is found in the letters written by them to "Fruit-a-tives". For instance:

(Dr. J. G. Shearer.)

All the world is sniffing at the stench of oil from Washington.

The smell of secret commissions in Ontario is pungent enough to effect nostrils far beyond the boundaries of that Province.

Strong malodors from Newfoundland reach far beyond the ancient colony's island shores.

That reveals one of the weaknesses of democracy. The many are indifferent to the public interest. Many others are over-trustful. It is easy for selfish schemers to fill their coffers with money belonging to the people. The money they get may be turned into their own pockets or into the treasury of their political party to help them maintain their hold on power. It may be paid in secret commissions by financial concerns or in generous subscriptions to party funds to enable friends to secure or retain possession of the treasury benches. Such immense profits are to be made from bond sales or from monopolistic franchises or from tacit permission to violate liquor laws or the Narcotic Drugs Act, that those securing these special privileges or advantages can well afford to offer bribes so immense that small men or easy men are sorely tempted. A well-known Hebrew bootlegger rose in Bradstreets from $75,000 to $2,000,000 in two years. It is no wonder some yield and make moral lapse, but live in comfort ever after. To some policemen or customs checkers $1,000 looks large. Some have risked their positions for such a bait. And to some much higher in the public service $50,000 or $100,000, or $500,000 looks wonderfully tempting.

And there is no question that immense sums of money are being spent by lawless plunderers to purchase immunity from the penalties due their violations of law.

Yet we have reason to rejoice that so often public servants indignantly refuse these golden baits. The writer is too experienced in public service to be impressed with the usual floating rumors, but he has unquestioned knowledge of cases in which public servants very recently have been offered sums varying all the way from $10,000 up to $500,000, which have been indignantly spurned. The would-be bribers are always too cunning in their manner of offering to expose themselves to arrest and conviction. But they do it none the less.

All honor to the men who refuse! It ought to be told of them to their credit. I, however, am not authorized to publish names.

What is the remedy? That is not so easy. For one thing, capable and clean men ought not to leave highly responsible positions to incapable and unclean schemers and grafters. Patriotism and Christian ethics call upon them to make the sacrifice office often entails. For another thing, it is the duty of the pulpit and the press to apply the principles of Christian ethics to such matters more frequently and more faithfully than is common. For still another thing, there should be unity and strength of effort on the part of all good citizens to frown upon and to resist to the utmost all efforts at profitable graft, privilege and lawlessness, whether among politicians public servants, bootleggers or dope dealers.

Democracy is the ideal form of government only for an ideal people. A much higher standard of calibre, intelligence, character and unselfish patriotism is necessary if democracy is to give more efficient government than under an autocracy, an oligarchy or a bureaucracy.

EUGENE LEPAGE GIVES TANLAC FULL CREDIT

Stomach Trouble Vanishes and Montreal Man Gains 14 lbs. on 4 Bottles.

"Since I began taking this wonderful Tanlac I seem to be getting younger every day. I have gained 14 lbs. on four bottles and everybody speaks about how well I look."

The above statement was made recently, by Eugene Lepage, proprietor of Prince of Wales barber shop, Montreal, Canada, one of the most exclusive tonsorial parlors in this city. Mr. Lepage further said:

"Stomach trouble had almost completely wrecked my health. I was a mere shadow of my former self and so run-down and nervous I thought I would have to give up my work.

"Tanlac soon had me eating everything, sleeping like a log at night and feeling as fine as one could ask to feel. My only regret is that I did not learn about Tanlac long before I did."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 Million bottles sold.

The provincial hatchery sent 2,400,000 fingerling trout to be placed in Big Long and Little Long Lakes, and millions will be sent out to other waters during the next few weeks.

The conviction of John Robinson of Alliston, by the Police Magistrate, for conducting a billiard room in connection with his barber shop, without charging, was sustained on appeal by Judge Wismer.

At a recent sitting of the Guelph Police Court, Mr. J. P. Arnold appeared to answer a charge laid by Humane Society Inspector Rev. As Mr. Arnold has only recently started business in Guelph and was unaware that he was breaking the law, the case was dismissed.

It's Here!

For years we have been making heat for cooking. We know how to get it — where to put it.

Then came the call for electric ranges; the call of economy, comfort and cleanliness. We had to respond.

We bought every electric range on the market. We laid them in pieces on our floors. This sounds as though it took minutes. It took months. We studied them as cook-stoves. And we made a discovery.

We found that nearly all were the products of electrical engineers — not of stove-builders.

The possibilities dawned on us. A cook-stove arose before our eyes—a cook-stove with electric heat, enough heat, then more than enough.

We designed the "Findlay" through stove-builder's eyes, with a knowledge of a woman's needs — designed it to store heat as well as make it — designed it for quality, style and beauty.

Then we called in the electrical engineers—the best in the world—and had them wire it and turn on the current. They turned it on — faster heat, cleaner heat, better heat than we had ever known. And here it is.

An Electric Range that is as Quick as a Flash—that boils a kettle in ten minutes.

That is Cheaper than Oil, Coal or Gas.—It does half its cooking with heat stored in its porcelain elements, instead of with the actual current.

That is Finished Inside and Out with Enamel—blue, grey, and white—clean! clean! clean!

The Findlay Electric gives you all that the others can give and more—it is wired with searchlight cable as pliable as string.

The heating elements are the fastest made.

The oven has a surplus of power.

Half its cooking is done with the heat that is stored when the current is on.

Turn off the power, and your kettle will boil for half an hour.

It is finished inside and out with the highest quality, indestructible enamel—every part is rust-proof.

Every corner is electric welded and "getatable."

From the outside, you know exactly what is going on inside, because an accurate mercury thermometer keeps you fully informed.

Let us send you our very interesting booklet on electric ranges. Just cut out this advertisement, write your name and address on it and mail it today

ALTON

The Alton Women's Institute held their annual meeting on Thursday, May 15th. The meeting was attended by a goodly number of the members, who evinced a keen interest in the proceedings. Reports submitted showed that the Society has had a very successful year, both financially and from the viewpoint of the interest and enthusiasm of the members. During the year the Society voted $25.00 to the Peel Memorial Hospital and two boxes of clothing to a charitable cause. At their regular meeting on January 17th the ladies provided a fowl supper, at which they entertained their husbands. This proved so successful that it was voted an annual affair. They also donated a box of fruit to Lord Dufferin Hospital, Orangeville, and donated $10.00 in prizes. The Institute has decided to assist the town fathers in remodelling the basement of the Town Hall. They have a goodly sum of money on hand for this purpose. The ladies have been untiring in their efforts and deserve a great deal of praise for the good work they have accomplished in the past year. The old officers were re-elected by acclamation as follows:—

President, Mrs. J. A. McLachlan; Vice-Presidents, Mrs. J. A. Lovell and Mrs. Stewart Corbett; Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. Joyce McConnell; Assistant, Mrs. T. W. Meek; Directors, Mrs. H. Nelson, Mrs. Wm. Alexander, Mrs. L. Yokom and Mrs. Wm. Shaw; Auditors, Mrs. Wm. Shaw and Mrs. Wm. Dick; Flower Committee, Mrs. Chas. Lovell, Mrs. Wm. Dick; District Director, Mrs. Wm. Dorrington; Publicity Representative, Mrs. T. W. Meek; Home and School Committee, Mrs. T. W. Meek and Mrs. G. Wallace.

Last Friday evening, May 16th the Women's Institute presented "Mirandy's Minstrels" in the Town Hall. The house was filled to capacity and the jokes of the actors were keenly relished by the audience. Miss Jones, the interlocutress, took her part well and also gave a few fitting remarks at the close of Part I. The four end ladies, who were dressed in showy costumes, deserve much credit for their excellent work. In fact the whole performance, consisting of singing in chorus work solos, speeches, cornet solos, step dancing and a cake walk, the whole plentifully peppered with jokes and witticisms, and followed by Mrs. Black's pink tea, was full of humour and provided the audience with plenty to laugh at and about. Much credit is due to Mrs. Dorrington for her untiring efforts in training and supervising the "Coons."

—The congregation of Burns' Church, Mono Centre, will hold its annual Picnic in McCarston's grove on May 24th.

SCARED WESTON

Dufferins Beaten by Single Goal in Saturday's Game Against Last Year's Champions.

The Dufferins delighted their supporters and lacrosse fans generally by the splendid showing they made against Weston in the first championship game of the year on Saturday afternoon. Incidentally they gave the Weston team and their supporters a bad scare and also convinced all who saw the game that the greenshirts will be real contenders for this year's championship honors. Without Golden, Blythe Brown, Sargeant and Burnside of last year's team and minus the services of Clyde Gordon, Ewing and Armour Robinson of this year's team, the Dufferins journeyed to Weston on Saturday on what seemed at best a forlorn hope. Everybody sensed defeat and there was genuine surprise even among the dyed in the wool fans when the news reached town that last year's champions had only been able to win by a one goal margin. The Dufferins made a surprisingly good showing against their strong opponents and have every reason to feel pleased over the outcome of the game. Seven of their players had never before figured in a senior lacrosse game. The team is fast, many of the players are young and there should be a marked improvement with every game.

With their last season's team of experienced players intact it was only to be expected that Weston would get the 'jump on the Dufferins in the early stages of the game. The garnet shirts were all over their opponents for the first ten minutes and were not long garnering three goals, Bob Stephenson, last year's Southampson find being responsible for two of the nearbulgers. Dufferins lost their nervousness and looked much better in the second period. At halftime they were on the short end of a 3 to 1 tally. In the third period they counted another, but Weston equalized and the count stood 4 to 2 when the rest gong sounded. The greenshirts were at their best in the final quarter, when they placed two goals to their credit, while the best Weston could do was a single tally. When they found they were being outfooted and outplayed, the garnet shirts commenced to rough it and penalties became frequent. Cushing and Rowan suffered most from the heavy checking, both men being cut about the head. Eddie and Ken Kingdom, Bob Stephenson and W. Coulter did the scoring for the victors. Charlie Rowan, Eddie Hawkins, Wilson and Blair accounted for the four Orangeville tallies, Ryan who played throughout with a badly injured shoulder, contributing to at least one of them with a beautiful assist. Players and officials were:

Weston—Rowntree, goal; Holly, point; Farr, coverpoint; Harris, W Coulter and Earl Stevenson, defence Golden, centre; E. Kingdom, H. Coulter and N. Riley, home; G. Dicken, outside home; R. Stephenson, inside home; K. Kingdom, White and Silk, subs.

Officials—E. Doyle, Len Smith.

"The Orangeville Dufferins furnished the surprise of the day when they stepped into Weston minus Golden, Burnside, Sargent and Brown of last year's squad, in addition to "Buck" Ewing and Clyde Gordon, of their present team, and still held the Red Shirts to a five to four victory. The Dufferin recruits after a very shaky start, settled away and outplayed their strong opponents, only inexperience keeping them from tying the score towards the end.

"Several of the players had only previously had one practice, but at that the lacrosse was of a remarkably snappy variety, the new substitute rule working to good effect. It was also clean throughout, though several penalties were inflicted for minor infractions. Weston gained their victory by their 'flying start which caught the less experienced "Duffs" by surprise, and they had the score three to nothing before the visitors woke up. Three to one at half-time, four to two at three-quarters, and five to four at the end was the way the scoring went.

"In the last half the Greenshirts working more surely, had the edge on the play and it took all Weston's good defensive ability to ward off their rally towards the finish. Eddie Kingdom and Eddie Hawkins led their teams in the attack, but there were really no individual stars. The feature of the game was the good showing of the Orangeville youngsters."

CADET INSPECTION

On Wednesday afternoon of last week the Orangeville High and Public School Cadet Corps were inspected by Capt. A. Nichols, M. C., of Toronto, Inspector of Cadet Services in Military District No. 2. Just as the Inspector arrived on the High School campus, where the Corps was drawn up ready for the inspection a downpour of rain arrived also. The rain dampened the proceedings and after the general salute and the march past, the Corps assembled in the gymnasium, where Capt. Nichols expressed his regret at not being able to go on with the inspection but assured the boys that their neat appearance, soldierly bearing and steadiness on parade during the ceremonial had impressed him very favorably. The High School officers were:—

Captain—Gordon Adamson.
1st Lieut.—R. Wilson McConnell
2nd Lieut.—Jamieson Anderson.
Com. Sgt. Major—Gordon Lewis.
Sergeants—No. 1 Platoon, James Marshall; No. 2, Jack Marshall; No 3, Fred Wansbrough; No. 4, Leonard Sanderson.

The Public School officers were:
Captain—Cecil Smith.
1st Lieut.—Gordon Smith.
2nd Lieut.—Victor Torrance.

MISS FLEMING'S RECITAL

About three hundred people attended the Piano Recital given by the pupils of Miss Kathleen Fleming, A. C. A. M., in the Opera House on Monday night. From the smallest to the most advanced the youthful performers acquitted themselves in a manner that did much credit to themselves and their teacher. Little tots played their simple pieces with a facility that furnished evidence of wise tuition and faithful practice. The numbers of the older pupils were admirably rendered and gave real pleasure to every music lover in the audience. The numbers were:—

"Far Away" (Lemoine) Crozier Price; "The Little Prince (Krogmann) Doris Henderson; Berceuse (Edwards) Donald Willoughby and Leigh Johnston; "Invitation to the Dance" (Heins) Jean Davison "Rondino in F" (Berger) Helen McKitrick; "In the Moonlight" (Barth) Helen Stump; "Dance of the Dewdrops" (Ducelle) Helen and Roger White; "An Evening Story" (Tellier) Edna Snell; "On the Swing" (Arnold) Sadie Little; "Hide and Seek" (Ellenberg) Ethel Prust; "Robin's Lullaby" (Krogmann) Hazelle and Wilbert Arnott; "Pink" (Lichner) Mary Clark; "Bluette Valse" (Duvorney) Ellen Sheldon; "Petite Valse" (Dennee) Eva Kinsley; "My Ideal" (Hodgins), Bertha Lemon; "Little Diamond" (Englemann) Constance Deans and Gladys Irwin; "Valse Episode" (Kern) Gladys Wallace; "Valse Op. 70, No. 1" (Chopin) Audrey Bracken; "Return March" (Lichner) Frank Marshall; "Valse" (Benson) Marguerite Buchanan "At the Fountain" (Ducelle) Reida Watson; "Valse, Op. 64, No. 1" (Chopin) Mildred Nichol; "Morceau Characterisque" (Wollenhaupt) Luella Johnston; "Narcissus" (Nevin) Bessie Sproule and Margaret Willoughby; "Pilgrims' Chorus" (Lange) Gladys Torrance; "Il Trovatore" (Dorn) Muriel Webb; "The Rivulet" (Wollenhaupt) Barbara McNaughton; "Valse in 'A' Flat" (Chopin) Cora Robinson; "Joyous Return" (Ringuet) Gladys Torrance and Elva Hayward; "Rustle of Spring" (Sinding) Luella Armstrong; "Andante and Rondo Capriccioso" (Mendelssohn) Ethel Trimble; "Hungarian Dances, Nos. 2, 5 and 7" (Brahms) Muriel Ellis.

The assisting artists, Miss Clara Hulse, violiniste, Mrs. C. E. Hanley contralto, and Mr. W. E. Capps tenor, were in excellent form and their numbers contributed much to the charm of the programme. Mrs. Fleming acted as their accompanist. Miss Fleming, who was warmly congratulated at the close of the programme, upon the marked success of her recital, has generously turned the net proceeds over to Lord Dufferin Hospital.

PROMOTED

Mr. J. D. Mackenzie, C. P. R. operator at the Orangeville station for the past four years, has been promoted to the position of second operator at Milton on the London division of the C. P. R. Mr. Mackenzie will leave for Milton, which is Mrs. Mackenzie's home town, about the first of June to assume his new duties. CHILDHOOD INDIGESTION

Nothing is more common in childhood than indigestion. Nothing is more dangerous to proper growth more weakening to the constitution or more likely to pave the way to dangerous disease. Fully nine-tenths of all the minor ills of childhood have their root in indigestion. There is no medicine for little ones to equal Baby's Own Tablets in relieving this trouble. They have proved of benefit in thousands of homes. Concerning them Mrs. Jos. Lunette, Immaculate Conception, Que., writes "My baby was a great sufferer from indigestion, but the Tablets soon set her right, and now I would not be without them." Baby's Own Tablets are sold by medicine dealers, or by mail, at 25 cents a box, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

HOLIDAY LACROSSE

Ottawa Shamrocks, the new entrants in the O. A. L. A. senior series, will be the guests of the Dufferins on Victoria Day and will try to take a fall out of their hosts at Idylwyld Park at 3.15 o'clock in the afternoon. The visitors are said to have a fast, snappy team and are expected to give the Dufferins a real game. The greenshirts cannot afford to lose this, or for that matter any of their home games, and will therefore field their strongest team Spectators are assured of a splendid exhibition of the national game with both teams fighting every minute of the four periods to pull out a victory. As Saturday is a public holiday the game will draw a large crowd and there is bound to be plenty of excitement for everybody. Admission, 50c and 25c; autos free.

LACROSSE NOTES

At the organization meeting of the Melancthon Lacrosse Club the following officers were elected for 1924:—Honorary President, Chas Ridley; President, Hugh Matthews Vice-President, H. Theaker; Secretary-Treasurer, Harold Watson Manager, Sam McComb. Melancthon, it is said, will likely enter the Dufferin League with Hockley Laurel and Mono College teams.

Hamilton were defeated by St. Simons at Scarboro Beach on Saturday. The Saints finished with the big end of a 6 to 4 score. The Toronto Telegram says that while strong individually Hamilton failed to show anything that looked like team play and adds that when the other home players failed to combine with him Blythe Brown folded up for the day in the face of Nettleship's persistent checking.

Irish-Canadians started right by notching a 6 to 3 win at the expense of Mimico. As the game was played on the Mimico grounds, the reverse was a sore touch for the suburbanites.

St. Catharines and Niagara Falls tied with 3 goals each in Saturday's game. After striving for ten minutes overtime in a futile effort to break the tie, the teams and officials decided to knock off and call it a day. They say they have two tidy senior teams across the lake this year.

PRESBYTERY NOTES

Rev. A. E. Thornley, of Shelburne has accepted a unanimous call from the congregation of Port Perry in the Presbytery of Whitby. His induction into the charge will take place early in June. The interim moderator of the Shelburne church is Rev. F. W. Mahaffy, B. A., of Orangeville.

Presbytery sustained a unanimous call from the congregation of Priceville and Swinton Park to Rev. A. Sutherland, lately of Consort, Alta. The stipend offered is $1800 with manse, glebe and four weeks' holidays. This field has been vacant for six months, but now has every prospect of being happily settled again

Provisional arrangements have been made for the induction of Mr Sutherland as follows:—Induction to take place at Priceville on June 3rd at 2.30 p.m., Rev. G. W. Rose to preside, Rev. Jos. Harrower to preach Rev. H. Shannon to address the minister and Dr. Lang the congregation

The sympathy of the Presbytery was extended to Mrs. Milne and family in their bereavement and sorrow Mr. Milne, who died on April 16th at Sunnidale Corners, held two pastorates in this Presbytery, namely Ballinafad and Everett. He was an excellent preacher and a kind, sympathetic man.

Presbytery is endeavoring to secure histories of all our congregations and have the same deposited in the vault of Knox College. This time Ballinafad, Melville and Fleshertonn supplied the required information from the beginnings of their congregations down to the present time.

The revised list of Commissioners to the General Assembly, which meets in Owen Sound on Wednesday, June 4th, is as follows:—

Elders—Messrs. H. McInnis, A. Grigg, W. B. McGowan and W. L. Craig.

The next meeting will be held in the Eugenia Pavilion on June 24th at 10.30 a.m. A picnic will be held in the afternoon, to which all the elders and their wives, together with the wives of the ministers are to be invited.

MISS FLEMING'S RECITAL

About three hundred people attended the Piano Recital given by the pupils of Miss Kathleen Fleming, A. C. A. M., in the Opera House on Monday night. From the smallest to the most advanced the youthful performers acquitted themselves in a manner that did much credit to themselves and their teacher. Little tots played their simple pieces with a facility that furnished evidence of wise tuition and faithful practice. The numbers of the older pupils were admirably rendered and gave real pleasure to every music lover in the audience. The numbers were:—

The assisting artists, Miss Clara Hulse, violiniste, Mrs. C. E. Hanley contralto, and Mr. W. E. Capps tenor, were in excellent form and their numbers contributed much to the charm of the programme. Miss Fleming acted as their accompanist Miss Fleming, who was warmly congratulated at the close of the programme, upon the marked success of her recital, has generously turned the net proceeds over to Lord Dufferin Hospital.

CHILDHOOD INDIGESTION

Nothing is more common in childhood than indigestion. Nothing is more dangerous to proper growth more weakening to the constitution or more likely to pave the way to dangerous disease. Fully nine-tenths of all the minor ills of childhood have their root in indigestion. There is no medicine for little ones to equal Baby's Own Tablets in relieving this trouble. They have proved of benefit in thousands of homes. Concerning them Mrs. Jos. Lunette, Immaculate Conception, Que., writes "My baby was a great sufferer from indigestion, but the Tablets soon set her right, and now I would not be without them." Baby's Own Tablets are sold by medicine dealers, or by mail, at 25 cents a box, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

HOLIDAY LACROSSE

Ottawa Shamrocks, the new entrants in the O. A. L. A. senior series, will be the guests of the Dufferins on Victoria Day and will try to take a fall out of their hosts at Idylwyld Park at 3.15 o'clock in the afternoon. The visitors are said to have a fast, snappy team and are expected to give the Dufferins a real game. The greenshirts cannot afford to lose this, or for that matter any of their home games, and will therefore field their strongest team Spectators are assured of a splendid exhibition of the national game with both teams fighting every minute of the four periods to pull out a victory. As Saturday is a public holiday the game will draw a large crowd and there is bound to be plenty of excitement for everybody. Admission, 50c and 25c; autos free.

LACROSSE NOTES

At the organization meeting of the Melanchton Lacrosse Club the following officers were elected for 1924:—Honorary President, Chas Ridley; President, Hugh Matthews Vice-President, H. Theaker; Secretary-Treasurer, Harold Watson Manager, Sam McComb. Melanchton, it is said, will likely enter the Dufferin League with Hockley Laurel and Mono College teams.

Hamilton were defeated by St. Simons at Scarboro Beach on Saturday. The Saints finished with the big end of a 6 to 4 score. The Toronto Telegram says that while strong individually Hamilton failed to show anything that looked like team play and adds that when the other home players failed to combine with him Blythe Brown folded up for the day in the face of Nettleship's persistent checking.

Irish-Canadians started right by notching a 6 to 3 win at the expense of Mimico. As the game was played on the Mimico grounds, the reverse was a sore touch for the suburbanites.

St. Catharines and Niagara Falls tied with 3 goals each in Saturday's game. After striving for ten minutes overtime in a futile effort to break the tie, the teams and officials decided to knock off and call it a day. They say they have two tidy senior teams across the lake this year.

PRESBYTERY NOTES

Rev. A. E. Thornley, of Shelburne has accepted a unanimous call from the congregation of Port Perry in the Presbytery of Whitby. His induction into the charge will take place early in June. The interim moderator of the Shelburne church is Rev. F. W. Mahaffy, B. A., of Orangeville.

Presbytery sustained a unanimous call from the congregation of Priceville and Swinton Park to Rev. A. Sutherland, lately of Consort, Alta. The stipend offered is $1800 with manse, glebe and four weeks' holidays. This field has been vacant for six months, but now has every prospect of being happily settled again

Provisional arrangements have been made for the induction of Mr Sutherland as follows:—Induction to take place at Priceville on June 3rd at 2.30 p.m., Rev. G. W. Rose to preside, Rev. Jos. Harrower to preach Rev. H. Shannon to address the minister and Dr. Lang the congregation

The sympathy of the Presbytery was extended to Mrs. Milne and family in their bereavement and sorrow Mr. Milne, who died on April 16th at Sunnidale Corners, held two pastorates in this Presbytery, namely Ballinafad and Everett. He was an excellent preacher and a kind, sympathetic man.

Presbytery is endeavoring to secure histories of all our congregations and have the same deposited in the vault of Knox College. This time Ballinafad, Melville and Fleshertonn supplied the required information from the beginnings of their congregations down to the present time.

The revised list of Commissioners to the General Assembly, which meets in Owen Sound on Wednesday, June 4th, is as follows:—

DUNLOP "CLIPPER" CORD

What to Buy, and Why

If you desire a tire—the best that can possibly be made, and having a world-wide reputation for efficiency—you will select Dunlop "Traction" Cord, Master of the Road.

If you desire a Cord Tire with a good record, but selling at a lower price than "Traction" Cord, you will decide in favor of Dunlop "Clipper" Cord—a tire that is being chosen by owners of many different makes of cars.

Dunlop "Traction" Fabric

Bus and Truck Heavy Service (30 x 3½) Dunlop "Traction" Cord

Dunlop "Clipper" Fabric

If you prefer the highest-grade Fabric Tire, selling at virtually the same price as "Clipper" Cord, then your choice will be Dunlop "Traction" Fabric.

If it is a competitive price tire you want—but still one that is of recognized value—then you will buy Dunlop "Clipper" Fabric.

If the tire desired is for Livery and Truck purposes—in size 30 x 3½—Dunlop "Bus and Truck Type" tire is "just the thing." It is a specially built pneumatic tire for this particular class of work, having the side-walls fully protected against curb or rut abuse. Other sizes of this type of tire are built heavier than ordinary Passenger Car types.

Every tire referred to above is sold by Dunlop Depots, and there is a price to suit all pockets.

You do not need to purchase tires of doubtful or unknown quality when you can obtain nationally known, sure quality Dunlop Tires to meet every requirement, such as referred to above.

INJUSTICE IN SCHOOL GRANTS

Hanover Council is doing good work in taking action to secure the co-operation of similar-sized towns in order to impress upon the Government the unfairness of their present system of giving grants to schools.

With a 12-room Public School here, Hanover gets a grant of $300. The village of Neustadt, six miles south of us, gets nearly $900, despite the fact that they have only 3 teachers, while Markdale, Durham and Dundalk get from $1,100 to $1,300, and Chesley, with about 7 teachers, gets $1,600.

What we take exception to is the classing of schools in these towns and villages as "rural" schools, which enables them to get such large grants. We do not object to strictly rural schools getting larger grants than we do, but it requires quite a stretch of imagination to think of Chesley, for instance, as a "rural" municipality considering that they have a population of over 1700.

The Act which made such an unjust discrimination, was passed about three years ago, influenced, no doubt, by deputations from municipalities of under 2,000 population, who urged that they be classed as rural schools. Towns of over 2,000 population do not get a grant on teachers' salaries, while those of under 2,000 get a grant, and this is where the unfairness lies. There is also a discrimination in the amount of the grant on certificates which is hard to understand.

We believe that the Minister of Education is now considering a revision of grants, which is expected to be made public in June, and we hope that he will see the unfairness of the present system and arrange the grants to help those schools which should be assisted and not discriminate so unfairly among town schools.—Hanover Post.

THE SENIOR DUFFERINS

The lacrosse expert of the Evening Telegram has been writing a series of articles on the senior lacrosse teams. He sizes up the Dufferins after this fashion:—

The Orangeville Dufferins will play senior lacrosse this year, despite all reports to the contrary, and they will be no weak sisters, either—not by a long shot. In the annual shifting of players they have been hit harder this spring than any other club in the league, with the exception of St. Kitts, but they have enough men of senior calibre to round out—with some half-dozen good prospects picked up from intermediate ranks—a formidable aggregation.

Any team that loses four players such as Burnside, Sargeant, Brown and Golden, is naturally weakened to some extent, but the greenshirts' officers have done a good piece of repair work in patching up the holes. One of the brightest spots in their troubles is the return of Firth, the goalkeeper, who is expected to remain in Orangeville for the summer, and this lad can play other positions as well as the nets. He has the size and speed to make a good defence man, and has had experience on the home.

The newcomers claimed by the "Duffs" are the two Blair boys from Arthur, Hillis and Fisher from Elora, and McKinstry, the big Bradford point man. The first four are all fielders. Then Dr. Zinn might take down his stick once more which would help greatly on the attacking line.

Looking them over, there does not seem much the matter with the defence. Raspin Scott, Henderson Joe Cushing and "Buck" Ewing are a quartette that would look good on any team, Cusning and Ewing being without peers at their positions, and McKinstry would round out the rearguard. As for goal the veteran Bert Booth can still turn in a capable performance, and then there is Firth to fall back on in emergency.

As Golden, Burnside and Sargeant are all fielders, it is in the field that the Dufferins are most weakened and here much depends on the work of their additions. Wilson, first aub. of last year, is good enough for a regular place. Robinson might also do, and from Firth, the four intermediates mentioned above and a few youngsters there should be at least two make the grade. At that, these fair players, in good condition, might accomplish just as much as last year's starry collection, who were not always at their best for the hardest grinds.

The attacking punch will be supplied by three of last year's stalwarts, Cruikshank, a defence man for the most part of the past season but much more effective on the home; Eddie Hawkins, the clever little inside man; Clyde Gordon, and perhaps Zinn. Those men have experience, know one another, and can play together. Ewing can also be used on the home.

A lot of the success of the attack rests on the ability of Gordon to hit his old stride. Last year, save for a few games, the Grand Valley sniper did not display his best lacrosse but when "right" he has few equals. Taken all round, the Dufferins are a team that must be reckoned with. On paper they do not shape up as strong as last season's classy looking squad, but certainly appear as strong as the team of 1922. And it will be remembered that, while the Dufferins finished fourth last year in 1922 they won the Association championship.

After forty years of faithful service as teacher in Owen Sound Collegiate Institute, J. H. Peckham has resigned.

DUFFERINS WIN HOLIDAY GAME FROM OTTAWA SHAMROCKS

Visitors Staged Dangerous Rally in Third Quarter, Making Score a Tie.

Considering the inclemency of the day the lacrosse match between The Dufferins and the Ottawa Shamrocks attracted a surprisingly large crowd to Idylwyld Park on Saturday afternoon. A conservative estimate placed the number of spectators at twelve hundred or upwards. It was anything but an ideal day for lacrosse. A chilly wind blew from the northwest, making it uncomfortable for players and spectators alike. Many of the latter wore winter wraps and overcoats and were the envied of less fortunate holiday makers, who had fared forth in light spring or summer clothing. Friday night's downpour had soaked the playing field, leaving the ground so soggy and slippery that the players found the going heavy and the footing very uncertain. In places the water lay on the surface in small ponds, through which the players slipped and splashed ankle deep.

Handicapped as they were by these unfavorable conditions, the two teams played excellent lacrosse. At times the game dragged and there was a looseness and uncertainty about the passing and combination work that did not create a very favorable impression. At other times the play was brilliant and the contending twelves showed flashes of form and finish that are not often seen this early in the season. Altogether it was a real game that gave the spectators plenty to enthuse over. The Shamrocks have a fast, aggressive home and when they got working properly the Dufferins' defence was hard set to give Firth's citadel adequate protection. The visiting defence checked closely and played hard, but did not seem to have players of the same outstanding ability as the home, where the two Connells, Duncan and Rockburn demonstrated that they were good enough for any company. The Dufferins displayed surprisingly good form, considering the lack of opportunity for outdoors practice. The younger players were in particularly good shape, and showed speed, and determination that amply compensated for any lack of finish in their play. The greenshirts were handicapped by the absence of Joe Cushing, their strong coverpoint man, who was ill and therefore unable to play. Tommy Ryan, the speedy little centrefielder, was also suffering from an injured arm that was almost useless. He played a plucky game until halftime, when he was taken out.

Orangeville stepped out in front early in the game, when Eddie Hawkins, the clever inside home player, sidestepped his check and beat Carroll with a wicked shot. Clyde Gordon, who showed a good deal of his oldtime form, further improved the position of the greenshirts by netting the rubber in clever style. Ottawa improved as the game progressed and it was not long until their home began to develope some fast and dangerous rushes. Finally they broke through the Dufferins defence for a score, Duncan netting the ball with a hard drive. Near the end of the quarter, Charlie Rowan, one of the Dufferins' fleet-footed fielders, ran in from centre, took a pass from the side and beat Carroll with a waist high shot. The quarter ended with the count standing 3 to 1 for the Dufferins.

The locals continued the good work in the second period, the home subjecting the Ottawa goalie to a veritable bombardment, raining in shots from all angles. Carroll stood up to his work in wonderful style, turning aside shot after shot that looked to be tagged for counters. The Ottawa rushes were fewer, but some of them looked really dangerous and Firth was called upon to stop a couple of real hot shots. Dufferins counted first on a pass from Gordon to Wilson, the latter negotiating the goal. After several unsuccessful tries, the Dufferins took another, Ewing doing the trick after a well-timed run in from near centre field. Ottaawa rushed hard near the end of the quarter, their defence coming down to help the home. Schultz broke away near the flags and scored from eight yards out. Halftime score 5 to 2.

The visitors made the best showing of the game in the third period, when their home walked right into the Dufferin defence and garnered three goals all in a row. A. Connell scored the first in rather easy fashion, but the others were earned and came after fast, clever plays. C. Connell took the second and Rockburn, the centrefielder, the third. The Dufferins were a man short while the Irishmen were running amuck, otherwise the latter would not have fared so well. Blair, a young but clean and heady player, had the hard luck to get benched for an accidental offence. He served his time, and had just returned to the field, when he was awarded a second penalty. With the score a tie and the game in real danger, Dufferins pulled themselves together and the quarter ended without any further damage.

The locals trotted out a rearranged line-up for the final, presenting what was perhaps the most effective team of the game. The result was soon apparent. The locals were generally on the aggressive and Ottawa did not have more than a couple of chances to count during the quarter. Once they looked really dangerous, but Firth made a clever intercept and the home fans breathed again. Gordon came through with the goal that was needed to put the Dufferins out in front again. A little later Cruikshank helped to make the game safe by dodging his check, and then beating Carroll with a shot that went close to the side of the net. That ended the scoring. When the whistle sounded the ball was in midfield with The Dufferins in possession. Teams and players were:

THE METHODIST CHURCH

Statistical returns of the Orangeville Methodist Church for the year ending April 30th, 1924, show that the church has enjoyed a really prosperous year. Forty-three new members were received during the year while 22 were lost through death, removal and other causes, making a net gain of 21. The church has a resident membership of 403 and a non-resident membership of 28, or a total of 431. The number of families ministered to is 200 and during the year the pastor solemnized 14 marriages, attended 12 burials and officiated at 12 infant baptisms. Contributions for connexional funds totalled $2,202, the amount raised for circuit purposes amounted to $5,204, and the amount for ministerial support to $2,000. A further sum of $70 was contributed for the week of the Lord's Day Alliance making a grand total of $9,476 for all purposes. Membership of the different auxiliary organizations is as follows:—Ladies' Aid Society 30; W. M. S., 50; Mission Circle, 38; Mission Band, 45; Young People's Society, 45. The Sabbath School has 24 officers and teachers and 209 scholars. Rev. H. L. Partridge, the hard-working pastor of the church is now approaching the end of his fourth year as pastor. —Mimico vs. The Dufferins, senior championship lacrosse match, Idylwyld Park, Wednesday afternoon, June 4th.

LACROSSE NOTES

Saturday's win from Ottawa meant something to The Dufferins, as it counted as much as two wins from any of the other teams. On account of the great distance the easterners have to travel they are playing a single schedule, but each win counts two points. A loss on Saturday would therefore have been equivalent to the loss of two games. The other teams in the group are playing a double schedule.

Saturday's gate was over $500, but it took it all to pay the expenses of the Ottawa team and the bills of the officials. Of course the Dufferins will get their expenses paid when they journey to Ottawa for the return game.

Dufferins journey to Toronto on Saturday, where they will stack up against the Irish-Canadians at Scarborough Beach. The Irish-Canadians are touted as one of the strongest of the Toronto teams and the greenshirts will have their work cut out for them if they are going to win.

Mimico will meet The Dufferins on Idylwyld Park on Wednesday afternoon of next week. The lake shore team has not been faring very well so far, having lost both of their games. The trouble is not a weak team, but rather that a team that is admittedly strong has not got into its stride. Mimico has always proved a hard team to beat on the Idylwyld grounds, which seem to be just to its liking. The Dufferins are looking for a hard game and will field their best twelve. Ball will be faced at 3.15 sharp. Admission, 50c and 25c, plus tax. Autos free.

Brampton made an impressive showing at Mimico on the holiday, winning from the home team by a score of 8 to 2.

Hamilton threw a surprise into the ranks of the Toronto fans on Victoria Day by defeating the Toronto Maitlands by 9 to 4. The Ambitious City team showed a marked improvement in form and had the game well in hand at all stages.

ONTARIO POULTRY ONE-THIRD CULLS

During the past year 414 culling demonstrations were held by the O. A. C. Poultry Department Extension men—a total of over 5,000 attended. In addition to the 414 culling demonstrations, culling schools were held in Woodstock, Port Hope and Napanee. Of the 50,000 hens handled at demonstrations, over 17,000 were considered to be culls in so far as profitable egg producers is concerned, according to Professor W. R. Graham, of Guelph.

In view of the above facts, it is no wonder that on the average farm the poultry are not making the returns they should. It is safe to say that the revenue from the average farm flock can be doubled by more intelligent breeding, weeding and feeding. Make a start this year by culling out your boarders.

A NEWSPAPER CHANGE

The Trent Valley Newspapers, Limited, have sold the Trenton Courier-Advocate to Mr. Vance A. Statia, an old newspaperman and a former proprietor of that paper. Mr. Statia, who has been in the newspaper business for thirty-five years, is a former proprietor of the now defunct Dufferin Post, published in Orangeville for many years. He has also been in charge of the Leamington News, Highgate Monitor, Bothwell Times and Streetsville Review at different times. Mr. Statia will take charge of the Courier-Advance on June 1st. It is interesting to note that it will then be just thirteen months since he sold the paper to the Trent Valley Newspapers, Limited.

CALEDON

We regret to learn that Mrs. Wm. Morris, who underwent a severe operation some time ago, is still quite seriously ill.

The congregation of Knox Church are now in the midst of the work of renovating and redecorating the church. Mr. A. W. Adam has completed the work of reshingling the edifice and the wiring has been finished. T. W. Munro, a genuine son of auld Scotia, now living in Toronto, has the contract of painting the church and promises a first-class job. Meantime the Sunday services are being held in the Township Hall.

ELBA

The annual meeting of Elba Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. W. J. Henry on May 14th, when the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President, Mrs. B. Sommerfield; Vice-Presidents, Mrs. Wm. Wooder, Mrs. W. J. Henry; Sec.-Treas. Miss Clara Wilson; Directors, Mrs. Geo. Acheson, Mrs. J. A. Fines, Mrs. W. J. Dermott, Mrs. A. Altogether it was a real game that gave the spectators plenty to enthuse over. The Shamrocks have a fast, aggressive home and when they got working properly the Dufferins' defence was hard set to give Firth's citadel adequate protection. The visiting defence checked closely and played hard, but did not seem to have players of the same outstanding ability as the home, where the two Connells, Duncan and Rockburn demonstrated that they were good enough for any company. The Dufferins displayed surprisingly good form, considering the lack of opportunity for outdoors practice. The younger players were in particularly good shape, and showed speed, and determination that amply compensated for any lack of finish in their play. The greenshirts were handicapped by the absence of Joe Cushing, their strong coverpoint man, who was ill and therefore unable to play. Tommy Ryan, the speedy little centrefielder, was also suffering from an injured arm that was almost useless. He played a plucky game until halftime, when he was taken out.

Orangeville stepped out in front early in the game, when Eddie Hawkins, the clever inside home player, sidestepped his check and beat Carroll with a wicked shot. Clyde Gordon, who showed a good deal of his oldtime form, further improved the position of the greenshirts by netting the rubber in clever style. Ottawa improved as the game progressed and it was not long until their home began to develope some fast and dangerous rushes. Finally they broke through the Dufferins defence for a score, Duncan netting the ball with a hard drive. Near the end of the quarter, Charlie Rowan, one of the Dufferins' fleet-footed fielders, ran in from centre, took a pass from the side and beat Carroll with a waist high shot. The quarter ended with the count standing 3 to 1 for the Dufferins.

The locals continued the good work in the second period, the home subjecting the Ottawa goalie to a veritable bombardment, raining in shots from all angles. Carroll stood up to his work in wonderful style, turning aside shot after shot that looked to be tagged for counters. The Ottawa rushes were fewer, but some of them looked really dangerous and Firth was called upon to stop a couple of real hot shots. Dufferins counted first on a pass from Gordon to Wilson, the latter negotiating the goal. After several unsuccessful tries, the Dufferins took another, Ewing doing the trick after a well-timed run in from near centre field. Ottawa rushed hard near the end of the quarter, their defence coming down to help the home. Schultz broke away near the flags and scored from eight yards out. Halftime score 5 to 2.

The visitors made the best showing of the game in the third period, when their home walked right into the Dufferin defence and garnered three goals all in a row. A. Connell scored the first in rather easy fashion, but the others were earned and came after fast, clever plays. C. Connell took the second and Rockburn, the centrefielder, the third. The Dufferins were a man short while the Irishmen were running amuck, otherwise the latter would not have fared so well. Blair, a young but clean and heady player, had the hard luck to get benched for an accidental offence. He served his time, and had just returned to the field, when he was awarded a second penalty. With the score a tie and the game in real danger, Dufferins pulled themselves together, and the quarter ended without any further damage.

The locals trotted out a rearranged line-up for the final, presenting what was perhaps the most effective team of the game. The result was soon apparent. The locals were generally on the aggressive and Ottawa did not have more than a couple of chances to count during the quarter. Once they looked really dangerous, but Firth made a clever intercept and the home fans breathed again. Gordon came through with the goal that was needed to put the Dufferins out in front again. A little later Cruikshank helped to make the game safe by dodging his check and then beating Carroll with a shot that went close to the side of the net. That ended the scoring. When the whistle sounded the ball was in midfield with The Dufferins in possession. Teams and players were:

THE METHODIST CHURCH

Statistical returns of the Orangeville Methodist Church for the year ending April 30th, 1924, show that the church has enjoyed a really prosperous year. Forty-three new members were received during the year while 22 were lost through death, removal and other causes, making a net gain of 21. The church has a resident membership of 403 and a non-resident membership of 28, or a total of 431. The number of families ministered to is 200 and during the year the pastor solemnized 14 marriages, attended 12 burials and officiated at 12 infant baptisms. Contributions for connexional funds totalled $2,202, the amount raised for circuit purposes amounted to $5,204, and the amount for ministerial support to $2,000. A further sum of $70 was contributed for the week of the Lord's Day Alliance making a grand total of $9,476 for all purposes. Membership of the different auxiliary organizations is as follows:—Ladies' Aid Society 30; W. M. S., 50; Mission Circle, 38; Mission Band, 45; Young People's Society, 45. The Sabbath School has 24 officers and teachers and 209 scholars. Rev. H. L. Partridge, the hard-working pastor of the church is now approaching the end of his fourth year as pastor. He has been given an invitation to remain for a fifth year, but whether he will be allowed to do so or not will depend on the will of the Conference Stationing Committee.

—Mimico vs. The Dufferins, senior championship lacrosse match, Idylwyld Park, Wednesday afternoon, June 4th.

LACROSSE NOTES

Saturday's win from Ottawa meant something to The Dufferins, as it counted as much as two wins from any of the other teams. On account of the great distance the easterners have to travel they are playing a single schedule, but each win counts two points. A loss on Saturday would therefore have been equivalent to the loss of two games. The other teams in the group are playing a double schedule.

Saturday's gate was over $500, but it took it all to pay the expenses of the Ottawa team and the bills of the officials. Of course the Dufferins will get their expenses paid when they journey to Ottawa for the return game.

Dufferins journey to Toronto on Saturday, where they will stack up against the Irish-Canadians at Scarborough Beach. The Irish-Canadians are touted as one of the strongest of the Toronto teams and the greenshirts will have their work cut out for them if they are going to win.

Mimico will meet The Dufferins on Idylwyld Park on Wednesday afternoon of next week. The lake shore team has not been faring very well so far, having lost both of their games. The trouble is not a weak team, but rather that a team that is admittedly strong has not got into its stride. Mimico has always proved a hard team to beat on the Idylwyld grounds, which seem to be just to its liking. The Dufferins are looking for a hard game and will field their best twelve. Ball will be faced at 3.15 sharp. Admission, 50c and 25c, plus tax. Autos free.

Brampton made an impressive showing at Mimico on the holiday, winning from the home team by a score of 8 to 2.

Hamilton threw a surprise into the ranks of the Toronto fans on Victoria Day by defeating the Toronto Maitlands by 9 to 4. The Ambitious City team showed a marked improvement in form and had the game well in hand at all stages.

ONTARIO POULTRY ONE-THIRD CULLS

During the past year 414 culling demonstrations were held by the O. A. C. Poultry Department Extension men—a total of over 5,000 attended. In addition to the 414 culling demonstrations, culling schools were held in Woodstock, Port Hope and Napanee. Of the 50,000 hens handled at demonstrations, over 17,000 were considered to be culls in so far as profitable egg producers is concerned, according to Professor W. R. Graham, of Guelph.

In view of the above facts, it is no wonder that on the average farm the poultry are not making the returns they should. It is safe to say that the revenue from the average farm flock can be doubled by more intelligent breeding, weeding and feeding. Make a start this year by culling out your boarders.

A NEWSPAPER CHANGE

The Trent Valley Newspapers, Limited, have sold the Trenton Courier-Advocate to Mr. Vance A. Statia, an old newspaperman and a former proprietor of that paper. Mr. Statia, who has been in the newspaper business for thirty-five years, is a former proprietor of the now defunct Dufferin Post, published in Orangeville for many years. He has also been in charge of the Leamington News, Highgate Monitor, Bothwell Times and Streetsville Review at different times. Mr. Statia will take charge of the Courier-Advance on June 1st. It is interesting to note that it will then be just thirteen months since he sold the paper to the Trent Valley Newspapers, Limited.

CALEDON

We regret to learn that Mrs. Wm. Morris, who underwent a severe operation some time ago, is still quite seriously ill.

The congregation of Knox Church are now in the midst of the work of renovating and redecorating the church. Mr. A. W. Adams has completed the work of resurfacing the edifice and the wiring has been finished. T. W. Munroe, a genuine son of auld Scotia, now of Toronto, has the contract of decorating the church and promises a first-class job. Meantime the Sunday services are being held in the Township Hall.

ELBA

CHARLTON

(Intended for last week.)

The Young People's Society of the Union Church are practicing for a concert to be held in the early part of June. The exact date and place have not been decided yet, but those in charge are busy getting plays, dialogues, recitations and choruses arranged. The members of the Society would appreciate very much the hearty support and co-operation of the whole community in this their first concert since their organization.

We are pleased to see Mr. George Tough here again after his vacation in the Southern States. While in town he is staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Hough.

Mrs. Geo. Harkies visited friends in Englehart on Monday.

Mr. Allen Hill left on Monday morning for Kirkland Lake, where he has secured a position.

Our celebration of Mothers' Day this year was a decided success in every way. The afternoon and evening services were both well attended. The platform of the church was tastefully decorated with flowers and plants, which were kindly loaned or given for the occasion by members of the congregation. A number of mothers were invited into the choir for the occasion and sang the beautiful selection, entitled "Tell Mother I'll Be There." Mrs. Black and Mrs. McCauley sang, "My Mother's Prayers Have Followed Me." The Misses Hynes, Gardiner and Fraser sang, "Those Beautiful, Beautiful Hands" and several of the little tots gave recitations. Rev. Fraser, the pastor, spoke very appropriately on the subject, "Mother, her importance in the home, community and nation." During the course of the service Mr. and Mrs. Percy Smith had their little son baptized.

Great strides forward have been made in our church life here since last Mothers' Day. The service of a year ago was held in a 16 by 20 ft. Relief Building, and now, thanks to our friends of the south and our own efforts, we have a beautiful church and parsonage complete.

CLYDESDALE STALLION

KRISHNA

The Property of

GEORGE THOMPSON

Mono Township Orangeville, Ont.

DESCRIPTION AND PEDIGREE

KRISHNA (imp.) 23714 (20603). Bay, face and legs white, born April 20th, 1920, bred by Mrs. Georgina Gall, Smiddyburn, Rothie Norman, Scotland; imported September 4th, 1922, by James Torrance, Markham, Ont.

As was confidently predicted, Krishna is acknowledged to be the best young horse in Canada at the present time. His pedigree contains the most fashionable blood in past and present-day Clydesdales and, in every case, breeding counts. He is full of quality, style and has magnificent movement, and is the true cart horse type so much in demand throughout the world at the present time. He has grand big open feet, fine silky hair, this being characteristic of his breeding; his action, like that of all the Dunure Footprint descent, being simply perfection. While only a young horse, he has practically carried everything before him. His phenomenal record as a Show horse has seldom been equalled. As a foal he first made his appearance at Lanark Foal Show, Scotland, and gained his first prize in a large class of Colt Foals. He again made his appearance at the Royal Show in England, where he was placed first as a yearling stallion, and was in the short leet for the Supreme Championship. He was exported to Canada by the veteran Clydesdale breeder, A. M. Montgomery, of Netherall, Scotland. At the Royal Winter Fair, Toronto, 1922, he was first prize 2-year-old and Reserve Grand Champion Clydesdale Stallion. This was one of the strongest Clydesdale Shows ever held in Canada, there being 18 aged stallions shown. At the International Show, Chicago, he was Junior Champion, only beaten by Fairholme Footprint, his half-brother. At Guelph, 1922, he was made Grand Champion Stallion. At the Canadian National Exhibition, 1923, he was made Grand Champion, and at the recent Winter Fair, at Chatham, he gained the Grand Championship and Gold Medal, being placed over the Grand Champion at the Ottawa Winter Fair and the Grand Champion at the 1923 Ontario Provincial Winter Fair, Guelph.

Kismet, the sire of Krishna, is proving to be the best breeding son of Dunure Footprint, the size and magnificent quality reflected in his produce being quite phenomenal. He is again Stud Horse at St. John's Wells, Fyvie, Aberdeenshire, where mares are being booked to him from all over Scotland. He is a Cawdor Cup and Brydon Shield winner and many other championships. His dam (Moira) was also a Cawdor Cup Champion Mare. Kismet is also closely related to Fyvie Sensation, the triple Highland Champion. Dunure Footprint, Grand Sire of Krishna, is the recognized Champion breeding horse living or dead in any part of the world. His fine record on the Scottish breeding table shows his produce winning more than all other stallions combined. His sire was the all famous Baron O' Buchlyvie, who was sold at Public Auction for $47,500.

Krishna's Dam, LADY OF SMIDDYBURN, 21333, was one of the fine race of mares owned by the late Walter S. Park. She was successfuly shown and won on several occasions. She was a noted breeder and several of her sons held district premiums, her sire being the big, weighty draught stallion (Baron Gartly), who was so much in favour with Clydesdale men, his sire being the noted Glasgow Champion horse (Casabianca), whose produce were consistent for splendid size and quality.

Grand Dam, NANCY 17825, whose career as a brood mare was one long triumph, both in the show ring and at the Stud. His sire, McVINNIE, was one of the epoch making stallions of the breed, his sire being the celebrated McGREGOR, too well known to Clydesdale men to need any comment. It is doubtful if ever a more noted bred Clydesdale Stallion stood for service in Canada—Kismet, Dunure Footprint, Baron O' Buchlyvie, Auchenflower, McGregor—a sufficient guarantee for any horse.

Krishna, with such lines of breeding, cannot fail to produce the proper type. He is looked upon to be strictly a reliable breeder and the only safe Sire to use on approved Mares.

Misses Annie and Margaret Harvey, of Toronto, visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harvey, over the week-end.

MARSVILLE

Miss Reek, of Blenheim, the departmental speaker, will be present at the next meeting of the Marsville Women's Institute. The meeting will be held in the Presbyterian Church on the afternoon of June 20th. A full attendance of the members is requested. All ladies in the neighborhood are cordially invited to attend this meeting.

On Thursday, May 22nd, there passed to the Great Beyond, at her late residence, Medland Crescent, Toronto, a former resident of this village in the person of Mrs. James Madigan. The deceased, whose maiden name was Sarah Jane Reid, was born in Ireland 73 years ago and came to Canada while quite young. She was married to James Madigan at Otterville. About forty years ago they moved to this vicinity and resided here until the year 1911, when they moved to West Toronto. Deceased was a woman of many excellent qualities, which endeared her to numerous friends. She proved herself a faithful wife and was ever devoted to her family. She was a lifelong member of the Anglican Church. The funeral took place on Saturday afternoon to Price's Corners Cemetery, the remains coming from Toronto to Hillsburg on the noon train. The Rev. Mr. Gibson, Anglican minister of Erin, conducted the services at the grave. Besides the bereaved husband, Mrs. Madigan leaves four daughters and one son—Mrs. Frank Hillis and Mrs. Alex. Warnock, of the 14th line, East Garafraxa, Mrs. Geo. Wilson, of Nestleton, and Maud and Leslie, of Toronto.

There died in Hamilton on Wednesday, May 21st, an old resident of this district in the person of Mrs. Jane Walker, widow of the late John Walker. The funeral took place on Sunday afternoon from the residence of Mr. James Edwards to Price's Cemetery. The Rev. A. W. Hare, of Hillsburg, conducted the services at the house and grave. The deceased is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Fred Walters, of Grimsby; two sisters, Mrs. Baxter, of Marsville, and Mrs. Tomkins, of Owen Sound, and three brothers, Thos. Edwards, of Owen Sound; Hugh, of East Luther, and James, of this village.

ALTON

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Sibbald who intend to make Alton their home town, have purchased Mr. Leonard Lovell's residence and have been busy for several weeks making a number of improvements to the house. Mrs. Sibbald was formerly Miss Bertha Lovell, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Lovell.

The people of Alton had the pleasure of a rare treat in the form of a visit from J. J. Maloney, of Hamilton, who preached in the Presbyterian Church last Sunday evening. Mr. Maloney also attended the Sabbath School in the Methodist Church on Sunday morning and preached in North Erin in the afternoon. Much credit is due to this young man, who has left the Church of Rome and embraced the Protestant religion and he should get our hearty support. We were sorry not to see more out to hear his addresses. The world has lost a lot of goodness that we must get back and it is only by supporting such fine young men as Mr. Maloney that we can do this, but so long as our wives and mothers keep falling away from the Church fo God as they are in Alton and the surrounding country it is hard to build and hold together the church.

Dr. Caldwell will preach the annual sermon to the Alton Lodge of Oddfellows next Sunday night, June 1st when the members of the Order will march to the Methodist Church in a body. The service will include singing and appropriate music. The sermon topic will be, "Running through the streets of Jerusalen to find an ideal man," Jeremiah 5:1.

Seldom have the farmers and business meen been so anxious about the harvest prospects. This very rainy spring has hindered the sowing and planting.

Congratulations to the various homes, where the stork has been visiting and cheering the families with the sweet baby beauties. Good for Canada's increasing population.

People are still wishing to have the road finished between the tannery and Adams' hill and would like to see the Melville stream turned into the new channel.

The Y. P. S. C. of the Methodist Church gave their interesting and amusing Play, "Willowdale," in the Town Hall, Caledon, on the night of Friday, May 23rd. The young people received much praise for their work. A full house greeted them. They are to give the Play in Erin next Friday, May 30th, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church there. We predict a successful and satisfying performance.

PRIMROSE

The cold, backward weather has prolonged the seeding in this neighborhood. Very few farmers are through seeding, while those on the low land are just getting started.

Mr. Robert Noble, just east of the village, has erected a barn, which adds greatly to the appearance of his property.

Members of the local Women's Institute and visiting ladies listened to an inspiring address on Monday last in the Orange Hall by Mrs. Allan, lecturer, sent out by the Ontario Department of Agriculture. The topic was "How to Make a Home out of a House." The address was much enjoyed and appreciated by all.

Mrs. John Lee is leaving shortly for a visit to her parents in Western Saskatchewan.

The majority of the residents of this district celebrated the holiday by the fireside.

Mrs. Ed. Kendrew, who has been in poor health for a number of months, is improving and we hope to soon see her back to her former health.

Wedding bells are ringing merrily in our neighborhood. Particulars later.

SATISFIED MOTHERS

No other medicine gives as great satisfaction to mothers as does Baby's Own Tablets. These Tablets are equally good for the newborn babe or the growing child and are absolutely safe. They cannot possibly do harm—always good. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach and thus relieve baby of any of the minor ills of childhood such as constipation, indigestion, colds, colic, etc. Concerning them Mrs. Arthur Fillion, St. Sylvestre, Que., writes:—"Baby's Own Tablets have been of wonderful benefit to my baby who was suffering from constipation and indigestion. I always keep the Tablets on hand and would advise all mothers to do likewise." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers, or by mail, at 25 cents a box, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

STERLING BANK MADE VERY GOOD SHOWING

HIGH YIELD SACRIFICED FOR ABSOLUTE SECURITY

The annual meeting of the Sterling Bank of Canada was the most largely attended in the bank's history, representation of country shareholders being particularly heavy. The statement presented, like those of the majority of other chartered banks, showed a slight contraction in profits and savings deposits, but a thoroughly sound basic position.

President G. T. Somers in his address to shareholders, laid particular stress that the bank had always followed a conservative course, and carried heavy reserves of cash and the highest grade of securities, a plan which diminished profits in boom years, but maintained the bank in a position in which it could at all times meet any demand made upon it.

Discussing the balance sheet Mr. Somers said: "Due to the adverse conditions produced by the Home Bank failure, our deposits are somewhat less than last year, but I feel that we have come through a trying period very well, and now that public confidence is restored in connection with the banking institutions of the country, I believe that we can look for a distinct improvement in business from now on.

"The burden of taxation is still severe," continued the president, "in fact, if it were not that we are very considerable holders in Dominion tax free bonds our tax figures would be very much higher. Although we do not actually pay additional taxes, we are indeed paying them indirectly by reason of being obliged to hold lower yield securities. In addition to this we have sacrificed profit for safety by reason of the large cash resources that we carry.

Improvement on Farm

"Particularly interested as we are in the rural communities," Mr. Somers added, "I believe that we can look forward to the coming year with a good deal of optimism. The farmer, generally speaking, has not made money during the past twelve months, but he has improved his position. Prices for farm products, while not high, are more stable, and cost of production has decreased and will probably go somewhat lower. Farms and machinery are in better shape. The unrest and lack of confidence which particularly marked the last half of 1923 are passing away. There is still great reason for economy and conservatism, not only in banking, but in general business. But with the lessons learned and policies adopted by business men during the past two years, the future should show a steady and healthy improvement."

Conservative Policy

Particular attention was paid by the President to the inherent soundness of the bank's position, its old-established policy being explained in detail. He said that he had stressed conservatism for years past and the bank had followed the policy steadfastly, sacrificing high yield for security. The policy was decided upon a long time ago, and the bank realized that fair weather could not continue indefinitely. As a result the Sterling Bank had been ready for any condition, with ample cash and liquid reserves to meet any call that might be made upon it. Its first consideration had always been safety for depositors and stable conditions for borrowers. The bank had always been ready to advance monies for legitimate business purposes, but directors had always limited loans to a size commensurate with the bank's ability to take care of loss if it should eventuate. This policy restricted business but made for safety. During the past year, Mr. Somers said, that the bank had at no time to call on borrowers for repayment of money due. The bank was seeking new commercial business wherever warranted.

TO EXPECTANT MOTHERS

A Letter from Mrs. Smith Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her

Trenton, Ont.—"I am writing to you in regard to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I would not be without it. I have taken it before each of my children was born and afterwards, and find it a great help. Before my first baby was born I had shortness of breath and ringing in my ears. I felt as if I would never pull through. One day a friend of my husband told him what the Vegetable Compound had done for his wife and advised him to take a bottle home for me. After the fourth bottle I was a different woman. I have four children now, and I always find the Vegetable Compound a great help as it seems to make confinement easier. I recommend it to my friends."—Mrs. FRED H. SMITH, John St., Trenton, Ont.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent medicine for expectant mothers, and should be taken during the entire period. It has a general effect to strengthen and tone up the entire system, so that it may work in every respect effectually as nature intended. Thousands of women testify to this fact. C

FOR MOTORISTS

Under the new motor vehicle law the tail light must have a four candlepower lamp, and the rear number plate must also be properly illuminated and both plates in a visible location, to be kept clean and not in any manner obscured. All cars must be locked when unattended. The changing of an engine, a body or the color of paint on any car cannot be carried out without advising the department.

WHERE HORSES ARE CHEAP

One horse sold for 25 cents and 30 horses were sold at $1 each at a recent public auction held in California, to clear the national forest ranges of horse herds of little value. The highest price paid for any horse was $17. Cattle and sheep growers of the region require few horses the automobile having replaced the broncho in all except actual range riding. Thus the surplus of horses had increased until it was a problem. Hundreds of horses were disposed of at the auction.

HARD WORK BRINGS SUCCESS.

The quality of your work, the spirit you put into it, determines the quality of your life itself.. The habit of always insisting upon the best of which you are capable, of always demanding the highest of yourself never accepting the lower, your second best, will make all the difference between mediocrity or failure and a splendid, successful career.

Many people keep themselves back by self-depreciation, by a lack of faith in their own powers. Nothing is more detrimental to success than this sort of mental attitude. The instant you acknowledge that you are incapable of doing the thing you attempt to do, or that anything can permanently block the way to the goal of your ambition, you set up a barrier to your success that no amount of hard work can remove. He can who thinks he can holds true in every situation of life.

Self-faith has ever been the best substitute for friends, pedigree, influence and money. It is the best capital in the world; it has mastered more obstacles, overcame more difficulties, and carried through more enterprises than any other human quality. It is faith that every time does the "impossible."

People who do big things in this world not only have the faith which does the impossible, but they are severe, exacting trainers of themselves. They do not handle themselves with gloves. They hold themselves right up to stern discipline. They do not allow dawdling, idling. They put a ban on laziness. They fix their eye on the goal and sacrifice everything which interferes with their ambition; everything which stands in the way of their larger success. They know that he who thinks too much of his comforts and his ease, his good times with his companions evenings, who thinks too much of the pleasures of the senses, will never get anywhere—that such a man is not using the key to success.

LAW INTERPRETATIONS

Commenting editorially on the action of Dufferin's Police Magistrate in assessing a Grand Valley resident the sum of $50 and costs for "playing cards for money," the Toronto Star said:—

"A young man at Grand Valley was fined $50 and costs for 'playing cards for money.' The same law should prevail everywhere in the province, yet police magistrates in Toronto say that no fine can be imposed for playing cards for money unless it is a case of 'gaming-house,' that is, a place where gambling is carried on and a profit or percentage goes to the keeper of the premises. There ought to be a uniformity of law interpretation and consistency of enforcement. One may entirely disapprove of playing cards for money, and yet not think much of the idea that a man may be fined in a township for what he may do in a town. Either the rural or urban police magistrate is wrong in the disposition made of charges of this kind, and the Attorney-General should iron out the error and cause decisions to be uniform."

Press reports regarding the case were possibly a little too meagre, the item to which the Star referred merely stating that the accused was found guilty on a charge of "playing cards for money." From Police Magistrate Falconer we have received a copy of the charge in full, which was as follows:—

"That accused did at divers days and times between January 1, 1924 and Feb. 23, 1924, keep a disorderly house, to wit, a common gaming-house, by using for gain a certain building consisting of a store and living rooms above the said store situate and being in the village of Grand Valley, County of Dufferin for playing therein at games of chance and mixed games of chance and skill, in which the whole or a portion of the stakes or bets or other proceeds at or from such games was either directly or indirectly paid to the said accused, the keeper of the house."

In imposing sentence the magistrate complied with section 229 of the criminal code, which reads as follows:—

"Everyone who plays or looks on while any other person is playing in a common gaming-house is guilty of an offence and liable, on summary conviction before two justices, to a penalty not exceeding one hundred dollars and not less than twenty dollars, and in default of payment to two months' imprisonment."

In view of these circumstances we believe the Star and others cannot but admit that the ends of justice were fairly dealt with and a minimum penalty imposed.—Free Press.

TWO OF A KIND

An Irish soldier in an American regiment went to his colonel and asked leave to go home and help his wife with her spring cleaning. "I don't like to refuse you, Murphy," said the Commanding Officer, "but, as a matter of fact, I've just had a letter from your wife saying that you are no help to her with spring cleaning and asking me not to give you leave." The man saluted and turned to go. At the door he stopped, turned, and remarked:—"Colonel, there are two whopping liars in this regiment, and I'm one of them. I'm not married.

Cheap Paint? Here is the Answer!

No. 1
(From an actual photograph)
A measure all so called "cheap" paint at $1.60 per gal., brushed out on wood it covered 612 sq. feet

No. 2
(From an actual photograph)
An equal measure of Lowe Brothers' "High Standard" paint at $5.75 per gal., brushed out on a similar surface covered 1,800 sq. feet.

USING an equal measure of each paint, and brushing them out on the same surface, we obtained the results pictured above

Observe that Lowe Brothers "High-Standard" Paint covered approximately 50% more surface and covered it better than the so called "cheap" paint.

From this actual test it will be seen that it would take approximately 3 gallons of "Cheap" paint to do a job that would require only 2 gallons of Lowe Brothers' "High Standard" Paint.

Practically applied to a house it would work out this way:—

These houses are both of the same type, and each has a painting area of 2,000 square feet.

To paint this house (2,000 sq. ft.) with "cheap" paint Mr. A required 6½ gals. at $4.00 per gal . . $26.00
It takes a painter 1 day to apply 1 gal. of paint therefore to apply 6½ gals. of "cheap" paint it took 6½ days at $5.00 per day $32.50
Total cost $58.50

To paint this house (2,000 sq. ft.) with Lowe Brothers High Standard Paint, Mr. B. required 4 gals. at $5.75 . . $23.00
A painter can usually apply in a day more Lowe Brothers' High Standard Paint than any other, but figuring on an equal basis of 1 gal. per day, it took 4 days at $5.00 per day . . $20.00
Total cost . . . $43.00

By using Lowe Brothers' High Standard Paint Mr. B. saved $3.00 on the cost of paint and $12.50 on the cost of labor—a total saving of $15.50 on the complete job.

Never Figure the Cost of Paint by what it costs "per gallon." So-called "cheap" paint is the dearest you can buy measured by "job" cost, which is the only true measure of paint performance.

Before you paint consult us. We will be glad to show you how to paint most economically, and to give you color cards and other information for your guidance.

Here and There

It is estimated that over [illegible] acres were sown with corn in Alberta in 1923, as compared with only 1,000 acres in 1919. This is a good indication of how rapidly corn culture is increasing in Western Canada in connection with mixed farming operations.

All previous records of Canadian freight transportation were broken when a solid train-load of automobiles reached the Pacific Coast from Windsor, Ont., over Canadian Pacific lines recently. The distance of 2,932 miles was covered in seven days, or exactly 169 hours and 20 minutes. The train, which consisted of 40 cars, each containing 6 Ford automobiles, was more than a third of a mile long and was handled on practically passenger schedule.

The splendidly sound position of the Canadian Pacific Railway is well shown in the annual report for the fiscal year ended December 31st, 1923, which has just been issued. The gross earnings of the Company for the year were $195,837,089.61, the working expenses $158,358,-079.54, and the net earnings, $37,-479,010.07.

A large party of Scottish farmers, ploughmen, farm workers and their families, is expected to arrive at Montreal in June. The party, which will sail on the Canadian Pacific steamer "Marburn," will be conducted by the Scottish representative of the Canadian Pacific Department of Colonization and Development.

Alberta has maintained an average yield of spring wheat of 19¼ bushels per acre over a period of twenty-six years, according to a chart prepared by the Department of Agriculture. In addition, winter wheat has averaged over the same period 20.19 bushels; oats, 35.79 bushels; barley, 26.10 bushels; rye, 18.84 bushels and flax, 8.71 bushels.

A feature of the annual banquet and convention of the officials of the Canadian Pacific Railway, which were held at Quebec on March 22nd, was the representation, in the banquetting hall, of a full-sized locomotive of the latest type emerging from a tunnel. Built of wood at Angus Shops, Montreal, it was in all respects perfect. At a prearranged moment, it emitted steam and smoke, the bell rang and the whistle blew, while the headlight became a moving picture projector.

Indications of a great season in Immigration are seen by Canadian Pacific officials in the arrival at St. John, N.B., during the week-end of March 29-30, of 2,441 third-class passengers, aboard the Company's steamers Montcalm and Metagama. The Montcalm had on board 1,584 of these passengers, which constitutes a record for the season.

Out of a total production of 10,730,150 pounds of creamery butter in 1923, Manitoba exported 3,863,264 pounds, valued at $1,513,-169. Shipments were made to Great Britain, New York, Chicago and Montreal. In addition, about 200,-000 pounds of butter fat were shipped to the United States.

In a speech to the higher officers of the Canadian Pacific Railway on the occasion of the recent convention at Quebec, Mr. E. W. Beatty, President, pointed out that 50 per cent. of the company's stock is held in Great Britain, 21 per cent. in Canada and 20 per cent. in the United States. It is, therefore, a corporation absolutely controlled within the British Empire and, he added, that control is being appreciably strengthened as the years go on.

Quebec's new goldfield in Rouyn township, north of the Des Quinze branch of the Canadian Pacific from Mattawa, is to be made accessible by an aeroplane service to be inaugurated by the Laurentide Air Service Limited, on May 18th. Prospectors, tourists and supplies will be able to cross the fifty mile gap between the end of steel and the goldfields, which formerly required two days to cover, in less than an hour in the flying boats to be used in the service.

TREE PLANTING IN ONTARIO

The Ontario Forestry Branch is providing stock for planting over 2,000 acres on farms over the province. Over 1,00 applications, averaging over an acre each, were received for planting material from private owners. About a third of these requested wind-breaking material and the remainder red pine and some white and Scotch. In addition to this the Forestry Branch is co-operating with the counties of York, Simcoe and Northumberland in planting out blocks of forest. Each county is planting 200 acres this spring.

In Simcoe the work was started a year ago with the planting of 200 acres of a 1,000 acre block. Largely through the efforts of Warden Fowlds of the United Counties of Durham and Northumberland a block of 1,000 acres sandy farms has been purchased for about $6 per acre in Haldimand township, Northumberland, and 200 acres of this is being planted in red and white pine with some Scotch in the blow holes. All the planting material is being secured from the Government nurseries at Orono, St. Williams and Sand Banks.

The death occurred in Wellesley Hospital, Toronto, in his 63rd year, of Jos. Cowling, who has been a resident of the Churchville district for 42 years. He is survived by his wife and a son, Robert, and a cousin, Mrs. Aylesworth, of Kitchener. He was an Anglican and a Conservative.

SEALED THE DOORS

President Obregon Has Proof That Agents of Roman Catholic Church Were Behind Recent Revolt.

President Obregon has sealed the doors of Knights of Columbus lodge rooms in Mexico, with the admonition, "If you must have a Catholic church, you must have the Pope in Mexico, for Mexico will no longer look to the banks of the Tiber for its 'holy' water." President Obregon's drastic action against the Knights of Columbus followed the expulsion of the Papal Nuncio to Mexico, as a "pernicious foreigner." The Pope's "Ambassador to Mexico" was caught red-handed in a conspiracy against the Government, the Catholics having plotted to block President Obregon's plan to aid his country by the introduction of a public-school system, "with equal opportunity to all and special privilege to none."

Pope Backed Revolt.

President Obregon has been in possession of information for some time that De la Huerta's recent revolutionary fluke was inspired and financed by agents of the Pope, hiding behind the cloak of religion, and the text of his message was as above stated. Already the president of Mexico has begun to put into execution his sentiment as regards religious activities in Mexico by the ecclesiastics.

The plotters who sought to overthrow the Mexican government are being slowly and surely rounded up and they all wear collars that fasten in the back.

The president of Mexico has a group of priests in North Mexico on whom he is about to fix the guilt.

The priests enjoy the hospitality of the Mexican government; they were allowed to preach their religion and proselytize for new members they were accorded every consideration in Mexico, allowed even greater liberties and immunities than any other citizen of the country, and for this they, acting with the Knights of Columbus, plotted to overthrow the government.

Church Planned Treason

The church planned treason against the government that sheltered it, and Catholics in the United States boldly contributed to the downfall of a sister nation, in the name of Rome.

The Mexican people are tiring of the priests, who have kept them in enforced ignorance and taxed them for the past 100 years; they are refusing to donate to the priests who are about to starve in northern Mexico, and they are tramping out of the country they have miserably abused; they are leaving Mexico after many years of domination without any regrets on the part of the people, without farewells or public acclaim.

The hall of the Knights of Columbus in Guadalajara has been closed and sealed by the Federal government.

The order is now going throughout all Mexico. President Obregon knows that native citizens of Mexico who have joined the Knights of Columbus plotted the downfall of their own country in the name of the Roman Catholic religion, and he will have no more of it.

Gov. Jose Zenon, of Jalisco, has every Knight of Columbus in his state carefully watched by men who won't hesitate to drag them before the firing squad to prevent them from plotting the downfall of the Mexican flag.

The machinations of the Roman Catholic church in Mexico are now under thorough investigation. There is an utter separation of church and state. The land that a few years ago was completely dominated by the Pope is now his bitterest foe. Education will come and superstition will go.

They are through with the Knights of Columbus in Mexico. They know all about them down there, and they are locking their halls and placing government seals on them.

BIRTHS, DEATHS AND MARRIAGES

A copy of the 53rd annual report of births, marriages and deaths for the Province of Ontario, covering the year 1922, has just been received. The volume of nearly 400 pages contains a considerable mass of statistical information regarding the births, deaths and marriages not only for the Province as a whole but also for the individual counties.

During the year 1922 there were 71,320 births in the Province, a ratio of 23.9, of these 36,477 were boys and 34,833 girls. The mothers of three ages, 24, 25 and 26 years contributed 17.85 per cent. of the whole number of births. The youngest mother was thirteen years of age, and the eldest fifty-three years. Eighteen men became fathers before reaching the age of eighteen, while seven fathers were over seventy-five years. There were 1,510 illegitimate births. Over 30 per cent. of these births occurred before mothers were 20 years of age, and nearly 68 per cent. before mothers had reached 25. Women over 40 contributed one per cent. of the total illegitimacy. There were 739 pairs of twins and six sets of triplets during the year.

The number of marriages registered during the year was 28,360. This was a decrease of 1,511 from 1921. Economic conditions are largely blamed for the decline, as a tight money market and lack of employment always depresses the number of marriages.

There were 34,034 deaths registered in the Province, with a rate of 11.42 per 1000 of population. This was the lowest rate since 1896 when it was 10.7. Organic heart diseases of all kinds (excepting heart failure) exceeded those of any other pathological condition as the cause of death, being 11.03 per 1000 of the entire number of deaths recorded. Cancer was responsible for 2609 deaths. About 85 per cent. of all cancer deaths occurred after the age of 40 years. The number of children who died during the first twelve months of age was 5,921, being a rate of 83 per 1000 living births. More people died in March and April than in any other months of the year. The number of men who died in that year exceeded the women by 1418, with the exception of children under five years. The greatest number of deaths occurred between the ages of 70 and 75 years, while the smallest number recorded was between the ages of 15 and 19.

Crimean Veteran Praises "Fruit-a-tives"

MAJOR GEO. WALKER

Major George Walker, now a familiar figure in Chatham, Ontario, is one of the men who went through the terrible Indian Mutiny. As he says: "I am a veteran of the Crimean War and the Indian Mutiny, serving under Lord Roberts. Fierce hand-to-hand fighting and continual exposure left me a great sufferer from Rheumatism, so much so that my legs swelled up, making it impossible for me to walk. My bowels were so constipated that I was in terrible shape until I began to use 'Fruit-a-tives.' They relieved me both of the Rheumatism and the Constipation. Today, I enjoy perfect health—no more Rheumatism or Constipation."

And in another letter, written December 1st, 1923 (eleven years after), Major Walker says: "'Fruit-a-tives' are keeping me in the best of health and I shall never be without them."

"Fruit-a-tives" are the famous Fruit Treatment — intensified fruit juices combined with tonics—that make you well and keep you well. 25c and 50c—at all dealers or from Fruit-a-tives, Limited, Ottawa, Ont.

Prest-O-Lite Plates produce Prest-O-Lite Power

PREST-O-PLATES make Prest-O-Lite the all-weather battery, just as they make it the long-lived battery. Heat cannot buckle them nor cold impair their efficiency. In construction, Prest-O-Plates are designed to withstand the abnormal conditions under which batteries are often expected to perform. Prest-O-Plates are found only in Prest-O-Lite Batteries.

The Prest-O-Lite Battery is 100% made-in-Canada—the product of the largest battery manufacturing plant in the British Empire. For that reason it can be sold at a price far lower than its quality would seem to warrant. There is a Prest-O-Lite Battery to suit your car, and a thousand Prest-O-Lite Service Stations in Canada to keep your battery up to full efficiency.

PALE, WAN CHEEKS AND DULL EYES

1st Proof That the Blood is Thin and Impure.

It is the blood that gives color to the cheeks and lips, as well as brightness to the eyes. If your blood gets thin the color will fade and the eyes grow dim. By the time this happens you will notice that you tire easily and are subject to headaches and backaches, for the blood goes everywhere and the entire system feels the effects when it becomes thin. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain the elements necessary to enrich the blood, and this better blood strengthens the nerves and all the organs of the body, brings a glow of health to the cheeks, brightness to the eyes and a general feeling of renewed health and strength. Miss Florence Johnson, Stratford, Ont., who has proved the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in cases of this kind, says:—"A few years ago I was greatly run down; my blood was very poor and my nervous system in bad shape. The doctor said my condition was due to improper diet and lack of fresh air. I then commenced eating the food he advised and went out daily for a walk. I did not improve, however, and was much discouraged. A friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I lost no time in getting a supply and can truthfully say that when I had finished the first box I could note an improvement. From then on the progress was steady. My complexion, which had been pale and sallow, began to take on a healthy glow, I felt a great deal stronger and my appetite became normal, and soon my health was fully restored. Before using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I did not know anything about their wonderful qualities, but now I recommend them to all suffering from similar ailments.'

You can get these pills from any medicine dealer, or by mail, at 50 cents a box, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Extract from English Market Letter of May 1st:—

"Bacon has improved a little since our previous letter a fortnight ago. Irish and Danish rose from 2 to 4 shillings a cwt. last week, but the price of Canadian remained unchanged at 72 and 84 shillings a cwt. for leanest. Stout and heavy were quoted at 74 and 82, so that the prices of the various grades of Canadian bacon are very uniform at the present time. Canadian cured American is quoted at 66 to 74, and leanest American at 66 to 70. At the present time leanest Irish bacon is selling around 104 shillings a cwt. and leanest Danish at 89. These prices are, of course, considerably below those ruling at this time last year. Best Canadian bacon, for example, is 18 to 24 shillings a cwt. below the price ruling during the corresponding week of 1923.

"The general opinion seems to be that the price of bacon will improve a little in the near future, as, although there is plenty of bacon about, the consumption should increase owing to the low price, while the influx of visitors for the British Empire Exhibition will further help matters."

A LARGE CALF

Early on Monday morning a Holstein cow belonging to Mr. Oliver Sproule, Centre Road, Mono, gave birth to a heifer calf that weighed 157 lbs. When we state that a calf that will tip the scales at 80 or 90 lbs. is considered larger than the average our readers will understand something of the unusual proportions of this new arrival. The calf was normal in every respect except for its unusual size. Unfortunately it died during birth. The mother is living.

MUST TRY TO UNDERSTAND EACH OTHER

Professor Reynolds, head of the O. A. C., firmly believes that the country cannot do without the towns and cities and that the real good of either is the common good of both. Concluding a fine address at Ingersol he is reported to have said:

He told of a meeting which he attended in a community hall some two years ago. The meeting, or entertainment, was being held by a farmers' club. In sitting idle for a while he observed that the people in the audience were apparently all farmers. He asked where the townspeople were, for the community hall was in the town and in a building owned by the town. The reply was that they had not been invited. He then asked why they were not invited. The reply again was that most probably the reason was found in the fact that they were not wanted. That was a mistaken idea. It was class consciousness and it was harmful. It was driving the people of the urban districts apart, and that certainly should not be, as they were inseperably linked. They should try to see things from each other's viewpoints. They should strive to be mutual as far as possible since they must live together. Central Europe was one instance of a seperated urban and rural population.

In Central Europe the farmers still strive to sustain life and all its requirements from the fruits of their own efforts. They do not depend upon the cities and towns in the midst of which they live for the material things of existence. They make their own clothing even on the farm. They grow their own produce and they fashion their labors so that they will sell little and buy less. Here is the example of a country with the two utterly divided. The people of the country have little or nothing to do commercially with the people of the cities. This answers the rather paradoxical situation that is seen there with the country prosperous to a degree and the people of the cities starving. It is not workable.

The speaker took his hearers in an enlightening way through the illumined channels which show the changes even in Ontario from the days gone by. Ontario farmers have been doing just the opposite to those of Europe. Here in Ontario we have discarded the spinning wheel. The country people depend more upon the great textile plants of the cities for their wearing apparel. Where is the old candle mold our forefathers knew The farmers, wherever possible, to-day are depending upon hydro and similar institutions for their light. Where are the dried apple boards we used to see in our childhood? The farmers are depending more and more upon the Dominion canners for these things. The baking pans the soft soap kettles, the maple sugar and many other things of the past have gone and the farmers are specializing in the growing of their respective kinds of crop or the raising of their favored species of cattle. They are carrying on with their own affairs and leaving as much to the big plants of the towns and cities as they can.

The speaker told of a trip he had taken to Manitoba last year. He was spending some time at one of the agricultural colleges of the West when he was told of a rather unique example of this type of farming. It was extreme. It was industrialized farming gone mad.

A professor there told Professor Reynolds of a unique farmer whose farm he had visited a short time before. This farmer was specializing in cattle. He had large herds of them and complained that the markets were bad and luck in general was all against him. He had fed and cared for the stock all winter and then emerged in the spring to find the market gone to nothing.

The professor was entertained to dinner, said the speaker, and while there observed that the meat served for the meal was tinned beef. He became curious and wondered just where it came from. He cast his eye about until he discovered the can, the label of which showed that it came from New Zealand. This was a strange situation indeed. Here was this farmer bemoaning his fate at being unable to market his beef yet bringing into his own home beef brought all the way from this distant country.

The speaker went on to show how the farmers of Ontario had been and are adapting themselves to conditions and to circumstances. They were striving for perfection all the time, but still far from it. There had never been perfection in farming yet, as with any other calling But they were striving for it and reaching out for it according to their own needs and conditions all the time.

In closing he again asked for a better effort to better understand each other. The farmer must try to see things from the side and viewpoint of the townspeople and they must in turn try to see things from the viewpoint of the farmer. They both have their viewpoints, and are entitled to them. I do not blame in any way the farmer who is not buying those implements made in the towns and cities to-day because of the high prices, but he must try to understand that those high prices being asked are absolutely essential I believe this. Just a short time ago I was speaking to the manager of a big implement concern, and he not only told me, but showed me, that the prices being asked were absolutely necessary to show a possible but very reasonable profit. They could sell them for no less. Both have their reasons for doing or expressing themselves as they do. The farmer thinks he can get along for a while with the implements he has. He should not be blamed, or should he blame the implement manufacturers for their present prices. I honestly believe they are as low as they can make them when all things are considered.

SAYS HE IS A NEW MAN

That's Why Nova Scotia Man Praises Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Mr. J. J. Comeau, who suffered from Kidney trouble, found relief in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Lower Saulnierville, N. S. (Special)—Mr. Comeau, a well-known and respected resident here, is a staunch friend of Dodd's Kidney Pills. He has tried them and found them good. This is what he says:

"I am over 60 years of age, and have suffered so much from Kidney troubles. I took several boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and now I am exactly a new man. I shall always remain a friend of Dodd's Kidney Pills."

It is wonderful how some people will go on suffering day after day, with aches and pains, backaches and rheumatism. They suffer because they are not aware of the fact that they can get relief. Strengthen the kidneys, which are the source of the trouble, and these pains vanish.

Dodd's Kidney Pills stimulate and strengthen weak kidneys. They are used and recommended all over the world.

THE AMUSEMENT TAX

The Alliston Herald, which has been hot-foot after the amusement tax officials, for their eagerness to gather in the tax under any and all circumstances, has the following article in last week's issue:—

"The Bowling Club of this town and St. Luke's Dramatic Club of Rosement have been the victims of a piece of meanness which appears to be quite comparable to the act of the crone who slips the gold pin from the bib of the prattling baby lying in its carriage while the mother is doing some shopping. The perpetrator of the act of meanness is the amusement tax collection department of the provincial treasurer. This dramatic club of Rosemont is a church organization out in the depths of the country where theatres are not, where movies cannot be shown because there is no electric current and where travelling concert troupes never halt. The folks of St. Luke's church prepared a comedy drama and presented it in their own village. Its popularity was noised around Alliston and the Bowling Club of this town invited the Rosemont people to come out and give their drama in the town hall here. The entertainment was given before a crowded house, admitted at a fee of 25 cents each for adults. After the hall and electric lights had been paid for there was a little balance left for the Dramatic Club and a like balance for the bowlers. But into those two balances the miserable buzzards of the amusement tax department of the provincial treasurer stuck their foul talons and extracted $5.58. In view of the fact that the Ontario government pretends to be sympathetic with community welfare extension, one can scarcely conjure up a meaner trick than that perpetrated by the amusement tax collectors on the Rosemont Church Club and the Alliston Bowling Club."

To add new accounts

Don't overlook the village stores off the line of railways.

A salesman we know began by calling on some of them in a car to make the necessary arrangements. He hasn't seen his new customers since. At an appointed day and hour he regularly calls up each by Long Distance from a list he prepared, and gets their orders.

If he is away, someone else carries out the schedule for him.

His customers like to deal with headquarters.

He added over 100 new accounts in a few months—says the business bulks large at the end of the year.

Every Bell Telephone is a Long Distance Station.

Here and There

A new record has been established by the Department of Marine and Fisheries in the number of white fish eggs collected for hatchery purposes in the Great Lakes and the Lake of the Woods. A total of 464,560,000 eggs were obtained, which exceeds all previous collections in the province of Ontario.

A new deposit of soapstone has been discovered on Trap Lake, a small lake south of Wabigoon Lake, in northwestern Ontario. The quality of the stone has been reported as excellent for various industrial uses, and practical trials are under way. Water transportation is available direct from the deposits to Wabigoon and Dryden, on the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

It is announced by the Canadian Pacific Railway that two free scholarships covering four years' tuition in architecture, chemical, civil, mechanical or electrical engineering at McGill University, are offered, subject to competitive examinations, to apprentices and other employees enrolled on the permanent staff of the company and under 21 years of age, and to minor sons of employees.

Canada's fisheries' production during 1923 is estimated to be worth $40,000,000. At the beginning of the year it was not thought that anything like this mark would be reached, for the Fordney tariff had cut deeply into exports to the United States. But as the year wore on the demand and prices generally improved, thus giving fishermen on the Atlantic coast especially a much better market.

Approximately $5,000,000 will be spent by the Dominion Coal Company to open up a new mine and colliery at Lingan, Nova Scotia, and construction of a branch line of railway to the new site has already been started. The new colliery will be equipped with every modern device, and a model town will be planned in its vicinity. It will have a capacity of some 2,000 tons daily.

The tenth annual Ski Tournament will be held at Revelstoke, February 5th and 6th, in connection with which ski-joring, tobogganing, snowshoeing, skating, etc., will be featured. An endeavor is being made to secure the attendance of Uno Hilstrom, Sweden's champion ski-jumper, as well as other famous ski-jumpers from both Canada and the United States.

Canada in 1923 produced more coal, lead, cobalt and asbestos than during any other year since mining records have been kept. The output of coal was in the neighborhood of 17,300,000 tons, or 675,000 tons better than the best previous record, and 2,000,000 tons over that in 1922. The output of copper, nickel, cement and asbestos was also much above that for the preceding years. Gold production was down somewhat, but this was due more to a power shortage than anything else.

As a result of efforts on the part of Hon. J. A. Robb, Minister of Immigration and Colonization, a 20 per cent preference rate on Atlantic passages for all British immigrants settling in Canada has been arranged to come into effect on March 1 and continue until the end of the main immigration season at the end of November. It will apply only to British immigrants coming direct to Canada from the British Isles, and will affect all lines coming to Canadian Atlantic ports.

Three delightful cruises have been awarded to agents of the Canadian Pacific Railway for services rendered the company during the past year. One of them, J. J. Forster, general agent at Vancouver, will sail on a round-the-world cruise on the "Empress of Canada"; W. C. Casey, general agent at Winnipeg, will spend sixty-eight days cruising the Mediterranean on the "Empress of Scotland," while D. R. Kennedy, general agent at Buffalo, will enjoy a twenty-nine-day cruise in the West Indies on the "Empress of Britain." The trips were awarded by the company in recognition of last year's work in connection with cruise bookings.

LINCOLN AND THE SENTRY.

Foreign visitors are surprised at the lack of sentries at the White House. During the war a solitary soldier mounted guard, and on one occasion had an amusing colloquy with President Lincoln.

Mr. Lincoln emerged from the front door, his lank figure bent over, as he drew tightly about his shoulders the shawl which he employed for such protection; for he was on his way to the War Department, at the west corner of the grounds, where in times of battle he was wont to get the midnight dispatches from the field.

As the blast struck him, he thought of the numbness of the pacing sentry, and turning to him said:

"Young man, you've got a cold job to-night. Step inside, and stand guard there."

"My orders keep me out here," the soldier replied.

"Yes," said the President, in his argumentative tone. "But your duty can be preformed just as well inside as out here, and you'll oblidge me by going in."

"I have been stationed outside,' the soldier answered, and resumed his beat.

"Hold on there!" said Mr. Lincoln as he turned back again. "It occurs to me that I am commander-in-chief of the army, and I order you to go inside!"

GOOD STORY AND WITTY ANALOGY

At a political meeting held in London during the recent election campaign, Sir Henry Cowan, M. P., told the following good story followed by a witty analogy: A well-to-do and benevolent gentleman in New York was accosted by a weeping woman, who prayed him for a dollar to enable her to have her child baptised. Having nothing smaller, he presented her with a $10 bill, telling her to meet him next day and return the change. "And, of course, she never turned up," said the friend, to whom the benevolent gentleman related his experience. "On the contrary," was the reply "I got the nine dollars, and I consider that my action is to be commended on three counts: first, pleased the poor woman; second, I saved the child's soul; and third, I got rid of a bad $10 bill!" If the Socialist Government would withdraw from office, said Sir Henry they would please the nation, they would save their own souls—and we would be rid of many bad bills!

HISTORIC NOMINATION

Big Afternoon When Billy Stubbs Was Nominated in Drill Shed at Mono Mills.

Land Roller Used For Speakers' Platform.

(The Evening Telegram.)

The Toronto Evening Telegram, of Friday, December 20, 1895, carried a vivid description of the meeting in Mono Mills, where the nomination meeting for the Cardwell bye-election was held. The story is headed "Big Times in the Barn," and tells how the nominations took place in the Anglican Church Hall of Mono Mills, but the Stubbs men could not secure any of the three halls in the village. The story goes on:

"Gosh!"

The hours dragged on. In the Church of England Hall Returning Officer Johnston took his place on the platform an hour before 12. He pulled out his watch and looked at it.

"Gosh!" said the returning officer, "I thought it was noon, I'll join you gents down there by the stove." and he put on his cap, pulled out his pipe, and took up a commanding place in the circle of politicians. Most of the men who were in the hall were not partisans. To use their expression, they vote for the best man.

"Two o'clock has come, gentlemen," said Mr. Johnston, in his picturesque English, "and I now declare that I ain't got nothin' more to do with this meetin except to decla that Stubbs, Willoughby and Henry are nominated."

"Then," said a grey-haired patriarch, "I have much pleasure in proposing that Mr. Johnston be the chairman of the meeting."

"I'll take it," said Mr. Johnston, "and I'll do justice betwixt man and man, and if you fellows in the back of the hall makes less noise I'll promise you a good meetin'. The ministers are comin', and they can't get in."

"Why not?" chorused the crowd.

"Because there isn't room," said Mr. Johnston.

It was then that a brilliant idea occurred to one of the audience. "I move that we all adjourn to the old Drill Hall. It hasn't been used for years, and there's no seats, but it'll hold a thousand people. There's five thousand people waitin' outside for to get in here. Let's all go down there."

The idea commended itself to the candidates and to the chairman. The hall was emptied and a long procession straggled down the slushy road. George Eulas Foster plunged into a puddle, and was rescued from imminent peril of wet feet. The head of the column, headed by Chairman Johnston, turned up a lane, and drew up in front of a big, weather-beaten barn. Strong hands seized one of the rickety, swinging doors, wrenched it off, and the crowd poured into the darksome interior. The clay floor, once indurated by the feet of the long-dead Mono Mills Guard, was covered inches deep with straw and litter. Great gaps yawned in the board walls; a half-dozen fowls scurried through the door and between the legs of the invaders. They had never been so disturbed before, and they clucked angrily as they sought quieter quarters. It was now that Chairman Johnston showed that, though he is shaky on English, he is full of resource.

Platform Needed

"Now, boys, we got to have a platform," said Mr. Johnston. "Some of you get over and get that big wooden land-roller, and I'll show you how to build a platform that's good enough for anybody."

Volunteers started off, while more selfish spectators ascended to the cross-beams of the roof and secured excellent gallery seats on the stringers. The expedition came back grundling the big wooden land-roller, and Mr. Johnston proceeded to make himself useful. He led a pilfering party that secured half a dozen rails from an adjoining fence and brought them back to the drill shed. The rails were spread between the roller and the ground stringer that stretched along the side of the shed. And when the barn door was laid across the structure there was a platform—precarious it is true, but still platform.

And so the meeting went on. W. B. Willoughby, the Government candidate, was first and talked about the tariff. He told how the good Conservative Government had protected the farmer.

"Tell us about the schools," bellowed a man perched on a rafter.

"I'm coming to that," answered Mr. Willoughby. "Nobody in the Government knows exactly what will be done at the coming session of Parliament. Why should I be asked to make a promise regarding a matter that is not certain yet?" And that, in effect, was all.

The Liberal candidate, Henry, also talked tariff. He denied that the rival camps had any right to ask him to step out of the way. The crowd asked him about Separate schools. An investigation was what was wanted, he said, and deep silence marked the close of his speech.

"Hurroo! For Stubbs!"

Then up jumped Billy Stubbs, the darling of that crowd. The men in the roof howled their glee until they were like to lose their perches. The men who stood in the straw cheered to the echo. Billy Stubbs, in blue flannel suit, worn in deference to the farmers, and wearing a white silk tie, doned in honor of his correctly-clad leader, bowed many times. He knew his audience, and his audience called him Billy. Thus he started cards and spades ahead. He sailed into the middle of things. The election had been called solely on the one question, that of schools in Manitoba. He and Mr. McCarthy believed that the schools should not be made the means of teaching religion. What was wanted was an observance of provincial rights, and no interference.

Col. O'Brien accused the Government of truckling to the French-Canadians, and Frank Pedley made a good Grit speech which fell on barren ground.

There was a reception for D'Alton McCarthy that was not less enthusiastic than that given to Mr. Stubbs, his henchman. The man from North Simcoe was not mild in his handling of young Mr. Willoughby. The Conservative candidate had talked about doing justice to Manitoba's minority. Justice had been done them. Parliament had been said to have been ordered by the Privy Council to do a certain thing. Parliament could not be ordered to do anything. Parliament was supreme.

There was little new in McMullen's Grit speech, and by the time Foster got on his feet evening was drawing in. When he was half done the night had stolen through the chinks of the barn, and all inside was darkness. The few men who remained heard a voice, but saw nothing. They were appealed to to stand by the party that had held Cardwell for so long, but when Foster sat down and groped for his coat the audience had dwindled away to nothing. Over the roads of the four townships their sleighs sped, and as Mr. Johnston bade good-bye to his distinguished friends, he said:

"It's no trick to run a meetin' if you have that firm hand and soft touch that Larryerr talks about."

QUEST FOR LIQUOR

Whisky Detectives Charged With Using School Boys to Help Secure a Conviction.

Provincial License Board Held Enquiry in the Court House Here on Monday Afternoon.

In the Police Court here on Friday James O'Brien, a local man, who has figured in the courts on previous occasions, was fined $500 and costs on a charge of selling liquor illegally. Among the witnesses, who testified at the trial, were some High School boys, who had been in the company of the liquor detectives when the liquor was procured from O'Brien. The boys stated in court that after procuring the whisky from O'Brien the spotters had opened the bottle and had given three of the lads a drink apiece. When commenting upon the evidence, W. D. Henry, of Markdale, who defended O'Brien, expressed indignation at the use said to have been made of the boys and intimated that the facts relating to the case would be placed before the Attorney-General. When the facts connected with the case were brought to the attention of James Hales, K. C., Chairman of the Ontario License Board, he promised a prompt and full investigation. Mr. Hales made it plain that the License Board would not tolerate the giving of liquor to High School boys, or, in fact, to any boys nor encourage the use of boys for the purpose of obtaining convictions in liquor cases.

The investigation promised by Mr. Hales took place in the Court House here on Monday afternoon. Chairman Hales was the only member of the License Board present. He was, however, assisted by Mr. J. A. Ayearst, Chief Inspector of the Board, who conducted the examination of the witnesses. Mr. C. R. McKeown, K. C., was present in the interest of the boys and their parents and Mr. H. B. Church watched the case in behalf of the municipality of Orangeville. At the outset Mr. Hales stated that the investigation was held under section 18, ss. 8 of the Ontario Temperance Act. The Chairman stated that no charges were being made against any person, but that the investigation was for the purpose of bringing out all the facts and that any person who wished to do so would be allowed to give evidence, as well as the witnesses who had been summoned to appear.

The witnesses called were the five boys who were implicated in the affair and the two liquor operatives, Mervin McQuarrie and Arthur Larrie. License Inspector T. J. Robinson and Inspector Sarvis of the Provincial Force were also examined briefly. One of the boys was subjected to a searching examination that lasted over two and a half hours. The evidence showed that McQuarrie and Larrie and a man named Gregory had visited Orangeville on May 10th. They made the acquaintanceship of a couple of the boys in a local poolroom and when they made it known that they wanted whisky were told that they might be able to get some from Bob Cook. Subsequently the two officers and three of the boys started for Cook's in an eight passenger Cadillac car. Nearing their destination the car stuck in the mud and the party had to get a farmer to pull them out with a team of horses. Gregory and one of the boys called at Cook's place while looking for horses, but did not find any person at home.

The party then returned to town and the operatives and a couple of the boys had lunch at Sing's restaurant. In the afternoon they visited two of the Orangeville doctors in search of prescriptions. One of the physicians turned them down, stating that he could not issue any more prescriptions until after May 15th. At the other place the spotters obtained two prescriptions. At this stage the party picked up another local boy, who happened along, and then drove to Idylwyld Park, where two lads who were playing lacrosse were persuaded to accompany them. The party, which now numbered eight, set out for Jack Beer's in Alton in search of liquor. They found Beer at home, but he was not able to supply what the detectives were after. He was good enough, however, to tell them that he thought they could get some from Bob Mews at Cataract. When Cataract was reached Mews was away from home and the party were obliged to return to Orangeville without procuring a "crock." Shortly after they arrived in town and while the party were still in the car one of the lads sighted Bob Cook on the street, left the car and spoke to him and was the medium whereby Cook was introduced to the detectives. Bob, too, was without whisky, but told the operatives that he thought his partner might be able to supply them with a bottle. Fifteen minutes later Cook returned and told the parties that his partner would have a bottle for them at eight o'clock that night. The party then broke up, the operatives going to a hotel and the boys returning to their homes for tea. After tea three of the lads met down street and afterwards fell in with the detectives. O'Brien appeared and was interviewed by some of the party. He stated that everything was alright and instructed the driver of the car to repair to the lane back of Langtree's stable at 8 o'clock. Larrie, McQuarrie and one of the boys drove to the rendezvous at the appointed time. O'Brien jumped on the side of the car and they proceeded east some little distance. Here the car was stopped and O'Brien produced the bottle, accompanying the act with the remark: "Which of you boys wants to buy a bottle?"

Larrie said he was going to buy and handed O'Brien a $5 and a $1 bill in payment. The car was then turned and the party drove O'Brien back to the place where they had first met him. The next move was to return to Broadway, where Gregory and two of the boys had been left. The three boarded the car which was then driven east on Broadway to the Credit flats, where the driver backed into a lane and one of the operatives proceeded to open the bottle. Up to this point there was not any important difference in the stories told by the two operatives and the three boys, who accompanied them in the final stage of the liquor quest. McQuarrie swore that he opened the bottle and tasted the contents to ascertain if they had actually bought a bottle of whisky. He then passed it to Larrie, who was with him in the front seat, and then to Gregory in the rear to enable them to make similar tests. At this stage one of the boys seized the bottle and was in the act of placing it to his lips, when the witness (McQuarrie) snatched it from him, replaced the cork and put the bottle back in his pocket. The three boys testified that Larrie opened the bottle, tasted its contents, then passed it to the boy on the turnover seat in the middle of the car. The lad took a drink and then handed the bottle to one of his comrades who did likewise. The bottle was next handed to Gregory, who declined to drink, saying by way of explanation that he was feeling rather sick. It was then handed to the third boy, who took a swig and returned the bottle to the lad on the centre seat, who took a second pull before returning the liquor to Larrie. The two operatives also testified positively that the lad, who occupied the centre seat, a chap of 16 years, was not with the party at all. Both men stuck to this story despite the fact that they had heard the boy himself tell the court earlier in the afternoon that he was along and had taken two drinks from the bottle. The party returned to town and the operatives let the three boys out of the car in front of The Banner Office and shortly afterwards left town for Toronto, travelling by way of Alton, Cataract, Acton and Milton, leaving Gregory off at the latter place.

Inspector Robinson was called to the box and gave evidence relative to a threat that one of the boys had foolishly made that they would get the Government men if they came back to town. Provincial Officer Sarvis testified that McQuarrie and Larrie had been in the service over a year. They had always proved dependable and efficient officers and had given the Department good service. There had been an attempt to "frame" them at Kitchener, but it had not been successful.

Chairman Hales, before adjourning the enquiry, stated that another sitting would be held in Toronto for the purpose of taking the evidence of Gregory, who was not present on Monday. Mr. Hales said that it was a matter of very serious regret that so many of these young lads were mixed up in the affair. Nobody wanted to enforce the law by using these young lads or any boys for the purpose of securing convictions. It was regrettable, too, that young men should have been willing to allow themselves to be used in this way. The officers involved had been very faithful and efficient in helping to enforce the law, but officials must be very careful in enforcing the law not to induce any young men to violate it. The Chairman was careful to explain that he was simply stating his views. After hearing and weighing all the evidence he would make his report which would be laid before the Attorney-General in due course.

74TH BIRTHDAY

Squire Crawford, of Brampton, Received Congratulations of Many Friends on Anniversary Day.

Mr. Robert Crawford, police magistrate of the town of Brampton and treasurer of the County of Peel, celebrated his 74th birthday on Monday, May 26th. The happy event was fittingly honored by a delightful picnic at Huttonville, where a very pleasant time was spent in the new park, which is to be one of Huttonville's outstanding summer attractions in the years to come. Following a supper at the close of the day's merrymaking, Mr. Frank J. Jackson rose and in a happy manner expressed the heartfelt wish that the "Squire" might be permitted to celebrate his 75th birthday with his old friends and that the best things of life might be his in the meantime. Sheriff Henderson then read the following address:—

Brampton, Ont., May 26, 1924.
To Robert Crawford, Esq.:

On this, your birthday, we cannot allow the occasion to pass without some recognition of the very high esteem in which you are held by residents of this, your native county, and particularly those you intimately associated with in the town. During the many years we have come in contact with you, we have always found you a man of estimable qualities.

It is our earnest hope that you may be spared to pass many another mile stone in your pathway of life, and we can assure you that it will always be a pleasure for us to extend to you from year to year our sincerest wishes that you may continue to enjoy good health and happiness.

We would ask you to accept, on behalf of yourself and your wife, these small tokens of our regard, and to remind you that it is in a large measure due to the great care which your estimable partner has taken of you that you are so well able to enjoy the pleasures of life.

Signed on behalf of your friends:
N. HENDERSON,
THOS. THAUBURN,
F. J. JACKSON.

Upon its conclusion, Thomas Thauburn presented to Mr. Crawford and his wife, a berry bowl and a vase of cut glass, accompanying the gifts with a few well chosen remarks. Mrs. Crawford, in her usual happy manner, thanked the company for her share of the birthday offering.

BRUNSWICK TRIO AT LAUREL

The Brunswick Trio, of London Ont., at present on a concert tour in the United States, will make their first appearance of the summer in this part of Ontario before an audience at Laurel on Monday evening June 23rd. Those who were fortunate enough to hear this Trio last year are quite agreed that these London artists are the greatest entertainers of the day. Commonly known as the Harmony Boys, the Trio presents a most refined program of trios, duets, solos, music and comedy. Jock Ballentyne, the Scotch tenor comedian, is a whole concert in himself, while the other members possess voices of exquisite quality and richness. This, with violin, piano and banjo specialties, jokes and stories, keeps an audience either convulsed with laughter or keenly appreciative of the skill of the different artists. See the large posters and lithos and come and enjoy the Brunswick Trio Concert at Laurel Presbyterian Garden Party on Monday evening, June 23rd.

BOARD DEADLOCKED

Brampton Public School Board appears to be at a deadlock regarding the salary which the members wish to pay Principal (Captain) A. Firth, whose duties have been changed during the past month. Last year, the principal was made supervising principal for the whole town which has two public schools—Central School in the north end and the McHugh School in the south end. Recently it was thought a good plan to have the schools run as entities with a principal in each, Mr. Firth at Central and Mr. Appleton at McHugh, each school to have an entrance class. It was decided at the time to ask Mr. Firth if he would be willing to accept $1,800, give up the duties of supervising principal and continue on the staff as teaching principal of Central. At a special meeting last week, a motion was put by W. E. Hunter and W. Bartlett, and lost, that Mr. Firth's salary be $1,900. An amendment was put by C. M. McCollum and H. Burton, and lost, that Mr. Firth's salary be $2,000. Mr. Appleton's salary was raised from $1,300 to $1,500.

Capt. Firth was principal of Orangeville Public School until two years ago, when he left here to accept the Brampton appointment. He was overseas for 2½ years during the war.

CALEDON S. S. A. ANNUAL

Wm. Scott, of Cataract Elected President.

Caledon Township Sunday School Association held its annual convention in the Presbyterian Church in Alton last Thursday. The attendance was quite large and much interest was evidenced in the proceedings. In the evening the delegates were entertained to supper in the Methodist Church. A combined choir from the two churches gave a song service at night, the program including anthems and quartettes. Rev. T. W. Mills, of Caledon, led the community singing. Rev. B. M. Wright, of Toronto, and Rev. H Pawson, of Inglewood, were among the speakers.

The following officers were elected: President, W. Scott, Cataract Vice-President, E. E. Wilson, Caledon; Secretary-Treasurer, M. S. Jameson, Inglewood; Superintendents of Departments, Children's Miss S. Clark, Alton; Boys', A. F. Brown, Terra Cotta; Girls', Mrs. H Berney, Caledon East; Adult, T. H Graham, Inglewood; Home, James McDonald, Belfountain; Missionary Rev. H. Pawson, Inglewood; Temperance, A. C. McArthur, Terra Cotta; Teachers' Training, Rev. W. "BACK TO THE FARM"

The Dramatic Club, composed of members of the Junion Farmers' Improvement Association and the Junior Institute of Caledon, will present their Play, "Back to the Farm," in the Town Hall, Alton, on Thursday evening, June 5th. The Play will be given under the auspices of the Alton Women's Institute. Admission, 35c and 15c.

THE CALEDON MINSTRELS

An appreciative audence of perhaps three hundred people greeted the Mythimyst Minstrels from Caledon in the Opera House on Friday night. The Minstrels gave their hearers three hours of solid entertainment, and it is no exaggeration to say that there were very few dull moments during all that time. The chorus singing of the minstrels was particularly good and their songs and rollicking choruses seldom failed to draw hearty applause. Duets quartettes, a recitation by Mr. Crozier Rutledge, a clever impersonation by Mr. Ernest Mowat, the gifted pianist of the evening, instrumental numbers and dances served to round out a really entertaining programme. Dr. Thomas essayed the role of chief interlocutor in finished style. An interesting feature of the evening was the appearance of Dr. Wm. Stubbs, onetime M. P. for the old riding of Cardwell, in the role of "Uncle Ned." "Billy," as his friends all call him, did his part exceedingly well and showed that he can still draw a good bow on the big bass viol. Altogether the programme was enjoyed by all who heard it and the Caledon minstrels are to be congratulated on their ability to entertain and amuse. It is greatly to the credit of a small community like Caledon that it can produce artists of the versatility shown by the Minstrels on Friday night. The entertainers generously donated the proceeds of the evening, about $55.00, to the Lord Dufferin Hospital. Just before the close of the programme Col. Preston moved, seconded by Gordon Hayes, that the entertainers be tendered the hearty thanks of the audience for their excellent programme. The audience showed its approval of the sentiment of the motion with great heartiness. Following the programme the I. O. D. E. entertained the minstrels to luncheon.

DUFFERINS DRUBBED

Greenshirts Badly Beaten by the Irish-Canadians at Scarboro Beach on Saturday.

The senior Dufferins made a poor showing in their game against the Irish-Canadians at Scarboro Beach on Saturday afternoon. The greenshirts had an off day and finished with the short end of a 9 to 2 score. This is the worst drubbing that Orangeville has had in a senior game for many years. The locals made a favorable impression on the crowd in the first quarter, in which they had the edge on their opponents and finished the period with the count 1 to 0 in their favor. In the second they were penalized two or three times and were thereby forced to play most of the period a man short. Irish-Canadians made such good use of their one-man advantage that they had 5 tallies tucked safely away when the bell rang for halftime. Dufferins became badly disorganized and were anything but effective for the remainder of the game. Gordon grabbed their second and last counter shortly before halftime. Irish-Canadians took two in the third and another pair in the final spasm. The Telegram gives the following report of the game:—

Irish-Canadians furnished the outstanding lacrosse performance of the season to date, when they literally swamped the Orangeville Dufferins by the count of 9 to 2. Many expected the locals to win but no one figured on a seven goal margin, least of all the players themselves. The Dufferins were off their usual form to some extent, of course, but at that the Irish were deserving of the final result as they worked fast and aggressively the whole distance.

There was quite a bit of loose lacrosse, scrambles for the ball and so on, as can be expected this early in the season, but some of the goals were the result of excellent work and the pace was fast all the way. The Irish were especially good in the field, where they outran their opponents, going and coming, and had the Duffs' attack pretty well squelched.

Max McGregor was the big noise on their home. He never played better in his life and besides scoring two goals assisted in the counting of four or five more, passing the ball very unselfishly. Starling also went great guns while the veterans, Mulroy and O'Rourke, did surprisingly good work. The others all took a turn at shining, and their play on the whole was a revelation to their followers.

"Buck" Ewing was best for Dufferins. Hawkins went well at the start and Wilson and Scott worked hard, but it was a bad day all round for them. In the first quarter they were in the hunt alright and Hawkins scored the only goal of the frame, but after that they went al to pieces. In the second session right after the face-off, Pherrill tore in from centre to take a pass and count, then May relayed to McGregor who bulged the twine and a beautiful combination McGregor to Starling made it three. The Duffs took a brace and Gordon scooped one in from a scramble but the Irish came right back and McGregor and McCurry each scorred before halftime.

In the last half there was not so much excitement as the visitors faded gradually away. The locals continued to press, and Mulroy and Robinson, who went well, scored in the third, while Gallaugher and Virtue brought the count up to nine in the last session to finish off one of the worst setbacks that an Orangeville team has received in recent years.

LACROSSE NOTES

Brampton delighted their supporters by downing their old rivals, the Weston champions, by a 5 to 3 score. The game was played in Brampton and was witnessed by a large crowd. It was a hard, gruelling contest.

Toronto-Maitlands crossed the lake on Saturday and encountered St. Catharines on the latter's grounds. The home team was kept busy to pull out a 3 to 2 win.

Hamilton Tigers hooked up with Niagara Falls on their home grounds on Saturday and finished with a 15 to 8 victory. Hamilton had the count 12 to 2 at halftime, but the Falls bunch did better in the second half.

Weston, last year's champions, are coming to Orangeville on Wednesday next, June 11th, when the Dufferins will entertain their old rivals at Idylwyld Park. The greenshirts have profited a lot from their severe beating at Scarboro Beach on Saturday and it is pretty safe to assert that they will not prove as easy picking again this year. Joe Cushing, the clever defence man, who was badly missed on Saturday, will be back in the game and his presence will do much to steady the team and give needed confidence to the younger players. Game will commence at 3 o'clock.

Irish-Canadians go to Brampton on Saturday and Weston will be hosts to the Ottawa Shamrocks on the same day.

Cheltenham and Snelgrove met on Thursday night last in the opening game of the Peel and Suburban Lacrosse League. The teams proved to be quite evenly matched, Cheltenham finally winning by a score of 1 to 0.

JUVENILES WON

But Intermediates Lost in Saturday's Games With Hespeler.

Score 8 to 5 for Orangeville in Former and 4 to 3 for Hespeler in Latter Fixture.

Hespeler juvenile and intermediate lacrosse teams visited Orangeville on Saturday, accompanied by a small but enthusiastic band of supporters and stacked up against The Dufferins in two well-played games for the group honours. The juvenile game was staged in the early part of the afternoon and resulted in an 8 to 5 win for the home team. The greenshirts were not so fortunate in the intermediate match, being nosed out by the close score of 4 to 3.

The visitors looked very much like winners in the first five minutes of the juvenile match. They started off in aggressive fashion, passing and combining cleverly, and it was not long until they had two goals to their credit, Chesterman and Henderson doing the scoring. Brawley notched one for Orangeville. Chesterman scored the third for the visitors and then Brawley and Kyles counted two for Orangeville, making the quarter time score 3 all. The Dufferins had much the better of the argument in the second period, Duke, Bradley and Brawley negotiating a goal apiece. Hespeler was unable to score. Brawley took another for the Dufferins in the third, the visitors again failing to improve their position. Hespeler staged a dangerous looking rally in the early part of the fourth and secured two well-earned goals on clever plays. Harrigan and Henderson were the successful marksmen. Bradley made the final score of the game for the Duffs. The two teams played clever lacrosse. For youngsters the players had all kinds of speed and gave a good exhibition of the passing, combination work that counts in lacrosse as it is now played. The players were:—

Hespeler—Goal, Leybourne; point McVittie; coverpoint, Sprung; 1st defence, Lanez; 2nd defence, Sudden; centre, Ramsay; 2nd home, Harrigan; 1st home, Chesterman; outside, Henderson; inside, Stremble; spares, Gurnet, Wehner, Stark and Daniels.

Orangeville—Goal, Merlina; point, Sanderson; coverpoint, Hepton; 1st defence, Moore; 2nd defence, Watt; centre, Robertson; 2nd home, Kyles; 1st home, Duke; inside, Bradley; outside, Brawley.

In the intermediate game the Dufferins were badly outplayed. At the close of the first quarter Smith scored just as time was called. The goal was disputed and was finally disallowed. In the last quarter Hespeler was allowed a disputed goal that broke the tie and really gave the visitors the game. Melross shot from somee distance out. The goal umpire raised his hand and then apparently changed his mind for he was seen to signal vigorously to the players to continue the game. Orangeville contended that the rubber had struck the net outside of the post. After a heated argument the goal umpire declared that the ball had gone inside the net and the goal was counted.

Dufferins started off well, Eddie Smith netting the ball, after play had been carried from end to end of the field several times. The teams appeared to be very evenly matched and there was little advantage either way. Sims finally evened the score, after taking a quick pass across the front of the flags. Orangeville pressed hard toward the close of the quarter and just as time was called Smith scored the goal already referred to. Hespeler went out in front in the second period, Melross, the most dangerous of their sniping brigade, doing the trick. The Duffs tried hard to even up, but their efforts went unrewarded. A delay occurred when Stan Brawley was rapped over the head. A longer stop followed when Anderson, of the visiting defence, catapulted over "Dode" Brawley and landed headforemost on mother earth. He was dead to the world for a few minutes and the services of a physician were secured to help bring him about. He was out of the game for the rest of the quarter, but resumed at halftime and played for the remainder of the match. McKim evened the score for the Dufferins in the third period. Later on Flint outfooted his check and made a neat shot that placed the greenshirts in the lead a second time. Play was very even in the last period, despite the fact that Hespeler did the scoring. Melross took two goals for the visiting team, the last being disputed but finally allowed. The players were:—

Hespeler — Goal, E. Anderson; point, E. Kohli; coverpoint, A. Anderson; 1st defence, Richardson; 2nd defence, Wilford; centre, Hilker; 2nd home, Dickson; 1st home, Courtney; outside, Melross; inside, Sims; spares, Pierce, F. Kohli, O'Krafta and Johnston.

Orangeville—Goal, C. Smith; point, C. McAulay; coverpoint, Neil Crowe; 1st defence, C. Connell; 2nd defence, E. Brown; centre, W. Flint; 2nd home, E. Smith; 1st home, E. McGrath; outside, H. Brawley; inside, E. McKim; spares, P. Byers, P. Dyer, N. Hughes.

Referee—Gene Dopp.

FRAXA JUNCTION

On Thursday evening of last week friends and neighbors to the number of eighty gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Patterson and presented their daughter, Miss Lottie, with a miscellaneous shower of pretty and useful gifts prior to her approaching marriage. The Maples Women's Institute also presented Miss Patterson with a handsome brass jardiniere. The remainder of the evening was happily spent in music and dancing.

COMMITTED TO ORILLIA

In Brampton Police Court last Thursday morning Magistrate Crawford found Boynton St. John, charged with assaulting Mrs. Alexander McBride, of Caledon East, on April 16th, and causing serious bodily harm, insane, and committed him to Orillia for observation and treatment. If, next fall, the authorities find that St. John is sane, he will stand his trial at the Fall Assizes. Drs. Lawson and Heggie, as well as an alienist from the Attorney-General's Department, found that St. John is insane, hence the finding of the magistrate. Mrs. McBride, very shaky and showing the marks of the attack by the boy, told the story of assault, with long pauses, while she regained her composure.

CLYDESDALE STALLION

KRISHNA

The Property of

GEORGE THOMPSON

Mono Township Orangeville, Ont.

DESCRIPTION AND PEDIGREE

KRISHNA (imp.) 23714 (20603). Bay, face and legs white, born April 20th, 1920, bred by Mrs. Georgina Gall, Smiddyburn, Rothie Norman, Scotland; imported September 4th, 1922, by James Torrance, Markham, Ont.

As was confidently predicted, Krishna is acknowledged to be the best young horse in Canada at the present time. His pedigree contains the most fashionable blood in past and present-day Clydesdales and, in every case, breeding counts. He is full of quality, style and has magnificent movement, and is the true cart horse type so much in demand throughout the world at the present time. He has grand big open feet, fine silky hair, this being characteristic of his breeding; his action, like that of all the Dunure Footprint descent, being simply perfection. While only a young horse, he has practically carried everything before him. His phenomenal record as a Show horse has seldom been equalled. As a foal he first made his appearance at Lanark Foal Show, Scotland, and gained his first prize in a large class of Colt Foals. He again made his appearance at the Royal Show in England, where he was placed first as a yearling stallion, and was in the short leet for the Supreme Championship. He was exported to Canada by the veteran Clydesdale breeder, A. M. Montgomery, of Netherall, Scotland. At the Royal Winter Fair, Toronto, 1922, he was first prize 2-year-old and Reserve Grand Champion Clydesdale Stallion. This was one of the strongest Clydesdale Shows ever held in Canada, there being 18 aged stallions shown. At the International Show, Chicago, he was Junior Champion, only beaten by Fairholme Footprint, his half-brother. At Guelph, 1922, he was made Grand Champion Stallion. At the Canadian National Exhibition, 1923, he was made Grand Champion, and at the recent Winter Fair, at Chatham, he gained the Grand Championship and Gold Medal, being placed over the Grand Champion at the Ottawa Winter Fair and the Grand Champion at the 1923 Ontario Provincial Winter Fair, Guelph.

Kismet, the sire of Krishna, is proving to be the best breeding son of Dunure Footprint, the size and magnificent quality reflected in his produce being quite phenomenal. He is again Stud Horse at St. John's Wells, Fyvie, Aberdeenshire, where mares are being bookd to him from all ever Scotland. He is a Cawdor Cup and Brydon Shield winner and many other championships. His dam (Moira) was also a Cawdor Cup Champion Mare. Kismet is also closely related to Fyvie Sensation, the triple Highland Champion. Dunure Footprint, Grand Sire of Krishna, is the recognized Champion breeding horse living or dead in any part of the world. His fine record on the Scottish breeding table shows his produce winning more than all other stallions combined. His sire was the all famous Baron O' Buchlyvie, who was sold at Public Auction for $47,500.

Krishna's Dam, LADY OF SMIDDYBURN, 21333, was one of the fine race of mares owned by the late Walter S. Park. She was successfuly shown and won on several occasions. She was a noted breeder and several of her sons held district premiums, her sire being the big, weighty draught stallion, (Baron Gartly), who was so much in favour with Clydesdale men, his sire being the noted Glasgow Champion horse (Casabianca), whose produce were consistent for splendid size and quality.

Grand Dam, NANCY 17825, whose career as a brood mare was one long triumph, both in the show ring and at the Stud. His sire, McVINNIE, was one of the epoch making stallions of the breed, his sire being the celebrated McGREGOR, too well known to Clydesdale men to need any comment. It is doubtful if ever a more noted bred Clydesdale Stallion stood for service in Canada—Kismet, Dunure Footprint, Baron O' Buchlyvie, Auchenflower, McGregor—a sufficient guarantee for any horse.

Krishna, with such lines of breeding, cannot fail to produce the proper type. He is looked upon to be strictly a reliable breeder and the only safe Sire to use on approved Mares.

Here and There

E. W. Beatty, K.C.

The annual statement of the Canadian Pacific Railway and the report which the company's president, E. W. Beatty, made to the shareholders at the annual meeting are matters of first rate interest, not only to the fast growing number of Canadian citizens who are part owners in the great railroad, but to all interested in Canadian progress and development. By reason of the way in which the company's operations touch all phases of Canadian life and enterprise there can be no pronounced depression or prosperity in any part of the country without its being reflected in the earnings of the Canadian Pacific. There is a barometer of the country's foreign trade also in the results of the operations of the company's steamships upon the Atlantic and Pacific oceans.

Thus there was considerable reason for gratification in the president's statement made at the annual meeting on May 7th, that the operations of the company had been conducted throughout 1923 in a satisfactory manner and with satisfactory results. Mr. Beatty pointed out that gross earnings for the year, which had totalled $195,837,089, were greater by $9,162,000 than those of 1923. Working expenses, however, increased by $7,984,000 to $158,358,079. This large increase in operating costs was due to large expenditures made upon the property in order that it might be kept to the highest possible physical standard and capable of rendering the best possible service to the community. As a result the property was never in so excellent a condition as it now is. Net earnings for the year were $37,479,010, an increase of $1,177,000.

The total tonnage moved by the company during the year amounted to 30,852,994, an increase over that of the previous year of 3,108,408, due to a heavier movement of grain, lumber, manufactured articles and general merchandire, the largest increase being in grain and grain products. Mr. Beatty pointed out that this satisfactory condition had extended well into the present year and that due to favorable operating conditions and heavy traffic net earnings for the first quarter of 1924 had increased over those of the same period last year by $1,253,814.

Referring to the Government system of railroads, Mr. Beatty said that the difference between it and the Canadian Pacific was largely in name only and in the accident of personnel of shareholders. The securities of both systems were owned by private investors throughout the world and there was a significant steady increase in both Canadian and British holdings of Canadian Pacific common stock. Two phases of the general railway situation called for criticism. Under a statute passed in 1919 the Government-owned lines may construct branches without approval as to location and other details by the Railway Commission. Thus they may parallel or duplicate existing lines of any other company once the Minister approves and parliament authorizes the expenditure. Mr. Beatty stated that in his opinion it was equally in the interests of the Canadian people and of all Canadian railroads that the companies should be in the same position in this respect. The other phase was the result of the Crow's Nest Pass agreement of 1897. It had established special statuary freight rates under conditions of operating costs which no longer exist and differences in rates which would not be permitted under the general Railway Act because of their unfairness in relation to commodity rates on other articles and to the rates effective in other parts of Canada. The greatest advantage to shippers as a whole would be secured if all rates were made subject to review and change as conditions warrant by the tribunal constituted for that purpose.

In referring to the outlook for the future, Mr. Beatty said that while there was a noticeable lull in domestic and export shipments due in part to unsettlement in industrial districts, general business during the first quarter of the year had been satisfactory. The crop acreage would probably be about the same as last year and, generally speaking, soil conditions were excellent. "If the total yield approaches that of 1923," said Mr. Beatty, "there will undoubtedly be a very extensive autumn business and a vastly improved psychological and financial situation throughout the whole country. There is no real ground for pessimism in respect of the future of either the company or the country, though an extraordinary and too rapid advance is neither to be expected nor desired."

SATISFACTORY RESULT

An Englishman said to a Scottish friend, "How is it that Scotsmen get on well in business?"

"Brains, my boy," was the reply. "You should eat more fish. Give me ten shillings, and I'll get you some of the fish I generally eat."

The Englishman paid the ten shillings, and the fish were sent to him.

A few days later he met the Scotsman again.

"Well, how did you get on?"

"Well,, it was splendid fish."

"Do you feel any different?"

"No, I can't say that I feel any different," said the Englishman, "but ten shillings was a lot for a piece of fish, wasn't it?"

"There you are!" said the Scotsman, "your brain is beginning to work already."

MRS. BUDGE SO WEAK COULD HARDLY STAND

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health

River Desert, Que.—"I used to have a severe pain in my side. I would be unable to walk fast and could not stand for any length of time to do my ironing or washing, but I would have to lie down to get relief from the pain. I had this for about two years, then a friend told me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as she had had good results. I certainly got good results from it, too, as the last time I had a sore side was last May and I have not had it since. I am also glad of having good nursing for my baby, and I think it is your medicine that helped me in this way."—Mrs. L. V. BUDGE, River Desert, Quebec.

If you are suffering from the tortures of a displacement, irregularities, backache, headaches, nervousness, or a pain in the side, you should lose no time in trying Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

THE ORIGIN OF PAPER

Paper is one of the most important things that came from the Orient. The Chinaman who made the first sheet of paper by covering a lattice of willow switches with the wet fibres of silk started an industry that has been one of the foundations of civilization.

Centuries ago, when the rulers of the European nations were unable to sign their names, the peaceful inhabitants of China were manufacturing paper from vegetable fibre and rags, and the Chinese Emperor was the possessor of a library containing more than 50,000 books.

As early as the sixth century the Chinese made a good quality paper from mixed pulp of various fibres and rags, and gave this paper a smooth writing surface by either coating it with gypsum or sizing it with starch or gelatin procured by burning lichens or other plants.

The Arabs gathered a knowledge of paper manufacture from the Chinese and by the year 900 the Mohammedan people had become leaders in the art.

ROBERT JACKSON

Prominent West Luther Farmer Meets With Tragic Death.

One of saddest fatalities which has saddened this neighborhood in some time was the tragic death of Robert Jackson, who succumbed at his home on the 4th concession of Luther on Tuesday, to injuries sustained on the previous evening in a runaway accident. Mr. Jackson had gone to the farm of Mr. Adam Wilson, a neighbor, for a load of hay. About half a ton was loaded on the wagon and then the team, which was a spirited pair of animals, were hitched. As they drove down the dump the team attempted to run away. For a minute Mr. Jackson was able to bring them under control but they soon became unmanageable, crashed through the barnyard gate and dashed down the lane. The unfortunate man was thrown from the load and the front and back wheels of the wagon passed over his body. The team ran across the road, when the tongue dropped and stopped their course. Mr. Jackson was picked up by Mr. Wilson still in a conscious condition. With the assistance of two neighbors Mr. Wilson took the injured man home. A doctor was sent for and it was found that in addition to having received a severe injury to the head, several ribs were broken. Hopes for his recovery were at first entertained, but about 10.30 on Tuesday forenoon he passed away.

The late Robert Jackson, who was in his seventy-seventh year, resided in this vicinity since he was nine years of age, when he came to West Luther with his father. He farmed in West Luther and West Garafraxa, and was highly esteemed as an honest, industrious man. It was with sincere regret that his death under such sad circumstances was learned of by many friends.

He was married to Elizabeth Church, by whom, with a family of three sons, Abram, Lorne and Leslie, and one daughter, Mrs. Jas. Elliott, he is survived. He is also survived by two brothers, William, of Arthur and Jonathan, in Alberta. His funeral took place Thursday afternoon to Greenfield Cemetery.—Arthur Enterprise-News.

Jas. Rutledge, of Mono, has sold his 100 acre farm, east half lot 9, con. 1, E.H.S., Mulmur, to Jos. Rutledge, of Alliston. We understand the purchase price was $6,000.

Owen Sound milk prices have been reduced to ten and a half cents per quart, nineteen pint tickets for $1. The former price was eleven and a half cents, or 17 tickets for $1.00.

THE HABIT OF SLEEP

(By an M. D.)

The way you sleep and how well you sleep and how much you sleep—all these depend largely on the sleeping habits you form in early life.

These are rules you should follow:

Regular hours of going to bed and getting up make for restful sleep.

You should sleep in a dark, cool well-ventilated room, in a bed so arranged that your head is in the middle of the room and not tucked into a corner.

You should not indulge in surplus bedding. Sleep as lightly covered as possible. Use a small pillow and have a comfortable mattress.

Now here is the most important rule of all:

Go to bed to sleep.

Don't go to bed to read, to think, to toss about, but go to bed for the one and only reason—to sleep. Drill yourself into this practice and, even though you have formed more or less of a bad habit as to the purpose of a bed, you will find yourself sleeping soundly.

"Don't you want to buy a bicycle to ride around your farm" asked the hardware clerk as he wrapped up the nails. "They're cheap now. I can sell you a first-class one for $35." "I'd rather put $35 in a cow," replied the farmer. "But, think," persisted the clerk, "how foolish you'd look riding around on a cow." "Oh, I don't know," replied the farmer, stroking his chin, "no more foolish, I guess, than I would milkin' a bicycle."

Neptunite—The New Varnish
Perfected after Two and a Half Years of Research

When a varnish can be subjected to the "Hot Iron", we think you will agree it is about as perfect a varnish as can be made.

A wet towel was placed on the surface of a table varnished entirely with Neptunite and ironed with a Hot Iron, until it was bone dry. This test was made in addition to the well known "Boiling Water" "Hammer", "Ammonia", "Ice", and "Water" tests—from all of which Neptunite emerged without injury.

You will gather from this that hot dishes, accidents, the wear and tear of feet or scraping of furniture will not spoil or mar the beauty of floors, woodwork or furniture varnished entirely with Neptunite.

Neptunite — by virtue of the excellence of its ingredients — gives that deep, lustrous, smooth finish so much desired by particular people and, by reason of its large production and durability is very economical.

"Eczema on My Face Completely Relieved"

Miss Winifred Ernest, Box 46, Blockhouse, N. S., writes:

"Ever since I was a little child, I suffered with eczema on my face. At times my face was completely covered with large sores, and I tried nearly every kind of medicine that I heard of with no results. This lasted for over twenty years, until one day I asked the advice of my druggist, who bade me give Dr. Chase's Ointment a trial. After using the Ointment for a few days, the sores began to heal, and soon I was completely relieved of the disease."

THE EPIC OF THE CAR

Old Bill Jones sold his wheat the other day,
The gosh darn fool threw his money right away.
He rode into town, it wasn't very far,
And he came riding home in a second hand car.

When he came to the house and he got to the gate,
He shut off the throttle and pulled on the brake;
He grabbed for the reins, got the throttle instead,
And the second hand car kept a-chasing right ahead.

Bill jerked the levers and he turned off the gas,
He kicked at the pedals and he broke out the glass;
He cut all the wires and he pulled off the top,
But the second hand car it just wouldn't stop.

He pulled out his knife, and he smiled so serene,
Cut a hole in the tank, drained out the gasoline.
He pulled out his gun, shot the tires full of lead,
But the second hand car kept a-chugging right ahead.

He went through the fence and out through the lane,
Mirandy saw him coming and she like to went insane.
She ran out ahead and then she stopped just to see,
And the car struck her square as square could be.

She threw out her arms as she flew in the air,
Just as Bill went by she grabbed him by the hair.
She bounced in her seat like a ton or so of lead,
And the second had car kept a-chugging right ahead.

Bill steered for the barn, but just missed the gate,
And hit an old pig and turned it into "mate."
Out in the field they landed in a heap,
In an old mill pond 'bout six feet deep.

Bill grabbed Mirandy and swam for the shore,
He was glad the thing had stopped
And would never run no more.
But when Bill looked he gave his wife a yank—
The thing was throwing pickerel right out upon the bank!

OLD STUMP AT ELORA

Standing on the river bank near Elora, Ont., is the oldest existing handiwork of white man in Wellington County, and likely, in Western Ontario. It is a stump of a tree which was felled in the year 1819 by the first white man to live in Wellington County and the first settler in Elora. That man was Roswell Matthews. He had come to Elora in the fall of 1817.

Matthews desired a bridge across the Grand River. Accordingly he cut down a large pine tree, which fell across the river, furnishing for many years afterwards the only bridge over the river. The bridge has long since disappeared, but the hardy old stump still remains, the oldest existing work of man in Wellington.

Roswell Matthews was born in the United States and before the war of 1812 came to Canada and later settled in Flamboro West. In 1817 he came to the falls of Elora to build a mill for Col. Clarke, of Niagara Falls, who owned the Township of Nichol, in Wellington County. He died in Guelph in the year 1827, the result of an accident, and he was buried near the court house, the first grave in the city of Guelph.

Thus we have in a few words the interesting story of a brave pioneer a man who suffered much privation and whose family was left fatherless and with little support at the time of his death in 1827.

Now only a stump remains as evidence of his work in Wellington county. It alone stands as man's first efforts to carve out a home in the wilderness of Canada West. After the Matthews family left their clearing where Elora stands it was several years before the village arose on the site of Matthews' farm, but the tree from that old stump furnished the bridge across the Grand River If that stump could talk it would tell us many interesting things, how many a man, filled with liquor, was able to make his way skilfully across the bridge, how the youths came whistling home from seeing their best girls, and how, after it had served for many years as a bridge, a woman came creeping out at night and, with a saw, cut away the old bridge and it disappeared forever in the turbulent waters of the river. Her son would not risk his life on that bridge again.

James Elliott, a prominent farmer of the Britannia district, and one who has held high offices in the Orange Order in Peel, passed away a week ago Friday after a long and painful illness.

The by-law asking for $2,000 to be expended upon a $3,000 soldiers' monument, the Listowel Women's Patriotic League already having $1,100 for this purpose, was defeated by the citizens of Listowel by a three to one majority. The vote polled was 224 against and 71 for. The Women's Patriotic League will likely now canvass the town for subscriptions and get the best possible monument for the money obtained, as they are determined to finish their under-taking.

A READY HELPER

A little boy was lying on the ground crying as if his heart would break. Another little boy names Thomas was trying to comfort him by helping him up.

"What are you doing Tommy?" asked a lady, who knew him. "Oh, I'm only trying to help a fellow up," said Tommy.

That is just the right thing to do. We might all take it as our life motto, to help a fellow up. Wherever we go, we shall always find some poor fellow who needs to be helped up. There are hundreds of useful men and women to-day, doing great good, who never would have been where they are if there had not been some one, in their time of need, ready to help them up. Let us make it our business in life to be helpers, in all the ways we can. And then when our life is ended, we may find that our little light, our little help, has helped to save some soul, when we least expected it.

DIED IN FLORIDA

A message was received by Mrs E. R. Goodeve, First St., on Friday night last informing her of the death in Florida of her uncle, Dr. David McMaster, M.D.V.S., of Washington, D. C. The Dr., who was born in this district, had spent the winter in Florida and was expected here on a visit in July. Though always in perfect health he was taken ill and died in a few hours in the Miami Hospital on Monday, May 26th. The remains were brought to Vienna and buried beside the body of his wife who died some years ago. The remaining brothers and sisters are Dr. A. McMaster, M. D. V. S., of Washington; Mrs. James Henry, Manasses Va., and Mrs. T. Brinsmead, of Loverna, Sask. The late Mrs. Ben Cook, of Caledon, was also a sister.

MRS. JAMES WHEELER

An old and highly respected resident of Erin township, who, since 1907, has been residing with her daughter, Mrs. Alex. Porter, of Melancthon township, near Corbetton, passed to her eternal reward, in the person of Eliza Toby, relict of the late James Wheeler, in her 78th year, on Wednesday, May 21.

The late Mrs. Wheeler was born in Somersetshire, England, and when 12 years old, came to Canada with her parents, when the family settled in Hillsburg.

In 1854 she joined in matrimony with James Wheeler, when they settled on lot 20, con. 8, Erin township. To the union there were born eight children. On December 20th, 1873, Mr. Wheeler passed to his reward; and the late Mrs. Wheeler lived with her family until 1907, when she went to live with her daughter, Mrs. Alex. Porter, at Melancthon, where she resided until her death.

She leaves to mourn her loss 7 sons and daughters—Mrs. Alex. Porter, Melancthon; Mrs. John Palfrman, Toronto; Mrs. H. Lang, Erin township; James Wheeler, on the old farm, Erin; J. Wheeler, U. S.; Alfred Wheeler, Sask.; William Wheeler, Erin twp.; and one brother, Benjamin Toby, and one sister, Mrs. Thomas Everdell, both of the U. S.

The funeral took place from the Christian church, Hillsburg, on Friday, May 23rd, when the Rev. Parkhouse, of Everton, conducted the service, interment being made at Lang's cemetery.

The pallbearers were six grandsons: Wm. J. Wheeler, John A. Wheeler, Borden Wheeler, Andrew Lang, James Porter and Alfred Porter. A large concourse assembled at the church and graveside to pay their last respects to the departed.—Erin Advocate.

MARY WALKER

It was with deep sorrow that her many friends learned of the death of Miss Mary Walker, which took place at her home, "Spruce Lawn," Alton, on Thursday morning, May 29. Seven years ago she suffered a severe breakdown from the effects of which she never fully recovered. The united efforts of skilled physicians and nurses proved of no avail and she passed peacefully away to her eternal home. The deceased was born in Erin township, being the eldest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Walker. Very early in life she became identified with the Presbyterian Church, of which organization she was an active and zealous worker, especially in that greater work of the Master's vineyard that of the Women's Missionary Society, to which she gave much of her time and effort, being acting president of the Alton Branch until forced by ill health to give up her work. Unselfish to a degree, her first thought was for the comfort of those about her. She has left to mourn the loss of a loving sister, one brother and sister, namely, J. A., on the staff of the Adamson Hardware Co. Orangeville, and Miss E. M., living at home. The floral tributes were beautiful and included a pillow from Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Walker, Orangeville; a wreath, her sister; sheaf, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Adamson, Orangeville; spray, Presbyterian Church, Alton; spray, Mrs. Jas. Torrance, Caledon.

The remains were borne to their last resting place by Messrs. E. T. Barbour, Robt. Wallace, Norman Davis, Allan Maxwell, Jas. Torrance and Geo. Davis. The sympathy of the entire community goes out to the sorrowing brother and sister. "Blessed are they who are in the Lord."

The I. O. D. E. wish to gratefully thank the Caledon Mythimyst Minstrels for the excellent programme rendered by them in the Opera House last Friday night and also for their generous donation of the proceeds in aid of the Hospital. MONO MILLS

Local lacrosse fans had a real game of their own on Saturday evening of last week, when the Connor team came down to take a fall out of our boys here. Connor has always had a pretty good team and assisted as they were by a little outside talent, they seemed to feel quite sure they could clean things up, and in the first quarter it looked as though they were going to do it when Irwin, of Banda, scored two goals in quick succession and Ted Baxter one and the quarter ended 3-0 in favor of the visitors. However that ended their scoring. In the second quarter Duke, who was playing a splendid game, slipped in a difficult shot from the side, which placed the locals on the score sheet for the first time. Their next came when Miles rushed in from centre field and shot, but the ball struck one of the goal posts and Allen, who had got nicely inside the defence to take the pass, batted the ball into the nets. It remained for Stork, who is playing his first season in lacrosse, to score the goal that evened things up, which ended the scoring for the game. The best of good feeling prevailed all through and the game ended with cheers for both teams and the team yell from the village girls:—Soda water! soda water! ginger ale and pop; Mono Mills! Mono Mills! always on the top! The line-up was as follows:—Mono Mills—Goal, Duke; point, E. Kee; coverpoint, B. Arlow; 1st defence, W. Arlow; 2nd defence, H. Kee; centre, Miles; 1st home, Darraugh; 2nd home, Garvey; outside home, H. Duke; inside home, Stork; spare, K. Allen.

Referee, W. A. Donaldson; Judge of Play, Geo. Drummond.

Rev. J. A. Matheson is a delegate to the General Assembly at Owen Sound this week and as a result there will be union service in the Methodist Church next Sunday evening and on the Sunday following there will be union services in the Presbyterian Church, when Rev. R. G. Davidson will be absent at the Conference.

A REAL NERVE TONIC

Is a Bountiful Supply of Rich Health-Giving Blood.

Sufferers from what medical men speak of as nervous debility find themselves tired, morose, low-spirited and unable to keep their minds on anything. Any sudden noise hurts like a blow. They are full of groundless fears and cannot sleep at night. Their hands tremble, the legs feel as if they will give away following a walk or any exertion, and the mind is greatly disturbed by the most trivial incidents.

Doctoring the nerves with poisonous sedatives is a terrible mistake. The only real nerve tonic is a good supply of rich, red blood. To secure this new, rich blood use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which have a direct action on the blood and through it stimulate every nerve and organ in the body. Mrs. Alpheus Merritt, Fenwick, Ont., gives her experience with this medicine as follows:—"I had a nervous breakdown and was in the Welland County Hospital for some time. As I was not improving my husband took me out and took me up to my mother's. I doctored there but it did not help me. Then I returned home, and was again under a doctor's care, but with no better results. I would tremble and get numb all over, and the least noise would effect me. I was quite unable to do my housework, and was in a terrible condition. Finally I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and am thankful that I did so, as after taking about a dozen boxes I was again a healthy woman. I have used the pills since while nursing my baby, with equally good results, and I strongly advise other ailing women to try them."

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail, at 50 cents a box, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Jarrett will also contribute to the musical programme. C. R. McKeown, M. L. A. will occupy the chair and Mayor Jeffers will be one of the speakers. Tea from 6 to 8 o'clock. Admission, 40c and 25c.

ST. MARK'S GARDEN PARTY

St. Mark's Church, Orangeville, will hold its annual Garden Party on the McCarthy grounds on Tuesday evening, June 17th. IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my dear husband, Frederic A. Jessop, who died at Beeton on June 8th, 1923.

He suffered patiently and long,
His hope was bright, his faith was strong;

And in His arms he sank to rest.

It was God's will

But reunited we shall meet,
When God appoints the day.

Sadly missed by wife.

IN MEMORIAM

In tender and loving memory of our dear husband and father, the late James Ewing, who departed this life on June 5th, 1923.

One year has passed since that sad day,
When one we loved so well
Was taken from his place on earth,
With Jesus Christ to dwell.

Little did we think that morn,
When we from slumber rose,
That he would be cold in death,
Before the day would close.

If we could have raised his dying head,
Or heard his last farewell,
The grief would not have been so hard
For those who loved him well.

Many a sigh was heard that day,
And many tears did fall;
He was not loved by friends alone,
But by his comrades all.

It is lonely here without you,
And sad the weary way;
For life is not the same to us
Since you were called away.

Then try to wipe away those tears,
And try to weep no more,
For God knows best, He took him home,
Where parting is no more.

The Golden Gates were open,
A gentle voice said come;
And with farewells unspoken,
He calmly entered home.

Greatly missed by wife and daughter, Gladys.

FARM POULTRY PAYS

In 1896, according to O. A. C. records, the average yearly production of the O. A. C. flock was 86 eggs per bird, while to-day it is approximately 200 eggs per bird. This has been done by the yearly selection of their breeders, along with judicious feeding.

The average farm flock does not average over 85 eggs per hen. This can be increased materially by weeding out of the culls which are not paying their way. With the increase in eggs per hen also increases the receipts which on one Peel county farm last year totalled over $1000 from a flock of 125 birds.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

Dr. "Billy" Stubbs Narrates Incidents of Famous Cardwell Bye-Election.

$35,000 Sent From Ottawa to Orangeville to Influence the Result.

(The Evening Telegram.)

To shake the hand of a man who shook the hand of the late D'Alton McCarthy, and who stood shoulder to shoulder with that great opponent of Manitoba Separate Schools in the fierce fight which raged over that question in 1895 and 1896, was the privilege of a Telegram reporter in the pretty little village of Caledon, Ont.

The gentleman in question is Dr. William Stubbs, ex-M.P., who now with his political fighting days behind him, sits at his ease, surrounded by loving relatives, and delights to reminesce over the days when his fighting leader, backed by a small band of followers, with their backs to the wall, fought a government which wished to force Separate schools on Manitoba, and in turn forced that government to the wall

Glory Enough

When The Telegram met Dr. Stubbs it saw a man who carried his 79 years lightly; who took the ups and downs of life piloso phically, and who, apparently, bore no grudges against anybody. True, his Irish blue eyes would flash as he told of the battles of other days but there was no rancour. He had fought in Parliament against what he believed to be a great wrong, and had helped defeat it. That was glory enough for him.

How Dr. Stubbs was reflected in the eyes of his fellow-citizens of Cardwell thirty years ago may be judged by a perusal of an Orangeville Banner supplement, which under the caption of "The People's William," thus described him:

At Age of 50

"The Banner has obtained for its readers a fair portrait of Mr. William Stubbs, the present Conservative representative for Cardwell in the House of Commons for Canada who is also a candidate for the ensuing election for the suffrages of the electors of that constituency. Mr. Stubbs is now in the 50th year of his age, but, owing to moderate habits, retains the physical appearance and mental vigor of a man of 35.

"He was born and always resided in the picturesque village of Charleston, in the flourishing and prosperous township of Caledon. His father was Mr. William Stubbs, a native of Fermanagh, Ireland, who, in the year 1824, settled in Charleston where he died some years ago a the ripe age of 75 years. He belonged to that grand old stock which has rendered that portion of Ireland one of the most happy and prosperous provinces of the British Empire. Mr. James Stubbs, grandfather of the present member for Cardwell, emigrated from Ireland to Canada with his son, and they were both splendid representatives of those sturdy pioneers whose intelligence, industry and courage have converted Ontario from a howling wilderness into the garden of the Dominion.

Father Served in '37

"In the troublesome times of 1837 Dr. Stubbs' father served in the active militia force under Captain Willoughby. About eight years ago the present member for Cardwell married Ann Gillespie, daughter of William Gillespie, farmer, who died in Orangeville in 1875. In the general elections of 1887 Dr. Stubbs was the candidate opposed to Mr. R. S. White, ex-M.P., who, notwithstanding his resorting to every means known to political adventurers to ensure success, succeeded in getting a majority of only 139. His contest was a fearless and manly protest against that policy which hitherto prevailed of delivering Cardwell into the hands of outside politicians and in favor of representation by one of her own sons. All parties in Cardwell are under a debt of gratitude to Dr. Stubbs for being the first to take this bold and manly stand.

"People's William"

"Dwelling among his own people engaging for nearly all his life in a similar occupation to that of nearly all his constituents, possessing full sympathy with them in their private struggles and wants, we feel satisfied that no more satisfactory candidate can be returned to the Parliament of Canada than 'The People's William.'"

About thirty years after the above was written The Telegram met Dr. Stubbs in his home at Caledon where he proved that, as a student of public affairs, "still in his ashes dwelt their wonted fires." Naturally, the first subject was the bye-election when Dr. Stubbs ran against Wellington Willoughby. The latter was with the Government and Separate Schools for Manitoba; Dr. Stubbs was one of the "lions in the path."

Judging by the utterances of Dr Stubbs it was not hard to get the impression that political campaigning has changed since those times. Nowadays the political pot simmers; it boiled and bubbled merrily in the good old days.

School Question.

"I ran as an Independent against Wellington Willoughby in the bye-election in 1895," said Dr. Stubbs. "The bone of contention was the Manitoba Separate School question In a nutshell, the Government wanted to force Separate Schools on Manitoba, at the bidding of the Roman Catholic hierarchy, and introduced a measure called the 'Remedial Bill.' A few of us, led by D'Alton McCarthy, opposed it. The Government brought down the bill about three weeks before the tenure of office of the Government expired. They had the majority to force the bill through, and our only chance was to talk the bill and the Government out. We did it, too You know the House was in committee, and in committee a member could talk as long as he liked.

Long Distance Talking.

"The House sat for three weeks night and day. There were only eight or nine of us to do the talking against the bill. It was about the 3rd of April when we started our fight, and the term of the Government expired on the 25th of April. During those three weeks the McCarthyites did most of the talking and the end of the matter was that the Government had to leave office without having passed that Remedial bill.

"I remember there was a young French-Canadian member who put in a couple of hours talking against the Government. I don't think he was very much against the bill, but he gave us a much-needed breathing spell, for which we were grateful."

"Did the Liberals give you any assistance?" asked the listener.

"Well, Laurier kept his men out of the House," was the reply, with a grim smile; "that was for fear the McCarthyites might say things which would not please the members from Quebec. Jim Sutherland Liberal whip at the time, with the idea that McCarthy might not be able to stick, took up some little time, and Andrew Semple, of East Wellington, another Liberal, also helped. So, as I said, we talked the bill out in Committee, and Manitoba, at that time, did not get Separate Schools."

Forced by McCarthy

"The feeling against Separate Schools in Manitoba was very strong in this district at that time, was it not?" Dr. Stubbs was asked.

"It was," was the reply, "and believe the women, though they had no votes then, had a good deal of influence with the men who opposed it. But the feeling in Quebec was just as strong the other way. I went over to Hull from Ottawa while the campaign of 1896 was going on, and I heard, at a meeting there, a priest threaten excommunication to anybody who opposed the Remedial bill."

"What brought about the bye-election here in 1895?"

"Well, you see, 'Bob' White, the Montreal man who had the seat here, resigned to take the post of Collector of Customs at Montreal. That left Cardwell open and D'Alton McCarthy taunted the Government with being afraid to bring on an election. At last they had to 'call' him, and when the bye-election came off I was chosen as the McCarthyite candidate."

Warm Campaign

"Rather a warm campaign hereabouts?"

"Warm! The Government sent down seven cabinet ministers to fight for Willoughby, my opponent In addition to the cabinet ministers there were 37 Government M.P.'s here. They had afternoon and evening meetings for three weeks, and won by 285, and they counted me out of at least 200 votes," said Dr. Stubbs with rather a vengeful glitter in his eye. "I know they did, for, after I took my seat in the House, McCarthy told me I should move for an examination of the ballots cast in Cardwell. I told him was new in Parliament and didn't know the way to go about it, so he sat down and wrote out the application for me.

"The examination showed that, in one sub-division, my own, I had been deprived of 14 ballots; in another there was a mistake of 30 ballots. Yes, I am quite sure they robbed me of at least 200 votes."

"Can you tell us of any exciting incident in the campaign here?"

$35,000

"Well, the most exciting incident I know of was $35,000 sent from Ottawa to the Bank of Hamilton at Orangeville," said Dr. Stubbs, with a twinkle in his eye. "It was to be used to defeat me, but I believe we got the most of it, after all. We told our followers to take the money if it were offered to them. They took it and turned it in to our campaign fund, for we had precious little money, I can tell you. Twenty-five thousand of the money came shortly after the campaign started and another $10,000 about ten days later. One man, who was believed to be a supporter of Willoughby, went into one of the Government committee rooms, and they gave him $300. He walked across the street to one of our committee rooms and handed over the $300 to us.

Great Mistake

"I had a talk with Hon. Mr. Foster when I was at Ottawa afterwards," went on Dr. Stubbs, "and it was engineered by him. He asked me why, in my opinion, the Government candidate was defeated in Cardwell, and I told him the Government's policy was wrong in regard to Separate Schools in Manitoba. They must change it if they expected to win in the coming general elections. Some time afterwards Hon. Mr. Foster told me there had been a caucus of the Government members, and they had arrived at the conclusion that my views were wrong; that the Government's policy was popular in the country, and that they were sure of victory in the general elections. And so they went to the country, and got licked," said the old gentleman, tersely.

"I was re-elected in the general elections," went on the veteran. "My opponent was W. L. Welsh, of Orangeville. I beat him by 480 votes. The whole countryside was worked up over the issue. Seven cabinet ministers did NOT come to that campaign, though, and a campaign fund of $35,000 did not find its way down to try to defeat me. In the general election thirteen McCarthy men were returned. Poor D'Alton McCarthy was killed in Toronto about two years after the election.

Defeated in 1900

"I was defeated in 1900 by Robert Johnson, when I ran as an Independent, in fact I was always an independent. I never attended a caucus of either party while I was at Ottawa. Not but that I had plenty of invitations, though." This with the ghost of a smile.

IS IN PERFECT HEALTH AGAIN

So Says Madame Blanchette of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Quebec lady suffered from bad kidneys for three years and was restored to good health by using Dodd's Kidney Pills.

St. Raphael, Que., June 2nd (Special)—From all parts of Canada come the same glad tidings, telling the same glad story of sufferers that suffer no longer, of the weak being made strong and healthy, and of the good work that is being done by Dodd's Kidney Pills. People are now learning the importance of keeping the kidneys in shape, of watching for the least symptom of Kidney Trouble, and they turn at once to Dodd's Kidney Pills, because they know they have a remedy that they can rely on, a remedy that never fails. Right here in St. Raphael Madame A. Blanchette, a much respected resident, comes forward with a statement that adds to the long list of grateful letters. She says:

"For three years I suffered with bad kidneys and no other remedy did me any good. After taking six boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills I am in perfect health again."

MRS. NELLIE McCLUNG ON GOVERNMENT SALE IN B. C.

Mrs. McClung, well known in Ontario as a lecturer and authoress, has been living in British Columbia, and has this to say of its much vaunted Government sale law:—

"The liquor interests, even with all their money, can never win a victory over the forces of intelligence and morality, if only the people know the truth about that vague thing called Government Control.

"Here in B. C. there is no 'control' about it. The Government acts as the distributors for the brewers and distillers. As one of the police commissioners of this city (Victoria) puts it—'The Government's policy is to alcoholize the people for profit. It is a policy of saturation, rather than control.'"

Sell All They Can

"In Government reports the business is called 'good,' when the sales are large. One member of the Liquor Control Board is advocating the dotting of this city with liquor stores, kept open all night. He says: 'Now that we are in the booze business, we might as well get in good and plenty; for that is the only way to compete with the bootlegger.'

"Bootleggers under Government control! Yes, indeed. According to the B.C. press, this is 'the bootleggers' paradise.' Hundreds of places in Vancouver sell liquor openly and flagrantly, in defiance of the law.

Better Have the Old Bars

"I have no hesitation in saying that Government control, as seen here, is worse than the old bar system. Dozens of people in Vancouver have told me they would welcome the return of the bar, in preference to what they have; and they give as reasons:

1. "The women would not frequent the bars as they do the Government liquor stores.

2. "It would be easy to get convictions against the men who violate the law under a private sale system; for the Government would have no reason for sheltering them.

3. "There would be more arrests for drunkenness. No business wants to penalize its own customers. The Government being the liquor seller, and the town constables, finds the dual capacity confusing.

It Has Not——?

"In brief—this new liquor system has not lowered the taxes. Vancouver citizens spend $8.00 on liquor, in order to get $1.00 back.

"It has not saved the homes. I hear weird and terrible tales of home drinking.

"It has not decreased the drug evil.

"Hand in hand with violations of the Drink Act, go violations of the Narcotic Drug Act—until it does look as though unless our people can be aroused to the danger, the Anglo-Saxon race is doomed."

Spread the Facts.

Let every Ontario woman spread the information she gathers, amongst her friends. There are no neutrals in this war. One must be for, or against.

After Chas. Hanham, the aged resident of the Oakville district, had been taken to the hospital, Chief Kerr made a search of the fine brick house and to his surprise discovered about seventeen hundred dollars hidden in various places and all in silver money, including a hundred or two in American nickles. The money was brought down in various containers and carefully counted in the evening, in the presence of Reeve Morden. Mr. Hanham had been living alone for years and would never accept paper money for any sales made of farm produce. He always insisted on having silver money. When the tax collector went for the taxes each year the payment was made in silver.

PEEL LIBERALS

William Shook, of Clarkson, Elected President at Annual Meeting in Brampton.

New President Would Woo Libera U. F. O.'s Back to Party Ranks.

William Shook, of Clarkson, was elected President of the Peel County Liberal Association at the annual meeting in the Giffen Theatre in Brampton on Saturday afternoon. Hon. Nelson Parliament, former speaker of the Ontario Legislature and Hon. Duncan Marshall were the chief speakers of the day.

"Let's get busy and get organizations that mean something," said Mr. Shook, after praising the Women's Liberal Association of Brampton for its go-ahead spirit and the support it assures the county association. "If we can have a good organization in Brampton, why no elsewhere?"

"Let's get the U.F.O.'s back," continued Mr. Shook, remarks that kept the audience smiling. "Many a lost sheep has turned out to be a good one when found. There is a good spark of Liberalism in many a heart in Peel that only needs fanning!"

Mr. Shook is tackling his job with a vigor that made Hon. Duncan Marshall say that he was glad that the Liberals had elected a red-headed man, for he shows that he will put plenty of ginger in the job.

Declaring that challenge has been thrown out to the voters of Ontario Nelson Parliament asked: "Will you do your duty as citizens of Peel and Ontario to clean up things in this province? It is in the power of the Liberals of Peel to send a man to Toronto and another to Ottawa.

"Choose," he continued, "men who will do their duty to their country, to their party and their constituency. Be careful in picking a man to get behind. When you have picked him then support him!"

Mr. Parliament claimed that all great reforms that have been wrought either in Ontario or in the Dominion had had a foundation laid for them by the Liberal party, whether that party remained in power to carry them out, or whether the Tories carried them out.

Hon. Duncan Marshall, after reviewing the difficult work of governing a country which stretches over so vast an area, with its nine provinces with diversified conditions and varied requirements, said that the last two months had been gratifying, indeed, to the Liberal party, as they had seen applied the policy which Hon. Mackenzie King had required two years to work out.

"There has been a Liberal revival if you will," said Mr. Marshall, and went on to state that he believes all the manufacturers in Canada are in favor of the Liberal party. He referred to the advertisement of the Cockshutt Plow Company in the Farmers' Advocate, showing that they had adjusted their prices to correspond with the reduction in the tariff. As a result, he sees not only a revival in agriculture, but the farmer will have more money to spend so that there will be a revival in manufacturing.

Mr. Marshall stated that Liberals are leaving the Manufacturers' Association, because they do not care to be associated with an organization that is a stalkeyvenge for the Tory party.

With lower carrying rates for the Western crops, better markets, improved production, Mr. Marshall saw manufacturers opening their doors and increasing their staffs. He concluded with an eulogy of the present premier, and said that although Sir Lomer Gouin had been called the "boss" and Mr. Fielding's shadow loomed over the Premier's hair, now that both of these men had left the side of the Premier Hon. Mackenzie King carries on with an interest in the affairs of the world at large as well as those of his country.

The officers elected were: President, William Shook, Clarkson; vice-presidents, Albert Hewson, Malton, Robert Smith, Bolton; Mrs. Annie Hall, Brampton; Mrs. J. M. Scott, Inglewood; secretary, Charles Bowyer, Brampton; treasurer, William Bowsfield, Brampton; assistant secretary, Mrs. W. Dorrington, Alton.

A vote of thanks was moved to the retiring secretary, Dr. J. L. Mackie, for his services during the six years he had held that office.

HE SUFFERED FOR THREE YEARS

Then Mr. John Jensen Used Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Saskatchewan farmer suffered from backache and stiffness in the joints and was restored to good health by using Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Eddyside, Sask., June 9th (Special)—"For about three years I have suffered from backache and stiffness in my joints. I did not sleep well and had very little appetite in the mornings. I took two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and have found that they did me a lot of good."

This statement is made by Mr. J. Jensen, well known in this place.

Mr. Jensen's troubles were caused by the kidneys. That's why he got such prompt relief from Dodd's Kidney Pills, for they act only on the kidneys.

When the kidneys are not right, they fail to do their full work of straining all the impurities, all the seeds of disease, out of the blood. There can be no pure blood if the kidneys are wrong. There can be no good health unless the blood is pure.

Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills are not the soverign remedy for sick kidneys.

'TO SMOKE OR NOT TO SMOKE'

THAT is the question which has been causing deep thought and raising piles of reports and correspondence among Canadian Pacific officials who have to do with the operation of observation cars on Trans-Continental trains during the last few months. At various times previous to the war, smoking in these cars was permitted, sometimes only for cigars and cigarettes and then again even for the odorous pipe. During the war smoking was a luxury which many were willing to forego, and the observation cars were free from tobacco, but after the war [illegible] for permission to smoke in these favored precincts increased to a noticeable degree, the requests coming not only from men but from women, as the cigarette habit has notoriously grown among the fair sex. The pressure of this feeble opinion became so pronounced that it was decided to experiment once more and to allow smoking in this part of the train, although it was admitted that the trains carrying such cars had also sleeping cars each with its smoking compartment. Public opinion, however, is a fickle thing, and the demand has grown to exclude the human volcanoes from these cars. Some of those who originally urged the granting of the permission are now requesting its withdrawal, evidently finding that the practise is not quite so delightful as the theory of perfect freedom. In its desire to give the greatest satisfaction to as many as possible the Canadian Pacific has therefore decided to conclude the experiment for the time being and, commencing April 15th, to request the smokers to enjoy the society of Lady Nicotine in the smoking compartments and smoking cars expressly provided for the purpose.

A TIE GAME

The opening game of the Erin-Caledon Lacrosse League took place at Caledon East on Friday night Caledon and Caledon East being the rival teams. The home team got into their stride right from the beginning of the game and at quarter time had the visitors on the short end of a 3 to 1 score. Cannon notched the first for the homesters and a little later Atkinson took Davidson's measure for another. Lawson tallied for Caledon in neat fashion, J. Berney netted a third for Caledon E. shortly before period ended. The visitors were more at home in the second period and the two teams played the entire quarter without any change in the score. Neither team was able to score in the third period, but in the final Caledon staged an effective rally that brought them two goals and thereby tied up the game. The first was netted by McGrath and the second by J. Lundy. Caledon East were unable to improve their position and the game ended a tie. The teams showed considerable improvement over last season's form, the passing and catching being much better. Art Worrod, of Tottenham, acted as referee and through his fairness and good judgement proved very satisfactory to both teams. The players were:—

Caledon East—Goal, McCaffrey point, C. Fleetham; coverpoint, Sanderson; 1st defence, McKinley; 2nd defence, T. Berney; centre, A. Fleetham; 2nd home, Finerty; 1st home W. Cannon; outside, Atkinson; inside, J. Berney; subs, Bright and Proctor.

Caledon—Goal, Davidson; point, Emack; coverpoint, Giles; 1st defence, Holloway; 2nd defence, McCormick; centre, Tribble; 2nd home, Senior; 1st home, Lawson; outside, Lundy; inside, McGrath; subs, E. Lundy, Patterson and McLeish.

OFF TO EUROPE

Mr. B. McGuire, of The Banner, Mrs. McGuire and their daughter, Miss Ruth, left town on Monday to join a party of the members of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association on a two months trip to Europe. The party, which numbers 150 or upwards, sailed from Montreal yesterday on the C. P. R. liner, Melita. The first ports of call will be Southampton and Cherbourg. Antwerp will be reached on Saturday, June 21, and on the following Monday the party will visit Brussels, where the Belgian Government will extend an official welcome. After visiting the battlefields of France and Flanders as well as other points of interest, the tourists will be received by King Albert. Three days will then be spent in Paris, where some interesting features have been arranged by the Paris newspaper editors and the Bienvenue Francais of which Marshal Foch is president.

From Sunday, June 29, to Thursday, July 10, will be spent in London, where a great deal of special entertainment has been arranged, largely by the Empire Press Union. The programme will include a visit to the Henley regatta and a "tea" at the House of Commons. When the party leaves London on July 10 it will be taken in charge by the English Newspaper Society. The itinerary in Scotland includes the Trossachs, Loch Lomond, Loch Katrine, as well as the cities of Edinburgh and Glasgow. The party will sail from Glasgow on Friday, July 25, on the C. P. R. liner, Montlaurier. A stop will be made at Belfast, where Sir Robert Laird, head of the Belfast Telegraph, has promised the tourists a taste of genuine Irish hospitality. On the evening of Saturday, July 26, the party will sail for Canada, arriving at Quebec on August 4.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

Dufferin Branches Hold Successful Convention in Shelburne Last Week.

The Women's Institutes of the County of Dufferin met in their fourteenth annual convention in Shelburne Town Hall on Monday, June 2nd. The morning session was mainly taken up with business and the election of officers, the latter resulting as follows:—

President, Mrs. Sidney Banks, Shelburne; 1st Vice-Pres., Mrs. T. H. Hamilton, Grand Valley; 2nd Vice-Pres., Mrs. J. M. Taylor, Marsville; Sec.-Treas., Miss E. H. Beasley, Shelburne; Auditors, Mrs. F. C. Dance, Mrs. C. W. Butcher, Shelburne.

The afternoon session was very well attended and proved to be a most enthusiastic and beneficial meeting. Mrs. Banks was in the chair. Mr. Dean, on behalf of the village of Shelburne; Mrs. Hamilton, on behalf of the Earl of Shelburne Branch of the Daughters of the Empire; and Mrs. Little, on behalf of the local branch of the Women's Institute, all welcomed the delegates and visitors to the convention. Mrs. Cunningham, of Colbeck, replied to these addresses. Reports were given by nearly all the branches. These showed the variety and the scope of the work accomplished during the year. One Institute cared for the local cemetery, one laid cement sidewalks in their village, one clothed and cared for a little girl and sent her to school, some branches conducted domestic science and home nursing courses, several contributed funds to the Orangeville and Shelburne Rest Rooms, some also helped the Orangeville Hospital. Mrs. Page, of Horning's Mills, gave an excellent report of the Toronto Convention held last November.

Miss A. L. Campbell, Public Health Nurse, spoke of her work. She described very clearly the organization of the Province under the Public Health Department. The whole province is divided into eight districts over each of which is a medical officer, in charge, and two public health nurses. These nurses look after the medical inspection of schools where an invitation has been extended to them by the school boards. They help in epidemics or any cases where urgent help is needed. Numbers of these nurses were sent to Haileybury at the time of the fire and to Cochrane at the time of the typhoid outbreak. They are at the command of the Public Health Department at any time. Miss Campbell stressed very strongly the need for co-operation between the medical health officers, the nurses, the organizations such as the institutes and the Daughters of the Empire, etc. As an example of what could be accomplished by such co-operation, she cited the case of a nearby county where the Rotary Clubs undertook the task of bringing treatment to the crippled children of the county. Over eighty crippled children from all parts of the county were brought together and the best specialists procured. These conducted a clinic and gave treatment to these children.

Mrs. Todd, of Orillia, vice-president of the Dominion Federated Women's Institutes, addressed the convention. She spoke mainly of the Federation, and of how the Dufferin Institutes had supported it. She stressed the importance of co-operation, first the branch institue,, then the district, then the province, then the Dominion. 33,000 members linked up through the Federation should have a strong influence on public affairs. She spoke of the help which the Department of Agriculture could give our Institutes—free literature, free courses in Domestic Science, Home Nursing and Dressmaking, and the Department lecturers sent out to the local annual meetings. She hoped that no Institute would fail to avail itself of any or all of these privileges. Mrs. Todd told that the Board of Directors of the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto had set aside a space worth $5,000 in the Women's Building for demonstrations to be conducted by the Institutes. Last year Mrs. Aiken, of Beeton, conducted a Model Farm Kitchen with such success that this year this splendid space has been set aside and it is hoped that every province will be represented.

During the afternoon Mrs. Gabriel and Miss Berwick, of Shelburne, contributed several musical numbers. Mrs. R. B. Smith and Mr. Audrey Wrigglesworth gave violin duets. These musical numbers, with the community singing, were very much enjoyed by all.

—R. H. Linton, town electrician of Tottenham, has resigned his position and is leaving town.

CHARGE OF OPERATING ROOM

Mrs. M. E. White, formerly of the staff of Lord Dufferin Hospital, who has been connected with the staff of Lady Minto Hospital, Minnedosa, Man., for the last two years, has given up that situation and is now in charge of the operating room in the Manitoba Sanitarium at Ninette, Man. In a note to The Banner Mrs. White states that a wonderful work is being done at Ninette to benefit humanity. The Sanitarium has 300 beds and is built somewhat after the Cottage plan. There is a large infirmary and several smaller pavilions apart from the main building. Patients are placed in these according to their physical condition. The situation of the Sanitarium is very picturesque, as it is located beside the Pelican Lake among very rugged hills from which none of the natural vegetation has been removed. "I liked Minnedosa," Mrs. White concluded, "because of the hills and water. I visited this (the Ninette) institution two years ago at a convention. At that time I remarked that I liked the place and was coming here to work, when I changed my position, which I have done. If I had to live out on the naked prairie I would soon be back in Ontario."

HOSPITAL NOTES

The Daughters of the Empire will be the guests of Mrs. J. A. Arnott at her summer cottage at Caledon Lake on Friday afternoon.

The I. O. D. E. are planning to hold a Strawberry Festival early in July.

We wish to gratefully acknowledge the generous gift of $20.00 from Magistrate Hugh Falconer, of Shelburne.

THROWN FROM ROLLER

Mr. John Solomon was the victim of a serious accident on his farm at Rosemont on Monday of last week. He was rolling land and had a colt attached to the roller. The cause of all the trouble was the snapping of a line which made it impossible for Mr. Solomon to control his team. The horses ran away, Mr. Solomon being thrown in front o the roller. He is not certain just how he received his injuries. It may have been by the roller passing over his body and in addition to this he may have been struck by one of the horse's hoofs. Doctors were summoned as soon as the accident happened and the injured man was given a thorough examination. No bones were found to have been broken, but Mr. Solomon suffered some painful bruises. Tuesday the doctors were called again and it is feared that some internal trouble is developing as the result of the accident.

MIMICO WAS EASY

14 to 1 Win For The Dufferins in Last Wednesday's Game.

The Dufferins scored a decisive win in their championship game with Mimico on Idylwyld Park on Wednesday afternoon. The greenshirts were over their opponents like a blanket at all stages of the game and had little difficulty in pulling out a 14 to 1 victory. At that the game was a good one to watch. The visitors put up clever lacrosse and worked hard all the time, but their sharpshooters were not able to do anything against Firth, who was in fine form and handled everything that came his way with a skill and celerity that stamps him as one of the front-rankers among the senior goaltenders. Dufferins played well and better still their home division worked together unselfishly and combined time after time for goals where individual rushes or hogging the ball would have meant failure to score. It is the unselfish combination work of the home that wins games and if the Dufferins stick to and develope the style of team play exhibited on Wednesday afternoon they will bother any defence in the group.

Wilson scored the first for the Duffs on a fast play. The same player combined with Ryan for the second counter, the latter netting the ball. Ryan also took the third after a smart piece of play. Score at quarter time 3 to 0 for the Dufferins. Ryan shot early in the second period, but Smith stopped the ball but was not able to clear. Before he could do so Fisher raced in and batted the rubber into the net. Mimico rushed hard and their home had two dangerous looking shots that Firth handled neatly. McKinstry secured possession, loped down the field and when checked passed forward to Cruikshank, who dodged his check, raced in and scored. Eddie Hawken took the next on a nicely placed pass from Ryan. Another came on a fast pass from Henderson to Wilson in centre field, the latter racing in and bulging the net with a sizzling hot one. While Latto was warming the bench, Ewing worked the odd man racket, shot the ball over to Cruikshank, who had little trouble making the goal. Ewing and Ryding staged a catch-as-catch-can near the Mimico flags. The referee couldn't find anything in the rule book that permitted wrestling matches and promptly benched the pair. Wilson netted another shortly after playing resumed, closing the scoring fest for the quarter. Orangeville 9; Mimico 0.

Early in the third Clements broke through the Orangeville defence and was close to the flags with only Firth to beat. It looked like a sure counter, but a lucky jump enabled the Orangeville goalie to stop the shot. Hawken passed one over to Ryan and Tommy counted the Dufferins tenth. Cruikshank and his check were shooed to the fence for a little side play that the referee didn't approve of. Gordon shot and Smith stopped in great form, but Eddie Hawkin was Johnny-on-the-Spot grabbed the rebound and poked it into the net.

In the last period Wilson took three in a row, getting two of them on well-placed passes from Ryan. The other he poked over and into the net from behind. Mimico ran in their only counter shortly before the game ended.

The visitors were strong in spots but taken as a whole their team did not impress one as being any too well balanced. In Bailey they had one of the best men on the field. His rushes were always fast and dangerous and the Dufferin defence found him a hard man to stop. McDonald was also good, although his work did not stand out so well as in some games in former seasons. Harrison and Ryding were the mainstays of the defence. The visitors were without Paige their regular goaltender, and Pete Johnston. Both men were missed. Another man they missed badly was Houghton who has played the point position for a couple of seasons. We understand he is now living in New York. A shift in positions and the addition of "Kid" Ingram, a former Brampton player, did much to strengthen the Dufferin defence. Henderson was played at point, Ingram at coverpoint and McKinstry was moved out into the field. The change looked like an improvement. Scott and Ewing showed oldtime form on defence field and Ryan at centre turned in his best game so far this year. Besides doing a lot of useful fielding Tommy placed some well-judged passes, two or three of which were responsible for scores by Wilson. A feature of the game was the speed shown by Wilson, Rowan and Blair who easily outfooted their checks Cruikshank passed well and was very aggressive on the home, his strength and speed making him a hard man to stop. Gordon and Hawkin were right in the game at all stages and showed their lacrosse brains by repeatedly drawing their checks out to the side, thereby opening the way for the fast home field to carry the ball right in. The entire home played well together and there was no hogging the ball. It was the kind of play that wins games and we shall hope to see more of it in the matches to come. Players and officials were:—

Referee, Lennie Smith; Judge of Play, Jack Carmichael.

DIED SUDDENLY

Hamilton Moore, of Alliston, Expired While Sitting at Road Side.

Just two weeks from the day on which his sister was buried, the death of Mr. Hamilton Moore took place very suddenly Monday afternoon while he was engaged with others moving some heavy machinery. It was on the sixth concession of Tosorontio, while assisting to transport a portable saw mill, and he sat down on the side of the road and expired. A number of men with teams were moving Mr. Wm. Jenkins' mill over into Adjala where Mr. James Moore has some wooded property. The traction engine was in the van of the procession and had ascended the hill a couple of miles from the town line when it got into trouble, the wheels commencing to settle down. The teamsters in the rear, of course, had to stop, and Mr. Moore was one of them. He was on the incline of the hill, and on stopping his horses, blocked the rear wheel of his wagon and went to the side of the road and sat down. The others saw him do this and knowing that he was not feeling well, they were quite willing that he should rest while they released the engine. Elmer Jenkins had occasion to go back to his team and after unhitching the horses passed Mr. Moore still sitting at the side of the road. The young man asked Mr. Moore if he was not feeling well, but got no answer. A little later when the young man returned with his team Mr. Moore was in a recumbent position and the young man spoke to him again. Getting no answer he beckoed to his father, who not only spoke to the reclining man, but lifted him up, only to find that he was dead. The body was brought to Alliston and prepared for burial. The funeral took place yesterday from the home of the deceased's brother, Mr. James Moore, Albert street.—Alliston Herald.

MRS. JOHN LANG

An old and widely known resident of the west side of Amaranth township was called to her reward last week in the person of Mrs. Catherine Lang, widow of the late John Lang, whose death took place at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. H. Sproule, First St. Mrs. Lang, who was in her 71st year, was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Houston, of Caledon, where she was born and spent her girlhood. After their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Lang lived in Erin for seven years and then moved to Amaranth, settling on the 10th line, where the husband died about five years ago. Six years ago the subject of our sketch went to Alberta, where she spent two years with her daughters, returning to Orangeville four years ago to make her home with Mrs. Sproule. She had been bedfast practically all the time since coming to Orangeville, but bore her physical infirmity with patience and cheerfulness. She was very fond of reading and was fortunately able to indulge in this recreation until a short time before her demise. Deceased was a pleasant, kindly woman, who was beloved by her neighbors and friends. She is survived by the following sons and daughters:—Mrs. R. W. Hinton, Toronto; Mrs. E. H. Sproule, Orangeville; Mrs. J. E. Higgins, Retlaw, Alta.; Miss Mamie Lang and Mrs. Norman Sproule, Taber, Alta; John and Robert Lang, Grand Valley, and Miss Faye Lang, Toronto. Mrs. Lang was a consistent member of the Presbyterian Church, having been identified with the Black's Corners congregation for many years. The funeral was held from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sproule to Shelburne cemetery on Thursday afternoon. Rev. F. W. Mahaffy, the family pastor, conducted the services. During the service at the house the W. M. S. choir of St. Andrew's Church sang a favorite hymn of the departed woman. The pallbearers, former neighbors and friends, were Messrs. Geo. Bruce, E. H. Sproule, Jas. Harkness, Thos. Lang, Lloyd Hinton and Wm. Wheeler. The flowers were beautiful and included tributes from her children, the grandchildren, Lord Dufferin Chapter I. O. D. E., Mrs. Gale, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Adamson, Maple Leaf Milling Co., Toronto, Miss Campbell, Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. U. W. Christie, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Rennick, Mrs. John Patterson, Miss Hunter and Miss Arkell.

BABY'S OWN TABLETS ALWAYS KEPT ON HAND

Mrs. David Gagne, St. Godfroy, Que., writes:—"I have used Baby's Own Tablets for my three little ones and have found them such an excellent medicine that I always keep them on hand and would strongly advise all other mothers to do the same thing." The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which quickly relieve constipation and indigestion; break up colds and simple fevers and promote that healthful refreshing sleep which makes the baby thrive. They are sold by all medicine dealers, or by mail, at 25 cents a box, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

—The Marsville Women's Institute will hold their annual Garden Party on the night of July 17th. The popular Brunswick Trio will be the main attraction.

MRS. CHAS. GILLESPIE

Her many friends here and elsewhere were shocked to learn of the unexpected death on Thursday last of Mrs. Chas. B. Gillespie, First St. who succumbed in the Toronto General Hospital following an operation. Mrs. Gillespie, who had been in ill-health for some considerable time, found herself confronted with the necessity of undergoing a difficult and serious operation. This was performed by Dr. Graham in the General Hospital eight days before her death. The operation itself was quite successful and the patient stood the ordeal remarkably well. For the first week she progressed so favorably that her physician considered she was practically out of danger. On Monday an unexpected trouble developed, making it necessary to perform a second operation. In her weakened condition she failed to rally from its effects and her condition speedily became critical. The remains, which were placed in charge of Mr. Wm. Speers, funeral director, West Toronto, were brought home by motor ambulance on Friday.

Mrs. Gillespie, whose maiden name was Bertha Cannawin, was the older daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Cannawin, First Ave. She was in her 32nd year and had been married for ten years. Besides her parents and husband, she is survived by a family of six children—Beatrice, William, Douglas, Grant, and Walter and Ralph, twins only five months of age. She also leaves a younger sister, Miss Clara Cannawin, of the Danforth Park School staff in Toronto, and a brother, Carmen at school here. Deceased was a devoted wife and mother and her untimely removal means an irreparable loss to the orphaned family. As a neighbor she was esteemed for her kindly nature and warm sympathies. Profound sympathy is felt for the parents, husband, and the orphaned children. The funeral, which was one of the largest witnessed in Orangeville for some years, was held from the family residence to Greenwood cemetery on Sunday afternoon. Rev. F. W. Mahaffy, the family pastor, conducted the services at the house and grave, being assisted in the home by Rev. H. L. Partridge, of the Methodist Church. The pallbearers were two brothers-in-law Messrs. John Gillespie, of Toronto and Dalton Gillespie, of Orangeville and four cousins, Percy Morrow, Orangeville, Wilbert Cannawin, Caledon, and Sam and Norman Rowan, of Toronto. About seventy autos formed the long procession that followed the remains to their last resting place. An unusually large number of floral tributes bore mute but impressive testimony to the sorrow and sympathy of friends of the departed woman.

Among the friends here for the funeral from outside points were: Mrs. Halzman, Mrs. Geo. A. Kimble and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ormiston, of Cleveland, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rowan, Mr. and Mrs. Elgin Rowan, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Rowan, Mr. Sam Rowan, Mr. Norman Rowan, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hamilton, Mrs. K. Fife, Miss Higgins, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Gillespie, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Speers and Miss Helen Speers, Mr. John Gillespie and Miss Laura Gillespie, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. R. Wilkinson, Mr. Thos. Wilson, Mr. John Wilson and Mrs. Catherwood, Erin; Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Cannawin, Acton; Mr. and Mrs. Reevely, Miss Wilkinson and Mr. Geo. Moore, of Brampton, and Mr. Geo. Stewart Belleville.

LACROSSE NOTES

The Brampton Banner and Times does not appear to have been greatly impressed by the brand of lacrosse served up by the Weston and Brampton teams in the recent championship match in the Peel capital. Here are a few sample extracts from its report of the game:—

"Such a game. Chop, chop and slug, slug all afternoon. Those who like the prize ring and the wrestling ring in their lacrosse were well fed up that afternoon. We even heard them say, 'That isn't the way to play lacrosse. I tell you those Englishmen who were over here last year played the game the way it should be done, think of that you bloody Canucks.

"Querrie, the famous maestro of lacrosse, was the referee, and Saturday afternoon it was the rules of Querrie and not those of the O. A. L. A. rule book that governed the contest.

"Every minute there was fouling, chopping, bodying, butt-ending, tripping and strangle-holding and everything but toe-holds.

"Querrie moved no less than twenty-five of the players to the fence and that wasn't half of them. It was funny how they took their medicine. Hardly a player remonstrated. Just a grin as if to say "so you saw that one, eh, Querrie, well you won't see the next one." They went off from both sides all afternoon and the crowd didn't seem to care who they were.

"Viewed as a game of lacrosse, Saturday's spectacle was a poor affair. The playing was slow. When the homes got the ball they slowed up. The passing was all lobbing. There was no running passing that was noticeable. The players on both sides showed need of practice. It was far from being senior lacrosse There was plenty of hugging your check when the ball was far afield and interference not permitted by the rules."

—Knox. Church, Caledon, Reopening Services, Sunday, June 22, 11 a. m. and 7 p.m. Rev. W. E. Wilson, Toronto, will preach. Music by Queen St. Methodist Church Quartette.

A THEFT CHARGE

Joseph Morrissey, a day laborer in the employ of William Slack, of Albion, was haled before Judge Justin, of Brampton, last week, on a charge of stealing $100 from Albert Robinson, another Albion farmer, and also on a charge of obtaining money under false pretences. The evidence showed that Morrissey had agreed to work for Robinson for $30 for the first month and then for $35 a month for each successive month for a period of six months. Before his first month expired he was paid his first month's wages, then secured a loan of $100 from his employer, $10 in cash and a cheque for $90. This Morrissey received on April 19 and April 21 and on the latter date he purchased goods from Robert Studholme, of Bolton, tendering the cheque in payment. He told the court that when he left Robinson's on May 6th he went to Weston and paid the balance of the money to a friend in Weston to whom he owed $50. Returning to Albion he engaged with Slack by the day and it was by a lucky accident that Robinson learned of his whereabouts and had a warrant issued. Mr. Robinson testified that he had loaned the money because he trusted Morrissey, who is a young man of prepossessing appearance. Judge Justin found Morrissey "not guilty" of theft, but intimated that he expected he would return the money to Robinson in due time and warned him not to repeat a similar offence. "Play the game," admonished the Judge at the close of his pithy address to the young man, "and play it manfully and honestly."

DAVID CONNELL

After a lingering illness of over seven years, the death of David Connell occurred at his home in Holland on May 20th, aged 81 years. Deceased had been troubled with neuritis for over seven years but was up and around until Sunday preceeding his death, when he was forced to go to bed, and gradually grew worse until death came the following Tuesday morning. He was conscious to the last. The late Mr. Connell was born at Sand Hill, township of Albion, county of Peel, on March 15, 1843, and moved to Caledon township with his parents when he was fourteen. When he was seventeen he started out for himself and went back to Caledon, where he lived with his brother for two years. Then they both came to Holland, a solid green forest, where he chopped follows in the winter and logged follows and cradled wheat in the summer for fifty cents a day. On April 15th, 1868, he married Margaret Jane McAuley, daughter of the late Cochrane and Mrs. McAuley, of Holland, and settled on the farm on which he died. He and Mrs. Connell hewed out a home for themselves and their family. He was a staunch Conservative and an Orangeman for some sixty-four years. He is survived by his widow and ten children, six sons and four daughters.

"CUFF"

"Cuff" was a negro slave who lived in the south before the war. He was a joyful Christian and a faithful servant. His master, however, was in need of money and one day a young planter who was an infidel came to buy Cuff. The price was agreed upon and the Christian slave was sold to the infidel. But in parting with him the master said: "You will find Cuff a good worker and you can trust him. He will suit you in every respect but one." "And what is that?" asked the master. "He will pray and you can't break him of it; but that is his only fault." "I'll soon whip that out of him," remarked the infidel. "I fear not," said his former master, "and I would not advise you to try it, he would rather die than give it up."

Cuff proved faithful to the new master, the same as he had to the old. The master soon got word that he had been praying and calling him said: "Cuff, you must not pray any more; we can't have any praying more; we can't have any praying around here. Never let me hear any more about this nonsense." Cuff replied, "O massa, I loves to pray to Jesus and when I pray I loves you and missus all the more and can work all the harder for you." But he was sternly forbidden ever to pray any more under penalty of a severe flogging. That evening when the day's work was done, he talked to his God, like Daniel of old, as he had aforetime. Next morning he was summoned to appear before his master who demanded of him why he had disobeyed him. "O massa I has to pray. I can't live without it," said Cuff. At this his master flew into a terrible rage and ordered Cuff to be tied to the whipping post and his shirt taken off. He then applied the rawhide with all the force he possessed, until his young wife ran out in tears and begged him to stop. The man was so infuriated that he threatened to punish her next if she did not leave him, then continued to apply the lash until his strength was exhausted. Then he ordered the bleeding back to be washed in salt and water, his shirt put on and then the poor slave went about his work. As Cuff went away he was singing in a groaning voice: "My suffering time will soon be o'er, When I shall sigh and weep no more."

He worked faithfully all that day, though in much pain, as the blood oozed from his back where the lash had made long deep furrows. Meantime God was working on the master. He saw his wickedness and cruelty to the poor soul, whose only fault had been his fidelity, and conviction seized upon him. By night he was in great distress of mind. He went to bed, but could not sleep. Such was his agony at midnight that he awoke his wife and told her that he was dying. "Shall I call in a doctor," she asked. "No, I don't want a doctor. Is there anyone on the plantation that can pray for me? I am afraid that I am going to hell." "I don't know of any one," said his wife, "except the slave you punished this morning." "Do you think he would pray for me," he anxiously enquired. "Yes, I think he would," she replied. "Well, send for him quickly." On going after Cuff they found him on his knees in prayer, and when called he supposed it was to be punished again. On being taken to his master's room, he found him writhing in agony. The master, groaning, said, "O, Cuff, can you pray for me?" "Yes, bless de Lord massa Ise been prayin' for you all night, and at this dropped on his knees and like Jacob of old wrestled in prayer and before breaking of day witnessed the conversion of both master and mistress. Master and slave embraced, race differences were past away by the love of God and tears of joy were mingled. Cuff was immediately set free. The master took Cuff and went out to preach the Gospel. They travelled all over the south, witnessing the power of Christ to save to the uttermost. This is what the love of God will do for you and I.

Health Restored by The Fruit Treatment

Fourteen years ago, Mr. James S. Delgaty, of Gilbert Plains, Man., was a nervous wreck. His system was shattered by Nervous Prostration, and he was reduced in weight from 170 to 115 pounds.

He wrote on May 15th, 1917, "Every medicine I tried proved useless until a friend induced me to take 'Fruit-a-tives.' I began to mend at once. After using this fruit medicine for three months, I was back to normal. I have never had such good health as I have enjoyed the past six years. We are never without a box of 'Fruit-a-tives' in the house."

Writing again on September 27th, 1923, Mr. Delgaty says, "I stand by my letter to you in 1917—I still recommend 'Fruit-a-tives'."

"Fruit-a-tives" is a complete fruit treatment—being made of the juices of fresh ripe fruits and tonics.

25c. and 50c. a box—6 for $2.50—at druggists or sent postpaid by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

HOW'S THIS ONE

A Scottish Life officer sold an annuity to Mr. Pat Maloney, and paid, and paid, until they reckoned his age about 100, when they sent an inspector to Tipperary to interview the annuitant, and to make sure they were paying the annuity to the proper person. The emissary called at the cottage and asked if Mr. Pat Maloney was in. No, he was in the field plowing. A centenarian working plowman seemed rather an anomaly. The insurance man found the field and a man about 60 at work. "Are you Mr. Patrick Maloney?" "Yes," he said, "I am." "Are you the Mr. Maloney who drawa the annuity from the — Insurance Company?" "Yes, bedad, and me father before me."

THE NET OF NIPIGON

"The charm of freshwater, the charm of mirror-like surfaces . . . and the sweet smell of the woods."

Like a flower escaped from a garden is the fish-net found in inland Canada. Nets belong to the sea, to the sea-mists of the Atlantic shores and to the salmon-runs of the Pacific. What are they doing inland, out of habitat, "fish out of water," as it were?

But when you chance upon the "inland net" of the Indian, wound around a crude wheel whittled out of saplings, something inside, some inner sense, speaks out saying: "This is the original. The Seacoast nets of America came here long after this! These threads, these meshes—they run back, back, back to the Garden-of-Eden-time of this continent." And recent discoveries of fossil-skeletons are placing that period back much further than that 20,000 years to which we had become accustomed even if we couldn't understand or comprehend it.

The nets of Nipigon need no aid from men in order to write themselves as belonging in that class of simple things which appeal to the heart. When we happen on one of them in some clearing, its gossamer length thrown about the old wheel's throat it speaks to us with the same human touch as of some bright shawl.

What a vista of a world of the wild and free, it conjures up. The "Twine" so inanimate written on the page of the Government's "Indian allowance" becomes a thing of life, when you happen upon it changed by the handiwork of the Indian into one of these inland nets. Nets of a lightness of quality to complement the frailty and mobility of the dainty canoe which is the hyper-sensitive fishboat of this world of inland lakes and rives.

Like some lace veil is this Old . . . Inland . . . Net! You feel you might take it in hand and run it through a finger ring. Compared with it, how crude seems the coarse strength of tanned lengths that is the herring-trap of the Atlantic coast. How rude and strong the thick gunwale and heavy timbers, the long oar-sweeps of the fishboats that work the herring nets! These are fine paintings, jealously hung in an inner room . . . not many of them . . . rare. Those others, in the beauty of their strength, are the sculpture in the gallery of Canadian handiwork. There is no question of superiority only an interesting and very entertaining one of difference. Sometimes we are in a mood for the sculpture, for the strength of the sea; and nothing can satiate this hunger when it is upon us, but the way of the Maritime East or West.

But these inland nets that stand for Canadian lakes and rivers, those wonderful water highways, or mere bridle paths, and canoe-trails of water, have their own charm . . . the charm of freshwater, the charm of mirror-like surfaces, the charm of the deep peace and the sweet smell of the woods

What sort of world's work, someone murmurs, can be accomplished of these toy nets ; more like-feminine draperies than tools of an industry?

The filigree meshes wound about this old, weathered skeleton of a reel do not purport to be a Blue-Book of the immensity and range of the freshwater fisheries of Canada . . . and they are immense . . . so much as a point-finger of the hundreds of miles of lakes and rivers opened up to sportsmen following the beckoning of . . . "the nets of Nipigon."—Victoria Hayward.

KEEPING THE BALL ROLLING

A pamphlet has just been issued by the Roman Catholic Separate School Board, of Ottawa, containing reports by Dr. James L. Hughes, Dr. C. B. Sissons, M. H. Stapels and Aurelien Belanger, on the teaching of English in the Separate Schools of Ottawa. The report by Dr. Hughes is old stuff that has been fully discussed. All that we need to do is to reiterate the former statement of The Sentinel, that a report on the affairs of the Ottawa Separate Schools touches only in the remotest way the question of bilingual teaching. No French child can live in Ottawa without picking up a working knowledge of the English language. Therefore, the proficiency of the French children of that city in English is no criterion by which to judge of the efficiency of bilingual teaching in the rural districts.

The part of the pamphlet credited to M. H. Stapels is notable chiefly for the pathetic appeal he makes for better accommodation. He paints a sombre picture of hundreds of children meeting daily for instruction in unsanitary and ill-equipped rooms while many who should be at school are not attending at all through lack of accommodation. He attributes this state of affairs to the repressive measures of the Department of Education, a fact, he says not calculated to promote friendship with English-speaking children or adults. A sufficient reply to this part of Mr. Stapels' report will be to state that the educational laws of Ontario make it quite unnecessary for the children to be instructed in unsanitary and ill-equipped rooms. They can attend well built modern Public Schools if their parents so desire. Under the educational laws of Ontario the Public School Board of any municipality is compelled to provide suitable accommodation for every child of school age within its boundaries. So if the children are being educated amid the gloomy surroundings of damp, ill-smelling church basements it is because their parents and pastors prefer that they should do so rather than be associated with the children of their neighbors in the Public Schools.

As a matter of fact the desperate physical conditions that prevail in the Separate Schools of Ottawa are due entirely to the feud that exists between the English-speaking and French-speaking Roman Catholics. This disagreement extends even to the clergy, and this little band of English-speaking agitators line themselves up with the French priests in their violation of the regulation of the Department of Education. Mr. Belanger confines his report to a dissertation on the subject of French as a help to English." We have no desire to dispute the claim that a knowledge of French helps to an understanding of English. We fail to see, however, that this argument touches the point at issue.

To the Sentinel the publication of this pamphlet looks like a waste of money. It is to be observed, however, that those who publish it are not wasting any more than they have to, for a correspondent of the Globe has pointed out that this particular pamphlet is being distributed without the payment of postage under the frank of "N. A. B. Senator." These are the initials of Senator Belcourt, the chief protagonist of bilingual schools in the Province of Ontario. It is a grave abuse of the privileges of the Senate that a controversial pamphlet of this kind having no relation to Federal affairs should be franked through the mail. It is not hard to imagine the outcry there would be if an Orange Senator were guilty of distributing a reply to this pamphlet by the same method. —Orange Centinel.

MR. GALLAGHER, MR. SHEEN

A somewhat humorous and laughable incident happened to Rev. D. H. Gallagher, the new pastor of Knox Church, when he first arrived in Port Elgin a few weeks ago, says the Port Elgin Times. Stepping off the train and seeing Clarkson Bricker drawing up to the platform with his big car and surmising that he was there to meet him, the new arrival walked up to the car and extending his hand to Mr. Clarkson, who is somewhat of a wit, said, "I'm Mr. Gallagher." Recalling the song hit and thinking someone was trying to have some fun with him, Clarkson answered, "That's alright, I'm Mr. Sheen," and drove off, leaving Mr. Gallagher somewhat dumfounded and amused.

"I took very sick with my nerves and stomach, and seemed to be all run down. At times my heart would flutter and palpitate so and I would take such weak spells in the pit of my stomach that I sometimes thought I would never get better. I tried several doctors, but it seemed nothing they gave me helped. I had almost given up hope when a friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I tried it, and can say it certainly has done wonders for me. I did not stop until I had taken twenty-five boxes."

To Sell Summer Residents

City people in the country for the Summer can be sold groceries and meats by Long Distance. Some grocers (and butchers) call up out-of-town customers once a week and get their orders. Deliveries are made by truck or express.

Some grocers arrange with their customers before they leave town, to give this service. They say they can well afford to pay for Long Distance calls on weekly orders.

THEY TELL THEIR NEIGHBORS

Women Tell Each Other How They Were Helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Woodbridge, Ont.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female troubles. I would have headaches, backaches, pains between my shoulders and under my shoulder-blades and dragging down feelings on each side. I was sometimes unable to do my work and felt very badly. My mother-in-law told me about the Vegetable Compound and I got some right away. It has done me more good than any other medicine I ever took and I recommend it to my neighbors. You are quite welcome to use this letter as a testimonial if you think it will help some poor sufferer."—Mrs. EDGAR SIMMONS, R. R. 2, Woodbridge, Ont.

In nearly every neighborhood in every town and city in this country there are women who have been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the treatment of ailments peculiar to their sex, and they take pleasure in passing the good word along to other women. Therefore, if you are troubled in this way, why not give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from roots and herbs, has for forty years proved its value in such cases. Women everywhere bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. c

Here and There

Earnings of the Canadian Pacific Railway for the last ten days of March amounted to $4,496,000, as compared with $4,313,000 for the corresponding period a year ago. This is an increase of $183,000 or 4.2 per cent.

Immigration to Canada during the eleven months ending February, 1924, totalled 135,128, divided as follows: British, 67,023; from the United States, 19,120; from all other countries, 48,992. This compares very favorably with 66,129 for the same period a year ago.

Forty pilgrimages to the famous shrine at Ste. Anne de Beaupre, Quebec, have already been arranged for June, July and August this year. Over 200,000 visitors are expected, most of them from Montreal, Toronto, Buffalo, Philadelphia, Chicago, New York and Boston.

Although it has already spent $4,000,000 in drilling for oil in Alberta without very definite results, the Imperial Oil, Limited, proposes to keep at its development campaign, so F. J. Wolfe, director of marketing for the concern, states. Already the company's $2,500,000 refinery at Calgary has had the effect of keeping prices down, he says.

An important industrial enterprise is being added to the list in Montreal in the plant of the National Cement Company, which is being constructed in the town of Montreal East on the site of one of the largest deposits of raw material for cement in Canada. The first unit of the plant will have a capacity of 900,000 barrels per annum.

A total of 969 communities in Alberta are now served by the Provincial Government telephone system. The total number of phones served in the system is 67,279, of which 32,260 are exchange phones, 20,252 are rural phones and 1,085 are private party lines and 13,385 are connecting subscribers. There are 264 exchanges in the province, with 301 toll offices and 62 private party lines.

The growing importance of Canada's trade in the Pacific is reflected in the official statistics of the Vancouver Harbor Board for the month of December, 1923, which shows a substantial increase in shipping in that port over the same month in 1922. Total shipping through the port amounted to 434,432 tons, valued at $31,421,129, an increase over December, 1922, of 122,602 in tonnage and $2,703,078, in value.

Ten 10,000 Imperial gallon tenders, for use behind the P.1 type engines used in the Western mountains, have been ordered from the Canadian Locomotive Company, Ltd., Kingston, by the Canadian Pacific Railway at a price of $12,445 each, delivery to start in May and be completed in June this year. These tenders will give more efficient coal and water service than any others in this country.

During the year 1924, 96 arrivals and departures on the St. Lawrence route, with its different services, to be maintained throughout the summer months by its popular monoclass cabin and Empress class steamers, will constitute the Canadian programme of the Canadian Pacific Railway's steamships. A combined tonnage of 197,000 gross tons will be in operation on the Atlantic under the Company's flag, the largest amount yet assigned by a single line to steamship passenger traffic on the St. Lawrence route.

Canada's unfavorable trade balance with the United States is more than equaled by her favorable trade balance with the United Kingdom, according to trade figures of the Bureau of Statistics. For the year ending February, Canada's imports from the United States were $603,000,000 and her exports to that country $426,000,000, an excess of imports of $177,000,000. As against this, Canadian exports to the United Kingdom were $355,000,000, and the imports from Britain $155,000,000, a surplus of $200,000,000 on the side of exports.

STATUTE LABOR

Must Be Dropped by Townships if They Wish Provincial Grants.

Township Clerks in Ontario have all received the following letter from the Provincial Department of Highways:

Dear Sir:—

The Minister, after carefull consideration, has decided that no grants will be paid by the Province under the Ontario Highways Act, on road expenditure carried out after the 31st of December, 1924, to any Township that has retained Statute Labor either in its original or commuted form; further, all townships receiving aid from the Province must have a regularly appointed Township Road Superintendent, acting under the direction of the township council.

The Minister fully resolved to extend greater and more effective aid toward the upkeep and improvement of township roads and is taking steps to co-operate in every conceivable way in the interests of greater economy and more beneficial results. To this end it is decided that the first essentials are the complete abolition of Statute Labor and the establishment of township road organizations capable of meeting the requirements of the Department of Highways respecting road improvement and management.

The selection of a road superintendent is a matter upon which the undersigned desires to lay stress. He should be a permanant official similar to the clerk or treasurer, and the office should not be combined with either of these. A good practical road man is the important requisite. Mastery of operation details and accounting are matters of training and instruction, for which duties the district engineers of this Department are at all times available.

It is also the desire of the Minister that the townships adopt a continuous plan of road improvement covering a period of years, toward which plan each season's expenditures may be applied with definite and positive results. The program will involve the classification of roads to comply with the needs of the traffic using them.

Our district engineers will attend council or special meetings prepared to discuss any phase of the problem to fully outline the requirements of the departement and to enter at once into their duties of assisting the establishment of organizations that will meet the needs of the local roads.

Should it be the desire of your council to take advantage of the Government aid, the by-laws should be considered and passed at an early meeting of your council in order that the Council may develop this year its organization and the road program to meet the requirements of the Department in 1925.

Yours truly,
W. SQUIRE,
Deputy Minister of Highways.

The Battery Man is your best friend when you are getting the car into condition for summer driving. He will advise you, whether it's a new powerful, long-lived Prest-O-Lite or your old battery, overhauled, that you need to make the engine run with perfect rythm, the starter turn the engine over powerfully and feed lights and horn with abundant current. More than one thousand battery dealers in Canada recommend and sell Prest-O-Lite Storage Batteries because they know that back of every Prest-O-Lite is the largest battery plant in the British Empire, and a nation-wide chain of service stations where owners of a Prest-O-Lite battery can get prompt, courteous service and genuine Prest-O-Lite repair parts.

Mr. and Mrs. Rackham are visiting friends in Toronto during Conference week.

Everybody welcome.

HOUSEKEEPER COLLECTS

Mrs. Beatrice Neilson, who was given judgment against Mr. Joseph Wilkinson, of Cheltenham, a couple of weeks ago on an assault charge, appeared before Magistrate Crawford, of Brampton, last week, claiming $15 past due wages from Mr. Jesse Byam, of Belfountain, with whom she had been working since her trouble with Mr. Wilkinson. The court sustained her claim, but gave Byam eight days in which to pay over the amount claimed. Mrs. Neilson also preferred a claim against Mr. Wilkinson for $50 of unpaid wages. Wilkinson countered with a contra claim for $45 for damages to furniture and for lost goods. Judgment was given whereby Mr. Wilkinson must pay $25 wages and the costs of the action amounting to $11.00.

BRAMPTON COMING

The senior Dufferins will be hosts to the Brampton Excelsiors on Idylwyld Park on Wednesday afternoon, June 18th. The Excelsiors are leading this group at the present time and are able to state that they have not been defeated in a championship game this year. The Dufferins will do their best to administer the first beating in Wednesday's game. The Dufferins need the game pretty badly and apart from this there is just enough rivalry between the two teams to ensure a keen game, with both twelves doing their utmost to win. Ball will be faced at 3.15 as usual. This should be one of the best games of the year, as both teams are fast and play the quick passing combination game that lacrosse followers love to watch.

EAGLES—BARKER

A very pretty wedding took place at Trinity Anglican Church, Campbell's Cross, on Wednesday, June 4, when Miss Ethel Barker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Barker, of Victoia Cross, became the wife of Mr. Wm. Eagles, son of Mrs. M. Eagles, Alton. The church was tastefully decorated with blossoms, lily of the valley and roses. The bride, who was given away by her father, entered the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march. Mrs. Holden presided at the organ. The bridal gown was of white flat silk crepe. Her veil, which was worn by her aunt 25 years ago, was festooned with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white roses and lily of the valley. Miss Grace Barker, a sister of the bride, looked charming in a powder blue dress with champagne and blue straw hat trimmed with heather. She carried cornelia roses. Miss Florence Barker was daintily arrayed in sunset orange gown with corn colored hat and the groom was attended by Mr. Harold Spratt, of Inglewood. The Rev. F. Herman, assisted by Rev. A. Holden, conducted the service. While the register was being signed, the hymn, "O Father All Creating" was song. The Lohengrin wedding march was rendered, which concluded the ceremony. A buffet luncheon was served at the bride's home, Centre Road, where her mother received in a beautiful black silk gown with corsage of mauve sweet peas. The groom's gift to the bride was a silver fox fur, to the bridesmaids a rope of pearls, and to the best man a gold pin. The happy couple were given a happy send-off at Brampton before entraining to various points. On their return they will make their home in Saskatchewan.

CHARLES JUDGE

Charles Judge, a lifelong resident of the township of Caledon, passed away at his home, lot 6, 3rd line, east, on Sunday, June 1st. Deceased, who was 76 years of age, was born on the farm on which he died. He is survived by his widow, Mary Jane McCauley, two daughters, Mrs. George Cauthrey and Mrs. John Grey, of Toronto, and three sons John and Henry, of Toronto, and Joseph, at home. The late Mr. Judge was a member of St. James' Church, Caledon East. He was a member of the Orange Order and a staunch Conservative. The funeral was held to Caledon East Cemetery on Tuesday afternoon, June 3.

KARAKULE SHEEP

Councillor W. J. Trathen, of Caledon, is collecting a real flock of Karakule (Persian Lamb) sheep. This year he has a flock of 55 lambs, purebred and crosses with the native sheep. Mr. Trathen is also the owner of a number of water fowl not often found on an Ontario farm, Belgian hare, collie dogs, Pomeranian dogs and Percheron horses, all of high breeding. It is very doubtful if a selection of high grade stock and fowl can be found anywhere in the province to equal in variety and breeding that owned by Mr. Trathen.

ALTON

Mr. and Mrs. John Martin, Mrs. W. H. Harris, Miss Carrie Ward and Mr. Wilfrid Martin motored to Mono Centre on Sunday and spent the day with Mrs. William Gray daughter of Mr. John Martin.

Mr. Ernest Martin and sister, Florence, motored to Arthur and spent the week-end with their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Martin and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Martin. They also visit the Elora rocks.

Miss Eva Bradley spent the week-end with friends at Mono Centre.

EXPRESSED CONFIDENCE

At a meeting of Rich Hill L. O. L. No. 1099, Amaranth, on Tuesday night, the following self-explanatory resolution was introduced and passed:—

"Resolved that this Rich Hill L. O. L. No. 1099 express its confidence in the Grand Lodge of British North America and its satisfaction with its proceedings, and that a copy of this resolution be given to the press."

CALEDON EAST

The Orangemen and True Blues of Caledon East are holding a big Garden Party on the spacious grounds of Mr. Thos. Coulter in the village on Saturday night, June 21. The Wilson-Kenny Company, of Toronto, and the Campbell orchestra will be the chief entertainers. Admission, 35c and 25c.

About thirty friends and well-wishers of Miss Laurena White, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. White, of Shelburne, met at the home of her friend, Miss Della Williamson and presented her with a silver tea service and Pyrex cake dish prior to her marriage to Stanley D. Snider, of Odessa.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Skelton, of Palmerston, have gone for a visit of a month's duration in the South-Eastern States. Mr. Skelton is still weak from the result of an operation for tonsilitis, when a severe hemorrhage resulted. Mrs. Skelton has also been ill lately.

—Have you renewed for your Banner? If not—well, you know what we would like you to do.

—We understand a second Chinese laundry will open in town shortly. The McNaughton building on Broadway has been rented.

CALEDON

June 6th—Caledon at Caledon East.
June 13th—Inglewood at Caledon E.
June 19th—Caledon at Inglewood.
June 23rd—Caledon E. at Caledon.
June 27th—Inglewood at Caledon.
July 3rd—Caledon E. at Inglewood.
July 7th—Inglewood at Caledon E.
July 11th—Caledon at Inglewood.
July 17th—Caledon E. at Caledon.
July 21st—Caledon E. at Inglewood.
July 25th—Caledon at Caledon E.
July 31st—Inglewood at Caledon.

The executive officers of the League are:—Dr. J. T. Thomas, Caledon, President; Mr. H. Sibbald, Inglewood, Vice-President; Mr. J. Berney, Caledon East, Vice-President; Mr. E. E. Wilson, Caledon, Secretary-Treasurer.

The congregation of Knox Presbyterian Church, Caledon, under the pastorate of Rev. T. W. Mills, B.A., are celebrating this year the fiftieth anniversary of the opening of their church in right Presbyterian style. On the first Sunday of the year they had a thankoffering, which amounted to nearly $500.00. Since then the roof of the church has been re-shingled, the church and basement have been wired for electric light and at the present time Mr. Munroe, of Toronto, is busy redecorating the edifice both inside and out. Last Sunday morning and evening services were held in the Township Hall at Caledon and will be continued there until the re-opening of the church. It is expected that the re-opening services will be held in the church on Sunday, June 22nd. The Session are making arrangements for three services on the re-opening Sunday—morning service at 11 a.m.; afternoon service at 2.30 p.m., and evening service at 7 p.m. The afternoon service will be a Gaelic service.

Much interest is being evinced in the two meetings which J. J. Maloney is to address in the Township Hall on the nights of June 11 and 12. We predict large audiences.

NOT SUMMONED

The Banner has been asked to make it clear that the boys who gave evidence in the Jimmy O'Brien liquor case the week before last were not summoned by the prosecution. License Inspector Robinson had been charged with being responsible for their appearance in court but the Inspector did not even know that they were to testify until they were called to the box. They gave their evidence voluntarily in the interest of the defence and were called by Mr. W. D. Henry, counsel for O'Brien. It is interesting too to learn that one of the lads had examinations at the High School the afternoon of the trial and demurred about attending court. We are informed that through the intercession of a member of the School Board an arrangement was made to allow him to take the examination at another time.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER

A very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. T. Rawn, the Mono-Caledon townline, on Friday, June 6th, when their daughter, Lena, was surprised by over ninety of her friends and neighbors, including her Sunday School classmates, all uniting in giving her a shower of pretty and useful articles. Miss Sadie Rayburn read an address from the former and Mrs. Wilson G. Duke from the latter. The bride-to-be responded in a feeling manner, thanking all for their thoughtful kindness. The remainder of the evening was pleasantly spent in dancing. After a satisfying lunch had been served the merry gathering dispersed during the wee hours of the morn, all leaving their best wishes for the future happiness of Miss Rawn.

J. J. MALONEY WILL SPEAK

J. J. Maloney, former cleric of the Roman Catholic Church, will speak in the Town Hall, Orangeville, on two occasions—the nights of June 18th and 19th. On Wednesday night, the 18th, he will address a public meeting, open to everyone, and his subject will be "The Beauty of Protestantism." On Thursday night, the 19th, he will speak to men only.

Mr. Maloney is a forceful and convincing speaker, who has a real message for his hearers. He has spoken to well over 200,000 people in the last year and a half. He speaks with sincerity and a marked degree of certainty.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH

The evangelistic campaign at the Baptist Church was begun last Sunday by Mr. Walter Hughes, of Toronto. To a fair congregation in the morning and to a splendid one in the evening, as well as to an open session of the Sunday School, he spoke with might and power. The morning sermon was on conditions for revival in Christian hearts, viz., prayer, the Word, and a passion for souls. The evening address was on the Three Crosses. The meetings will continue.

Dr. Tinkess uses no drugs in his practise but is well equipped in all the branches of drugless therapy posessing degrees in Osteopathy, Chiropractic and Electro-therapy. He uses in his practice the most efficient and modern of electric equipment, being of the large oil emergent transformer type. HERBAGEUM

What It Is and What It Will Do.

Herbageum is a Blood Purifier and therefore a safeguard against the diseases that attack Farm Stock. It has proved itself a positive Money saver for the user. Herbageum has been on the market for nearly forty years and has been used with wonderful success by the largest breeders and feeders in Ontario. Experience has also established the fact that it is the man who has ordinary bred stock and is farming for actual dollars and cents, who gets real profit and satisfaction out of the use of Herbageum. Herbageum was always sold through the retail stores until two years ago, when the manufacturers started to sell direct from the factory. They were obliged to do this because the retailers were charging from 20c to 30c per lb. by the package. Now they are selling direct to the farmers for 15c per lb., giving four months' credit with freight paid to the nearest station. Farmers state that Herbageum is the best all-round profit maker they ever used, whether for milking cows, beef cattle, conditioning horses, raising calves, hogs, lambs or poultry. This year, in Ontario alone, the Company has had over 20,000 repeat orders for bulk Herbageum. The Company's General Factory Representative will be in Dufferin County for some time and will be pleased to meet all Stockmen and will give them many reading points on the advantages of Herbageum. Get the blood of your Stock purified by using Herbageum and you will have no trouble with the diseases to which your Stock are subject.

GLENCROSS

The people and friends of St. Luke's Church are unreservedly pleased over the outcome of their garden party, which was held at "Sunnyside Farm," the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Allen, on Friday night last. The affair was a big success in every way, attracting a large crowd, which was delighted with the evening's entertainment. Joe Williams, the Lancashire comedian, always a strong drawing card in these parts, was in his best form and kept the crowd convulsed with merriment. His efforts were ably supported by his accompanist, Miss Millicent Warde, who proved herself a gifted entertainer. The ladies of the church served an excellent supper from six to eight o'clock. Pleasing addresses were delivered by the chairman, Mr. C. R. McKeown, M. L. A., and Rev. Wm. Coutts. Miss Gardiner, of Orangeville, was heard with pleasure in a couple of well-rendered solos. The proceeds amounted to $100 or upwards.

TOO WEAK TO WALK

The Sad Condition of a Brandon Lady—How Relief Came.

"I owe my present good health to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills," says Mrs. Annie Treherne, Brandon, Man., who tells of her new found health as follows:—"Some years ago I had an attack of pneumonia and it left me in a terribly weakened and run-down state. I was unable to walk for a long time as I had practically lost the use of my legs, and had to be carried upstairs, for I had not the strength to go myself. I became despondent over my condition for I had tried many remedies, which failed to help me. While in this wetched condition a lady friend urged me to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial and I procured a supply. After taking the pills for a while I could see that I was growing stronger, and I gladly continued their use until I had fully regained my old-time health and strength. Now if I feel at all run down at any time I at once take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and they never fail me. I can therefore warmly recommend them to others who may be run down."

There is no better tonic that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to improve the blood and bring back strength after acute diseases such as fevers, pneumonia, influenza, etc. Given a fair trial they will not disappoint you. You can get the pills from your druggists, or they will be sent by mail, at 25 cents a box, by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

WANTED AT FALLS

A Niagara Falls lawyer was in town the other day for the purpose of endeavoring to persuade three of the boys, who testified at the investigation before Chairman Hales of the Ontario License Board last week, to go to the Falls to testify in a liquor case. It seems that Larrie and another whisky detective named Wilson bought a bottle of liquor from a man named Boyd. Shortly after the purchase Boyd received information that led him to believe the purchasers were spotters. He promptly pulled out his car and accompanied by some friends overhauled the two detectives on the road and forced them to give up the bottle, returning the money they had paid him for the hootch. The detectives lodged a charge of highway robbery and it was for the purpose of discrediting their veracity that the Orangeville boys were wanted. Mr. McKeown, their counsel, advised the lads to turn down the tempting offers that were made them on the ground that they had already had quite enough publicity.

This is why you see prettier complexions, today

Women have learned this simple way to keep youthful loveliness

The prettier complexions you see everywhere, today, are due to one thing:

Women have learned that it is unnecessary to sacrifice youthful loveliness to the passing years. This simple treatment has made it possible for millions of women to keep youth, charm. The secret is yours, too, if you will.

Just try this

Cleanse the skin regularly; authorities say, to keep your complexion lovely, radiant, youthful. But beware of harsh cleansing methods. They injure skin.

Wash thoroughly with Palmolive Soap—each night before retiring. Rub the creamy, foamy lather well into the tiny pores. Rinse — and repeat the washing. Then rinse again.

Then—if skin is dry—apply a little cold cream. That is all. Skin so cared for is not injured by cosmetics, by wind and sun, or by dirt.

The simple, correct way

You cannot find a more effective beauty treatment. Because Palmolive Soap is blended of rare palm and olive oils—famous for mild but thorough cleansing qualities since the days of Cleopatra. And it is inexpensive. Use it for the bath, too.

Take no chances. Palmolive is never sold unwrapped. Get it from any dealer. Then for one week try this easy method. You will have cause for delight even in that short time.

Volume and efficiency produce 25c quality for

Canadian Editors to Visit Flanders Fields

The Canadian Pacific S.S. Melita on which the members of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association will sail on June 11th. Photographed above are the Cardroom, D Deck, the Saloon and Main Companionway.

After the convention of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association in Toronto, June 5, 6, and 7, some 150 of the men and women of the association will sail from Montreal on June 11, on the Canadian Pacific liner Melita, for a two-months' trip to Belgium, France and the United Kingdom.

The first ports of call are Cherbourg and Southampton, arriving at Antwerp, Saturday June 21. On Monday, the party will be at Brussels, where the Belgian Government will give an official welcome. After visiting important points and the battlefields, the party will be received by King Albert. Three days will be spent in Paris, and some excellent features have been prepared for the party by the Paris newspaper editors and by Bienvenue Français, of which Marshal Foch is president.

From Sunday, June 29, to Thursday, July 10, will be spent in London, where a great deal of entertainment has been arranged. While in London, the party will be largely under the wing of the Empire Press Union and many social events will be held in their honor, including a visit to the Henley regatta, also a "tea" at the House of Commons. Arrangements are also under way for a reception at Buckingham Palace by Their Majesties, the King and Queen, on Dominion Day.

When the party leaves London on July 10, they will be taken in charge by members of the English Newspaper Society.

The British itinerary is receiving very careful attention at the hands of the British joint committee, and there is every indication that the provincial tour is going to be a continuous succession of civic receptions and private entertainments.

In Scotland, the Trossacks, Loch Lomond, Loch Katrine, the country of Scott, and the land of Burns, as well as Edinburgh and Glasgow will be visited. The Press party will sail from Glasgow on Friday July 25, on the Canadian Pacific Liner, "Montlaurier." A stop will be made at Belfast, where Sir Robert Baird, head of the Belfast Telegraph, has promised the party a taste or real Irish hospitality. On the evening of Saturday, July 26, the party will sail for Canada, arriving at Quebec, August 4.

WHAT AILED A PILLOW

Annie was saying her prayer, and Nell was playing with a shadow picture on the wall. She was not satisfied to play alone; she would talk to Annie, that mite of a figure in gold and white, golden curls and snowy gown by the bedside.

"Now, Annie, watch!" "Annie, just see!" "O, Annie, do look!" she said over and over again.

Annie would not look up but finished her prayer and crept into bed, to which her thoughtless sister followed, as the light must be put out in just so many minutes. Presently Nell took to tumbling, pushing, and saying: "Oh, dear!" Then she lay quiet awhile, only to begin again more restless than before.

"What's the matter?" asked Annie.

"My pillow," tossing, thumping, kneading, "it's as flat as a board and as hard as a stone; I can't think what ails it."

"I know," answered Annie in her sweet, quiet way.

"What?"

"There's no prayer in it."

For a second or two Nell was as still as a mouse, then she scrambled out on the floor with a shiver it's true; but she made up her mind never to sleep on a prayerless pillo wagain.

"That must have been what ailed it," she whispered soon after getting into bed again. "It's all right now."

I think that is what ails a great many pillows on which restless heads, both little and big, nightly toss and turn; there are no prayers in them. Nell's remedy was the best, the only one. Prayer made the pillow soft, and she sank to rest as under a sheltering wing.

"DRYS GIVE BROADWAY WORST JOLT IN HISTORY"

(New York Tribune)

"New York State is wide-open—just as wide as in the old bar days."

Thus says the "Anti," and, parrot-like, the "floaters," (whose creed is "go with the folk that make the most noise") re-echo the slander.

It is true New York City is preeminently the "scofflaw" of the State and Nation. Yet even in this liquor redoubt, there is abundant evidence that prohibition is a great improvement over the old bar days. A number of "missions for drunkards" have had to close their doors for lack of the raw material. Others, still running, say they see few intoxicated persons; but they present the Gospel of the Grace of God—for all need His forgiveness.

To understand what follows it must be explained that the United States Dry Law's deadliest arm, is "the closing injunction." This is used only against flagrant violators. It means that the premises so injuncted, are closed to business for one full year.

Caught at Last.

The Thompson-Slavin combination own the Palais Royal and eight other cabarets. Everybody knew they persistently flouted the prohibition law but to get the proof was the rub; for patrons and employees were mum.

Several weeks ago 150 disgruntled waiters went on strike and their places were filled. Here was a mine of valuable evidence; and Colonel Haywood (enforcing officer) was not slow to avail himself of it.

Says the Tribune:—

"At 6 o'clock Deputies Neall and Arns started on up Broadway. They carried a paper sack full of heavy, shiny brass padlocks, hasps, screws, tacks and placards announcing closure. The first of these placards done in black lettering on glossy white cardboard, greeted the eyes of surprised Broadwayites as they passed the entrance of the Moulin Rouge, near Forty-eighth Street.

"This placard and the other eight placards read:

"'This place closed for violation of the National Prohibition Act by order of the United States District Court.'

"As Deputies Neall and Arns reached the Moulin Rouge and Palais Royal the working staff of both establishments—singers and musicians, dancers, waiters, cooks, and doormen—were streaming in for the evening's work. The announcement of what had happened stunned them, but the deputies said moving time had come and out everybody began to move."

Even the Cats!

"During all the excitement, a crowd that jammed the adjacent sidewalks, stood by and looked on.

"The Palais Royal manager was at a loss to know what to do with the 30 odd cats about the place. The Deputy Marshall said they'd have to go along with the rest.

"Broadway was dryer and dimmer last night than ever before. The nine injuncted cabarets were the biggest and brightest, and constituted a large part of what is known as New York's light life. Through 364 more evenings they will be darkened and deserted, by order of the United States Court. Everyone seemed willing to agree that the closing of these 9 establishments constituted the greatest single smash against liquor selling on New York's White Way."
